

Mana 1991

Chapter 1991 Unfathomable Wonder! LI

To defend her home.

This was all that Morgana cared for and what she strove to do for billions of years.

She cared not for the purpose and crusade that were passed down to her from her predecessor about the Desolate Mausoleum. All she wanted was to protect the place she had known all her life and came to love!

One of the biggest things to allow one to do this was none other than the Sword of Avalon.

Since she first heard the legend of this Sword, she had aspirations for it.

Then she grew powerful enough to even trek across Insula Avallonis to try and pull this sword, but she was exposed to the terrifying reality of this sword never budging an inch!

To her, this was akin to being told she was not worthy.

So she redoubled her efforts.

She went to the war fronts and areas of most conflict as she pushed back against the forces of Primordials and Dimensional Hellion Rulers.

She did this for countless years until she even attained the title of a Dimensional Ruler!

The moment she did so, she had returned to Insula Avallonis again as she grasped the hilt of the Sword of Avalon and pulled.

And yet...the result was the same.

She tried to seek guidance and understanding from the protector of the Sword of Avalon, but she could remember the cold words of Guinevere even then.

<It is not a matter of being worthy. Worthier beings than you have tried and left unsuccessful. It is merely a matter of the weaving of destiny and reality.>

WAA!

An answer that she had received before that made her angry!

"Destiny? Reality? I have great attainments in the Fundamental Natural Law of Providence as things like Destiny, Fortune, Karma, and Fate are at my fingertips!"

These were the words she had said to Guinevere back then.

She had only shaken her head and sunk back into the lake, Morgana spending the next thousand years sitting on the same serene waters of this lake as she stared at the Sword in Stone.

She memorized its radiant hilt and all the minute inscriptions on it, and she memorized the curvature and shape of even the stone it was bound to. So when the existence she looked up to struck her, she was hurt- but she accepted it because she was out of line for her actions.

Yet now, this same existence raised her head towards the Sword in Stone that she knew all too well, the unfathomable being who had traversed across Insula Avallonis coming close to it as she was forced to watch what would unfold next!

Due to this action, she was greatly hurt as based on the sequence of events, the foreboding feeling in her heart couldn't be shaken away!

What she dreamed of and strove to attain for years...would she really be forced to watch as someone else obtained it?

Her Dual Pupils trembled as with a heavy heart, she watched the powerful right hand of the devilishly handsome Emperor reach out towards the hilt of the Sword.

The pressure on her head stopped as her hair was released, Guinevere releasing her and giving her the choice to continue watching or not as at this juncture, she had to watch with all her attention even if she didn't want to!

Noah's heart was steady as he arrived before the Sword in Stone.

Clusters of plasmoid essence surged in this area as it would disintegrate quaker beings, yet it was nourishment for him as it surged into his body and caused him to enter the most optimal state- his hand going towards the hilt of the Sword right after!

It was a scene she had seen a few times when looking through Aids and Cheats.

He wouldn't have come here if he held no chance of succeeding...but there was a level of intricacy to it that would grant the best result.

A result that Noah wanted to manipulate to achieve an astonishing feat!

WA! WA! WA!

A symphony of glory and valor began to resound.

His hand came to grasp the hilt of an exquisite concept- an exquisite Relic that contained within it the authority of a Dimension.

SHIING!

The moment his hand came in contact, a luminous glass of light erupted out as Noah remained still!

He didn't exert any force or pull, and he merely grasped it.

Countless others had made this journey as they had all failed, so how was Noah different?

For one, he had a Dimensional Layer entirely born of Avalon Essence as through it, he had transformed a Clone into a Body that could exemplify this Dimension's power!

Noah's Avalon Dimensional Chassis was the representative of his Avalon Dimensional Reality as this was the crux of attaining the Sword of Avalon.

It wasn't so much that Noah was more worthy compared to the many others, it was simply...because he was the right fit.

Fit!

His Avalon Dimensional Chassis complemented the Sword of Avalon as the crystalline stone it was currently sunk into was part of the Avalon Dimension.

And Noah's body...was also part of the Avalon Dimension in his Origin as the core difference between the two was nonexistent!

So when he pulled the Sword...it would simply be akin to transferring where it was placed- just from one domain of the Avalon Dimension to another!

Or at least...this was what Noah believed.

HUUM!

His body released waves of resonance and harmony as what came hereafter was the most difficult part.

Even though his Origin replicated the Avalon Dimension, it was still not replicated fully as Noah stopped at 49 Trillion Kainos Royal Avalon Cosmos.

If he went above this, he would be labeled the enemy of this Dimension as grasping the Sword of Avalon might be an impossibility then!

If he wanted to fully pull out this Sword while not being labeled the Dimensional Inimicus of the Avalon Dimension, he would have to complete his Third Dimensional Layer instantly.

Countless thoughts and scenes crossed his mind as he was ready.

With his body resonating and buzzing with the Essence of Avalon, he felt the dormant and boundless waves of essence and authority in the Sword in his hand as he...gave a tug!

...!

RUUMBLE!

Chapter 1992 Unfathomable Wonder! LII

Magisterial radiance unfurled as the whole Insula Avallonis began to tremble.

The incandescent Sword within Noah's right hand had wondrously begun to rise!

But this was all.

It only began to rise as a part of its blade filled with runic inscriptions became visible, but it felt like the force of a whole Dimension weighed it down from being pulled any further as if nothing changed, it would sink back down with a shocking pull!

It was at this juncture that the over 140 Grotto Panaceas around Noah's Main Body released a luminous light, everything about them surging into Noah.

From 49 Trillion Kainos Royal Avalon Cosmos, tens of Trillions more bloomed in an instant as the number of singularities forming within Noah's Third Dimensional Layer...maddeningly jumped from 49 to 100 Trillion in an instant!

A ridiculous jump that passed the halfway point and instantly completed the Third Dimensional Layer!

HUUM!

Noah's main body began to tremble with grandeur as his Avalon Dimensional Body that felt like the sword it was pulling had the weight of the whole Dimension pulling it down...this weight began to rapidly reduce as he could finally continue pulling upwards- and he did so before the Latent Will of the Dimension itself could recognize him as an enemy.

SHIING!

The sequence of all these actions gave birth to the unfolding nexus event where after the completion of his Avalon Dimensional Reality and feeling the forceful budding of 25% Understanding in the Decretum of Avalon, Noah's right hand didn't stop coming up as in a single motion...he entirely pulled out the Sword from Stone!

...!

The rapid motion caused the rising sword to point its tip towards the skies- a shockingly sharp tip that at this moment released blinding rays of light and grandeur!

But this wasn't all as similar to the past two Dimensions when Noah had reached the halfway point and subsequently completed the Dimensional Layers, the Avalon Dimension itself began to seethe with power and Essence as it felt its authority being encroached upon.

And similar to the Dream and Prana Dimension, it could instinctively feel the Dimensional Inimicus.

But unlike the previous Two Dimensions...it was shockingly able to locate the Dimensional Inimicus extremely accurately as he...just happened to be grasping an item that granted immense authority over the Avalon Dimension at this same time!

As his Soul had met the prerequisites and was being branded ownership of this immense authority, the Latent Will of the Avalon Dimension was instantly able to connect the instinctive feeling of the Dimensional Inimicus to this being!

A pause occurred in the intention and will of the Avalon Dimension.

The one to obtain the authority of the Sword of Avalon that had been nurtured for the past Billions of years across many Ages of the Olden Era would be the one to protect it and its inhabitants.

This was the pre-requisite that was set long ago as the Sword of Avalon would not make a mistake!

This was to the extent that even Dimensional Rulers were denied as they didn't meet the set requirements.

So anyone who attained it was an ally and protector of the Avalon Dimension! And yet uniquely, the Latent Will of the Avalon Dimension was pointed to the same being as the Enemy of the Dimension!

The Latent Will was a rational and calculative concept as countless calculations were made.

A decision came to a moment later as the surging waves of Avalon in Insula Avallonis and across the Avalon Dimension began to rise even higher and with more prosperity!

The proclamation of the Dimensional Inimicus was not made as instead...

<The Sword of Avalon has designated its user.>

WAAA!

This message bloomed in the minds of all Dimensional Rulers of the Avalon Dimension as boundless waves of the essence of Avalon surged with prosperity and wonder across all regions!

For the first time since beginning his formation of Dimensional Layers, Noah was not labeled as an enemy!

At this moment, his figure stood above the Stone with the Sword of Avalon pointing to the skies, boundless stellar light surging and erupting around him as he swallowed it all into his body to flourish within his Origin.

But this wasn't all!

From the radiant and refulgent Sword of Avalon, its countless runic inscriptions on its blade lit up as apart from the already dazzling colors and raging waves of essence...the lit up runes surged as an encompassing beam of light instantly shot out and tore through the skies.

The cylindrical beam was unique as it pulled the countless wild waves of essence in the surroundings into it, all this essence and the decretum of Avalon surging into this cylindrical beam of light and transformed into a shockingly pure purple wave of plasmoid essence that returned back to the Sword...and flowed into the hand of its owner!

HUUM!

The Avalon Dimensional Chassis trembled and released blinding light the moment this unique essence flowed into him.

He then began to see astounding prompts.

<Your Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon has forcefully risen to 30%>

<Your Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon has forcefully risen to 35%>

<Your Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon has forcefully risen to 40%...>

...!

His body and soul felt like he was undergoing a baptism as his Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon was propelled upwards in an unbelievable manner, with the percentages not even stopping!

And this happened concurrently with the boosts of completing the Third Dimensional Layer as Noah was experiencing fantastical changes all around!

The scene of him instantly pulling out the Sword of Avalon and pointing it to the skies as it now shone with the massive cylindrical beam of light was closely observed by the eyes of two Nature Integration existences, Morgana watching this scene blankly while Guinevere's eyes still retained their glacial coldness...but they were shining much brighter than before as her voice echoed out.

<The Sword of Avalon grants an encompassing authority over the Avalon Dimension and its inhabitants, granting its holder the titles of the Connate Avalonian Commander and Imperius Avallonis as wherever he points his sword, the forces of this Dimension would see them as the enemy.>

WAA!

<It can command all the Avallonis Beasts on Insula Avallonis and influence all other Avalonians, but even this authority cannot force the wills of all others nor mindlessly take away their choices. When the time comes that the holder of the Sword of Avalon beckons you to do something...what will you do, Morgana?>

Chapter 1993 Imperius Avallonis! L

The winds of destiny were not easily discernible.

Yet there were still existences with unfathomable power and wonder as they always had their ways.

At the distant corners of the Avalon Dimension, there was a stretch of domains that retained vibrant purple landscapes, but they were also interwoven with the crimson-black essence of Apollyon through the influence of a single being.

The visage of this being actually made itself visible right now as above these vast domains, the figure of titanic Demoness materialized!

It was an astoundingly exquisite form that would even draw the allure of Dimensional Rulers if they didn't use their authority to protect their hearts- the image of the Daughter of Hatred- Lilith!

<The Sword of Avalon was pulled so suddenly? Mmm...>

Demonic horns rose above her head as her red lips pursed, butterfly-like wings radiantly shining with crimson flames behind her while the Essence of the Decretum of Avalon surged towards her body intimately.

<Once it is free from the unbreakable authority of its Dimension and in the hands of a being...isn't it much easier to attain it? >

A devilish smile crossed her lips as she wondered whether to mobilize the Dimensional Rulers under her and divert more of her forces here.

<Well, there are also the little dogs I own here... Let's use them to see just who the owner of the Sword of Avalon is.>

With sharp eyes, she gazed towards the faraway regions of the Avalon Dimension that were part of the 12 Domains of Avalon, her devilish charm seemingly already covering some of them!

<...When the time comes that the holder of the Sword of Avalon beckons you to do something...what will you do, Morgana?>

A difficult question arose as Morgana was the first Dimensional Ruler to ponder it!

But she couldn't even do so much as ponder as she was currently staring in a daze at the scene of the man who had pulled the Sword from Stone.

It was an act of shocking significance as even in their surroundings, the Avallonis Beasts began to roar and howl as they began a welcoming ceremony of an existence that would hold a grand title!

The blazing cylindrical pillar of light shot upwards from Insula Avallonis as boundless Avalon Essence surged into it.

The holder of the Sword that released this blinding beam of light was being bathed in its pristine authority as his percentages of the Decretum of Avalon continued to rise!

<Your Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon has forcefully risen to 55%.>

<Your Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon has forcefully risen to 65%.>

<Your Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon has forcefully risen to 75%.>

"..."

Prompts of majesty and wonder!

Prompts that instantly propelled Noah's understanding of a Decretum to a ridiculous percentage while also granting him a 750% Augmentation to True Damage/Defense/Vitality Values.

And this was just beginning.

<You have obtained the recognition of an Absolute Connate Dimensional Relic- The Sword of Avalon.>

<You have obtained the titles of Connate Avalonian Commander and Imperius Avallonis.>

<Your Authority as an Emperor of this Age significantly increases!>

<Your Authority as an Emperor of this Age significantly increases!>

<The Sword of Avalon is harmonizing its authority with your soul and making itself visible to you.>

It was great that his soul strength was robust as bundles of information rained down one after another, the backbone of his Throne gaining multiple points of light as its outline seemed more and more like a glorious genuine throne!

As he held the Sword of Avalon, he could feel it buzzing as it branded itself onto his soul before he could gain a connection with it and see what capabilities it truly held.

As these changes were unfolding with the Avalon Dimensional Chassis, Noah's main body was bombarded with even more changes as prompts rained down.

<You have successfully completed the Third Dimensional Reality.>

<A version of Pure Undefined Authority has been isolated for your future use above the Avalon Dimensional Reality.>

...!

A version of Pure Undefined Authority!

His Main Body had not been pulled into the unique space where he could see the scenes of 9 Anchors entrenched into the Desolate Mausoleum, and he instead had the capability to do this later by interacting with this Pure Undefined Authority.

Within the Avalon Dimensional Reality.

Idyllic islands were forming in the midst of vibrant stellar Kainos Royal Avalon Cosmos, a floor of billowing purple essence below them that gave off the feel of astounding Royalty!

Yet above this all...a unique cluster of authority could be seen in the form of a radiant white bubble.

Immensely pristine in color and holding a heart-shaking authority, this white bubble of light remained suspended in the skies above everything as it waited for Noah.

He only gazed at this for now as countless thoughts crossed his mind, turning his gaze to the other prompts of information.

<Through your reign over the Avalon Dimension Reality, a level of influence can be exerted in the Avalon Dimension.>

<The Undefined Authority under you has increased.>

<Your Reserves of the Essence of Reality have been elevated to the Maximum of 800 Million.>

<Your Maximum True Vitality Values have risen to 850 Billion.>

"Ah...!"

The Numbers were dazzling to the eyes as even Noah couldn't help but exclaim!

The prompts of his Reserves and Maximum True Vitality Values always displayed the base as they didn't display the true value of these concepts when the Augmentation of Decrata and Natural Laws were in the picture.

Just for the True Vitality Values alone, there was the 750% Augmentation from the Decretum of Avalon that had reached 75% Understanding, then there was another 250% Augmentation from the Decreta of Dreams and another 250% from Prana!

Adding the 100% Augmentation from his understanding of the Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics and the small percentages in Gravitation and Polarity...Noah's True Vitality Value wasn't the base displayed 850 Billion, but a true value of over 12 Trillion once all the Augmentations were brought into the picture.

This was power!

This was why Suzerains and Dimensional Rulers were so maddeningly powerful...the weakest among Dimensional Rulers might have already fully understood a Natural Law or Decretum or even multiple of them, while the strongest ones had unfathomable capabilities the Integration of any of these concepts compounded said Augmentations even more.

And Noah was beginning to step on this path as due to the Sword of Avalon, his highest understood concept became the Decretum of Avalon.

This opened up a pathway that his destiny had shed light on not too long ago when he obtained a Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Seed.

Could...he smoothly achieve a completely understood Decretum in this manner?!

Chapter 1994 Imperius Avallonis! LI

The future was murky in this direction as Noah couldn't yet decide on the usage of the Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Seed.

He needed to obtain more information and gaze upon the innumerable paths where he utilized this seed for the Decretum of Avalon or saved it for the hard to trek and boundlessly fruitful Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics that would grant him the Mana Heart!

So gaze upon the myriad paths he would.

After all, he had arrived at his current stage in mere days. He could at least take a day or two to stabilize himself as he focused his Will in the Avalon Dimension and dealing with the powerful existences within it!

And during this juncture, the remaining prompts for the completion of the Avalon Dimensional Reality flowed down.

<Your rate of Progression in the Decretum of Avalon has increased by 1,000,000%>

<The saturated Paramount Kainos Avalon Dimensional Reality grants a base addition of 200,000 Dimensional Dream Damage and Defense Values, bringing your Overall Origin Base Value to 450,000.>

<Your Affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality has risen greatly!>

<Your Affinity to the Decretum of all Dimensions has risen greatly!>

<Your Maximum Number of Ascendancy Stanchions is now 500.>

<The elevation of the Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique has been affected by the dense essence of Avalon and has undergone an even greater mutation.>

<Your Dimensional Body and Soul are undergoing fundamental changes.>

His figure was bathed by stellar gold, verdant, and a Royal purple light as he looked like a connate treasure forged in the Age of Fortune!

His body glistened as his very molecular structure itself continued to transform, while his soul turned into waves of plasmic aurora that went to bathe every part of him.

His Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique continued to change as he expected its elevation to actually finish this time as it wouldn't be influenced by too many things in the next day.

This would cause his number of Reality Passages, Damage and Defense Values, and much more to elevate to even more profound levels.

Over 550 Reality Passages were already formed, with the Second and Third Dimensional Layers being filled up as their limits had still not been reached!

300 were contained between the First and Second Dimensional Layers as above the Prana Dimension, once could see 250 mountainous Passages of light gushing dense reserves of essence all around.

Paired up with the golden pillars of light that were the Stanchions, the geography of this Dimension was a cluster of Cosmos, verdant islands, mountain ranges of stellar Reality Passages, and fantastical pillars of light shining green and purple!

It was simply magnificent and serene, and it promised boundless power!

At this very moment, Noah was using Concept Amalgamation to combine TABOO Edicts and form new Stanchions, the number of formed ones going past 350 at this time as he went to fill up to the limit of 500.

He would do this and entrench them all into his Origin as it was building up to be something even he didn't know the limits of.

If just the completion of the Third Layer gave him power in the ranks of Suzerains, what exactly would he have attained on the 9th Dimensional Layer?

It was a question for the future, and he would continue to ponder on how to best continue this path he forged as now- the focus of his will went towards the Avalon Dimension.

Towards the 75% Understanding in the Decretum of Avalon that meant he could grasp its Absolute Avalon Authority!

Noah had to truly understand what this authority was as for this...the silent Lavalliere began to speak.

<The Absolute Authorities of Dimensions are unique, with some Dimensions holding Authorities much more unique than others.>

Her voice was melancholic as it was seemingly traversing through time and gazing upon the past.

<The Absolute Dream Authority was one of the strongest among the 9 Dimensions due to its uniqueness of turning Dreams into Reality. Other Absolute Authorities could alter Reality, but not to the extent of Absolute Dream Authority as our Dimensional Rulers were many, and we were powerful.>

WAA!

<So powerful and so unique that when the Empyral Deceiver attained power, it was one of the first Dimensions he targeted as he is partly the reason for my current state!>

"..."

Noah silently listened while thinking about the past.

When he first came across Lavalliere, she didn't even wish to mention the name OPPENHEIMER and even advised him to do the same!

Just what terror and power had this being displayed that even after he was long gone, powerful beings were still careful when it came to him?

<Now, the Dream Dimension isn't at its peak as it doesn't have as many Rulers as it did in the past, but its Authority still remains the same. The Absolute Avalon Authority will also be able to alter Reality in its own way as it should hold its own unique capabilities.>

Lavalliere finished with this before she went silent.

Noah's will focused on the Avalon Dimensional Chassis holding the Sword of Avalon and harmonizing with it as in the surroundings, more and more auras arrived.

Morgana had risen up to reclaim her grandeur of a Dimensional Ruler as Guinevere floated in front of her, the aura of Dimensional Ruler Arthus appearing at this time nearby as around the Lake...the Avallonis Beasts that were roaring and howling began to kneel and bend while looking at the raised Sword of Avalon!

Whether they were giant stellar worm-looking Avallonis Charybdis or serpents, Dragons, or any number of different Avallonis Beasts...they all felt the resonance and harmony of the Sword of Avalon as they began a ritual.

A ritual to recognize the holder of this sword who could command those on Insula Avallonis and potentially all of Avalon!

HUUUM!

Their chests vibrated as their jaws released a unique sound- a sound that beautifully melded with the resounding symphony of triumph and wonder.

From their glorious roars and howls, two words began to resound as they paid their respect and recognition.

"Imperius...Avallonis!"

WAA!

"IMPERIUS AVALLONIS!"

Simultaneously and with a magisterial symphony, Avallonis Beasts began to call out.

Imperius Avallonis.

It could directly be translated to...Emperor of Avalon!

Chapter 1995 Imperius Avallonis! LI

"IMPERIUS AVALLONIS!"

Vibrant shouts echoed out as Avallonis Beasts paid their respect to the Avalonian Emperor.

To the Emperor of Avalon!

And such a scene wasn't left alone as the commotion this time had spread far and wide.

The strongest Avalonians within the Avalon Dimension were informed that the Sword of Avalon had designated its owner!

At the center of the Lake, the beam of regal purple light was beginning to recoil into the dazzling Sword, and with its recession...came the confluence of multiple powerful auras from all directions.

From the 12 Domains of Avalon, the most powerful ruling forces were rushing towards Insula Avallonis the moment that the Sword was pulled from Stone, and they arrived just in time to see the blinding light die down...just in time to see the being behind all this!

HUUUM!

The Decretum of Avalon surged as the auras of multiple Nature Integration Realm Avalonians and a few hundred Suzerains surged in from multiple directions.

In one direction, the massive form of an Amethyst Phoenix could be seen as its body was bathed in purple flames.

In another direction, a Heliotrope Lion Emperor with a mane of raging Royal purple flames around its head gazed down coldly!

A Plum Qilin...a humanoid Tree of Avalon...10 Dimensional Rulers apart from Enchantress Morgana and Dimensional Ruler Arthus appeared as their eyes and wills were locked onto a single being.

The one that the Avallonis Beasts called out to as the Imperius Avallonis!

But their eyes retained their coldness as from their senses, they could deduce that at most...this existence was at the level of a Suzerain.

At the stage of having formed a Haven.

They had to heed and consider the words of such a being?

BZZZT!

Essence crackled and sundered as among the many gazes, only the Tri-Pupiled eyes of Guinevere were serenely looking upon all oncoming beings and shining brilliantly as she observed all of them locked onto the Imperius Avallonis bringing down the Sword he had been raising to the skies this whole time.

Noah's hand felt extremely heavy when wielding the radiant sword in his hands.

Only by coursing the Essence of the Decretum of Avalon as well as the elusive wisps of the Absolute Avalon Authority in his hands did he manage to even move it around!

And as he felt the oppressive gazes and senses of many newly arriving beings, he actually tuned them out.

Atop the Stone at the center of the Lake where he just pulled out the Sword of Avalon, he sat down domineeringly while pointing the tip of the blade back onto the crystalline stone, swinging down as the blade sank in a few inches while his will surged into it!

His will surged into it, but his eyes gazed at the vibrant surroundings and the Avallonis Beasts kneeling towards him.

Before he overcame the oppression and power of the terrifying beings that surrounded him, he had to somewhat understand the Sword of Avalon in his hands as during this process of harmonization, its information surged into his mind!

<Sword of Avalon>:: An Absolute Connate Dimensional Relic born from the heart of a Dimension. Its formation occurred many Ages ago, but its purpose and capabilities were directed and affirmed at the end of the Age of Destiny when the Latent Will of the Avalon Dimension sensed the pathway towards Cataclysm open. Its purpose is to strengthen the inhabitants of the Avalon Dimension as a whole as the fitting wielder would lead the Dimension away from the path of Cataclysm. The wielder of the Sword of Avalon is granted the titles Connate Avalonian Commander and Imperius Avallonis as when branded by the Relic, their Understanding of the Decretum of Avalon would instantly be raised to 75%, with a full understanding of the Decretum only being a matter of time as you harmonize with the Relic. As the Connate Avalonian Commander, the holder of the Sword of Avalon is also granted the capability of knowing the hearts of Avalonians, their brief history, pertinent thoughts, and allegiance to the Avalon Dimension. As the Imperius Avallonis, you can command the Avallonis Beasts within Insula Avallonis, including the Nature Integration Realm Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast- Guinevere, to an extent. Through the Sword of Avalon, Absolute Avalon Authority can be directly utilized in conjunction with the Essence of Reality to activate the features of <Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast Physique Refinement>, <Imperius Command>, <Valor of Avalon>, <Dimensional Siege>, <Eyes of Avalon>, and <Sacrifice> by the Imperius Avallonis. This Relic was a tool forged by the hearts of Avalonians, and for the hearts of Avalonians...

A fairly simple description yet grand in its content!

Nothing else had to be said about the worthiness of this Sword other than the fact that Noah could utilize it to command a Nature Integration Realm expert...to an extent!

As for what exactly that extent was, Noah had to find out.

But this tool exceeded even a boon as ridiculous as that.

It held astounding features he had yet to delve into, but their names alone said too many things!

Especially the feature of <Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast Physique Refinement>...it meant his Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique would eventually be getting yet another round of modifications.

And all of these features...would be activated through the Absolute Avalon Authority and the Essence of Reality.

The Essence of Reality that he held a base 800 Million of, but with the unique Augmentation of the Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics that on top of the boosts to True Vitality, Damage, and Defense Values...it also augmented his resource reserves! With the 10% in Manadynamics, it meant a 100% boost as his body held the capacity of 1.6 Billion Units of the Essence of Reality as with this number, he hoped the utilization of these features and even his Annihilation Techniques would be a walk in the park.

But...the Sword of Avalon went even further past all this to grant Noah the capability to view the allegiance of all Avalonians, their brief history, and even their most pertinent thoughts!

Chapter 1996 Imperius Avallonis! LV

Allegiance, history, and pertinent thoughts.

This alone was terrifying as it didn't differentiate between LEGENDS or Nature Integration Realm existences.

This...was the tool Noah would utilize to make sure he survived the Challenges and Ordeals that were to come!

Since he was not sufficiently strong enough to peer into the parallel paths of Nature Integration experts as they could discern him as well, he would utilize the Sword of Avalon to directly understand his current situation and how to navigate it.

So he grasped the Sword of Avalon tighter.

BZZT!

Authority and blinding light began to leak out from it as Avallonis Beasts at the level of Suzerains came to attention, Noah's eyes opening to fully gaze at all those around him!

To the Suzerains and Dimensional Rulers here, they saw an entirely different scene as the holder of the Sword of Avalon had regally sat atop the crystalline stone, the Sword expertly controlled by him to sink into this stone as his gaze was undaunted while he stared at everyone here.

Thereafter, the Sword of Avalon began to shine with a robust authority as it put all beings on high alert!

Their eyes couldn't help but inscribe the devilish charm and wonder this being displayed, where he certainly played the part of a mysterious Emperor...but how would his demeanor be?

How would he act while the pressure of 12 Dimensional Rulers bound down towards him alone?

They waited to see, and they were bound to wait for a few seconds as the Imperius Avallonis said nothing- only turning his gaze around the whole area as he fearlessly took everything in.

This was how it looked to others, but to Noah...

Everything around him had changed into a world of colorful lights!

Above the heads of all Avalonians, he could see their names...and all names were bordered by a radiant color.

All of the Avallonis Beasts held radiant borders of purple and gold surrounding their names.

Going past them, he could see borders of White with a tinge of purple...and even borders that were crimson!

He instinctively knew what each color meant as White was neutral, Purple Gold were those he could command, and Crimson...were shockingly enemies.

His calm gaze landed on the Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast- Guinevere who stood in front of the Enchantress Morgana and was watching him emotionlessly.

Above her head, her name shockingly shone with a vibrant purple gold that was only less radiant than the Avallonis Beasts that were calling out his name.

A powerful Nature Integration existence...was one that he could command! Well, this was to an extent as the borders around her name were not as vibrant as they could be!

This was her allegiance.

When Noah focused on her history...

<Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast- Guinevere>:: A unique existence that has accompanied the Sword of Avalon since its conception. She knows its capabilities as she cautions you from gazing upon her history and thoughts...

WAA!

Noah's eyes flashed sharply as his Tri-Pupiled eyes locked with the Tri-Pupiled eyes of Guinevere!

He could read what the eyes were trying to say as he marveled at such a being, turning his gaze behind her where a difficult expression could be seen on Morgana.

The hand holding a staff trembled ever so slightly with a surge of emotions as she stared at him, with her name being bordered by white light as her allegiance was neutral!

Towards this being, Noah focused on her thoughts as the Sword of Avalon released a vibrant light.

['Why him? Even now, I could crush him with my fingers...what makes him more worthy than I who has protected these lands for billions of years?!']

The frustration and unfairness could be felt from the thoughts of this being as Noah couldn't help but smile.

Why him?

This was something that wouldn't just be within the thoughts of Morgana, but widespread amongst all others!

If he didn't display and show the powerful beings in the surroundings why he was the right fit, this Clone might just lose its life. So...he would move to twist this play with him in the lead.

HUUM!

The Sword of Avalon buzzed.

After a few seconds of deafening silence where nobody spoke, the holder of the Sword of Avalon spoke while remaining seated in a grand manner!

"There are enemies surging in from all directions."

...!

Instead of boasting or talking about his qualifications, he actually began in an entirely different direction as his Tri-Pupiled eyes shone, releasing a light that transformed into an illusory screen that displayed a scene from the Dream Dimension!

The eyes of Guinevere and the other Nature Integration Realm existences flashed as they locked onto a gray-scaled winged Scorpion.

"The deadliest ones are the Abominations that are at this moment decimating the Dream Dimension."

In the image, Dream Essence avoided the bounds of this creature as it showed the chase of a terrified Suzerain, and eventually the effortless death of this Grotto Haven existence no matter what he defended with!

Even as his figure threw out DHARMIC and HERESY Tier abilities, the Scorpion Abomination was unphased as its stinger bypassed everything and caused the utter dissolution of this Dream Suzerain!

"...!"

The surrounding Grotto Haven Realm experts became solemn as the eyes of Nature Integration existences flashed.

"Abominations."

Noah said this word slowly as he tapped on the Sword of Avalon, his purple hair waving wildly as wisps of Absolute Avalon Authority laced over it!

"They can mostly ignore the Essence of Natural Laws and the Decreta as if any part of their bodies come in contact with you, expect the dissolution of your Origin."

WAA!

His words were sharp and piercing as he replayed the scene of a Suzerain dying so simply to an Abomination over and over again!

"This is just a single Abomination, there are no doubt countless more under the command of Primordials. Whether you have formed a Haven or integrated the Natural Laws themselves will not matter as facing these enemies alone will no doubt guarantee death. And that...is where I come in."

HUUM!

Pristine authority flashed as Noah rose from his seated position.

Authority flashed as he stood while placing both his hands on the hilt of the Sword, his gaze moving from one Dimensional Ruler after another as he spoke out the next few words slowly and clearly!

"Against such creatures...I know how to face them, and how to kill them."

...!!!

Chapter 1997 Cleansing! I

"Against such creatures...I know how to face them, and how to kill them."

...!

His image was unshakable as he was ingrained in the minds of all beings here.

He spoke such shocking words while his hands clasped the hilt of the Sword of Avalon, his body that was wrapped up in an Emperor's purple flaming robe shone with even more magnificence.

Above his head, his True display of authority of his crown and framework of a throne was hidden as multiple purple flaming crowns flickered in and out of Existence, his hair alone seeming like tendrils of pure Avalon Essence as his visage was magnetized to gaze at!

It was his Tri-Pupiled eyes that completed and drew the gazes of all beings here as after speaking such a statement, he once more went in another direction entirely.

"But before all that, we have to take care of some things here first."

SHIING!

The Sword of Avalon let out a deafening cry.

Noah's words came one after another as he didn't even give a chance for others to speak, the powerful Nature Integration experts not even having the moment to display their power or prowess as Noah used the eye-catching authority of the Sword of Avalon to keep the authorities of all others at bay!

At this juncture, his gaze turned towards Guinevere who stood calmly.

Her purple hair with streaks of light glistened with light while she was adorned in her pure white dress, the wings of purple essence of Avalon vibrating behind her giving her a distinct Halo of light that screamed of sacredness!

Towards such a being, Noah asked a question.

"To the one who has protected the Insula Avallonis this whole time...I ask you, what if the holder of the Sword of Avalon points his sword towards a target and marks them as an enemy?"

...!

A dazzling question with shocking implications.

And yet the answer came without a pause as the eyes of Guinevere retained their glacial coldness.

<Any target the Imperius Avallonis identifies as an enemy shall become the Enemy of the Avalon Dimension. I will be the first to move against such an enemy.>

WAA!

The capability to command the Avallonis Beasts...and even the unique existence that was the Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast to an extent!

Hearing the reply, Noah's face adopted a dazzling smile that held a hint of a chill and devilishness!

"Good...then, before I can aim my sword at the enemies outside of Avalon, I must aim at those among us as there are a few rats in our midst."

...!

BZZZT!

Essence crackled and froze soon after the raging wills and power of Dimensional Rulers rose.

The fluid rivers of essence in the skies above the lake and even the lake water itself froze as a terrifying atmosphere descended!

"What?!"

In the middle of such an atmosphere, the angry voice of one Dimensional Ruler rose.

It was Morgana.

"Enemies in our midst? The only ones here are the Dimensional Rulers of the 12 Domains of Avalon and their followers...could your words possibly be directed to any of them? Beings that have been protecting the Domains of Avalon for billions of years? The same Domains that you just now stepped into? What gives you the right!"

She had protected these lands all her life as all others were the same! Even if one were to put the worthiness of this being before her out of the question, how could he say any one of them were traitors?

"What gives me the right?"

HOONG!

Brilliant waves of authority bloomed from the Sword of Avalon as Noah's gaze turned stern and commanding.

Even though she was much stronger in power, Morgana found herself unconsciously not being able to walk any further as the aura of Absolute Avalon Authority began to shine on the Sword of Avalon!

With a stern gaze, Noah pulled the Sword out of Stone once more as he spoke domineeringly.

"This Sword gives me the damn right."

WAA!

The Sword of Avalon rose, as it shockingly began to point towards a direction.

A direction that would mean this Sword had designated a target that would become the enemy of the whole Dimension!

...!

Things changed so rapidly and quickly that the expressions of all Dimensional Rulers changed and became solemn.

They became solemn as even though this being before them had not reached their power, they could see pure Avalon Essence surging from the surroundings and flowing into the Sword, transforming into Absolute Avalon Authority only beings like them could freely utilize!

And it gathered such Authority in large concentrations as the holder of the Sword of Avalon spoke powerfully.

"Heed my first Imperius Command."

Imperius Command.

A single feature of the Sword of Avalon, and yet its grandeur was mighty.

<Imperius Command>:: A command that can designate an enemy of Avalon. It is a command that has to be followed by all Avallonis Beasts, and to some extent- Guinevere. If the designated Inimicus is in the Avalon Dimension, they shall face the direct suppression of the Decretum of Avalon as a fourth of their strength is suppressed. If the designated Inimicus is an Avalonian who has betrayed their Dimension, their strength will face a suppression of more than half as their mastery of the Decretum of Avalon begins to decline over time. All Avalonians who heed this command and follow the will of the Imperius Avallonis will gain the recognition of Avalon as their power will be augmented by 50%, their Understanding of the essence of Avalon experiencing a brief increase until the designated enemy has perished. If there are multiple enemies nearby, a single cast of this ability is enough to designate all of them. To cast this ability, 10 Units of the Avalon Absolute Authority, 1 Billion Units of the Essence of Avalon, and 500 Million Units of the Essence of Reality are required.

"There exist among us traitors that harbor ill intent towards the very Avalon Dimension. When this sword points to them...they shall be deemed as enemies and marked for death!"

WAA!

Chapter 1998 Cleansing! II

The Sword of Avalon shone with utmost luminescence as Noah raised it before anyone could even react.

Within this Sword, 100 Units of Absolute Avalon Authority were accumulated as Noah didn't know the correlation of these Units to the <Uses> of Absolute Dream Authority, but 10 such Units were utilized to designate nearby enemies of the Dimension!

The Sword of Avalon was raised as any direction it passed, the hearts of those facing it felt discernable palpitations.

It smoothly passed over the figures of Morgana and Guinevere as it pointed towards the skies and came to a stop in the direction of a Dimensional Ruler!

A Nature Integration existence that gazed forward incredulously as it was the massive purple-furred Lion with a mane that was made up of regal purple flames.

It was the Heliotrope Lion Emperor!

"You are an enemy of this Dimension."

WAA!

A point of light shone in the direction the Sword of Avalon was pointed in like the birth of a star, the illusory image of a massive purple blade descending from the skies and hanging over the figure of the Heliotrope Lion Emperor like a mark that would never leave!

At the same time, Absolute Avalon Authority surged maddeningly and with wrath as it mobilized the dense decretum of Avalon in the surroundings, the manifestations of purple shackles of Avalon surging from the surroundings and wrapping around the visage of this Nature Integration Realm existence as he was directly suppressed!

And during all this, the Imperius Avallonis continued as he pointed his sword to another two directions.

"And you....and you."

To a majestic Violaceous Reality Wolf whose very body burned with Seas of purple flames.

To a Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon whose scales glistened in the purple skies.

It was shockingly two more Dimensional Rulers!

Incredulously, the Sword of Avalon pointed to a total of three Dimensional Rulers!

Three Nature Integration Realm experts!

"You three had gone against the interests of Avalon and colluded with Rulers outside of this Dimension and have been marked as the Enemies of Avalon!"

Like a grand judge passing down a verdict, Noah spoke out while bringing the pointed Sword towards him, his hands still holding the hilt as this time- the sword was held pointing to the skies as it foretold combat!

<PREPOSTEROUS!>

BOOOM!

Terrifying auras bloomed at this moment as the Dimensional Rulers finally reacted.

Arthus, Morgana, the Amethyst Phoenix, and the other Rulers of the 12 Domains of Avalon gazed on with utter incredulity at this progression of events as the designation of three Dimensional Rulers as Enemies of Avalon wasn't what surprised them the most.

It was the fact that at this moment, the Suzerain Avallonis Beasts blazed with a maddeningly battle aura as they glared fearlessly at these Enemies of Avalon, and the white dressed figure of the Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast...transformed.

Guinevere transformed into her massive and radiant form of a Connate Avalonian Sacred Dragon Beast as from the skies, titanic and magisterial chains of manifested completed Natural Laws and the Decreta bloomed as a shockingly heavy and oppressive stance for battle was taken!

It meant the Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast had listened to the words of the Imperius Avallonis as she was ready to attack the ones he had deemed as enemies!

<Vile! I have served the Avalon Dimension for billions of years, with all of you being my brothers and sisters...how can this unknown being yake on the Sword of Avalon and make such a verdict?!>

The Heliotrope Lion Emperor raged out with wrath while feeling the shocking level of suppression, with titanic illusions of chains of Natural Laws and Decreta also blooming in the skies above him as his voice seemed filled with hurt.

But before the Violaceous Reality Wolf and the Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon could even lay out their words, a piercing Dragon's Cry that drowned out everything resounded- the mesmerizing voice of Guinevere ringing out at such a juncture.

<The Sword of Avalon can discern the allegiances of Avalonians towards the Avalon Dimension. If the Imperius Avallonis has pointed it towards someone and designated them as an enemy, then they are an enemy.>

WAA!

Her purple scales began to release a sea of flames as the shackles and tendrils of chains of Natural Laws and Decreta that she had integrated with entirely manifested above her head and moved at her will, surging towards the three designated enemies as she continued to speak!

<Follow the will of the Imperius Avallonis.>

...!

These words were directed to the figure of Morgana who was now a point of light beside her Dragon's Claw.

They were directed at Dimensional Ruler Arthus and all the others as their expressions turned solemn at this moment, looking at the people who could be considered their friends, brothers, and sisters as soon after...their bodies blazed with power!

The figure of Enchantress Morgana gazed on with a daze as she couldn't take her eyes off the being that had done all this.

A man she could break with a pinch of her fingers.

Yet now, his majesty was so astounding that a single action from him had mobilized one of the strongest existences within the Avalon Dimension!

And he mobilized her and others against those they had known all their lives!

With his hands clasped around the Sword of Avalon that shone with an astounding authority, his eyes released beams of purple light as his deep voice echoed out.

"Heliotrope Lion Emperor, Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon, and Violaceous Reality Wolf...the three of you have colluded with the Daughter of Hatred and thrown your allegiance towards her to enact her reign on the Avalon Dimension. You...have failed your duties as Rulers and Protectors of the 12 Domains."

...!

The Daughter of Hatred...

The moment Morgana heard these words, her Dual Pupils blazed with a sea of red.

They moved from the majesty of the Imperius Avallonis and to the three Dimensional Rulers whose Domains were actually the defensive lines against the Daughter of Hatred, where the forces of Apollyon and Avalon had been fighting in such domains for too many years!

If the words of this being and the will of Guinevere were to be followed- if this turn of events was actually true...

HUUM!

Essence crackled on Morgana's body as she grit her teeth.

Vortices appeared behind her as they formed into dazzling portals of light, terrifying Beasts hidden within as she was also another holder of the title of one of the strongest existences in the Avalon Dimension.

With a maddening aura leaking from her, she gazed at the Heliotrope Lion Emperor, Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon, and Violaceous Reality Wolf as she bellowed out with authority.

<Cooperate for now and do not fight back! We can prove your innocence so long as we can calm things down!>

She wanted to affirm the truth.

So she told her fellow Dimensional Rulers she had fought on the front lines with for years not to fight back.

The solemn and angry gazes of the three Dimensional Rulers became even darker after her words.

Their auras did not recede as instead, they blazed with even more power as they began to move back from the center of Insula Avallonis!

<Ah...> Morgana saw this scene as her heart ached, her eyes becoming filled with an unbelievable light of power as the vortices behind her spat out multiple Nature Integration Enchanted Beasts!

Chapter 1999 You! I

Insula Avallonis instantly turned into a field of battle that only the most powerful existences could move around in!

In the midst of all this, the one to spur everything gazed on calmly.

The weaving of time was unique around him as even though everything was moving in its own time, his own perception could be altered in a way that he could compute his thoughts and think for what seemed like days in the span of an instant!

At this moment, in the instant after Morgana erupted angrily and released multiple Nature Integration Enchanted Beasts, Noah's thoughts expanded this frame of time.

Especially so with the unique laws of his Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality with the 20,000:1 time ratio as Noah's main body took on this task of expanding an instant into a wide expanse of time!

He needed this expanse of time to make fundamental changes before events proceeded any further...that is if he wanted to make the greatest gains.

"Lavalliere."

He only called out lightly.

He didn't ask her to explain her identity or who she was from the Dream Dimension.

He didn't ask her how exactly her soul had become bound and shackled into a type of Connate Dimensional Relic...he would allow her to do this whenever the time came as he only discussed with her like always.

"There lie many possibilities in the next few moments, and since the process has begun- let us expedite it."

WAA!

His visage was surrounded by waves of fantastical light as the Essence of Decreta and Natural Laws flowed into him- branding themselves onto his very concepts as this was exactly what he expanded time to complete!

His thoughts were swift.

"Utilize Absolute Dream Authority to complete the changes into HERESY and DHARMA for the Edicts of the Resplendent Treasure Emperor, Dictum Emperor, Sanguine Emperor, Tyrannical Emperor, Antideluvian..."

A slew of concepts released from him as Lavalliere buzzed with activity!

<...these will take many Uses. They'll need some of the remaining Grotto Panaceas.>

"Take what you must."

WAA!

Noah was decisive as the choice was made.

The number of resources he would need were simply astronomical from the Fourth Dimensional Layer and forward.

This was why his focus instantly locked onto the Resplendent Treasure Emperor that made Grotto Panaceas possible! If they could make such a wonder a reality, then it was this concept that would shed light and allow Noah to proceed with his Dimensional Layers.

It was this concept he needed to elevate the most before he began massacring Grotto Havens and possibly...just possibly Nature Integration Realm existences!

<Beginning with the Resplendent Treasure Emperor.>

HUUM!

Lavalliere ascertained Noah's wishes as she swallowed Loot in exchange for authority, her shackles loosening ever more as Absolute Dream Authority surged out in the form of Uses to achieve a reality-altering effect of hastening the slow process of turning a concept into the Tier of HERESY.

The focus was on the glorious Resplendent Treasure Emperor as this concept had gained the designation of The Decretum of Dreams.

All for the purpose of incorporating the wonders of making one's dreams into a reality!

SHIING!

Golden Essence burst open like a flood as Noah's already gold, green, and purple colored stellar visage became even more vibrant.

Prompts of wonder followed soon after.

<The Resplendent Treasure Emperor has broken past great limitations and achieved HERESY. Entering the stage of HERESY with a highly compatible Decretum of Dreams has caused the standing of this concept to stand out even more, its abilities greatly enhanced as the boosts most pertinent will be displayed below.>

...!

Noah closed his eyes to enjoy this feeling- tracing a concept branded onto his soul that had helped him get to where he was today as he gazed upon its changes!

<Absolute Looter has integrated Loot Multiplier and unlocked a multiplier of Absolute Loot Authority that far exceeds previous percentages of Increased Loot Quantity and Quality. This authority is closely intertwined with Dream essence as it works to turn your dreams into Reality, granting you the exact loot that you need from your enemies. Quality and quantity will flow in overabundance as a heretical path of loot opens. The greater the understanding of the branded Decretum of Dreams, the greater the Absolute Loot Authority. Current Absolute Loot Authority Value-10...>

<12 Chances to utilize Quintessential Treasure Cache have been fully replenished, with possible Loot coming in the form of Bloodlines, Techniques, Physique Refinement Modus Operandi, Skills, Relics, and even knowledge of the past Ages.>

<Randomized Loot Crates now contain guaranteed loot from normal Resplendent Treasure Caches that had been opened before by the Quintessential Kainos Emperor.>

<The VENERABLE Bloodline of the Haven Eclipsing Destiny Stone has been attained.>

A rush of prompts quickly cascaded down as Noah took in everything.

Out of all of it, the most renowned wonder was Absolute Loot Authority.

Capable of granting him the loot that he needed most!

With an unquantified elevation of Increased Loot Quantity and Quality, what he received from Ultima Strata LEGENDs would be vastly different from before! And what he would obtain from Suzerains...it should be enough to scale the ridiculous costs of his future Dimensional Layers!

<Continuing with the Dictum Emperor.>

Lavalliere spoke calmly as she continued her task, but a trace of hidden emotions could be felt within her voice as her will was also gazing upon the actions and field of battle Noah was currently in.

A field of battle that involved Nature Integration existences!

A field of battle that she would have been in...in the past.

He was navigating such a nexus event while calmly continuing to converse with her and planning ahead for many unknown possibilities!

This caused a string of thoughts to cross Lavalliere's mind as she utilized Absolute Dream Authority.

Were all those with Undefined Life Lines like this?

Was the designation of an Irregular...make this being before her capable of the same things as the Emyral Deceiver?!

A passing thought.

A mere thought among many as after Noah attained what he wished for and observed Lavalliere finishing the elevation to DHARMA or HERESY for the rest of the Edicts, his expanded time within an instant came to an end.

The motions of Insula Avallonis flowed on as three Dimensional Rulers were seen retreating, chains of integrated Natural Laws and Decreta erupting all around as a distinct light of purple that wasn't Avalon shot out from the majestic visage of Guinevere.

It was the fully integrated Natural Law of Gravitation as at this moment, a terrifying attractive force surged out to such everything back where it was!

A force that would no doubt cut off any chances of escape for the Three Dimensional Rulers as it seemed to hang over them like an unshakable force!

That is...until something rather drastic occurred.

Until a new factor was put into play!

Chapter 2000 You! II

The changes first occurred on the Heliotrope Lion Emperor as while clamped down by the terrifying power of Guinevere and multiple Nature Integration Realm experts coming on all sides, they had to make drastic moves.

So his body was the first to leak out a crimson light of destruction as the Essence of Apollyon erupted out to destroy everything.

But this wasn't all...the pristinely purple body of the Heliotrope Lion Emperor began to surge with crimson fur as he underwent a ritual that had been proposed to him a long time ago!

A ritual...that granted authority and paved open a pathway for a single existence.

A ritual that after the Heliotrope Lion Emperor, the Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon and the Violaceous Reality Wolf carried out soon after while gritting their jaws as an essence of Cataclysm and brutality spread out its Absolute Authority!

And with it...came a laugh.

<Haha, unbelievable...You!>

A piercing and mesmerizing laugh that would entice any bring echoed out.

The gazes of many changed, including Noah's eyes flashing with light as while he expected an interruption, he didn't expect to see the blooming point of light that showed the visage of a woman he would never forget!

In the skies behind the three traitorous Dimensional Rulers, a fantastical amalgamation of Absolute Apollyon and Avalon Authority gathered and bloomed into the form of a terrifying and curvaceous demoness.

Her devilish horns rose through the skies as her butterfly-like wings held an enticing light that even Suzerains could be lost in, these unique wings having inscriptions of demonic eyes that caused the surroundings to fluctuate!

A tight crimson battledress wrapped around her titanic humanoid demonic figure as it was more massive than even the form of the expanded Guinevere.

Her body reeked and clashed with authority and power as the moment Guinevere's attractive force of Gravitational light was about to wrap everything, an oppressive Law of destruction and chaos bloomed out to erase everything!

Its essence was deadly and yet beautiful as Noah's eyes quickly identified it.

The Fundamental Natural Law of Entropy.

The law carrying everything towards a hastening Cataclysm!

But as Noah focused his eyes on this essence and the figure that emanated it, she also focused her eyes on him as even in such a situation, a devilish smile could be seen on her face as if the cards she had hidden for Millions of years had not just been revealed.

The Daughter of Hatred actually seemed most excited as she tugged on the figures of the three traitorous Dimensional Rulers while locking her predator-like eyes on none other than Noah.

<My gosh...it really is you. How the hell did you jump from a Grotto Sanctum with laughable power to now wielding the Sword of Avalon in mere days? Just...how enticing are you going to be?!>

WAAa

Her devilish eyes shine with power and malice as even in her speech, she accomplished many things as she secured her forces.

Guinevere did not pursue as her glorious scaly visage came to circle behind Noah, her power covering the surrounding area as her glacial eyes turned even colder!

Lilith.

One of the few Dimensional Hellion Rulers across Dimensions.

One of the existences who had mastered the most Decreta and Natural Laws of Reality!

She was devilishly powerful as this power had kept her influence active in the Avalon Dimension all these years!

A move of her hands could cause many things as Guinevere moved to secure the still weak Imperius Avallonis that she showed great interest in.

Noah's gaze was sharp as he saw whatever the three Avalonian Dimensional Rulers beside Lilith were doing, it was greatly elevating her authority as she seemed to be eating up theirs and adding it to herself!

So he took a page out of her own book and simply acted.

Against an existence feared across Dimensions, he raised the Sword of Avalon and pointed towards her.

<Imperius Command.>

WAA!

Within the Sword of Avalon, the regenerated 10 Units of Absolute Avalon Authority were burned yet again along with millions of Units of the Essence of Reality and Avalon Essence!

"The mastermind of the Enemies of Avalon is even more of an enemy."

His voice was deep and carrying powerful weight as it resounded out, the illusory image of a purple Sword appearing above Lilith as she was marked as well!

Tendrils and chains of Avalon surged from the surroundings and churned towards her as her smiling expression faded.

Utter calmness and coldness pervaded within them as she shockingly didn't push away the coming chains, allowing them to come close as she used her fair fingers to even caress the oppressive chains that should be reducing her battle prowess!

Her cold expression matched if not exceeded Guinevere in the inhumane beauty as she uttered out serenely.

<I'm hurt by such a cold reception when the last time we met...you took my Heart of Destiny.>

...!

Incomprehensible and shocking words for the Avalonian Dimensional Rulers to hear emanated from her as Guinevere's eyes flashed powerfully, Morgana's enraged figure surrounded by powerful Nature Integration Enchanted Beasts gazed between Lilith and Noah coldly!

Hearing about the Heart of Destiny, the Avalonian Dimensional Rulers couldn't help but gaze at Noah with more attention as the Sword within his hands continued to release a vibrant luster, the Dimensional Deceiver only causing changes of emotions in others as he remained the same.

He had not wanted to catch her attention before, but now...

<Hmm...> Lilith's piercing eyes seemingly saw his combative and unyielding gaze as the tendrils and chains of oppressive might from <Imperius Command> twirled in her fingers, her body releasing a glimmer of light as she instantly crushed the chains in her hands and those wrapping around her!

At the same time, the purple skies behind her wings split open as a massive rift formed, hellish pillars of Magma filled with light shooting to the skies as they displayed none other than the Apollyon Dimension!

Faced with the newly risen Sword of Avalon and all of the Dimensional Rulers of this Dimension, the Daughter of Hatred chose to retreat at this juncture as she didn't have her true body here.

Her eyes were sharp and piercing as she pulled upon the three Traitorous Dimensional Rulers, her mesmerizing words ringing out as she dug out memories of many dead Primordials.

<Alexander King...was it? Come to me when you have the time. Our aims might not differ as we may even be seeking the same thing.>

An enticing power was laced within her words as Guinevere's figure shone even brighter behind Noah, the Daughter of Hatred seeking to make a grand exit just as she had entered!

But...the Imperius Avallonis would not let things unfold and end just like that.

Loot could not escape by his hands so easily when he had just elevated the Resplendent Treasure Emperor to HERESY!

He knew he may not be able to touch Lilith, but the Traitorous Dimensional Rulers trying to leave with her...they had to stay.

"I...never said you could leave."

WAA!

Tyranny and majesty overflowed from his figure as he spoke in such a way while surrounded by extremely powerful existences!

The Sword of Avalon released a blinding light.

Another ability from it was called upon as the whole Insula Avallonis began to tremble!
