Chapter 1721 A Glorious Symphony of Peril and Opportunity! I

A LEGEND was making its way towards his destination!

This alarming reality set in as Noah's body rose, his exceedingly strong soul computing and calculating millions of things in less than a microsecond.

For a LEGEND to join the fray...this was a possibility with the actions that Noah was currently taking as after defeating so many Primordial Legions and with him even beginning to take out Adjudicator Legions, he wouldn't be allowed to continue reducing the power of Primordial Bloodlines as he would be stopped by any means necessary.

The only point was that...Noah expected this to be the last resort for the involved Primordial Bloodlines, not for it to happen even before he ended a few Adjudicator Legions!

But seeing the name Golden Eye got him to understand that it was due to the Dimensional Archaic Devil Bird and the other 2 Will Bearers he had killed that allowed the strings of destiny to pull this LEGEND here.

Everything had a cause and effect.

Things didn't just happen randomly as across the vast Realities, the weaving of destiny wrapped around every single creature!

If one couldn't have a level of control over this Destiny...they would find themselves nearly following along and falling to the whims of those who could steer their own destiny and the destiny of others.

So the problem was known as now, there was how Noah would react to it. After facing the Dream of the Fractured Wills in the Dream Dimension and even from what his own destiny was telling him about the LEGEND coming...he couldn't withstand such a level of beings currently.

Even with all he had achieved- it wasn't currently possible! The Primogenial Strata of the Soul alone was nothing compared to what an existence that had forged a Reality had achieved as against a LEGEND, Noah could at most match their Primogenial Soul to survive an attack...or at most two!

But only his soul would be able to survive.

His body and Origin that were still unranked...

'Hmm...'

The problem was a difficult one as Noah continued to think as not even a microsecond had passed yet!

The simplest thing to do was to run before the Emperor of the Golden Eye even arrived, Noah's destiny granting him such a chance. But...his soul could feel the strings and weaving of destiny as this option was one of the safest but least favorable ones as it wouldn't grant anything but safety.

Other pathways...

BZZZT!

Noah could feel the beginning of a glorious symphony when he thought about other pathways as they would be dangerous, but they would grant shocking rewards and opportunities that would aid Noah towards his own formation of a Reality!

'The answer is...' While the undeniable aura of a LEGEND neared, Noah remained right where he was as the Golden book in his hands fluttered.

His eyes released boundless beams of golden light as he sought a path until finally...

'Hoo, alright. Let's make sure not to lose a clone with this.'

WAA!

A plan gradually formed!

A Path to Victory was laid out as a moment later, Noah began to follow it!

All of Noah's Clones had their missions, but some had finished theirs faster as the True Sanguine Clone that had gone into the Forgotten Reality was now free.

And since he was, the plan that Noah was beginning to implement with the Emperor of the Golden Eye actually began with it- this figure disappearing from the Cosmic Holy Land and appearing in far away stretches of space!

Across the boundaries between Realities.

Some billions of light years away from the Clone that had been massacring Primordials.

OOOOM!

Three Adjudicator Legions of ferocious and regal Royal Cosmic Wolves could be seen as they had yet to separate into three and come towards Noah in different directions!

They weren't on any vessels as they warped around space and moved fast, the glorious visages of Ninth Firmament Royal Cosmic Wolves who could break apart the Natural Laws of Reality being in the lead.

Adjudicator Commanders that had reached a Legend's Visage!

They were three of the core Legions under the Cardinal Royal Cosmic Wolf Bloodline as on this mission, they had to wipe the stain that had managed to reap the lives of their fellow brethren so easily.

Yet as they were warping across space...

HUUUM!

The path they were taking buzzed with spatial essence as a powerful aura bloomed out.

BZZZT!

The bodies of the existences within three Adjudicator Legions tensed and exploded with power at such a scene as three Adjudicator Commander exploded out with their auras and power, an enormous Cosmic Wolf with a scar running over its left eye going forward and voicing out threateningly.

"Who dar-"

[HALT]

OOOM!

From the fingers of the True Sanguine Clone that had appeared, an Ecriture was writing with the authority of Commandment as this word blared out with mad power, the thousands of Primordials within the three Adjudicator Legions feeling immense weight and pressure as every single one became held down and could not move a single inch!

Three Primordial Adjudicator Legions!

Unlike the high tier Legions of the 5 Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines that contained a mixture of powerful Primordials, these three Legions were strictly made up of Royal Cosmic Wolves as they were all of the same quality.

At this moment, they were all brought to a halt from a single word that the Unnamed Kainos Emperor had written, only the Legend's Visage tier beings struggling as they were about to break free!

They didn't understand who this being that had appeared before them was as wondrously, Noah had gone after them before they even arrived towards the position of his clone- these three Legions needing to be cleared quickly before the arrival of the Emperor of the Golden Eye.

This was because they represented boundless droves of loot, but most importantly...the many Ninth and Eighth Firmament Wolves meant hundreds of Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts.

On top of what Noah already held, the remaining concepts he would get from them would allow him to achieve the first phase of what was required for him to participate in the symphony of destiny currently playing out!

Noah gazed at the struggling figure of the three Royal Cosmic Wolf Adjudicator Legions with a sharp light as these beings...didn't know what was coming and could not ride along the weaving of destiny.

Due to this...

<Ascendant Iridescent Soul Flames>

HUUUM!

Their fates were sealed as their destiny came to a close!

Chapter 1722 A Glorious Symphony of Peril and Opportunity! II

<Ascendant Iridescent Soul Flames>

HUUUM!

Space pulsed and cried out fearfully as the Primogenial Soul of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor commanded for sharp blue flames to bloom over every single existence before his eyes.

Excessively hot flames that burnt the soul more than anything else bloomed as Noah paid over 250,000 Units of the Essence of Reality to cast it over the wide distance and over thousands of beings!

But the results of it...

"Ah...!"

Only cries could be made before the thousands of inviolable True Reality Soul Damage Values utterly decimated their souls and made their bodies into empty husks with no controllers.

After their minds faded, the normal True Reality Damage Values from the cast skill appeared as they shredded apart their bodies into bloody paste that began to surge towards Noah- the Limit Breaking Arcadian Physique going towards completion as thousands of Eighth Firmament existences perished along dozens of Ninth Firmament Royal Cosmic Wolves!

And along with this...

When Noah eradicated the initial Legions of Royal Cosmic Wolves, Emyrean Elves, and Spirits...he had attained Shards of a Seed of Reality that would have allowed one to achieve 100 Billion Cosmos 100 times over.

At this time, he received genuine Seeds of Reality where each one allowed the full formation of the 100 Billion Cosmos requirement...and there were 856 of them as one could match the requirements to form a Reality over 800 times!

When Quintupled...

WAA!

The prompts about the Existential Pearls, Evolutionary Runic Lines of Ascendancy, and others rained down along with the addition of 9,374 Reality Resource Points for Noah to forge more costly Keystone Ascendant Skill Trees.

But none of these were what Noah wait truly looking for as in no time...

Hundreds of Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts flowed in as silently, three Adjudicator Legions were wiped out with the combination casts of 2 skills.

It was utterly dreadful, but it was the actions of an existence playing the glorious symphony of destiny!

As the Unnamed Kainos Emperor enjoyed the surging Edicts flowing into him, the Life Medallions of three Adjudicator Legions simultaneously shattered in the domains of the Royal Cosmic Wolves as alarm, shock, and rage reverberated throughout- such an unfolding reality being relayed to the Bloodline Master soon after.

Still in the pristine glacial hall of royalty and utter majesty, the enormous figure of the cerulean-furred Bloodline Master was cold as his voice echoed out while filled with boundless wrath and coldness!

"Send all of this information to our network and...apply to move the name of Noah Osmont to the Golden Primordial Blacklist!"

BOOM!

The rage of a ruler could be felt as he understood what the loss of three of their strongest Legions signified, their position in the Bloodline of Primordials being pulled down greatly as he wouldn't send any more of his forces to perish.

"And let Ancestral Beowulf know of all this...move fast!"

Strings of destiny silently moved as the actions of one being influenced the actions of another.

The Golden Primordial Blacklist.

A list where heinous criminals that couldn't be easily located and eradicated by even Primordial Adjudicators was formed!

It was also the list where the enemies of Primordials that had reached the stage of a LEGEND could be found.

It was also one of the tickets...that allowed Primordial LEGENDS to make a move against those that had not reached the Realm of Reality.

"Move fast!"

The rage of the Bloodline Master of the Cardinal Royal Cosmic Wolves was potent as he jumped atop the symphony of destiny as well!

BZZZT!

In the Cosmic Holy Land.

Noah's main body that was communicating with the Olden Will of the Forgotten Reality surged with maddening power as he took the Hundreds of Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts he already had and the hundreds more that were coming from the death of three Adjudicator Legions as soon after...the authority of the Sanguine Emperor was employed.

HUUM!

10 Brilliant obsidian Ascendancy Halos could be seen as they were littered with ancient Runic Ecritures and Eyes of Ascendancy, the additional 10 Halos Noah could have due to the authority of LETHE not being employed as even without them...

WAA!

An eleventh black Halo bloomed to life an instant later as 60 Corrupted Flames of Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts were seamlessly fused together.

The Olden Will of the Forgotten Reality that was in the middle of a conversation was shaken once more as it watched this scene- a scene of pure wonder where densely black Ascendancy Halos began to form around Noah's body as the Bloodlines of hundreds of Nomological Edicts began to be put together to form the remaining 20 Ascendancy Halos Noah had gained access to!

This...was only one of the things Noah had to do in order to guarantee his survival in the events to unfold.

As his main body surged with boundless power, his calculating eyes shone with vicissitude that didn't match his Age as he thought about the other side that would be required to put his plans to action.

'The millions of years of dreams should be coming to an end...'

His eyes seemed to peel across the layers of Dimensions and see extremely far away, moving the focus onto the True Sanguine Clone standing on the Sands of a dreamy kingdom, a multicolored light shooting from his head that relayed millions of years of dreams that were being watched by the Dream of Fractured Wills.

An existence in the form of a golden fox made of glittering crystallized golden sand, multicolored 9 tails shining behind it as pure golden wings of sandy light surged with power on his back!

Its eyes released boundless light with their cross-shaped Iris, this LEGEND actually licking its lips as it saw over 25 Millions of years of dreams.

After 1 million years, a new dream always started as it saw the unique dreams that the Unnamed Kainos Emperor would have!

BZZZT!

The light shooting out from Noah began to fizzle out as the dreams came to an end, his eyes fluttering open as they showed aged vicissitude of an existence that had gone through too much.

But this was merely the aftereffects of having his will and soul strengthened by going through millions of years of experiences in a matter of minutes!

The Dream of Fractured Wills looked at him with sharp eyes as a devilish smile formed across its animalistic face.

"Truly an interesting creature...very well."

BZZZT!

"The Golden Sand from the Fountain of Fractured Sands and the location of the Dream Inversion Bauble that Living Dreams and Nightmare LEGENDS are seeking at this very moment...shall be yours."

The location of a domain in the Dream Dimension that had LEGENDS fighting for an item that allowed one to turn their Dreams into Reality!

Everything had its part to play.

On the unfolding symphony of Destiny, Noah began to put many things together as for him to steer the chaotic weaving of destiny, the path of his Clones would have to converge as the outcome...was yet to be known!

Chapter 1723 A Glorious Symphony of Peril and Opportunity! III

The Fountain of Fractured Sands at the center of this kingdom released bursts of brilliant luster after its words, glimmering crystallized golden sand burning out from it in waves as it formed into a circular ball of blinding light!

"100,000 Units of Golden Sand should be more than enough for a Little Emperor below the stage of a LEGEND to play with."

BZZZT!

The glimmering ball of Golden Sand floated towards Noah as he swiped his hands to put it away quickly, a requirement of a goal having been achieved as even the Kainos Orb of Transmogrification was all that closer to being forged among other TABOO Items!

He gave a nod of appreciation to the nine tailed Living Legend before him as the cross shaped eyes of this creature flashed, a beam of golden Essence shooting out.

"The location of the Dream Inversion Bauble is here, and it depends on your own talent if you can actually locate and reach it...but again, there are Living LEGENDS and Nightmares conflicting over it a puny little thing like you might perish just from the residual essence of their attacks!"

The beam of golden light carried with it information of coordinates that were unlike any others, and this was because they pointed to somewhere abstruse in the Dream Dimension!

Domains of Space were constantly changing in such a location as in a matter of minutes, they could be at an entirely different place.

But the coordinates Noah received had an anchor that he could grasp onto even if things changed, and he could guarantee finding his way to this location as at this moment- the authority of the Gazer and the Watcher erupted out!

He had the location and idea in mind...and these two authorities would lock onto it and find it no matter what.

As his eyes flashed with light and he ascertained the location, he gazed at the mesmerizing LEGEND before him that caused one to feel a shocking sense of suffocation.

"You don't want to fight for the Dream Inversion Bauble yourself? A new Era is blooming as destiny can be grasped by anyone who seeks it!"

He was probing the intent of this Living Dream before him as its exceedingly beautiful animalistic face smiled, its eyes releasing luminous luster as its body actually exploded back into golden sand.

"I have lived for too long and experienced too much. I only wish to dream at this moment as the struggle for Supreme Power...I have already experienced it once before falling down as I do not wish for it again!"

WAA!

The ideology of this LEGEND was unique...but this was a disposition of a Living Dream LEGEND that had its own history.

Noah nodded at its words as his body began to rise, watching as the exploded body of the Living Dream LEGEND returned back into the dreamy kingdom, the countless Living Dreams within it becoming active again as men, women, and children started moving about like normal.

The golden fountain holding an overabundance of Golden Sand continued to flow as Noah gave a nod of respect to this location and the Living Dreams within it.

"Thank you. If it is Destined, we shall meet again!"

SHAA!

After his words ended, he shot out like a flash of light as he was truly in a hurry- the events around him happening too fast!

In the vast stretches of the dream kingdom he was flying away from, the countless Living Dreams within it all turned to gaze towards him silently, the singular will of a LEGEND imposing over all of them having a terrifying thought as he gazed at Noah's retreating figure.

'I have met many Chosen Emperors across the Ages...and only a few gave me the same feeling as him.'

OOOM!

'To struggle for power in this Age?'

The thoughts of the Living LEGEND seemed to carry despondency and defeat as they continued on!

'It is insurmountably harder than any of the previous Ages. The actions of that personage have made it so. The Chosen Emperors trying to achieve anything in this era...you all will be the most pitiable creatures out there!'

The beings with an overabundance of Destiny...being the most pitiable creatures in the unfolding Era? It was a thought that anyone hearing would say it didn't make sense.

This weakened Living LEGEND seemed to know many things, his thoughts leaving behind shocking secrets and implications as the being it had just met continued on his way without knowing any of this!

BZZT!

Like a golden flash of light, Noah tore across the wisps of swirling sand as he warped across space in the Dream Dimension.

This was extremely dangerous as a single warp could land him in a vastly different location due to the unique nature of the Dream Dimension, but he had a set destination in mind as he had the authorities of the Gazer and Watcher leading him there along with Sandman!

He followed the strings of destiny and dreams as for the Dream Inversion Bauble that would help him turn a Dream into a Reality...he had to get his hands on it no matter what.

The problem was that Living Dream LEGENDS and Nightmares were circling this object as the only path Noah saw that left behind wisps of possibility...was the path that the current symphony of destiny that seemed to be buzzing in his ears constantly.

It would involve many intricate parts as the risk of his Clones perishing was high...but Noah still took this risk as the possible rewards were ones that he had to acquire no matter what.

'Faster...'

BZZZT!

Ascendancy Halos erupted around the Noah in the Dream Dimension as they currently towered over 21- and these were without even the utilization of LETHE as Noah continued to fuse together the Bloodlines of the Quasi-TABOO Edicts he had gained to achieve the most optimal state!

Chapter 1724 A Glorious Symphony of Peril and Opportunity! Iv

All the preparations were going smoothly as Noah was calculating for any and all possibilities.

In the space where he had remained all this time to eradicate Primordial Legions.

The surroundings of this location were bright with essence at this moment as another True Sanguine Clone was sent to wipe out the remaining forces sent out by Primordial Bloodlines, this other clone retaining its position here as it waited for a particularly terrifying personage!

The body of this clone was buzzing with Ascendancy Halos as another Halo would be added after a few seconds, where in the next minute...30 brilliantly flashing obsidian Halos came to undulate over his body seamlessly.

The number of Halos that only those at the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy should hold pulsed around him with unbound majesty, and this wasn't enough as soon after, the authority of a TABOO Relic flashed as an additional 10 Halos were added.

HUUUM!

40 brilliantly Halos filled with swirling Runic Ecriptions and pulsing Eyes of Ascendancy could be seen as they reflected Noah's hardened expression.

Since what was to come was about to be extremely perilous, Noah acted because he knew there would still be a path to victory- if everything went according to plan that is!

And now, he moved to call out one of the cards that made him bold enough to try this.

"Fuse."

RUUUMBLE!

The 40 Ascendancy Halos blared out like horns signaling the end as even before the enemy arrived, Noah fused with a number of Halos that even Ninth Firmament existences could not attain.

10 Halos held 600 Concepts within them as it was an entirely ridiculous notion, bringing the total of Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts that Noah contained within 40 to be 2,400!

This was the result of farming and utilizing a majority of the Olden Orbs of Transmogrification, a shocking truth that a single existence who had yet to become a LEGEND held such a number of concepts even before breaking his shackles!

His Ascendancy Value alone should exceed any common Ninth Firmament existence, but no Reality Passages could be seen around him as he fused with 40 Ascendancy Halos.

The True Form that he would take!

<Under the fusion of your Ascendancy Halos, you can attain your True Form that traces all the way back to your roots. Due to the remodeling of your body and soul when awakening your Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline, your true nature is what you choose. Possible True Forms for you to select from are: Human, Unnamed Kainos Tyrant, Arcadian Tyrant, Samsara Universal Origin, Samsara Cosmic Origin, Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Human, Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Infinite Willow Tree, Destiny Goblin Emperor, Cardinal Royal Cosmic Wolf, Cardinal Royal Spirit, Cardinal Royal Empyrean Elf...>

And his thoughts moved with surety.

'Cardinal Royal Spirit.'

HOOOONG!

Fantastical splendor shot out with ridiculous power that was accompanied by a blinding cerulean light!

Not the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Human, or even Infinite Willow Tree...or even his Samsara Cosmic Dao Origin form.

He instead chose the Spirit Race that he had just attained from wiping out their Legion that was led by Commander Cox...why was this?!

<You have taken the form of the Cardinal Royal Spirit while fused with your 40 Black Tier Ascendancy Halos.>

<You have lost your physical body and attained an incorporeal form, the base of your existence being supported mainly by your soul and Origin!>

HUUUUM!

<In the Cardinal Royal Spirit True Form, the strength of your Primogenial Soul is Elevated three times. Due to the form being brought out with the authority of 40 Black Tier Ascendancy Halos, the full elevation of Primogenial Soul Strength becomes ten times.>

Noah's body exploded out with incandescent light as it turned into a mass of pure essence, blooming into an incorporeal cerulean form of a Spirit that seemed to constantly be a blob of interchanging forms!

<All attacks and abilities are now cast with a single authority while in this form, allowing your base values and skills to obtain a multiplier of 2,500 to your True Reality Damage Values and True Reality Defense Values.>

<As a Cardinal Royal Spirit in your True Form, all True Reality Damage and Defense Values are converted to True Reality Soul Damage and Defense Values as you attain 90% Immunity to True Reality Physical Damage Values. >

WAAA!

Yes!

This was the first weapon Noah had that granted him a level of confidence to survive- even if it was ever so briefly, against a LEGEND.

Since he had attained the Primogenial Strata of the Soul, why shouldn't he use this as his strongest point?

Since his soul was strongest, he let go of his physical form as he only had his soul and Origin to depend on!

This was a factor that made the Cardinal Royal Spirit Race powerful- that they were pure Spirits in form as they were mainly immune to physical damage.

But just like all existences...they still held their Origins.

And this was another case that would be Noah's weakness even though he let go of his physical body- his Origin was still that of a Cosmic Filament that only held 10 Billion Cosmos!

But...his fused form with 40 Black Tier Ascendancy Halos granted a 2,500 multiplier.

This was dreadful by itself as when he fused with 10, it was a 500 multiplier. And depending on the Form he took, he was granted an additional 250 multiplier either to True Reality Damage or Defense Values!

The form of a Cardinal Royal Spirit didn't grant extra Damage or Defense Values, with its perk being converting normal True Reality Damage and Defense Values to True Reality SOUL Damage and Defense Values as when Noah took on the forms of Infinite Willow Tree or Samsara Cosmic Dao Origin...his multiplier would probably be raised far above 2,500.

"A 2,500 multiplier should be more than enough..."

OOM!

His voice had turned ancient and regal as he spoke mesmerizingly in his new form, his figure being that of a mass of ever changing cerulean mass that had 10 pairs of multicolored wings sprouting behind it.

The Runic Ecriptions of MANA, PURE, RULE, and LIFE surged around him in a magisterial fashion as even pulses of VITALITY could be seen every now and then hidden deep within him, a resounding symphony resonating with them in a shocking crescendo!

The first card to play in just being able to survive and withstand a coming LEGEND was played and ready.

There was still another that Noah had to play to ensure that things went according to plan from here on out!

Chapter 1725 The Undeniable Might of a LEGEND! I

Unseen waves of destiny surged around Noah as he planned to face off against a terrifying force- where even before the battle began, he knew that victory was off the table.

This wasn't him not believing in himself and his own power...but it was purely from inferences and calculations drawn of the stage of Reality as beings at this stage were simply monstrous to face off against if you weren't in the same stage of power!

Yet even while knowing all of this, Noah did stay as he pulled in the coming LEGEND, many plans and schemes blooming in his mind.

His first card had been played as he took the True Form of a Cardinal Royal Spirit, all of his defensive skills beginning to be cast as his main body was consuming Ascendant Flasks of Life and Death whenever it was required.

Auras, Resource Shields, Runic Ecriptions of Defense...every single Defense type ability apart from the Shield of Oblivion was cast as from rough estimation with all of his True Reality Defense Values boosts, the number before the authority of his fused form was enacted should be around a 600 average for his abilities.

Multiplied by 2,500...that was a base of 1,500,000 True Reality Soul Defense Values!

That 1.5 million...was for every cast ability of Defense.

Every Resource Shield.

Every Aura.

Every Runic Ecription of Defence!

It was utterly wild as when the multiple layers of skills were accounted for, True Reality Soul Damage upwards of over 10,000,000 had to be dealt in order to bypass all the thick layers of defense Noah had surrounded himself in.

And this was before he further utilized the Keystone Ascendant Soul Emperor Skill Tree Abilities and the Shield of Oblivion- the heavy drainage of the Essence of Reality for these abilities requiring them to be utilized in the most dangerous times!

But over 10 Million barriers of Defense Values...

"Should be enough to withstand at least 2 strikes of a LEGEND...right?"

His eyes flashed with calculations as he sought knowledge from Destiny, giving himself more of a cushion of protection as he nodded and looked at the second trump card he had to play.

Around his glimmering figure of an incandescent Spirit surrounded by multicolored barriers and Auras, one could see the appearance of the Appendage of the Ruined Emperor and a few other Remnant Relics that were collected from the Forgotten Reality- Relics that at this moment in time would allow for the unfolding of a glorious Reality!

Apart from the finger shining with Cosmos, there was half a skull of a Nymph that was could release a range of 1,000-5,000 True Reality Damage Values depending on the caster.

There was also an enormous obsidian tongue that pulsed with arcs of light, this being termed the as it could release a sea of poisonous essence once that dealt a base True Reality Damage Value of 2,500!

In total, 8 of such Remnant Relics floated around Noah as it represented over 8 attacks at the stage of a LEGEND that Noah could release- and it was considered over 8 because there were some like the Appendage of the Ruined Emperor that could be utilized twice before their will faded.

Even with all the cards he had collected around him, Noah in no way believed he could win a match against a LEGEND as his destiny affirmed this over and over again every time he checked.

The purpose of all these was to buy time.

Time for him to achieve his goal and snatch a vibrant opportunity that he would have no chance to obtain otherwise!

Time trickled down.

Two of his cards were revealed as there was actually a third one being set in place right now that would come to be known in time- this card Noah setting up for any confounding variables that could rise.

With the passage of time, the horror-inducing might of a LEGEND neared.

A being that could entirely outclass those of the lower stages as even Noah attaining the Primogenial Strata of the Soul allowed him to thrash most existences in the Firmaments of Ascendancy!

In the next three seconds...the barreling aura of a LEGEND would arrive as at this time...

"Hooo..."

Noah breathed out as he straightened himself- and then he made his move!

BOOOOM....CRACK!

The space behind him split apart and shattered as Noah's Primogenial Strata of the Soul that was granted the authority to see the veils of and cross Dimensions utilized its authority.

He pulled upon the Essence of a Dimension he had now gained some ability to as was called upon, his surroundings becoming filled with wondrous clouds of gold light and surging golden Sands as a gateway to the Dream Dimension was open!

Yes!

The latest_epi_sodes are on_the LIBREAD.COM. website.

The battle...wouldn't even be taking place within the boundaries of the vast Realities!

HOONG!

With purpose, Noah's body sank into the gateway of the Dream Dimension as the Appendage of the Ruined Emperor and the other 7 Remnant Relics were anchored around his body as they followed him tightly.

He pulled into the gateway as even before waiting for the full arrival of the Emperor of the Golden Eye, he began to shoot across the barriers of the Dream Dimension and make way towards a certain location that he had obtained after allowing a unique LEGEND to experience millions of years of his Dreams!

WAA!

The moment he left, the surroundings of the space trembled and oozed out essence as a massive existence appeared.

"Hmmm?"

A massive existence as its size was vaster than tens of thousands of Cosmos, being capable of exceeding the size of a river of Reality as fantastically- it was an enormous figure of a single winged golden eye!

The pairs of wings behind it were painted with an ancient visage of gold and white, its Eye itself having a constantly changing Iris that seemed to reflect innumerable Cosmos.

Space shuddered at its mere presence as with a stature of a genuine Reality, the Emperor of the Golden Eye appeared!

Chapter 1726 The Undeniable Might of a LEGEND! II

The moment that the Emperor of the Golden Eye appeared, it saw the closing gateway into the Dream Dimension as its brow shot up with power!

"You sensed my coming?"

It was surprised that a lower existence had actually been able to sense that it was making its way here, this existence even having enough time to evade as this was a rare occurrence.

Those who weren't Legends...could not fathom the movements of LEGENDS. For this Noah Osmont to sense him and 'barely' just leave to try and run...

"Your Destiny seems to be exceptional...then let us see if it will hold."

BOOOM!

The Emperor of the Golden Eye blared out with authority as the small gateway into the Dream Dimension that was closing suddenly ruptured and broke into a humongous rift, Dream Essence shooting out everywhere in a terrific manner as the body of this LEGEND turned into a streak of light that tunneled into the gateway!

It took off in the same spatial direction as Noah as it seemed to be capable of seeing a trail of essence, heading right towards its target as it thought this being had exceptional essence to be able to run just seconds before it appeared.

What this LEGEND didn't know was that Noah had found out about its coming minutes ago...and could have long left and erased all traces if he wished!

BZZZT!

Spatial storms formed and crackled as they tried to reject the vibrant Dream Essence spreading out and close the widened rift, the Natural Laws of Reality weaving to restore things to order as it all seemed to be calming down.

The widened gateway into the Dream Dimension slowly closed, but right before it snapped entirely shut...

HOOONG!

The reflection of an astounding visage could be seen on the Dream Essence as it showed a scene of the Boundary Between Realities where Noah had massacred many Primordial Legions.

From a different direction than the Emperor of the Golden Eye had arrived in but holding an even more vibrant stature, the visage of a massive Wolf that seemed capable of devouring Realities whole appeared.

AWOOO!

A harrowing howl boomed out as the almost healed Dimensional Gateway was ruptured maddeningly yet again, a glorious Visage of another existence tearing through it and following the trail of essence!

The weaving of destiny reached an astounding crescendo as even with many plans, things could always and most of the time always do go differently than one expects!

In the Dream Dimension.

The Noah that had left the Dream of Fractured Wills had been making way across the confounding clouds and Sands of gold light of this unique dimension, his heart knowing that he was barely in the periphery of this vast and endless Dimension as he warped across it.

He had been traversing for quite some time as the eyes of the Gazer and Watcher brought him ever closer to the location that should hold the Dream Inversion Bauble, and he slowed down at this moment while a golden book fluttered within his hands!

He neared this terrifying location that the Dream of Fractured Wills had told him held multiple Living Dream LEGENDs and Nightmares, making his aura silent and abstruse with the authority of LETHE as he slowly read the pages of the golden book.

When one broke apart the veils of golden sand and entered this region that was as vast as a Reality, they come face to face with billowing typhoons and swirling tornadoes of Unstable Dream Essence that more often than not gave birth to Nightmares, the entire domain seeming like a hellish nightmare as surges of dreadful arcs of energy coiled into storms that constantly formed and reformed across the Dream Hellscape.

Yet currently, there was a level of calmness to this Hellscape as the vibrant aura of 6 existences were spread out to stabilize things- with these auras also causing a sense of instability as they were clashing against each other, with neither side making a move!

This was a stalemate between these 6 beings that had been held for a few years now, with all of them having fought more than 20 times in this period of time as there was no victor even after all these battles!

So they bid their time and waited for the tides of changing destiny as it was three Living Dream LEGENDs and three Nightmare LEGENDs whose auras swept out and were all focused on a single floating object at the center of this Dream Hellscape.

The object born from this spatial domain that was widely known as one of the Supreme TABOO Dream Treasures one could find if they scoured across the Dream Dimension.

The Dream Inversion Bauble!

An object that could allow one to turn their dream into reality!

It shone with an incandescent light as its form couldn't be clearly seen, and it pulsed with a dim light of dreams as it was unaffected even while surrounded by the hungry eyes of LEGENDs on all sides...>

The latest_epi_sodes are on_the LIBREAD.COM. website.

WAA!

Noah's heart pulsed with calmness and an erratic feeling that wasn't fear...but a slow sense of excitement and carefulness as he knew he was walking on a tight rope that could snap at any moment.

6 Living Dream and Nightmare LEGENDS.

These were the existences he had to somehow bypass if he wanted to get his hands on the object that would allow his dreams to turn into a reality- a task that would have been impossible for Noah at this stage as his concept of an Infinite Physique that constantly refined his body would never be able to be formed!

And he wanted to achieve it before becoming a LEGEND...but the resource itself was guarded by LEGENDS as it was an insurmountable mountain to cross.

Insurmountable...unless one could effectively pull upon the weaving of destiny and play to the tune of a dangerous symphony!

Unless one took a risk...the rewards would never come!

So Noah took the risk.

His soul in the Dream Dimension found the location of the Dream Inversion Bauble as thereafter, he remained still and continued doing the job that was even more important than any of those relegated to other clones at this moment- collecting more information and reading the weaving of destiny!

Chapter 1727 The Undeniable Might of a LEGEND! III

Noah continued to read the pages of the Golden Book in his hands as his form remained hidden from any prying eyes.

<..Noah's Cardinal Royal Spirit Form tore across the eaves of the Dream Dimension as 8 palpating Remnant Relics followed him closely, his visage only leaving behind after images as he should be nearing the speed of weak LEGENDS as he entirely exceeded the boundaries of the Firmaments of Ascendancy!

He was making his way towards none other than the location that his soul that had been moving in the Dream Dimension had found- the Dream Hellscape that held 6 Living Dream and Nightmare LEGENDS as that was where this symphony of destiny and opportunity would unfold.

It was never about the impossible task of battling and winning against a LEGEND- it was all to somehow create an opportunity to obtain a treasure that even LEGENDS sought with all their being.

BOOOM!

Noah's True Sanguine Clone turned its will behind it to notice a shocking visage of a golden eye tearing apart the veils of Dream Essence even faster than him, the barreling might of a LEGEND booming out as it even caused his incorporeal form to feel a stifling sensation...but that was it.

"Hoo..."

He could withstand it.

He did not falter against the oppressive pressure as his Primogenial Soul and all the protective abilities around him did not make him kneel the moment a LEGEND appeared!

SHAA!

He tore across space as the visage of the Emperor of the Golden Eye became larger and larger, Mana and the Essence of Reality burning within his Origin as many abilities began to be cast to delay the path of the coming enemy.

Unbeknownst to him though, it wasn't only the visage of a single LEGEND nearing as from afar, the Ancestral BEOWULF had taken the words of the Bloodline Master of the Royal Cosmic Wolves to heart as he also joined the fray!....>

RUUMBLE!

Destiny shook unstably around Noah as he read such a script and felt his scalp tingle, his eyes releasing beams of resplendent light as unexpected and confounding possibilities that could arise...actually rose up.

The weaving of destiny became more chaotic and uncontrollable.

It might have overwhelmed any other being, but Noah could feel the beat of his heart actually become calmer as his eyes shone with increasing intensity!

The last card he had up his sleeves to give him a level of cushion against the terrors he was about to face would now have to come into play much earlier than expected!

Behind the True Spirit Form, the boundless Visage of the Emperor of the Golden Eye bloomed out as with little time, this terrifying creature could visually see Noah with its maddening gaze. It observed his form and all the things around him as it boomed out.

"Little Thing, where is the Disaster Remnant...and why have you been massacring Primordials?"

WAA!

The voice was filled with age as one could feel boundless coldness within it!

It contained a feeling of this being overseeing everything from above- a feeling of apathy as if everything was in the palm of its hands.

Now that the Emperor of the Golden Eye had located Noah Osmont, he didn't even seem in a hurry as he first sought answers!

Noah's gaze was serene as he continued forward with utter focus and purpose, every part of his soul actively dancing and buzzing either energy as even though this being had asked a question, he didn't even wait for an answer as his body had already begun to buzz with power.

"Stop for me." F

BZZZT!

The winged Golden Eye flashed as from it, a single ability was cast.

<Nymph's Entrapment>.

A single ability...and yet it showed one of the fundamental differences between those who were LEGENDS and those who were not as something horrific unfolded soon after!

OOOM!

Behind Noah, the surroundings actually shifted and changed as the mere casting of a skill from a LEGEND altered the very Reality itself, a glimmering archaic forest blooming as at its center, the incorporeal form of a creature from an Ancient Bloodline materialized.

Verdant leaves painted the body of the Nymph as its curvaceous humanoid form shone with ancient waves of essence and danger, its pairs of eyes showing a blank green light as they contained no signs of life within them! Yet...the hands of this incorporeal form of a Nymph moved as resplendent tree trunks shining with the allure of Cosmos stretched out en masse towards Noah.

The Cosmos contained in the verdant gold trunks seemed to spin and turn with purpose, shocking power contained within them as uniquely, they only caused the space they passed through to warp!

They covered everything as they seemed ready to surround and capture him in an instant, this being unlike any skill Noah had seen or cast before as the mere casting allowed for the embodiment of the skill to form!

This was something unique that only LEGENDS were capable of doing, something that was termed...REIFICATION.

REIFICATION!

The act of making something abstract more real and concrete!

A type of power that only those that had formed a Reality could utilize where the casting of their skills caused a manifestation and a personification of their abilities to form!

Their cast abilities underwent a change as if an existence in the Firmaments of Ascendancy had cast , it would have shot out verdant green chains like thick branches of light towards their enemies. But the casting of this ability from a LEGEND caused a manifestation to occur as if the skill itself gained sentience...the cast ability undergoing REIFICATION from the unique resonance of Origin, Body, and Soul that had all undergone a fundamental change when one entered the stage of Reality.

HOOONG!

Countless thick verdant chains shot out towards Noah as it didn't even feel like his enemy was the Emperor of the Golden Eye and it was instead this massive blank-faced Nymph from ancient times!

His soul only buzzed briefly from being exposed to this for the first time as a command left his will, a Remnant Relic being activated beside him to overcome this great ordeal.

The Appendage of the Ruined Emperor flashed as tens of thousands of the Essence of Reality surged into it, the remnant will within it waking as it roared out with fervor.

A range of 1000-5000 True Reality Damage Values could be enacted from this Remnant Relic as Noah had exceeded all boundaries of the Firmaments of Ascendancy with his soul, and his current form that was purely made of his soul pulled upon everything this Remnant Relic had to offer as the maximum 5,000 Damage Values were achieved!

5,000 that then received Noah's own 700-something base boosts to Damage Values from his Physiques and items, and it was then multiplied by his 2,500 multiplier from fusing with 40 Black Tier Ascendancy Halos.

The Ancient finger that traced its Origins back from the Age of Destiny trembled as a blinding and domineering light shot out from it, sundering nearby space to utter white as it erupted out!

Chapter 1728 The Undeniable Might of a LEGEND! IV

What was the base Damage Value of a LEGEND?

With over 10 Million True Reality Soul Defense Values surrounding him from barriers and shields, Noah had pondered on whether he could at least withstand two strikes from a genuine LEGEND.

From this, one could infer that the base Damage Value of existences that had undergone the fundamental change of the Origin, Body, and Soul to step into the Realm of Reality was approximately 5 Million Damage Values!

And this...was a base Value as it could greatly fluctuate based on the LEGEND casting anything.

One also couldn't just look at it purely as a number since from the arsenal of LEGENDS, they could also allow their abilities to under REIFICATION as there were even a class of abilities and skills that traced back to the previous Era- Pure Reification Skills that could only be cast by LEGENDS.

Their abilities gained personification and materialized into something fantastical as they could even react to the actions of the enemies before they disappeared!

It was a wonder only LEGENDS could enjoy as when Noah faced it, he could only start off with the Appendage of the Ruined Emperor as with its activation, pure unadulterated Soul Damage Values bloomed out due to Noah's unique true form, a remnant will roaring out as a thick and bloody raging crimson sea barreled out to cover everything.

It bloomed to be just as vast as the thick forest accompanying the Reified Nymph as even though the one who cast it could not cause the Will of the Ruined Emperor to undergo REIFICATION, the Primogenial Strata of the Soul of the Caster still caused a wondrous phenomenon to bloom as the Damage Values of this ability caused it to blare out with astounding majesty!

Over 12 Million Damage Values.

Not just True Reality Damage Values- but strictly of the Soul as they were even more potent than anything else!

This was because all beings had the soul as the weak aspect of their being, so having a purely soul-based damage value was rather frightful as the bloody sea blooming from the ancient Appendage near Noah roared out with maddening fury that went on to drown the archaic forest and the Nymph within it.

HOOOOONG!

Space quaked and tumbled as the blank eyes of the Reified Nymph weaved to try and move its endless golden verdant trunks, but the thick viscous bloody sea stuck onto everything as it caused them to decay instantaneously, the Remnant Will of this Appendage roaring out as after drowning the Ancient forest, it went out to blanket the Emperor of the Golden Eye behind it!

BOOOM!

Dream Essence unfurled and coiled as the visage of this great LEGEND actually came to a halt.

"Hmmm..."

Its aged voice could be heard as the viscous bloody sea cast out slowly dissipated, the archaic forest and the Nymph nowhere to be seen as one could only observe ravaging arcs of bloody light surging over the pristine figure of the Winged Golden Eye that was this LEGEND.

A True Reality Soul Damage Value greater than two times the base attack of a LEGEND. It was enough to erase a Reified Ability and even have its aftereffects stop a LEGEND momentarily, the Emperor of the Golden Eye actually facing an attack that caused its defenses to light up as it had to now take this seriously!

Even though its body, Origin, and Soul were unique as they held the shocking mystery and secrets of a LEGEND, pure Soul Damage above 10 million still affected this being somewhat as it was even forced to come to a stop on its chase- such a level of pure Soul Damage not being something that common LEGENDS could dish out freely. Such damage...still affected the Emperor of the Golden Eye.

This was because against an existence in the Firmaments of Ascendancy...a portion of the Soul Damage actually reached a LEGEND!

It wasn't ground down to negligible damage due to the difference in Strata as for it to halt the Emperor of the Golden Eye, its caster had to be....

"A Limit Breaker that has achieved a Primogenial Strata in the aspect of...the soul?"

RUUUMBLE!

The will of the Emperor of the Golden Eye churned with majesty and grandeur as it quickly ascertained the enemy that didn't stop for even a second, using the time bought to halt it to pull away even further as his trail could barely be discerned.

BZZZT!

The Golden Winged Eye shook off the residual wrath of the Appendage of the Ruined Emperor as it got back on the chase, but not before its aged voice made preparations.

<Nymph's Bastion of Yggdrasil>.

Another REIFICATION ability was cast as uniquely, the techniques this LEGEND had seemed to be linked closely to this single Ancient Bloodline, its massive figure getting back on the trail of Osmont while closely protected as behind it, a holy verdant white form of a Nymph formed as its hands drizzled an astounding barrier of light that cascaded to protect this LEGEND on all sides!

It was an astounding scene as just when the chase continued, the brow of the Golden Eye rose to spread some of its will behind it as it felt a familiar aura shooting towards the same direction.

HOOONG!

The blaring horn of an Apocalypse could be heard as a cerulean light approached, this light carrying a familiarity that caused the Emperor of the Golden Eye to not make any moves as this LEGEND actually allowed this aura to come in close and move across space beside it!

The cerulean light faded to soon reveal a massive figure of an incandescent wolf, the Emperor of the Golden Eye having long ascertained the identity of this being as all Primordial LEGENDS could very easily distinguish themselves through certain means.

"Beowulf."

BZZT!

The aged voice of the Golden Eye raged out as it locked onto the ferocious figure of an enormous cerulean furred wolf that could devour Realities whole.

Glacial storms surrounded its very fur as its eyes carried intense coldness and apathy, nodding towards the LEGEND beside it as it got right to the point.

"Golden Eye. For you to not instantly capture him...is he a LEGEND that has been preying on my Bloodline?"

Space quaked as glacial storms formed from the mere coldness alone that this being displayed as the will of the Golden Eye refuted.

"No. It is just an existence at the Primogential Strata of the Soul, and he holds Relics that can call upon wills capable of releasing somewhat serious True Reality Soul Damage."

Information was freely shared between the Primordial LEGENDS as they got back on the trail of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor, their bodies releasing intense coldness and power as Noah's ordeal became all that much heavier!

Chapter 1729 The Undeniable Might of aLEGEND! V

"A Limit Breaker of the Primogential Strata..."

An Archaic voice echoed out as the Dream Essence in the surroundings seethed, the massive figure of a cerulean wolf whose very fur crackled with the boundless essence of Cosmos shooting across this space with an equally massive Golden Eye beside him!

Both of them had glimmering crowns above their heads to show their authority and visage as wondrously- these two Primordial LEGENDS were chasing after a single existence that was still in the Firmaments of Ascendancy.

"He's involved in more than just the destruction of a few Legions. He has connections to a particularly dangerous Disaster Remnant that I cannot ascertain the source of."

The voice of the Emperor of the Golden Eye resounded out as behind this LEGEND's body, one could see an incandescent figure of a Nymph that seemed to be made of vibrant green Cosmos, her hands washing down a barrier of resplendent light onto this Golden Winged Eye as this was merely a passive defensive REIFICATION Skill cast by this being.

The eyes of the Ancestral Beowulf released a sharp light at these words as it shot out like a blue arrow of light, its voice seething with coldness as it pulled forward.

"If he is truly a Limit Breaker, then that is an achievement enough to grant a solidified Candidacy. An easy meal for us to enjoy as I had been chasing down the hiding vestiges of the Qilin Ancient Bloodline for naught this whole time..."

A devilish smile that shows white teeth burning with blue flames formed on the face of this terrifying being as he was much faster than even the Emperor of the Golden Eye!

"I'll pull ahead first and contain him, Golden Eye."

SHAA!

With such words and horrific speed, the Ancestral BEOWULF pulled forward as he picked up on the aura and figure of Noah soon enough!

If nothing was done within a few microseconds, this LEGEND was bound to catch up as his cold blue eyes already locked onto the 8 Remnant Relics surrounding the barely discernible figure up ahead.

Preparations were made for the Emperor of the Golden Eye as there was one last card that Noah had saved for any rising emergencies.

A second LEGEND joining the fray was even more dreadful than an emergency as at this moment, the last card was played!

"Hmm?"

The lustrous fur of the Ancestral Beowulf fluttered with immense glory as it found blinding pillars of dreadful laser focused light shooting towards it from different directions.

The pillars of light seemed like glimmering sharp rivers of Reality, each one pulsing unstably with power as they seemed to be halfway towards the attack of a beginner LEGEND!

One of these Unstable rivers of light shot out from the rushing figure holding the form of a Cardinal Royal Spirit up ahead as it contained pulsing waves of Soul Damage, but the other three seemed to have come out of the folds of space as they thundered forth with pulsing instability of True Reality Damage Values!

These...were all Ascendant Reality Severs carrying shocking amounts of Damage that very few existences in the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy should be able to dish out.

One came from Noah's escaping Spirit Form up ahead as the other three...were from an entirely different dimension as this was the third card Noah would play!

His Clones joining the fray...from entirely faraway dimensions as their job was singular in nature.

Spam.

Their job was to do nothing but spam the Keystone Ascendant Skill that didn't cost any resources, dishing out damage halfway to the value of a LEGEND every microsecond as their purpose was to swarm an enemy until they could barely move!

To make sure they couldn't be traced back, Noah didn't have them shoot off their abilities in the Infinite Reality as he tore open the veils of Dimensions to send them in the Mirror Dimension- with the three arriving Severs coming from the Clone that was traversing with RUINATION in this Dimension as well as two others that Noah had sent in to entirely different locations in the periphery of the Mirror Dimension.

And at this moment, Noah was ridiculously utilizing the homing feature of the abilities under the Keystone Ascendant Firmament Cataclysm Skill Tree to actually cast a skill in the Mirror Dimension and have it cross the veils of space into an entirely different area- the Dream Dimension!

These unstable waves of power arrived while carrying over 2.5 million in True Reality Damage Values as the Clones in the Mirror Dimension had taken the Infinite Willow Tree True Forms, but their boosts were much different compared to the Spirit Form as instead of turning all Damage into Soul Damage, an extra 1,000 multiplier was added to the base 2,500.

This brought a total of a 3,500 multiplier from Infinite Willow Trees that Noah spread out across the Mirror Dimension, all using homing quality of Sever to release attacks from an entirely different dimension as with over 700 Base Damage Values with Noah even activating Oblivion along with the boosts from his Physiques...a single strike of Sever could dish out over 2,500,000 True Reality Damage Values.

Half of the damage that a LEGEND could release in a single attack...and Noah wasn't even past the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy, nor had he broken his shackles to form his Reality Passages!

BZZZT!

The Ascendant Reality Severs arrived as their target was the Ancestral Beowulf closing in, smashing onto the visage of this existence as the lasers of Illuminating Unstable Realities released their Reality Novas and Ascendant Reality Fireballs as well.

WAA!

The figure of Beowulf was hated briefly as over 10 Million collective True Damage Values had thundered down onto his Visage.

His lustrous fur seemed to release their own innate barrier as not even a hair worth of it was touched...showing the disastrous might of this existence as even such an attack didn't seem to get through to it!

But this massive Reality Devouring Wolf was still stopped briefly as the Emperor of the Golden Eye even managed to catch up at this time!

"He seems to hold many cards at play, we might have to get serious and not treat him like a mere existence at the Firmament of Ascendancy."

Chapter 1730 Fight! Fight! Fight! I

"...we might have to get serious and not treat him like a mere existence at the Firmament of Ascendancy."

HUUM!

As the Golden Eye spoke and Beowulf gazed forward, their eyes reflected the Illuminating light of the 4 Reality Severs coming back to chain for a second time.

Their bodies were once more streaks of resplendent light as they shot forward, facing the coming Severs head-on as a dark smile actually rose on the ferocious figure of Beowulf as he looked at the blaring unstable lights closely!

"He's even managed to forge a Dominating Ability."

The eyes of LEGEND were supremely perceptive as they noticed the intricacies of Ascendant Reality Sever, classifying it into a class of abilities known as that released tremendous power consecutively and got stronger over time.

"But against my grandeur..."

The bestial eyes of the Reality Devouring Wolf flashed as in the next moment, a fantastical scene bloomed as space split apart and 21 glimmering Reality Passages emerged!

BZZZZT!

They released such tremendous pressure and majesty as seas of a myriad of essences along with the multicolored Essence of Reality washed down onto the incandescent figure of Beowulf, this creature actually pulling upon another authority that only LEGENDS could draw upon as he channeled the wild waves of essence from his Reality Passages towards the oncoming unstable strikes of Ascendant Reality Severs that should have been on their way to the second chain.

BOOOM...CRACK!

An immense authority was pulled upon as the surging and uncontrollable waves of essence pumping from the Reality Passages of a LEGEND actually burst open the rays of Sever, an undeniable authority actually coursing through this skill as Noah was shocked to find it...canceled!

The second chain of Ascendant Reality Severs never arrived as his True Sanguine Clones in the Mirror Dimension felt the chaining effect of this ability actually fail for the first time ever- this being from an astounding authority that only LEGENDS could employ.

"Hmm..."

HOOONG!

The Ancestral Beowulf showed off a devilish smile as with seriousness, he tore across the veils of the Dream Dimension, his jaws outstretched as they seemed ready to devour their target whole!

The Emperor of the Golden Eye didn't sit still as glimmering Reality Passages erupted from it as well, booming out like a nuclear warhead as these two LEGENDS utilized their authority to quickly capture the being before them!

THUMP!

Noah could feel the golden blood coursing through every part of him as the beat of his heart kept him calm.

Even with two monsters exploding out with power behind him, he still kept his cool as all the actions he was doing resumed their order!

The three True Sanguine Clones in the Mirror Dimension utilizing the Infinite Willow Tree forms resumed their casting of Sever even though their chaining was canceled with the shocking authority of a LEGEND, .

An eruption of authority that seemed to come from the utilization of one's Reality Passages at the Realm of Reality as if one had sufficient or more power than another, they should theoretically be capable of overcoming the authority!

So Noah expected his chaining skills to never be affected if he obtained this authority himself...so long as his authority was higher than the other being.

But this was a thought for the future.

He now had to deal with the present where it seemed that two LEGENDS were right on his tail!

'The distance to the location of the Dream Inversion Bauble...'

He saw that the distance wasn't too far away, so he simply had to survive this burst of power these creatures showed as he could then allow them to join the fray against 6 Living Dreams and Nightmare LEGENDS.

There was no fear in his eyes even as two LEGENDS that could tear him apart neared, his True Blood actually boiling at the fact that he was running as the will of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor was roaring out unwillingly!

To get past this juncture and lure them to the Dream Inversion Bauble, Noah would do all that was required.

"Fight."

BZZZT!

His will surged as while monstrous Beasts the size of Realities neared him from behind, four of the Remnant Relics lit up with a terrifying light.

"Fight!"

WAA!

An Ascendant Illuminating Soul Star bloomed as it wasn't a chained ability that could be canceled, the enemies receiving its effects every time they gazed at it and so long as Noah kept it active!

"Fight!"

His will raged out as the rays of Unstable lights that represented Severs cast from a different dimension also tore towards his enemies, the Remnant Relics fully lighting up as the wills of fallen beings from the Age of Destiny arose to lend a hand to the Unnamed Kainos Emperor.

The surroundings of this area of the Dream Dimension seethed and quaked as splendor gushed out in full all around it!

The Appendage of the Ruined Emperor released an all-devouring crimson sea that surged with tens of billions of glimmering spinning Cosmos, the Tongue of the Eldritch King shone with a virulent light as a storm of poisonous essence flooded out en masse, the skulls and other Remnant Relics releasing their own splendors as these residual wills of past Emperors exploded out fully against genuine LEGENDS of this Age.

Noah was taking in all of the Damage Values being thrown out as he studies this battle to the best of his abilities, watching the seamless connection of the Reality Passages of LEGENDS and how they utilized them as he even focused on the glimmering River of Reality distinctly flashing over the bodies of these massive creatures!

This was a wondrous opportunity to expand his knowledge and better comprehend the power of LEGENDS, and he was shown a speck of it as even though Beowulf and the Emperor of the Golden Eye were moving with 'seriousness' since they released their Reality Passages- they still weren't truly utilizing their full power as their vibrant Halos weren't out, nor had they called upon their TABOO authorities yet.

This inherently remained as the pride of LEGENDS as since they knew Noah was at a lower level, they understood the cards he could play would dry out eventually in the next microseconds as he would fall in their hands.

They also didn't want to eradicate him right away as the Emperor of the Golden Eye sought answers about the Remnant Disaster, so these LEGENDS weren't moving for the kill!

What they didn't know was that the situation was truly time sensitive as if they had stopped Noah earlier with all of their power...

BOOOOOM...CRACK!

The grandeur of 4 Remnant Relics exploded as the Appendage of the Ruined Emperor trembled with utter brilliance before finally...it began to peel and turn into dust.

Two other Remnant Relics did the same as they forever faded from reality, but their jobs were done as ever so briefly, the visages of the two LEGENDS were held back before they broke through the astounding abilities with dazzling authorities as they deflected and defended against all the damage!

'But it is enough.'

Noah's thoughts were illustrious as he could feel his other soul nearby and the location where 6 Living Dreams and Nightmare LEGENDS were lying in wait ahead of them.

In the Cosmic Holy Land, his main body downed even more Ascendant Flasks of Life and Death as he pulled upon the authority of his only TABOO Relic so far to begin shielding the True Sanguine Clone leading two LEGENDS into a shocking trap, a glorious act about to unfold as the symphony of destiny reached a resounding crescendo!!!
