Chapter 1811 The Sanctum's Dimensional Connection!

In the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum.

Noah's figure was ascending the metallic Chains of Reality with astounding speed as his body surged with essence that entered these chains vibrantly, a single massive Reality Passage being shown above him even though he was enjoying the boons of all 50!

Dimensional Essence continued to leave his body and sink into the Chains below him along with the Essence of Reality, his body showing robust Essence nonetheless as every part of him seemed full and vibrant with life.

This was due to increasing boosts and Nourishment from the Infinite Reality Passages and the boons of the countless souls pledging Fealty to him and giving up a portion of their souls that seemed to have nowhere to go, his Aspects of Existence adamant on staying where they were until he resonated them and opened up the pathway to Reality...and it seemed only then would these raving waves of essence be consumed!

When they were, he had no doubt that the moment he entered the genuine Primogenial Strata of the Realm of Reality, he would shoot up straight to its peak.

'But for now, let's figure out exactly what this Grotto Sanctum is made of...and why its restrictions are like so!'

His thoughts were steady as he felt the higher up and further in he went as he ascended the Chains of Reality, the surroundings only became colder and dreary as even the blue luster of the water began to lose its color, the only thing showing light being the golden glow of the floating land mass that was gradually nearing Noah's vision.

The restrictions of his will being restricted to very little area around him and his eyes only being able to see for a small distance with clarity remained- with things only being clearer when he layered his will and vision with TABOO authority and Dimensional Essence.

<The coldness and increasingly dark atmosphere so far is already causing me to narrow it down to two possible Dimensions...but again, I'll need another .25 Uses to speak freely without incurring Karma.>

"..."

Lavalliere's voice came at this time as Noah contained his slightly aching heart at the continued devouring of loot that wasn't done by him!

10% of the Supreme Soul Crystal Mountain would fade after this as he had to replenish his reserves of Loot very soon, and the figures of multiple geniuses tied on his waist would help with this when he crushed them after the Resplendent Treasure Emperor became TABOO.

BZZZT!

Arcs of essence left his body as he neared the very end of the Chain of Reality, the floating island slowly becoming clear before his eyes as the golden glow faded and Noah saw what was within this land with clarity.

And what he saw...caused his luminous eyes to tremble and shine with a shocking light as the scene wasn't one that he expected!

The golden glow that seemed to have encompassed the whole island from afar was actually concentrated in one central area from afar, where Noah could see an encased golden crystalline dome that caused his heart to feel a shocking feeling of greed.

His very Origin buzzed when he felt the pull of whatever lay behind that golden crystalline dome as this structure...was the only thing shining with color on the massive floating landmass.

Everything else was utterly dreadful to look at as the husks of crystalline trees showing unmoving dead Cosmos were stretched throughout, the waters here beginning to freeze over as it was terrifically cold and dreary with Noah feeling an assimilated law within him buzz with a bit of fear and excitement...the Law of Death!

What was most shocking was that apart from the barren dead reality trees, Noah could see the monstrous skeletal figures of...

"Lions? Tigers?"

Noah was surprised to find the bony figures that seemed to resemble mountainous feline creatures- the forms of these existences being entirely made of silver-gray bones as blue flames shone brightly from their empty sockets.

Hidden amidst winding bony protections and what seemed like natural bone armor, the dense silver-gray light of a surging Origin could be seen within the chest of every one of these monstrous skeletal beings as this wasn't the most dreadful thing.

What was the most dreadful aspect...was the fact that Noah felt no auras from these creatures on his way here, and nor did he feel any dense auras from them now as he felt like if he blinked, they wouldn't be there again when he opened his eyes!

It wasn't that their Aspects of Existence were dead or that they were mere husks- with Noah being able to affirm this as the moment he stepped off from the Chains of Reality and onto the barren dreary landmass with a golden crystalline dome in the far distance...3 of these skeletal creatures with blinding blue flames in their eye sockets had locked their gazes into him.

From them, he could feel an aura of immense death.

From them...he could feel traces of a foreign Dimensional Essence!

Two were massive Skeleton Tigers with bone wings stretching from their wide backs, and solidified crowns above their heads as their deathly bodies gave off a profound sense of dread and power that exceeded even the Andur who had a few ecriptions on his crown that Noah had defeated with ease multiple times over.

Amidst their bone-armored chests, Noah could see the allure of glimmering silver-gray Cosmos lying dead and yet surging with light.

The Third creature was a Skeleton Lion that showed grandeur and grace even in death, brilliant silver-gray bone wings also sprouting from its back as it similarly held a solidified crown!

But what caused Noah's eyes to constrict was the fact that among the gaps of its bone armored chest, he could see the dead Origin that was made up of half Cosmos and half....a Reality.

It seemed like a failed Ascendance as this being's Origin had half-formed into a Reality and then simply didn't go any further!

Yet the aura this creature released was dreadful as it seemed no less than a genuine beginner LEGEND.

THUMP!

Noah's heartbeat could be felt with clarity as his will began to light up with wonder and excitement when he looked at these skeletal monstrosities.

This was because their appearance here would confirm what the traces of the Third Dimension that Noah would come across were!

Looking at the scene of skeletal monstrosities with terrific power before his eyes, Noah felt annoyed that he even had to ask when the being in question had already swallowed the Supreme Soul Crystals!

"Lavalliere?"

<Yeah, I know. I was lost in thought as it is wholly unexpected to find traces of this Dimension here. But seeing these three...it confirms that this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum somehow shared a connection with the Dimensional of savagery and death...>

She paused for no reason whatsoever as Noah listened intently.

"The Niflheim Dimension!>

Chapter 1812 Traces Of The Niflheim Dimension!

The Niflheim Dimension!

Somehow, the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum actually had connections leading back to this Dimension that Noah was learning about at this moment.

<It's a unique Dimensional filled with coldness and death, where Dracolich Dimensional Emperors, Chthonian Dimensional Emperors, Abyssal Human Lich Abominations, Ice Titans, Abyssal Beasts, and many others lead hordes of Legions. Though it is a mystery why traces of this Dimension would be present in an Unexplored Grotto Sanctum...>

A Dimension filled with death as it only caused Noah to look forward to gaining any traces of it at all!

Dracoliches, Chthonian Horrors, Ice Titans, and many more!

"These creatures before me..."

<Should stem from the Abyssal Beast Lineage of the Niflheim Dimension...but their presence here alone is not something normal.>

Lavalliere seemed to be thinking of many things as Noah's gaze was only on the creatures before him, his feet stepping fully into the dreary floating landmass as the blue flames in the eyes of the skeletal existences lit up.

His Eyes of the Kainos Emperor shone over these creatures as information rose up.

<Abyssal Undead Tigris> #%#$*

<Abyssal Undead Tigris> $@*$&

<Abyssal Undead Lioness> #$&

Much of their information was jumbled as Noah got very little info from them, with the cause being attributed to the unique protection of the cold and dark essence from the Niflheim Dimension!

And they seemingly knew this as the two Abyssal Undead Tigris moved behind the Undead Lioness, the surroundings of this creature buzzing with arcs of dreadful gray energy as the strongest one stayed at the forefront.

They were smarter than many as they had unique senses that told of the dangers that Noah posed somewhat, the most powerful among them coming forward while 29 dazzling golden Halos and one Black Halo fused into it entirely.

HUUM!

The surroundings burst with an intense sound as silver gray Ascendancy Halos burst from above, showing down with stellar essence while the bodies of the Abyssal Undead before Noah's eyes enlarged multiple times over, radiant silver aurora pairs of wings wrapping around them as they didn't utter a single word to Noah!

They only moved with power and efficiency as Noah heard Lavalliere's voice ring out.

<You're about to experience the uniqueness of creatures from this Dimension.>

The uniqueness of those from the Niflheim Dimension! The first thing Noah had noted was how he didn't sense them when he was coming here, and he couldn't feel them except for his own vision!

At this moment, the eyes of the Abyssal Undead Lioness shone with blazing flames of death as its silver and bony wings flashed.

It seemed to be moving forward as in the next second...

SHAA!

It disappeared.

It wasn't the only one as the other two less powerful Undead also disappeared!

"..."

And everything turned silent as only the cold waves of the dreary bodies of water in the surroundings could be felt.

Glacial clusters of ice that had begun to form cracked in the distance as to his wonder, Noah truly couldn't see or feel where the Abyssal Undead had disappeared to!

<Across the 9 Dimensions, experts from Niflheim are known as the Emperors of Assassination. When a truly powerful Emperor moved against you...you won't even know how you died.>

...!

Dreadful existences that you couldn't even sense until it was too late.

And yet...Noah hadn't even fused with his Ascendancy Halos nor cast any defensive skills.

He didn't seem the least bit bothered as he continued walking forward to the only dome of golden light in the distance!

He even talked freely with Lavalliere in the meanwhile when other beings in his position would be grim and be ready for an attack from any direction at such a time.

"Then, I need to find a way to attain control over this essence as well. It will essentially be giving me wings to fly even more ridiculous routes!"

WAA!

His visage was astounding and carefree as even the Abyssal Undead hiding in gaps of Reality that couldn't be discerned that easily even by LEGENDS paused for a second before attacking when they saw his demeanor.

Why wasn't he calling out his Halos and attaining his most powerful state?

Or even preparing a little? Why did it seem like this being was walking across this Domain so freely like it was his home?

BZZT!

The blue flames on the most powerful Abyssal Undead with half of Origin that held a dead Reality surged as its body focused its unique essence and brutality into a single claw that formed into a bony point that would pierce and eradicate the bodies and souls of any existences that couldn't withstand at least 5 Million True Reality Damage Values!

And even if they could, they would still find a dreadful type of Damage coming through as those attacking were utilizing Dimensional Damage Values.

Directionless...an attack shot out!

The sockets of the most powerful Abyssal Undead Beast released baleful flames as its dreadful attack chose to come from above, targeting the head full of dark hair as things moved in slow motion.

SHAA!

The movement of essence and time itself in the surroundings slowed.

The Abyssal Undead Beast could feel its Failed Undead Origin pulse with power as it was an inch away from the dark hair of its enemy when a shockingly cold chill crept within its Origin as its blue flames wavered!

This was because in the next instant, the carefree visage of the Unnamed Kainos Emperor rose his head upwards where the attack essence coming from, a sly smile on his face as the dreadful attack carrying over 5 Million Damage Values thundered towards his very skin!

And even now...no defensive ability or anything was cast.

The Abyssal Undead found this scene unfathomable as its flames began to surge with alarm when its attack landed!

BZZZT!

Space shuddered and became twisted as a shocking scene nearly caused the flames of the Abyssal Undead to dim.

Its dreadful attack that should be capable of even injuring if not defeating a careless beginner LEGEND...was not able to bypass a single inch to even touch a strand of the hair of its target!

And how could it?

How could it pierce the Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier of a monstrous existence with a foundation that was worthy of distinction across the Ages?!

Chapter 1813 Traces Of The Niflheim Dimension! LI

BZZZT!

The blue flames of the Abyssal Undead Lioness gazed on in a stupor as it felt like it hit an impenetrable wall that it couldn't pass through no matter what!

This was an Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier that only LEGENDS normally had, but Noah had attained it after exceeding his Limits as it passively wrapped around him with half of the maximum Defense Values he could reach with his strongest form.

Currently...even this half had long since exceeded 10 Million Defense Values as now, it was even tainted by True Dimensional Defensive Values!

BOOM!

The body of the Undead Beast was rebuffed as its silver gray bony aurora of wings kept it floating in the cold seas, gazing at its sharp bony claws and back to the small Royal Human below that was still gazing up with a smile.

"..."

An eerie silence came as even the two hiding Abyssal Undead Tigris didn't come out, the most powerful Abyssal Undead just staring dazedly at Noah as it didn't seem to know what to do!

"Hmm..."

Yet the Tyrannical Emperor nodded as 30 clear white Ascendancy Halos erupted around him- causing the wills of the Abyssal Undead Beasts to swirl with utter disbelief at seeing the weakest type of Halo erupt from this being- and all 30 at that!

The Abyssal Undead Beasts wanted to roar out to this being a unanimous set of words....

'As if we'd believe that!'

Yet Noah didn't even call upon the 10 extra Halos from LETHE as he fused with the authority of 30 Halos.

"Let's call out something simple to test some things out...the Infinite Willow Tree True Form should do."

An incandescent light shot from Noah as faced with an Abyssal Undead Beast with traces of the Niflheim Dimension that could rival a beginner LEGEND, he brought forth a portion of his power to see just how much he had grown!

As the Unnamed Kainos Emperor moved to quickly and efficiently terrorize monstrous Undead Beasts, other beings were also making progress towards the floating landmasses that Chains of Reality stretched down from.

Most had their goals to ascend upwards towards the depths of these fantastical cold seas, but others had their own aims and way of doing things!

Midway up one of the metallic Chains of Reality.

A figure was shrouded with a dark gray cloak that melded with the surroundings, but it couldn't hide her thick curves as one could see the outline of a great deal of things beneath this cloak!

This existence was uniquely lying flat on the Chain of Reality, her hands letting out a stellar sheen as she was of the Astral Bloodline...and at the same time not as a blue glow surrounded the Cosmos and stellar bodies shining throughout her body. This blue sheen had a unique signature that could only be found...from the Spirit Race.

A bright solidified crown with the ecritures of <DESO> shone brightly over her head as glimmering radiant hair was tied into a stellar bun.

Her vibrant hands were currently holding on to a shocking weapon that released waves of TABOO, a weapon that seemed to be towards the pinnacle of Technomancy as it glowed with incandescent purple and blue Runic ecritures etched onto an obsidian metallic weapon that had a long cylindrical barrel releasing a terrifying light- this Relic most closely resembling a sniper rifle as it held a vibrant tactical rifle scope that shone with a golden light!

The stellar blue eyes of this unique genius were looking through this scope as she locked on to Pure-Blooded Primordials climbing up the Chain of Reality, the golden scope shining a beautiful white light when it locked on to some beings while realizing a dreadful dark light when landing on others.

The meaning of these lights were only prevalent to this being as the barrel of her TABOO sniper gun focused on the existences that shone with a dark light.

"Little Barrett...let's kill some baddies."

WAA!

She stroked the rifle as it buzzed with terrific power, her finger beginning to squeeze the trigger as a light pull from her actually caused dense TABOO authority to surge into the gun as it aimed at a Royal Human from the Main Reality who was adorned in a solidified crown and climbing up with a cold expression!

The weapon in her hands released a terrific light as in the next instant...

SHAA!

<Nuclear Firmament Piercer>.

A burst of dark and red light flashed.

The curvaceous flesh of this woman trembled from the recoil as her blessed parts trembled.

A genius Emperor below then felt a tingling sensation of doom as before he could even raise his head...

WAP!

A terrifying bullet filled with TABOO authority entirely erased the whole upper half of his body, utterly eradicating his Aspects of Existence in a mere instant!

...!

Chaos bloomed in this region of the Chain of Reality as geniuses from behind looked at this in alarm, their Halos blooming out to fuse with them as in the next instant, the Empress far above the Chain of Reality pulled the trigger another two times as she targetted another two existences that were covered by a dark light on her scope.

PA! PA!

Like bubbles popping, the chest and Origin of a Dragon Phoenix on the same Chain of Reality was eradicated as a large hole appeared, and the majestic visage of a Reality Ursidae with a shining solidified crown had half of his body blown away before he could even react.

"..."

Essence exploded out as all those who had witnessed this shocking scene jumped off the Chain of Reality and used the oppressive force of the surroundings to carry them towards the earth as soon as possible, their faces grim as they didn't wish to die from an unknown enemy!

"Mmm..."

The visage of the existence carrying Astral and Spirit Race Bloodline rose as she breathed out lightly, hoisting the terrifying TABOO Relic behind her back as her will gazed at her solidified throne that was condensing the Ecriture <L>.

With a spring to her step, TABOO authority and Essence of Reality wrapped around her as she continued upwards- no competition behind the Chain of Reality she was on as nobody dared to ascend it!

This existence and a few others were some of those distinguished in this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum...and those that destiny was weaving around them most as each one moved separately at this moment, but those with astounding destinies were bound to meet and clash very soon!

On another one of the dreary Chains of Reality in a different region.

A figure clad in arcs of Aether walked steadily up the Chains of Reality, his body releasing dangerous waves of power at the stage of a LEGEND as he didn't seem like any normal beginner LEGEND!

There was actually someone beside him releasing similar fluctuations of shocking power, this being a man with a brown complexion and devilish handsomeness as he carried two sickles that dripped with a poisonous light.

"You're sure she has that type of body?"

The voice of this genius LEGEND that was in the Firmaments of Ascendancy not too long ago rang out towards Xian who replied with a smile of cruelty and power.

"Yes. And she's actually untouched even now as the only thing I've come to learn as a reason for this is that her father is an Alpha Strata LEGEND from the Royal Humans. But with the established Rules of Engagement here...we can move freely!"

WAA!

A devilish expression pervaded his face as he continued.

"Can you imagine having a Dimensional Royalty under you? After Dual Cultivating with her enough, you can attain the Mythical Meretricious Mirror Physique! Seeing her abundant power...you should have no problem draining more of her vital essence to attain this as well. Since she might be problematic, working together is naturally a solution..."

Mythical Meretricious Mirror Physique! Not a Natural Born Physique, but something that one gained when they took the vital essence of unique existences for themselves.

A look of carefulness and ingenuity crossed Xian's mind as he had learned from his last encounter with this being and how she had reflected his attack easily.

Thus, he sought to work with another being as after finding traces of Katelyn in this region, everything was all but a matter of time.

His eyes released a ferocious flash of Aether as he imagined the silver white hair and the glazed eyes of the arrogant woman below him, his heart already buzzing with excitement as he couldn't wait!

Chapter 1814 Simultaneous Formation Of Seeds Of TABOO! L

Atop a barren island filled with death and coldness, an Abyssal Undead with a failed ascendancy to Reality buzzed with terrific power as it felt a tremendous threat stemming from the Infinite Willow Tree that was radiating color and power!

The blue flames in this existence flashed with worry as Dimensional Essence swallowed its body, disappearing into the surrounding space seamlessly as it could see the enemy was a dreadfully powerful existence. But with the means of the essence from the Niflheim Dimension...they could at least hide in the folds of space as they studied to find any gaps of weakness in their enemy.

Could he truly block an attack equivalent to the power of a beginner LEGEND multiple times?

HUUM!

Essence buzzed as the Abyssal Beasts moved in sequence, ready to unleash hidden attacks with care as at this time...the voice of the being that had taken the True Form of an Infinite Willow Tree buzzed out.

"Oh?"

The Endless branches of the Infinite Willow Tree began to shine with incandescent glows of golden light at this moment.

It was the light of TABOO authority that was many times higher than normal TABOO concepts!

It was something budding and new...it was the light being spread from Noah's True Sanguine Clone after his main body succeeded in the formation of three Seeds of TABOO for three terrifying Edicts.

Each one went to envelop its concept, but one seed in particular was radiating a shocking golden light as it was the Resplendent Treasure Emperor that buzzed with wonder!

An Edict geared towards Loot that Noah had been waiting for this whole time as he hadn't killed any beings in the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum yet.

But now...

"There are guinea pigs in front of me and around my waist..."

A devilish will bloomed from Noah's visage as the hidden Abyssal Undead felt a cold chill that shouldn't have even been a possible thing for existences like them to feel!

In the Dimensional Holy Land.

Dimensional Essence was permeating throughout as Noah's slumbering body was soon to wake, within even the two unique Realities some of his souls had landed in about to be resolved as the Third Infinite Dream would soon be complete.

But the budding Seeds of TABOO had incorporated enough wisps of the Natural Laws of Reality as they bloomed at this point in time.

The Clone seated upon the throne felt the changes beginning to echo out as the True Blood of the Main body bubbled madly, Three Bloodlines within it beginning to be elevated past Supreme!

The prompts filled with information began to rain down soon after.

<The Concept of Resplendent Treasure Emperor has been elevated to TABOO.>

<The Concept of Apocalypse has been elevated to TABOO.>

<The Concept of the Tyrannical Emperor has been elevated to TABOO.>

HOOONG!

A resounding sound blared out as Noah's body was bathed with incandescence!

But the light works were only the beginning as colorful essence surged around Noah's visage as he shone with ever-increasing radiance.

Most of all, his Blood was boiling madly as glorious prompts rose from this!

<The Bloodlines brought forth from the Flames of the Resplendent Treasure Emperor, Apocalypse, and the Tyrannical Emperor are undergoing simultaneous elevation.>

...!

The rank of the Supreme Bloodlines began to rise as for this, Noah was expectant...while also curbing his enthusiasm.

This was because he knew the result of attaining a VENERABLE Bloodline from the Sanguine Emperor was special, with this Edict having already been assimilating many Bloodlines to raise itself whenever he gained new Edicts as even before the upgrade of Sanguine Emperor to TABOO- he had its Bloodline at an extremely high level, and it even carried the distinction and authority of the Kainos Era in its name!

So even though the results of the blooming TABOO concepts might not be as wondrous, he still looked forward to it as even then...he was still amazed.

<The Quasi-VENERABLE Ancient Bloodline of the Destiny Stone has been unearthed by the Resplendent Treasure Emperor.>

<The Quasi-VENERABLE Ancient Bloodline of the Outer Azaggoth Terror has been reborn under Apocalypse.>

<The Quasi-VENERABLE Ancient Bloodline of the Reality Horned Lion Emperor has been called upon by the Tyrannical Emperor.>

WAA!

From the three Nomological Edicts, three Quasi-Venerable Ancient Bloodlines were unearthed as they were all Lineages of creatures that appeared in the Olden Era!

Noah somewhat knew about them as the memories of the Olden Will of the Forgotten Reality were nearly assimilated by the Infinite Reality, knowledge of the structure and way of power in the past Age slowly opening up before Noah as the three Lineages he had unlocked...were each unique even though they hadn't reached the VENERABLE stage.

And based on the few memories Noah could claim on the past Age of Destiny, he could almost make an assertion that the Quasi-Venerable Tier of Bloodlines back then had more power, history, and status than the Quasi-Venerable Tier Bloodlines of the current Age!

An example was how the Pure Arch-Royal Human Bloodline that had reached the Quasi-Venerable stage under Noah gave very few renowned boosts, but it was incomparable when putting it face to face with the Lineages of Destiny Stone, Outer Azaggoth Terror, and the Reality Horned Lion Emperor.

The trio of concepts becoming TABOO each held astounding information that continued to surge into him as Noah focused on the Resplendent Treasure Emperor first!

Just what abundant things did it unlock?

The first prompt started off with a bang.

<The Resplendent Treasure Cache has gained 3 additional uses.>

<Absolute Looter has been elevated as now, the Unnamed Kainos Emperor has the choice to forgo all of the Loot of the killed target and instead allow for the formation of a Randomized Loot Crate that when opened, it will provide random items that have appeared before in Resplendent Treasure Caches.>

...!

"Ah..."

An incandescent smile rose from Noah's face as he stared at this golden prompt.

He could choose to not receive the Loot that came from killing an enemy...as he allowed the unique qualities of absolute looter and the Increased Loot Quantity and Quality to bring to fruition
<Randomized Loot Crates>!

<Randomized Loot Crates>!!!

Chapter 1815 Simultaneous Formation Of Seeds Of TABOO! LI

The concept blooming before Noah's eyes was astounding enough as he paused incoming prompts to focus on it ever so briefly.

<Randomized Loot Crates>:: Depending on the slain target, different Tiers of Loot Crates will arise from White, Blue, Purple, Gold, and Black Gold. In higher Tier Loot Crates, the rarest items that appeared in Resplendent Treasure Caches in the past and other items similar to them can be obtained. The Bloodlines, Skills, Cores, Edicts, and any other potential loot will be utilized in exchange for the formation of the Randomized Loot Crate...

Different Tiers of Loot Crates existed as Noah got more information on what he could obtain from them!

Apart from the items that had appeared in the Resplendent Treasure Caches in the past, he could also attain similar items as an example would be the Warring Emperor Set items that he had gotten only 2 of so far...he would be able to now get similar items and stand a chance of completing the set.

Then there was something like the Ascendant Dimensional Essence Shard that could nullify resource cost that Noah wanted to get more of!

There was an overabundance of possibilities from this as Noah felt satisfied with the boons of Resplendent Treasure Emperor so far, letting the prompts continue to rain down as he already had Abyssal Undead Beasts and Pure-Blooded Primordial Bloodlines around his waist to crush and see what Loot Crates would form!

<Resplendent Treasure Cache>:: The items found within Resplendent Treasure Caches greatly exceed the spacetime continuum as the Loot found within can be pulled from the Ages of the Last Era of Reality and Dimensions. The Randomized Loot can now include Bloodlines, Techniques, Modus Operandis, Skills, and other rare things that stretched out over the Ages...

The Resplendent Treasure Cache that Noah had regained 3 more chances to use became even more glorious as the variety of things he could attain vastly increased.

And now...this included items across the Ages of the Olden Era!

The idea of this prompted Noah to question...just how many Eras were there before the Olden Era, and how many Ages were in each of them? As for the Kainos Era that was just beginning, how many Ages would it have?

"And where will I be across this Age and the ages to come..."

Noah's voice became heavy and mesmerizing to hear as he pondered of the future, Lavalliere's voice ringing out at this time.

<The one thing I can't fault you on is just how interesting you managed to make your Edicts. For your Resplendent Treasure Emperor to be capable of stretching its fingers across the spacetime continuum to reach back so far due to the sacrifice of your enemies...it should be even more interesting when you can infuse the essence of a single Natural Law of Reality into it.>

She spoke of a dazzling future possibility when the Resplendent Treasure Emperor rose past TABOO, Noah wondering just what it would take for him to be able to visualize and grasp onto the very Natural Laws of Reality while vibrant prompts continued to cascade down.

<While in the Destiny Stone True Form, even more authority over Loot is granted to you as you can gain a glimpse into the possibilities of unopened Resplendent Treasure Caches and choose specific items for a certain price. Taking on the True Form will also grant you the much sought-after ability of Destiny Stones that allows them to see get a glimpse of where the most fortune, Loot, and destiny lies in the region they are in- with the distance covered being as vast as a Grotto Sanctum. This form will also stand a chance to increase the quality of Loot from the Loot Crates that form from slaying enemies not chosen as targets for the Resplendent Treasure Cache...>

The Ancient Bloodline Noah had unlocked with the Resplendent Treasure Emperor rose up once more as its uniqueness and utilization caused Noah's will to focus on it much more, his True Sanguine Clone in the Dimensional Holy Land continuing to observe the prompts and changes that cascaded over his eyes while his Clone of Alexander in the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum put it to use!

In the dreary coldness and barren underwater floating landmass where he was facing three hidden Abyssal Undead Beasts.

BZZT!

The many branches of the Infinite Willow Tree were filled with soul flames and currently coiling around the bodies of these massive beasts who thought they couldn't be found after they hid with their unique Dimensional Essence, but Noah had only spread his many branches across space as they buzzed with Dream Essence, instantly locating these existences as <Ascendant Iridescent Soul Flames> had shaken their souls and put them near death with ease!

The enormous bony undead now floated listlessly in the cold and gradually glacial seas, Noah's branches receding as the Infinite Willow Tree form disappeared while he called out lightly.

"Destiny Stone."

HUUM!

An Ancient Bloodline tracing back in the Olden Era.

A bloodline that was filled with destiny and fortune- and something that would bring Noah the allure of boundless loot!

A light of gold bathed the cold and dark seas of this barren island as a radiant and regal form was brought out.

Immensely round and glistening with enticing beauty, a massive smooth stone with an aurora of wings floated with grace as one couldn't see any distinguishing features on it- and below this golden stone, seas of the golden essence of destiny bubbled and fell down like a waterfall to the lands below!

It didn't hold any distinguishing features, but in the next second- a pair of golden slits opened while a wide devilish smile arced across its crystalline stony gold surface, a smile and a pair of eyes that locked onto the suspended bodies of the Abyssal Undead Beasts as a Commandment echoed out from the Destiny Stone.

[Perish].

BOOM...CRACK!

A Commandment backed with an astounding multiplier of the Quasi-Venerable Destiny Stone that had a multiplier of 750 for every 10 Ascendancy Halos that Noah fused with! With the mere 30 Halos Noah fused with, the Dimensional Damage Values of his words or commandments alone were enough to exceed the base 5 million Damage of a LEGEND as these Undead turned into broken bones that were ground to dust an instant later.

"..."

The surroundings turned eerily quiet as from the decimated bodies of the three Abyssal Undead Beasts, golden radiance began to shine as ridiculously, two white boxes adorned with thin golden lines and a cerulean box adorned with slightly more vibrant golden lines appeared!

The Unnamed Kainos Emperor had ridiculously forged a reality altering concept that now turned his enemies into glimmering Loot Crates for him to explore!

Arcs of dark blue light crossed the underwater region as they caused glacial regions to form and break.

Amidst it was a floating island that connected to the earth below with a chain of Reality, and there were two more Chains of Reality that led further upwards towards an unknown location that wasn't visible to the naked eye!

An incandescently gold Destiny Stone with an aurora of wings behind it and surging seas of destiny below it falling down into waterfalls stared at three glimmering Loot Crates that came from the decimation of three Abyssal Undead Beasts.

Noah had already imposed his will upon them through Ascendant Multilayered Possession before he caused them to perish with a mere word, gaining another TABOO Edict as apart from this- he didn't see anything that would give him a glimpse or access into the Niflheim Dimension!

Even the memories of these Undead were jumbled and a mess of information as from them, Noah barely got to see flashes of vast regions of endless coldness and darkness.

Instead, Noah saw that a possible pathway to the Niflheim Dimension could open up if he had abundant enough fortune when opening the Loot Crates!

The description mentioned one would receive Randomized Loot from these Crates, with High Tier Crates even being capable of bringing out the rare Loot that had appeared in Resplendent Treasure Caches.

Randomized Loot Crates. Everything that would come from them was unknown as Noah wondered what would be considered a High Tier Crate that would bring out the rarest Loot he had attained before.

"Gold? Black?"

The golden eyes of his Destiny Stone true form blazed with a glorious light as his devilish smile remained, his gaze locked onto the glimmering boxes of loot before his eyes!

Two that were White Tier and 1 Blue Tier Loot Crate.

"Open the white Tier Randomized Loot Crates."

HUUM!

Pillars of golden light shot out from the top of the White Crates as they bathed the dreary seas with gold, the waterfall of destiny light below Noah surging as the fortune of the Ancient Bloodline of the Destiny Stone was simply too vast- this form alone giving Noah an increased edge far exceeding the Destiny Goblin Emperor when it came to loot.

<A Precious Bone that an Abyssal Undead Beast has nourished for a million years has been obtained.>

<A Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edict of the Undead Knight has been obtained.>

"..."

A concept was added to his soul as apart from this, a radiant white bone in the shape of a crown floated silently above the opened White Tier Loot Crate that was disappearing.

Noah was silent as what he had received...was utterly rubbish!

His eyes scrutinized the 'Precious Bone' of an Abyssal Undead as it didn't do anything aside from looking majestic and having some memories of the Undead that nourished it for a million years.

Meanwhile...the Quasi-TABOO Concept was just that. Noah had thousands of these now!

These were the Randomized rewards of the lowest tier Loot Crate as they caused Noah's radiant form to nearly turn dark, his focus carrying a hint of a threatening tone as it locked onto the Blue Randomized Loot Crate from an existence that had failed their Ascendancy to Reality.

"Surely..."

His eyes were expectant as his destiny shone brightly.

<The TABOO Interchangeable Dimensional Material that can be molded or added to the design of any Relic has been attained.>

<A single Supreme Dimensional Bloodline Shard has been attained. Attaining 10 Shards will allow for the birth of a Supreme Niflheim Dimensional Bloodline.>

...!

Destiny shone brightly as the Blue Tier Randomized Loot Crate did not disappoint!

Two Loot from one crate, and one was a new item that would allow Noah to attain a Supreme Dimensional Bloodline so long as he obtained 9 more of them!

It was a brilliantly shining silver gray crystal Shard that looked like a piece of a puzzle, waiting for 9 other pieces to make it whole.

The other...was a ridiculous material.

<Interchangeable Dimensional Material>.

Something that Noah could add when forging Relics as any born Relic that contained this...would gain abilities leaning towards the Essence of a Dimension.

Noah looked closely at the material that he took into his Expansive Space, seeing a constantly fluctuating crystalline structure that released dense waves of cold and deathly essence as any TABOO Relic made seemed like it would have the dreadful qualities of an essence from the Niflheim Dimension!

"Mmm..." Noah nodded his head at this as he adopted a thoughtful expression.

The enemies on this barren island were killed as he obtained unique new Loot from them, and there was the cluster of gold covering the only Loot of this location as his form of the Destiny Stone floated towards it!

It was still the same crystalline dome that shone with vibrant loot light, and it left behind no gaps or anything to even see what lay within it.

Noah floated above this treasure dome silently as it seemed unbreakable, but his senses as a Destiny Stone told him that something profound lay waiting for him so long as he could get past this barrier!

As for how to do it?

<It's a unique domain barrier that will absorb all attacks and just strengthen itself. The way to get past it is to infuse it with essence- with Dimensional Essence and Essence of Reality being the most efficient.>

Lavalliere's voice echoed out as she still had small decimal points of uses that allowed her to speak freely, Noah's golden round form descending towards this dome as his body began to release waves of Dream Essence downwards.

While this occurred, his will weaved out and pulled out the strings of Mana that he had always tied around his waist- strings that held geniuses of the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines!

SNAP!

One such string was snapped by Noah as with the Resplendent Treasure Emperor at TABOO, he could eradicate and farm these beings by turning them into Loot Crates or simply choose to eradicate them and attain Loot the old fashioned way with all his Increased Loot Quality and Quantity.

But...would he really kill them just like that?

The snapped Mana string released a handsome Royal Human whose eyes blinked as if he was waking up from a slumber, his gaze coming to land on the profound golden Destiny Stone and the vibrant golden dome it floated on top of.

A sense of fear was instilled in this Primordial's mind when he gazed forward as he could still feel the form of the devilish Alexander that had utterly decimated him from this Destiny Stone!

And the nightmare wasn't over for this being as he heard a voice that made him question everything.

"Hey, go ahead and break through."

WAA!

"A genius with a profound foundation, right? Why don't you...step into the stage of a LEGEND right now?"

...!

The devilish smile on the Destiny Stone only deepened as wondrously, he wanted to see which of his enemies was actually able to become a LEGEND so that his farming was bound to be even more spectacular!

Chapter 1817 Loot Crates! L

Noah had a wondrous control of beings that he had placed under Ascendant Multilayered Possession, but he couldn't do something as pristine as control their Aspects of Existence to undergo a change in Realm- something that as a major undertaking as most couldn't even do it!

But the beings Noah had captured were geniuses who held tens of Reality Passages- beings that stemmed from the Main Reality and were guaranteed to be future LEGENDS!

His will imposed itself on the Royal Human whose body instantly sunk to the ground- the restrictive pressure in this region too high for him to even handle as his eyes carried a trace of profound fear when staring at Noah.

"Go on."

The Tyrannical Emperor's voice thundered in his mind.

"You want a chance to live, right? This is it. You might be able to get past this with the power of a LEGEND."

The words were sweet and terrifying at the same time as at this moment, this genius Royal Human with a head full of golden hair and devilish handsomeness felt his destiny was entirely dark and gloomy.

It meant his path was near its end!

Unless...he took this chance.

BZZZT!

The fear within him when he gazed at the unfathomable existence before his eyes was repressed as his Origin began to move and rotate in a manner described by a unique Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi.

His Origin came to life as in the next second, his body and soul were also suffused with light as above him, 39 Reality Passages gushed with essence as this being would have no trouble resonating his Aspects of Existence to become a single Strata!

Noah watched on with a sharp gaze as this process was something he had to go through himself, and it eluded many beings even if they had all the requirements.

But a genius was a genius nonetheless.

The terror and fear this Pure-Blooded Primordial had felt along with his immense foundation erupted out at this moment, his three Aspects of Existence beginning to buzz as they sought synchrony.

Noah still had his will imposed on this being as he could feel all of this, seeing fundamental changes beginning to occur as the rotating stellar bodies within this being began to release a fantastical light that gradually formed a stellar barrier!

A long stellar barrier that was clumping all his 100 Billion Cosmos together in a unique manner as they went to actualize a Reality.

HUUUM!

The surroundings buzzed with this being as the vast reserves of Essence from the Reality Passages above his suffused over his body, the resonance between his Aspects of Existence blooming in full as his Soul began to solidify!

It solidified into a vibrant sea that went on to bathe the rotating Origin and Body- these three Aspects of Existence releasing a sound of utter glory as over the skin of this Royal Human, an Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier began to form.

His body released his Ascendancy Halos as they also bathed their authority onto his Aspects, everything about this being undergoing a fundamental change!

At the stage of Reality, a being gained an innate barrier that could defend 5 Million Damage Values as the lowest base, with this barrier only becoming more powerful as they ascended the Strata of this stage.

Along with this...was also their base damage.

Every single skill cast and every strike would also carry at a minimum...5 Million Damage Values. The body of a LEGEND naturally pulled upon the synchronized Aspects of Existence and the authority of their Ascendancy Halos to grant this power, and they would only be bolstered when they attained their True Forms!

"OOOOOH!"

Feeling the boundless power beginning to course through him, this Pure-Blooded Primordial finally felt his fear fading away.

As he felt the barrier of strength form over his body...he felt like he might be able to get out of this situation alive!

HUUM!

A unique blaring of resonance flashed out one last time as within the chest of this being, the allure of a genuine Reality formed.

"Haha..."

As boundless power coursed through this being, his Reality Passages pumped with even more fervor as his confidence returned!

Amidst his changing emotions, he didn't have time to ponder why this being would allow him to become a LEGEND.

"Pride will always be the fall of many, you shouldn't have allowed me to break thro-"

"Sever."

The body of the Pure-Blooded Royal Human had begun to buzz with power as he was about to release all his frustrations when all of sudden, a piercing ray of stellar light filled with malevolent essence a Dimension thundered down at a speed this being couldn't even follow- shredding apart his newly formed Innate Primogenial Defense Barrier and blasting his Primogenial Body, Soul, and Origin into a splatter of stellar pieces!

PAH!

The surroundings quieted down as Noah gazed at all this calmly, focusing on the shattered visage of this being as this time- it formed into a vibrant Purple treasure box that was inscribed with golden runic lines.

A Purple Tier Loot Crate was what formed from a newly risen LEGEND falling under Noah's hands as his will surged into it, causing a flourishing of golden essence to bloom as loot turned into a streak of light that appeared in Noah's Expansive Space!

<10x False Grotto Nacres have been obtained.>

<300 Olden Orbs of Transmogrification have been obtained.>

<A TABOO Reality Jewel has been obtained.>

The allure of wondrous loot bloomed as Noah finally nodded his massive golden body, his devilish smile only becoming wider as the next test he planned to do was the normal method of attaining Loot as he wouldn't choose the option of Loot Crates!

Another string snapped as the figure of a Reality Ursidae enlarged, regaining its senses as its body sank into the barren earth while it heard an undeniable voice echo in its mind.

"Hey, go ahead and break through."

...!

Apart from the wondrous Randomized Loot from Loot Crates, Noah wanted to also kill others and attain their Bloodlines as his goal was to also have all of the 5 Pure-Blooded Primordial Bloodlines under his belt soon enough!

A majestic and kingly Reality Bear heard Noah's words as a terrifying reality unfolded once more in this region, the golden dome protecting the loot of this barren and deathly island slowly beginning to thin under Noah's surge of Dimensional Essence at the same time!

Chapter 1818 The Wonders Of Apocalypse And Tyranny! L

As Noah gave a chance to Pure-Blooded Primordials to break through to the Reality Realm and farmed them thereafter, his will that pervaded over the Dimensional Holy Land was going through the information of the changes brought by through Apocalypse and the Tyrannical Emperor reaching TABOO!

<Under the authority of the Outer Azaggoth Terror, the ability of Reality Devourer is released from its shackles and becomes usable. Requiring 1 Million Units of the Essence of Reality to activate, Reality Devourer forgoes all of the Loot that the Unnamed Kainos Emperor would receive from slain enemies at the Reality Realm in exchange for devouring everything about them with the apocalyptic essence of a Telos. You can also devour genuine Realities with the same cost as the product is receiving a greater understanding of the very Essence of Reality, increasing your Affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality as you can better grasp their identity and usage...>

"..."

Things paused once more as Noah focused on this singular upgrade that came from Apocalypse. Telos were particularly dreadful existences as they could eat up Realities or parts of Realities- the Ancient Bloodline of Outer Azaggoth Terror falling among those existences that could devour parts of the Main Reality before OPPENHEIMER had caused the proliferation of boundless Realities.

It now seemed their true terror lay in the fact that they could be more in tune the more they devoured Realities- becoming closer and closer in affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality!

For one to get past TABOO, they had to be more and more proficient in pulling in the Natural Laws of Reality into their concepts as when they forged enough TABOO Concepts in the hundreds...they could more easily feel the types of Natural Laws around them as the moment they became so familiar that they isolated the essence of a single Natural Law in a concept, they would be able to exceed TABOO.

Telos was one of the Bloodlines that could reach past TABOO even if they weren't extremely talented, and Noah who was an existence who was extremely talented and had boundless destiny...had attained just such a Bloodline as he would have many choices to make in the future!

When he killed LEGENDS, should he allow for their essence to become normal Loot, or select the route of Randomized Loot Crates, or simply devour their Reality for the sake of increasing his Affinity to Natural Laws of Reality as this would allow him to form TABOO concepts faster and eventually open up the pathway for a higher stage?

There were many choices for Noah to make, and his mind buzzed briefly with possibilities before he continued to look at the descending prompts.

<The Domain of Apocalypse has been elevated to the point that when enemies that fall within it are slain without the Authority of their Ascendancy Halos being devoured- the authority of the Halos can instead be added to the Unnamed Kainos Emperor as the pathway past TABOO can be slowly ascended.>

<As the Herald of Ragnarok within the Domain of Apocalypse is elevated, you can now call upon the souls of Eldritch Terrors who have forged their Reality with a sufficient cost of 2 million Units of the Essence of Reality. The Eldritch Terrors last 1 minute within the Domain of Apocalypse as stronger Eldritch Terrors with even more duration can be summoned if Dimensional Essence is inserted in the Domain of Apocalypse. Each summoned Reality Realm Eldritch Terror will take on the role of a Cardinal Sin for a total number of 7 allowable Terrors, with the effects of Outer Eldritch Corruption pervasively spreading throughout the Domain of Apocalypse as unless you perish- those within the Domain cannot leave. Exceptions to those who might be capable of leaving the grasps of the Domain of Apocalypse include those proficient in Dimensional Essence...>

<Apocalyptic Erasure has been elevated to the point that even those with a few TABOO authorities cannot withstand attacks stained with the Essence of Apocalypse. Their very Origins, Bodies, Souls, Memories, Concepts...everything about them can be erased under the banner of Apocalypse if they do not hold sufficient Authority to protect themselves.>

The other surprises of TABOO Apocalypse included a renovation of the skills of Domain of Apocalypse, Herald of Ragnarok, and Outer Eldritch Corruption among others, with the deadliest thing being the fact that now...Noah could actually call upon Reality Realm Eldritch Terrors if he paid a pricy cost of 2 million

Units of the Essence of Reality- something that only somewhat powerful Primogenial LEGENDS could afford to pay as even this would leave them entirely drained!

Yet now, an existence like him who had not even tapped the Realm of Reality could call out terrifying existences of this level- albeit for a minute unless he pumped in Dimensional Essence.

Noah loved the effect of the Domain of Apocalypse locking down everything the most as this meant however many existences he locked in this Domain to be his loot...would have a very hard time escaping!

"Mmm..." He gave a nod of appreciation as he moved his eyes over the prompts of the Tyrannical Emperor.

<The Benevolent Light of Empowerment has been elevated to allow for a Third Empowerment that costs ten times more than the Second Empowerment. Everything under the banner of the Tyrannical Emperor can be Empowered- from their Aspects of Existence to their Bloodlines and all the way to his subjects.>

...!

The first round of Empowerment cost 1 True Star of Conquest! The second Empowerment needed 10...and the third Empowerment that just became available required 100 True Stars of Conquest!

The only solace in this was the fact that Noah had close to over 10,000 True Stars of Conquest as his 10,000+ portions of Souls finished returning, so he would be able to empower multiple things about himself thrice.

Part of the reason that Noah might exceed others so much was because his strongest Edicts were Empowered...his Aspects of Existence were empowered...many things about him were as now, they would all be able to undergo a third round of Empowerment.

Noah was planning to be careful with this as he still had not given up on building his foundations even more in the stage he had reached...even if his Aspects of Existence were laying still no matter what he did as they truly foretold that he had reached the absolute limit!

The essence of Conquest would be among the tools Noah still wanted to try utilizing at a destined time as the glorious light of Empowerment...could even this not bring any changes to the Limits of his Aspects of Existence?

Chapter 1819 The Wonders Of Apocalypse And Tyranny! L!

The surprises of the Tyrannical Emperor weren't done as prompts continued to descend.

<The Nomological Regime disdains the shackles imposed on the concepts of the Tyrannical Emperor as the more Realities that have fallen under his banner, the smoother the path past TABOO becomes as the Affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality will be passively increased. When 500,000 Realities have fallen under your banner of Conquest, a dense enough authority and affinity to the Natural Laws would be built up to allow for one chosen concept to exceed TABOO...>

"..."

'Are you serious?'

Noah's eyes released beams of light as he wanted to very loudly ask this question!

Only 5,000 True Stars of Conquest were required for him to elevate Resplendent Treasure Emperor to TABOO, with the upgrade past TABOO at this moment not even requiring True Stars of Conquest as it only needed Noah to pass 500,000 Realities in his Dimensional Gourmandizing Reality.

This number was a ridiculous jump from 5,000 Realities as Noah was waiting to see something like 50,000!

His thoughts were buzzing with activity as he sighed at this reality when the voice of Lavalliere interjected.

<Dude...the elevation past TABOO is impossible for most Alpha Strata LEGENDS as only the geniuses of the last Strata of Reality or those past this Realm can have the capability to isolate and include the essence of a Natural Law of Reality in their concepts. Just the sheer ridiculous fact that you can attain this as long as you continue your Infinite Dreams and have your Infinite Reality move around devouring Realities is...haa, I really can't at times...>

"..."

Noah didn't even retort back to this ancient treasure as different beings could look at this issue from different perspectives!

Lavalliere thought as she did based on her abundant energy as she knew the norms of Realities and Dimensions...but why should Noah stick to similar norms or even define himself with them?

His thoughts ran wild with tyranny as more prompts cascaded down.

<The Unlocked Quasi-VENERABLE Ancient Bloodline of the Reality Horned Lion Emperor shines with boundless tyranny, this race of beings never falling under the conquest of others in the Age of Destiny as they either perished or became victors of their domains. The unique feature of [Ruler of the Pride] is granted as a sub-ability to [Tyranny of the Soul] as you gain special boons for the existences under your banner of Conquest. A part of their Fortunes, Destiny, Karma, and Fate are culminated and drawn towards you as with the status of the Ruler of the Pride, you shall lead them to boundless glory...>

<Due to increasing reality-altering concepts, authorities, and Physiques attained and displayed solely by the Tyrannical Emperor, the feature of [Oath to Emperor] cannot accurately replicate and strengthen the vassals as stated with its current level of authority. Due to this, the entire authority of Oath to Emperor was redistributed and focused on a single Aspect of the Tyrannical Emperor for strengthening of the Vassals- the Soul. As one of the Aspects of Existence that can be elevated the most without causing a dangerous imbalance, the Soul Strength of the Vassals of the Tyrannical Emperor will be raised proportionally to the other Aspects of their Existence- up until it reaches the maximum point that their Bodies and Origins can handle without bringing about instability due to imbalance...>

The ability of Oath to Emperor was unique as in its description, it theoretically granted Noah's vassals a 50th of his power or even a tenth of his power...but it didn't live up to its description as its authority wasn't enough to truly do what it stated, with the reality-altering authority required to do something like this simply not being enough for a concept that was at Quasi-TABOO and now at TABOO!

So the ability was modified as it now focused on a single Aspect of Noah's.

The soul was the area that Noah had exceeded first, liquifying it and gaining a Primogenial Soul as even then, the strain on his other Aspects of Existence wasn't too horrendous to cause a dangerous imbalance!

Now the souls of his people would be raised to the highest stage they could handle as this...would be the biggest boost for them to build a strong foundation- solely based on how hard it was to elevate one's Soul.

Noah's eyes were filled with thoughtful light as he gazed at one last prompt that showed the wonders of his newly elevated TABOO Edicts.

<Emperor's Haki can now become a tangible force that conceals to oppress your enemies, with those weaker than you in authority finding themselves not even capable of meeting your gaze as the oppressive strength of your Will imposes on them. Haki can be infused into your words, thoughts, or mere movements as those affected by it will lose 50% of their battle capabilities. This ability can now be activated passively to display its effects at all times with the expense of 1,000 Essence of Reality every second. Those who can gaze at the Tyrannical Emperor freely have a level of talent as even then, the only fate waiting for them is to yield or perish!>

The unbound tyranny of this concept could be felt as Noah gained a passive ability that could pressure those below him in stature the moment they stood in his mere presence!

"Good!"

He was happy with the results of the elevation of TABOO for the concepts of the Resplendent Treasure Emperor, Tyrannical Emperor, and Apocalypse as his will moved on to complete more things.

There was the upgrade of RUINATION and forging of other TABOO Relics to be done, the making of an Infinite Dream Automaton to the Realm of Reality, the search for Dream LEGENDS for his Clones to subjugate...and many more things!

Some things like the forging of the ecritures of VITALITY and branding them to his True Blood- the number of these ecritures having exceeded 98 at this point in time as Noah's Blood had yet to reach a limit.

The Infinite Dream also neared completion as only 2 souls were finishing up in two unique Realities Noah had landed in, one being a Forgotten Reality that held unique Relics and history from the Olden Era- but nothing to do with Commander Feng, and the other being an empty Domain full of destructive essence that even weak LEGENDS would treat seriously.

Each had their own intricacies for Noah to go over as the large majority of his focus right now would be placed over the Grotto Sanctum his clone was in...and what he could find here that might give him a chance in exceeding his already exceeded Limits!

Could he really not do anything else unless he became a LEGEND and forged his Reality?

This was a question that needed an ultimate answer as his focus shifted to the dreary deathly landmass where a majestic Reality Ursidae roared out while establishing his Reality.

"POWER!"

The kingly Reality Bear roared out with majesty as dazzling Reality Passaged resonated with his newly formed Primogenial Will, his Aspects of existences suffusing into each other as his soul resplendently bathed his Origin and Body!

The crown above his head dripped with majesty and wonder as his body now glimmered like a collection of Reality, gazing at Noah while bellowing out grandly once more, blades of Quasi-Reified swords beginning to form behind it as it roared out.

"POWEER!"

BZZZT!

Noah looked at this existence he had allowed to break through for the purposes of loot with disdain as his Destiny Stone True Form shone, Emperor's Haki becoming activated passively on this day as the will of the Tyrannical Emperor congealed, Noah's own voice booming out with the same word as the Reality Ursidae as an eradicating will that moved to erase every opposition before his eyes.

The same word...but utterly disastrous and different results bloomed.

"POWER!"

...!

Chapter 1820 Butchering Newly Risen LEGENDS!L

The Reality Ursidae had roared out the word twice as he bolstered his pride and power after being captured the first time, and Noah returned his word simply as under Emperor's Haki, his voice was sharper than anything in the surroundings!

The majesty of the Reality Ursidae trembled as the forming Quasi-Reified titanic swords trembled before being eradicated completely, the majestic visage of this Reality Bear also being torn apart as his Innate Barrier was shredded along with its body- cracks spreading throughout as stellar golden blood overflowed!

PAH!

The Shockwave of the Haki and the sound waves of the word 'Power' were shockingly the last thing this Reality Ursidae heard, its soul buzzing in disbelief that its newly formed Primogenial Strata could actually be eradicated in such a manner.

"..."

Calmness descended as an illusory river of Reality shattered, prompts beginning to shower Noah's eyes as he chose one out of the many methods he had to loot this being.

He could spend 2 Million Units of the Essence of Reality to cast Reality Assimilator as his Infinite Reality Passages would use a unique authority to actually rip out the Reality of his enemies and infuse it onto Noah- granting effects similar to Grotto Nacres!

For this, he wouldn't be able to obtain any loot in the form of Cores as he would still attain their Bloodlines, Concepts, and other forms of loot.

He could also spend 1 Million Units of the Essence of Reality to cast Reality Devourer as this ability erased any chances of loot, devouring everything about the Chosen target as it all went towards increasing the affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality.

Or he could choose the path of the Randomized Loot Crate route and hope his fortune and destiny grant him stupendous items!

Or he could kill them normally like this LEGEND and obtain their Bloodlines, Cores, and whatever other forms of Loot that LEGENDS granted.

Such was the situation now as Noah chose this last option after already experiencing Randomized Loot Crates, wondrous prompts of loot rushing over his eyes soon after.

[+10 Primogenial Blood Pearls have been obtained...] DING! The effects of Loot Multiplier are applied...[+1,000 Physique Refining Pearls obtained.]

[+10 Liquified Soul Dewes have been obtained...] DING! The effects of Loot Multiplier are applied...[+10 Liquified Soul Seas have been obtained.]

[+100,000,000 Trillion Skill Points obtained...] DING! The effects of Loot Multiplier are applied...[+10,000 Reality Resource Points obtained.]

<The effects of Absolute Looter are applied.>

<...You have already attained the Edicts of the slain enemy.>

<The Racial Bloodline of the Reality Ursidae has been attained.>

"Hmmm..."

Noah's eyes shone with luminous lights as there were new forms of loot for him to go over, and there was also the unique phenomenon of the concepts of killed enemies!

He had already cast Ascendant Multilayered Possession on the slain Reality Ursidae and had copied all of its concepts- so he would just be handed the same concepts he already knew when he killed them! What he didn't have that he attained though...was the racial Bloodline of the Reality Ursidae that he could now take as a True Form when fusing with his Halos.

A racial Bloodline that would also have its Aspects pulled into the Unnamed Kainos Emperor Bloodline as it would just continue to be strengthened!

"Then there's the loot..."

Another string of mana broke as two more Reality Ursidae appeared, Noah beginning to peruse through the details of the new loot while his voice nonchalantly rang out towards the waking geniuses who began to gaze around them with a sense of fear and disbelief as Noah spoke calmly just like before.

"Go ahead and break through to Reality, maybe then you can live."

...!

His words were chilly as always as the two geniuses looked at each other with gloomy faces, feeling the restrictions around them in this region as their destinies saw only one possible path forward.

"OOOOH!"

They bellowed out their yells as they began the process of breaking through, Noah ignoring these two future loot sources as his eyes focused on the details of the Loot from LEGENDS.

<Physique Refining Pearl>: A dense cluster of unique Reality altering essence that can refine the aspect of the Body beginning at the Primogenial Strata. The True Blood and strength of the Body will continue to be refined to a greater level as it can accept more and stronger Physiques...

<Liquified Soul Sea>: A vast collection of soul power into a surging sea that is suitable for expanding one's soul towards crystallization, and it is even more usable after the crystallization of the soul...

<False Grotto Nacre>: An imitation of the unique Grotto Nacre that is naturally formed from the densest Domains of Grotto Sanctums over time. It can refine two chosen Aspects of Existence beginning at the Primogenial stage at the same time while granting a slight increase to the Affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality...

The description of the False Grotto Nacres that also appeared from a Randomized Loot Crate finally showed themselves as they were tools that cultivated one's Aspects of Existence along with the Physique Refining Pearls and Liquified Soul Seas!

They were stupendous tools for Noah to attain as all this time, his Aspects of Existence flowed uninterrupted as they didn't accept anything else- truly saying they had reached the limits of all limits as nothing would happen to them.

Yet Noah still wanted to try as in the Dimensional Holy Land, the True Sanguine Clone near the main body took out a False Grotto Nacre that stemmed from a Quintupled one- RUINATION having already listened to Noah's Will to only multiple one Nacre before her Upgrade and subsequent capabilities to multiply things to an even greater level.

The False Nacre looked like a massive mineral forged from the stars holding within it a massively flowing river of Reality that constantly coiled around this mineral like a snake!

It had a rounded bottom and golden crystalline edges that shot upwards, Noah's True Sanguine Clone bringing this above the main body before crushing it with his will as stellar golden nectar began to leak out from this False Grotto Nacre and wash over Noah's body.

It sank and wrapped into his vibrant Origin and Soul as it sought to sink into the Trillion Cosmos within and the vast liquified blue sea that couldn't expand any further, but...

Nothing occurred.

HUUM!

The dreadfully vibrant energy that was full of life from the False Grotto Nacre could not pervade into the Cosmos nor cause the blue soul sea to expand or crystallize as it only slid into the gaps between Noah's Origin and lay calmly- telling him once more to simply resonate his Aspects of Existence and forge his Reality for him to use all this essence!

"..."

Once more, Noah was denied exceeding already exceeded Limits as even loot from LEGENDS that was usable for those who had forged the Realm of Reality...was not usable for him.
