

Mana 1621

Chapter 1621 Refine With the Blood of Enders! III

One must be clear that Atlatl of Reality was a Sui Generis Enlightened Primordial Relic that held the weight of Noah's Infinite Reality and it didn't represent a damage equivalent to the shattering of a Reality, with the main question at this juncture being whether the weight of the Infinite Reality was comparable to the explosion of the shocking force released by a shattering endless river of Reality.

Among the abilities of the Atlatl of Reality, there already existed some that could directly deal out 1 True Reality Damage Value...with some abilities being elevated to be capable of dealing 2 or even 3 True Reality Damage Values with the recent infusion of Realities that directly changed the mass of the Infinite Reality!

There were many abilities under the Atlatl of Reality as this time around, Noah didn't use the strongest one that would provide the highest True Reality Damage Value- but one that would eradicate all his chosen enemies in one strike.

It was <Cosmic Thrower>!

<Cosmic Thrower> :: The Atlatl of Reality can release unlimited Unstable Cosmos containing within them the essence of all flames of Edicts within the user's arsenal, the Unstable Cosmos carrying the homing quality as they can pierce through the veils of Reality to reach their enemies wherever they are, even if they are hidden in locations as abstruse as Mirror Realities. Each cast requires 10 Units of the Essence of Reality along with millions of Units of Mana ...

An ability that might have seemed high cost when it first appeared, and yet Noah's reserves of Essence of Reality had risen so much that it seemed minimal at this moment! His Reserves had further gone to exceed 65,000 as unlike the ridiculous 50,000 boost gained from achieving the solidification his candidacy in the Kainos Era, the unprovoked birth of a Black Tier Halo granted Noah another 10,000 as his reserves rose to 75,000. Evidently, the task of achieving a Kainos Emperor Bloodline was looked at with much more importance.

Even though his reserves of the Essence of Reality were high, he had been using them far faster than what the daily generation or his Affix could bring in as he even had to replenish his Reality Crystals from his True Sanguine Clone that had delved into another Treasure Reality in the Forsaken Treasure Emperor that apart from a page of the Modus Operandi within this Reality- a cluster of Reality Crystals were also located.

Just a few rounds of refinement with the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique had nearly drained him as it put the corruption of many Edicts through RUINATION on hold, but to spend a mere 10 Units now to cast a single ability that would reap the lives of 28 Eighth Firmament existences was a negligible expense as the base True Reality Damage Value of <Cosmic Thrower> was 2 when called upon with the Atlatl of Reality!

BZZZZT!

The Spear of Reality within Noah's hand buzzed and crackled as before anybody could even make another move- before the molten Reality utterly destroyed by fireballs could even heal...he pointed his Spear forward serenely while sitting on his multicolored throne, his voice coming out softly.

"Cosmic Thrower."

An incandescent light flashed.

The Atlatl of Reality released astounding radiance as from it, 28 pulsing Unstable Cosmos were called out as the moment they appeared, they sank into the surrounding space and disappeared as if they never existed!

No horrendous explosive forces or ripping of the very structure of Reality occurred for a single microsecond as it seemed that the Atlatl of Reality had only flashed with light and released a few glimmering balls before it dimmed a little.

But the 28 remaining Eighth Firmament existences felt their destinies turn entirely dark at this moment as if an inescapable fate had been ordained for them- and it truly was so as even though they couldn't see the attacks, Unstable Cosmos containing the force of 200 True Reality Damage Values fused into the very fabrics of Reality to only reappear when they came in contact with their bodies through the homing feature!

...BOOOM! BOOOM!

Then, the fabric of Reality was torn and laid to waste- along with the bodies and origins of their targets.

Beatrix and the other Eighth Firmament Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Human Guards felt their hearts buzzing either unwillingness and disbelief as they watched 28 existences that had broken past their shackles and held a Reality Passage...they watched as attacks bloomed in front of these beings such force that even they spat out blood from a distance!

They watched as after the passage of a single microsecond, golden blood overflowed as 28 shattered origins lay out in multiple locations!

Unbearable silence ensued as only the sound of space trying its best to heal could be heard.

Only the nonchalant Unnamed Kainos Emperor could be seen pointing his Spear of Reality forward as the rivers of golden blood cascaded onto him as if they were seeking a glorious home- the reality that this being had wiped out all of the Seventh and Eighth Firmament Enders in a few second settling in at this moment!

The eyes of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor were bright as he was showered with prompts of loot and the reward of multiple new Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts he had to closely look at soon.

As he felt his body continuously strengthened in ways he didn't know possible, his eyes locked onto the beings that even caused him to not focus on his prompts of loot at this moment...the Ninth Firmament Enders that were the masterminds of this assassination!

When he reaped the lives of Eighth Firmament existences, none of them were given the honor of being chosen to give the Resplendent Treasure Cache that Noah now had 5 of 6 uses remaining.

All uses were saved for even more powerful enemies!

And since there were terrifying Ninth Firmament existences right before him, it was only right he give them such an honor as if he could manage to take down any of them...the loot from Resplendent Treasure Cache would be something unimaginable!

Chapter 1622 Chaos Breeds Opportunity!

Chaos!

A state of being and a perpetual destiny that all things seemed to fall to.

Cycles of Chaos had been going since unknown times as now, yet another Era of Chaos was ushered in - this time by the fateful actions of the Primordial Beasts whose only purpose was the reclamation and re-establishment of the singular main Reality!

Their forces lay in wait for countless years as their Legends and those in the Firmaments of Ascendancy moved at this moment, their actions making way for unbound destruction and glorious opportunities as in times of chaos...destiny could be snatched the easiest.

Existences that knew nothing of the schemes of the Primordial Beasts were just facing these changes as some welcomed them with open arms- destiny beginning to shine gloriously under these beings!

But due to the methodical planning of Enders, unbound destruction had already occurred as the most destruction was actually carried out within the very first few minutes of the attacks.

An unknown number of Emerging Realities fell as swarms of First to Sixth Firmament Primordial Beasts spread out across the vast explored regions of the Infinite Realities!

An even greater number of Prime Realities fell during these first few minutes as they were made the prime targets- with Seventh to Ninth Firmament Enders being dispatched and overpowering the surprised Overseers before they destroyed their Realities.

Before the more powerful Primordials could even react, disastrous Damage was done during this period of time!

But...the Primordials were still the Primordials.

They had reigned over the past eons as their power was undeniable.

In some regions of the vast Realities, Primordial Beasts found to their shock that armies were already assembled to protect Realities as if they knew Enders were coming in advance.

In some regions, the moment their attacks began within a Prime Reality that should have only had a Seventh Firmament Overseer, they suddenly found that an Eighth Firmament existence rose to defend their home!

In other regions, even if the information was as expected, the moment that the Enders began their attacks...the reinforcements arrived too quickly and with too much ferocity as they couldn't even destroy anything.

Near one such a region.

BZZZT!

Arcs of golden flames stretched out for light years as the shattered origins of three enormous bestial figures of Ninth Firmament Enders could be seen, over a dozen Eighth Firmament origins and even more a rank lower also lying dead and melting from the heat of the golden flames that roared out like an endless golden sea!

Standing amidst these flames untouched was a creature with golden fur all over its body, an illusory crown spinning above its head as along with this- there was a spinning golden sun releasing immense heat beside the crown! Four grand Reality Passages still spun behind this being as they showered his body with even more pristine glory.

The golden furred creature screamed of majesty as it had the form of a regal ape like creature- this being an important personage of the Cardinal Royal Bloodline of the Solaris Simians. Such a being released an aura at the Eighth Firmament of Ascendancy even though three Ninth Firmament Enders lay dead before his will, his golden eyes spinning with stellar light as he gazed at the nearby Prime Reality that nearly fell.

"For them to be so bold to even target me during my vacation...don't they know the fury of a Solaris Simian Emperor can burn even Grotto Sanctums?!"

WAA!

Immense power raged around this being as he...was just an example out of many across the vast Realities who were extremely powerful and special with their own unique means!

In another region, near a Continuum Apocalypse Reality. This content is taken from Freewebnovel.com.

Pure white and blue essence permeated around the region as it even painted the nearby Continuum Apocalypse Reality with such a hue- the core of this essence being a blinding figure that seemed to be purely made of light!

Yet the surroundings of this figure of light were covered by waves of deathly darkness, and an enormous Archaic figure of a blue eyed young man surrounded by over a dozen Seventh Firmament Undead that had dimmed Ascendancy Halos called out, along with countless other beings of lower rank.

They faced a shocking force of Primordial Beasts and existences of the Telos Bloodline before them, destruction already permeating throughout this space as the existence made of pure light called out to the blue eyed existence.

"Stop playing around, Eckert."

Simple words echoed out as a devilish smile appeared on the blue eyed being, with his visage not even seeming that special as one could see his ten Ascendancy Halos beginning at White Tier to Purple!

Yet this being waved his hands after these words as the Ascendancy Halos of the Undead around him began to buzz, flying away from their bodies and coming towards him as his own Halos were switched with theirs!

In a matter of moments, Nine purple and 1 golden Ascendancy Halo could be seen on this being as he picked and chose from his Vassals, the scene thereafter turning even more drastic as his luminous blue eyes flashed to call upon the Undead Vassals, their bodies flying towards him and seamlessly sinking into him as his aura rose up crazily while his body enlarged for millions of miles.

His aura rose in waves as the Purple Halos he showed pulsed the more that he fused with Undead in the Seventh and Eighth Firmament- their color gradually becoming tinted with a hue of gold as the aura released approached far past what normal Seventh Firmament existences could display!

"A Telos feeding on Apocalypse huh?! Let me give you an Apocalypse!"

BOOOM!

Darkness and unbound malice spread out as this being moved in conjunction with an existence that starkly seemed much too pure to even be near other existences.

This was another example of unique creatures far exceeding the Boundary of their stages as their destiny was something that could only benefit from the coming Era.

Existences like this could scale the Firmaments with power and purpose as their destinies simply could not be ended so easily, the future still holding tremendous roles for them to play in these times of chaos.

After all, those with abundant destinies thrived the most in chaotic times!

In the past Age of Emperors, chaos had unfolded spectacularly as the one to reign it under his heel was the existence that had claimed the title of Emperor of the entire Age. The actions of those who obtained full authority and ruled over an entire Age were always grand and had long lasting consequences, with the actions of the past Emperor being what brought to fruition the splitting and proliferation of the vast Infinite Realities!

The splitting into the countless Realities...was something achievable only under the Authority of the past Emperor as his identity was seemingly connected to the one and only reigning Bloodline the past eons....

Primordials!

Chapter 1623 Tearing Down the Visage of the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy! I

The splitting of the Infinite Realities due to the authority of the past Emperor!

What a glorious power.

What glorious authority.

What glorious possibilities!

Authority capable of making one be able to do such things was what everyone sought- with the goal of The Enders of Reality being exactly this as with the spread of their actions at this point in time- their targets were prolific geniuses of mainly Primordials and other powerful Bloodlines as everything was for the cause of reducing the possible Candidate Emperors from solidifying their authority!

Cardinal Royal Bloodlines were those targeted the most as the prized targets that had to fall with surety stemmed from Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines.

Parties with a level of power five or ten times compared to their targets were sent forth as many would succeed...and many would also fail.

But even if they had to perish, the geniuses with a claim to follow the path of Emperors of the coming Kainos Era had to perish with them!

This was why...

"You have to die."

BZZZT!

In the locked down enclosure, the pure White Dragon finally spoke after all the powerful existences watched the massacre of Seventh and Eighth Firmament Enders in mere microseconds, the other Ninth Firmament Primordial Beasts coming at its left and right as their bodies released vibrant waves of power.

The Pure White Dragon was actually the most powerful as it boasted 3 Reality Passages behind it, three other Enders having 2 Reality Passages as the remaining only had a single one!

This Dragon was gazing towards the lone being situated upon a multicolored throne and wielding a stellar spear of Reality while gazing towards them with a dangerous glint in his eyes, a fearless devilish smile painted over him as he seemed to have grand ideas!

All the eyes of the Ninth Firmament Enders were now locked onto him and not Empress Genevieve at this moment as when it came to their mission of stopping profound geniuses on the side of Primordials from rising...this being before them was a prime target as he had already solidified his authority.

Among those that had to die- he would have been at the very top!

The fact that they would obtain his authority after he died was just an enormous extra that would also benefit their Bloodline.

So the golden Ascendancy Halos around this White Dragon flashed with light as they sunk into its body silently, any other Ninth Firmament Enders that didn't take their True forms fusing with their Halos at this moment as they prepared to take on an astounding genius and get rid of him before he became a disastrous existence in the Age of Emperors!

"You all...just know exactly how to push my buttons. Did I not say that this guy was mine?!"

WAA!

The voice of an unknown species of Sacred Beast echoed out as the form of Empress Genevieve released waves of radiant luster, her figure ready to release even more attacks with a True Reality Damage Value above 100 if she needed to.

Beside her, the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Humans had differing expressions as they also came to float to her left and right- many of them still moving to protect the Empress even though she took on a True Form that wasn't that of a Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Human!

This was because at this moment, they were in a battle of survival as any mysteries could be solved after they survived this perilous situation. So any doubts were pushed aside as they became ready to fight for their lives. Their party came to float between the Unnamed Kainos Emperor and the Enders who at this moment had risen to their height of power- the Essence around them seemingly resonating as the eyes of the White Dragon released dazzling light.

"There is no need to worry, Primordial. After the Candidate Emperor of the coming Age has perished, you will follow...<Nine Beast Phantom Formation of the White Emperor>!"

OOONG!

All the Ninth Firmament Enders spoke the last set of words in unison as their bodies shone, turning into stellar lights that moved into different positions in this locked down domain as thereafter...their bodies released a profound white light that connected together!

The Pure White Dragon stayed at the forefront as around it, an enormous illusory draconic head began to form. The ape like Beast and crimson bloody Spider were to its left and right as their bodies were covered by pure white long spanning wings, with the other Enders in different portions as all of them stood at a point that brought to life a formation with their bodies as conduits.

The <Nine Beast Phantom Formation of the White Emperor>!

It was bringing to life an enormous ancient white Dragon from the Olden Times as apart from its illusory appearance that was gradually becoming more real, a faint illusory crown had appeared above it!

The obsidian Scorpion was the last conduit as it was at the position of the tail, an illusory scorpionic-draconic tail forming to finish the formation of an existence that was known as the White Emperor many eons ago.

The formation they had cast was merely something that could call out a glimpse of the visage of this being as before everyone's eyes, a humongous ferocious looking ancient White Dragon with six pairs of wings and a sharp tail that could shatter hundreds of Realities appeared!

It's white scales glimmered with vibrant multicolored Runic Lines of Ascendancy and Runic Ecriptions that read IMPENETRABLE among other words throughout, abundant essence surging all around it as it became entirely real in a few microseconds while behind it- five Reality Passages appeared as they surged endless types of Essence into it to make it even more- real and powerful that it seemed like this form could be kept active for an extremely long period of time!

OOOM!

Essence raged as the Nine Enders anchored together in a formation to call forth the visage of a past Emperor, the eyes of this White Dragon Emperor opening at this moment as they released a piercing golden glow that gazed directly towards the Emperor on his throne.

Its visage was boundless in power as it easily exceeded the most powerful Ninth Firmament existences, but its domineering aura actually lost out at the next moment as the Emperor situated majestically atop a throne raised his spear and pointed it towards the direction that had the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Humans and the White Dragon Emperor!

"This Emperor..."

BZZZT!

Atop the multicolored throne, the Unnamed Kainos Emperor waved his Spear of Reality as it cut apart space beautifully- his voice coming out grandly as he addressed everyone fully at this moment!

"This Emperor does not belong to anyone, nor can insignificant existences with such abysmal Destinies claim to be capable of taking my life."

WAA!

Chapter 1624 Tearing Down the Visage of the Ninth Firmament! II

"This Emperor...does not belong to anyone, nor can insignificant existences with such abysmal Destinies claim to be capable of taking my life."

...!

WAA!

Boundless light exhumed from the Unnamed Kainos Emperor as he spoke, his Tyrannical will seeping out as it began to be felt closely by all those nearby!

Even the existences hidden by the folds of the Mirror Reality far in the distance who at this moment adopted stern expressions as they gazed forward- their gazes still calm.

"He seems to just be awakening to his Bloodline, but his will should be drawn thin after matching these Enders. At the last point when his soul is already tired, we will descend for the kill."

The Archaic Devil Bird spoke coldly as the Nine Reality Horned Unicorn scoffed.

"We could wipe all of them out right now, do we still have to move with care? I'm finding this Remnant Disaster that is trying to use the Primordial Bloodline as her mask more and more distasteful!"

...!

Its words carried regality as the Archaic Devil Bird ignored its compatriot entirely, only speaking out soon after as if his words were final.

"She merely carries a Lesser Primordial Bloodline and has not undergone the Baptism she would have taken if she succeeded in becoming the Candidate Ruler of the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Human Bloodline. We shall wipe her out and these fools that followed her this whole time without knowing who she is."

Words of brutality echoed out as immense coldness could be felt from them!

These three hidden beings from the Olden Times were those following the Will of the Past Emperor so naturally, they had to have some connection to Primordials. Yet there seemed to be a large gap in status and mystery even amongst Primordials as how many of them knew the true history and were privy to the secrets of the past?

Such beings continued to lie in wait as their attack would be the truly inescapable danger that even the most powerful Ninth Firmament existence would fall to!

Noah's Spear of Reality pointed towards the enormous White Dragon Emperor that was ten times in size and stature than all other beings in this locked down domain, his eyes releasing beams of light as the moment his words finished, his throne floated forward!

He cared not for the angered expression of Empress Genevieve. He cared not for whatever reply the powerful group of Ninth Firmament Enders that had anchored themselves into a formation came up with!

He was currently feeling a surge of strength as he had made progress in two Limit Breaking Extreme Physiques, his body being further elevated by new features as at this moment- multiple bright Runic Mana Lines of Ascendancy were surging over his skin vibrantly as their description slowly became clear.

To understand their augmentation, we must first understand Noah's own level of strength currently. Due to the sheer number of concepts he held, the strength of his soul, his own Blood and Origin...and many more factors that augmented his strength, he could release a force equivalent to roughly 1 True Reality Damage Value with his own skills and attacks, with this number edging upwards slowly as he switched lesser Edicts for stronger ones from those that had fallen under him!

This was why the low Tier Fireball that had brought the end of multiple Enders had released an attack a bit over 100 True Reality Damage Values after being cast with the authority of a Black Tier Ascendancy Halo, but if he cast it again now, it might reach 200 or 300 True Reality Damage Values due to him gaining over 60 Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts from the dozens of Eighth Firmament Enders he had wiped out- with him not even being capable of fully adding all of them to his soul.

Concepts such as this were extremely overbearing as the boosts they came with were ridiculous, but he found his soul reaching an upper tier limit when he suddenly tried to increase the number of Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts from five to 65. His soul strength was more overbearing than even a Ninth Firmament existence, but the pressure of so many Quasi-TABOO concepts was too much as for this...he had to strengthen his soul through many means, but the quickest one currently was to sacrifice the many useless Minor, Greater, and Quasi-Insurmountable Nomological Edicts that he didn't need with the authority of the Throne of Arcadian Tyranny!

And this...was exactly what his main body was doing right now in the Cosmic Holy Land.

While his True Sanguine Clone was seated on the Throne of Unnamed Tyranny, his True Body regally sat on the Throne of Arcadian Tyranny as under his command, thousands of Nomological Edicts along with their bloodlines began to burn!

The sight was utterly shocking as above the multicolored throne, one could see immense light surging as it coagulated into golden dew drops above Noah's head- these dewdrops then falling onto him as a wondrous feeling of exhilaration and power flowed within him thereafter.

And when this occurred...

BZZZT!

Even more Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts were capable of being tacked onto his soul as his strength surged ever higher, his True Sanguine Clone being capable of releasing even more terrific strength as he was scaling the Firmaments of Ascendancy at ridiculous speeds!

To test the limits of his strength and just what True Reality Damage Value he could reach on his own and with the Atlatl of Reality, Noah wanted to continue pushing his limits as this White Dragon Emperor that had just been called forth was something that almost exceeded all parameters of the Ninth Firmament!

And such a phenomenon was what Noah wanted to match with!

To ensure his survival though, he prepared in advance as he cast silently.

"[Aura of Vigor], [Aura of Defense], [Aura of Mana], [Aura of Grace], [Aura of Might], [Aura of Serenity], [Aura of Discipline]..."

Multiple Auras from the Minor Nomological Edict of the Bulwark that were classified as defensive skills were cast, his already resplendent figure actively showing multicolored transparent bubbles appearing around him as wondrously, each aura was Instant Cast from a Black Tier Ascendancy Halo as it carried 100 True Reality Defense Value!

With multiple stacked onto his body, an attack exceeding 1,000 True Reality Damage Value had to hit him as even if it came close, Noah would spam these defensive auras constantly as he had a portion of his soul focused on doing just this from now on until the battle ended.

After all, the cast of these Auras only cost mana as when it came to that...Noah could effectively say he could have a passive barrier of 1,000+ True Reality Defense Values at all times as in the Firmaments of Ascendancy, he might have the chance to truly be fearless!

He had to do this as the enemy this time was extremely powerful. The overlapping strength of 9 Peak Ninth Firmament Enders...what type of concept was that? It was a nearly impossible task to defeat them as surviving against them would be hard! But Noah wanted to try. He wanted to see what his constant and unending spam of defensive skills would do...and whether he could truly move about unhindered in the Firmaments of Ascendancy.

'Let's put it to a test.'

WAA!

Chapter 1625 Tearing Down the Visage of the Ninth Firmament! III

With a steady heart, Noah's moved to affirm his beliefs by facing a ridiculously strong enemy.

His eyes glimmered with intense light as he could still see a description of the Runic Mana Lines of Ascendancy that filled him with even more confidence!

<Runic Mana Lines of Ascendancy>:: Runic Lines elevated from other concepts or inscribed by unique authorities tying back to the very Era one resides in. The Runic Mana Lines of Ascendancy complement and add on to all the sources of strength culminated within your Body, Origin, and Soul- allowing for all of them to surround your body with passive strengthening and defense. The Runic Mana Lines of Ascendancy are even more unique as they cut the required resources of all cast abilities by one-fourth, with this including the resource of Essence of Reality. A low number currently flows over your body as more information on their nature is being derived, with more functions being unlocked as the number of Runic Mana Lined increases. Current Runic Mana Lines of Ascendancy- 4. Current True Reality Boost(Defensive & Damage)- .4

A grand source of strength that directly augmented all his sources of power had arrived!

Having obtained 4 Runic Mana Lines of Ascendancy from four refinements of the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique, Noah actually obtained an additional source of nearly half a True Reality Value!

The brilliant cerulean Runic Lines caused his body to feel a constant surge of strength as even though he didn't have stellar Reality Passages behind him, his own Infinite Resources under his System gave him the illusion of unceasing essence just waiting to be unleashed.

OOOM!

So his multicolored throne surged forward as with the Atlatl of Reality pointing ahead, it turned into a regal point of light that surged towards the enormous scintillating White Dragon Emperor fearlessly!

His throne flew across the ruptured space still not healed from his fireballs and Unstable Cosmos as it passed over Genevieve and her Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Humans, going against the visage of a past Emperor ten times his size as this creature had five billowing Reality Passages constantly washing down essence!

Against his domineering actions, the visage of the White Dragon Emperor seemed offended as the golden light in its eyes spun, its aurora of wings shimmering as its right claw thundered down like an ancient mountain that encompassed everything.

How much True Reality Damage Values were accumulated in such a strike that had Nine Ninth Firmament Enders contributing to its power?

More than that, this formation boasted the will of a past Emperor as while its claw thundered down towards the coming throne, its voice boomed out commandingly as Runic Ecriptions flowed out from its sharp jaws.

"Hand over your life!"

OOOM!

Words filled with majesty as they carried a sharp attack meant to even subdue the soul.

Words akin to an undeniable command from the visage of the Emperor!

The soul attack smashed towards Noah before the two sides even connected physically as he felt an oppressive pressure trying to dwindle out his authority and even shake his will to try and evaporate his throne!

"A mere will of a fallen Emperor...dares to try and extinguish mine?!"

WAA!

His very authority and throne seemed to cry out at such a challenge- seemingly asking how dare a past will try to contend with the will of a Kainos Emperor?!

Noah's body and soul were connected to his throne as essence flowed through seamlessly, his aura surging as his soul faced the overpowering will of the White Dragon Emperor and tried to deny it.

He couldn't just evaporate it with his words though, this being a will coagulated from Nine Ninth Firmament Enders and the visage of an Emperor! His own soul had to be strong enough to overcome it as at this juncture, his main body in the far away Cosmic Holy Land paved the way forward as it was situated on the Throne of Arcadian Tyranny, tens of thousands of Nomological Edicts burned for the cause of strengthening his soul as he constantly felt this increased soul augmentation that allowed his authority to not fade even when faced with the combined soul attacks of multiple Enders!

Nomological Edicts gained from hundreds of Seventh Firmament Enders burned as multiple golden dew drops formed above the Throne of Arcadian Tyranny and surged into Noah, even the Soul Library being plundered for the Edicts always contained within it as Noah would continue powering up even in the midst of battle.

His soul received all the forming golden dew drops of pure soul power as he became bathed in a radiant golden light, the nourishment this time being excessively better than any devouring of Soul Crystals!

Feeling the surging waves of soul power, Noah's Atlatl of Reality became even sharper as it suffused with multicolored essence, his throne releasing liquefied waves of essence as it denied the descending will of a past Emperor while Noah charged forward, his eyes releasing astounding visage as he shouted out to overcome everything!

"OOOOOOH!"

Bursts of multicolored light bloomed as a seated Unnamed Kainos Emperor broke past the will of the White Dragon Emperor, his soul and Atlatl of Reality breaking past all obstacles as it was about to come in constant with the encompassing claw of this fearsome existence!

ROAAAR!

Feeling the impudence of such an action, the glimmering bestial form roared out while Noah released his own voice over and over again.

"<Reality Piercer>! Reality Piercer! Reality Piercer! <Reality Piercer>! Reality Piercer! Reality Piercer!...!!!"

The same ability was cast from the 10 Black Ascendancy Halos multiple times and layered on top of each other as they smashed onto the scales of the White Dragon Emperor with glorious dignity.

Noah's own True Reality Damage Value was accounted for as well as the Value from the Atlatl of Reality, and then there was the augmentation from the Black Tier Ascendancy Halos as each of the spammed attacks shockingly reached 300-400 True Reality Damage Values at this moment!

A Reality shaking impact occurred as at this moment, the multicolored Atlatl of Reality seemingly bloomed into dozens of spears of endless Realities, smashing onto the claw of the White Dragon Emperor as multiple defensive auras were ready to sustain Noah's life-force.

....BOOOOOOOOM!

Space quaked and cried out as billowing storms erupted, the wills of two Emperors smashing into each other for supremacy as Noah continued to rip apart the mysteries and visage of the austere Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy!!!

Chapter 1626 Building the Ultimate Defense! I

A throne made of multicolored light shot out across space to smash onto the scaled white claw of a White Dragon Emperor, the Unnamed Kainos Emperor seated the whole time as he wielded his spear forward and burst with trillions of Units of Mana!

HOOONG!

Like the blaring of a horn, the impact was deafening.

BZZZT!

The claw of the White Dragon Emperor carried the tremendous force of nine different Ninth Firmament Enders as their power easily exceeded 1,000 True Reality Damage Values and ranged upwards of 3,000, the moment of impact causing the many defensive multicolored auras around Noah to be eradicated one after another!

POP! POP! POP!..

Hundreds of True Reality Defense Values after another were wiped out even though Noah was spamming them constantly, the rate of replication of these abilities being exceeded by the damage that the White Dragon Emperor carried as it felt like every microsecond- the constant force of more than 1,000+ True Damage Values was being applied.

"Impudence!"

The will of the White Dragon Emperor roared out as its claw became wrapped in white lightning, putting Noah in further peril as even though his constant rate of spamming countered back with constant instant casts of Reality Piercer and Auras, he could not pierce the scales of this corporeal Dragon before him even though his will could withstand it!

The amalgamation of so many Enders under a singular formation with all of their Edicts and fused Ascendancy Halos all pummeling towards him...it was too much as any lesser existence at the Ninth Firmament would have fallen.

Yet he had shockingly faced the attack for a few microseconds without even being pushed back as when only 3 auras were left and the rate of reapplication could not keep up with the damage he was constantly receiving, he allowed the force of the White Dragon Emperor to push him back as the moment the last auras shattered, his figure was flung back across space in the same direction he came in.

BOOOM!

Like an arrow of light, he was shot back from the impact with such speed and haste that he smashed onto the opposite end of the locked down domain on the other side- his figure still seating on the Throne of Unnamed Tyranny when space broke and fissured as he smashed onto the walls of space!

Yet he was alive.

WAA!

His eyes flashed up gloriously as he looked at himself to see the Atlatl of Reality trembling as it pulsed with light, his hand holding it currently ruptured and bleeding as stellar Cosmos painted on it began to be repaired rapidly- these of his body in a similar state as fractures and split stellar skin could be seen throughout!

"Haha..."

He couldn't help but release a devilish laugh as even though he was pushed back, heavily injured, and outclassed on all levels- he didn't perish under the joined formation of nine powerful beings that called out the will of a past Emperor!

And this...was before he fused with his 10 Ascendancy Halos!

He was getting a better grasp of his limitations as well as how he should optimize his abilities, essence wrapping around his throne as after being shot back, he began making his way back towards the overpowering White Dragon Emperor that had burning white flames surging around its body.

Genevieve looked at this scene with somber light as seeing the state of Noah, her aged eyes flashed as her bestial figure opened its jaws yet again, releasing Resplendent rulers of Reality that almost seemed like stellar sharp bridges that made their way over!

"Fight!"

Her shout was resonant as the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Humans joined the fray, their bodies releasing stellar waves of attacks as they tried to hide their shocks when looking at the magisterial figure of Noah seated upon his throne while fearlessly pointing his Spear of Reality forward.

Noah who at this moment felt his inadequacy when it came to defensive abilities as he began to make some changes to his concepts- his throne coming to stop in place as he didn't go into another close combat strike with the terrifying enemy, and he instead began spamming <Cosmic Thrower> from a distance as countless Unstable Cosmos carrying 200-400 True Reality Damage Values began to surge out endlessly!

His will blazed out with fervor as while this might seem like him overusing his resources to dish out crazy attacks, it cost him barely anything as the reason he did this was to keep the battle going as he collected information while also optimizing his abilities at the same time.

As for what he was optimizing?

'Take the Quasi-TABOO Tiers of the Nomological Edicts of the Bestial Reality Devourer and Sun Chaser...and transfer their tiers to the concepts of Bulwark and Antediluvian!'

HOOONG!

His dazzling Ascendancy Halos flashed as his own designed Minor Nomological Edict of Bulwark and Quasi-Insuperable Nomological Edict of Antediluvian that bolstered his life force and defense were forcefully taken from one Tier to another, the Quasi-TABOO Edicts Noah had just obtained being used as sacrifice to make this happen!

Stellar light exploded within his Origin as a verdant hue began to bloom out, the ceaseless life force of Yggdrasil surging out as the auras Noah had just been casting from Bulwark were fundamentally changed into something even more fantastical.

Prompts about the elevation of these edicts and their enhanced abilities flowed over Noah's mind as a few of them were of important significance!

<Due to the elevation of the Nomological Edict of Bulwark to Quasi-TABOO, the Flames of Bulwark have risen to a greater level as the ultimate abilities of Resource Shield Master and Runic Defender have been unlocked, along with the ushering of the Ultra Rare Bloodline of the Cosmic Armament...>

WAA!

All of his own specially designed Nomological Edicts granted stupendous Bloodlines so far as Tyrannical Emperor at Quasi-Taboo had given way to an Olden Bloodline while Sanguine Emperor had made it possible for Noah to forge his own Kainos Emperor Bloodline.

When his other Edicts were elevated to this level, even though their effects might not be as exaggerated as his most powerful Edicts- even they came with their own powerful Ultra Rare Bloodlines!

Bulwark was at a slightly lesser level as this was its result.

But Antediluvian...this Edict was made at the same time as the Dictum as Noah remembered calling out the words of these edicts hand in hand not too long ago!

Its elevation was even grander than Bulwark as it paved way for a stupendous type of Bloodline Noah had not gotten his hands on yet.

<Due to the elevation of the Nomological Edict of Antediluvian to Quasi-TABOO, the Flames of Antediluvian have risen to a greater level as the ultimate abilities of The Eonic Cosmic Yggdrasil and the Transcendent Plant Kingdom have been unlocked, along with the ushering of the Supreme Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline of the Infinite Willow Tree...>

...!

Chapter 1627 Building the Ultimate Defense! II

A Supreme Tier Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline!

There was the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Human Bloodline Noah had come across as now, another Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline was revealed. Its name alone was domineering as from the Enders that Noah had devoured, his reserves of knowledge had increased greatly as he understood the shocking significance of this Bloodline.

The memories of the Enders- especially the Eighth Firmament ones- revealed a great deal of things as Noah was now privy to a lot more information on what these Primordial Beasts were doing!

The Eighth Firmament Enders had more access to information as from their plans, Noah saw that all of the 5 Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines of the Primordials were targeted...except two of them.

The Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline of the Infinite Willow Trees was among them, and the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline of the Reality Ursidae!

They each had their own uniqueness, but the Infinite Willow Trees were existences that had the word Infinite in their name as theoretically, the number of their branches could be infinite if they had the resources to make it possible- with their fighting power overpowering all others as it was considered among the top three most powerful races within the Primordials!

The Enders didn't target them this time around because unlike other Bloodlines, their race did not venture out far from their cluster of domains that were filled with verdant fantastical wonders, with their domains even shockingly being one of the few connected to a Grotto Sanctum their Legend resided in as angering them was tantamount to suicide if one wasn't prepared.

The Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline of the Reality Ursidae was something even more dreadful as they had their own stupendous perks.

But Antediluvian...had actually granted Noah a pathway into a Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline when his other Edicts had given him Primal Titan and Telos Bloodlines among others!

Once more, Noah's Origin buzzed as new abilities and sources of power unfolded within it, his figure still releasing incandescent Unstable Cosmos towards the towering figure of the White Dragon Emperor and the attacks from Empress Genevieve and others also landed on the visage of this Emperor!

While this occurred, Noah allowed the flow of information concerning the newly unlocked abilities and Bloodlines to flow into his mind.

First were the abilities from the concept of Bulwark.

<Resource Shield Master>:: The holder of the Flames of Bulwark can call upon every resource he controls to form a shield of this resource around his body and soul. Only Natural Resources like Mana, Destiny, Fortune, or Essence of Reality can call upon Resource Shields, with the resource or essence of Edicts not being applicable. The Resource Shields can be kept active as long as the resource is supplied, with the current quantification of the defense provided after taking into account the sources of strength from the Unnamed Kainos Emperor being 2.4 True Reality Defense Values for every actively kept Resource Shield...

"..."

A singular ability from Bulwark that stole the show!

Even the Ultra Rare Bloodline of the Cosmic Armament that this Edict granted could be looked down upon compared to what this ability granted!

Resource Shields dependent on the supply of that specific resource in order to be kept active.

Under his Infinite System...Noah had Infinite Resources!

WAAA!

A shocking finding as Noah had no need to even cast defensive layers of abilities over and over again as he could keep a Resource Shield of Mana, a Resource Shield of Destiny, Fortune, and in the most dangerous moments, even something like the Resource Shield of the Essence of Reality. Even though Fortune and Destiny weren't infinite... his reserves of these natural resources were so vast that he didn't see a problem with the short-term fights he normally had.

Each Resource Shield would have 240+ True Reality Defense Values as paired with the newly elevated Auras, Noah should be capable of withstanding 1,000+ True Reality Damage Values just from these Shields alone!

This was just a single new finding under Bulwark as there was still one more that would bolster Noah's defenses even more.

<Runic Defender>: A life preservation ability that allows you to brand up to Five Runic Ecriptions of Defense onto your Origin and Soul. Each Runic Ecription of Defence grants 3 True Reality Defense Values as when added to the 2.4 Value that you can currently achieve, a single Ecription can grant you 5.4 True Reality Defense Values. To brand a single Runic Ecription of Defense costs 1,000 Units of the Essence of Reality and 10 Trillion Units of Mana...

His eyes flashed with a verdant essence of life force as he read yet another shocking ability.

Five Runic Ecriptions of Defense could be applied to him as another layer of protection, each one having 5.4 True Reality Defense Values that would add up to 27!

'That is 2,700 True Reality Defense Values when cast through the Authority of the Black Tier Ascendancy Halos...'

Noah's mind buzzed as even he was shocked for such a possibility to be allowed for him to abuse!

This 2,700 Value was a number that would be the last layer of protection for his life.

Unless he received an instantaneous attack that eradicated this number and the number of True Reality Defense Values he had from his Resource Shields and Auras...he would not perish under anyone!

This was just from the transference of a Quasi-TABOO authority from an Edict forged by someone else to one that he designed on his own.

The designs of other beings could not even compare as even if they had access to Bulwark- could they truly utilize things like Resource Shields, Auras, and Runic Defender if they didn't have his Infinite Mana and Infinite Resources?!

Thus, Noah's power and defending capabilities were raised to another level as we hadn't even gotten to what Antediluvian granted!

We had yet to even explore the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline of the Infinite Willow Tree or what the abilities of The Eonic Cosmic Yggdrasil and the Transcendent Plant Kingdom granted!

"More..."

OOOM!

Seated atop his throne and releasing Unstable Cosmos that ruptured space when they exploded on the scales of the White Dragon Emperor, Noah spoke lightly even as he received an immense surge of the power he wielded just now.

Even with the immense defensive boosts he had just received, he still wanted to obtain more against the terrifying coagulation of Nine Ninth Firmament Enders that had yet to get fully serious and release their ultimate abilities.

He wanted no chance of failure as even with his Main Body beginning to pull upon the dry reserves of the Essence of Reality remaining to begin establishing the Runic Ecriptions of Defense around him, Noah pulled from another source of essence to call out lightly to an ability from Antediluvian!

"Transcendent Plant Kingdom..."

HOONG!

The multicolored throne he sat on instantly became overpowered by an incandescent verdant green light.

Behind it, immense life force and vegetation erupted as the light of Antediluvian began to spread out for countless light years- establishing a Domain of the Transcendent Plant Kingdom that would guarantee the life of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor!!!

Chapter 1628 Merely a Remnant will! I

An Astounding radiance and brightness erupted from the Unnamed Kainos Emperor as he sat on his throne, waves of verdant green essence permeating throughout as a Domain spread to cover the current domains laid down, superimposing itself with them as it screamed of the authority of this Emperor!

The ability itself was one of pure wonder as it was something that went towards guaranteeing the safety of the Emperor.

<Transcendent Plant Kingdom>: A vast domain that momentarily calls forth a Transcendent Plant Domain which is closely connected to the natural forces of life and Reality. Under this domain, your affinity to your surrounding Reality is further increased as your regeneration of all Resources including the Essence of Reality is increased by 50%. Under the domain, your body will also be passively granted the Protection of the Plant Kingdom that grants 10 True Reality Defense Values. If broken, another Protection of the Plant Kingdom will be applied gradually over time. Enemies feel a sense of suffocation from this Domain as their resource regeneration is reduced and their authorities up to the Quasi-TABOO level are reduced by 30%. The cost of this ability is pure mana from the origin of the caster as to activate it, 200 Trillion Units of Mana are required. To maintain it every second required 1 Trillion Units of Mana every second thereafter...

A stupendous ability that Noah placed even higher than Runic Defender- even though it provided 1,000 True Reality Defense Values as he cast from the Authority of the Black Tier Ascendancy Halo!

The reason for this was nothing but the fact that it was one of the only high tier abilities Noah had that purely relied on Mana!

Even Runic Defender required the Essence of Reality for every Runic Ecriture of Defence, but Noah could cast and keep active the Transcendent Plant Kingdom for as long as he wished with Infinite Mana! Even if his reserves of the Essence of Reality ran dry, this ability would always be there for him.

Thus, he called it out with fervor as all the surroundings became painted with a hue of verdant green, only the surroundings of the Ninth Firmament existences denying the domain as the Flames of the White Dragon Emperor surrounding it tried to entirely burn away the green to not have any restrictions placed on it!

Vegetation began to bloom all around this locked down domain as multicolored Vines and flowers bloomed, large trees shockingly being seen taking root in space and growing out as they formed mesmerizing scenes of utter beauty.

The leaves were lush green and even shining gold on some, rivers of liquefied green essence also roaring out to fruition as they began to flow around the domain as with all the vegetation...it seemed as if a paradisiacal domain was growing out of the Throne of Unnamed Tyranny!

Scintillating illusory tendrils of green light surged from the domain to attach onto the throne, supplying the Emperor on it with power and might as the <Protection of the Plant Kingdom> was laid down.

Dazzling Runic Ecritures that stood for the word PLANT began to surround Noah in a shocking fashion, a layer of protection worth more than 1,000+ True Reality Defense Values bloomed around him in a stellar fashion!

After the Transcendent Plant Kingdom, the other unlocked ability from Antediluvian was the Eonic Cosmic Yggdrasil- a transformation ability that would grant Noah the form of a stellar Yggdrasil as his life force and protective capabilities would be boosted even further.

But he didn't adorn himself in this form as the Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline currently coursing through him wanted to take the reigns and establish its supremacy that even against other transformation abilities...it wanted to say that it could rival them in power and utilization as the blood within Noah boiled!

BZZZT!

As Noah spread out the Transcendent Plant Kingdom and continued to shoot out endlessly Unstable Cosmos from his throne, the surging flames around the White Dragon Emperor formed into tornadoes and hurricanes as the attacks of the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Humans were rendered useless amidst these storms- only Noah's exploding Unstable Cosmos and the sharp rivers of Reality rulers that Genevieve continued to spit out getting across.

"Mere ants under the Authority of this Emperor...<White Storm of the Beginning>!"

...!

Multicolored Essence of Reality flashed in the golden eyes of the majestic White Dragon Emperor as a terrible reality altering attack was thrown out!

A serious attack from this creature that was akin to Noah's ultimate abilities!

HOOOONG!

The surrounding space trembled and shook as even Noah's verdant domain trembled, the Flames around the White Dragon Emperor surging out as if they came to life and began to spin out crazily, destroying everything in their path as even space turned into an Unstable mess.

Beatrix and the expression of other Eighth Firmament Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Humans changed as their bodies felt immense danger from the coming storm, the middle aged Pure-Blooded Human coming to stand before them as his figure expanded out!

OOOOOH!

With a bellow, this being glimmered gold as he raised his hands, forming an illusory Cosmic circular domain that wrapped around everyone behind him.

Meanwhile, Empress Genevieve opened her jaws as the same rulers of Reality she used to attack came to wrap around her- surging over her body in a circular fashion as her black and white fur increased in their luster, with her eyes being entirely furious as she only batted her eyes towards the direction of a ridiculous Candidate Emperor of the coming Era!

How would he defend against an ultimate attack that caused billowing white storms of Flames to rage out everywhere- an attack that was more than likely within the range of 1,000-3,000 True Reality Damage Values due to the layering of power from Nine Ninth Firmament Enders?!

SHAAA!

The Throne of Unnamed Tyranny was filled with a myriad of colors as it was now surrounded by Runic Ecriptions that represented the Protection of the Plant Kingdom- this alone guaranteeing the absorption of 1,000 True Reality Defense Values.

But more than this, multicolored circular barriers of light began to rise as the enhanced auras from the now Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict of the Bulwark were called out, all of them amounting to more than 1,000 True Reality Defense Values!

Then, there was a single Runic Escripture of Defence that Noah had managed to cast that granted 540 True Reality Defense Values, four more on the way as soon as Noah recovered 4,000 Units of the Essence of Reality.

And after all this...he waved his Spear of Reality as he called upon his Natural Resources to enact Shields that could be kept active for as long as he lived!

Resource Shields that could be kept active with that specific resource, with Noah not being worried about the usage of Destiny and Fortune as even though they weren't limitless- his reserves were simply insane.

Multiple extra layers of glimmering circular barriers surrounded him as after all of these preparations...the raging <White Storm of the Beginning> descended onto the unshakable Throne of Unnamed Tyranny!

Chapter 1629 Merely a Remnant will! II

How was it possible?

This was the question ringing out over and over again in the mind of Genevieve as she stared at the Resplendent figure of the one she knew as Alexander in the corner of her eyes!

His throne was connected to a brand new verdant domain that supplied him immense waves of protection, even more layers of multicolored bubbles of light surrounding him as from the might alone, one would think a supremely powerful Ninth Firmament existence was casting all of these abilities.

'So how could you be doing this?!'

Maddening rage circled within Genevieve's mind as she felt like she was played with!

This being had acted weak as even now, no Reality Passages could be seen behind him as he shouldn't have broken his shackles yet.

And no other beings could confirm this more than Genevieve as she could still see the shackles around the body of this being- shackles that now when she looked closer, they seemed to be distinctly different from everyone else's!

'Looser?'

This was the first word that came when she looked at the shocking sight only her eyes could see.

He had the same shackles any existence who had not reached the Eighth Firmament of Ascendancy would have, and yet his shackles shockingly seemed loose as even though they were there, they seemed ready to simply fall off of him whenever he wished!

'What kind of being can break their shackles whenever they want...and you still don't?'

More and more questions buzzed from the mystery that was this being as Genevieve couldn't help but try to contain her rage. Would someone really dare to play tricks with someone like her? Some who had lived for so many years and knew so many truths!

Thus being before her seemed to be genuine as if everything about him was true as displayed...

'I truly must get my hands on him then...even if I have to irreparably injure my soul to regain my TABOO concepts!'

...!

The regaining of TABOO concepts! Only then would Empress Genevieve feel confident to dominate against this mysterious creature and even find his main body!

But for now, she could only watch his unbelievable feats as while surrounded by radiant multicolored Shields and spinning Runic Ecriptions filled with life force, the storm of Flames from the White Dragon Emperor descended.

HOOOOONG!

Ravaging and merciless, space and time seemed to be torn from these flames as they erased everything.

Even the figure of the Ninth Firmament Cardinal Royal Human protecting Beatrix and the others struggled as the Flames threatened to overwhelm him and the small domain he had protecting the others, his Origin burning with stellar Essence of Reality as he called out.

"PURE! BLOODED!"

BZZZT!

The austere character of PURE bloomed and revolved over his head as even such a powerful Ninth Firmament existence struggled within this storm that was the combined and enhanced attack of nine supremely powerful beings!

'Yet you...'

But the figure of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor floated atop his throne calmly as he even laid back on it as the storm descended..

His many multicolored Shields flickered, with some even fading as the moment the Flames should have erased the last set of shield, more seemed to propagate at that moment as the terrifying white flames melting everything didn't reach him!

Flames carrying with them heat equivalent to the destruction of any range of 1000-3000 True Reality Damage Values depending on which region you were standing in!

It was a type of attack that the truest upper tier of the Ninth Firmament could ever manage to release, and yet this being laid back on his throne as he faced it, his eyes releasing arcs of multicolored light when he realized it couldn't break through his last layers of defenses and he could apply more Shields before enough True Reality Damage came through.

"Haha..."

His boisterous laughter shockingly began to resound while he was surrounded by terrible storms of Reality rending flames!

"This...is my will!"

RUMBLE!

His words cut through the <White Storm of the Beginning> as even his Transcendent Plant Kingdom constantly regenerated, the Throne of this being moving from its anchored position and beginning to shoot forward towards the enraged visage of a fallen Emperor.

"My will...a mere remnant like you would never be able to match it!"

....!!!

Purely coincidental.

A point in destiny that was purely coincidental occurred as Noah had no idea of the true identity of Genevieve apart from her being from the Olden Times, and yet he utilized the word Remnant while addressing the fallen will of the White Dragon Emperor as when these words rang in the ears of the Empress...they thundered as if they were directed to her!

Even the three hidden existences in the mirror dimension paused slightly as even though nobody had any idea they were there, their illusory crowns spun as the words of the Emperor on the Throne seemed to challenge any and all past Emperors- his will challenging telling them that they could not compare!

As for Noah himself, he affirmed that he could handle something as shocking as a rough range of over 2,500 True Reality Damage Values at this moment. As long as the number didn't exceed this and the damage was carried over a few seconds, he could spam his Shields and Auras to offset it within moments.

It meant he could move freely as on the side of Defense...he could be considered to have exceeded any normal parameters as his True Sanguine Clone could have a level of safety so long as it was careful against this great enemy!

Now that Defense was covered...the time for truly overpowered offensive maneuvers came.

He had <Apocalyptic Erasure> that was further enhanced due to the elevation of Apocalypse to Quasi-TABOO, but this was just an ability that contended against the concepts of other beings as if they couldn't stand his will and soul, he could target the life and origin of their Existence, their memories, or their comprehension in Laws, Daos, and Edicts to all be under his control to erase.

He needed something that didn't just contend against concepts, but a pure offensive heavily damaging ability that would have a high quantification of True Reality Damage Values that could also be augmented by the Atlatl of Reality and utilized under the Authority of his Halos!

He could forge such an ability through forming another Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict...or he could just design the ability right then and there with <Skill Creation>.

He could even design an entire Skill Tree of heavily offensive targeted abilities based on others he had before, but edited to be capable of releasing power equivalent to the shattering of Realities!

As for what could make such a thing possible?

This was where the newly obtained <Reality Resource Points> that Noah had attained as loot from the elevated Resplendent Treasure Emperor came in!

Chapter 1630 Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree! I

In Noah's life, Skill Points had become Cosmic Resource Points, and now they became Reality Resource Points!

The skill points themselves were heavily used for Skill Trees and the elevation of skills, with the Cosmic Resource Points being even more wondrous as one could even assimilate their daos or complete their Edicts with them, along with the creation of ridiculous abilities.

Now, there came <Reality Resource Points>.

<Reality Resource Points>: A tremendous accumulation of Authority that is capable of Reality altering feats. A single Reality Resource Point allows for the completion of any Edict up to the Quasi-TABOO level, along with the complete change and elevation of any skill trees. A new type of skill tree known as a [Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree] can now be formed through Reality Resource Points, with the abilities cast from such a skill tree having increased affinity to the natural laws of Reality. The Reality Resource Points can also be permanently consumed to nourish the soul or to grant .01 True Reality Values permanently...

"Something that opens up a new world of possibilities..."

Noah's voice echoed out from his main body as his True Sanguine Clone withstood a ravaging storm of Flames from the White Dragon Emperor, this battle seemingly coming to a standstill once more under Noah's thoughts that were currently moving at high speeds while in the Cosmic Holy Land to achieve things before even an instant passed in the outside world!

His thoughts were now focused on Reality Resource Points and what he could make out of them, the core thing now being the upgrade to skill trees that through Reality Resource Points...Noah could now make [Keystone Ascendant Skill Trees].

Keystone! The central principle or idea that anything depends on, or some might even know of the idea about keystone species who affect their environment disproportionate to their relative abundance! Now, such an idea was applied to Noah's skill trees.

<Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree>: A unique concept that significantly affects the usage of specific Edicts and Reality altering concepts under the user. 5 of the strongest concepts under you can be chosen as the base sources of essence for a skill tree, with their Essence becoming fused seamlessly and holding increased affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality. When the abilities of the skills within the skill trees are cast, the possible reality altering effect released is something that wouldn't have been achievable before. Skills from previous skill trees can be taken and modified to birth new ones as they become Keystone Ascendant Skills that are only able to be cast through their specific 5 selected base Edicts...

This was the wonder before Noah's eyes!

This was also the answer for him to further elevated himself as forging a heavily offensive pathway would be a breeze as it would combine 5 of the strongest Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts he placed as the base!

Even stronger defensive capabilities can be called forth through a Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree in the near future as for now, Noah's first order of business was something heavily offensive.

OOOM!

His will surged within his soul as it searched the many concepts within them, wanting to combine old skills as well as forge new ones as at his fast rate of thought processing, he was done within mere moments.

But before he started...

"Grant Cessation, Commandment, Resplendent Treasure Emperor, Forgemaster, and Amelioration the tiers of Quasi-TABOO..."

BZZZT!

Five of the newly gained Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts from the Enders that Noah considered weak were shredded of their tiers as Noah's own concepts were elevated to Quasi-TABOO!

His soul surged with fervor and power as many abilities were elevated as along with it...multiple Ultra Rare Bloodlines were also born!

They were all on the same Tier as the Ultra Rare Bloodline that Bulwark had granted when it reached Quasi-TABOO as nothing ecstatic as the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline of the Infinite Willow Tree was granted. But...there was something unique with the now Quasi-TABOO Resplendent Treasure Emperor that had to be delved into later.

After this, Noah proceeded with the birth of the first Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree!

"Design the Keystone Ascendant Firmament Cataclysm Skill Tree...take the Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts of Apocalypse, Tyrannical Emperor, Sanguine Emperor, Cessation, and Commandment as the base. The skills to be altered and modified are Fireball, Sever, Sword of..."

His thoughts moved rapidly as his soul became covered by a unique authority, his ideas being analyzed as soon enough- a message arrived in his mind!

<The cost to bring the Keystone Ascendant Firmament Cataclysm Skill Tree into fruition is 1,000 Reality Resource Points. You currently have 1,233 Reality Resource Points.>

...!

He had obtained an abysmal number of Reality Resource Points barely over 100 from the Seventh Firmament Enders, but these points had jumped up greatly from the deaths of the Eighth Firmament Enders as he had more than enough for what he needed to do now!

"Proceed."

His command was given as the unique authority of Reality Resource Points glimmered and manifested as a multicolored light that wrapped over Noah's Origin and soul, etching unique Runic Ecritures within him as they were giving birth to a wondrous new concept.

A fantastical new concept as in no time...

<The Keystone Ascendant Firmament Cataclysm Skill Tree has been successfully designed!>

OOOM!

Austere waves of essence flashed out as Noah's mind received a burst of new information.

<Keystone Ascendant Firmament Cataclysm Skill Tree>(0/20):: An Ascendant Skill Tree born with the concepts of the Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts of Apocalypse, Tyrannical Emperor, Sanguine Emperor, Cessation, and Commandment as the base, with all abilities under this skill tree having Increased Affinity with the Natural Laws of Reality as when cast, Essence of Reality will naturally be mobilized from the surroundings to aid in their formation. It is created with the idea that all abilities from this skill tree will bring Cataclysm onto any existences ascending the Firmaments and to even stand a chance of challenging those who have exceeded the parameters of the Firmaments. Abilities include Ascendant Reality Fireball, Ascendant Sword of Reality, Ascendant Reality Sever, and Ascendant Noxious Rain.

A bloody new concept that would paint countless Realities with crimson gold blood bloomed at this moment!
