Chapter 1481: An Emperor Seeks to Enact his Epitaph! IV

WAA!

There was a flash of golden light as the Sabot Reality Traverser came to a stop in a certain region, Noah's eyes flashing brightly as he and the Grandmasters on the Quasi-Primordial Relic looked around them with awe.

They were in a region within the Boundary Between Realities that was actually filled with terrifying spatial storms- seemingly unstable as a single wrong step might send an existence spiraling out across Realities.

"One of the many regions of spatial instabilities across the Boundary Between Realities as when most beings come across it, they avoid it."

Natalya Rostova began to speak as she patted the Sabot Reality Traverser and caused it to disappear, her gaze looking in a certain direction as Noah and the Grandmaster Titans came around her.

"I had inadvertently stumbled into this region as I found at the center of it...a hidden doorway that should be leading to a Forsaken Treasure Reality!"

WAA!

The crimson gold flames draping over her shoulders danced as her gaze landed on Noah and the still spinning illusory purple gold crown above his head.

"Before we proceed forward, I have to remind everyone of Forsaken Treasure Realities...and just how different they are compared to other Realities."

Her gaze was mostly on Noah as he was the one who might not be privy to this information, Natalya waving her hands as a powerful authority erupted to wrap around her and the beings around her- their figures beginning to float carefully into the area of the spatial instability as she continued.

"Being marvels of the vast Realities to this very day, the Forsaken Treasure Realities are simply names granted to fantastical Realities that seem to contain within them a cluster of fortune and destiny that should have been spread out across many Realities..."

Knowledge of the Forsaken Treasure Reality weaved out from Natalya as she moved slowly to evade Rifts of instability all around them.

The Forsaken Treasure Realities were actually formed Realities that contained boundless fortune and destiny- almost like a mistake that occurred during the branching out of countless Realities.

They fell under different natural laws and rules compared to other Realities as one of them was the fact that the race of Existences born within these types of Realities were the only ones who could truly move and enjoy the boons within- the Destiny Goblins!

"Our Primal Titan Bloodline has only been able to get our hands on a single Destiny Goblin as it is under the lead of the Overseer of the Royal Titans of our race. Since we wish to obtain this fortune ourselves-we will have to work a hundred times harder as even entering into the Forsaken Treasure Reality alone will require an existence at my stage to forcefully enter..."

Natalya continued to speak as their figures disappeared into the folds of spatial instability entirely, Noah's gaze and the gazes of all others being attacked to a sensation they felt up ahead as wondrously, a terrifyingly large multicolored tear in the Boundary Between Realities could be seen up ahead.

This was the hidden doorway that led to this Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality, their figures nearing it in a wondrous fashion as the Golden Titans could barely contain their awed expressions!

"We should have it slightly easier with an existence that has a Bloodline from Olden Times with us, but the Rules of this Forsaken Treasure Reality that cause many beings to perish and for them to maintain their unknown status are as follows!"

WAA!

"First and foremost- Forsaken Treasure Realities are isolated from outside Realities that once in it, all communications are cut off- where even if you have another body, Clone, or portion of your soul anchored to something else in another Reality...it is hard to even reach out and communicate with it."

"The knowledge that the Legend of our Primal Titan race has gathered states that once inside, any spatial abilities or teleportation is impossible- with one only being able to enter through the doorway they came from...and leave through that same doorway. You cannot teleport in or out of a Forsaken Treasure Reality!"

"So if you have spatial abilities that you utilize for storage, they won't work! To collect the many treasures within and take them out, you need to use Storage Items..."

As she spoke, Natalya waved her hands and caused over a dozen glimmering multicolored pouches to appear, one of them landing on Noah's hands as he looked at it curiously.

[Voidforged Treasure Pouch] :: A unique Quasi-Primordial Relic built solely for the purposes of storage. Within, even a thousand Cosmos can be fit and preserved as the Voidforged Treasure Pouch is unrivaled in storage...

"There may be many other restrictions we do not know of depending on the Forsaken Treasure Reality. But we can at least prepare for the spatial restrictions. Utilize these Voidforged Treasure Pouches to put in any treasures we come across, and do not lose them under any circumstances before we leave the Forsaken Treasure Reality."

A few prominent Grandmaster Titans took the other Voidforged Treasure Pouches as they nodded with somberness, their eyes seeing the blooming multicolored tear in space releasing waves of terrific essence before them as Natalya finished.

"Lastly, there are the existences we might find within. Aberrant and powerful Destiny Goblins that have this Reality as their home and consider us all enemies, Unknown Bloodlines that are spawned by the dense fortune and destiny within...and many other mysteries we have yet to come across as it is in the name of where we are seeking to enter- an Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality!"

WAA!

Their figures came to a stop in front of the vibrating and twisting multicolored tear in the Boundary Between Realities, multicolored essence being felt leaking from this rift in space as boundless fortune and destiny could be felt within it!

It also seemed to contain spatial instabilities that could tear apart any beings at the Fifth or Sixth Firmament easily, and one needed the protection of a Seventh Firmament expert just to be able to enter successfully within this Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality!

"Let's go!"

Natalya's figure released unbound luster and power as this group of beings sought to step forward and explore a wondrous reality full of fortune and destiny.

While this occurred, Noah continued to move forward as far from the Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality that his True Sanguine Clone was about to enter, his main body had succeeded in forming the skeleton of what would be the springboard of his Primordial Epitaph!

Mesmerizing waves of multicolored Essence of Reality were being drained out through his spinning Ascendancy Halo as they formed into an extremely sharp point- this sharp point of Essence of Reality acting as a pen to etch the Primordial Epitaph as its outline gradually became clear at this moment.

The backbone of the Primordial Epitaph was finished as Noah had to now wait for his generation of the Essence of Reality to replenish his reserves before he could continue, but one could see at this moment a glimmering Epitaph that carried the hazy outlook of a lemniscate!

Lemniscate! A word that represented the plane curves that consist of two loops or circles that meet at a central point.

Or as many other beings knew it- a lazy eight, or even more commonly- the geometric symbol of infinity!

This...was Noah's skeletal structure for his fantastical Primordial Epitaph!

Chapter 1482: The Fantastical Forsaken Treasure Reality! I

The base skeleton of the Primordial Epitaph was done as just this alone nearly drained all of the Essence of Reality that Noah had saved up, the final product of his System being something stupendous as Noah had to wait for his reserves to be refilled before he continued.

With his upper limit increased to 200 and being capable of generating one-fourth of his maximum Reserves of Essence of Reality through the Affix of Reality, he would be getting 50 Units with ease as after adding the perks of RUINATION, the Infinite Empire, and the Authority of Catastrophe- his rate of daily generation could be seen already rising crazily within mere days!

Noah appreciated the Epitaph shimmering with its lemniscate shape, making sure everything was running smoothly with it as only after a while did he stop gazing at his soul and look out into the outside world again.

He was still within the Soul Library as the process of cleaning up his soul had been completed, only Daos and Edicts he needed to utilize and planned to use being left behind as Noah could now optimize himself fully while planning on how to move forward!

Apart from the process of forging his system, his tasks at hand were the elevation of RUINATION and the Infinite Empire, and the forging of new INSUPERABLE Nomological Edicts for him to begin forming his second Ascendancy Halo.

His clones and subordinates were already moving across a few Realities to aid in the task of elevation of the Infinite Empire, while Noah's fortune and destiny told him that both the tasks of raising RUINATION to the Primordial Relic stage and his quest to obtain more Insuperable Nomological Edicts...it would actually stand a chance of being fulfilled in the Forsaken Treasure Reality that his True Sanguine Clone was now entering with the mysterious Overseer Natalya Rostova!

RUINATION he fully grasped as he could obtain wondrous materials capable of forging Primordial Relics, but the matter of whatever enemies would be there for him to possibly grasp Insuperable Nomological Edicts was unknown as even when Noah tried to grasp information with the Dictum Emperor and Kismet, only glimpses were coming through as he couldn't see much in relation to the Forsaken Treasure Reality.

"It means that this will undoubtedly be dangerous..."

WAA!

Whenever it was something he couldn't fully see and control, it meant that powerful existences that had surpassed him in concepts were involved- similar to how he couldn't get anything from Natalya. Or it was simply the location of the Forsaken Treasure Reality being too mysterious and with its own unique features that obstructed Noah!

"With danger comes opportunity, whatever comes my way...I will just have to make sure my fortune can handle it!"

...!

Within immense confidence, Noah's mind was set as the first thing he did was tap his chest- RUINATION receiving his command as it flashed away from his Origin and transferred into the True Sanguine Clone about to enter the Forsaken Treasure Reality.

The materials to upgrade this Quasi-Primordial Relic were in this opportune Reality and from Natalya's words, nothing could teleport in or out as even [Expansive Space] would be inaccessible!

So Noah had to make preparations in advance as to account for any unforeseen circumstances, he would take RUINATION with his True Sanguine Clone and elevate it to a Primordial Relic within the Forsaken Treasure Reality if need be!

For this cause, he also utilized the feature of <Pocket Cosmos> that was the elevated version of <Pocket Universe> of the Infinite Empire- Noah's True Sanguine Clone carrying the authority of this treasure which held the Blacksmith's Forge within it as he would be able to carry out his role as a Peerless Forger without any issues.

Even with all of these preparations, Noah simply saw the waves of destiny and fortune within his body rising and falling, foretelling that this trip could go in many possible directions as Noah would walk a fine line between destruction and fortune.

Thinking of this, Noah couldn't help but smile as he spoke slowly. "Will I be hitting a brick wall soon? Have I been moving too fast?"

He strolled out of the Soul Library as he asked himself thoughtfully, his body being surrounded by waves of Flames of Edicts as two golden books appeared in his hands.

One from Reader's Foresight and the other from Premium Reader.

He could instinctively feel a sense of pressure bearing down as he tried to read ahead to understand what was to come, but even this was an arduous task as the golden pages barely flashed with any information due to the level of things involved!

The Edicts of Kismet and Dictum Emperor felt too low to handle what was surrounding Noah as he had to quickly put multiple Realities under the banner of the Tyrannical Emperor- utilizing the True Light of Conquest to both Empower and elevate his Nomological Edicts to make sure that he still kept his edge against the coming powerful enemies!

He had planned as much as he could for the Forsaken Treasure Reality as apart from many things, he still had the cards of the Destiny Goblin King Bloodline that he had yet to play!

WAA!

His eyes flashed brightly as while gazing at the ever-present illusory purple gold crown above him, Noah felt the connection with his True Sanguine Clone waver ever so slightly before it reestablished- the party of Golden Titans having now made their way into the Forsaken Treasure Reality as a fantastical even had now begun...

At the same time that Noah's True Sanguine Clone faded.

Within a certain Prime Reality.

"Hmm?"

The eyes of Elder Gazer flashed as the figure of Princess Snow that was lounging on his throne freely rose up questioningly.

"I had tracked down his movements and was just about to lock him down when everything about him disappeared!"

Elder Gazer spoke with a light of mystery as towards this, the blue and white hair on Princess Snow glimmered as she smiled ruefully.

"Don't tell me the great Elder Gazer has actually failed at something?"

Her words carried a trace of teasing that caused Gazer's eyes to flash with sharpness, his voice echoing out thereafter as he waved his hands to cause a terrifying tear in space!

"Hmph, let's go. Call you little guards over...there are few reasons for anyone to disappear under my gaze, any of them being enough to fully draw my interest."

...!

"We shall go to the last location I nearly locked down and see just where this little Primal Titan disappeared to!"

RUMBLE!

Chapter 1483: The Fantastical Forsaken Treasure Reality! II

Whether through sheer coincidence or the weaving of destiny, a terrifying Elder halfway towards the 8th Firmament of Ascendancy had caught onto Noah's scent- all of this being propelled forth by a set of actions nobody could have predicted!

Noah killed a Prince of the Royal Blight Serpent Dragons as the Matriarch of this Bloodline was maddened enough to spend all her wealth earned over millions of years to put his name on the Primordial Blacklist.

Once on this list, many Third Firmament Primordials turned their gazes towards it as the rewards were abundant, but it would be extremely hard for them to locate Noah as all of them started by paying a visit to the Isles of the Gilded Forge!

Out of the many Third Firmament Primordials, one with a unique status and disposition caught wind of this development as 'just for fun', she joined in on the bounty as this being had a...unique relationship with a powerful Elder Primordial that even 8th and 9th Firmament experts sometimes sought the help of.

An existence with a unique status due to a profound Nomological Edict under him and a unique ability born of his soul!

When this being utilized his terrifying means, he locked onto the identity of Noah Osmont the Primal Titan that had begun to move in the Isles of the Gilded Forge- with him being able to pick up the scent from this Prime Reality and towards the unknown location that Noah's True Sanguine Clone had disappeared into as when this tracement was cut off soon after, Elder Gazer took Princess Snow and her guards to follow.

The scent of Noah's True body wasn't picked up due to the identity of the one to appear on the Primordial Blacklist, and Noah inadvertently escaped the terrifying gaze of an Elder Primordial being turned towards the Infinite Empire much too early!

Instead, this situation arose as a single Third Firmament Titan was now being chased by a terrifying Elder Primordial, a Seventh Firmament expert, 8 Sixth Firmament experts, and the one that had started this chase- a Princess at the Third Firmament.

BZZZT!

A terrifying tear in space occurred as a few figures stepped out, a party of 11 existences that now followed the lead of a dark-haired Elder Gazer appeared before a region that had terrifying spatial instabilities.

"The signal was lost here?" Princess Snow raised her eyes as her voice rang out sonorously, but her eyes opened into wide saucers in the next second as she saw the body of Elder Gazer trembling!

"Uncle?"

Her words snapped him out of his fervor as in the next second, this being actually began to laugh raucously before his body erupted with authority that wrapped around the group and pulled them towards the terrifying waves of spatial instabilities!

"I have to confirm it to be sure, but you might have just done me a huge favor...my dear little niece!"

OOOM!

The authority emanating from Elder Gazer was truly terrifying as even the Seventh Firmament Brother Haden was shocked, their party expertly traversing across the instabilities in space as soon enough, they began to see the outline of a multicolored tear in space that leaked tremendous destiny and fortune.

"Haha! What a good niece! The surprises you bring me are just..."

Elder Gazer's eyes released terrifying lights as he nearly wanted to do something towards Princess Snow, but he held himself back when he remembered the 'outsiders' with the two of them. He instead refocused on the glimmering rift before his eyes as the shocked voice of Snow echoed out.

"This is...an entrance to a Forsaken Treasure Reality?!"

WAA!

"Yes. An Unexplored one at that as in this region of explored Realities, we do not have a record of this yet!" Elder Gazer's voice carried a trace of sharpness as boundless greed had begun to emanate from him, many thoughts crossing his mind as deadly killing intent could also be seen as he hiddenly gazed at the guards that were with Princess Snow.

"Shall we...report it right away?" The Seventh Firmament Brother Haden was also looking forward with shaking eyes as he asked, the expression on Elder Gazer turning sour as his hidden killing intent nearly surged out, but his voice replied out calmly and commandingly.

"In these vast Realities, opportunities come and go quickly as we have to use our own hands and strength to scale the Firmaments. We can explore this Forsaken Treasure Reality ourselves and obtain its strongest boons before we gain contribution by reporting it!"

His words were inviolable, and nobody would even want to go against them as all of the Primordials had their eyes shining with greed at this moment.

An Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality!

"Hmph, you all must not forget the little Princess that brought everyone here..." Snow released a pouting expression as a light of intellect flashed through her eyes, this Princess knowing that she was the weakest one here as for her to gain benefits- she had to depend on everyone else here!

And who could she depend on more than the Elder Primordial that her dear 8th Firmament Father would kill if ever he found out what he had been doing with his daughter for the past million years?

Elder Gazer had a bright smile as he turned his eyes away from the pulsing rift leading to an Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality to focus on Princess Snow.

"I would never treat my niece badly...let us go inside and see just who this Third Firmament Blacklister has as a backer to have found such a Reality as the first thing we need to do...is to silence them!"

WAA!

They had traversed across vast distances to arrive here since the signal was lost, and it meant those that had already entered had an hour lead ahead of them or more as they had to move in haste!

But...Elder Gazer wasn't worried.

There was only a single way into a Forsaken Treasure Reality and a single way out. With no spatial abilities or teleportations allowed within, he would undoubtedly be able to meet the Third Firmament Titan and whatever aid he had with him in this fantastical Reality!

Thereafter...

"Haha...haha!"

Boundlessly rueful laughter could be heard as a terrifying situation developed!

Chapter 1484: The Fantastical Forsaken TreasureReality! III

<You have entered a unique region of space under special restrictions.>

<Any Spatial Abilities and Teleportation is nullified.>

<All body sizes are adjusted to 1,000 Miles.>

<Your Destiny and Fortune is under the effects of {Light of Fortune} as they experience a period of rapid growth...>

Multiple prompts rose up before Noah's eyes as the will of the Infinite Empire quantified the restrictions and information that surged into his soul the moment that he arrived into the Forsaken Treasure Reality!

Under the immense authority of Natalya, they forced their way into the multicolored tear in space that was the entrance into the Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality.

The prompts were pouring over Noah's eyes as he also couldn't help but look around their surroundings at this moment!

"This..."

Even the Golden Titans around him and Natalya upfront had looks of wonder as if there was a single word Noah could use to describe what he saw- it would be gold.

Gold!

Their surroundings carried an immense hue of gold as one could feel condensed fortune and destiny swirling around them in a shocking fashion that one might even feel suffocated by it.

Looking past the hue of gold in the surroundings they found themselves atop what seemed to be a crystalline road that stretched forward for an extremely far distance- this road connected to a mass of a floating island that made their bodies which were a 1,000 miles large seem like insignificant ants!

One of the restrictions placed upon the entrants of the Forsaken Treasure Reality was their size, with all of them not being able to be as vast as Universes or Cosmos as they were limited to sizes akin to the lowest tier worlds.

The crystalline road they were on was extremely expansive, and it was held up in space by a unique essence wrapping around it as at the edges of this road were lined by shimmering genuine clusters of the precious metal- gold!

A road floating in a golden hue of space leading to a vast floating landmass, and their eyes could make out the outlines of many floating land masses that each seemed to shine with their own color and authority. Landmasses that were vaster than any cluster of Cosmos one could come across.

This was just what they could initially see after they entered!

Noah's eyes shone with amazement as he felt his Origin bubbling madly, a reaction of a few specific Bloodlines seemingly interacting with something as he let this process play out while turning around to see where they came from.

Behind them, the large multicolored rift could be seen as the entrance they came in...would also be where they had to return to leave this place after they explored this Reality and took its treasures.

Before Noah could think too much, the prompts that were running over his eyes only increased as each one caused Noah's eyes to release blinding rays of light.

<The Bloodline of a Destiny Goblin and a Destiny Goblin King is detected within you. The Authority of Treasure King is granted onto you.>

<The Treasure King instinctively feels where the most precious treasures lie within the Forsaken Treasure Reality and has the authority to command Destiny Goblins.>

<The restriction of size is bypassed due to the Bloodline of the Destiny Goblin King.>

<As a Destiny Goblin King, the very Forsaken Treasure Reality protects you as you gain 90% True Soul and Physical Damage Negation from all enemies of the Treasure Reality>

RUMBLE!

Capability to command Destiny Goblins!

True Soul and Physical Damage Negation!

He had actually gained such a thing to his identity as a Destiny Goblin King, the implications of this being utterly astounding, a burst of radiant fortune and destiny erupting from Noah!

Utter madness seemed to be bubbling out from his body as before Natalya and the others could even fully take in the wonders of their surroundings, they felt a unique and fantastical pressure suddenly and uncontrollably erupting around this Peerless Forger!

"What is this..." Natalya's stupendous gaze looked forward in amazement as she was shocked by the overabundance of fortune and destiny releasing from Noah's body.

'Is an existence holding a Bloodline from the Olden Times so domineering?'

Her thoughts were her own as her eyes released bright lights, watching the purple-gold crown above Noah spin gloriously as his body cascaded with profound waves of destiny and fortune- his eyes closed as if he was reveling in this feeling!

And it was not done.

<The Bloodline of the Resplendent Treasure Emperor rises out in fervor after arriving in a Forsaken Treasure Reality!>

BOOOM!

A stupendous light of gold exploded out as the eyes of some Grandmasters were blinded.

Those who could see...they gazed forward to find pillars of golden light released from Noah's chest, where even his eyes and mouth seemed to be roaring out while releasing horrific waves of fortune and light they were unfamiliar with!

It was the light of Loot!

<All boosts granted by the Resplendent Treasure Emperor in relation to Increased Loot Quantity and Increased Loot Rarity are Doubled while within the Forsaken Treasure Reality.>

WAAA!

The golden flames of the Resplendent Treasure Emperor rose around Noah's body madly, painting him to look like a pristine ancient Emperor as they swirled around his body to finally rise up and form a spinning circle of golden flames below his purple gold illusory throne.

His body palpated with waves and waves of destiny and fortune as he wanted to scream out that he was home!

The Bloodlines of the Destiny Goblin, Destiny Goblin King, and the Resplendent Treasure Emperor truly made him feel like he had returned to his long lost home as he wanted to announce his return, but he could only come to a stop as he realized the eyes of Natalya were twisting in shining crescent lights while she gazed at him, while Monos and the other Grandmaster Titans nearly pulled on their beards in shock while they looked towards his direction.

"Ahem."

He let out a light caught as he adjusted himself, the profound light of destiny and fortune dying down just a little as he could see their expressions were blatantly asking- what the fuck?!

Chapter 1485: The Fantastical Forsaken TreasureReality! IV

Following the looks of shock and amazement from those around him, Noah coughed lightly as his voice echoed out

"My fortune and destiny unconsciously erupted out when entering this new environment..."

"..."

The fearsome Natalya rolled her eyes at his words as the Grandmasters stared at each other, but Noah was going at his own pace as thereafter, his body that brimmed with fortune and destiny gazed at the first floating treasure island that was connected to the crystalline pathway they were on!

To their left and right was a blank space colored with a dark gold hue, this space seeming bottomless as if one fell and couldn't fly out, they might not be able to ever rise up.

The only way to go was forward as with Noah being granted the authority of the Treasure King due to his Destiny Goblin King Bloodline, he could feel a beautiful glow of Loot that called out to him!

Not even just the authority of the Treasure King, but the Flames of the Treasure Emperor were raging above his head madly because they could feel a tremendous number of treasures within not just the island closest to them, but all of the ones they could barely discern far off in the distance.

With the assurances due to his Destiny Goblin King Bloodline and his own excitement for what could lay out there, he couldn't help but begin moving forward as his voice echoed out.

"My fortune can sense where a lot of the truly pristine treasures are located...follow me!"

BOOM!

His figure was like a cannonball as he began to shoot towards the first glimmering treasure island, Natalya waving her hands as the over a dozen Golden Titans flew behind Noah while she easily floated beside him and kept up.

Even though the Peerless Forger before them didn't fully explain his secrets, they knew that he had a Bloodline from the Olden Times as just that alone was enough for them to know this being was like a beacon.

They would benefit so long as they followed as the hardships of this Forsaken Treasure Reality would be reduced greatly with the mere presence of this being.

WAA!

Like a glimmer of light, their figures traversed the crystalline golden path lined up by countless gold metals as they neared the periphery of the first Treasure island, their eyes barely landing at an insignificant portion of this vast island that put Cosmos to shame.

Wondrously, their eyes gazed at this expansive landmass to see glimmering gold vegetation, endlessly stretching crystalline mountains, and raised structures radiating sharp glows of white and gold just in their immediate surroundings!

Along with all this...they could also barely feel the auras of living existences as the expressions of the Golden Titans changed, their senses seemingly obstructed when they tried to reach out further into this landmass. Yet Noah fearlessly charged forward as they arrived at the periphery of the Treasure Island.

The periphery alone was enough to cause the Origins of weak beings to tremble as the moment they arrived, they saw that the pathway they were on continued further into the island, but the sides of the path had changed from being clusters of gold metal to now being...jagged multicolored Crystals that pulsed with essence!

"These are...."

The eyes of Monos brightened as he went forward, breaking a crystal away from the cluster as he shook his head in wonder as he affirmed it.

"A Cosmic Essence Crystal!"

The eyes of the other Golden Titans shone as their eyes glittered, going forward and reaching out for themselves to break apart these Crystals as their faces brightened up.

Noah's gaze lingered on the Crystals that were shockingly lining up the edges of the path as if they were mere trash, yet their identity was anything but that as their details rose up before his eyes!

[Low Tier Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystal]:: A Convergence of dense cosmic essence that has crystallized over time in a special environment, containing a pure source of Essence that those in the Universal Filament Realm can tolerate to aid them in forging a Cosmos. 1000 Low Tier Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals are enough to allow an existence to break through into the Cosmic Filament Realm. Absorption of the Essence within this item is tame and beneficial as one can continue to absorb them endlessly to forge more Cosmos within their body...

WAA!

A Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystal that put Cores to shame!

Noah gazed as such wondrous Crystals that could produce Cosmic and Cosmic Filament Rank existences in bulk were actually lined up at the periphery of this treasure island before them- with these Crystals lining up the path as if they were mere decorations.

"Collect them as we go and move on!"

Natalya's sharp voice echoed out to wake everyone as she saw Noah beginning to release his essence out to mine the Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals and continue moving forward, the eyes of this Overseer sharp as even if she didn't fully believe in Noah, she could trust in his Bloodline from the Olden Times!

SHAA!

Speedily, Noah delved further into the vast treasure island as their figures were like grains of sand to this vast location, being covered by immense overgrowth of glimmering crystalline trees that at the top- they had dangling Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals as if they were fruits.

The trees alone looked like treasures as Noah and the Golden Titans filled up their Voidforged Treasure Pouches while moving through as if they were possessed!

The golden path around them continued as after moving at speeds far faster than light while collecting Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals, they finally saw a different scene around them as they came across a clearing.

A clearing...that had golden pillars enacted around it to form a circular area, this area being the first place Noah was drawn to as before each of their eyes- they saw a mountain of purple-colored Crystals releasing profound rays of Loot light!

Different from the multicolored Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals, these Crystals were much smaller even though they released an even more awe-inspiring wave of Treasure light, and the eyes of Noah and those around him were drawn to the top of this mountain while Natalya called out the identity of the countless Crystals that formed a mountain.

"Soul Crystals!"

RUMBLE!

The currency that every being within the vast Reality sought- piled up into a mountain in an infinitesimal region of only a single expansive floating landmass out of many landmasses within this Forsaken Treasure Reality.

And on top of this mountain of Soul Crystals, Noah and all the others focused their eyes to see an aura of an existence they hadn't even sensed before they looked forth- this existence gazing at them with a nonchalant gaze as it chewed on Soul Crystals within its hands!

Chapter 1486: The Fantastical Forsaken TreasureReality! V

An existence that was a native of the Forsaken Treasure Reality sat atop a mountain of Soul Crystals as the eyes of Noah and all other Golden Titans honed on it!

The first thing one would think about when they looked at this creature would be the word grotesque as even though it shone with a sheen of gold- the creature was a mass of flesh and shining metals and Crystals as it took the form of an enormous golden slug.

Wings made of golden flesh like meat could be seen behind its back as its expression was that of utter derision and greed, but the waves of power it released were no less than that of the Sixth Firmament of Ascendancy!

SHAA!

Noah's eyes flashed as he felt the authority of the Destiny Goblin King echo out, information about this being coming into his mind as its description was pulled up before his eyes.

[Amalgamation of Greed]:: A creature born within a Destiny Domain Space as it acts as its guard. It lives and dies within the Destiny Domain Space as if the treasures within are ever threatened to be taken by others, it will fight to its last breath...

An existence only born to protect the Treasures born within Destiny Domain Spaces!

In this case, the Destiny Domain Space was the periphery of this mountain of Soul Crystals- this domain space producing all of these wondrous resources over the years as the Amalgamation of Greed before them...had been enjoying the Soul Crystals this whole time.

Noah was only able to get the description of this creature as the {Light of Fortune} that everyone receives when they entered this Forsaken Treasure Reality did nothing to aid them, nor did his Treasure King Authority that he obtained as a Destiny Goblin King!

The creature before him was not a Destiny Goblin so naturally, Noah could not control it as there was only one way for them to get past it while obtaining the mountain of Soul Crystals before them.

Seeing them nearing, its slug-like body rose in attention ever so slightly as it let out a guttural growl.

"OOOH!"

Its meaty flaps waved about as the Soul Crystal mountain shook, the Sixth Firmament Golfen Titan within Noah's group nearly stepping forward before Natalya raised her hands ever so slightly.

"The Forsaken Treasure Reality is vast as we have yet to even come across Materials worthy enough to be used as ingredients to forge a Primordial Relic...I will take care of the enemies and allow us to continue moving in haste!"

WAA!

Her words were inviolable as she moved, the Golden Titans nodding with fervor as even Noah didn't step forward. As powerful as he was, he still didn't compare to a Sixth Firmament existence that had an Ascendancy Value of 1,000,000!

His own Ascendancy Value had continued elevating up higher as in the past hour, it has reached the Boundary of 7,000 as the boosts from the effect of the Emperor of Old Bloodline fully settled in.

He was only 3,000 Ascendancy Values away from the Fourth Firmament, and the gulf towards the 1 Million Value of even the Sixth Firmament was much too high for him as the most he could do with the ridiculous 90% True Soul and Physical Damage Negation along with his own resistances...was to maybe survive the blows of a creature at the Sixth Firmament!

So Natalya stepped forward with ease as her figure rose up towards the Amalgamation of Greed on top of the Soul Crystal Mountain, the temperature around her beginning to rise as the existence atop the crystalline mountain roared out threateningly.

Dozens of glorious Flames of Edicts rose around it along with the illusory light of Ascendancy Halos, but even such a scene only caused The Overseer to release a harrumph.

She was Natalya Rostova. The Scorcher of Realities!

While a Sixth Firmament existence had a 1 Million Ascendancy Value, she had over 10 Million as an Ascendancy Value as her might could not be denied!

Even against two other Seventh Firmament experts, she was able to send them back heavily injured with a single attack as the power of this Overseer was unfathomable.

Noah having attached himself to such an existence that had even brought him into this Forsaken Treasure Reality was an extremely bountiful event as there were many possibilities for the future!

BZZZT!

Her figure had flown to the peak of the Soul Crystal Mountain as the Amalgamation of Greed roared out towards her, its body crackling with power as in comparison- Natalya looked like a reserved beast about to break out.

And it was truly so as from what she stated- she was going for speed!

WAA!

Her fingers flashed as an instant later, a soul shaking Great Bow appeared within her fair hands.

It released the wondrous aura of a Peak Tier Quasi-Primordial Relic as with a swift motion as if she had practiced it for countless years, Natalya drew on the bowstring as the essence of white flames formed a heart rending arrow- the figure of the Amalgamation of Greed sensing something terrifying as the Flames of Edicts around it began to fly out!

But in the span of less than a millisecond.

SHAA!

A flash of white light.

"..."

POOOOF!

The viscous muscular body of the Amalgamation of Greed was razed into mincemeat an instant later as a pristine arrow of white flames had pierced through it faster than even Noah's eyes could catch it!

...!

The bow within Natalya's hands came down as she didn't even break a sweat, the strength of a Seventh Firmament expert being affirmed in everyone's eyes at this moment as they saw the Overseer being capable of sniping a Sixth Firmament enemy without even utilizing her Ascendancy Halos!

OOOM!

An instant later her fingers moved as wisps of essence landed on the Soul Crystal Mountain that the Amalgamation of Greed used to be on, this mountain of treasure being divided into multiple portions as she sectioned two big portions- one that flew towards her Voidforged Treasure Pouch and the other into Noah's. The other sectioned portions were over a dozen as they went to Grandmaster Monos and the others, their eyes shining brightly as wondrous Loot landed on their hands.

Noah was given the same portion as a Seventh Firmament Overseer because of his identity, his eyes also smiling brightly as he adored any Loot that could strengthen his soul!

Chapter 1487: The Fantastical Forsaken TreasureReality! VI

[Low Tier Soul Crystals]: A collection of pure Soul Power in a digestible form, capable of slightly refining the soul of the absorber and elevating their status...

The description for the Low Tier Soul Crystals they had obtained was short and simple as it stated its purpose, Noah gazing down where the mountain of Soul Crystal used to be as he saw a swirling mass of gold essence that moved with a terrifying authority.

This...was the bottom of the Destiny Domain Space that gave birth to the cluster of Soul Crystals.

"A phenomenon of utter wonder within Forsaken Treasure Realities- a Domain Space that naturally forms specific treasures!"

Natalya's voice echoed out beside Noah as the Overseer appeared with her glimmering bow in hand.

"This is why Forsaken Treasure Realities are such tremendous things for anyone to get their hands on; they can gain access to sources of many special Domain Spaces that continue to form treasures over time. It's quite literally getting your hands on a treasure trove that just keeps on giving! This one that we have entered is far above my expectations as it seemed vaster and different than the one I entered before or any of the ones I have heard of, and we will have to send word to the Legend of our race as soon as we leave here as I truly don't think we can swallow everything here by ourselves...or be able to defend it in the rare chance that someone else ever finds out about the location of this Forsaken Treasure Reality!"

Her words were filled with many thoughts as the vast number of treasure islands they had seen was far too many and too vast compared to the knowledge that even this Overseer had!

But she was a normal Higher Existence like Noah and many others...they wanted to get their hands on as much as their stomachs could handle as everyone wanted to strive and scale the Firmaments. And Forsaken Treasure Realities...gave a clean pathway for scaling the Firmaments of Ascendancy from the overabundance of destiny and fortune one could hold within.

Noah didn't agree with letting anyone else know about this wondrous place, but he wasn't the one to find it as the decision currently rested on the shoulders of the Overseer! Yet...the eyes of this powerful woman were bright as she seemed to read Noah's calm eyes, her voice coming out again.

"Don't worry, Peerless Forger. I'll only share the location of this Forsaken Treasure Reality if I confirm we truly cannot swallow it ourselves. I also seek to reach the 8th and 9th Firmament in the future, not just to have you aid me in forging my Primordial Relic!"

WAA!

Her words eased the greed that even the Grandmasters behind Noah were feeling as Noah smiled lightly, their figures shooting forward once more after they passed over the now empty mountain that used to hold Soul Crystals.

They went forward while collecting more and more Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals that littered the golden pathway they followed, Noah even going as far as plucking the shockingly tall crystalline trees surrounding them which had the Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals coming off as fruits!

As he did this, his eyes also gazed at the dangerous looking white gold Great Bow in Natalya's hands- the Quasi-Primordial Relic she had used to turn a Sixth Firmament Amalgamation of Greed into mere pieces of meat in an instant.

"This is The Heartstring Reaver...my first ever forged Quasi-Primordial Relic that has followed me for the past tens of millions of years!" Natalya saw Noah's eyes as she spoke with a knowing smile, her words continuing.

"The Heartstring Reaver is through Treasure I've been trying to elevate to a Primordial Relic this whole time as the materials I wish to find in this Forsaken Treasure Reality are strictly for this..."

Her words caused Noah to nod and smile as their figures actually came to a stop in the next moment, his voice replying out.

"We might just have the chance to look at rarer treasures soon that might fit those requirements..."

Noah said this as before them, the singular path had forked into 9 different paths that led deeper into the Treasure Island they were on!

Some continued straight, others were elevated and going higher, and others seemed to be heading down as they formed into caves if one continued further down!

9 paths were laid out before them as Natalya's eyes shone before she gave out commands to the Golden Titans behind her.

"You all have been under my banner for the last millions of years...listen to my words once more as I ask you to explore this dangerous place filled with opportunities and return back here alive!"

WAA!

The Overseer looked at the oaths as she instantly decided for them to split up as they covered more ground on the Treasure Island, her voice continuing to ring out as she formed two groups- one led by the Sixth Firmament Titan and the other led by the Fifth Firmament Titan.

"Two groups are dangerous enough, but the Leaders should be able to protect everyone within the group as your main goal is Treasure collection. If you meet defenders on Destiny Domain Spaces that you cannot handle.. leave them be! Meet back at this exact spot after exactly 10 hours, where we will forge the path towards the next Treasure Island together."

"Yes, Overseer!"

Monos and the other Grandmasters reverently answered the commands as this being had utter loyalty to their Overseer, this being turning to look towards Noah with an enticing smile as she asked.

"Which path should they take?"

WAA!

As an existence with a Bloodline from Olden Times, she sought his opinion on which paths led to profound treasures as Noah smiled while pointing to two out of the Nine.

"Go!"

Natalya called out as the two parties of Golden Titans nodded to each other before their two groups rushed towards two paths with haste!

Left behind were only Noah and Natalya as this overpowered Overseer continued to seek Noah's opinion calmly.

"Which path shall we take, O Peerless Forger?"

Her eyes carried a trace of teasing as she called out Noah's title, a smile appearing over him as he looked towards a single path.

A path that his Flames of the Resplendent Treasure Emperor and Destiny Goblin King Bloodline were crying out for- a path that his Authority as a Treasure King cried out for him to take!

Chapter 1488 Materials to Forgea Primordial Relic! I

Noah flew towards another one of the 9th paths with haste as it was one that led down, Natalya's figure keeping up with Noah's pace with ease as if he was running forward- it seemed like she was merely taking a stroll and could still keep up with ease!

Their surroundings were gradually changing as the path was going underground, delving deeper into the heart of this Treasure Island as it turned into a cavernous path that was lined up and brightened up by the multicolored crystalline Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals.

It gradually turned dark as Noah didn't spare any of the Convergence Crystals he came across, putting all of them in his Voidforged Treasure Pouch even as Natalya stopped as she didn't put them in her eyes too much!

"Why did you choose this path?"

Natalya asked with curiosity while they went forward, Noah's Origin thrumming with boundless fortune and destiny as he replied while feeling their surroundings gradually hearing up- the cavernous space they were in expanding as if they were about to enter a vast cavern within this underground space.

"My fortune and destiny sense a few clusters of truly important treasures across this Treasure Island, with many of them being accessible with this path the quickest...pending that we don't get hold up for too long!"

His reply caused Natalya's gaze to release a burst of light as their surroundings were gradually brightening up and increasing in temperature as they should be arriving in a new location soon!

Moving far faster than the speed of light meant they had covered who knew how many light years of distance in the winding golden cavernous path until finally...

WAA!

Their surroundings changed as they arrived into a vast cavernous space.

Their figures were minuscule in comparison to how vast this space was, multiple Universes being able to fit within as Noah and Natalya were still only the size of a Lower World!

The underground space was extremely large as it was lined up by unique purple-gold glowing walls, the Cosmic Essence Convergence Crystals thinning out at this moment as even with the disappearance of these treasures, Noah and Natalya didn't feel the least bit of heartache as they saw what lay before them.

Even though they were underground, everything was lit up brightly as the source of light turned out to be a bubbling golden volcanic lake. Immense waves of essence were being released from this golden volcanic lake as droplets of golden lava flowed upwards and was infused into a glimmering illusory crimson tree!

A crimson tree that was the Ultimate source of light here, this tree having branches that were bearing bundles of Loot light of items that pulsed with terrifying waves of power and heat!

The illusory crimson tree seemed to be constantly sucking up the golden lava that had an overabundance of fortune and destiny, the absorbed essence all going towards producing the treasures stemming off of its branches as there was a singular largest one that caused Natalya and Noah's gaze to not be able to leave it.

It was a pristinely carved out star-shaped crystal that actually looked hard enough to be pure metal, fully formed into the shape of a star as when one looked at it, the weaker beings would find their eyes to be scorched and their blood dried up!

Even Noah estimated he could only look at this treasure for a few minutes before it affected his own eyesight and burned him even under the protection of the Essence of Nomological Edicts!

What was this that could even bypass the defense of Edicts?

"A Naturally Formed Treasure..." The words of Natalya rang out in shock as the body of this powerful woman trembled ever so slightly, immense happiness rising on her face as if she had found what she was looking for all these years!

The crystalline metal material that could burn a First Firmament expert if they were near it or even eviscerated them from gazing at it for too long was actually...

"A material worthy enough to be utilized to forge a Primordial Relic!"

WAA!

Natalya exclaimed out with slight excitement as the great bow with her hands trembled, this Overseer raising her Quasi-Primordial Relic weapon up as aside from the stupendous illusory crimson tree above the glimmering golden lava and the bundles of Loot light it bore- there were actually 10 Amalgamations of Greed powerfully at the Sixth Firmament of Ascendancy surrounding this area protectively!

Ten!

So the Scorcher of Reality raised her weapon to clear the field before they claimed a stupendous Treasure that could aid in the forging of a Primordial Relic.

At the same time, Noah's eyes shimmered brightly while he gazed at the bundle of Loot on the illusory crimson tree that pulled with immense heat.

The Authority of the Treasure King that he had obtained as a Destiny Goblin King was pervasive within this Forsaken Treasure Reality, where apart from sensing where the most powerful treasures were- he could also gain information about them with ease even without deploying his own methods of Author's Viewpoint or Author's Jurisdiction!

His focus started on the most astounding star shaped crystalline metal.

WAA!

<High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure>(Fire) :: A type of material Formed under unique circumstances and containing immense essence capable of altering Reality itself. For this material to be utilized, unique methods are needed as it can be used in the forging of weapons that can alter Reality with a swing. This particular Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure is of the Fire element as if fusing with other materials, be sure to pay attention to the compatibility. Being a High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure, this material is capable of aiding in the forging of Primordial Relics...

A High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure!

A material that could genuinely be utilized for the forging of a Primordial Relic, with Noah affirming his thoughts and gaining more information as he gazed at the other vibrant Loot lights stemming off of the illusory crimson tree.

Some had shapes of cylindrical metals, others that seemed like clusters of snow, others that seemed to be a collection of miniaturized Cosmos...they all had their own shapes and sizes as the unique thing was that apart from the only High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure that was the red star shaped crystalline metal- the rest were middle or low tier!

The Middle and Low Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures- one could only utilize these to help forge Quasi-Primordial Relics.

SHIING!

The Overseer's eyes were deadly and filled with fervor as her pulled bow was let loose once, and then within the span of a single millisecond...she pulled and released her bow nine more times as 10 terrifying arrows of white flames shot out towards ten separate Amalgamations of Greed!

Chapter 1489 Materials to Forgea Primordial Relic! II

The weaving of space and time could be vastly different across different areas of space, and this was even more so for Realities.

Operating their own spacetime continuum, the passage of time within a Reality could be vastly different to the passage of time outside of it!

At the moment that Noah and Natalya came across the first High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure that was an ingredient capable of aiding in the forging of a Primordial Relic.

OOONG!

11 powerful existences tore into the multicolored rift that led into the Forsaken Treasure Reality, the eyes of these Primordials sparkling as they arrived on the golden path that was lined up by blocks of gold!

"This..."

Princess Snow gazed around with amazement as her eyes and the eyes of all the Primordials were on the mesmerizing scene around them and the expansive far away Treasure Islands that seemed to be shining with a fantastical light.

Many of their gazes were those of amazement, but the eyes of Elder Gazer were shaking in excitement as he knew much more than others!

Seeing the vast number of glimmering Treasure Islands in the distance, his eyes nearly bulged out as he saw the size of this Forsaken Treasure Reality to be unlike any others he had seen or heard about, his eyes beginning to release a profound light of greed and killing intent as he thought of how many beings behind him knew about such a place right now.

A Forsaken Treasure Reality like this would be extremely helpful in allowing one to reach the 8th or even 9th Firmament of Ascendancy, but that was only if they devoured its gains over time by themselves and not share it with countless others!

Ah...

His eyes became cold an instant later as he thought about the other party that had already entered here, his body bubbling with power as his voice rumbled out while the others were amazed.

"This Forsaken Treasure Reality is filled with opportunities as we cannot let others have it! Delve towards the first Island and whoever you find...interrogate and then kill without mercy!"

WAA!

"Knowledge of this Treasure Reality must not leak out...even 9th Firmament existences or Legends might be interested in it!"

...!

His words caused shock and ecstasy to spread on the faces of the other Primordials, their figures shooting off towards the first Treasure Island as none of them saw the deadly killing intent within the eyes of Elder Gazer as he moved forward.

It wasn't just a bloody light of murder for the Third Firmament target they had followed here...but he had the same gaze for the Primordial Guards that were under Princess Snow as hiddenly, he sent mental waves of messages towards her that caused her eyes to glimmer brightly.

What they had come across was truly top valuable. They might have to do unseemly things, but for such a vast fortune lying with this Forsaken Treasure Reality...it was more than worth it!

"KILL!"

RUMBLE!

With boundless fervor, a Seventh Firmament Brother Haden and his 8 other Sixth Firmament Primordial Guards surged forward with Princess Snow, an even more powerful peak Seventh Firmament Elder Gazer that had long surged past the initial 10,000,000 Ascendancy Value rushed forward with the goal of killing.

To be a peak Seventh Firmament existence, just how close had his initial 10 million Value gone towards the barrier of 100 Million that would distinguish one to be of the Firmament?

Would other Seventh Firmament existences even compare when standing against him?!

--

SHAA!

10 terror-inducing arrows of flames shot out simultaneously as they caused the surroundings space they passed through to melt and leave behind tears, the arrows finding their targets and exploding them into bits of meat as they carried an undeniable power!

BOOOM!

Ten Amalgamations of Greed at the Sixth Firmament were blown to smithereens as immense waves of heat followed, the eyes of Natalya shining with excitement as she moved towards the shimmering illusory crimson tree and all the Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures on it.

The burning star shaped High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure was the only thing her eyes were locked on, a vibrant smile being etched on her face as she turned towards Noah and asked lightly.

"How is it? Do you think you can work with this material to forge a Primordial Relic?"

She had to ask because even though she was close to this stage, she wasn't capable of seamlessly deconstructing and reconstructing materials into pure essence to forge Primordial Relics, and Noah should have a feel of a Peerless Forger on the feasibility of forging such a treasure with the material before him!

Noah's eyes glimmered as even though he didn't have profound knowledge as Natalya believed he had from forging, he saw the description of the Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure as he knew it could aid in forging a Primordial Relic.

"It should be possible!"

He gave his affirmation as the smile on Natalya became even more vibrant, her essence going towards the crimson tree and wrapping around the stems that held the High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure and all the other Naturally Formed materials- harvesting them in an instant as a shocking scene occurred before them!

BZZZT!

The illusory crimson tree trembled as if it had lost something precious, withering up in the next instant as golden light surged from the lake of golden lava beneath them to wrap around the withering tree and bring it close to its surface.

A golden light covered the tree as it withered and dwindled until finally, a crimson gold seed was the only thing left. Such a Seed went on to float calmly atop the bubbling golden lava lake as drops of essence floated towards it while it began to spin.

"Over the years, it will collect more and more Essence before it blooms to produce even more Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure materials...the Destiny Domain Spaces within this Forsaken Treasure Reality are truly something else!"

The Overseer spoke freely as all the stupendous material she had harvested didn't actually float towards her Voidforged Treasure Pouch, but they instead floated towards Noah as she turned to him with her usual nonchalant smile.

"Since I will need your aid to forge the Primordial Relic, its material can stay with you! All of the other Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures are yours to do how you see fit."

...!

All of the Middle and Low Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures fell into Noah's lap as the only High Tier one was the material set aside for Natalya's future Primordial Relic.

In but an instant, Noah gained over a dozen Materials to forge multiple Quasi-Primordial Relics, and he knew the Loot collection was not over as he could sense another location within this Treasure Island that released an even more profound calling to him!

Chapter 1490 Kill Without Mercy!!

"That single Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure might be enough to finish the forging of a Primordial Relic if one is proficient enough to use a Quasi-Primordial Relic as a base, but let's find another material of the same tier to be sure as producing a genuine Relic is too hard!"

Natalya's sonorous voice rang out as Noah nodded while the two of them continued flying forward, his Voidforged Treasure Pouch containing an overabundance of treasures at this moment as they still only filled an insignificant portion of its vast space.

Noah felt like he had to fill up this storage Pouch entirely as this Forsaken Treasure Reality was truly filled with too many things, having no doubt that after the materials to forge a Primordial Relic for Natalya were fully obtained- he would also be able to obtain the materials to elevate RUINATION to the next level within this same Treasure Island or more possibly the next one.

Even the single star shaped Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure that he could feel the heat of even though it was put away might be enough to act as an ingredient to elevate a Quasi-Primordial Relic, but to make sure no High Tier Materials were wasted to only produce a failure...obtaining another one was no issue!

And within this Forsaken Treasure Reality, the immense fortune of a Destiny Goblin King and an Emperor of Old truly seemed to be overflowing as their two figures delves deeper into the innermost portions of the Treasure Island, Noah already feeling the blooming light of loot before them they neared another vast cavernous space.

Unlike the first cavernous space that had the illusory crimson tree with immense waves of heat, Noah actually felt the surroundings to be getting colder and colder as the walls around them soon changed to white, shimmering blue Crystals beginning to appear around them as before Noah could even garner what they were, their figures arrived into an open space that fully glowed with a cerulean blue light!

It seemed like a frozen Treasure land as wisps of blue light glimmered all around, huge blue spiked Crystals shining out all over this cavern that was as vast as a Universe.

At the center of it all, Noah and Natalya gazed forward with excited expressions as the scene they saw was enough to cause any Existence below the stage of a Legend to smile!

Rivers of pristine blue essence floated throughout as it was a scene of utter beauty, this blue essence being so pure that just from the two of them nearing, they felt it flow passively into their bodies and Origins as their forging of Cosmos increased at a stellar rate.

Rivers of such pure essence swam amidst immense fortune and destiny, the brightest area that this essence surged around being the very center of this cavernous space.

At the center of this frozen cavernous space was a spinning bubble of cerulean light. No Amalgamations of Greed could be seen around as the bubble of blue light seemed to be enough of a protection- where inside of it...two bundles of Loot light shone the brightest as they were surrounded by over twenty other weaker bundles!

Two High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures and over Twenty Low and Middle Tier.

RUMBLE!

Noah's destiny surged madly as with such a development, Natalya had obtained the second High Tier Material that should be capable of forging a Primordial Relic without fail, meaning that Noah had not gotten his hands on his first High Tier Naturally Formed Primordial Treasure for his own purposes!

"Let's go!"

The Overseer seemed to be more impatient than him as their figures shot forward, the bow in her hands already drawn as she sought to break the mesmerizingly spinning cerulean bubble of light and obtain the materials hidden within it!

WAA!

11 figures arrived at an impasse that held 9 paths leading to different locations.

Elder Gazer's body shone with an intense light as he gazed towards a certain direction right away, his commands ringing out as he seemed to have discovered something on a few other paths as well!

"You, you...and you take that path. Haden and Princess Snow will follow me!"

The group of 8 Sixth Firmament Primordial Guards were divided in half and told to follow two paths, while Elder Gazer, Princess Snow, and the other Seventh Firmament Primordial Guard would all follow one path.

Terrifyingly enough, the paths Elder Gazer pointed out were exactly the ones Noah and the party of Golden Titans took, a horrific situation unfolding at this moment as an overabundance of experts was on the tail of much weaker ones.

The unfolding of destiny was always unknown as there was no such thing as good or evil. There was only power- and those who held the most power would always be the ones to come out on top as they were the deciders of their own designations of good and evil!

"Remember- interrogate...and then kill without mercy! There are no exceptions as this Forsaken Treasure Reality is truly too important!"

WAA!

The words of Elder Gazer were ruthless as they rang out, everyone nodding as their bodies let off brilliant rays of light while shooting forth to their respective paths.

The two groups of guards flew out first as Haden and Princes Snow went after, Elder Gazer following behind them as hiddenly, a clump of flesh protruded from his back and remained behind.

Haden and Snow didn't notice this as after everyone disappeared, this clump of flesh trembled as an obscenely powerful flame of an Edict erupted from it, dividing in two a second later as it gradually transformed into two figures that looked exactly the same as Elder Gazer!

Within exact same expressions of coldness and tyranny, the two Clones of Elder Gazer took the paths that he had sent the two groups of guards to as in his mind, there was a singular repeating set of words.

Kill all without mercy.

Kill all without distinction!

Such a large group of people...they couldn't all be allowed to get their hands or spread any information on such a fantastical Forsaken Treasure Reality, right?
