Chapter 2001 At Least One! I

The Sword of Avalon was a stupendous treasure that even Nature Integration experts could not wield for all this time.

Its base capabilities and boosts were maddening enough, but its features were even more so!

To prevent the Daughter of Hatred from making a quick return to the Apollyon Dimension, Noah called out powerfully.

"Valor of Avalon."

...!

The Sword of Avalon released a blinding light that bathed over Guinevere, Morgana...all the Avalonians around Noah!

The Valor of Avalon.

It was an apt name for a terrifying skill that would express the valor of the beings of this Dimension!

<Valor of Avalon>: The progeny of Avalon were the subject of protection during the conception of the Sword of Avalon. This ability activates the Bloodline of all nearby Avalonians apart from the Imperius Avallonis to accept the source of the Sword of Avalon and burn with wisps of Absolute Avalon Authority constantly for the next hour, entering a state of Valor Empowerment that boosts their Essence Reserves, True Vitality Values, True Damage Values, and True Defense Values by 1,000%. Their usage of the Decretum of Avalon also becomes extremely efficient as all abilities cast with the inclusion of its essence will have their required resource halved. Lastly, all those blessed by the Valor of Avalon receive the reality-altering effects of [Unyielding Valor] that triggers the moment their True Vitality Values drop below 30%, instantly replenishing their True Vitality Values by 200%. To cast this ability, 50 Units of the Avalon Absolute Authority, 10 Billion Units of the Essence of Avalon, and 1 Billion Units of the Essence of Reality are required. The cool down before the ability can be utilized again is 1 day...

An ability that truly showed the Sword of Avalon was meant for Avalonians!

An ability that by all means was not directed towards Noah.

It even specified so, as Noah would truly love to have the boosts brought forth by such a ridiculous feature- but it was meant to be a buff from the Sword of Avalon to all Avalonians but its holder! This seemed to be a sense of sacrifice to make such ridiculous reality-altering effects possible, as <Valor of Avalon> effectively granted the percentage boosts of basically a Fundamental Natural Law or Decretum of a Dimension!

It then greatly strengthened Avalonians to a maddening extent as when cast and Noah paid the ridiculous resource costs...

Grandeur bloomed in the skies as the Sword of Avalon expanded with an illusory light that seemingly scattered and shot into the figures of every single Avalonian nearby.

Into the majestic visage of Guinevere whose will wrapped around Noah while she tried to understand him subtly, her voice echoing out in his mind.

<For you to utilize this now, what is it that you seek? Us fighting the Daughter of Hatred to death would mean great losses as our main enemies would only benefit.>

The Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast was feeling a ridiculous surge of her power as she asked serenely.

Bathed on a magisterial purple light, Noah felt his nearly empty reserves of the Essence of Reality that were rapidly regenerating as he breathed in the air of the terrifying authority he wielded and replied.

"At least one."

WAA!

"I need at least one traitor left behind and contained, and alive at that."

...!

His intention was made clear as the glacial Tri-Pupiled eyes of this Connate Avalonian Sacred Dragon Beast flashed, and with the boost of Valor of Avalon- she surged towards Lilith who was continuing to pull the Traitorous Dimensional Rulers away with her eyes changing ever so subtly!

On the side, Morgana also felt the surge of strength and empowerment on her and her Enchanted Nature Integration Beasts as she gazed towards Noah's figure with frustration, shaking her head soon after as her Beasts moved forward!

The means of fighting for Nature Integration experts could barely be discerned and understood by those at the lower level.

This was because in the skies, there were constantly surging tendrils and chains of completely understood Decrata and Natural Laws surging and fighting for supremacy to carve out the Domains of these experts that they controlled.

Those lesser in power...might not even be able to perceive the tendrils of Absolute Authorities as they might just think it was the skies pressing down!

At this moment, after attaining such a ridiculous boost...Guinevere was at the forefront as she managed to intrude into the domain of Absolute Authorities that Lilith had set out.

This wasn't even the main body of the Daughter of Hatred as or couldn't display her full power- so being able to hold her down would not be an impossible task for the Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast!

While she did this...

<Morgana, swarm and cut off all routes of retreat of at least one of the Traitorous Dimensional Rulers.>

Her voice entered Morgana's mind as the Enchantress moved without delay.

She gazed at the Traitorous Dimensional Rulers that were also fighting and holding back Dimensional Ruler Arthur and others as she locked onto a particular one.

Her eyes burned with anger as she could have chosen any of the three to have her Nature Integration Enchanted Beasts swarm, but she focused on one in particular.

<Stay the fuck behind.>

Towards traitors, she had no sympathy.

Towards one of them- towards the Heliotrope Lion Emperor...she said fuck you in particular!

So she moved while not knowing it was directly the command of the Imperius Avallonis!

OOOOOH!

At the same time, the skies of the Insula Avallonis lit up brightly as above it, the astounding illusory visage of a Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast flashed as it seemed to be constructed by multiple Natural Laws and Decreta!

It was titanic and terrifying in size as it seemed even larger than the whole vast stretches of Insula Avallonis.

It gazed at everything with coldness and apathy as it opened its jaws, beginning to release a sea of tendrils of Absolute Authorities that seemed capable of swallowing everything.

It was a terrifying ultimate move that caused the Daughter of Hatred to smack her lips in dissatisfaction, a massive figure of a Demoness also beginning to rise from the earth of the Insula Avallonis as a deafening explosion resounded soon after!

HOOONG!

Chapter 2002 At Least One! II

The souls of even Suzerains felt pained and hurt by the pressure and prowess of Nature Integration existences, their clashes affecting the very structure of Reality as none even knew what the results of the clash were until the blinding light dispersed.

ROAAR!

A draconic roar rang out as Gravitation erupted to instantly wipe everything away, the scene becoming clear as the figure of the Daughter of Hatred could be seen thrown further into the rift leading to Apollyon, her mighty Will only being able to control her Absolute Authorities to wrap around and bring two Traitorous Dimensional Rulers with her deeper into the Rift!

For one Traitorous Dimensional Ruler, for the Heliotrope Lion Emperor...his visage was roaring out while surrounded by 8 Nature Integration Realm Enchanted Beasts as the region he was in was pristinely purple.

It was still in the Avalon Dimension as with the Daughter of Hatred being pushed back by the authority of Guinevere...he would not be able to leave!

HUUM!

And Dimensional Ruler Arthus and the others appeared as they came to stand in a line before the rift to the Apollyon Dimension and the decimated Groves and thickets of stellar trees of Insula Avallonis behind them, further isolating the Heliotrope Lion Emperor as all their domains would have to be bypassed to reach him!

<...>

The gaze of Lilith was cold at this as her enchanting demonic figure swayed with magnetizing radiance.

A rift separated the two forces as they stared at each other from two different Dimensions!

The one to cause all this gazed at the scene with calmness as he saw the roaring Heliotrope Lion Emperor enclosed on all sides and bound down by Natural Laws and Decreta, but he didn't make a move.

Even if he did, it wouldn't matter!

There was a reason why he asked Guinevere to keep behind at least one Nature Integration Traitorous Dimensional Ruler in the midst of all this.

One...could not kill a Nature Integration expert without having achieved 100% in at least a Natural Law or Decretum.

Such beings were that pristine.

So even if they were heavily injured, an elevated authority wrapped around their Aspects of Existence that were integrated with the fabric of Reality as to bypass them and grant such beings true death, the prerequisite was at least 100% Understanding in a Natural Law or Decretum of a Dimension!

<You've taken something from me yet again.>

WAA!

On the other side of the Rift, the Daughter of Hatred spoke out calmly as her voice carried enticing waves that Guinevere rebuffed once more, her glacial eyes Cole as they never once left Lilith's figure.

Uniquely, Lilith only paid attention to her with her will as her eyes were mainly focused on Noah!

Noah who at this moment brought the Sword of Avalon upwards and swung diagonally while staring at the figures of Lilith and two maddened Traitorous Dimensional Rulers already within the lands of the Apollyon Dimension.

"Now...you are allowed to leave."

SHIING!

The incandescent purple Sword of Avalon swung diagonally with majesty.

Its authority over the Decretum of Avalon was just enough that towards the Rift that was already closing through Lilith's intention- it was able to hasten this process and cause the rift to fade away even faster until only a thin slit remained!

Every move of his carried majesty as at such a juncture, the Avallonis Beasts around Insula Avallonis couldn't help but roar and cry out!

"Imperius Avallonis!"

"IMPERIUS AVALLONIS!"

The Emperor of Avalon!

Reverberations of authority and wonder surged out with fervor atop an incandescent idyllic landmass.

Below it, waterfalls of purple essence became even more radiant as brilliance began to emanate from this location while spreading out far and wide!

The visage of Lilith watched the closing rift as at the end, her eyes locked onto the resplendent Tri-Pupils of the Irregular she did not reveal the identity of.

After all, this was something for her to play with.

<Fuck!>

Beside her, the Violaceous Reality Wolf bellowed out wrathfully as they had faced a tremendous setback this time around.

They had lost their Domains and millions of years of planning...all because a single being had appeared, pulled the Sword from Stone, and carried out such drastic acts!

Lilith smiled as she tuned out the curses and bellows of the two Dimensional Rulers near her as she thought about the Irregular.

This was the second time she had met him.

And she had once more faced a loss this time as well.

She...was not used to such a feeling!

She had only experienced this sensation when facing another man a long time ago.

A man that had long been forced out of the Desolate Mausoleum as Lilith expected to come across him again when she achieved her own goals.

Her enchanting smile became even more radiant as she never expected an existence like him to appear and shine with such brilliance!

<And is he like him...or capable of exceeding him?>

She voiced out loud as the two wrathful Traitorous Dimensional Rulers turned towards her at this moment.

Their hearts were full of anger, but they weren't clouded enough to direct any of this towards the Daughter of Hatred as the Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon contained its fumes of anger and asked lightly.

<What now?>

<Hmm?>

As if in a broken trance, Lilith raised her eyes and gazed at the two Traitorous Dimensional Rulers apathetically.

After losing their standing and positions in the Avalon Dimension, their worth had gone down a lot in her eyes as they could only fill the gaps of the Nature Integration Realm existences she controlled beneath her now!

So she voiced coldly and with authority for them to understand their new dynamic.

<You two shall be deployed to the Niflheim Dimension to tip the scales of power and grant my body there full ownership of that Anchor. Be mindful of any movements of the Abominations released by Primordials.>

WAA!

Her eyes gazed upon things too far away for others to even comprehend, moving powerful existences as if they were mere pieces atop a chess board as her thoughts were too abstruse to even understand!

Chapter 2003 Those With Power I

In a domain within the Apollyon Dimension.

The visage of the mesmerizing Lilith floated grandly as the Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon and the Violaceous Reality Wolf stood before her, the grandeur of these Nature Integration existences being nothing before her as she spoke out while a crimson gateway formed before her.

<Go through and be ready to set off. I don't want any more setbacks after this.>

She let her will be known as the two Nature Integration existences nodded with cold eyes, their figures turning into streaks of light and disappearing into the crimson gateway as they would soon join the ranks of Lilith's forces in the Niflheim Dimension.

As the plans of one dimension faded, she would turn the loss into attaining victory for another Dimension entirely!

This was how the Dimensional Deceiver moved as after all this, she remained floating in the skies with a thoughtful expression.

Her demonic eyes were serene and filled with power as they gazed at the expanse of crimson around her as she spoke out.

<It seems like I must pay them a visit. The eggshells we have been walking on seem to slowly be crumbling down...>

She spoke with a hint of mystery and amusement as her fair crimson-tainted hands pointed to the skies, a radiant mirror shard a tenth her size appearing before her while her own body began to vibrate with the Essence of Natural Laws.

Waves of these essences surged as they actually amalgamated to form a thin outline of a figure that mimicked Lilith- this figure coming to stand before the Mirror share as a unique authority was activated!

HUUM!

Spatial Noland mirror essence fluctuated as it covered the Clone of Lilith- a Clone that was not even a wisp of a soul.

It was a mere fragment of thought built by the Essence of Natural Laws of Reality as it held no power whatsoever, and it could be eradicated with even a simple tap of one's finger!

This Fragment of a Thought flashed as it was covered by a unique spatial mirror-like light from the large mirror fragment before Lilith as within a few seconds, it disappeared.

Across the boundaries of space and time.

Within the Main Reality of the Desolate Mausoleum.

Inside a constantly changing stellar space filled with rivers of the Essence of Natural Laws and Decretum of Dimensions, a Heart could be seen releasing a radiant light while atop a grandiose pedestal that was surrounded by 12 majestic flaming thrones!

At this moment, one of the thrones shone brighter as before it, a large mirror shard appeared as it was flashing with a constant silver light.

This scene was observed by the many powerful wills on the 12 thrones as a sultry voice stemmed from one of them soon after.

"She seems to have caught on quickly, let's see what she has to say."

The voice wasn't laced with authority as these beings didn't need to do this before each other, an agreement passing through all of them as the stellar scenery around them instantly changed.

The Heart and Pedestal faded as the light around the thrones blazed even higher, seeming like radiant suns as they caused the black stellar space to instantly fade and for everything to turn white!

At such a juncture, essence flowed into the flashing mirror shard as it reflected out a dazzling image.

It was none other than the visage of a beautiful demoness who could topple empires and entire Lineages as the Fragment of Thought that made Lilith actually appeared before the wills of the Tribunal!

A Dimensional Hellion Ruler...and the Tribunal!

Lilith's visage was tantalizing as her Fragment of Thought turned and gazed at all 12 blazing thrones, eventually coming to a stop on one in particular as a laugh actually came from this throne- and this time it was filled with authority.

<You identified the position of my will yet again, O Dimensional Deceiver.>

The voice was laid back as a devilish smile bloomed on Lilith's face while she replied.

<I have good eyes for this, Little Althea. Eyes that have also allowed me to see that you all are breaking your end of the bargain. A Dimensional Inimicus rising from the Desolate Mausoleum? You sending your forces- nay...your Abominations to the Dream Dimension...all of this is exceeding the bargain we made all those years ago.>

WAA!

Her voice seemed to contain anger and ridicule as she even placed the word <Little> before the name of a Nature Integration Realm member of the Tribunal!

And it was one of the more powerful members at that as the one known as Althea replied back with the same anger and coldness.

<We are breaking our end of the bargain? Who was it that tried to eradicate a portion of our Geniuses in a Grotto Sanctum? And the few forces we stationed in the 9 Anchors all of a sudden faced attacks on all sides...I would be a fool not to suspect you to be behind this.>

...!

The figures of those within the thrones couldn't be seen, but one could almost feel the sharp eyes of Althea as she said these words!

The devilish smile on Lilith became even wider as she thought of her movements recently.

She had spurned the forces under the Heliotrope Lion Emperor, Magenta Abyss Sea Dragon, and the Violaceous Reality Wolf to nearly eradicate all Primordial Strongholds in the Avalon Dimension, and she was doing the same in the Niflheim Dimension and all others as the Hearts of Karma and Fortune had given her an indication of a coming change- causing her to move just a little bit faster!

Of course, none of this had to be said as her devilish smile still contained a sense of anger while she replied.

<With my power, do you really think your Geniuses would have escaped alive if I didn't let them? Do you really believe the story that a youngling from your side was actually able to eradicate even a single minor will of mine? I kept up the facade and acted defeated while letting all of them leave...so do not use this as the reason for you breaking promises once more!>

WAA!

Chapter 2004 Those With Power II

<Your Primordials are particularly good at not keeping your words...just like your founder.>

...!

Lilith's Fragment of Thought moved from the Mirror fragment as she floated towards the blazing throne of Althea in this stellar white space.

<Years ago, I approached you as we came to an agreement that in this Age...my forces would not come to clash with you all on the fight for the True Throne as your forces would not delve too deep into the

Dimensions, while I wouldn't spur my forces to raze down your Realities. So...what are these Abominations you are releasing now? What has caused you all to grow so bold at this point in time?>

...!

Shocking truths mixed with lies were released as they fantastically shed some light on the true workings of Reality that those with power had forged in the past Age!

As the Age of Destiny ended along with the Olden Era, the Primordials had actually come to an agreement with one of the most powerful Rulers of the 9 Anchors as this had ushered in an Era of relative peace!

With the string restrictions of the 9 Dimensions, no high costs were paid to have their forces enter a prolonged war with the Infinite Realities. And even with their victory in the last Age, the Primordials only attained Strongholds in the 9 Dimension as they didn't venture too deep in.

Their Lineages even mixed as existences like Katelyn and Lancelot rose!

Now, during the ushering of the Age of Quintessence, things were rapidly changing as allegiances and agreements made a long time ago were falling apart.

The Fragment of Thought of Lilith gazed calmly at the blazing throne before her as she continued slowly.

<Is it your Master? Did he send these Abominations to you and granted you all so much more courage? His schemes for these lands are still not done even when he is so far away?>

...!

The blank space had been silent with the voice of Lilith echoing out as at this moment, this changed.

<I tire of this.>

HUUM!

A deep and collected voice.

A voice full of power and reality that stemmed from another throne.

<It does not seem like you can provide us with anything crucial anymore, so there is no need for any pretenses. This will be the last you will even be able to communicate with us.>

The voice boomed out with great authority as tendrils of Manadynamics and Entropy surged vibrantly with it!

Lilith instantly placed who it stemmed from as her smile became even more devilish.

<The Eminent Mastermind, Noah...even a boorish fellow like you is still acting like a dog? Do you not have your own aspirations? Do you wish to attain the Seat of the True Emperor yourself? Will you be fighting with the rest of the Tribunal when the time comes, or have you all decided the one you will follow and lick the feet of?>

Her words were vile as their effects were obvious, but the beings she prompted were unmoved.

The words of the Eminent Mastermind only came out again as the stellar blank of white space began to tremble.

<Prepare yourself. Remember your title as a Daughter of Hatred and what the Great Commander did to your father all those years ago. Be ready for what is to come as on the path to the Seat of the True Emperor...the most powerful beings are the ones to perish first.>

HOOONG!

The buzzing became even more vibrant as the Fragment of Thought that was made from the Essence of Natural Laws began to crumble!

<Haha! >

The devilish laugh of Lilith echoed out in the stellar space as she gazed at all the thrones while her Thought was fading away.

<Then I shall take this as a Declaration of War and see you all on the battlefield.>

A glimmer of shining light shone as waves of destiny erupted, the Fragment of Thought disappearing entirely as the Mirror fragment it stemmed from was also shattered!

At the other end of this mirror, the same thing occurred as while surrounded by pillars of flaming magma, the eyes of Lilith released a demonic light as the Fundamental Natural Law of Providence instantly burst out with fervor around her.

Those who intricately made moves and influenced the Destiny, Fate, Karma, and Fortune of the Desolate Mausoleum and the 9 Dimensions would find it much easier and attain even more authority over Providence in time.

She had been feeling this intricately as at the same time, a destructive Fundamental Natural Law also erupted out as she twirled its essence that even overwhelmed Providence and Manadynamics while voicing out.

<Let Entropy become even more chaotic then...let us advance things just a little more...>

She calculated too many thoughts and possibilities as her eyes reflected countless paths, another being trying to do the same in a Dimension she had just been forced out of!

At the center of Insula Avallonis.

Noah gazed at the majestic visage of the purple-furred Heliotrope Lion Emperor whose unblemished figure now had grotesque injuries that were bound up by chains of the Natural Law of Gravitation and Manadynamics 5 Nature Integration Realm Enchanted Beasts also surrounding it on all sides and pressing down on such an existence as he couldn't move even a single cell!

The tendrils and chains of Natural Laws didn't just bind his body, his very Aspects of Existence also being bound by Avalon and the shackles of Natural Laws under the authority of Guinevere and Morgana.

Their wills and the eyes of Dimensional Ruler Arthus and others like him gazed on with complex emotions as one of them even stepped out at this juncture and walked towards the Heliotrope Lion Emperor whose eyes looked nowhere but down.

<Emerillon...I cannot begin to fathom why.>

An aged figure put away a dazzling long staff as he signed and sat down beside the Heliotrope Lion Emperor- Emerillon, as the hooded robe he had on was brought down.

Two chalices appeared on the lilac grasses stained with purple-gold blood as a pristine liquid filled them, this aged figure that was known as the Wizard of Avalon- Merlin, releasing a sad sigh as he drank!

Beings who had lived as long as them were close to very few, so the recent course of events hit the Dimensional Rulers of Avalon hard as Morgana's figure was still fuming not far away.

<Why can I not have my Beasts rip apart this wretched Traitor right now?!>

She gazed towards Guinevere as she spoke, the Connate Avalonian Sacred Beast saying nothing as she gazed towards the man that floated off the stone while carrying the Sword of Avalon on his shoulders- his grace and valiance unmatched even now.

"Because the Sword of Avalon shall be what decimates his Aspects of Existence soon. Before that, I shall scour the Avalon Dimension for any remaining Avalonians that have turned their backs on this Dimension. Thereafter...those willing shall follow me to the Dream Dimension to stop the advancement of the Abominations before they can reign over that Dimension and begin to spread the influence of Primordials further. There is much to be done."

WAA!

Chapter 2005 ZENITH! I

"...There is much to be done."

Noah spoke nonchalantly as even in this touching moment of betrayal and emotions among Nature Integration Realm existences, he floated past them while only seeing the Heliotrope Lion Emperor who couldn't even raise his head as nothing but a source of loot!

A source of loot he could only attain after achieving 100% Understanding in a Decretum, with Avalon being the closest one as while grasping this Sword in his hands, he could feel the percentages rising ever so slowly.

It may only take a day or two paired up with the percentages that his Reality Passages could provide, but it was achievable.

For now...he would seek the Suzerains under the three Traitorous Dimensional Rulers as if any of them granted him the reason to be deemed the Enemies of Avalon, they could only lay beneath his feet as loot- the workings of the HERESY Tier Resplendent Treasure Emperor finally being put into play!

Noah's attention went past the Heliotrope Lion Emperor as he flew at the edges of Insula Avallonis, the Beasts that had paid respect to him rising at the same time as the first one Noah came across came forward the closest.

"Emperor."

The Avallonis Charybdis bowed its massive body while offering a position on its head, Noah going to land on this Suzerain Beast with some thought as his right hand hoisted the Sword of Avalon on his shoulder-taking a seat above the head of this Grotto Haven existence as he patted its head and spoke out!

"Let's go."

WAA!

A wave of purple rose with his words as a variety of shocking powerful Avallonis Beasts moved with him, his visage flying out towards the Domains of the three Traitorous Dimensional Rulers to seek viable loot as he left behind the powerhouses of the Avalon Dimension without another word! He would give them time as even though he couldn't command them right now, having Guinevere follow his words somewhat meant it was only a matter of time.

So like a true Emperor of Avalon, a sea of powerful Beasts accompanied him as he moved!

Radiance.

This was the only word that could be said for the situation around Noah's Main Body while his Dimensional Bodies conducted their movements.

He always had a unique stellar glow, but he was recently gaining an even more radiant feel as the cause of it now stemmed from his very Lineage and Soul!

Soul as it was due to the branded Concepts within being elevated, Lineage because as these concepts changed, they further tipped the power and rank of his main Lineage greatly.

<The Dictum Emperor has broken past great limitations and achieved DHARMA. Entering the stage of DHARMA with a moderately compatible Natural Law of Polarity has caused the standing of this concept to stand out slightly.>

After the Resplendent Treasure Emperor, the Dictum Emperor followed as it was among the reasons for the shocking radiance around his body!

But more concepts had also taken a step forward as they caused an Absolute limit to be breached!

<The Tyrannical Emperor has broken past great limitations and achieved DHARMA. Entering the stage of DHARMA with a highly compatible Natural Law of Manodynamics has caused the standing of this concept to stand out even more, and its abilities greatly enhanced... >

<The Sanguine Emperor has broken past great limitations and achieved HERESY. Entering the stage of HERESY with a highly compatible Decretum of Prana has caused the standing of this concept to stand out even more, and its abilities greatly enhanced...>

<The Antediluvian has broken past great limitations and achieved HERESY. Entering the stage of HERESY with a highly compatible Decretum of Prana has caused the standing of this concept to stand out even more, its abilities greatly enhanced...>

An influx of information came along with wondrously blooming changes, Noah holding off the Bundles of prompts to focus on a single one that was causing the greatest change within him!

From the Dictum Emperor and Antediluvian...

<The VENERABLE Bloodline of the Golden Lemegeton has been attained.>

<The VENERABLE Bloodline of the Sapling of Reality has been attained.>

And from the Sanguine Emperor where Noah's uniqueness with Ascendancy Halos, Blood, and even where the Quintessential Kainos Emperor stemmed from...

<Your Lineage is beginning to transform.>

His main Lineage took a step forward.

Noah's Lineage of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor that had been assimilating all Bloodlines this whole time.

It had remained at VENERABLE and was undergoing the process of elevating to the next stage even as it devoured the VENERABLE Bloodline of the Haven Eclipsing Destiny Stone, Preponderant Irminsul...and the myriad of other Bloodlines Noah attained!

With all these factors and the newly elevated HERESY and DHARMA Tier Edicts granting more VENERABLE Bloodlines, the progression was finally tipped over the edge as the barrier holding everything up broke apart.

<The Bloodline of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor has exceeded the limitations of VENERABLE and is stepping onto the stage of ZENITH.>

HUUUM!

Noah's blood quite literally boiled.

His very cells felt like they were burning and undergoing stupendous changes as the figure of his stellar main body became covered by surging waves of blood that shone a myriad of colors!

ZENITH!

This was the stage past VENERABLE as what did it mean?

It related to the words pinnacle or apex- where it was most commonly known as the highest point of something at the time of observation!

This was ZENITH. The stage of a Lineage that the Connate Avalonian Sacred Dragon Beast- Guinevere had reached.

The stage of Lineage that the unique demoness Lilith and other powerful existences in the 9 Anchors and Desolate Mausoleum held!

Noah had achieved such a level of a Bloodline a little bit over a year since he awakened to feel Mana.

"Hooo..."

He breathed out to calm himself as clouds of multicolored radiance shot from his mouth and elevated the concentration of essence in his surroundings further, every part of his body popping powerfully as the Throne his Will always occupied materialized fully below him.

The Throne of Quintessential Tyranny!

Its texture seemed crystalline yet metallic, its color cemented to be a stellar mixture of a dark crimson gold.

Noah fully sat on this throne of authority that experienced its own elevation in order to sift through the many changes blooming within him.

Chapter 2006 ZENITH! II

The changes were too grand!

The blooming changes were so ridiculous that the bubbling blood within him broke like a dam and went on to pervade into his Origin.

His Origin which contained three Dimensional Layers faced an unprecedented shock as fantastical volumes of crimson gold blood tinged with a myriad of other colors washed into it like endless waves that went on to bathe the Dream, Prana, and Avalon Cosmos that were rotating beautifully!

They went on to bathe the mountainous Reality Passages and the gold, green, and purple Ascendancy Stanchions as it seemed like Noah's origin was undergoing a great flood!

But the surging waves of blood contained pristine authority.

<The Blood of immense Quintessential Kainos Authority has bathed over your Dimensional Realities.>

<You can choose an Aspect of your Origin to elevate and exceed its current limitations.>

...!

"No way..."

A ridiculous prompt that even caused Noah's heart to tremble appeared.

This was the Age of Quintessence.

And he was the Quintessential Kainos Emperor!

He had to stand out and show that he was the most perfect example of an Emperor of this Age, and his Lineage that had reached ZENITH seemed to want to portray this the most as its elevation granted him the choice of exceeding a limitation of an Aspect of his Origin!

As for what limitation he wanted to exceed...

"The number of 100 Trillion Kainos Royal Cosmos seems just a bit low..."

WAA!

His voice echoed out domineeringly as the blood of the ZENITH Quintessential Kainos Emperor lit up his Origin like fireworks.

Kainos Royal Dream, Prana, and Avalon Cosmos shone like incandescent stars as they bore a great authority, Noah's entire Origin becoming more pristine!

<The Maximum Number of Kainos Royal Cosmos within a Dimensional Reality has been raised from 100 Trillion to 200 Trillion.>

It all culminated into a shocking result.

<The cost of the formation of cosmic singularities will be correlated to the current cost of the highest achieved Dimensional Layer.>

A ridiculous result that had too many consequences as it would undoubtedly make Noah even more ridiculously powerful...but as the theme remained for his Dimensional Realities- the resources required would also effectively double for him!

But what did he gain for expanding this pathway of his Origin?

100 Trillion Cosmos had completed his Dimensional Layers as each time, he gained 25% forceful understanding in the respective Dimension.

Exceeding this limitation now meant that Noah could effectively obtain another 25% forceful understanding at 200 Trillion Cosmos!

It was a shocking conclusion that meant the Decretum of Avalon...could be completed as soon as Noah focused on the Avalon Dimensional Reality.

And this was just the main point!

If the number of Cosmos were expanded, what about the limitations of the number of Reality Passages and Ascendancy Stanchions between the Dimensional Realities?!

"..."

The answer was unfathomable as Noah would have to see, his surroundings that were filled with dense Seas of essence constricting as dozens of Grotto Panaceas appeared.

His Clone in the Avalon Dimension with <Silent Killer> had continued to keep a steady supply of Loot coming as he sniped Alpha and Ultima Strata LEGENDs, where he was now even preparing to face the Grotto Haven Nightwalker that 5 Primordial Suzerains could not handle!

While the resources were negligible when thinking of the cost of the Fourth Dimensional Layer, he could still proceed with the cost of 375 Billion Kainos Royal Cosmos that was now shared equally by all three Dimensions!

The mystical stellar flower like treasures unfurled and turned into streams of light that sank into Noah as singularities of Kainos Royal Avalon Cosmos began to bloom.

The slow understanding of the Decretum of Avalon also began to rise ever faster as what took others Millions or Billions to achieve...would take Noah a day.

Because mind you, not even a full day had passed since he formed his Third Dimensional Layer and gained an initial understanding of its Decretum!

In this Age of Quintessence, who hell could even compare?

The ZENITH Quintessential Kainos Emperor Lineage remained true to the meaning of its name as this was merely the first surprise.

There were still changes unfolding even as Noah formed his singularities.

<The effect of the Throne of Quintessential Tyranny has been elevated from True Dual Empowerment to True Quintuple Empowerment. While sitting upon the Throne, it also becomes easier to harmonize with Nature and grasp the mysteries of Natural Laws and Decreta.>

A light of Illumination covered his incandescent throne as the innumerable weaving of particles of natural laws became even more discernible in his eyes.

With enough time spent on unlocking the complexities of the fabric of Reality around him, Noah felt like he won't even need to be within an Empyral Domain of Nature to grasp new Natural Laws!

And yet the boons of the ZENITH Quintessential Kainos Emperor were not done.

<The elevation of your Lineage has followed the Will of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor and focused a large percentage of the remainder of its authority onto the ascension of the [Limit Breaking Mana Refinement]>

<Your wish to change the positions of the Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique and the Limit Breaking Mana Physique is being carried out by the remaining Quintessential Kainos Authority.>

HOOONG!

A profound change he had wished for due to a recent change of events was carried out at this moment!

And it was bound to be a grand change as he wanted to utilize a powerful authority to change something fundamental about himself!

Upon the Throne, his stellar hands grabbed the hand rests tightly he couldn't help but bellow out, his mouth and eyes releasing beams of gold and blue light at this moment.

Gold for Dream, Blue for Mana.

<The Process to commandeer the authority of the Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique has begun.>

<The conception of the Quintessential Natural Born Infinite Mana Physique has begun.>

...!

Yes.

He had planned to strip away the authority of the Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique and grant it to something else entirely.

Something that at its core...had Mana.

The reason for this was because of the appearance of the greatest enemies that rejected what made up the very fabric of Reality!

The answer to oppose them...lay with Mana.

Chapter 2007 Restructuring! I

The Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique had been etched fundamentally within Noah's aspects of Existence as it affected too many things.

Through its many Cycles, he gained increased base Damage Values, an increased number of Reality Passages, and its milestones of cycles even affected other Physiques as its effects were thorough enough to even affect the Decretum of Dreams among other lesser features!

Now, Noah was conducting a complete restructuring of such a concept and converting it into something else.

From the Mythical Natural Born Infinite Dream Physique to the Quintessential Natural Born Infinite Mana Physique!

BZZT!

Tendrils of Mana and Dream Essence began coiling around Noah's body dangerously as if they were fighting for Hegemony, Noah's visage half illuminated gold and half illuminated blue as ever so distinctly, the gold began to be eaten up as the blue of Mana gained more surface area.

It was a fundamental change that would take a little bit of time!

While his Aspects of Existence underwent these changes, his Will remained strong as it observed what was brought upon by others.

The elevation of the Dictum Emperor and Tyrannical Emperor had their own boons that when quantified in broad terms- they granted Noah an edge in Destiny and his path of Conquest.

But the prompts were too many as they would be gazed upon at a later time.

At this moment, the boons of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor which stemmed from the Sanguine Emperor continued to take the spotlight as among the many pathways of strength this concept provided Noah...it was also where his uniqueness in Ascendancy Halos stemmed from.

Thus, of course the redefined concept of Halos into Ascendancy Stanchions was elevated even more than before!

Noah put the prompts of the other concepts on hold as he focused on this aspect of Empowerment.

<Due to the authority commandeered by the Quintessential Kainos Emperor from the concept of the Sanguine Emperor, the maximum number of conceptual Bloodlines fused to form the Ascendancy Stanchions has been increased to 120.>

The first and what already seemed like the most ridiculous point.

The number of conceptual Bloodlines, or really the Flames of Edicts fused into a. Single Halo had now been ridiculously brought to a maximum of 120!

<The greater the number of concepts and quality that make up Ascendancy Stanchions, the greater the stability afforded to the Unknown path of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor.>

<The unknown path forward has been illuminated ever so slightly, the possibility of your Origin withstanding the Integration of Natural Laws and Decreta being influenced by the stabilization of your Origin by Ascendancy Stanchions. When the 6th Dimensional Layer reaches full saturation and the maximum Ascendancy Stanchions are holding your Origin firm, the Integration of Decreta can be achieved instantaneously for the respective completed Dimensional Layers. For every single Dimensional Layer, a Natural Law of Reality can also be integrated after sufficient understanding.>

The path forward was illuminated by the Ascendancy Stanchions.

So long as Noah could form and saturate his Sixth Dimensional Layer, the Stanchions would provide the stability within his Origin to make it possible to integrate Decreta and Natural Laws into himself!

It was a stupendous result brought about by an unbelievable elevation.

Noah had to absorb it all and take everything in thoroughly as while his Main Body did so...his Clones would provide the support and resources required to make it possible!

There were the actions of certain Clones that were worthy of note while Noah absorbed all the new changes from the elevation of so many concepts to HERESY and DHARMA.

They happened around the same time as one in particular was of significance!

It involved an enemy that Noah had run away from before.

It was the Nightwalker that had single-handedly taken on 5 other Suzerains due to an Absolute Dimensional Relic that he wielded!

Among exceptional existences or those blessed with fortune, he could be considered within their ranks.

But...this was just hours ago.

After the retreat of the Primordial Legions, the Legions under the Dreamwalker had not been able to proceed forward as his forces were sniped from all angles indiscriminately.

The power of these attacks was gradually rising and reaching unprecedented levels as whenever the Nightwalker was nearby, he would defend those he could quickly reach!

By now, his Legions surrounded him in a protective domain field while he grasped the Absolute Dimensional Relic within his hands tightly.

Far away from him, in an entirely different Dimension- the one responsible for all this was preparing while accounting for what he could do now.

His visage was carefree with his eyes utterly bright- eyes that were ready to see what new loot would come from a Grotto Haven existence as he would truly have to obtain over 800 Panaceas just to bring all three of his current Dimensional Layers to 200 Trillion Kainos Royal Cosmos.

So he looked forward to the result of the upgrades of the Resplendent Treasure Emperor while his body was also undergoing even more changes still!

He had attained enough power to match Suzerains and more as from upgrades of the multipliers of the Ascendancy Stanchions, the increased base boosts of 450,000 from the completion of the Third Dimensional Layer, his Throne of Quintessential Tyranny, and the ridiculous Augmentation from Natural Laws and Decreta- especially the Decretum of Avalon whose augmentation exceeded 750%...it was all enough to culminate is propelling Noah to have nearly 10 times his battle power from just hours ago as he went from being able of dealing a few Trillion Damage Values to now being capable of approximately 30 Trillion Damage Values.

"..."

Yes!

It was a ridiculous number, and it was achieved much too quickly!

One didn't even have to fathom Noah's Innate Dimensional Barrier that was 500% of his strongest achievable Defense Value.

With such numbers...he should be capable of surviving against any Suzerain!

And so he made a move on the one whose weapon appeared under <Aids and Cheats>.

What was even more unique was that Noah's Clone remained in the Apollyon Dimension.

He didn't even make his presence known against his first Suzerain enemy as he didn't even cast any of his normal skills or abilities- simply utilizing the single target ability of Silent Killer while in another dimension entirely!

It was an utter show of disrespect.

SHIING!

In a nondescript area in the depths of the Rosebud Domain of the Golden Succubi.

Noah drew Silent Killer coldly!

Chapter 2008 Restructuring! II

Noah drew Silent Killer coldly as <Infernal Hypersol's Kiss> was cast.

The resource cost was something negligible now, but Apollyon essence converged as its effects were much different compared to the previous arrows he drew!

When the string was pulled back, it didn't seem like a crimson black arrow was being formed as instead, it was akin to the formation of a sharp blade of judgment that was ready to lay to waste whatever its target was.

HUUUM!

Infernal Hypersol's Kiss released a buzzing droning sound as Noah closed his eyes and pictured the image of a single being, the Essence of many Decreta and Natural Laws flowing into this attack as he released the bowstring.

SHIING!

The arrow was shot as it began to cross the folds of space.

Soon afterwards, the string on Silent Killer was pulled back again as for overkill, the area of effect <Bombardier of Perdition> was also cast.

The Nightwalker.

This was the name that he was known by as he walked beneath the shadows of Nightmares and Dreams to achieve shocking results.

His motto was to always lay low and only reveal himself when he absolutely had to, and it was why even with a Destined Absolute Dimensional Relic, he remained hidden while only utilizing it when he had to!

The goal was to not stand out and make any enemies too powerful for him to handle before he achieved Nature Integration.

Alas, the weaving of destiny did not follow the wishes of a single being as no matter how hard one tried, they would never be fully capable of controlling their fate.

The cloudy humanoid nightmarish form of the Nightwalker remained massive while he grasped the Absolute Nightmare Sword that released a powerful domain which wrapped around his remaining Legions.

He had commanded all Legions to closely cluster around him in order to protect them as they were even between the folds of Reality and Dreams to try and retreat into the Dream Dimension temporarily, but the attacks always followed them!

And now, they had stopped in the last few minutes as even in the tense state that the Dreams and Nightmares were in, they still looked around cautiously while not letting down their guard.

But this few minutes period...only caused the Nightwalker's heart to feel constricted.

As if something was tightening and closing in around him!

He trusted his instinct as even though he didn't have any other source of information, his essence blazed as his Haven spun.

Rings of Halos rotated wonderfully as bundles of Reality pulsed, wisps of Absolute Dream Authority even being called upon as the Absolute Nightmare Sword shone with brilliance.

"Dream Protecting Bastion."

WAA!

A radiant circular shield of light bloomed to cover all of Nightwalker and the Legions around him as over half of his Reserves of essence were burned to bring it to fruition.

Dream Protecting Bastion. A defensive skill meant to protect and keep alive one's dreams and aspirations!

By instinct, the Nightwalker had cast this as not even a moment later, his scalp began to tingle as he raised his head up in shock.

Above the newly deployed Bastion, a titanic visage of an arrow coiling with crimson black tendrils of Apollyon descended with judgment and damnation.

It raged with such power and destructive hatred that the moment it came in contact with the Dream Protecting Bastion, the golden shield burst open like a bubble as it continued smoothly forward!

That Bastion...was the equivalent of over 10 Trillion Defense Values as it was the Nightwalker's strongest defensive skill that he could cast through the Absolute Nightmare Sword.

And it was shredded apart like nothing as such a reality bore shocking implications.

It meant an outstanding being capable of tremendous damage Values amongst Suzerains had made a move against him.

His nightmarish heart burned with unwillingness as he wanted to bellow out- Who?!

BZZZT!

His Innate Dimensional Barrier protected him from 3 Trillion Damage Values.

His True Vitality Values were wondrously above 17 Trillion.

Would they be enough to withstand an attack that had shredded past 10 Trillion Defense Values of the Bastion like nothing?

The Nightwalker wouldn't wait to find out as he raised the Absolute Nightmare Sword and bellowed out- pulling together every wisp of essence that he could gather!

"OOOOH!"

The bellow of an Imperial Nightmare Oneiric that had lived for too long was filled with emotions of life and dreams as he met what seemed to be a crimson black sword of judgment and not even an arrow head on.

BOOOOOM!

Raging waves of destruction exploded out as even though it was a single target attack, any existences in the closest proximity of the Nightwalker were shredded out of Existence.

Essence storms raged as the fabric of Reality felt strained, utter chaos and destruction blooming in this region as shockingly, the Obsidian humanoid form of the Nightwalker wavered shakily while grasping the Absolute Nightmare Sword!

His many nightmarish eyes blinked in shock and fear as he felt his Innate Dimensional Barrier decimated as if it didn't exist, the Absolute Nightmare Sword taking on some of the Damage as even with all this- the single attack had taken his True Vitality Values all the way from 17 Trillion to below 1 Trillion!

His Origin creaked and felt strained as before he could even rise to collect himself...

"Ah..."

The Suzerain saw the flashing light of yet another arrow flash from above.

This was even more expansive than the others as it reminded him of the silent attacks he had seen that covered a wide region.

An area of effect ability, the Bombardier of Perdition that only dealt 50% of the normal Damage due to its area of effect!

And yet when it came, the Nightwalker knew that even this was too much at this moment in time as even though his hands tried to grasp and raise the Absolute Nightmare Sword up, he couldn't.

The Bombardier of Perdition arrived and bloomed- causing an incandescent mushroom of crimson and black death to rise as it covered the Nightwalker and his Legions.

"..."

A deadly and beautiful scene played out as there was nobody to appreciate it- a magisterial level of destruction displayed wantonly as the shockwaves reverberated out for light-years!

The destruction raged for quite some time before calming down.

When everything ended and the void cleared, all that was left behind was a glimmering Absolute Nightmare Sword.

No Haven stood within the cracks of Reality and Dreams.

A fairly powerful Haven was instead toppled on this day as even in his last moments, the Nightwalker could have never imagined that his demise was from an enemy that ran away from him just hours ago.

Apart from the Absolute Nightmare Sword, only the prompts that came into the mind of a single being remained!

<Absolute Loot Authority is activated>

An authority that granted Noah what he needed the most.

What exactly did he need the most now?

Obsidian red-bordered prompts came down to show him!

<+10 Golden Dimensional Reality Panaceas have been attained.>

<+10 Universal Decretum Crystals have been attained.>

<+10 Universal Nature Crystals have been attained.>

<+10 ZENITH Quintessential Bloodline Enhancers have been attained.>

Chapter 2009 Restructuring! III

Noah's actions with the Nightwalker were just one of the many events proceeding at the same time that he conducted the restructuring of one of the Fundamental parts that made him.

The Legion of retreating Primordials he was with had no idea of what had just occurred with the Dream Master that had eradicated a Primordial Suzerain in their midst, their War Vessels and clusters of Adjudicator Legions and Will Bearers returning to a nearby established Primordial Stronghold where other Suzerains were stationed.

With heavy losses and in a time of defeat, Noah's exploits were known but not focused on as only Juliette, Akaris, and Representative Aileron reacted and talked with him in their Legion!

Even Suzerain Jiyeon was busy coordinating what to do next as nobody stood just to give Noah fanfare for his actions, with any rewards and acknowledgements occurring when the enemy was taken care of and the battles were over.

At this time, the Primordial Legions were put on hold to recuperate while they waited for commands on what to do next.

As a being who had shown his power and importance, Noah's Clone of Alexander was standing with Representative Aileron as they talked, the figures of Akaris and Juliette around them with difficult expressions while Katelyn's clone stood calmly not too far from Noah!

"It's not just here."

The valor of Representative Aileron was still present as he shook his head grimly while speaking.

"I've gotten word that while dealing with the forces from the Dream Dimension, the Pure-Blooded Domains of the Infinite Willow Trees were attacked by droves of Primordial Beasts with multiple Suzerains in the lead. The number of Prime and Emerging Realities that fell..."

...!

Abysmal news all around.

The hearts of those nearby sank as they thought, what response would the Primordial Assembly make to very quickly take care of this issue?

When stuck as such a thought, the Primordial Stronghold they were in that was enacted like a floating fortress Relic in the Boundary Between Realities began to bustle with activity as the wills of many beings shot out powerfully.

New entrants had appeared from one of the spatial formations as for them to cause such a bustle of wills...

"Reinforcements?"

Representative Aileron raised his brows with surprise as his Legion also sent their wills over to see what changes had occurred.

A lonely Primordial Suzerain appeared in the center of the teleportation circle, but his sides were accompanied by two massive gray-furred Beasts whose eyes shone with coldness and apathy!

One had the form of a Twelve-Tailed Cosmic Jaguar while the other stood powerful in the form of a Colossal Stellar Gorilla- their furs pristine and gray as they seemingly pushed away any Wills that came around them.

"These are the reinforcements?"

Even Representative Aileron did not know what they were as he moved forward quizzically to understand the situation as one of the leaders, leaving behind Noah whose eyes were hiding lustrous beams of light after seeing 2 Abominations appear!

The Primordials were beginning to deploy their True power- and in a shocking manner at that as it seemed Abominations would not just be active in Dimensions- these creatures were also being released into the vast Realities as many forces would come to learn of their terror in the days to come!

To the surprise of the Legions here, the Suzerain leading the two unknown Beasts was the only reinforcement they obtained as this being talked with Suzerain Jiyeon and the others to lead him to the forces that caused them to retreat.

Jiyeon and the other Grotto Haven existences held a hint of excitement in their eyes while they gazed forward- seemingly knowing something about these Beasts as they agreed and quickly got ready to move to the surprise of those below them!

Just these reinforcements were enough?

Disbelief was present to those who didn't know as soon after, the Primordial Legions in this area would move to seek retribution against the Nightwalker and his forces.

Uniquely, they wouldn't be able to come across their only enemy as the Dream Master had already perished under someone else's hands!

Another event worthy of note was within the bounds of the Mirror Dimension, where the Dual Cultivation session between Katelyn's main body and another one of Noah's Clone still continued.

"What are those Beasts?"

Their figures were covered by a vibrant light that hid everything from our eyes as while connected, Katelyn asked lightly.

As if she knew that somehow, Noah would just know about them!

"Abominations that reject the very workings of Nature and Decreta..."

He replied while remaining focused, seeing the ridiculous changes that Dual Cultivation brought to others- especially with him at the center as after he forged his Third Dimensional Layer and then also attained the ZENITH Quintessential Kainos Emperor Bloodline, the effectiveness was dialed up by a whole level as Katelyn had nearly saturated her Ultima Strata Origin and was now getting ready to enact a Haven!

He had also attained a Mythical Natural Born Mirror Physique and one of the distinguished Mirror Dimension Lineages as he set all of this aside for now to focus on how he could utilize Dual Cultivation the best.

This involved designating a Clone to do so in the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality with Adelaide, Barbados, and the others while also doing the same with Hecate Erelon in the Apollyon Dimension.

The Conquest within this hellish Dimension would also change and progress rapidly as the Orc Daemon Commander who was at the peak of the Ultima Strata and seemed like a somewhat tall wall hours ago...was now nothing to Noah as he could steadily expand his influence within Lilith's home Dimension!

All of this...was just another set of paths Noah was taking as in addition to this, Noah had designated another clone to begin an arduous task within a different Dimension.

"Ready?"

Within another region of the Dimensional Holy Land, Noah's Clone stared at the radiant blue light surging in the distance from his main body as he spoke towards none other than Valdez Tepez.

The Kun Peng in human form that was now bound to Noah as a vassal sighed while nodding, a Dimensional rift beginning to open up before them as the deathly cold allure of the Niflheim Dimension could be felt!

Within this Dimension, there was a lot of chaos unfolding as beside it all, the forces of some of the Ancient Races were hidden here- along with traces of Commander Feng.

Noah wanted to meet these Hegemonies that had reigned in the past Ages before being toppled by OPPENHEIMER as he would also scout another Dimension that would be among those he would enact in his next three Dimensional Layers!

Chapter 2010 Restructuring! IV

Within Noah's Expansive Space, a glimmer of new loot bloomed.

He viewed the prompts while a spatial light covered the clone that had shot the attacks with Silent Killer, this clone materializing on the decimated field of battle only after no life remained as the Essence of Gravitation erupted to pull the Absolute Nightmare Sword towards him.

A Destined Absolute Dimensional Relic!

It was a level lower than any Relic that had the term Connate as it couldn't compare to the Sword of Avalon or Lavalliere, and yet Noah had still seen this appear under <Aids and Cheats>.

He already had too many weapons and tools as this fantastical obsidian sword pulsing with tendrils of nightmarish essence was not for him.

He had seen it among the myriad of paths that could be taken with this Relic as its purpose was actually a sad one.

It was eventually to be utilized for the elevation of none other than RUINATION as with the Atlatl of Reality elevating along with the actions of the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality and tools like Lavalliere and The Sword of Avalon appearing, this tool that aided Noah the longest could not be left behind!

So Noah took in the vibrant Absolute Nightmare Sword into the expansive space where within...four dazzling new loot had bloomed.

Golden Dimensional Reality Panacea.

This was the first as when Noah gazed upon it, he saw a hazy sandy golden earth. Atop this earth, a stem that shone like a river of Reality rose up as it connected to a flower whose petals themselves were dazzling rivers of Reality, and these reality flower buds held countless Dimensional Cosmos hidden within them as 10 of such treasures could be seen lighting up his Expansive Space!

Their details were even more unique.

<Golden Dimensional Reality Panacea>:: The Grotto Panacea informs the Quintessential Kainos Emperor not to worry as it has evolved into an even greater form- and even this is not its final form. After becoming a Dimensional Reality Panacea with the designation of Golden, it has molded itself into something truly compatible with the Dimensional Layers of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor. A single Golden Dimensional Reality Panacea is equivalent to the effects of 100 Grotto Panaceas when applied in the formation of anything past the Third Dimensional Layer. If being utilized to form cosmic singularities in any of the first three established layers, their rate of equivalency becomes 1000 to 1. The Dimensional Reality Panacea is expectant of the wonders it can achieve if you ever fulfill the conditions to bring an Obsidian or a Crimson Dimensional Reality Panacea to fruition...

"..."

It was a ridiculous Loot, to say the least.

And as Absolute Loot Authority promised, it was exactly what Noah needed!

The formation of the Third Dimensional Layer had required over 267 Grotto Panaceas from him- and that was before he doubled the number of maximum Kainos Royal Cosmos to 200 Trillion.

Now, the total cost for the Third Layer would be 534 as to forge The Fourth Dimensional Layer...he would need 4,272 Grotto Panaceas!

This was already a ridiculous number that would need Noah to do many days of farming, but it was a bearable number compared to what he would need for the Fifth Dimensional Layer- and it was simply the previous number of Grotto Panaceas times 16.

It was in the tens of thousands as it would have taken Noah forever!

Now, Golden Dimensional Reality Panaceas came along.

A single one was akin to 100 Grotto Panaceas as for the fourth layer, he would only need 43 Golden Dimensional Reality Panaceas instead of 4272 Grotto Panaceas to achieve completion!

That was just the looting of 5 Suzerains.

It shortened the gap towards Noah's strongest self by a lot as the path towards completing all 9 Dimensions became clear!

And all this...was if he utilized them on forming anything past the first 3 Layers.

If he utilized a single Golden Dimensional Reality Panacea on the Dream, Prana, and Avalon Dimensional Realities, it was akin to him utilizing 1,000 Grotto Panaceas!

It meant that the 800+ Grotto Panaceas he would have needed to fully saturate all three Dimensions after he exceeded the 100 Trillion would be taken care of by a single Golden Dimensional Reality Panacea.

It meant the possibility of producing excessive Kainos Royal Cosmos and having a few specific beings close to him devour them to increase their understanding in Decreta was even more of a feasibility!

This...was all from just a single one of the new types of loot.

Noah's gaze turned to the other three to appreciate their own wonders.

<Universal Decretum Crystal>:: Pristine in nature and unobtainable through normal means, these crystals contain minute wisps of Pure Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Essence. A single one is capable of granting .1% into any Decretum of a Dimension...

<Universal Nature Crystals>:: Pristine in nature and unobtainable through normal means, these crystals contain Pure Quintessential Kainos Nature Essence. A single one is capable of granting .1% into any Natural Law and .05% into any Fundamental Natural Law...

<ZENITH Quintessential Bloodline Enhancers>:: The stage of ZENITH is unfathomable as it guarantees a Lineage that is carried through across space and time. Reaching the most potent ZENITH Lineage across the Ages is an arduous task by itself, and exceeding it is even more so. A ZENITH Quintessential Bloodline Enhancers prides itself on devouring everything about the Bloodline and Lineage of your slain enemies and utilizing Absolute Loot Authority to produce Enhancers you can devour that will spurn the elevation of your Lineage even further. The number required is unknown as the stage above is even more abstruse, it is recommended to simply devour as many of these Enhancers as possible...

A wondrous collection of Loot to set Noah's path forward appeared.

And mind you, this was him not even utilizing one of the 12 chances of the Quintessential Treasure Cache, nor turning an enemy as powerful as a Suzerain into a Randomized Loot Crate!

All of this would come later as with the introduction of loot exceeding even a Grotto Panacea, it didn't need to be said that RUINATION could not multiply them in any way.

But for Noah, it was more than enough as his clone receded calmly after decimating a Dream Master that Primordial Suzerains couldn't defeat, his body continuing to undergo Fundamental changes as the allure of cerulean blue Mana was currently bathing everything around his Main Body!
