Chapter 1531 - Quasi-TABOO! II

Scaling the Firmaments truly was a hard task, truly!

Yet the specimen that was Noah was going against all of this as he would be at the Fourth Firmament in one hour, then in Fifth Firmament another hour of that same day...and he now stood at the Sixth Firmament as his rise in power was still not done!

There was still an overabundance of Quadruplicated Shards of a Seed of Reality, Existential Pearls, and Soul Crystals to devour as Noah's strength would continue to rise.

His current origin and mental waves were extremely clear as his soul felt like it was being bathed by rivers of powerful essence over and over again, the sensation of tightness he had from all the concepts he held fading away as it felt like a small container was gradually expanded!

His thought processing speed became even more ridiculous among the many things boosted by a stronger soul, with the way he could utilize his abilities far exceeding the former him as he would only find out where his limits lay when he tested himself out.

Even though he exceeded 1 Million in Ascendancy Value and stepped into the Sixth Firmament of Ascendancy, he didn't consider it a stupendous achievement as he simply continued- with the mindset that what others considered grand lifetime achievements...to him, they were merely minor achievements as he only continued.

The remaining Soul Crystals continued to spin and have their vibrant essence drawn into his body, while the Shards of a Seed of Reality continued to be devoured by him as his Cosmic Form gained more and more forged Cosmos- Noah running towards the 10 Billion Cosmos cap he had seen on so many beings!

As he did this, his True Sanguine Clone was looking at and planning for the uses of the Nomological Edict of the Gazer.

{Quasi-TABOO :: A Nomological Edict is a form of undeniable truth and authority that is birthed from the combination of laws and Daos, and it cannot be circumvented or stopped by anything, with the only possibility of deniability lying with another Edict. The Nomological Edict of the Gazer is in a tier of its own as it has surpassed undeniability to enter a stage capable of heavily altering the very fabric of reality. It has merely entered this stage as it earned the tier of Quasi-TABOO, with its capabilities being focused in a single specific direction. It draws from the concepts of the Ultra Rare Bloodlines of the Eye of the Ancient and the Asura Eye Bloodlines, along with the concepts of the Flames of the Ocular Emperor and Terror Eye. These concepts were then seamlessly combined with the Daos of Primordial, Ruination, Ocularis, Cosmic Eye, Searcher, Undeniability, Destiny, Exuberance, and Marker, along with laws of Karma, Fate, Life, and Chaos. With the inclusion of so many differing concepts of Edicts and Daos seamlessly, the Edict stands as an average Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict as its user is granted the title of Gazer, granting the Ultra Rare Bloodline of the Lunar Terrestrial Eye that grants ultimate visual acuity...}

{...At the level of Quasi-TABOO, the Nomological Edict of the Gazer grants its architect 1,000,000,000,000% to All Parameters, Nullification to All Laws and Daos, Nullification to the essence of all Minor, Greater, and Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edicts, a natural suppression of Insuperable Edicts as this tier of edicts is only 30% effective against it, and the granting of the abilities of , , , and . When one achieves completion of this Edict, they will be granted the Flames of the Gazer that among its many uses, it will allow one to be capable of utilizing the ultimate skill that finds anything known that their heart desires- no matter where it is at. Along with this, any Nomological Edict grants its user a smoother pathway towards Reality, with the Tier of Quasi-TABOO being even more exemplary and granting them an increase in the speed of their Realm Progression by +500,000,000%, an increase of +500,000,000,000% to All Parameters, and increases the chances of Fusions of other Laws and Daos by 10,000% for the production of other Nomological Edicts. Current fusion of the laws and Daos for the Nomological Edict of the Gazer: 100%}

Over a Trillion in terms of boosts!

A Trillion! This was part of the reason why Noah's Ascendancy Value was becoming overly inflated with every rise in his base stats- the boosts he held being simply ridiculous just from this single Edict alone, not to mention from the dozens of Insuperable Edicts put together.

But more than the boosts, the Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict of the Gazer came with stellar skills, and there were even more fantastical ones in the description of the Flames of this Edict- the Ultimate Skill that allowed one to find anything their heart desired!

Apart from the listed abilities of , , , and , there were the Ultimate Abilities listed in under the description of the Flames of this Edict termed , and .

The last two Ultimate Abilities were the true boon of this Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict even though the abilities preceding it were also terrific!

Reality Eye was a stupendous passive feature that allowed the holder of the Nomological Edict of the Gazer to be capable of seeing the true reality of existences before it, with this ability going hand in hand with and as with these three together, Noah would be able to see without any falsehood the identity of the existence he was looking at, their Ascendancy Value, and their highest ranked Edicts!

He could pervasively get all of this information as he saw why the Gazer was confident in taking on Natalya and him when he appeared in the Forsaken Treasure Reality- he saw that none of them had reached a certain standard that would cause him danger.

And yet...he still perished due to the unknown variable that was Noah himself, the downfall of the Gazer reminding Noah that even though this Edict allowed one to see much more than others...one still couldn't blindly trust even the reality they saw before them as anomalies like Noah existed who could overturn everything in the blink of an eye!

As he looked at the many features of this Edict, Noah's gaze was locked onto the ability that allowed one to find something they knew and desired.

Something like...the location of the hard to find materials required to forge more Olden Orbs of Transmogrification or unique Reality Jewels, whether they were located in Forsaken Treasure Realities or other unique locations Noah had never been to!

Chapter 1532 Profound Knowledge!

Noah's eyes shone luminously as they locked onto the descriptions of the Ultimate Skills from the Flames of the Gazer!

<Ultimate Appropriator>:: If it is known, it can be found. This singular undeniable truth is at the core of the Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict of the Gazer, with the holder of its Flames being capable of finding anything within the Infinite Realities so long as they know what they are searching for. Due to the tier of Edict, the utilization of the ultimate ability is extremely efficient as it only requires 500 Units of the Essence of Reality to activate...

<Bibliotheca>:: All items and existences searched for under the ability of the Ultimate Appropriator will be listed and recorded permanently in the Bibliotheca as current locations of these existences or any variation of the recorded items will constantly be displayed...

Unlike Noah's Edicts, the descriptions of the Ultimate Abilities of this Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict forged by Barbosa were fairly simplistic, but their usage could not be denied as they truly granted something that would even cause Eight and Ninth Firmament existence look at with envy!

Anything one knew and desired...they could find.

BZZZT!

Multicolored Essence of Reality was activated as in the past hours, Noah had recuperated to his maximum Reserves as he had approximately over 2,500 Units ready to be deployed- his refinement of the Soul naturally increasing the cap of his Units!

He generated a vast majority of the 2,000+ units through absorbing 2 of the 100 Medium Tier Reality Crystals that were Quadruplicated from the original 20, each of them granting 1,000 Units of the Essence of Reality as at this moment....1,500 Units surged within Noah's body and coiled around the Flames of the Gazer, the ability of <Ultimate Appropriator> being utilized to simultaneously search for three things!

These were, of course, the Breath of Reality, Soul Crystals, and Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures.

The three ingredients apart from the True Blood of Eighth Firmament existences and above that were required to forge the Olden Orb of Transmogrification that could birth Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts!

WAA!

Splendrous essence erupted out as Noah's head rose, his eyes releasing gorgeous rays of light as boundless information entered his mind.

His mind buzzed as it was shown an endless expanse of blackness, and then countless shining dots bloomed all over this empty blackness as if a painting was being laid out.

Amidst the blooming stellar lights that pulsed with three colors to represent the three things Noah searched for, he could also see a truly insignificant golden dot that represented him and his current location!? ???a ??????

In the vast expanse of blackness that now held three pulsing lights, his small flickering light was in a small corner that he had to zoom in multiple times onto himself, watching countless clusters of light that represented the things he was searching for fading until he could look at an infinitesimally small section of this space that showed him...and the nearby blinking lights that represented Breaths of Reality, Soul Crystals, and Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures near him.

"This...." His eyes sparkled as he marveled at what he saw, his act of zooming in allowing him to see a faint golden color that represented his True Sanguine Clone surrounded by two colors that represented Soul Crystals and Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures!

This...was the location of his Clone within the Forsaken Treasure Reality!

It was a shocking finding as it affirmed the unique Loot of Breaths of Reality that Noah obtained from his Resplendent Treasure Cache weren't even within the Forsaken Treasure Reality Natalya had found, but there were more Soul Crystals and Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures within this wondrous Reality as at this moment, Noah could pinpoint where within the few floating Treasure Islands they were located.

If he gazed away from the position of the Forsaken Treasure Reality, he also saw wondrous clusters of Soul Crystals spread out over multiple locations- these places being capable of representing many things from Prime Realities under the banner of the Cardinal Royal Bloodlines of the Primordials or even dangerous unknown Realities Noah had no idea about!

It was similar to how when the late Gazer utilized Ultimate Appropriator to find Noah Osmont the Golden Titan, he was led to a position that led him to find a Forsaken Treasure Reality, but he didn't know that he would find such a thing at that location.

All of the clusters of light that Noah was looking at showed him many things, the first one reminding him how Infinitesimally small he was as his position could barely even enter the expanse of space that the Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict of the Gazer could cover. And this was an important point...that the space Noah was currently capable of seeing was only what the limit of the tier of a Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict could observe.

Moreover, within this space that this Edict could cover, he saw countless lights representing the three different Loots he searched for...all of them making his blood boil as they seemed to be calling out for him!

Most of all, in the expanse of black space shining with glimmering lights...there was a particular cluster of light that represented Soul Crystals that outshine everything else across the entire covered area. A cluster of light representing droves of Soul Crystals that would make even Legends maddened!

"Are you a domain of Primordials, an Unexplored Forsaken Treasure Reality, a Forgotten Reality...or something else entirely..."

Noah wondered what this location held at its core as he made a side note to send a Clone to take a peek in the future, his attention coming back to the areas near him as he noted one that was within the same distance as the Forsaken Treasure Reality that actually had flickering lights of Breaths of Reality. This was a location Noah had to go to and explore as this material was truly too unique and fewer in number.

? ?? ??-?? ??? . ??? As for the Soul Crystals and Naturally Formed Primordial Treasures, he noted down other nearby locations as he planned to see whether they were within Prime Realities that were domains of powerful Bloodlines, or if they were Unexplored Realities he could enjoy for himself!

This...was the versatility that the Nomological Edict of the Gazer was providing as Noah now knew countless locations he could go to obtain Loot, his future progression continuing to guarantee its ridiculous pace if things continued like this!

Chapter 1533 Like Moths Rushing To A Flame!

BZZZT!

Time passed in the Cosmic Holy Land as Noah experimented with the newly gained Nomological Edict of the Gazer, his body now having finished absorbing Soul Crystals as he simply devoured the Shards of a Seed of Reality and Existential Pearls.

His number of Royal Cosmos approached 10 Billion as his Ascendancy Value...it was surging within the bounds of a single million and heading upwards as Noah went to clinch the stage of Seventh Firmament in the next few hours no matter what!

And as he continued to strengthen every part of himself thoroughly, the effects of his strength were spreading out across Realities as he was connected to truly too many beings!

Within an Emerging Reality that Cecilia used to oversee.

RAA!

The cry of a glorious penguin echoed out as the Emperor Penguin was in the midst of a thrilling battle against a Champion of Reality!

Its body was enthroned in a golden glow of grandeur due to the Archetype granted upon it, moving across the starry sky like a golden armored Primal creature as its golden flipper thundered down towards a Cyclops that shone with the glow of the Invincible System.

"Come on!"

The True Blood within the Emperor Penguin churned in excitement as the singular eye of the Cyclops Champion of Reality pulsed and released a shocking ray of light, the impact bound to be glorious but...

BZZZT!

The flipper that the Emperor Penguin was throwing down instantly accelerated and bore down with an even more terrifying force that even caused the stellar space to crackle and shatter, the golden figure of the Champion of Reality that was retaliating valiantly feeling a suffocating feeling of power as in the next instant...he was pulverized into nothingness!

"Ah...." The Emperor Penguin came to a stop as he was dazed.

"I...I was already holding myself back to 1% of my power...Master's strength is still rising?!"

WAA!

This bird was shocked to feel an uncontrollable surge of strength that instantly vaporized a champion course through his body, and this was still when he was limiting himself to 1% of his total power!

These were just some of the effects Noah's rise in power was having as those who had pledged Fealty to him...well, their Ascendancy Value could actually be counted in a simple manner.

Under the Nomological Edict of the Tyrannical Emperor, there was the <Tyranny of the Soul> ability that accounted for Noah's ridiculously large capacity of concepts as his soul was reinforced based on the number of existence pledging their Fealty to him. In turn, there was also the ability of <Oath to the Emperor> that allowed his Vassals to take from a portion of his strength!

It was described that those below the Cosmic Realm could access 1/50th of Noah's power, where it was easy to calculate this as if Noah had surpassed 1 Million in Ascendancy Value, Vassals at that stage could actually display power at the Fourth Firmament of Ascendancy!

That was a mere portion of a 50th of Noah's strength.

Of course, this was only in pure power alone as if they didn't have the proper Ascendancy Halos or Primordial Relics, they might not be able to withstand genius existences of this same level. But apart from those below the Cosmic Realm, there was a distinction with the Vassals who had stepped into this stage like the Emperor Penguin as they were granted 1/10th of Noah's power. At this current moment in time...that was enough to make one a Fifth Firmament powerhouse!

And all that power...came just from merely pledging fealty.

How glorious the Tyrannical Emperor was!

His Legend...was only beginning. ? ????a ???????

In the region that held the clusters of Realities under the influence of the Cardinal Royal Wolf Bloodline, there was also a prominent neighboring Cardinal Bloodline that shared the borders.

A Cardinal Royal Bloodline with a unique disposition and lineage that rivaled the Royal Wolf Bloodline if not exceeding it due to their unique means- the Cardinal Royal Spirit Bloodline!

Across the Infinite Realities, within a Primordial Temple at the very depths of a unique Prime Reality under the banner of the Cardinal Royal Spirit Bloodline.

The core domain of this Prime Reality was extremely unique as it pulsed with enormous technologically advanced structures that shone with a glint of purple blue light, the entire domain looked at from above taking away the breath from others as it seemed like an intricately designed system of runic lines with constantly moving pieces and structures!

It was one of the Domains of Prime Realities under the banner of the Cardinal Royal Spirit Bloodline that was known for their ingenuity, their forms that were formed purely of their souls always being covered by terrific metallic technological armaments that granted them great power.

It was one of the lands of the Cardinal Royal Spirit Race that was known for their cutting edge technology and strength of understanding of the natural laws of Reality through their bloodline as they combined these two to achieve a unique power very few could wield- Technomancy.

BZZZT!

Within the depths of this domain.

"Professor Anity, this new Blacklister that has caught the ire of the Royal Wolf Emperor is interesting, is it not?"

A sonorous voice tinged without an ounce of emotion rang out from a glorious looking robotic structure that shimmered with purple and blue light, this magnificent robotic structure being a suit that housed a Royal Spirit of the Seventh Firmament!

"Hmph, are you so bored, Professor Craven? It is merely a Peerless Forger. If you had been focusing on elevating the stage of your Technomancy, you would have long since been able to create Techno Relics that can rival Primordial Relics. Our time is better spent on researching the truths of these Realities and not chasing down some fool that you can kill with proper planning..."

Another emotionless voice echoed out as it came from another heavily armored and fortified mechanical form that shone with countless Runic Lines, this one also releasing out a profound aura of the Seventh Firmament as both of these beings were looking at holographic projections around them, and the Primordial Blacklist was also among these projections as a certain name of Noah Osmont was especially prominent amongst the Seventh Firmament Blacklisters!

The one known as Professor Anity went quiet briefly after his companion's reply, a flash of light coursing through the Techno Relic he was adorned in as he spoke decisively.

"Research has to be backed with experiences. I haven't stretched my soul for a long while as this existence who managed to take down that hotshot Gazer...I want to see what makes him tick!"

WAA!

? ?? ??-?? ??? . ??? Silent waves of destiny spread out as his companion only harrumphed, continuing with his work as his voice replied back.

"You have fun and watch your back then. Statistically speaking, there lies a small chance your fate could be the same as that Gazer...that will be something fun to see if it actually does happen."

"Haha, my chances of staying alive even against those at the Eighth Firmament is more than 70%. Who can match our Cardinal Royal Spirit Bloodline in Soul Power and manage to kill us, especially if you have attained a Techno Relic? But yes, I will be careful...we all have to heed the words of the Technomancy Legends and not be among those perishing in this chaos."

The emotionless voice was tinged with a hint of intellect and pride as it left, the mechanical set of armor flashing away from this Prime Reality and shooting off towards the vast Boundary Between Realities as on the Primordial Blacklist...another hunter's name was added to those seeking Noah Osmont!

If one looked closer, they would even be able to notice that multiple names were written down as those who had taken up this task...all of these names representing Seventh Firmament Primordials as each one wondered of the Existence that had caused the death of a rising Primordial who was once known as the Gazer!

Even existences from other Bloodlines in this region began to join in as at this moment, it was mainly a few powerhouses within two Cardinal Royal Bloodlines that had caught onto the name of Noah Osmont...

Chapter 1534: The Seventh Firmament!

Within another Prime Reality housing a Primordial Temple.

Two figures were arriving at the top of the golden stairway and entering the Primordial Temple, the countless figures of Primordials moving around this vast temple looking respectfully and making way when they saw the two beings- their eyes being truly respectful towards the small devilishly blessed woman walking up front while quizzically observing the young man who followed behind her.

It was a man they had never seen before, his blue eyes being the distinguishing feature as he released an air of calmness and wildness!

The two entered the Primordial Temple with ease as a few Primordials discussed among themselves silently.

"Who could that be? To walk behind Princess Europa like it's nothing?"

"Hmph, if you are so curious...just go and ask the Princess herself, why don't you?"

The voices went back and forth as they droned on endlessly, their targets delving further into the Primordial Temple and entering a radiant golden hall that had a pulsating white obelisk as the dark haired woman raised her brows and spoke out in a mischievous tone.

"So? See how others treat this Princess? Maybe you should take on the same disposition..."

Her dark eyes glimmered as the blue eyes of the young man she talked to barely blinked, only gazing around him and taking everything in as such a reaction caused the curvaceous Primordial to pout while her hand rose up to release bright essence that flooded into the white obelisk in the center of the hall.

"Is your ego still bruised after the last spar? You defied my expectations again and broke into the Cosmic Filament Realm these past few days, only to be reminded how gulf the gap between us is...haha!"

The blue eyed existence listened to the sonorous voice while only gazing at his surroundings, ruining the fun of the mischievous existence as she instead shook her head while focusing on the white obelisk at the center of the glimmering hall they were in, her voice coming out silently.

"Let's see what I've missed..."

BZZZT!

A luster of white essence bloomed out as it surged into the body of this Princess Europa, her eyes brightening up as she uttered a string of words that seemed to be of many different things!

"The Cardinal Royal Human Bloodline will begin their Firmament Trials for the next set of candidate rulers...More Primordials deployed to seek the coming source of chaos...Increased activity from Primordial Beasts..."

Her eyes didn't change their luster as she seemed to be receiving an overabundance of news that she went through quickly, most of them being about noteworthy things occurring nearby and some across the larger network of Primordials!

"Oh? Little Snow was killed as the Cardinal Royal Wolf Bloodline made a move to subjugate the Primal Titan Bloodline? Hmph, the cause is...oh?"

Her eyes rose in surprise as she saw the name, turning towards the blue eyed being behind her as she gained a smile while her voice addressed him.

"A guy with the same first name as you seems to be stirring some waves...a Seventh Firmament Primal Titan by the name of Noah Osmont is actually assumed to have killed that creepy Gazer along with Little Snow, and he's even a Peerless Forger too..."

WAA!

Arcs of wondrous blue light finally released from the eyes of the nonchalant existence as he focused on the figure of Europa with an unreadable expression.

? ?? ??-?? ??? . ??? "What did you say?"

His voice seemed nonchalant, but it carried a trace of curiosity that Europa picked up on as she turned around with her exquisitely designed face brightening up!

"Oh, this interests you? The Seer that I didn't bring myself to see was killed by this Noah Osmont as his name is now on the Primordial Blacklist, funny enough...they seemed to have even made an error and had his power at the Third Firmament of Ascendancy just days ago before they now adjusted it to Seventh. Haha, can you imagine if that was actually not a mistake?"

...!

"Maybe there exists another guy out there who can rise through the Firmaments similar to you...well, he would be even faster though with you still being a weak little thing! Mmm, why did you show interest though? You wouldn't happen to coincidentally have this name mean something to you right, Noah Eckert?"

Her sharp eyes flashed with power as she asked, the arcs of blue light releasing from Eckert's eyes retreating as he retained his calmness while walking towards the white obelisk Europa stood in front of.

"Just interesting to hear of a similar name. What is this obelisk telling you all these things anyway...?"

He kept the conversation flowing as he asked nonchalantly while trying to appear as normal as possible, but his mind and soul were buzzing at this moment as he felt an inexplicable feeling of shock!

'It can't be that guy, can it?!

WAA!

His mind trembled at the mere possibility that the name he heard mentioned from the terrifying Primordial before him was actually of the same person that he knew. If it was true, it would be an utterly terrifying concept even to someone like him.

'This...he should've been in the First Firmament a few days ago when I left him right?!'

The blue eyes of Eckert shook as he felt like he had received a great blow as he thought about this.

"Hmph, no more questions. We have to finish up here soon and get you to the next Continuum Apocalypse Reality. Who knows, you might even draw the attention of the Telos Legend if you have another stellar victory like the last one."

The voice of Europa rang in his ears as he only nodded and followed the motions, but his buzzing soul couldn't sit still as he had to confirm!

His anomalously strong soul buzzed as he tugged on the strings of destiny connecting him and a certain being as he spent a significant amount of his soul strength to send a certain message.

<You wouldn't happen to be the same Primal Titan Noah Osmont who is supposedly at the Seventh Firmament and already a Blacklister with Primordials hunting you...right?>

Little by little, knowledge of a certain Blacklister spread as he was silently rising his power in a unique Domain of Time!

At this moment in time, many hours had passed within as after Noah finished consuming Soul Crystals and elevated his soul to another level, Noah had put more of his focus on the forging of Royal Cosmos and another area that granted him a boost in his Ascendancy Value...his Ascendancy Halos!

From his Original Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe, three more crimson Halos lined up by exquisite golden runic bands could be seen shining gloriously as on top of this...his Origin was rumbling and quaking as it neared the 10 Billion benchmark that stopped all the beings Noah had come across so far!

Chapter 1535: Radiant New Halos! L

A 10 Billion benchmark!

A Profound benchmark that didn't matter too much for Noah as even before he reached it...his Ascendancy Value had already exceeded what most could achieve in their lifetime.

From the 1 Million Value he had with a few billion Cosmos, the journey towards 10 Billion had continued to raise him ever higher as when adding the fact that he utilized the capabilities of the Sanguine Emperor to complete fuse three additional Ascendancy Halos filled with Insuperable Nomological Edicts, his Value had long since exceeded 10 Million as he didn't just break the shackles of the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy, he obliterated them entirely as he was currently at 20 Million in terms of his Ascendancy Value!

A pause had to be taken here.

It truly could not be stressed enough how arduous the task was of rising through the Firmaments, and yet here Noah was doing the impossible as with a few hours in the Cosmic Holy Land, he had truly stepped into the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy!

A glorious stage that Overseers of Prime Realities were required to have as a prerequisite, and Noah achieved it just days after he became the Overseer of his first Emerging Reality.

And at this time....

BZZZT!

The last Royal Cosmos that granted Noah exactly 10 Billion Cosmos was forged as thereafter...his Origin only buzzed with a radiance of light.

No more Cosmos could be forged!

An unshakable wall had been reached as nothing past 10 Billion could be forged- a wall that plagued many geniuses who forever remained in the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy!

Noah knew of this wall from the memories of the Seventh Firmament existences he had Looted, and scaling it was arduous for others...but it was bound to be even more arduous for him- if he didn't have the cards he had on hand anyways.

But he wasn't worried too much about this currently as he knew it to be a temporary blockage right now, and he already had the plans to break through it and continue higher in the future. His focus now after the side of forging Cosmos was also done...was the glorious Ascendancy Halos that he currently had four of shining in a magisterial fashion.

This was the explanation behind his continued ridiculous rise of Ascendancy Value.

On top of the forged Royal Cosmos, the number of Halos he now held and their authorities granted a great array of boosts that got him where he was currently!

Each of his current Halos represented 30 Nomological Edicts as currently, the Flames fused within accounted for 120 Insuperable Nomological Edicts!

The Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict of the Gazer...was still not included in any of the Halos as Noah planned to forge a fifth Halo full of Insuperable Nomological Edicts, and he would include the highest Tier of Edict he held into this one as it would be the last he could forge that had a full inclusion of only Insuperable Nomological Edicts apart from the Gazer.

This was all merely by choice as Halos could still be forged with Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edicts and lower-tiered concepts, but their boosts would be much lower as their addition towards Noah's progression would be little- and Noah still had a source of concepts to obtain as there were 8 Sixth Firmament Primordial Guards for him to clear out in the Mirror Reality within the Forsaken Treasure Reality!

? ?? ??-?? ??? . ??? So at this moment, he proceeded carefully while knowing full well just how rapidly his strength had risen, beginning a fifth Halo as this time, the burning flames of the Gazer that shone with a mixture of white and gold were the first to be utilized...other flames added to it as Noah fused their Bloodlines to achieve a seamless fusion of these Flames!

BZZZT!

An eruption of glorious majesty bloomed out as the forging of this fifth Halo was different from the prior four, Noah's figure rising up from his golden throne as the rings of light spun around him with regal fervor.

The outline of a fifth ring was forming gradually as its color...was not the usual red as it was painted gold!

<Due to the formation of a Halo that matches the wavelength of previously forged Ascendancy Halos, the equivalent Tier of the past Ascendancy Halos is now confirmed.>

WAA!

The prompt appeared with a glorious splendor of gold as details that had appeared in the Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe were finally put in place.

Noah's Ascendancy Halo which shone with a crimson color and was inscribed with bands of gold was unranked this whole time, Noah having seen in its details that when he came across a Halo of a similar tier- it would stop being unranked!

At this moment in time, his inclusion of a Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict to form his fifth Ascendancy Halo that shone with a golden hue was him accurately coming across a different tier of a Halo as it matched the equivalent wavelengths of power being given off by all the previous Halos.

A state of power that was only brought forth by the capabilities of the Sanguine Emperor that allowed Noah to fuse the Bloodlines of the Edicts. This singular difference had actually caused Noah's first Halos to be equivalent in power to Gold Tier Ascendancy Halos that only came about due to the inclusion of a Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict!

White, Blue, Purple, and Gold.

These were the Tiers of Ascendancy Halos as Noah would never in his lifetime even be tinged by the Tiers of White, Blue. Purple!

BZZZT!

The 4 crimson Halos with gold bands spun around him crazily as his flaming hair danced above his head madly, the gold bands around the Halos unfurling with speed and haste as they went to paint these initial Halos fully gold.

<All Ascendancy Halos formed through Sanguinity will be at the minimum Tier of Gold.>

<Due to the unique nature and formation of your Halos, you can designate the color they display to other Existences.>

...!

Changes and power coursed through him as he saw his crimson Halos painted gold, his fifth Halo finishing to be fully forged at this moment as a wave of golden light shot out from him to surge over the entire Cosmic Holy Land!

A surge of pristine power and wonder that even Noah had to close his eyes to, and when he finally opened them...he only saw the five spinning Halos of light before his eyes.

HUM...HUM....HUM!

They released humming sounds that caused friction with the surrounding space as they undulated around him with utter glory.

"Ah..."

His eyes flashed as he sent a thought forward to test out what the prompts had affirmed as in the next second, the color of the 5 Halos instantly became purple.

SHAA!

Another flash of light and after Noah's command, the color that the 5 Halos displayed became blue! Then white...and then back to gold!

Whatever he wanted to display, he could do so with ease due to the unique way these Halos were formed!

Chapter 1536: Radiant New Halos! LI

Noah's body was constantly flashing with incandescent light as five brilliant Halos of Ascendancy spun around him, his thoughts flowing into them as they constantly changed color.

From bright white to fully Gold, and he even missed the crimson color he had initially as when his thoughts came to this point, the Halos undulating around him were dyed a bloody color that caused the very surroundings to be painted red!

OOOM!

The austere aura of power he released calmed down a little as the essence around him settled his body floating down gently as he ascertained all the gains so far.

After the formation of the Fifth Ascendancy Halo, his Ascendancy Value continued to rise up unnaturally as it had reached 23 Million and was climbing up slowly still as he acclimated to his power.

"The Seventh Firmament..." His vibrant voice echoed out as he couldn't help but look at himself when he realized just what stage of power he had arrived at in a short period of time, unable to imagine the pace of millions of years that others took!

But here he was! He thoroughly grasped everything he attained as on the newly undulating Ascendancy Halos...each one had its own uniqueness of the level of Boosts they were providing to Noah. This was because similar to his Ascendancy Halo of Catastrophe that had its own unique authority, the following Halos he forged had their own identity and authority.

The second Ascendancy Halo was termed the Ascendancy Halo of Perseverance as from it, Noah had obtained the Authority of Perseverance!

? ?? ??-?? ??? . ??? Opposite to the Authority of Catastrophe that allowed Noah to release highly offensive capabilities that only those who held Halos containing a large number of Insuperable Nomological Edicts could counter, the Authority of Perseverance was a defensive version of this as it nullified any damage unless others held a significant number of Insuperable Nomological Edicts within their Halos- and even that damage was heavily reduced as Noah had his defenses heavily elevated.

The reason for the Authorities of these Halos to lean towards a certain direction was influenced by the Flames of Edicts fused within them to some extent, with the Third Ascendancy Halo being known as the Ascendancy Halo of Haste as it granted the Authority of Haste that stupendously elevated Noah's Movement, Attack, and Cast Speed. Then there was the Authority of Vicissitude, and for the Ascendancy Halo that contained the Nomological Edict of the Gazer...

It was termed the Ascendancy Halo of Ocularis!

Each one further intensified Noah's prowess in a certain direction as among those with a similar Firmament of Ascendancy...he would excel in shocking ways that they wouldn't even be able to stand against him!

"Catastrophe, Perseverance, Haste, Vicissitude, and Ocularis..." Noah called out the names of these Edicts as they hummed and released waves of power over him, his mind feeling content at the shocking rate he was elevating himself as right about when he was going to move on to the next task, he felt a string of destiny from a certain existence be pulled as they spent a significant amount of essence of soul power to send a message towards him.

<You...wouldn't happen to be the same Primal Titan Noah Osmont who is supposedly at the Seventh Firmament and already a Blacklister with Primordials hunting you...right?>

WAA!

Such information flowed into his mind from none other than Eckert as his brows raised, the memories of the Gazer and Snow flashing through his mind as when he thought of the figures within their memories, a situation was gradually built in his mind based on all this knowledge and Eckert's words that just came through!

It might have been a terrifying truth for others to realize, but for Noah...he actually smiled devilishly as his voice echoed out silently before replying to Eckert.

"Can they not give me a little break?"

Yes! Even before he could absorb and eat up what the Primordials had inadvertently sent his way now too long ago, they seemed to have redoubled their efforts as his danger level was elevated to the Seventh Firmament with existences of this level now genuinely out to hunt him!

It of course came with opportunity, but also immense danger as with this increased scrutiny...Noah knew from his memories of the Royal Wolf Emperor that the Gazer and his own Daughter knew very well...he knew that this being might have already set the hounds that were Seers on him.

Existences who could pierce through the veils of mystery and find out things others couldn't even imagine! The Gazer was respected in his position and even had many friends due to him being a type of a Seer. He wasn't one that could traverse the endless seas of destiny and find out things others could not, but he could see in other aspects as his Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict showed as he was elevated to the stage he was at.

Now, such existences would be sought for to set their sights on none other than him.

Noah had expected this future as it was one of the few things that had already steeled his heart towards which Nomological Edict he would be raising to Quasi-TABOO- not because it was necessarily the best option for him to choose currently, but because it was the one that guaranteed his life!

And if keeping his life was the ideal scenario, then the selection of this Edict would undoubtedly also be the best at this time.

The knowledge that his name had already spread as existences at the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy were already mobilized only solidified his choice as he waved his hands towards the Loot mountain before him that still held hundreds of Shards of a Seed of Reality, many glittering Treasures being pushed aside as a luminous Olden Orb of Transmogrification floated towards Noah.

His hand called out for this Orb as he looked at it with bright eyes, his essence and soul power moving as he tugged back on the string of destiny he had forged with Eckert and sent back a reply to this being!

"Yeah, I reached the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy not too long ago. It took a few days but it wasn't too much work...how far behind are you?"

Chapter 1537: An Olden Orb Burns!

The method of communication through strings of destiny was extremely unique as it took time for the message to traverse across the boundaries of Reality and be carried by Destiny, with many beings not being able to do it unless they had overly strong souls and Essence to spare- along with being proficient in utilizing destiny to their own wills.

Noah didn't have to be near Eckert to know that his words would cause this being to go speechless the moment they reached him, and he wasn't too far off as he played with the Olden Orb of Transmogrification within his hands while the glow of fortune and destiny surrounded him!

? ?? ??-?? ????. ??? He didn't have to wait too long before another message returned.

<...I won't even ask how you did such a thing. I'm a few Firmaments behind you, but I should catch up after delving into a few more Continuum Apocalypse Realities. For you to talk the way that you are, it seems I have no need to warn you to be careful...!ll just thank you for reminding me that anything is possible in these vast Realities!>

The message was filled with conviction as Noah smiled when reading it.

His actions were a reminder to Eckert that anything was possible within these endless Realities! An existence like him could go from the First Firmament to the Seventh in a few days, were there others who could do the same?

With the number of possibilities being infinite, would all things not be possible?!

It was a question that could cause discussions and arguments to bloom, but Noah cared not for its answer as after he felt the string of destiny between him and Eckert rest as per normal, his eyes went back to the Olden Orb of Transmogrification. If either of them needed to aid each other, they could reach out easily as for now, each of them had their own destinies.

Eckert mentioned something as wondrous as Continuum Apocalypse Realities, Noah digging into the memories of the Gazer to recall information about these unique domains that were actually out in place by an existence from the Bloodline of Telos who had reached the Realm of Reality Eons ago! This Legend who should have been an enemy of Primordials had constructed Realities of constant slaughter and apocalypses to feed his very nature as a Telos, and due to his unique power and connections with even Primordial Legends...he had remained unhindered over the last eons as even Primordials went to play in the Continuum Apocalypse Realities he designed the unique domains of!

This was the location that Eckert was playing around in as Noah was playing around in a Forsaken Treasure Reality with powerful existences trying to get on his tail...these were each of their own destinies as who knew where they would all lead!

But Noah was certain of his own set of actions and what results they would bring forth as at this moment, his thoughts and Essence flowed into the Olden Orb of Transmogrification within his hands.

BZZZT!

Arcs of Resplendent light erupted out as the decision for the usage of this Orb was already made.

There were many possibilities, and each of the Edicts that were chosen didn't mean they weren't overly important...it just meant they would be getting elevated in the coming future after Noah forged more Orbs of Transmogrification!

The first choice at this moment was best suited for Noah's prowess and survival, with the others coming later as he was looking forward to the times when the Nomological Edicts of Apocalypse, Resplendent Treasure Emperor, Commandment, and most of all...Sanguine Emperor to be raised to the tier of Quasi-TABOO.

He couldn't wait for all of these Edicts to be elevated to this level, but even more so for the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor purely because of all the possibilities of upgrades he could receive on Sanguinity and his Ascendancy Halos!

This Edict would be among the next generation to be elevated as soon as Noah forged Olden Orbs of Transmogrification, but the current Edict to have the honor of elevation was none other than the Nomological Edict of the Dictum Emperor!

The Edict that common Seers would envy would be getting an elevation to Quasi-TABOO as it would allow Noah to reach such a stupendous level that very few Seers could reach! Very few Seers in the ranks of Seventh or Eighth Firmament, and to an extent the Ninth Firmament anyways.

This was the Edict Noah had to elevate at this moment in time as he had to protect himself from being observed and found out by others!

He was lucky with the Gazer as he had locked onto the body of his True Sanguine Clone, but what if someone with a more specific Edict appeared? What if they had found information about who he was, his capabilities, and exactly where his home Reality was similar to how he could utilize the features of the Dictum Emperor on beings to pull up their status sheets and learn all about them?

Before any disastrous possibilities could unfold as powerful Primordials focused on his name, Noah watched as the Olden Orb of Transmogrification within his hands burned with magisterial flames- a profound authority leaking from it and hungrily jumping onto Noah's soul as the Flames danced with a glorious color of gold.

They jumped onto his soul and wrapped around a specific concept, ignoring any rankings of this concept as at this moment, it was being elevated to another level entirely.

BZZZT!

Crackles of light bloomed as the process intensified and became even wilder, Noah's seas of destiny and fortune that had already been expanding to crazy degrees crying out at this moment as they unbelievably screamed out that they could expand even further!

Incandescent waves of destiny bloomed and spread out from the Cosmic Holy Land, Noah not knowing just how close he had come to a shocking pathway of destiny at this moment in time.

If he had been just another twenty or thirty seconds before he undertook the action of elevating the Dictum Emperor.

If he had not been in the Cosmic Holy Land and conducting all of these actions under different rules of time that expanded seconds into hours!

Many things might have played out differently as while Noah made moves, the Ninth Firmament Royal Wolf Emperor had long since sent out his orders to have Seers turn towards his direction and report as within the seconds that followed...a Seer was actually about to act to aid this current figurehead of a Cardinal Royal Bloodline!

Chapter 1538: Truly A Seer!

The connections that a figurehead of a Cardinal Royal Bloodline had were robust and unfathomable.

As an existence below the Realm of Reality tasked with representing a Cardinal Royal Bloodline and overseeing the small tasks of their race, they were busier than most beings as they had to collate information on the workings of an uncountable number of Realities- only being able to manage such a thing by designating Generals under them to manage all the Prime and Emerging Realities while reporting to them!

Their identity was special as they has access to many resources, with it being a common knowledge that the Emperors of Cardinal Royal Bloodlines would be the ones that were guaranteed to reach the stage of a Legend once their tenure was over.

Such a being...had countless connections as many already considered them halfway towards the authority of a Legend!

This was the reason why a single word from the Royal Wolf Emperor could cause grand waves as he didn't have to do a single thing.

He didn't make a move during the siege on the Isles of the Gilded Forge, and neither did he do anything for any of the Prime Realities they subjugated thereafter! He simply oversaw everything and received the reports of the other Armadas he had sent out as those mobilized for this incursion against the Primal Titan Bloodline were only a fraction of the power and force that the Cardinal Royal Wolf Bloodline could deploy.

When the commands of the Royal Wolf Emperor spread to the special existences that were Seers, they didn't even have to be among the Bloodline of Primordials to want to help as lending aid to such a being was something they would even rush to do!

There were a few prominent Seers who held unique Quasi-Insuperable or Insuperable Nomological Edicts that were geared towards gazing through mysteries, but these beings didn't find anything substantial as they were nothing to worry about.

But there were always exceptions.

BZZZT!

In an unknown location, arcs of Pandemonium formed into destructive lightning as buzzed across a region as vast as a cluster of Cosmos.

Towards the very center of this destructive region that would pulverize Seventh Firmament existences in a few microseconds, an aura of abundant life force could be felt as there was an existence shrouded in darkness.

Shockingly, one could see his bronze skin shining with a metallic luster as the arcs of Pandemonium seemed to swirl around him, the most surprising thing being that on the exceedingly handsome face of this existence, one could actually see that their eyes...were mere sockets!

There were no actual eyes within them as it seemed like an endless abyss was swirling at the center of his face.

"Mmm...a favor for the Wolf Emperor would open up a few pathways of destiny."

His voice was scratchy as he spoke, giving off a feeling of age and mystery as his abysmal empty eyes released swirls of darkness that caused an abnormal number of eaves of golden destiny to erupt from him!

"Noah Osmont...let us see everything there is to know about you...<The Eyeless Seer>."

WAAA!

Essence moved chaotically and with utter abandon as the Pandemonium is the surrounding churned, seas of golden destiny erupting out as fortune washed over it in waves.

The eyes of this ancient existence within an unknown Reality released beams of dark light as gradually, these beams began to show shocking images of none other than...Noah!

"Let's see...huh, actually having an ounce of difficulty?"

The calm and laid back expression on this being changed as this was unusual for him to come across.

Anybody he wanted to find out about, he could do so with ease as the only beings who gave him trouble were those in the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy, or those who were close to reaching the same stage of concepts as him!

This was because he was an ancient existence who had lived for eons and was among those who could move with impunity into the Firmaments of Ascendancy.

A Ninth Firmament existence...that was known as the Eyeless Hermit!

BZZZT!

The waves of destiny erupted with even more fervor as a serious expression appeared on The Eyeless Hermit.

The black light he released caused the images of Noah to solidify as the voice of this ancient creature rang out in a mesmerizing fashion.

"Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy...what? An age of Soul lower than a hundred? This...where are you-"

BOOM!

The Essence of this being was about to move towards solving a mystery focused on the direction of a location when instantly, the black beams of light his empty eye sockets released were retracted and shattered!

An instant later, the body of the Eyeless Hermit trembled as he spat out golden blood, his expression not calm anymore as it carried a trace of shock and surprise!

"Cut off? Me?"

His own words seemed to speak of the disbelief and shock as he wasn't just cut off, but he was rebounded completely as such a thing wasn't possible unless there was...

"A Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict geared towards Destiny?"

The empty sockets of this being shone with boundless abyssal light as he calmed down instantly.

? ?? ??-??? ??, ??? His eyes flashed three times as in the next moment, Obsidian illusory screens showing the devilishly handsome figure of Noah situated on a faint golden throne could be seen. These were the images captured before the shocking rebound occurred, with the other illusory black screens pulled up showing a blooming Seed of Reality, a faint bloody figure, and a faint golden book!

Glimpses of knowledge.

This was all that the existence who had been closest to finding out and possibly helping in clipping the wings of a Tyrant who was flying much too fast had gotten!

"Who are you, really?"

And at this moment...a fixation also bloomed as the abyssal eyes of a unique Ninth Firmament existence stared at the image of Noah situated on the throne, this figure seemingly staring back at him as a knowing smile could be seen on its lips...his eyes bathed in gold as he seemed to be looking right back!

At this same moment in time.

Within the Cosmic Holy Land.

Noah was taking on a similar posture exactly to what a certain existence had captured, even having the same expression as it only deepened with its devilishness, resonant words ringing from his lips!

"The Eyeless Hermit..."

The identity of an existence he had no knowledge of before and nor should he have had any knowledge of now was uttered from his lips as after the shocking action he took of elevating Dictum Emperor to the Quasi-TABOO level, this was only a portion of how his capabilities had been elevated.

For one, he would from now on be able to know the identity of every single being who tried to utilize destiny to gaze towards his direction!

Chapter 1539: The Progeny Of The Tyrannical Emperor Descends! L

To those glancing towards him, he could glance back and see them as well!

<The Nomological Edict of the Dictum Emperor has been successfully elevated to the Quasi-TABOO Tier.>

Words of splendor had been rising over his eyes as this elevated Edict had instantly gone into effect at the same time that a powerful existence was searching for him!

<The abilities of <Premium Reader> have been greatly expanded to be applicable to any existences who do not hold defensive Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts geared towards destiny, and even the small chance of being capable of grasping the weaving of destiny across Realities.>

<The ability <Eye of Fate> has been changed to <Eye of Destiny> that will reveal everything about those you know and think of, only those being capable of escaping your sharp gaze having the chance to hide from you. Those who turn their own gazes towards you can be fed whatever information you wish for as you also gain the chance to gaze at them in return.>

WAA!

The prompt that explained what had just occurred descended down, this being from the feature of Eye of Destiny!

Noah had not yet set up any false set of information to give if others were gazing his way, and this was why his information was just blocked when the terrifying existence that was the Eyeless Hermit looked in his direction.

<The Supreme Bloodline of The Watcher has been unlocked from the elevated Flames of the Dictum Emperor.>

<The Quasi-TABOO Flames of the Dictum Emperor burn and remold <Author's Viewpoint> into an Ultimate Ability capable of altering one's own destiny and the destiny of others so long as a sufficient price is paid. As the innumerable paths of destiny unfold, the decree of the Dictum Emperor shall descend to decide the paths followed.>

The summary of elevated abilities that Noah had to delve into in order to fully understand were laid out, with even something as fantastical as a Supreme Bloodline being unlocked!

Never before had such a Bloodline appeared within Noah as he felt his crown that signified his Bloodline of an Emperor of Old tremble, rotating faster as it seemed to spin with even more fervor and strength- as if it was meeting something familiar!

His Destiny Goblin King Bloodline, the Cardinal Royal Wolf Bloodline, Telos...any of the Bloodlines he had currently had only ever reached the tier of Ultra Rare.

If one recalls, the Tiers of the Bloodlines were Common, Uncommon, Rare, Ultra Rare, Supreme, and lastly...Venerable Bloodlines!

At this stage, Noah had actually managed to obtain a Supreme Bloodline from a Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict as his body and origin was already reacting and trying to understand just what this Bloodline would entail.

"The Watcher..."

WAAA!

Noah uttered the words silently the abused glimmer of essence and light all around him suddenly halted.

All the Essence in the surroundings came to a stop before an instant later, everything surged into Noah's body as his Cosmic form was gradually changed!

The stellar light of Cosmos that made up his entire body faded as sparkling fair skin bloomed, his body releasing translucent light from his shoulders, a vibrant robe shining with a glow of an illusory Reality bloomed to drape over him.

His crimson gold crown spinning above him flashed with urgency and fervor as an instant later, its color changed as it also became painted with an illusory Reality, beginning to shower Noah's body with waves of robust and immense authority of essence!

BOOM!

The moment the crown released this grandeur of light, Noah's eyes trembled as an instant later, he felt his line of sight expanding as it bloomed out in a circular motion at the speed of light! It covered the whole Infinite Reality right away and his Home Reality microseconds after, covering the edges of this Reality as it very soon entered the Boundary Between Realities and kept on expanding!

His gaze and line of sight propelled out further and further as he felt like he was watching all of the things that were occurring under this space he covered with the strings of destiny of the countless existences covered under this authority lying themselves bare to him.

This was the Supreme Bloodline of the Watcher.

? ?? ??-??? ??, ??? A Lineage of rarely seen existences that even at this moment, Noah was only receiving what could be considered the basic physiology of this Bloodline as he hadn't even delved into anything on what it could truly do!

His physiology alone covered a distance vaster than Reality and continued to expand as all existences under his gaze had their destinies laid bare, with him being capable of receiving such an immense quantity of information that would overwhelm any normal Higher Existence.

"Huh?"

As he was acclimating to this scene and using the sight of The Watcher over his home Reality, his eyes were drawn towards a particular location that held a faint line of gold light and a radiant pillar of blazing gold light stemming from the same being!

And the source of such a phenomenon wasn't all that far from him as he traced it down to see none other...than Adelaide.

The first sight that his Supreme Bloodline of the Watcher that he had barely begun to grasp was that of Adelaide, his eyes curiously locking onto her and the different beams of destiny shooting from her body.

The faint line he quickly understood came from her as the luminous beam that overshadowed her by too many factors came from something that she was carrying!

Something that she had been carrying for many years in the Cosmic Holy Land!

A mere passage of days had passed in the outside world, but an approximate number of over 100 Years had passed in the Cosmic Holy Land without accounting for the few times that Adelaide left this domain of space.

For over a hundred years...this unique woman had been carrying his progeny.

Noah looked at the blinding beam of destiny that represented this existence as his thoughts reached out to the beam of destiny!

"Has it not been long enough?"

BZZZT!

His voice was magnetic as his thoughts alone caused an illusory gold hand to form that went to pull on this golden beam of pure gold light...this beam shockingly releasing a tyrannical glow as if it felt the hand nearing, but calmed down right after when it sensed its source as it allowed the illusory hand to grasp onto it, a brilliant glow of essence surging forth at that moment!

Not knowing anything of what was happening, the figure of Adelaide that was walking through a Domain of Spiritual Herbs came to a stop as she looked at her belly in shock, a splendor of golden light beginning to be released from it as the surroundings began to surge with Mana and profound waves of essence!

Chapter 1540: The Progeny Of The Tyrannical Emperor Descends! LI

The Cosmic Holy Land was a vast expanse of space that could hold many things within it, with the current location of Adelaide being within a cluster of golden colored Spiritual Herbs that spread out for miles.

The soft wind caused the gilded leaves to sway and wave as auric radiance shone down to cause a glorious scene, this image further intensified as the figure of Adelaide began to glow with a terrifying and pristine aura of...power!

A power that had its source being her belly as at this moment, the aura released was so pronounced that golden mist began to condense around her!

SHAA!

Noah's figure appeared right at this moment, his body draped by a robe that shimmered with the illusory light of Reality as even his spinning crown above his head took on the same disposition.

His figure constantly released airs of an untouchable being that was standing on a higher plane than anyone around him, but his face was currently filled with care and concern as his altered hands reached out to support the back of the blue haired Adelaide.

His eyes constantly shone with mesmerizing multicolored light as his current form as The Watcher could see many things, his sight having access to a great deal of information as he gazed towards the belly of this amazing woman before him. There, he could actually see an immense cluster of destiny and fortune that seemed to be contracting and expanding as if it had reached a certain point and was ready to come out!

It was a wonder to see as for this cluster of light, Adelaide had spent over a hundred years in the Cosmic Holy Land. For this cluster of destiny and fortune, she had eaten all of the Spiritual Fruits and Herbs Noah had planted as the nutrition for the wonder in her belly had received was utterly shocking.

Spiritual Herbs that others would call Sacred Herbs in some Realities were eaten by her en masse as they contained the Essence of laws and daos. When other beings were in the process of forming their musculature, bones, and organs by relying on nutrients of common foods...the wonder in Adelaide's belly was receiving Primordial Apples and Strawberries of Ruination among many more things as it was molded by the very essence of Cosmos!

Now, it was time.

"Here."

Noah assessed the situation while taking Adelaide's hand, calming this woman who had actually begun to show a nervous and stressed expression. He handed her a cluster of Existential Pearls while nodding lightly, the dense golden leaves around them swaying as the wind picked up.

"Will it be okay?" Adelaide took the Existential Pearls as she asked, Noah giving her a light smile and a nod as she looked into his stellar multicolored eyes with utmost trust...and popped an Existential Pearls in her mouth!

BZZZT!

The golden mist spreading out became even denser as Adelaide's body began to glow, her hand not stopping as she swallowed even more Existential Pearls!

A single one was enough for someone to entirely change their blood into True Blood and achieve the stage of a higher existence, and she absorbed over a dozen in a short period of time as rays of light began to shoot out while her body was elevated from the pristine earth below, rising to the skies of the Cosmic Holy Land while a golden cocoon began to form around her.

Noah followed her every step of the way as shockingly, his new body and physiology naturally moved and melded itself as the surging rays of gold light and cocoon around Adelaide didn't even come in contact with him- as if he wasn't even there to begin with or he was in a different plane as he could observe everything without being touched by anything!

Normally, no foreign bodies would be in the cocoon of an existence elevating themselves to another level, but Noah's body was able to remain by Adelaide's side and phase through any of the surging essence around them as every step of the way...he was there.

The Watcher was there, unaffected and untouched!

OOOOOM!

Fortune and destiny surged.

Rivers of mana flooded out as the very Essence of Reality also came to circle Adelaide's body and the unknown existence she carried in her belly!

As the coalescence of essence reached the peak and raged with utmost fervor, the reformation of body and soul occurred as the existence that had resided in the belly for over a hundred years underwent yet another reformation of wonder and got ready to come out. ??? a ???e?

THUMP!

At such a juncture, the beat of a shocking heart began to resound across the Cosmic Holy Land.

? ?? ??-??? ??, ?,?,? THUMP!

A heartbeat so strong and domineering that its sound waves alone transferred out far, going on to spread in the Novus Universe and the entire Primordial Cosmos as soon enough...

THUMP!

It expanded and covered the vast Cosmos of the entire Infinite Empire.

THUMP!

A single heartbeat...spreading out over countless light years and spanning thousands of Cosmos.

How glorious!

How Tyrannical!

It was an existence announcing itself to everyone before it was even born!

THUMP!

After the Infinite Empire, the heartbeat went out to resound across the seas of Ruination and Primordial as only when it was ringing out across an entire Reality...

THUMP!!!

The loudest one yet echoed out as any living existences that had been hearing it all turned towards a single direction.

Then, everything calmed.

Within the skies of a small region of the Cosmic Holy Land, the surging golden essence within a cocoon stopped as at this moment, speckles of light began to pulse and reveal what was hidden in the cocoon as a shocking scene gradually revealed itself.

Gradually, one could see the figure of Adelaide shining with a golden luster over her fair skin, the aura of a Higher Existence prominent on her as beside her, Noah's figure adorned in a robe of an illusory Reality and a spinning crown had shining stellar multicolored eyes as both his gaze and the gaze of Adelaide was directed towards the same location!

Within the hands of Adelaide, there was a bundle of white light that adorned a third existence, this light forming into a soft white wrapping that only revealed a fair face and a pair of hands and feet!

"Ah..."

A bundle of pristine and utter beauty as around it, surging seas of destiny and fortune were flowing silently!
