Chapter 1761 Sanctums and Nacres!

In a unique spatial domain.

Three beings stood above an endlessly stretching river of stellar bodies, one of them dominating the current space as his authority of a LEGEND released itself freely while floating slightly higher to the other two existences in the Firmaments of Ascendancy!

Brightborn was gazing at Noah with eyes that swirled with a devouring light as he heard a question from this genius to his proposal.

"May I ask why you are interested in it the most? Can you enlighten me more on the matters of the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum?"

His words didn't deny Brightborn as this being kept his brilliant smile after that, folding his hands behind his back as he spoke freely.

"Within a vast Grotto Sanctum, Naturally Formed Domain Spaces exist as the core of the Sanctum will produce magnificent treasures over the years, with the Domain Spaces ranging with rarity on just what they contain as the one universal thing you will find...are Grotto Nacres."

WAA!

Grotto Nacres!

<Hey, you don't have to listen to this boring guy's explanation. If you just allow me to go through .25 Uses, I'll tell you all about Grotto Nacres and the basics of Grotto Sanctums that this little thing doesn't even know.>

...!

In the Cosmic Holy Land, Lavalliere's voice jumped in and interrupted as Noah raised his brows, his body currently surrounded by many stellar lights as it constantly pulsed with fantastical power.

"I might just have to take you up on that one...hold on though."

A thorough set of knowledge on Grotto Sanctums! This would be extremely crucial for Noah for what he was about to do, where he could obtain another edge on the monstrous Primordials who were also about to enter this place!

<Wasting precious words on this guy...> Lavalliere spoke nonchalantly and Noah returned to the scene of Alexander, Genevieve, and Brightborn atop the stellar river.

This LEGEND had a profound look as he spoke.

"For one to enter the stage of Reality, their Origin has to rotate like one as this will initiate the <Resonance> with their other 2 Aspects of Existence. Achieving this <Resonance> is what stops many beings from ever forming a Reality, with those who have weak foundations, insufficient support from their Reality Passages, or a myriad of other factors never being able to achieve the state of Resonance and take that final step. But once one is able to..."

BZZZT!

The very surroundings began to tremble at his words as the body of Brightborn became suffused with a wondrous light of authority!

The surrounding space fractured and reformed with bursts of white constantly as his pure body strength alone seemed to have been joined with his Origin and Soul to achieve a terrifying stage!

"Strata."

OOOM!

"One starts to Ascend the Strata of Reality starting at the Primogenial Strata as advancing within Strata is not effective with the past treasures merely filled with different essences that allowed one to increase their Cosmos or refine their bodies slightly. To advance across one's Strata, Grotto Nacres are the most useful as they refine your Strata...and allow for the birth of your Empyral Origin Bones!"

...!

This was why Grotto Nacres were so crucial.

And Grotto Sanctums were the only place that birthed them- these locations being born from clusters of Reality as even Noah wasn't fully understanding of their nature!

'How does my Infinite Reality compare with Grotto Sanctums? I've fused over a thousand Realities in it as after a few thousand more, it should reach the next rank. Would something like the condensation of Grotto Nacres be possible then?'

WAA!

Noah had a terrifying thought as he thought about his Infinite Reality, his clone of Alexander listening intently to the LEGEND Brightborn as he nodded!

He also subtly saw how Brightborn spoke briefly about something like Grotto Nacres allowing for the birth of Empyral Origin Bones! What was this? Something that only came to be after one forged their own Reality?

In the Cosmic Holy Land, Noah's will turned to Lavalliere as he asked lightly.

"You can't even speak of this if it has already been said?"

<Well, not much. All I can say without a price being paid is that even though you've undergone reformation of your body and origin a few times, the stage of a LEGEND is the place you truly begin your reformation onto something greater. And this reformation requires a Strata to be established as with it, your Reality Passages, and other resources like Nacres- one can begin to nourish their Organs, Bones, and Musculature to birth Empyral Bones, Organs, and Musculature within their bodies. When all parts of you are nourished and your Strata has advanced a few times, you can be considered accomplished in these barren lands as your foundation is set.>

HOOONG!

Astounding words were released from Lavalliere as they expanded greatly from the information that either Brightborn didn't have or didn't choose to share!

Nourishing everything within one's body with your Strata to form Empyral Bones, Organs, and Musculature!

Apart from one's Strata, the nourishing also required Reality Passages and was further enhanced with the treasures even LEGENDS heavily sought after- Grotto Nacres.

"Wild..."

THUMP!

Noah could feel the beat of his heart clearly as blood surged all around with excitement.

Just when he thought he had seen and understood everything, an even larger path opened itself up before his eyes!

<With Empyral Bones, Organs, and Musculature- one can inscribe their concepts and skills unto them as with a move of their fingers or brows, they can manifest reified wills without any energy consumption as it would be like raising a hand or breathing- everything returning to nature...ay, I can feel the chains of Karma getting tighter as I'm speaking too freely without uses being spent- I'll have to stop here.>

THUMP!

Lavalliere made her voice to sound pitiful near the end as she baited Noah to utilize more Uses, dropping another load of shocking information before she stopped!

Inscribe one's concepts and abilities onto their bones and organs as casting them becomes second nature, merely moving your limbs causing a change in phenomena as you could release REIFIED Abilities!

Chapter 1762 A Cycle is Completed!

The new ideas being introduced caused Noah's mind to buzz with possibilities as he thought of the LEGENDS he had met so far.

He didn't get to observe too much of this shocking power as either the formation of Empyral Bones, Organs, and Musculature were so insanely hard that they hadn't formed them yet- or they were the strongest abilities that they didn't display before him.

There were still too many unknowns as while Noah pondered, Brightborn continued his spiel in the unique stellar domain he had brought him and Genevieve into!

"In this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum, you might even become a LEGEND if your foundation is robust enough- and this will allow you to further excel against the monstrous geniuses from the Pure Reality and the Obsidian Adjudicator Commanders...at that time, just remember your ties to us and preserve some of the treasures you attain for an even brighter future."

The boundless visage of Brightborn pressed down as Noah's clone gave a smile and a nod.

"I'll keep this in mind."

"Mm." A smile became etched on Brightborn's face at this moment as off to the side, the figure of Genevieve jumped in with vibrant words!

"Uncle Brightborn...for bringing in such a genius as a follower into our Bloodline, I feel like I deserve a reward."

...!

Genevieve's eyes were shining with a sharp light as she finally made a move to attain something from Noah's wild actions.

"Oh?"

The eyes of the LEGEND flashed with immeasurable might as he turned his attention to Genevieve.

"Your identity is special as you already have everything Little Gen, what could you want?"

The Future Candidate Ruler to be the Bloodline Master who could control the resources of a Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline to grant themselves a stupendous foundation among other things! Most things were at her fingertips as what could she seek?

A smile rose subtly as Genevieve walked towards Brightborn while speaking out.

"The Royal Treasury...I want to see if I am Destined to pick out a TABOO Relic before becoming a Bloodline Master. This will also increase my power for the exploration of the dangerous Grotto Sanctum and collecting Grotto Nacres and other treasures will be easier!"

HOONG!

Waves of destiny weaved out as the purpose of Genevieve was made clear!

Brightborn became thoughtful as he thought about her last words, eventually nodding as the smile on Genevieve only became deeper.

"Then, we shall leave it to destiny."

The Royal Treasury.

The location that in its inner depths, the body of a Sacred Beast was kept hidden for the past years!

Her body and origin....she should be able to regain some things easier if she could just get near it. This was what she had calculated destiny would allow her to achieve from Noah's actions.

So Genevieve's mood became entirely happy at this moment as she didn't know the enemy she was plotting against was even happier- because the stronger she was...

'The more loot you will give me...'

WAA!

Noah had his own plans as he felt a spatial light begin to wrap around him once more.

"Finish your preparations for now then. Those who will be traveling with you all will arrive in the next day or two as I shall lead you guys towards the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum on the third day."

Noah was the only one disappearing as he nodded towards Brightborn and Genevieve, these two having a whole other trip to make as Genevieve had a chance to regain more of her power when delving deeper into the Royal Treasury!

As for Noah...

'It seems like I need to finish my preparations before three days are up.'

He had many things to do as three days...should be more than sufficient for him to make great strides!

<Finally, what are we starting with first?>

Lavalliere's mesmerizing voice echoed in his mind as in the Cosmic Holy Land, Noah gave the command.

"There are two Uses remaining...so let's use 1.5 to forge that Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi that will pair with the Infinite Dream Physique to allow for the theoretical forging of Infinite Reality Passages!"

HOOONG!

The Cosmic Holy Land began to buzz with shocking activity once more as a True Sanguine Clone came under the authority of Lavalliere- being taken into a Dream as Absolute Dream Authority began to rage out.

At the same time, Noah's body was releasing arcs of fantastical light as his Royal Cosmos had actually reduced to 500 Billion from the 613 Billion- and this was due to him using Sanguine Adequation to burn the strength of his Origin to go towards the Body while still utilizing the Seeds of Reality to forge more Cosmos!

After the strength of the Origin flooded into the Body this whole time paired with the Pure Royal Physique that increased his rate of Physique Refinement by 3x...the barrier he had to break for the body was nearing as to top it off, a Cycle came to completion at this moment.

HOOOONG!

Lustrous Dream Essence overflowed in a storm of wonder around Noah as the white stellar sand storm became even denser while a prompt rose up.

<The First Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique has been completed.>

WAA!

Around Noah's body that had reverted back to his stellar form, illusory and wide Runic Markings flashed and faded over his body constantly as they seemed to come and go like a Dream. They shone with a pristine white sandy light as they surged through Noah's body, seeming to hug him tightly and provide him with an endless source of power from another Dimension entirely!

<After the completion of the First Cycle of Infinite Dream Physique, the True Reality Damage Values and True Reality Defense Values have been increased by 200 as the number of Reality Passages you can forge has increased by 30.>

This wasn't all as soon after, radiant white Runic Ecritures that read <DREAM> began to bloom around Noah's body.

<The Runic Ecriptions of DREAM begin to surround you as the completion of the First Cycle grants you the Maximum Reserves of Dream Essence of 100,000. The current DREAM Ecriptions allow for the passive daily generation of 50,000 Units of Dream Essence.>

WAA!

Wondrous changes were taking place as Noah's preparations unfolded fully, his body feeling a sense of tightness after completing the First Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique as this meant...a glass ceiling of the Body neared.

Another Limit came close as the Unnamed Kainos Emperor was ready to eradicate it!

Chapter 1763 A Pristine Foundation! I

While a single existence completed his preparations, things were becoming extremely active in the vast Realities as the upcoming event held a somewhat significant importance to the rising Primordials.

Outside of this all, chaos still permeated throughout as many Bloodlines still waged war against the Primordials with the Enders of Reality- with the destruction of Realities still occurring constantly at a small scale as even though the Adjudicator Legions and Will Bearers were many, they couldn't oversee everything!

And yet even in the midst of protecting their borders and reinforcing their defenses, the most powerful Adjudicator Commanders and Will Bearers got ready to enter a fantastical opportunity to elevate their power even more- with even the attention of the utter royalty from the Pure Reality turning towards this direction as the untouchable forces from this place would also be mobilized.

The blessed Obsidian Adjudicator Commanders from the Pure Reality! The True Royalty from the Primordial Bloodlines whose power was unshakable as they bathed upon the allure of the visage of the Main Reality for much of their lives!

All of the existences with a profound foundation were getting ready for what was to come as even though this exploration of a single Unexplored Grotto Sanctum would include many beings- it didn't mean all of the talented existences across the vast Realities would be here.

Some geniuses from the Pure Reality had support from their Lineage of LEGENDS as they had already explored multiple Grotto Sanctums. Some geniuses with Mythical Natural Born Physiques were known as Guaranteed Limit Breakers as they were raised with care and weren't allowed to risk their lives before breaking into the Realm of Reality.

There were even the non Primordial Bloodlines with their own geniuses across the vast Realities who continued seeking their own fortune elsewhere, with other Bloodlines even having connections and inheritances from the Ancient Bloodlines of the past Era!

So there were many factors and beings to consider as among those participating and those not, some were worthy of note.

Across the vast Realities. Within a unique location that actually held the visage of a shattered Grotto Sanctum.

An exceedingly curvaceous young woman floated amidst the wreckage as around her, there were deadly spatial storms and phenomena that could tear apart the defenses of Ninth Firmament existences if they were careless. She was accompanied by a devilishly handsome dark haired young man with blue eyes beside her as behind the two of them, a Legion composed of Ninth and Eighth Firmament Primordials could be seen.

The shimmering dark hair of this regal young woman shone as her eyes were sharp and filled with dominance, turning her gaze towards the handsome man beside her as they explored the shattered Grotto Sanctum.

"I don't even know why I'm listening to you, Eckert. All those annoying guys who think the Realities are under their feet are going into that Unexplored Grotto Sanctum, and yet here I am going the other direction."

Her face carried power and ingenuity as she spoke, the blue eyes of the man beside her releasing arcs of light as he spoke freely!

"It's going to be packed with so many people, what can an outcast like you who is ignored by her Bloodline do there? Ah, what a sad reality for the great Europa..."

...!

"Getting a little fucking cheeky there, aren't we?" The eyes of Princess Europa condensed flames as they shone brightly, the figure of Eckert actually moving closer to her and gazing at the Legion behind them as he seemingly whispered something in her ear.

"I've confirmed over and over again that there's no fortune or destiny for us there, with a calamity actually coming for many of those that enter the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum...so why should we go? While the eyes of all these geniuses are turned over there, we can continue following traces of this Ancient Bloodline..."

WAA!

The eyes of Europa flashed at these words as the Eighth and Ninth Firmament Primordials forming a Legion behind them looked at this scene of this man being so close to the princess with eyes shooting out flames of anger!

"If you're wrong..."

"When have I ever been wrong recently?"

The two beings went back and forth as the dark pupils of Europa locked onto the cerulean blue of Eckert before a decision was reached.

"Ah, let's go see where this Kun Peng Empyral Bone leads us then..."

Europa agreed after locking her gaze with Eckert's long enough, continuing forward as this young man beside her had many thoughts swirling in his mind!

He didn't tell her the true reason he recommended for them to back off the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum as he couldn't reveal this too freely!

'I just confirmed with that monster that he's going there...if we go, won't we just be fighting for scraps?'
...!.

The participants of this event were too monstrous as this being had seen a shocking calamity would descend. As for what form this calamity would take? Eckert didn't fully know as it could just be from a single being.

'Well, let's see if I can obtain a full Ancient Bloodline first to reforge my foundation...I can't fall too far behind that anomaly!'

With a sharp and unseen gaze, this being continued forward as the weaving of destiny wrapped itself differently around many beings!

In another location, close to the Pure-Blooded Domains of the Royal Humans- but also extremely far apart.

It was far apart because even though the will of the being stemmed from the Pure Blooded Domains, it had entered a Dimension through here that was filled with countless Mirror like structures stretching around endlessly!

Her silver hair flowed down her smooth shoulders as she was currently submerged in a viscous silver lake shining with scintillating lights, with the periphery of this lake actually being surrounded by a row of enormous Mirror Beasts taking the forms of a myriad of Bloodlines as their bodies gave off terrific waves of power!

Each one released an aura far surpassing a Legend's Visage as they shocking approached an average Adjudicator Commander's level of power- and there were tens of such Mirror Beasts protectively surrounding this incandescent silver lake this existence was swimming in as it was a shocking reality that would even cause a powerful LEGEND to be shocked.

Yet on the exceedingly beautiful face of this existence surrounded protectively by such power, sadness and frustration could be felt that nearly caused the surrounding Mirror Beasts to howl out in sympathy!

"Mother...just where are you?"

WAA!

Chapter 1764 A Pristine Foundation! II

The visage of Adjudicator Katelyn was submerged in the mesmerizing silver lake surrounded by shocking Mirror Beasts whose bodies pulsed with power.

These types of Beasts could be found past the periphery of the Mirror Dimension where LEGENDS roamed, and yet they fell under the command of this being as she held a truly special Mythical Natural Born Physique!

Her mother was a unique Dimensional Existence as her father was a renowned LEGEND of the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Human Bloodline, her own both being a miracle as she was bound for glory.

Yet she floated in the silver lake as her blessings could at times be seen floating up and down, her gaze full of melancholy as she sighed.

"A mother that doesn't want me, and a sister that hates me...must they all be so focused on power? Must they struggle and fight so much?!"

A trace of anger could be felt in her sadness as she shook her head again.

"Power..."

BZZZT!

She raised her fair hands as her body shone with an incandescent silver slight the bodies of ten Mirror Beasts in the periphery of the lake rising up as they malformed and changed constantly, eventually joining and fusing together in a shocking fashion as an enormous Mirror Beast the size of multiple Cosmos began to form!

A Mirror Beast that shockingly...began to give off the visage of none other than a LEGEND as its body became armored in crystalline silver light!

"Power is fickle."

Katelyn shook her head as she waved her hand again, this fused Mirror Beast breaking apart into 10 once more as she shook her head.

"If my heart and words cannot reach them..."

OOOM!

Silver radiance began to bloom out as she rose, her wondrous body becoming covered and wrapped in a regal mirror armor as the sadness from her eyes was wiped away, calmness and serenity returning.

"...then I will use the power they hold so dear to reach them."

WAA!

Astounding radiance and destiny erupted out as an existence that didn't have any goals began to form grand aspirations.

She was just one of the contenders who would be delving into the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum as the rest of the beings to come...were bound to shake the vast Realities with their grandeur!

In the Cosmic Holy Land, time passed as an existence forged his foundation to a shocking level.

Multiple Physiques were completed for his body as a stupendous Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique was also achieved, with Sanguine Adequation being put to use as for the sake of exceeding the Aspect of the Body- the strength of the Origin would be burnt along with Noah cultivating multiple Physiques at the same time!

One was the Infinite Dream Physique, the second was the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique that Noah could now refine 2 more times after the elevation of Unnamed Kainos Emperor, and the Limit Breaking Arcadian Physique that required the Blood of Eighth Firmament existences and higher to forge.

Normally, all the different methods of refinement had their own requirements, but Noah was once more breaking apart normality as with Sanguine Adequation, he had rapidly increased the pace of the Infinite Dream Physique to complete a Cycle.

Now, he would be doing the same thing with the other two Physiques as so long as he provided the initial requirement for the refinement- Sanguine Adequation would take him the rest of the way there as it transferred the power of the Primogenial Strata and fused it into the Aspect of his Body!

So currently, Noah was surrounded by vibrant colors of essences as he seemed like an ancient king pulling apart and putting together aspects of his body, constantly refining them and strengthening them as above his head- stellar Seeds of Reality were breaking apart and turning into a multicolored liquid that flowed into him.

At the same time, one of his True Sanguine Clones was undergoing a fantastical dream as the voice of Lavalliere guided him through it.

<Reality Passages are unique as they allow you to access more resources, but they are also a limiting factor as if you have a few of them, your path forward is abysmal. You aren't the first being to seek continuous forging of Reality Passages as others seek many other methods for it- but it is still all dependent on yourself whether such a feat can be truly pulled off.>

In the Dream, Noah was standing in front of the edge of a vast Reality that clearly mimicked the Infinite Reality and the rotation of its Cosmos that came from over 1,000 other Realities!

Noah had pulled upon his connection with this treasure while forming the Runic Ecritures of Modus Operandi as he wanted to entirely base it on the rotation of his Reality, with the Infinite forging aspect of it also evolving with the Infinite Reality as the more Cosmos it added in the future...Noah wanted this to be reflected in his Modus Operandi as well.

Constantly changing.

Ever evolving!

The Infinite Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi!

BZZZT!

A fantastical cerulean began to form before Noah's eyes as his will was closely interconnected with the movements and rotations of the Cosmos of the Infinite Reality both in his Dream and reality.

The subtle movements in space. The push and pull of the stellar bodies!

As large as the movements as Cosmos and as minuscule as the rotates of the Universes within these Cosmos, their Galaxies, Quasars, Black Holes, Stars...and all the stellar bodies were focused on as the product to come from this was bound to be utterly stunning.

<Well, the results will be interesting.>

Lavalliere's voice echoed out as Noah's will covered the Infinite Reality entirely, the Clone within the Dream about to wake a resplendent blue page screaming of regality and ancientness was about to form!

<From Dream to Reality.>

HOOOONG!

Austere waves of Dream Essence pervaded the surroundings near Noah's main body and the body of the True Sanguine Clone as Lavalliere's mesmerizing voice boomed out all around.

<Absolute Dream Authority.>

WAAA!

A cerulean blue page began to materialize in the 'real world' as it boasted tremendous authority, this event coinciding with another as Noah's main body was also burning furiously at this moment!

Even with the Seeds of Reality constantly being liquified and surging into him, his Royal Cosmos were reduced to 380 Billion as he burned a significant amount to guarantee the transfer of tremendous Primogenial authority onto the Body!

This was to guarantee the breaking of a glass ceiling of another Aspect of Existence with ease as sacrificing nearly half of the Primogenial Casuistic Origin for this...

BOOOM!

Caused the three Physiques he was cultivating simultaneously to receive an explosive Reality breaking boost that defied everything to grant them completion.

<The Second Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique has been completed.>

<The Second Refinement of the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique has been completed.>

<The Refinement of the Limit Breaking Extreme Arcadian Physique has been completed.>

...!

Wondrous prompts began to bloom as soon after...

<You have exceeded the Limitations of the Aspect of the Body before achieving Reality.>

A terrifying reality set in as an existence that had exceeded the Limitations in all three Aspects of Existence was born.

<Your Body is undergoing elevation into the Primogenial Strata!>

A radiant glow of blue began to cover everything as similar to when his soul condensed into a cerulean blue liquid form, this color began to suffuse over his body as astounding changes began to take place!

Chapter 1765 A Pristine Foundation! III

The fundamental change of one's body achieving a Strata was too unique, Noah feeling everything about him being ground down and replaced rapidly.

The soul and Origin were hidden and housed in the body as they were extremely important, but they were all housed by the Body!

So Noah was currently undergoing one of the greatest changes as his Body attained a Strata after stacking up so many Physiques and refining it to a ridiculous level.

In the Cosmic Holy Land, his visage pulsed out with a cerulean blue light as while his bones and Musculature were undergoing a change in Strata, this blue light began to converge around him in a shocking manner as it seemed like a barrier of light made up from the very force of his Body was coagulating.

A barrier of light made up of all the base boosts of True Reality Defense Values that his many Physiques granted him as currently, they had long since exceeded 1,000 after the two cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique granted +400, and the recently finished refinements of the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana and Arcadian Physiques both collectively granted +200 more defense values!

An innate barrier of light that only LEGENDS got a chance to enjoy was forming at this moment around Noah during this shocking process as the prompts continued to rain down.

<From being unranked, your Body becomes distinguished as it breaks into a stage granted to those who have exceeded the base requirements before forging their Reality.>

HOOONG!

An incandescent allure of light.

A flash of blue radiance that covered everything!

And then...

<Your Body has exceeded its Limitations and achieved the Primogenial Strata.>

<Your Reserves of Fortune and Destiny are increasing in their refinement.>

<Your Reserves of Mana are increasing in their refinement.>

<Your Maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality have increased by 300,000.>

His body was suffused by pure unadulterated splendor as the moment his very cells reached a new stage and everything was reformed- his whole body seemed to be bathed in a distinct blue light as the biggest boon of a Primogenial Body showed itself.

<Your Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier has formed.>

WAA!

Cerulean in color and barely discernible, it flowed over his skin as one may not even be able to see it or touch it.

Yet it pulsed with such astounding power that Noah had to view it while withholding the Prompts that wanted to continue coming!

<Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier>:: A Passive innate barrier that forms over you protectively. Originally, it forms when one's three Aspects of Existence have resonated and established a single Primogenial Strata as it grants innate defense against True Reality Soul Damage and Physical Damage Values, but no resonance has occurred yet as currently- this Innate Barrier only provides protection against True Reality Physical Damage Values. The level of protection granted is calculated to be half of the strongest Defense Values reachable with your Base True Reality Defense Values and your strongest Ascendant True Form along with the multiplier of your fused Halos. Current Innate True Reality Physical Defense Values- 6,500,000

...!

An innate barrier of protection that granted Noah half of the defense Values he would reach in his strongest Ascendant True Form while fused with his Halos!

And this was a distinction that had to be clear- it wasn't the True Form, but the Ascendant True Form. This Innate Primogenial Barrier didn't take into account the fusing of his 40 Ascendancy Halos.

It took into account Noah fusing with his Primogenial Ascendancy Domain that came from the seamless fusion of all his Halos!

A change that would distinguish him among others as more than this, it required him to utilize 600,000 Units of the Essence of Reality to activate and even 200,000 Units every microsecond to keep it active.

His Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier took the Ascendant True Form that would come from fusing with this domain and calculated the base True Defense Values with the multiplier of such a combination as previously...this multiplier wasn't known.

The base multiplier for fusing with 40 Ascendancy Halos was 2,500.

The multiplier for the Infinite Willow Tree True Form came out to be 3,500 after its racial boost when 40 Ascendancy Halos were fused with Noah. But this wasn't his strongest True Form.

The strongest form he could take was naturally the Unnamed Kainos Emperor that took in the strongest aspects of all of his Bloodlines, and the multiplier of this Ascendant True Form under the Primogenial Ascendancy Domain could now be inferred from the Innate Defense Value Noah would always have around his body!

6.5 Million in defense Values.

Noah's defense Values had long exceeded 1,000 as if we include the boosts from his Physiques and the addition of 25+ Ecritures of VITALITY coursing through his blood, we can approximate this number to be over 1,300+.

Noah's innate barrier granted him half of the strongest Defense Value he could reach with his base values, so the 6.5 million would actually lead us to believe that the strongest Defense Value Noah could reach with his Ascendant True Form under the Primogenial Ascendancy Domain was 13,000,000!

More than double the basic damage value of a Legend!

And for this to come to be from a Base Defense Value of 1,300...it meant that the multiplier was ridiculously 10,000.

Not the 3,500 of the Infinite Willow Tree that was considered one of the 5 strongest reigning Bloodlines- but a 10,000 multiplier was what Noah's Unnamed Kainos Emperor under the fused Primogenial Ascendancy Halo that took a crazy number of Units of the Essence of Reality to keep active granted!

It was something utterly ridiculous, but it made Noah's innate defense barrier that always passively surrounded him exceed the base attack of a LEGEND by 1.5 million.

It meant that even average beginner LEGENDS who hadn't done much to strengthen themselves in this stage...a single attack from them would not even be able to bypass Noah's innate defenses before he cast any defensive skills.

WAA!

Those in the Firmaments of Ascendancy...could only despair when they faced Noah!

Chapter 1766 A Pristine Foundation! IV

Noah had reached a truly shocking state by exceeding the Limits of all Three Aspects of Existence before breaking into the Realm of Reality.

Unless it was geniuses who had exceeded their Limits or those with Mythical Natural Born Physiques, others shouldn't even show themselves before his eyes!

But even with all this wonder, one must keep in mind that the 6.5 Million innate defense was half of what Noah at his strongest would achieve. It was a state that he might be able to keep active for a few microseconds as with his normal state where he just had his Ascendancy Halos out and in a non-fused state, his multiplier was only 100 from each Halo- or a range of 3,000 if he fused with lesser True Forms without calling for the ridiculous Primogenial Ascendancy Domain.

If he also simply fused his Unnamed Kainos Emperor with the 40 Ascendancy Halos without activating the ridiculous Essence of Reality draining Primogenial Ascendancy Domain, he expected his multiplier to be a bit over 5,000 as even this was a ridiculous number for his Attack and Defense Values when he cast his abilities!

What Noah had reached currently was enough to make average geniuses in the Firmaments of Ascendancy cry as gradually, only anomalies and LEGENDS were becoming those who could even stand against him!

His eyes gazed at the thin blue barrier protectively hugging his skin as he let out a brilliant smile, his eyes blinking to let the remaining prompts he had been holding back flow down once more.

<An Astounding Achievement! You have achieved the Primogenial Strata Body before the formation of Reality as your Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline has been elevated slightly, your Candidacy as a Kainos Emperor being further solidified.>

...!

His solidified crown began to shine with utmost splendor as his stellar form with the purple blue Cosmos tinged with a golden light made him look like a stellar cosmic existence that shouldn't be touched!

<Your authority as an Emperor of this Age has risen slightly.>

His stellar arms and legs were outstretched as his sculpted form was clear, his clearly defined muscles and eight pack abs coursing with vibrant undeniable Essence that would cause even average beginner LEGENDS to be wary!

His crown was spinning and washing his body down with astounding golden light as another letter was beginning to form next to <ETH>, but the brightness this time was too astounding as it didn't seem to be even close to being done.

BZZZT!

<You have exceeded all three Aspects of Existence before the stage of Reality.>

...!

Yes.

Noah didn't just exceed the Limit of his body this time, but it also signified him exceeding all three limitations of the Aspects of Existence.

A Pristine Foundation.

A wondrous achievement!

There was a distinction and wonder that came from this!

<Your authority as an Emperor of this Age has risen moderately.>

HUUUM!

His stretched out stellar body exploded out with magisterial wonder and authority, boundless Ecritures swirling around him as the last prompt had changed from the many he had been getting so far, with his authority as an Emperor of this Age increasing <Moderately> and not <Slightly> due to this achievement!

The crown above his head spun with grandeur as multiple characters bloomed this time, not just a single letter.

From <ETH>, the letters E, R, E, A, L appeared one after another as the significance of what had been done with time was truly profound!

BZZZT!

A final glow of luster blazed out as it didn't end at the word <ETHEREAL>, a space appearing as the letters began to form next to it.

Not a single word of distinction, but two!

There was no suspense or need to guess.

The authority and distinction surrounding Noah's solidified crown wasn't complete, but Noah could already guess what it was!

"Ethereal Emperor..."

HOOONG!

He uttered out the distinction as his surroundings raged madly, the radiance he released even overpowering the cerulean blue page he was actualizing from the Dream of his Clone not too far away!

This was Noah Osmont.

This was the stage he had reached A bit over a year since he became an existence that could utilize Mana!

Were there any others that could even compare?!

Across the vast stretches of Realities. Within the depths of a Grotto Sanctum near the Pure Reality.

Inside a domain filled with stellar glacial storms, a figure could be seen atop a shattered frozen mountain staring down towards an enemy that was currently kneeling while breathing out heavily- an expression of amazement present on this kneeling existence!

The one that had brought him to his knees had the visage of an ancient kingly bear whose very body seemed to be made up of countless shimmering Cosmos- this being the form of a Reality Ursidae!

A fantastical crown floated above this being as the ecritures reading <EMPE> spun around it, an expression of immense confidence and regality shooting out from the eyes of this Reality Bear that stood on its hind legs and had its stellar claws bearing down towards the kneeling enemy.

The force of these claws were supported by his body and the fantastical Reality Passages that occupied the space behind him- one being capable of shockingly seeing over 100 Reality Passages releasing splendorous lights and causing the pressure this being gave to be that of utter madness!

Yet by the end of it all, one would be shocked to feel that it was still distinctly a pressure of the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy.

This kingly majestic Reality Ursidae imposed such a pressure as an attack of his had caused the enemy opposing him to kneel- this kneeling enemy causing anyone seeing this scene to nearly die of shock as stupendously, it was an existence who gave off the untouchable aura of a LEGEND.

An existence of the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy...doing something that caused a LEGEND to actually kneel down!

"You cheeky child...showing no respect to your Elders now that the time for you to become LEGEND nears! This Unexplored Grotto Sanctum has caused you to become too riled up!" The body of the LEGEND that was also a Reality Ursidae vibrated with intense power as its Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier reformed, amazement and a smile present on his face as behind him- a REIFIED Ability began to form.

Yet the Reality Ursidae at the top of the cracking glacial mountain actually swooped down with confidence to face the attack head on, his mesmerizing voice echoing out with the authority of TABOO as a terrifying glow surged out from him.

"Be careful, Elder."

BZZZT!

Utter splendor clashed as an existence at the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy faced a LEGEND Reality Ursidae, this merely being one of the contenders who would enter the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum!

Chapter 1767 Those Seeking The Throne! I

In another location.

In the deepest parts of the Pure Blooded Domains of the Dragon Phoenix Bloodline located within the Pure Reality.

Across an expansive and endless blue sky, a golden robed young man giving off a mystical aura stopped as he raised his head up- staring at the endless expanse above as if he could see something others couldn't. A solidified crown spun above his as the ecriture <EMPEROR> could be seen circling around the crown reverentially.

A party of Ninth Firmament experts giving off a semblance of an aura like his could be seen behind him as right beside him, an old man with the genuine aura of a LEGEND could be seen!

This old man saw the imperceptible look from this young man as he spoke with respect.

"What has the Young Emperor seen?"

A LEGEND spoke to an existence that had yet to reach the stage of Reality with respect as this devilishly handsome young man actually smiled while speaking out terrifying words.

"Just the destiny within the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum becoming even murkier...making it hard for even me to discern it."

...!

This caused surprise and alarm to rise from those around this being, and it was because they knew just how terrifying the perception and understanding this being had towards fate and destiny!

"Shall we...let the others know?" The old man LEGEND spoke out cautiously as the young man shook his head.

"No. Those who are truly understanding will realize the true importance of this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum. It is the first Natural Domain Space in a while that has actually restricted entrance for anyone that has already formed a Reality...it is bound to be filled with mysteries to even cause Father to send me in."

WAA!

Shocking words echoed out from this being as they revealed more truth about what this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum was all about!

It wasn't actually that the Primordial LEGENDS were magnanimous and wanted to use this as another Destined springboard for the next generation- but it just so happened to fit perfectly as the truth that only the truly powerful knew was that LEGENDS actually could not enter!

Beings of utmost power were not allowed past the gates of this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum, and thus those strongest below the stage of LEGENDS were required for the exploration and reporting back.

Why was this? What authority could actually defy the wills of LEGENDS across Strata?

The eyes of the Young Emperor were bright as they gazed up and seemed to read the skies themselves, smiling lightly as he soon continued on his way, his party following behind him closely as his serene words echoed out.

"It should be an interesting time. I haven't mixed in with other Limit Breakers in a while..."

...!

The scene of this shocking being faded as in another location, a similarly terrifying being that would also be making their way into the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum could be seen.

BOOOM!

"Come on, Fight!"

A shocking battle was taking place as one could see a stellar fiery existence wrapped in a Cosmic light- her whole body painted with a Cosmic skin as if her very being stemmed from cosmos!

Her face was exceedingly beautiful as she had sparkling eyes that shone like galactic suns, beams of molten cosmic lights constantly shooting off from them and shredding the surrounding space as if it were paper.

Her figure was exquisite and vibrant as stellar crimson flames surrounded her maddeningly, but she actually seemed small at this moment as she moved within the remains of a few destroyed Realities while facing an enormous Primordial Beast LEGEND!

The aura she gave off...was still at the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy.

Yet she was actually targeting an Ender of Reality at the stage of a LEGEND as this Ender took on the form of an enormous Reality Devouring Aether Serpent.

The stellar flames wrapped around her body tightly as they carried unbelievable power, causing space to shudder and turn white constantly as ridiculously, she was using her bare body alone to rush against the Primordial Beast LEGEND that was aiming for her life!

Over a hundred Reality Passages filled with roiling flames that made it seem like she had volcanic Passages of magma supporting her could be seen behind her- these Passages constantly pumping a unique essence into her small figure and causing her to erupt with even wilder power.

Around her stellar body, bountiful Runic ecritures lit up in golden flames surged- flashing in and out of Existence as she seemed like a holy flaming ancient creature that one shouldn't anger!

A solidified crown spun above her head at this moment as it had the ecritures of surging around her, the stellar hair flowing down to her shoulders lashing out like flames as her small fists actually smashed onto the scales of the Reality Devouring Aether Serpent.

And...

"ROAAR!!!"

A maddeningly fearful roar echoed out as the Innate Primogential Defense Barrier of the LEGEND was shattered with its scales torn and golden purple blood beginning to surge out like rivers- the unique fists this young woman wielded seeming to carry a terrifying power as unknown essence surged into the body of the Primordial Beast LEGEND and caused its injuries to be incapable of even healing.

"Ya! Ya! YA!"

Like a blaze of utter glory, the stellar visage of this existence from the Astral Bloodline illuminated the surroundings as she shot out her small fists rapidly- a barrage of illusory fists blooming out and smashing against the scales of the Reality Devouring Aether Serpent as maddeningly pained and fearful roars echoed out across the shattered Realities.

Golden purple blood of an existence from the genuine Primogential Strata began to overflow as the cause of it was an existence that had yet to forge her Reality!

Not too far away from this battle, the aura of two beings watching this scene with pride could be felt.

It was a man and woman pair that seemed to have walked out straight from a stellar wonderland, their bodies pristine with power and wonder as their bodies didn't release even an ounce of power- yet they were stable within a Strata at the stage of a LEGEND!

Uniquely, their crowns were only solidified with nothing else as the stellar woman looking to be in her 40s hugged the strong cosmic arm of the man beside her, her eyes shooting out lights of love and pride when gazing at the scene of the young woman utterly shredding a Primordial Beast LEGEND!

Chapter 1768 Those Seeking the Throne! II

"You think she'll be okay in that mysterious Grotto?"

The stellar LEGEND held on to the arm of her partner as she asked while looking at the vibrant young woman from afar.

"If our daughter is not okay among those going in, then nobody will be okay. Do not worry too much, we have given her everything as it is now time for her to forge her own destiny...with someone like her holding a genuine shot for the seat of the True Emperor!"

WAA!

Wondrous words came out from this husband and wife pair that didn't let out any waves of power- their stage belonging far above the Primogential Strata as they should be a Strata or two Strata above this.

Yet their solidified crowns...didn't hold any spinning ecritures as they showed their Candidacy to become a True Emperor of this Age was lower than even their daughter!

The authority of an Emperor of an Age.

All beings fought for it as the higher in power one was, the harder it was to be distinguished!

Below the stage of Reality, one could forge TABOO Edicts, Exceed the Limitations of the Aspects of Existence, forge a Bloodline unique to that Age or Era...and many other profound things that would allow them to become distinguished and increase their authority.

But within the stage of Reality and for those standing in higher Strata...the things they had to do to become distinguished were insurmountable harder.

This was why it became an unwritten understanding that if you lived through an Age and rose to power without becoming a True Emperor...you had more than likely lost your qualifications to do so forever!

This was why those who had been suppressing and building their foundation waiting for the First Age of the Kainos Era to begin...were those who had the highest chance of holding the seat of the True Emperor.

Of course, you had the powerful existences in higher Stratas who wanted to defy everything as even though it was much harder for them...they could still attain authority so long as they targeted rising Emperors and stole what they had built up so far!

It was a terrifying reality to think about as this was one of the reasons that reaching the seat of the True Emperor was insurmountably difficult.

Yet the eyes of the couple watching a Limit Breaker rip apart a genuine LEGEND shone with utmost confidence as the father repeated.

"She can do it. She holds a genuine shot!"

WAA!

The weaving of destiny pulsed vibrantly as this scene faded as well.

In a location that Noah's True Sanguine Clone of Alexander was actually near.

In the depths of the Pure Blooded Domains of the Royal Humans- across multiple layers of restrictions and Bloodline tests that required one to hold the authority of the current Lineage of Bloodline Master and the authority of one...it was the domain space that held the Royal Treasury!

Ta. Ta. Ta.

The light steps of Genevieve could be heard as she walked along a stellar golden road floating in space that was lined up on all sides by floating glimmering treasures.

Crystals, gems, jewels, weapons, and many more things filled with terrifying waves of energy could be seen as this was one of the treasure vaults of a Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodline!

One of the Treasure Vaults of a Bloodline that had lived for eons- it was something multiple times larger than Noah's Expansive Space as if he could get his hands on something like this...

Items releasing waves of Sui Generis Relics, Quasi-TABOO Relics, and even hidden TABOO Relics could be felt the deeper one went as those gaining access to this place would be sending their wills out to attain the Quasi-TABOO or TABOO Relics.

But Genevieve had her clear eyes closed as she didn't sense any of this, but instead was silently resonating with something that wasn't in this Royal Treasury- but adjacent to this at an even deeper level that she wouldn't have easy access to unless she was the Bloodline Master or a powerful LEGEND of the Royal Humans!

It was in this space that her body and Origin were kept and drained of all of its resources since the past Age- picked apart and used to refine Relics and Elixirs as if she was a mere source of materials!

OOOM!

Anger rose within her mind when she thought of this, but her gaze refocused on the resonance of her old Body and Origin. She had many restrictions for the forbidden technique that allowed her to reincarnate after death, with the shackles binding her being heavy as if she had access to her old self- things would be a million times easier.

THUMP!

In the deeper Treasury she had no access to, the Origin of a Sacred Beast began to pulse silently as it resonated with its future self, Genevieve feeling a tug in her soul as the heavy chains binding her loosened ever so slightly...her will surging out as she pulled upon a vestige of her old self!

'More TABOO concepts...more of my Physiques!'

HOOONG!

Like a fisherman throwing out a line, Genevieve pulled and prodded as she returned back with terrifying concepts- a price still being paid for this even though it was minimal compared to her calling back her old concepts by herself.

She also had to be careful as even though vibrant authorities were silently surging into her, the visage of Brightborn wasn't too far away monitoring everything as she also had to put on a show and be quick about it!

TABOO authority leaked from her as she masked the incoming concepts with it, her hand pointing towards the depths of the Royal Treasury as a cry of a TABOO Relic resonated with her and began to come forward. It was normally a hard task for one to seek TABOO Relics within the Treasure as they would fall to those destined...but when the relics were made by her very own bones- she knew where every single one was.

WAA!

A resplendent white battle armor flowed out from the depths of the Royal Treasury as it flew towards Genevieve, the LEGEND Brightborn watching all this from afar while nodding his head- not realizing that this being had snatched multiple TABOO Concepts from her old Origin that they had locked away at the same time!

She repressed the realization of these concepts at this moment, or her solidified crown would have begun filling up with Ecritures due to her accomplishment. She only held a silent smile as an existence with multiple TABOO Concepts and Relics rose at this moment- and she had her own grand plans for how things would play out in the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum!

All of these beings felt a pull calling them to this Grotto Sanctum as if they wanted to explode with fortune and destiny, they felt like this was the place to be in.

A pull of destiny drew them all in.

A weaving of destiny concocted for an event that the results of were unknown!

In the Cosmic Holy Land.

Noah's body was surrounded by surging essences as things calmed down, his solidified crown shining gloriously as his body was surrounded by pulsing Runic Ecritures from all his Physiques.

In addition to MANA, PURE...and many others, IDYLL was now added as the Ecriture for the Limit Breaking Arcadian Physique- this ecriture washing Noah's body with regenerative boosts constantly for his vitality as he always felt like he was brimming with life!

His sparkling eyes opened and closed wondrously as he watched the last prompt that came with the boons of breaking all of his three Aspects of Existence.

WAA!

It was a concept Noah only saw on the prompt as he couldn't discern anything about it- with the word lying within its name as it reflected the wonders of the Realm of Reality.

Noah was marveling at it when the sonorous voice of Lavallier rang out.

...!

She spoke out nonchalantly as Noah's eyes turned to the glimmering cerulean page screaming of wonder and ancientness not too far away from him!

A Modus Operandi designed just for him. Something that reflected the rotation of the Infinite Reality he held- and would continue to evolve along with the Infinite Reality.

When Noah was dreaming of this Infinite Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi, there was one aspect aside from Reality Passages that he wanted to actualize to become reality the most.

It was a concept closely interconnected with his Resplendent Treasure Emperor that allowed him to loot his enemies and break them down into Bloodlines, Concepts, and Cores based on the level of their Origin.

This concept stemmed from the very workings of the Infinite Reality where at its base, it could bring down apocalypse and assimilate other Realities onto itself infinitely!

What Noah wanted to test and bring to reality was the idea that if his future Reality rotated and worked in a similar manner to the Infinite Reality...would he be capable of pairing this up with his current means of bringing about loot and be capable of swallowing the Reality level Origins of other beings seamlessly to elevate himself and not only be limited to things like Grotto Nacres?!

That apart from swallowing their Edicts and Bloodlines, he took their entire Strata as he assimilated it onto himself?!

...!!!

Chapter 1769 The Infinite Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi I

Noah had grand goals as at this moment, he wanted to see what was actualized!

He beckoned towards the glimmering blue page that floated towards him rapidly, its scintillating blue light reflecting his stellar eyes as he grasped onto it and got to learn of its wonders.

BZZZT!

A glorious flash of blue covered his eyes as a stellar description appeared.

SUPREME <Infinite Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi>:: A supreme and pure understanding of the revolution of a Reality that is made up of a myriad of other Realities and harmoniously combines the rotation of all the stellar bodies from different Realities into a singular one. The ultimate understanding of the assimilation of many into one was grasped from the rotation of the Infinite Reality, with the aspect of Infinite being focused on the most as the number of Reality Passages one can form with this Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi is only dependent on the allowable number of Passages one's body can handle. Due to the sheer size and grandeur of the Reality they are based on and its intricacies, the Reality Passages brought forth from this Modus Operandi are exceedingly larger than others as the Essence they release is dependent on the Essence the user has currently been exposed to. The Resource Generation and Reserves of Resources are increased greatly with every formed Reality Passage as the resultant Passages formed are termed <Infinite Reality Passages> that reinforce greater concentrations of all Resources and grant the additional features of <Passage Suppression>, <Reality Assimilator>, <Tyranical Reifier>, <Nullity>, <Emperor's Might>, and <Strata Nourisher>. Forming a single Reality Passage requires 2 million Units of the Essence of Reality, with every single Infinite Reality Passage granting the Generation of 20,000 Units of The Essence of Reality per second, a Million Units of the Essence of Destiny, Fortune, Mana...per second...

WAA!

A simple and considered description of this Modus Operandi, with one of the more shocking things explained being the generation of resources!

A Million Units of all of Noah's resources recovered every second!

20,000 Units of the Essence of Reality generated every second! In a single minute...Noah would have over 1 Million Units of the Essence of Reality recovered.

Even if he drained himself off all Units of the Essence of Reality, he would be fully recovered within two minutes!

And this...was only from a single Reality Passage.

<I have to say, the results of these will be somewhat unique as they came to be uniquely due to your Infinite Reality that other beings didn't have to base their Operandis on. It's the one thing I can say is truly unique to you.>

Lavalliere's mesmerizing voice entered his mind as Noah was lost in his wonder of just the aspect of the essence generation of the Reality Passages.

If he made just 100 Reality Passages, he would be able to generate his maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality every second.

"..."

This in itself was an unbelievable reality as Noah knew the specs of other Reality Passages.

One was from his own people as from the Azure Treasure Emperor's Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi, Noah knew its Reality Passages only aided with the generation of 100 Units of the Essence of Reality per second.

And this number was reflected for all High Tier Runic Ecritures of Modus Operandi that he had come across so far!

Yet his Infinite Reality Passages...were capable of doing 20,000 Units every single second as even if they had this perk alone with nothing else, Noah would leave an astounding victory among all others.

But no.

This was just one of its base features.

Even with the cost to build a single Infinite Reality Passage being 2 million Units of the Essence of Reality- it truly was still one of its base features!

Now, Noah gazed at the other things he had dreamed of to see just how much came to fruition.

<Passage Suppression>:: The Infinite Reality Passages can suppress the Reality Passages of other existences nearby as they are rendered weaker and unable to express their full effects. If the power between you and your enemies is wide enough, the activation of your Reality Passages can even entirely erase and deactivate the effects of their Reality Passages by releasing a Light of Suppression. This is a passive ability of all Infinite Reality Passages as if a stronger level of suppression is sought after, 1 Million Units of the Essence of Reality can be burned to release a Dominant Light of Suppression...

<Emperor's Might>:: Your forged Infinite Reality Passages carry a weight that can be superimposed onto your attacks. The augmentation of strength will vary depending on the ability cast and the target...

<Nullity>:: A feature that requires 10 Million Units of the Essence of Reality and 100 Infinite Reality Passages to cast. It turns your body into pure Essence as you gain Nullification from True Reality Physical Damage and a Nullification of True Reality Soul Damage for 1 Microsecond and can only be cast again after 30 microseconds...

"Sheesh..."

A ridiculous trio of abilities outright that were so ridiculous Noah had to stop at the third one!

<Emperor's Might> was deciding to be mysterious and not give any concrete numbers and values for the augmentation of strength, while Passage Suppression was just pure madness.

When Noah released his Reality Passages, others would turn dim!

But this was compared to average or normal Reality Passages. Did Limit Breakers and other anomalous existences have normal Reality Passages? How abnormal were they in quality and quantity? The effect of Passage Suppression was bound to be terrific, but it would be fun to see its variations when facing different enemies and what other Limit Breakers could have that would allow them to stand against Noah without a major source of strength of their being eradicated the moment Noah released his Infinite Reality Passages!

Then there was the ridiculous effect of Nullity.

Holding a requirement of Essence that Noah didn't even have at this moment, it was an ability that essentially made him invincible for a microsecond!

Chapter 1770 The Infinite Runic Ecriture ofModus Operandi! II

Passage Suppression, Emperor's Might, and Nullity were already wondrous enough, but Noah's hungry eyes went to lock onto the remaining features of the Infinite Reality Passages that were just as ridiculous.

<Strata Nourisher>:: Your Aspects of Existence resonate with your Reality Passages as the surges of boundless essence constantly wash over you and strengthen all Aspects. This effect carries over even when one achieves a Ranked Strata as the nourishing effect has a slight effect in slowly elevating the Strata. Different Tiers of Nourishment can be reached as they are dependent on the feedback of pure Mana that your Reality Passages receive- with Higher Tiers carrying a greater effect of nourishment even as you ascend the Stratats. Due to the Reality altering effect of Infinite Mana, you have directly exceeded the Tiers of White, Blue, Purple, and Gold as you can achieve Black Tier Nourishment from your Infinite Reality Passages. A higher Tier of Nourishment can be reached in the future as you progress to greater stages...

<Reality Assimilator>:: The Infinite Reality Passages release their Tyrannical authority against a defeated enemy who cannot defend themselves any longer, locking their Reality Passages as through them- the very Reality they had forged is pulled through to be taken into and assimilated into the Reality of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor. The assimilation of the Realities of others grants an unspecified effect similar to the absorption of Grotto Nacres, with more information required to quantify their exact effect. 2 Million Units of the Essence of Reality are required to carry out the Reality altering effects of this ability...

<Tyrannical Reifier>:: For the expense of 1 Million Units of the Essence of Reality, specific viable abilities can be chosen to be inserted into a Reality Passage as they receive Reified Nourishment to elevate them towards the stage of REIFICATION...and further past it. Every ability placed within an Infinite Reality Passage requires 10,000 Units of the Essence of Reality every second to continue its progression upwards, with selected abilities getting an increase in their True Reality Values and effectiveness so long as they continue to be nourished. With sufficient time and Nourishment, it is not impossible to release your Infinite Reality Passages as they awaken with personified abilities that can move on their own...

Noah's eyes released luminous lights as most of his wishes were actually realized!

The wish to be capable of devouring the Realities of other beings could actually come to fruition in the future...even though the cost of it was bound to be somewhat ridiculous at 2 million Units of the Essence of Reality.

Then there was the wonder of Tyrannical Reifier and Strata Nourisher.

The former was just a stupendous spark of an epiphany from Noah after he learned of the concepts of REIFICATION.

He wanted to be capable of elevating his skills and match LEGENDS at a faster rate, and the ingenuity to somehow nourish his own skills in Reality Passages came to be as their personification could occur there!

And of course, the cost was great as attaching even 1 ability into an Infinite Reality Passage cost 1 Million Units of the Essence of Reality, and Noah had to pay 10,000 Units every second to continue nourishing this ability! It meant the 20,000 Unit generation of the Essence of Reality per second would be cut in half the moment he attached an ability into an Infinite Reality Passage...but the cost can be considered nothing when comparing the ridiculous results they would bring.

Then there was Strata Nourisher.

His Infinite Reality Passages would be designed so that the essence they gushed out and came to bathe him would actually be passively elevating his Strata- with the Absolute Dream Authority actually focusing on this feature the most as Noah wanted the cost of nourishing his Strata to be....pure Mana!

Noah would merely have to expend droves of mana to bring about different Tiers of Nourishment- with him being capable of achieving Black Tier Nourishment that would nourish his Strats at even greater levels!

But...one must still be clear that even though this stupendous feature could elevate one's Aspects of Existence, it still detailed that it would be a 'slight effect'. It wasn't a replacement for elevating one's power as maybe if Noah hid himself for many, many years- he could just passively nourish himself while releasing boundless waves of mana to have a feedback with his Reality Passages, and he simply ascended the Strata while secluding himself for Billions of years!

'But where's the fun in that?'

HOOONG!

His destiny shone vibrantly as he had only been playing with mana for a bit over a year, the concept of secluding himself for millions of years only occurring within his Dreams through Dream Stones. What he had to do...needed him to course along the weaving of destiny and obtain enough authority to become a distinguished being out of all others in this entire Age of the Kainos Era.

The cards were set.

Noah had all the pieces he needed to be utterly prepared, where he could even break the shackles of the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy and forge his Infinite Reality Passages!

To break the puny restrictions of the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy or not to break them.

This was the question!

His restriction at the Seventh Firmament were so loose after he continued to ceaselessly forge his foundation that even the restrictions to forge a Reality from the Ninth Firmament were nearly nonexistent, with Noah planning to not take the step to achieve a Reality any time soon until he could affirm over and over again that his foundation in the Firmaments of Ascendancy could not rise any higher.

But the restrictions of the Seventh Firmament and establishing his Reality Passages were different as he...would not even be limited to forging his Passages only during the breaking of his shackles as he could continue to forge them ceaselessly due to the Infinite Dream Physique and the Infinite Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi! The number of Passages that he could form was dependent ultimately on his Infinite Dream Physique- and he could increase this number as time went on as truly, there wasn't anything preventing him!

In fact, the boons of nourishing the three Aspects of Existence even called for it to happen right now.

He would only start accumulating the immense benefits of the Infinite Reality Passages early and better understand their usage before he met the terrifying existences of the vast Realities. He could begin utilizing the <Tyrannical Reifier> feature to nurture some of his abilities to become REIFIED at this moment in time and have them ready for the battles to come in the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum!

Abilities that he had many Offensive types...and badly needed powerful Defensive Abilities that didn't just rely on Auras and Shields from Edicts.

He also needed a Defensive Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree for this!

"Form the Reality Passages, nourish my three Aspects of Existence with them along with Seeds of Reality, forge new skills, and then start nourishing Abilities to become Reified..."

WAA!

This was some of what Noah had left to do right now! Especially on the subject of his Origin- he could gain a constant cycle of strengthening where because he had a large supply of Seeds of Reality- he could forge his Origin easily as he could then burn it to strengthen the soul and body until everything was at its utmost allowable peak before he broke through to Reality.

Everything was set as Noah just had to make a move!
