Chapter 1741 The Infinite Dream Physique! I

From Dream to Reality.

This was something very few beings in the Firmaments of Ascendancy could manage to achieve, with exceedingly powerful beings in the Dream Dimension being capable of this at high costs or with the usage of Supreme TABOO Dream Treasures!

At this moment, Noah was achieving this effect from a terrifying treasure as after dreaming of a technique that could endlessly refine his Physique in the form of a Subconstruct of his System, it was now being turned into Reality.

HOOONG!

A resounding bellow of resplendent light surged as the Runic tattoo of hexagonal prism gems on Noah's neck released a bright luster, multicolored golden sand beginning to surge around him as it sank into his soul to reflect what he had dreamed!

Under the Absolute Dream Authority that would have exceeded the might of even a full Dream Inversion Bauble, Noah felt the third Construct of his System begin to come to life seamlessly.

<What you've done prior is actually very interesting. Reality-altering constructs for resources and ways to expand your soul intricately with dreams...something that ultimately led you to me.>

Lavalliere seemed to have been locked away for too long as she continued to speak frequently, the act of making a Dream into Reality actually seeming like nothing for her as she utilized Absolute Dream Authority while being so laid back!

Noah focused on the grand changes of his Primordial Epitaph as before his eyes, the details of the Infinite Dream Physique were slowly starting to be filled out.

<Have you calculated just how many more of these constructs you can actually layer on your soul before you overburden it? If you hadn't obtained your Primogesimal Soul, tacking on so many Quasi-TABOO concepts along with all these constructs would have just caused your soul to implode.>

"..."

Noah tried to enjoy the birth of the new construct as he couldn't help but reply with confidence to Lavalliere's words.

"It is merely strengthening my soul. I'm sure that I'll ascend the next Strata not too long after becoming a LEGEND...adding more constructs won't be a problem then."

WAA!

His eyes shone with a Tyrannical light as atop the Throne of Arcadian, the incandescent light of the formation of a TABOO concept was overshadowed by the raging Absolute Dream Authority that shone with multicolored radiance- this multicolored sand fully sinking into Noah's soul as beams of multicolored splendor emerged from his body soon after!

The Cosmic Holy Land was briefly painted with an array of colors before everything settled, Noah feeling another heavy weight added to his blue liquified Primogenial Soul.

<Done.>

The simple words from Lavalliere came out as the ridiculous action of Dream to Reality was completed in a matter of seconds.

SHAA!

Noah's eyes flashed as he peered at the completed details of this construct!

<Infinite Dream Physique>:: A reality-altering construct designed with the purpose of achieving a Physique that can undergo endless refinements. It was born from Absolute Dream Authority as the technique born from it allows the seamless and continuous forging of one's Physique through refining with Dream Essence, the Essence of Reality, the Essence of Destiny and Fortune, and pure Mana. The refinement process is counted in terms of Cycles, with the completion of every Cycle granting +200 to True Reality Damage Values and True Reality Defense Values, as well as increasing the number of Reality Passages you can forge by 30. Achieving 10 Cycles will allow for the Infinite Dream Physique to become a type of High Tier Mythical Natural Born Dream Physique with increased boosts, with future cycles only increasing its purity. The other Physiquest within the body of the user are also granted a unique authority to evolve and exceed their limitations every 10 Cycles. A natural safety mechanism is built in this Physique Refinement to guarantee the safety of its user, with its usage being inactivated if a heavy imbalance would be caused with the Origin and Soul of the user. As one progresses through the Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique, the cost of refinement with Dream Essence, the Essence of Reality, the Essence of Destiny and Fortune, and pure Mana will increase...

<I tweaked one thing from your original specifications with some leftover authority from the 1.5 Uses. Doesn't the possibility of a Mythical Natural Born Dream Physique after 10 cycles sound fun? Then you can at least be considered a blessed junior of a power of some of the past Ages.>

Lavalliere spoke freely as Noah let out a smile, getting ready to see the expenditure of this Infinite Dream Physique as the Units were not quantified in its details, only listing the types of essences required!

But before this, he had to fix 2 problems.

One was Dream Essence, and the other was the cast that even though he didn't get a defective technique for endlessly refining his body that would cause his implosion from imbalance, there was still the fact that his Origin was already constrained enough!

His Soul was currently the strongest at the Primogenial Strata, with his Body coming second as he had forged many Physiquest to make it top tier.

Meanwhile, his Origin still only remained at 10 Billion Cosmos as it had so far not been a problem since these 10 Billion were Royal Cosmos, surpassing the quality and power of normal Cosmos!

But in the mean future, this would not be enough as his soul continued getting stronger and now, his Body would start to follow. If his Origin was too weak and he had yet to break past the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy- complications would arise.

The solution for this...

OOOM!

Noah's will surged as his thoughts traversed across Dimensions to flow into the mind of RUINATION that was traversing with one of his True Sanguine Clones in the periphery of the Mirror Dimension!

"Utilize Ruined Affixer to design an Affix of Reality that can tilt the imbalance between my Body, Origin, and Soul."

<...Yes, Master.>

The voice of RUINATION seemed to hesitate a little before affirming Noah's command, with Noah feeling the authority of this Quasi-TABOO Relic actually focus on Lavalliere briefly before answering!

He smiled as he learned to better understand his treasures, placing his focus on the second matter for now before he could begin the first Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique.

Dream Essence!

Chapter 1742 The Infinite Dream Physique! II

Noah had many types of Essences, with the vast majority of them being Infinite due to the Infinite Resources of his System!

Only Destiny, Fortune, and a few other unique types of resources couldn't be made Infinite as a mere Construct of a System made through the Essence of Reality wasn't enough for this.

Maybe similar to the Infinite Dream Physique Construct, something that would grant True Infinite Resources would have to be made with Lavalliere through the Absolute Dream Authority!

<The Uses required for that isn't something that even a future you some years from now can pay.>

"..."

But the idea was shot down just as it arose as Noah was unfettered, simply affirming that it was a possibility!

But the resources that could be made Infinite were those Noah had attained through his concepts, with the Essence of the Sanguine Emperor and all his other edicts simply being transformed from Mana and also being Infinite as they could freely be generated within Noah's body.

But...he couldn't generate the Essence of a Dimension yes even though he could pull upon it a little with Infinite Dream and <Sandman>!

Similar to how he gained other types of essences, he had to do something else to be capable of generating the Essence of a Dimension.

The simplest method and what Noah would be doing was to form an Edict geared towards this essence, granting Noah Flames that could bloom with this essence and he could generate it within his body!

Another way to obtain a Bloodline of a powerful existence in the Dream Dimension...and there were a myriad of other ways even Noah wasn't privy to.

But even though he couldn't generate it within his body currently, he could still control it as to access it...he had sent back a clone into the Dream Dimension.

OOOOM!

Swirling golden sand surrounded it as Noah made sure to discern with Destiny that he was exceedingly far away from the Dream Hellscape that the Ancestral Beowulf and the Emperor of the Golden Eye might still be in, this clone gaining the task of pulling in nearby Dream Essence and transferring it to the main body for the purposes of refining the Infinite Dream Physique!

This would be many times slower in comparison to him generating and using it himself, but he could do what he could now until the design of a concept that could generate this Dimensional Essence was made.

He had a feeling that it would at most have to be Quasi-TABOO if not TABOO since it was a Dimensional Essence, and his main body was making sure to complete the current mixture of essences to form a TABOO concept!

As for the Essences of Destiny and Fortune, the Essence of Reality and Mana...these were what Noah could provide himself as he was about to begin the moment things fell into place.

And this was when the words of RUINATION reached his mind.

<Master, I can edit a viable Affix of Reality termed <The Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor> that allows a level of harmony between the three Aspects of Existence, but it will require the authority of three uses of the Affixes of Reality to bring such an Affix to light.>

RUINATION posed a unique possibility as Noah didn't hesitate to give the go-ahead!

"Do it."

BZZZT!

After the Affix of Reality that granted Noah a percentage of passively daily generation of the Essence of Reality, this newly designed Affix contained within it the authority of 3 total Affixes as it would act to alleviate the imbalance Noah had with his Body, Origin, and Soul!

Noah sensed the changes in his soul closely as when the new reality-altering Affix was laid down, his Soul, Origin, and Body began to be suffused with a glow of an authoritative light.

<The Affix of Reality- The Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor, has been obtained.>

BZZZT!

<The Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor>:: The three Aspects of Existence are by themselves, and they eventually lean towards harmony as one elevates themselves to higher stages. The Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor is a construct that alters the reality of your Aspects of Existence to make it so that the strongest Aspects will propel the weakest ones forward and not leave them behind, with the weakest Aspect receiving reinforcement and passive strengthening from the strongest Aspect. This Affix is only capable of correcting major imbalances between the three Aspects of Existence as its effect wanes after a slight correction to the discrepancy between them, with it not being capable of achieving complete harmony...

The wondrous Affix of Reality would be many things for Noah, but he currently needed it to alleviate any extreme discrepancy within his body as the moment it was applied, his Origin began to feel a tremendous sense of pressure as it bubbled with pulses of power!

Apart from a level of harmony, The Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor would actually serve as a weapon for Noah to utilize to break his limits of another Aspect of Existence, where the number of 10 Billion Cosmos might eventually be exceeded soon enough as his Origin received passive strengthening due to how much more ridiculous his Soul and Body were!

But at this moment, the already vibrant Royal Cosmos were suffused with an incandescent glow as they seemed to be getting refined- getting larger and larger as the stellar bodies within them seemed to increase in abundance.

If a single Royal Cosmos stood for 2 normal Cosmos before, they would soon be standing for more than that as Noah's Body and Soul pulled his Origin slowly forward!

<What a unique little treasure that RUINATION is to be capable of instituting small level Reality Altering Constructs just from its authority. It seems to fall in line with those types of relics from the Age of Light...you should raise that one past TABOO soon if you wanna have an even easier time.>

Lavalliere spoke out freely at this time as Noah felt RUINATION'S body freeze in the Mirror Dimension, the words of Lavalliere having actually been passed through for her to hear as a sharp light crossed her crimson eyes!

She seemed to have been praised and also insulted as the terrific light illuminated the mirror like space for miles.

Noah's will and soul controlled everything occurring expertly as he asked.

"What type of relic from the Age of Light does RUINATION fall under?"

<Such knowledge is bound by Karma and will require the remaining Half a Use to learn, you want it?>

"...No. Everything will naturally fall into place with time." Noah replied lightly as he observed these small interactions, and as everything was in place with his current goals...his visage began to release a wondrous authority as he called out lightly.

"Infinite Dream Physique Refinement."

HUUUM!

The Golden blue skies of the Cosmic Holy Land trembled as the endless golden steps bounced off pearls of immense light and authority!

From the Dream Dimension, a True Sanguine Clone slowly began to pull in the surrounding Dream Essence with the little authority he currently held over it- with Noah already beginning to work on a concept in tune with the Dream Dimension and Essence so that his future refinements would be even easier.

Then, the cost of the Essence of Reality, Destiny, and Fortune surged next as thousands of Units of Essence of Reality began to burn every second, the Units of Destiny, Fortune, and Mana being so abundant that their current usage was inconsequential!

BZZZT!

After all the conditions were met, incandescent white sand surged around Noah as it swirled mystically around him like a storm.

A terrifying storm that caused his body to withstand a great pressure, this being the process of refinement as his Physique would be tempered by what seemed like unique Sands from the Dream Dimension, with this first stage required White Sand!

Eventually, the raging storm around Noah that he would have to withstand would go to Blue, Purple, Gold, and so forth as he rose through the Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique.

HOOONG!

His main body stood within the eye of the raging storm of incandescent white sand while seated on a Throne that was currently burning Edicts and elevating his Soul even higher, his Body now joining the fray as while the raging storms surged and refined the Physique- white dew drops shining with radiant light formed as they went to sink into his Body!

The refinement of the Infinite Physique began at this moment as not even the first Cycle was completed...and nobody knew just how many Cycles Noah would go through on his path of power!

Chapter 1743 Destiny, Karma, Fate, and Fortune! I

In the Cosmic Holy Land, an Emperor sat on a Throne of Arcadian Tyranny as he refined his Body and Soul through entirely different means, his Origin being the only thing that was slowly pulled forward by the latter Aspects of Existence as an Affix of Reality strove to maintain a semblance of balance!

So even though it wasn't being directly refined, his Origin was pulsing and expanding as the Royal Cosmos within it became more illustrious and throbbed with the light of expansion.

They seemed to naturally want to break the 10 Billion Cosmos limitation, but there was a thick barrier stopping it that stemmed from the shackles all existences in the Firmaments had before they forged their Reality Passages and went into the Eighth Firmament of Ascendancy, but Noah knew that it was only a matter of time before this barrier would be eradicated!

He expected to surpass 10 Billion Cosmos even before breaking his shackles and forming his Passages with the addition of <The Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor>, with this barrier not being able to deny him any longer as his Body and Soul became exceedingly more powerful.

And after the 10 Billion barrier, the next boundary would be the 50 Billion barrier of the Eighth Firmament that was inconsequential and easy to cross as even some of his vassals had done it, and then the toughest 100 Billion Cosmos barrier that all existences had as the final number before they forged their Reality.

If he was able to break this before making his Reality...he would have exceeded yet another Limit as even he didn't know what would happen then!

Would his Origin enter the Primogenial Strata even though it hadn't formed a Reality? Or would it be considered a unique type of Primogenial Strata as it was still at the Cosmic Filament Realm? The answers had yet to arrive as...

<Hey, you seem to be thinking a lot. I can provide you with all the answers so long as you have enough Uses, you just need to start feeding me an overabundance of Loot.>

Lavalliere spoke freely as Noah refined everything about himself, his focus coming to land on this treasure while he measured how much time one Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique would take to complete.

"Nothing stops you from just dropping hints and freely speaking without the need of Uses."

He spoke calmly in the middle of the raging incandescent white sand storm as his fingers continued to pull upon the Natural Laws of Reality to complete his first TABOO Edict!

<This is because you don't grasp Karma even at the beginner level like you do Destiny. I'm especially more affected by Karma as things that can affect the larger fates, Destinies, and fortunes carry a heavy Karma that must be repaid in the form of Uses.>

WAA!

Karma, Destiny, Fate, and Fortune!

These were four concepts that Noah had to bring to the same level and understand them even more deeply as the 4 of them were interconnected and always influenced one another in some way!

Destiny showed the possible fates- or paths to come in the future as it could also warn a being of a soon to come negative future path or notify them of an opportune future path depending on the actions they take in the present.

Then there was Fortune which influenced just how many paths and possible futures opened up as the more fortune one had...the chances of the more opportune paths and futures occurring rose up! More fortune increased possible opportunities and reduces possible negative fates playing out as this leads the focus to now come on the concept of Fate itself.

Fate! A set path with the highest likelihood of occurring, with existences proficient in Fate being capable of altering it ever so slightly as Fate itself can be more easily changed depending on the interplay with destiny and fortune as mentioned previously!

The three concepts worked with each other as if you have more destiny and fortune and abundant control of them, you can more easily alter a set Fate and even open up many more vibrant fates for yourself.

"Then past all this...there is Karma..."

OOOM!

Noah's majestic voice echoed out in the eye of the storm as he continued his refinement.

Karma.

For every action an existence took, they incurred Karma.

Those with astound Fates, Destiny, and Fortune could more easily shoulder the effects of Karma as someone like Noah destroying the Royal Serpent Dragon's Prince incurred great Karma with their bloodline, with the Matriarch even seeking to destroy Noah as this led to him being out on the Primordial Blacklist!

Noah's actions...had such an adverse effect as if it was anyone else, they would have perished after being added to the Blacklist. But instead, Noah thrived as he overcame this Karma and even used the fact that his name was on the Blacklist to further strengthen himself as he even exceeded his Limits to achieve a Primogenial Soul through it.

There were many other areas where one could look at the cause and effect of many events around Noah, with Karma coming into play for each of them just like Destiny, Fortune, and Fate were always there.

Noah could already reach the position he was at because of his proficient control in destiny that Lavalliere called beginner level, so how much further could he reach if he had grander control of Fate, Fortune, and Karma?

With this in mind, Noah made the required moves as he voiced out to delegate this task to his Infinite Reality.

"Design the Nomological Edicts of the Opulent Emperor, Pathfinder, and the Causal Nexus Emperor."

OOOOM!

His command echoed out to be followed by the Infinite Reality as Pathfinder would be an edict relating to Fate, Opulent Emperor for Fortune, and Causal Nexus Emperor for Karma!

But this wasn't all.

"Also begin on the Nomological Edict of the Dream Emperor..."

WAA!

The concept to also allow for the Dream Essence of a Dimension to be generated from his body began its design- Noah doing all of this while refining his body and soul...and also getting familiar with the new treasure Lavalliere as this being seemed to very much enjoy talking after being locked for who knew how many years- but one would never hear the truly crucial information from her!

Everything Noah's main body was doing now would take time as his TABOO Edict was still going towards completion, the multiple new Edicts still in design, and his Infinite Dream Physique just began its first Cycle of Refinement as it should take some time before the first Cycle was completed.

While all of this unfolded, the True Sanguine Clones that remained and were still undertaking their tasks were making headway in the vast Realities...along with Noah's very own Progeny and people!

Chapter 1744 Destiny, Karma, Fate, and Fortune! II

Outside of the splendrous Infinite Reality.

Atop the Serendipity of Cataclysmic Reality- the enormous stellar warship that Noah had granted to his son and Vassals for use, one could see Little Henry standing at the helm of the ship as his small figure seemed to be anchored on it as the vessel traversed across the Boundary Between Realities.

Atop his head was an excitedly bopping Blue Slime that shone with intelligence and power.

Behind Little Henry were many figures, but a single one was looking at him with intense eyes of exceeding pride and honor as one could see a shadowy curvaceous figure wrapped up in a dark cloak and releasing vibrant waves of power at the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy just like many others on this vessel!

This was the Royal Shadow Guard, Night- who currently couldn't stop gazing at the splendrous path that the son of her Queen was following.

The day he was born was a holy affair for Night as she had filled up many pages in her diary when Little Henry was revealed, and her eyes now carried extreme care when she gazed at the boy.

'It has only been a few days since your birth, yet you now seem 8 or 9 years old as your face begins to resemble the Emperor more and more...and you are already traveling across Realities just days after your birth!'

How illustrious the path of the Prince was!

The Shadow Guard Night wanted to observe the ascension of the Son of her Frozen Queen that stemmed from the lowly Frozen Kingdom of the Beast World as he extended his father's rule across different Realities.

At this moment, their vessel was slowing down as it neared a sight where wreckage could be seen along with the bodies of beings from many races- where the prominent figures of huge Primordial Beasts, enormous verdant Blight Dragon Serpents, and Dwarven bodies could be seen.

They were nearing the sight of a wreckage of a going battle as one could still hear the vibrant sounds further away, the Shadow Guard Night mustering up her courage and coming near the stout figure of Little Henry as she spoke.

"Little Prince, what are we planning on doing here?"

Her words were filled with the love of a proud aunty as she asked, gazing at the rows of existences behind her like Natalya who was calmer after the Primal Titans were saved from the enslavement of Primordials.

Little Henry had his black and blue hair flowing serenely as the childish features were still present on his face, but his eyes showed traces of the Essence of Destiny and Karma as he replied.

"Aunty Night, I pulled upon traces of karma from Father and the Blight Dragon Serpents he ran into in the past- where the culprit Belladonna who caused some trouble before should be embroiled in conflict on two sides here."

WAA!

His small white fingers rose as he spoke, pulling upon unseen green verdant strings as Little Henry had found himself particularly drawn to Karma after he learned its Law, and he was led here after saving the Primal Titans as he began to understand many things!

"This Matriarch is fighting a few Legions of the Golden Dwarf Race alongside her allied Primordial Beasts, but their plans should have gone awry when the visage of someone you guys might know joined in- a particularly vibrant Draconic Elephantine Beast. Our mission here is to sever the Karma left between Father and the Blight Serpent Dragon Matriarch as we put her to rest...and discern father's old ally."

The child a few years of age was already beginning to pull upon the strings of Destiny and Karma as the Shadow Guard Night couldn't help but look at him with immense pride!

"Yes, Little Prince!"

She pulled back as they neared the sounds of war, her body beginning to blaze with silent and deadly power as behind her, the figures of Natalya, Tiamat, Kazuhiko, Emperor Penguin, and many others did the same.

A row of Destiny Goblins granted by the Emperor could also be seen as their bodies released glints of gold light, the Shadow Guard Night observing all of this to write in her diary as at this moment in time, the enemies of the Emperor had fallen so far beneath him that his son of a few days old would be taking care of them, the visage of the Little Prince beginning to shine brighter as Night wanted to see just how illustrious it could go!

'The Lady also needs to hurry and have a few more Princes and Princesses...I'm seeing Lady Barbatos getting too impatient recently as she might beat her to it next...'

The Shadow Guard had such laid back thoughts as they went into battle, the weaving of destiny and Karma resonating out from this location as the allure of Destiny Reality Passages was about to bloom from many Vassals to shock the beings they were about to meet!

In the Pure Blooded Domains of the Royal Humans, within the Abode of the Empress.

At the very center of the crystalline castle like skyscraper surrounded by multiple multicolored Reality Trees, there was a spatial domain where a golden spring that was normally enjoyed by the Empress...was currently being occupied by someone else.

Noah's figure in the form of Alexander could be seen as his sculpted body was half submerged in the paradisiacal golden springs near a grand golden waterfall that turned into a river that flowed for miles in this domain, a vibrant gold portal shining not too far behind him that would lead back to the golden halls of the Abode of the Empress.

He wasn't alone as the visage of Beatrix that should be heavily wary of him was drying her hair not too far away as she spoke of shocking matters.

"At that time, Master had taken many losses as she lost her solidified authority like all others after the True Emperor rose, and she was further pushed down and hunted as she carried a blood connection to the Ancient Bloodlines that Primordials were hunting at the time."

Beatrix spoke freely of hidden matters of the past Age of Destiny as at this moment, she had already fallen under the authority of LETHE as she considered Noah a close confidant that had been serving the Empress all those years ago as well, but he had fallen earlier and had only preserved his soul in this new form of Alexander as he was catching up with anything he had missed at this moment!

Beatrix was freely revealing information about Empress Genevieve as Noah learned more about his enemy's history and power- and the identity she carried.

"As a pure Sacred Beast with a trace of the Ancient Bloodlines within her, we faced constant threats as Master's power was brought down greatly until the LEGENDS of the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Humans came into the picture to deal the last blow..."

"Hold on." Noah's eyes rose as he stopped Beatrix from speaking further, Destiny ringing beside his ears as he continued.

"The Empress is coming, remember...we mustn't surprise her with my return yet, you're the only one I've confided in now."

"Yes yes, I'll treat you as the Alexander before you revealed your identity to me." Beatrix had a bright smile that she quickly wiped away as she spoke, LETHE's authority being truly frightening as she seamlessly followed along Noah's words and became cold and careful while staring at him outside the golden flowing spring!

SHAA!

The visage of Empress Genevieve teleported in soon after from the golden portal as she came to focus on the figure of Noah calmly dipped into the golden spring after she passed her eyes over Beatrix who came to stand beside her while showing relief that she had returned.

"How great of you to join us, Empress. Have you finished with your matters?"

Noah spoke freely as he made sure that the Authority of LETHE pulled back entirely from Beatrix, the shocking effects of Memory Alteration still remaining as this Empress walked forward unknowing of what Noah had done.

She gazed at him with coldness and the eyes of a predator looking at their prey as she replied.

"Yes, you will undergo the Pure-Blooded Baptism tomorrow as in a few days, we shall set off for the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum where you shall act as one of my guards."

WAA!

Chapter 1745 True Geniuses! I

"Yes, you will undergo the Pure-Blooded Baptism tomorrow as in a few days, we shall set off for the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum where you shall act as one of my guards."

WAA!

Empress Genevieve spoke with utter coldness as she walked towards her golden spring that Noah was so brazenly enjoying, running her fingers over this bubbling liquid as she gazed at Noah's sculpted body.

The body of a Chosen Emperor with unlimited potential as it hid astounding secrets!

Genevieve had very few opportunities to target such existences, with all those known being protected by their Bloodlines heavily or they were simply monstrous existences that she knew she couldn't handle yet.

One of such existences was the Adjudicator Katelyn that Genevieve had forged a fairly decent relationship with- a monstrous Chosen Emperor that held an astounding destiny at birth!

She was among those that couldn't be targeted at this moment as beings like the one before her eyes who didn't have a backing and were overly sure of their power...

"Well, you'll make a fine guard, but you have to at least be up to par with some of the beings that will be joining this venture." Her voice echoed out as she raised her hand from the spring Noah was still freely half submerged in while not letting her true thoughts be known.

Noah paid no heed to this as he acted in a domineering manner even with this enemy here, raising his fair legs from the bubbling golden spring and staring at them like they were the most interesting thing here as he asked!

"And who do I need to be mindful of?"

The entrants of the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum that would normally be reserved for LEGENDS!

Just who could one expect when you had existences like Adjudicator Katelyn, Nefertiti, and Ezekiel joining in?!

Existences that had established their foundations for many years as they were ready to unshackle themselves and become LEGENDS at any point in time, with their destiny and fortune being vast as they simply waited for the most opportune time.

Empress Genevieve's eyes flashed as she began to speak.

"It will not just be those from the 5 Pure-Blooded Domains...even the Obsidian Adjudicator Commanders fostered within the Pure Reality will be joining in the exploration this time around, the way that one behaves around them and many others being even more important."

WAA!

"The Pure Reality..."

Noah's eyes flashed at these words as Empress Genevieve nodded while rising up and beginning to go towards the golden portal.

"Yes. Beatrix can explain about the etiquette and behavior you need to observe, and those you shouldn't even raise your eyes to lest you wish to perish under their gazes."

...!

Her eyes held a provocative glint as she spoke, her words actually intent on riling the Emperor's will deep within her enemy as she knew those with solidified Candidacy were especially more observing of their authority!

Him being told he would have to lower his gaze when he came across others? Genevieve knew he would do the opposite and stare straight ahead at any beings he was told to be wary of.

And if he could just embroil himself in one or two conflicts to heavily reduce his power in the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum...Genevieve's work would be all that easier as she intended to use others to grind down the hard stone that was Alexander King!

"Be ready tomorrow when you're summoned for the Baptism."

She spoke lightly as she also shot a look to Beatrix as she sent over a mental message, disappearing back into the golden portal and leaving the two of them as they were.

But Noah still had only a few words on the tip of his lips.

The Pure Reality.

It was sometimes referred to as the True Reality or Main Reality...it was the Reality that the Infinite Realities Fractured from during the time when an entire Era was ended along with an Age!

It was the location that all beings felt a calling to when they first stepped into the Boundary Between Realities as this place...was also at the very core of the Hegemony of Primordials.

The center of all the Pure-Blooded Domains.

The area that held bountiful True and False Grotto Sanctums near it filled with Primordial LEGENDS!

The area that held boundless Realities around it all under the banner of primordials as it was the most protected and heavily defended domain in all of Realities.

In such a place, the very skies and earth were different as this domain held a trace of the Old Reality- with those living within blessed with multiple times greater fortune, Fate, karma, and destiny compared to those outside of it!

One's mere entrance into the Main Reality was heavily scrutinized by Primordials as only the Bloodline Masters and their Progeny of Cardinal Royal Bloodlines and Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines could frequently visit, with the Primordials inside the True Reality being considered the true Royalty out of all royalty.

The Obsidian Adjudicator Commanders and Legions raised within the Main Reality that was under the control of Primordials...they were the Chosen sons and daughters that were granted respect everywhere they went.

There were Bloodline Masters in charge of the many different Primordial Bloodlines who were commonly unfettered at the 9th Firmament of Ascendancy and changed frequently within millions or billions of years...then there were Bloodline Emperors that held the stage of LEGENDS and resided in the Pure Reality!

The 5 Bloodline Emperors of the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines took the reigns in the Main Reality as normal Primordial Royal Bloodlines were even second class here.

Being stemming from such a location would be what Noah would be going up against in the near future!

"Among them, there are those with Mythical Natural Born Physiques like Sis Katelyn who have moved unhindered since they were born- True Geniuses who easily traversed the Firmaments of Ascendancy as even the shackles were split apart as if they didn't exist for them."

The voice of Beatrix rang out after Genevieve had left as she began to expand on the information about the core forces of Primordials, giving out much more than that Genevieve herself would have told Noah as she spoke grandly about important personages who would shape the next generation of LEGENDS and fight for the seat of the True Emperor of this Age!

Chapter 1746 True Geniuses! II

"Some weren't blessed with something like the Mythical Natural Born Physique, but they hold shocking destinies or talents- or they underwent terrific challenges that granted them authorities unheard of in the vast Realities."

WAA!

Beatrix's voice rang out clearly as she continued, coming to sit beside Noah as her gaze held a hint of restrained caution when she spoke about these beings.

"The Realities are vast and hold many shocking and unknown things, and others found and claimed them over time as there are even monsters who have grasped TABOO while in the Firmaments of Ascendancy!"

"They don't have something unique as Master who is considered a Disaster Remnant awakening her old Concepts, but they are actually existences who managed to comprehend TABOO before they forged their Realities- these are the Obsidian Adjudicator Commanders."

HUUUM!

Obsidian.

It correlated with the color of the TABOO Authority as being similar to Genevieve would be appearing, with Beatrix speaking about them in reverence but when Noah heard the words....

'So many more sources of TABOO Loot...'

Such was the thought in his mind as his eyes released dazzling rays of light!

He knew he had to plan very well for the future as existences who could release the might of a LEGEND before they even became one might be standing against him- and some of them will even be breaking into the stage of a LEGEND within this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum as they would be more powerful than any beginner LEGENDS.

It meant that before or just as he was entering this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum, his preparations of building his foundations had to be done as he had to break the shackles of the measly Seventh Firmament and begin forging his Reality Passages.

His power would increase explosively with this as he wanted to have at least a few Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique completed, with progress actually being made by his Main Body in the few hours that passed!

Sensing the constant changes, Noah focused on the task here as he voiced out.

"What are some prominent Obsidian Adjudicator Commanders..."

He took more information about the fateful event to come as the night passed, his formal Baptism into the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline occurring as the Reality Trees around the incandescent crystalline castle lit up and morning came onto the Abode of Empress Genevieve!

With the passage of a mere few hours, great progress was made with Noah's main body as wondrously- the slow process of bringing together a TABOO concept was nearing completion after it was brought up from him bathing in so many TABOO authorities.

He should have been in a great mood at this as he waited to reap the benefits of an astounding achievement, but his luminous eyes were currently dim and filled with a light of pain and coldness as he stared at the concept that was coming together!

<Wow, must you feel this down? It was just some crystals with pure essence to forge one's Origin, some more Crystals to refine the purity of blood, and just some lines that etch pathways in the body...>

Lavalliere's voice echoed out as she was respectively talking about Noah's Shards of Seed of Reality, Existential Pearls, Runic Kainos Mana Lines, and many more forms of Loot in Noah's Expansive Space that she had swallowed under his own agreement recently!

<It's just loot, and you didn't even give out all of it but you received 1.5 Uses. Why don't you just get started on obtaining more, huh? Your name is on the Golden Primordial Blacklist, right? Why don't you just butcher some LEGENDS and obtain the boons of their Primogenial foundation...>

WAA!

Her words carried a hint of teasing as always as she spoke of impossible things, Noah's cold eyes rising from the soon to be completed concept as they gazed at the Golden skies of the Cosmic Holy Land.

"If I could seamlessly kill LEGENDS, we wouldn't be having this conversation right now."

<Why don't you use the forces at your fingertips? Let's see, you've already granted a Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi to your people that's fairly decent enough as it easily brought them to the Ninth Firmament. Is their foundation so lacking for you to not force them to become LEGENDS...oh?>

A boundless unseen authority from Lavalliere was sweeping out as she moved past Noah to obtain information on even his Vassals, Noah replying to her before she could even piece everything together.

"Their foundations contain absolutely nothing for the Physiques to refine their Body, with their Souls even weaker as the area they have to improve on the most is...."

<Wow! Many of them have barely begun to forge their own Edicts as most of what they have just came from your soul library? These guys are paper tigers right now unless they can complete at least one or two Physiques and greatly strengthen their souls- otherwise, there will be no synchrony between their Body, Origin, and Soul even if they were lucky enough to obtain a decent Modus Operandi that gave them more than 10 Reality Passages...>

Yes!

Noah's Vassals like Natalya and others had reached the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy easily due to the number of their Reality Passages, but the stage of a LEGEND was respected as they were still missing too many things.

Unlike Noah who had his Throne of Arcadian Tyranny to burn Edicts and greatly strengthen his soul along with all the Soul Crystals he had been obtaining as loot, his Vassals had nothing of this sort as their foundations were weak!

Most of them couldn't even form their own Quasi-TABOO or Insuperable Nomological Edicts as not everyone had a destiny as astounding as Noah, nor did they have any of his cheats! The only exceptions to this were Noah's Bloodline as Little Henry was only a few days old and had already forged Quasi-TABOO Edicts, and the other people who were slowly adapting to this were Amelia Osmont and Adelaide as they were the closest to borrowing Noah's might.

But the rest of his Vassals who didn't have ridiculous cheats or Systems...their foundation was currently too weak.

Just the fact that they went from nothing and entered the Ninth Firmament in a matter of weeks was already enough to shock the vast Realities, but they couldn't so easily become LEGENDS in that short period of time as they had to somewhat work to strengthen their Aspects of Existence.

<Well, I guess you could spare your remaining Soul Crystals and attention to one or two and see if you could raise their foundation to a basic enough level in a few days to allow resonance to occur between their Aspects of Existence. They'll be at least better than average LEGENDS due to their Reality Passages...>

Lavalliere's sonorous voice rang out as Noah already thought about the possible candidates, about to continue pulling out any more information that he could from this terrifying existence when...

HOOOONG!

An exceedingly illustrious light began to gloriously bloom around Noah as the merging concepts around him calmed and stopped all movements!

BZZZT!

Thereafter, a shocking incandescent black light began to weave and erupt around him as fantastically...it was the light of a TABOO concept!!!

Chapter 1747 Merely Forging TABOO!

TABOO.

A power that superseded Insuperable as it held within it wisps of the very abstruse Natural Laws of Reality that made up the very veil existence- an authority that could momentarily alter reality to the whims of its controller!

It was an astounding power to hold as more often than not, only existences that at least synchronized their Body, Soul, and Origin and stepped on the path of a Ranked Strata could pull upon the essence of the Natural Laws of Reality.

Yet, there existed those that broke these limits as even within the Firmaments of Ascendancy, they still somehow managed to pull upon the Natural Laws of Reality and attain such a level of concept!

Horrendous geniuses took thousands of years, average geniuses took hundreds of thousands, and normal LEGENDS took millions of years to gather the Natural Laws of Reality and form their first TABOO Nomological Edict!

Of course after the first one, those to follow could be relatively faster but still...there was a being that had achieved his first forging of a TABOO concept in mere days!

And this was something he had referred to as an extremely slow process for him because he normally forged the tier of Edicts he unlocked within seconds or minutes.

The anomaly that was Noah Osmont existed as after starting this process in a matter of days, he was truly finished at this moment as he watched a blinding flash of black emanate throughout and bathe his very soul.

HOOONG!

Untold majesty and splendor arose as shockingly, space trembled and released booming sounds as if bells were blaring and ringing- the authority Noah was bringing together this whole time becoming coagulation before his eyes as it formed into a pristine obsidian seed.

BZZZT!

<A Seed of TABOO has been born.>

WAA!

In the midst of a splendorous seed releasing incandescent black rays of light forming, golden prompts began to rain down as Noah felt his cerulean liquified soul surging madly, boundless information delving into it!

<An Astounding Achievement! You have managed to forge an authority that roughly incorporates the very Natural Laws of Reality without achieving a synchronized ranked Strata!>

<Your affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality has greatly increased.>

OOOOM!

The golden skies of the Cosmic Holy Land split apart as pure multicolored Essence leaked out, Noah's eyes opening up luminously to see the depths of where this essence came from- but his eyes were obstructed from seeing anything!

At this time, even Lavalliere was entirely quiet as multicolored rivers of light surged into Noah's body- specifically a certain space within him that contained his reserves of a stupendous essence.

<Your Maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality have increased by 200,000.>

<Your Fortune and Destiny have begun to be refined to a higher level.>

<Your Mana has begun to be refined to a higher level.>

BOOOM!

The shackles binding him further loosened as his reserves exploded out, the Essence of Reality surging around him madly along with something unique occurring to his mana, fortune, and destiny as this wasn't all!

<Your authority as an Emperor of this Age has risen slightly.>

...!

There was also his gloriously spinning solidified crown that had the letter <E> rotating on it this whole time, the space next to this letter flashing with vibrant light as soon after, the letter <T> appeared!

It wasn't M that would mean this word would read Emperor, but a different letter entirely as above him, the letters <ET> swirled over his crown and seemingly paid homage to him as when seated on his throne, he seemed like an ancient king from a past Age.

HUUUM!

The grandeur of lights died down as Noah's Maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality became half a million and he gained even more increased authority as an Emperor of this Age.

It also meant that all other Obsidian Adjudicator Commanders who had touched upon TABOO before becoming LEGENDS were also granted solidified Candidacy or further increased in their authority with similar boosts given!

The only thing Noah had against these beings...was an exceedingly ridiculous foundation that would revolve around never ending refining of his body and a soul that was even stronger at another Strata entirely.

'But among the geniuses out there...will I be the only Limit Breaker of an Aspect of Existence?!'

HUUUM!

Noah's thoughts were wild as he thought and planned for many things, his fingers beckoning towards the pulsing black seed before his eyes as it came to land on his palms.

<Seed of TABOO>: The Birth of a TABOO Nomological Edict will be accompanied by a Seed of TABOO- a construct that allows you to birth a new TABOO concept or to place an already forged Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict into it that will bloom to become TABOO...

Noah stared at the glimmering black seed before his eyes as many thoughts bloomed in his mind!

When the authority of many concepts and the Essence of Natural Laws of Reality came together, it actually first formed a transition stage of a Seed that could bloom into the intended TABOO concept, or a different concept could be placed into this Seed to elevate an already existing Edict!

Such a reality changed many things as Noah began to ponder.

But this was when the melodious voice of Lavalliere rang out.

<What use is there to hesitate? Do you really need more concepts or simply need your focus to be placed on already strong ones? It is merely a Seed of TABOO- you will forge many of them so long as you repeat what you did here.>

Her words were aligned with a majority of Noah's thoughts as he nodded lightly!

He already had a great foundation and astoundingly powerful concepts.

All he had to do...was to elevate what already made him strong and granted him most of the power he had currently!

If there was a distinction to be made between which Edict aided Noah the most to help him get where he was, a particular destiny based Edict would be one as the other had directly influenced everything since before he entered the Firmaments of Ascendancy.

It also had to be an edict to grant him explosive power for the ordeal to come and even allow his foundation to be more solidified!

The strongest Flames of his destiny based Edict even agreed with him as wondrously, they didn't choose the concept they stemmed from to achieve TABOO, with the most opportune path actually showing destiny itself favoring another concept.

It was...

"Sanguine Emperor..."

WAA!

Chapter 1748 VENERABLE! I

"Sanguine Emperor..."

OOOM!

The concept that was the cause of the coming of the Quasi-Venerable Unnamed Kainos Emperor!

The concept that had granted him TABOO authority from his Ascendancy Halos after its last upgrade allowed him to pack 60 Flames of Edicts into a single Halo!

This...was a concept that would help him greatly when fighting against terrifying existences or even LEGENDS as at this moment, Noah's will surged out with a command as the Seed of TABOO trembled.

CRACK!

From his chest, an amalgamation of a concept actually flew out as his skin split apart, an incandescent crimson light moving from him and transplanting itself into the Seed of TABOO as this utterly black seed began to shine with a vibrant bloody light!

Along with this, Noah's very cells and blood cheered as they began to feel large-scale changes occurring beginning from a concept that weaved itself around Noah too much being elevated to a stage of TABOO.

As Noah felt the fundamentally transforming Sanguine Emperor, he also felt three types of his essences to be burning and also undergoing changes within him!

This was a passive process that had begun after he forged the Seed of TABOO, and it could be explained by the two prompts that had passed through his eyes before.

<Your Fortune and Destiny have begun to be refined to a higher level.>

<Your Mana has begun to be refined to a higher level.>

Refinement!

Three types of his essence had actually begun to undergo refinement as this was all Noah knew, not being able to find anything else about it or what it could lead to so he could only...

"After the achievement of making a Seed of TABOO, my reserves of Essence of Reality increased but fortune, Destiny, and Mana began to undergo refinement...what is the purpose of that refinement?"

As a bloody light of wonder raged around him and the Sanguine Emperor left behind the shackles of Quasi-TABOO, he asked Lavalliere calmly.

<Your essences becoming refined is normally a process that occurs when building your Reality. It is one of the things that allows for the Reification of abilities.>

WAA!

Noah's eyes blazed with astounding light at this answer!

REIFICATION!

Abilities gaining personification and turning into something astounding. Noah always wondered what Fireball or Sever would be Reified into, and it seemed there was a possibility for him to do this before he reached the stage of a LEGEND.

A possibility!

<I can only say that much without incurring Karma, if you wanna know more, I can eat up .25 Uses...>

"...No." This terrifying treasure tried to hook him into utilizing his very few uses for information, Noah's will remaining stable as he knew the mysteries would open up in time.

The only question was when the refinement of essence would finish, and what other factors were required that could possibly make REIFICATION possible before someone became a LEGEND.

HOOOONG!

The ranging essence became even wilder as the Seed of TABOO entirely turned a bloody crimson light and sank into Noah's body at this moment!

It went on to pervade throughout his whole body as while seated on the Throne of Arcadian Tyranny, a radiant black light flashed over Noah's visage.

THUMP!

The beat of his heart was clear as his figure began to vibrate with glorious authority!

A power seemed to be trying to burst out and let itself be known, with Noah containing it so far but within mere moments- it seemed too vibrant and unshakable as it caused Noah to bellow out and released a beam of bloody crimson light that turned the golden skies of the Cosmic Holy Land red!

<The first TABOO concept has been inscribed onto your Soul.>

<The Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor has been elevated to TABOO.>

BZZZT!

Golden prompts that uniquely seemed to be painted with streaks of glimmering red bloomed within Noah's soul as his three Aspects of Existence vibrated powerfully, each of them being bathed by Noah's very own TABOO authority as it came with astounding significance!

So astounding that at this moment, the Bloodline that was taking in aspects of all Bloodlines Noah obtained was burning with utmost authority and luster as it released pulses of shocking authority.

<The TABOO Authority of the Sanguine Emperor is unwilling for its Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline to remain lower after its advancement.>

HOOOONG!

Glorious obsidian light raged out as Noah's bellow that should have been ending soon became even more sonorous as the beam of bloody light he released only enlarged!

After being taken halfway past Quasi-Venerable and with Noah devouring the Bloodlines of many Primordial Legions, an undeniable authority descended onto the Unnamed Kainos Emperor as the first act of TABOO for the Sanguine Emperor was...

<The Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline has been elevated to the VENERABLE Tier.>

BOOOM!

Noah's figure upon the Throne of Arcadian Tyranny exploded into a pure mass of blood.

It exploded out in a shocking fashion as a viscous crimson gold stellar bloody sea formed!

A stellar bloody sea filled with sparkling Cosmos and releasing a glorious light of power that could shake one's very soul pulsed and expanded to bathe over the whole Cosmic Holy Land!

They shone with utter magisterial light of true royalty as this Cosmos seemed to be closely intertwined and pulsing with the stellar bloody sea.

Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells raged around this bloody sea in larger numbers as they transfused themselves onto everything- all of Noah's Aspects of Existence!

His soul became tainted by the authority of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor, and so did his Body and Origin as they seemed to be forcefully getting pulled towards a fundamental change.

As this sea seethed and birthed Noah's one and only VENERABLE Bloodline, more prompts continued to descend!

<All basic abilities under the Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor have been greatly elevated, with the Ultimate Abilities under the Flames of the Sanguine Emperor undergoing the greatest change.>

<Sanguine Aggregation has been commandeered by the VENERABLE Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline as under it, the sub ability of [Sanguine Ascendancy Domain] is born.>

<The elevation to a VENERABLE Bloodline has perfected the seamless fusion of all Bloodlines as the True Form of Unnamed Kainos Tyrant has been changed and elevated to the Unnamed Kainos Emperor that can now be achieved when the authority of the Ascendancy Halos fuses with you.>

OOOOOM!

Boundlessly shocking and profoundly magisterial, a stellar bloody sea expanded and shone with ancient might as an anomalous existence continued on his path of insane strengthening and reinforcement of his foundation, magisterial prompts continuing to rise over his eyes as more and more boons descended!!!

Chapter 1749 VENERABLE! II

As wondrous prompts bloomed within his mind, everything about Noah was undergoing shocking changes as the VENERABLE Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline was being entirely tyrannical to bathe itself onto all of his aspects of existence!

The Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells raged around this bloody stellar sea as his Soul, Origin, and Body became tainted by the authority of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor.

For the portion of the Soul, its sacred cerulean liquified stage began to get tinged with a domineering crimson color as this small sea began to expand ever so slightly.

The Physiques within his body were activated and pulsing majestically as the base True Reality Defense Values and Damage Values were raised ever so proportionately, the splendorous stellar red sea at this moment bubbling crazily!

Then, there was his Origin.

The Royal Cosmos that made up his Origin were already under enough expansionary stress due to the effects of the <Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor> as they were already expanded to their maximum limits to try and compensate for the imbalance between the three Aspects of Existence!

Now, they began to be bathed by the tyrannical light of the VENERABLE Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline as they quaked fearfully, a crimson light fusing into them as they buzzed with profound activity.

If they couldn't expand any further...what other route was there for them to release this boundless wave of a TABOO level VENERABLE Bloodline authority surging into them?

"You will have to..."

OOOOM!

In his state as a vibrant stellar red sea, Noah's will boomed out as it was seemingly commanding his very original.

"...exceed the limitation of numbers!"

WAA!

His will was made clear as his crimson stellar sea seethed even more!

Since Noah had broken through into the Primogenial Strata of the Soul through burning Edicts and using that unique opportunity to pound the door of limitations of the Soul- he was always looking for another opportunity to do the same for his other Aspects of Existence.

<The Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor> was built just for that as eventually, Noah expected the shackles of not passing through the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy to be loosened as the 10 Billion Limit before one forged their Reality Passages would be eradicated soon enough and he would exceed this number!

But now, the will of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline was Tyrannical bathing its Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells onto these Royal Cosmos and began causing them a shocking level of pressure far exceeding even the Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor...so Noah wanted to see if he could use this chance to forge forward and break apart the mere 10 Billion restriction.

It wasn't even the 100 Billion restriction he ultimately wanted to break...and it dared to give him this much trouble?!

"BREAK!"

HUUUM!

Shackles began to tremble and loosen even further.

The will of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor raged against his own Origin as the Prompts of the boons of a TABOO Edict and its subsequent VENERABLE Bloodline continued to rain down.

<Under the undeniable authority of TABOO, the Limit Breaking Mana Refinement of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor can now refine the body completely an additional two times.>

<The [Eyes of a Kainos Emperor] have been elevated as they can now passively display the destiny, Fate, fortune, Karma, thoughts, and many other concepts of any existence they gaze at, with the targets having more TABOO authority giving out less information>

<The Throne of Unnamed Tyranny has been elevated as when the Unnamed Kainos Emperor sits atop it, all cast abilities are granted True Dual Enhancement. The Throne has also birthed a TABOO authority of Sanguine Adequation, a feature that allows one's Aspects of Existence connected with the Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells to burn the strength of one aspect to elevate another. It is a painful process, but nothing for the will of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor...>

HUUUM!

The golden prompts suffused with a vibrant redness that displayed the boons of a TABOO and VENERABLE authority were stopped as Noah focused on the last one.

The fact that he could refine the Limit Breaking Mana Physique 2 more times was ridiculous enough of an effect, but the Throne of Unnamed Tyranny was just insane!

When sitting on it, Noah had True Dual Enhancement.

Whatever ability he cast gained truly what this term said- a true multiplier of 2!

If his True Reality Damage Value output currently was edging towards 2 million in a fused Halos True Form, this Value would be multiplied by 2 and become 4 million if Noah cast his skills while sitting on the Throne of Unnamed Tyranny.

"..."

Clear and concise!

This would allow a fully serious Noah to only be a single million Values away from the attack of a beginner LEGEND...and again, this man was still considered to be on the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy!

This was already anomalous enough, but then there was the latter description of the Throne of Unnamed Tyranny.

A TABOO feature termed <Sanguine Adequation> was born from it as at this moment, the Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells tyrannical spreading to bathe Noah's three Aspects of Existence finally made sense.

BZZZT!

Noah's will focused on his raging Origin that buzzed with 10 Billion Royal Cosmos across his form of a stellar bloody sea, this small limitation about to be tipped over by the overpowering strength of the Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells along with the Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor!

A small limitation...that Noah wanted to entirely eradicate at this moment as he called out lightly.

"Throne of Unnamed Tyranny."

WAA!

In the stellar bloody sea where the Throne of Arcadian Tyranny was already swimming in, a bloody throne filled with golden engravings that seemed like a seat that an Emperor from ancient times should be sitting on appeared.

It pulsed with a bloody light as the moment Noah's visage bathed it, he called out once more!

"<Sanguine Adequation.>"

THRUM!

Blood Adequation.

The equalization of the Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells that had pervaded his Aspects of Existence as with their connection...Noah pulled upon his cerulean liquified soul that was now tinged with a hint of red, this small sea beginning to bubble and burn as painful waves surged through it!

This aspect had already succeeded and had been advancing across the Primogenial Strata, and now its strength would be reduced and burned to elevate another Aspect of Noah's Existence!

The targets were the tough Royal Cosmos that may euphoric his Origin as from his soul, wisps of blue colored soul shaking flames rose and spread out to bathe the Cosmos of his Origin.

The moment they did so...

BOOOOOM!

A restriction was utterly shredded in an instant!

Chapter 1750 VENERABLE! III

<Limit Breaker>.

A distinction that made it so that a being who had broken his limits in one aspect of existence would have an easier time exceeding the other limits as well.

At this time, this factor along with the Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor, the Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells, and the TABOO Authority of Sanguine Adequation all came together to pound the limitation of 10 Billion Cosmos before one broke through the Seventh Firmament by forging their Reality Passages!

They pounded this limitation as with the undeniable TABOO authority of Sanguine Adequation that burned Noah's very own Primogenial Soul, it became shredded in an instant as the overbearing soul strength bloomed a million more Royal Cosmos in a microsecond.

BOOOOOM!

The stellar red sea seethed with utter madness and regality as Royal Cosmos began to proliferate within Noah's Origin, the burning of the Primogenial Soul meaning its sacrificed strength was directly transferred over to the Origin as nothing else was required to forge the Royal Cosmos!

But...

"Halt."

WAA!

Noah still halted the usage of Sanguine Adequation just moments after he started it as...he only needed to break across the limitation. After it was done, he had many other means he could display!

In the next instant, an incandescent Seed of Reality was pulled from the Expansive Space as it appeared in the center of the stellar red sea.

A Seed of Reality was enough for one to birth 100 Billion Cosmos required before they could forge their Reality at the Ninth Firmament, and it was ground to pure liquid mass the moment that it appeared within Noah's visage as its essence continued where the wisps of blue soul flames had left and caused an even wilder proliferation of the Royal Cosmos!

A single normal Royal Cosmos was already equivalent to 2 normal Cosmos, where Noah would only be able to get 50 Billion Cosmos from a single Seed of Reality.

After the Unanimity of the Parsimonious Emperor further expanded and strengthened these Royal Cosmos and then the Kainos Primordial Mesenchymal Cells did the same, their worth and mass came to be 3 times compared to normal Cosmos as Noah would only get a bit over 30 Billion Royal Cosmos from a single Seed of Reality!

So as they began to proliferate, three more Seeds releasing the grandiose allure of Cosmos appeared and were liquified right away as millions of Royal Cosmos began to form within Noah's Origin.

HOOOOONG!

A glorious bloody light of power began to spread out as the minor Limitation of 10 Billion was utterly shredded as one of the first actions of the TABOO Sanguine concept, Noah's eyes gazing further ahead at the True 100 Billion Limitation that lay ahead!

The number that remained the same across the stages of power.

100 Billion Galaxies to form a Universe.

100 Billion Universes to form a Cosmos!

100 Billion Cosmos to form a Reality!

This number...Noah wanted to exceed it and see what would happen.

There were many questions with it as unlike the Soul, the Origin made up the core as if it wasn't a Reality- could it be considered in the Primogenial Strata?

How many beings apart from Noah had already broken this 100 Billion Limitation and what results did they achieve? Was it unique to them or a stage that was the same for all Limit Breakers?

There were many mysteries to unfold, and Noah would slowly peel back the layers as he slowly established where he was at compared to others!

<There have been many exceptional beings with unbelievable foundations over the Ages.>

As he was lost within his thoughts, Lavalliere's voice rang out after being quiet this whole time.

<The Age of Destiny had existences who had broken the limits to one Aspect of Existence with those breaking the limits of two aspects of Existence before achieving Reality being even rare as the records...do not show whether those who had exceeded all three limits of Aspects of Existence existed.>

WAA!

Amidst his Origin blooming with millions of Royal Cosmos as he tore apart the limitations of the Seventh Firmament without even forging his Reality Passages, Noah wanted to ask about a single person he cared most about- OPPENHEIMER!

What was the foundation of this being like? Was what Noah doing now exceeding what he had accomplished in the past, or was he still off?

He wanted to ask this, but he already knew the answer from Lavalliere as his will remained silent while sensing the profound changes spreading out within him.

<Destiny was more flourishing in that Age...with it standing at paramount importance as it was the last Age of an extremely long Era.>

WAA!

The Last Age of the Olden Era!

<It had profound significance as those who rose up in this Age were extremely powerful, with those who are still living growing up to become terrifying beings. But that was then, and here we are now.>

The words of Lavalliere seemed to be filled with hidden secrets and emotions that Noah's couldn't grasp at this moment, but she finished her words in a spectacular fashion as she laid the foundation for astounding possibilities.

<The Last Age of an Era was that important, so what about the First Age of this new Kainos Era? Will the foundations and destinies from the beings rising in this Age be greater or lower than the Age of Destiny...>

She ended her words at such a point as Noah's surging will couldn't help but speak out!

"You can continue...>

<Ay, no, it's okay. Just authorize the utilization of more Uses and I can speak freely. But...here you are with the possibility of exceeding a second Aspect of Existence without even forging your Reality Passages yet. Focus on it and let's see what kind of foundation you can build.>

HOOOONG!

Her words ended as the incandescent brilliance around Noah became even more vibrant, his stellar crimson gold bloody sea surging with scintillating lights of more Cosmos as with the short period of time during their conversation, the number of Royal Cosmos had exceeded 20 Billion as the number was still climbing higher!

And the boons of the elevation of the Sanguine Emperor to TABOO...weren't even done yet!
