Chapter 641: 641

VOOM!

In the Devouring Hells Realm, over tens of Blessed had given up or been killed from the terrifying power of the prisoners known as Fiends .

At this moment, Young Master Andrews was still fuming as he moved with two lackeys in the skies of the Devouring Hells Realm, thinking of the forces he would put together to fully and without mistakes take care of a single trash Blessed .

WAA!

Yet at the next moment, light flashed in front of the eyes of him and his lackeys as they were shocked to find the figure of the esteemed Imperial Princess appearing in front of them, the veil covering her as still as always as she pointed her fingers towards the two Nebula Rank Blessed beside Andrews .

One must know that this Imperial Princess had used insane speeds to traverse the large Devouring Hells Realm over the past few minutes as she came across multiple Blessed and Prisoners, and she had managed to locate the face of Andrews as she located him in no time, her fingers pointing emotionlessly to the two lackeys by his side!

CRUNCH!

A horrid gravitational force seemed to wrap around these two beings, and only these two beings as even the nearby stupefied Andrews was not affected . This gravitational force that was called upon by the use of the EPSILON ranked [Vector Controller] seemed to ignore the ranks and power of these beings as it squeezed them from all sides, their bodies folding in on themselves as they became a mass of round flesh and bones in an instant before dropping down to the red earth!

Andrews had his mouth agape as his heart pounded in terror, being close to the person he so dearly wished to be near so many times but never had the courage to do so, and yet this same person was emitting great killing intent towards him at this moment! The shock of what just happened registered in his mind as he stammered back .

"Princess..."

VOOM!

Before he could even utter another word, he felt his body being overtaken by a tremendous force as he was unwillingly pulled towards a certain direction, the figure of the Imperial Princess silently disappearing along with him!

Far off in another area of the Devouring Hells Realm, Noah had just severed the origin of another Fiend through the use of [Sword of Judgment], this skill that dealt pure soul damage being extremely deadly to beings not even traversing laws as they opted for extreme physical strength and a high rank .

He was about to continue searching for more as he was actually very happy with his progress, having taken down over 12 Fiends so far as he always had a core in hand to continue building up his Nebula!

He had gained over 200 Stars at this point, surpassing his other body in the Novus Galaxy as the stars mystically rotating in his Nebula were numbering over 300 . Aside from this Blessed Imperial Selection granting him an identity of an Imperial, he was also being taken to these amazing realms where he simply farmed cores while getting stronger .

He was about to continue this laid back adventure of taking down powerful Nebula Rank combatants while speedily advancing through the long and arduous Nebula Realm when suddenly, his defenses shot up instinctively as he felt a terrifying aura sweeping towards him at a ridiculous speed!

VOOM!

Two beings appeared in front of him before the sound could even register, his eyes observing space creaking and folding from the path they just took as he watched with surprise eyes the appearance of a terrifying Imperial Princess as well as . . . the being he had already made numerous plans for- Andrews!

The young master had his eyes shaking as he looked around him, Noah being astounded by the sheer speed that was multiple times above his own as he remembered the horrendous Trait of this being .

"I heard this insignificant trash had actually called for your death and the death of multiple others . This violates the values of the powerful Households of the Imperial Citadel, so I will be using my authority as a Royal of the Dannicus Household to bring him and everyone involved to justice . "

A shockingly cold voice released from Anna Lexalius Dannicus as even Noah was surprised, his mind having already conjured up numerous ways to deal with the problem of this Young Master and the influence he could have continued to use as he tried to kill him in the near future .

He expected for this Young Master to continue sending Nebula Rank beings towards him in the future as he planned to use that as a method of farming until he neared the Rank of Black Hole, where he would then look for the methods to break through as he gathered more information with his identity as a High Imperial!

Yet now, this terrifying Imperial Princess had gone straight ahead with a brute method as she used her strength and authority to bring the culprit right in front of him, and before he could even say anything else, he felt her oppressive power being activated again as she pointed towards the young master . Noah's eyes shone with a red luster as [Eyes of Truth] were kept active to understand everything occurring in front of him .

BRRR!

Rapid and terrifying vibrations began to emit from the body of the Nebula Rank being as before he could use his Trait nor any of his power, his whole body seemed to be trembling as Noah watched in slow motion as the skin of this young master began to expand and burst like a bubble, his muscles and bones following thereafter as he understood somewhat what this Princess carrying an EPSILON ranked Trait was doing!

[Vibration Emission] :: One of the methods of manipulating vectors that the holder of the [Vector Controller] Trait can utilize . The user can generate vibrations or cause particles to vibrate as they wish, bringing about many means of destruction when the methods are used against someone else . Through increasing the vibration rate of subatomic vectors, the user can induce many effects not limited to but including Internal Rupture, Disintegration, Burst, Sonic Boom Generation, Molecular Oscillation . . . To counterattack Vibration Emission, one must have the capabilities to heal at a faster rate than the damage caused, or have a powerful enough constitution to withstand it . . .

Eyes of Truth told him that the spectacular Trait of Vector Controller was being used to produce vibration emissions within the body of Andrews as his very own subatomic vectors were induced to vibrate at greater and greater frequencies until . . . he burst!

POOF!

A shower of gory blood erupted out as an invisible circle wrapped around it, Noah only watching in silence as this puddle of blood was then released from this circle as it fell towards the red earth .

The Nebula Rank defenses of this being could not stop the oppressive power of [Vector Controller], nor did his Trait that did not even need to be mentioned . He just simply died .

Just like this, the low tier villain young master that used underhanded means and murder with the justification of his infatuation with an Imperial Princess . . . was actually brutally killed by the very being herself as the veiled powerhouse continued to glance towards Noah, not even giving the blood falling to the red earth a look as her voice rang out again, this time none of the coldness apparent in it!

"Well with that over, I'm very curious how you managed to escape death twice, and even more interested to understand your demeanor towards me so far . "

" . . . "

The voice had changed to the sonorous tone of an interested young girl that had found a toy to play with as Noah felt cold sweat metaphorically dripping from his back, realizing he had to quickly amass new abilities and grow his power if he was so quickly coming face to face with terrifying creatures such as this . . .

Chapter 642: 642

In the skies of the Devouring Hells Realm, Noah stared at the veiled Imperial Princess as numerous thoughts crossed his mind . He was thinking about the terrifying ability that her Trait possessed, as well as what he would have done if it was directed towards him!

When it came to her using [Vector Controller] to cause a being's very own subatomic particles to vibrate at greater frequencies until they burst and became puddles of blood, he looked over the counterattacks mentioned by the Eyes of Truth as he thought about using the ability of [Aura of Redemption] that granted him constant healing, and all he had to do was make sure his rate of healing exceeded the rate at which his very cells imploded .

Many possibilities of what he could do floated through his mind as the main point still stood- the power of this EPSILON ranked Trait was terrifying!

"I didn't die because they simply underestimated me . As for how I act towards you..."

He replied to her question as a light smile hung over his face .

" . . . well, it's more so due to my Trait, [Analyzer], that lets me know information about the things and people around me . "

The Imperial Princess's veil shifted to the right quizzically at Noah's words, her sonorous voice ringing out again with interest as if she did not just pulverize a genuine Nebula Realm being into a bloody mess .

"Your Trait made you look upon the daughter of the Imperial Adjudicator of the Nexus Galaxy and not care about her status as you acted completely different from everyone else?"

It was more of a conformational statement than a question, but Noah replied with a nod as he sensed two fierce auras that should have been this being's maids rushing over here rapidly!

"Yes, my Trait told me that you wish me no harm, and that you were actually saddened at the fact that nobody could truthfully talk to you because of your high stature . "

RUMBLE!

At these words, Noah felt the extreme coldness of this Imperial Princess return as her next words were filled with power .

"Your Trait peeks into my thoughts?"

Her veil shone with luster as she said this, Noah raising his hands up as he replied to her quickly while cursing his [Memorable Visage] ability and making sure [Blind Luck] was still active and working .

"No, I just get a glimpse of information about emotions and people's intentions towards me . "

" . . . " The Imperial Princess folded her hands in the skies as she seemed to be in thought, her bountifully blessed chest protruding even more as Noah remained calm .

A few seconds passed as a tense atmosphere permeated, the auras of the two powerful maids being seen by the naked eye as they rapidly made their way over with frustrated expressions . As they arrived, the tense atmosphere faded away as they heard the sweet voice of the Imperial Princess ring out with words that nearly made their jaws drop .

"Interesting . Alright, since you're the only person in my generation capable of talking to me with a straight face, you shall henceforth be my friend!"

The veiled Anna Lexalius Dannicus said these words as more of a proclamation than even a question, her gaze locking towards the being in front of her as his next words would be extremely crucial .

Noah gave a light smile as he reached his hand out, his actions signifying his agreement as the nearing shocked Maids looked on to see slight hesitation in the figure of the Imperial Princess before he white-gloved hand reached out and grasped onto the outstretched hand!

"Alexander . It's nice to meet you, Imperial Princess . "

" . . . Anna of the Dannicus Household that rules the Nexus Galaxy . I look forward to the surprises you're still hiding from me, friend . "

Two beings that had only officially met twice in their lives shook hands on this day under the watchful eyes of two maids, this single hand shake being the beginning of a shocking set of events that would embroil multiple powers of the Dark Universe in chaos!

The hours passed by as powerful Blessed with unique Traits completed the task of defeating 5 Fiends and bringing their heads back, successfully completing the last stage of the Blessed Imperial Selection .

In this last part of the trial, slightly over half of those that entered were successful, and many were shocked to find out that a prominent Young Master of a powerful household of the Imperial Citadel had somehow faced his death in the Devouring Hells Realm!

Another shocking event that made many Nobles observe closely was the scene where the party of the Imperial Princess and her Guardsmaids could actually be observed to be moving with an unknown Blessed, those that had seen this same scene just 2 days prior spreading this information as soon enough, the identity of the being known as Alexander King began to be talked about .

At this point in time, many were just wondering exactly why this being was hanging around the Imperial Princess, and what authority he had to do so!

"Haha! I welcome the new champions! I welcome you all to the ranks of High Imperials!"

OOOOH!

A bellow could be heard from Master Zeke as he counted the heads of the Fiends brought forward by all the successful Blessed, and he then waved his hands towards the 100 odd Blessed that passed this year's Blessed Imperial Selection, the wave of his hands causing the appearance of a green-gold emblem to appear in front of their eyes .

"This is the Imperial Emblem that grants you an identity as a High Imperial, a sacred identity which comes with important duties!"

The humanoid birdman spoke as his white majestic wings moved in the skies, all the Blessed that successfully passed the Trial being teleported back to the area in front of the shimmering red rift that led to the Devouring Hells Realm between multiple mountain peaks as they now grasped on to their Imperial Emblems .

"There isn't going to be some grand celebration or anything like that to welcome you all as you take on the mantle of High Imperials, but there is going to be a commandment that I will repeat- and it is this commandment you all must etch inside your hearts and follow . "

RUMBLE!

"As High Imperials, it is your job to put your life on the line to protect our Nexus Galaxy, the task of exploring the Dark Universe being something that comes second!"

The strong voice of Master Zeke reverberated throughout the mystical mountainous region as the red rift leading to the Devouring Hells Realm shone menacingly behind him .

"Of course, to usher in the new ranks of High Imperials also means abundant rewards to foster your strength . You will find many resources in the Imperial Emblem that also acts as your identity once you bind it by blood . The second reward will be something granted to every High Imperial . . . the access to the first two floors of the Imperial Library!"

The eyes of many beings shone as they heard these words, others not being able to contain themselves as they bellowed out their happiness at arriving in this new stage .

"For the Nexus Galaxy!"

"For the Imperials!"

OOOOOH!

Vibrant waves of power released outward as around 100 new High Imperials were added to the ranks of Imperials on this day, Noah implementing himself in the organization ruling the Nexus Galaxy as he was one step closer to completing his goals in this new Galaxy .

The path to completing his second Trait as he stayed true to its name of Protagonist, the goal of taking a central role in the fate of this new Galaxy . . . began now!

Chapter 643: 643

As Noah fully assimilated himself in the Imperial Citadel of the Nexus Galaxy, the party being led by a DELTA-ranked Blessed and multiple Law Masters to check the disappearance of an exploration party finally traversed across the Chaotic Void and reached the location of the signal after a few days had passed .

As many Imperial Vessels floated in the Void, stern faces and confusion were all that could be seen as the powerful DELTA ranked Blessed at the realm of Black Hole spread his essence throughout, but affirmed what everyone was seeing with a grim face- it was the fact that there was nothing in the area that released the Signal!

This meant that the advance party of Imperials were most likely taken down by a moving Entity, which led to the assertion that they were just unlucky enough to have run across a powerful dweller of the void that had a horrible temperament .

"Head back!"

The lead DELTA ranked Blessed who was in the realm of Black Hole said these words as the many Imperial Vessels began to turn back, his gaze staying at the location of the Void where the signal came a bit longer as he noticed a peculiarity that he did not know how to explain .

The Chaotic Void around where the signal should have been . . . was particularly unstable as if a huge change had occurred here recently to make it so . But no conclusions could be drawn from it as the second party sent to check the Signal which was released from the Novus Galaxy turned around!

This incident would be attributed to the wrath of a fearsome entity, and that would be enough to successfully close this chapter as information about this signal would all be archived away in the near future .

In the grand Nexus Galaxy, a wide array of Realms and Worlds peacefully stayed within .

All of these Realms and Worlds were in a period of peace and conquest as they were unified under the rule of the Imperials residing in the Brightgold Monarchy Realm .

This realm had the name 'Brightgold Monarchy' because it was founded by a being known as Golden Monarch Brightgold!

Though currently, the ones ruling the Central lands of this Realm and residing in the Imperial Citadel were the Nobles of the Dannicus Household, with the one known as the Imperial Adjudicator at the lead .

The Dannicus Household ruled with an iron fist as much of the success of the Nexus Galaxy could attributed on a whole to this powerful family, the prosperity many beings were seeing today coming from their conquests and actions .

This household was also the one to call themselves Imperials, with different ranks of this name given out to different beings depending on their power!

At the lowest rank, you had the Nobles who could freely claim the singular Imperial Title .

Above it, you had those who could traverse the stars and Galaxies, the High Imperials!

After High Imperials, you had the esteemed Imperial Lords who managed different regions of the Nexus Galaxy, and above them you had the Imperial Rulers that controlled the forces sent through the Universal Rift as well as command posts on other Galaxies .

Standing above all these Imperials was the singular Imperial Adjudicator himself, the Golden Conquer that resided in the Imperial Citadel!

In the Imperial Citadel that served as a command station for many of the things happening around the Nexus Galaxy, one would almost always hear about the most famous establishment aside from the unique Imperial Thunderdomes- it was the location where many beings sought knowledge, the Imperial Library .

This Imperial Library was open to very few beings, and it was restricted only to those holding the title of Imperials!

The first and second floors of this vast Imperial Library could be accessed by High Imperials, with the lowest rank of Imperials only being able to access the first floor .

Only Imperial Lords could access the mysterious Third Floor, and only Imperial Rulers had access to the Fourth Floor!

At this moment, the Imperial Library was receiving an influx of new beings all at once as slightly over 100 new High Imperials were crowned on this day, many of them rushing towards the Imperial Library after they ascertained their treasures in the Imperial Emblems .

This was because in the Imperial Library, aside from the vast knowledge about the Nexus Galaxy and the forces surrounding it, one could also find powerful Inheritances of Universal Laws and even techniques left behind by the powerful combatants of the past Era!

The truly smart Blessed knew to also try their hand in mastering Laws, with the true elites being the Imperials who could utilize Traits as well as wield the power of the Universal Laws .

At this moment, Noah was standing in front of the ridiculously huge entrance of the Imperial Library, coming here with the same goal as the many others that had already rushed in .

"Many beings can stumble to learn the universal laws simply based on their talent, but if they have the guidance of techniques, they will comprehend and assimilate laws at rapid speeds . "

The voice of the melodious Imperial Princess rang out beside Noah as she was flanked on both sides by the powerful Maids, Maya and Raya .

This bored Princess that had found a single friend she could talk to in her generation made it so that the four of them came to this Imperial Library together, much of her veiled gaze on Noah as she tried to probe this being that somehow drew great interest from her!

Noah nodded at the words of the Princess as he looked at the two maids who were still staring at him suspiciously, as if they were trying to find whatever means he had hiddenly used to capture the attention of their esteemed Princess .

He looked towards the Princess as he spoke .

"I know the Imperial Library holds vast knowledge and techniques, but which floor might the truly powerful law techniques be held at?"

The eyes of the Imperial Princess twinkled as she replied while taking steps towards the Imperial Library .

"On the first floor, you have the techniques of the normal Universal Laws with millions of books containing knowledge of the Nexus Galaxy . On the second floor, you will find the techniques of the Supreme Laws and knowledge of other galaxies, and it is only until the Third Floor that you come across techniques for Ultimate Laws . "

Ultimate Laws!

Laws that even his own galaxy did not have the techniques to cultivate, but this Nexus Galaxy that had lived for countless eons held it!

Noah listened to the words of the Imperial Princess as he nearly sighed, repeating the fact that Ultimate Laws were located in the Third Floor, and his title as a High Imperial at this moment only allowed him to access up to the second floor .

The Imperial Princess noticed his forlorn expression as he stared up the Imperial Library, her voice ringing out in a surprised manner .

"You're already trying to jump to Ultimate Laws? You have access to the floors that hold the techniques of all other laws up to Supreme, you should even find great techniques for your comprehension in the law of Aether there . "

Noah nodded at her words as he seemed to be thinking of something else .

"Well you see, I always wanted to learn an Ultimate Law since I am such a genius in lower-tier laws . Now that I'm here, I can't help but feel like it is within my reach but still so far away . "

"Haha!"

A slight laugh escaped from the Imperial Princess as she shook her head while staring at the man who seemed to have missed out on a huge treasure right in front of his eyes, his words speaking about himself like some kind of a genius that could easily comprehend laws . The maids Maya and Raya looked towards him with slight contempt as they thought he was showing off again .

'Hmph, wanting to embark on an Ultimate Law when you haven't even mastered normal or supreme ones? He's definitely a boaster!'

'It won't be so easy for you to show off in front of the Princess . A genius in laws? Ha!'

The thoughts of the two sisters were in sync as they looked at each other, shocking words coming out of the mouth of the Imperial Princess soon after .

"Well if you are so curious about Ultimate Laws and are the genius you say you are, I can grant access to the Third Floor for you just once . "

Noah's eyes opened wide as he looked towards the veiled figure that he could distinctly feel was smiling with an expression of challenge . It seemed she was curious to see if he was just talking big about wanting to learn Ultimate Laws, and she would even use her status to grant him access so could see exactly what he was made of!

If things were really like that...

"I'll owe you a favor if you can make something like that happen, Princess . "

His eyes twinkled as the veiled figure nodded, the two maids shaking their heads full of complaints as they knew not to speak out once their Princess had made her mind .

Without minding the gazes of the many beings around them, they ascended up the steps of the grand Imperial Library as its golden arched doors were wide open, a thin film of transparent white light being the only thing present!

Noah's new Imperial Emblem shone as he neared and passed through the barrier into the First Floor of the Library with no problems, following the leading Imperial Princess and her maids forward as his eyes looked around him .

All around him, rows and rows of bookshelves could be seen as he could not even ascertain their numbers . Far off in the distance of this first floor, he could notice a glimmering blue portal surrounded by multiple Imperial Guards .

"The Inheritances of normal Laws can be found once you go through that protected blue portal, the same thing being present on the upper floors . "

Maya explained with a cold voice as instead of staying on the first floor, the four of them had begun taking the spiral stairway leading to the second floor . A similar scene as the first floor repeated as Noah saw the essence of space vibrantly permeating through this floor, its size somehow expanded to be even larger than the first floor as it nearly doubled in size even though it did not look like it from the outside .

This second floor should have been the last place he could access, where one would come across Supreme Laws! But he had the powerful Imperial Princess leading the way as her very presence caused murmurs to spread out in the quiet library, many people committing the figure of Noah who was accompanying her to their memory as they planned to find out who he was!

The four of them came upon the spiral stairway leading to the third floor as Noah saw it was protected by a single Blessed, this protector having a vibrant aura at the realm of Black Hole as he blocked the way towards the third floor where only Imperial Lords could access!

He saw the Imperial Princess that came ever so closer to him as his eyes shook, standing aside quickly as he bowed, but his aura also locked towards Noah at the same time .

"Princess..."

His gaze was questioning as he glanced towards Noah, the Imperial Princess waving her hands as a cold voice rang out from her .

"Librarian Shaun . This is my guest, and will be allowed access just this once . "

Her words came out cold and domineering, seeming more like a command to this expert at the Realm of Black Hole as Librarian Shaun nodded while bowing even deeper!

The barrier that only Imperial Lords could cross using their Emblems opened up in front of Noah at this time as he and the three women made their way to the third floor . Shocked gasps and envy could be seen in the eyes of many as they watched this scene, the information systems of many Nobles being put in play on this night as they all went to figure out the identity of the being taken to the 3rd Floor of the Imperial Library by the Princess .

Majestic and ancient were the only words to describe the third floor, being nearly empty as Noah could not sense a single soul on it!

It did not even have any guards stationed at the glimmering portals that shone with a pure green and oppressive dark luster, each of the two portals signifying a different Ultimate Law as they lay on opposing sides of the floor .

"I don't want to make my old man angry so I'll only give you a chance for one or the other . Death or Life, what will it be?"

The voice of the Imperial Princess rang out sonorously as her veiled figure turned towards Noah, nobody being able to see the expectant eyes under this veil that wondered what surprise this being would have in store for them!

If his words were just lies and he was just boasting in front of her this entire time, she would be very disappointed as she very quickly cut off her connection with this being .

But her eyes were expectant because . . . this person's figure seemed to have an unbounded sense of confidence that simply could not be faked!

As the eyes of the maids and the Imperial Princess honed in on him, Noah turned his face towards the vibrant green and the intense dark portal that led to two different Ultimate Laws .

Life or Death . . . which would it be?!

Chapter 645: 645

The choice was made in an instant as Noah thought about himself and his situation, choosing the Ultimate Law of Life right away!

When it came to defense or offense in this new Galaxy with filled monsters and the unexplored Dark Universe filled with even more terrifying entities, he would choose the option that would increase his defenses and grant more means of protection first before he did anything else .

Thus, his face turned to the right where a vibrant green portal law, the Imperial Princess smiling as she led the way there . She was really curious, was Alexander really the genius he said he was?

They passed the rows of ancient and tightly bound books as they soon came upon the unprotected portal, the Princess and her maids leading the way as they stepped into it right away with Noah following behind .

The scene in front of him changed instantly as he found himself in a unique spatial area, looking around him to see that even though they still seemed to be on the 3rd floor of the Imperial Library, they were in a separate space that still showed their surroundings in a transparent manner .

"This is a different layer of space, but it is still within the third floor of the Library . It's why the you can still observe the books outside of here, but what you want is right ahead..."

The Imperial Princess and her maids looked toward the center of this circular spatial space they were in as Noah's eyes also landed on a grand pedestal that was brimming with essence .

This pedestal looked extremely archaic and ancient, with green and brown runic markings swirling around it as Noah breathed in deeply to take in a refreshing air of . . . life!

He already felt his very muscles and bones rejuvenated as he just smelled the essence that this archaic pedestal released, and on top of this pedestal one could observe a floating green gem- this was the Inheritance that taught one how to cultivate in the Ultimate Law of Life .

Noah walked towards it alone as the maids Raya and Maya pulled the sleeves of the Imperial Princess, Maya whispering in her ears as they carefully watched the being in front of them .

"Princess, what if you finally see he's just a show-off and your father gets angry for bringing a nobody to a place only Imperial Lords are allowed in?"

Maya tried to word the question as best as she could even though it still came out as an insult, the Princess laughing lightly as she didn't seem bothered by it .

"We're already here, so we might as well just see how it turns out . "

Thus, the three of them watched as a single young man went forward and touched the Inheritance holding techniques to traverse the Ultimate Law of Life, a bright green light shining out instantly thereafter!

RUMBLE!

Noah felt the flow of knowledge as he accepted this grand Inheritance, an inheritance that stood above laws like Fate or Chaos as it stood at a higher level . Numerous knowledge on the construction of skills through the use of mana entered his mind as they were classified into normal or part of an Absolute Skill, but his mind at this moment focused on the technique that taught one how to comprehend the Law of Life, on a technique that would have been similar to Disciple of Fire or Water, or Fate's Disciple .

But this one did not have any of those names, and it was termed in its own way as Noah saw the words...{The Doctrine of Life}!

{The Doctrine of Life} :: Across the eons of time and space, there are few true wonders permeating throughout . This Doctrine is among the few wonders existing in the vicissitudes of time, one that teaches the user about a single thing- Life . With this technique, the user can begin comprehending the Ultimate Law of Life as a primeval tree buds from their very origin .

RUMBLE!

The shocking skill fully solidified in his mind as he put aside all the other skills that came with the inheritance, dropping to the floor as he took a seating position and looked to activate the skill right away!

This was because the moment the knowledge of it came to his mind, his very origin began to thrum with longing, a longing so deep that it overcame every other thought as it only told Noah to do one thing- start on the path of the Law of Life!

His mana nearly went into overdrive as he let it freely flow into the construction of {The Doctrine of Life}, activating the skill for the first time as a deep green hue began to emulate from his body . This green hue began to get brighter and brighter as the time passed, putting a stark contrast on the jaws of two maids that nearly dropped to the floor, as well as the veiled Imperial Princess that one could not see the expression of .

But shock had begun to enter their hearts as at this moment, they felt the appearance of a shockingly potent aura of Life emanating from the being seated in a lotus position in front of them, and this aura only became stronger and stronger as the seconds passed!

But this rapidly expanding green aura was the least fantastical thing, as the most resplendent sight was occurring within Noah's very own Origin . At Noah's very core, one could see a floating blue gold Nebula that was his Origin, and it was surrounded by two other Nebulae that represented the 100% comprehension of the laws of Fire and Water, as well as the vibrant Origin Cores of Earth, Air, Light, and Dark .

In the very middle of his Origin Nebula where over 300 Stars now peacefully made their rotations, one would be able to see at this moment the appearance and the budding of a seed!

A seed had appeared a second after Noah activated {The Doctrine of Life}, and the enormous influx of essence caused it to bloom a second later as Noah could now see a sprout that was gradually getting bigger until three branches came out, the unfolding of three leaves happening at this moment as the shocking aura of green he released shot through the fucking roof .

RUMBLE!

Chapter 646: 646

Maya and Raya were watching with disbelief as the aura that was growing bigger and bigger from Alexander decided to go completely insane, forming into a column of green light as it thundered forth from the isolated space they were in and appeared outside on the 3rd Floor of the Imperial Library, and it then only became more powerful and oppressive as it shot above this floor and continued to go ever higher, the unique phenomenon overtaking the entirety of the Imperial Library!

On the second floor, the Imperial Guard at the realm of Black Hole felt this quaking aura above them as his face turned serious, the immensity of Ultimate Laws being one of the few things capable of making experts such as these serious .

This expert and many other beings in the Imperial Library turned their faces towards one direction as the vibrant column of green light only continued to get bigger, the gold-white Imperial Library becoming tinged green as it lit up brightly!

In the isolated space itself where Noah sat down peacefully, he observed the sprout that was budding from his Nebula as he saw his own mana flooding into it, but the essence of all the 6 Law Origins he also had with him were all flowing towards this sprout that signified his progress in the Law of Life thus far!

6 different law origins were bending to the Law of Life as they gave their own essence to make the sprout prosper, Noah noticing more branches appearing from the sprout with every second as it went from 3 leaves to 6, and then from 6 to 12 .

Everytime that a new leaf bloomed, it released with it a green light that permeated all across Noah's body, his very cells drinking up the energy of this Ultimate Law as his body could not help but tremble in joy at the experience of it .

The trembling of his body only signified one thing- it wanted more!

And so Noah delivered as essence continued to flood towards {The Doctrine of Life}, his eyes observing the sprout that had begun spreading its roots throughout his origin bud with more and more leaves as it expanded in size .

Thick roots that shone with a unique power furled themselves all around the stars of his Nebula, creating for a shocking imagery as the more he kept {The Doctrine of Life} active, the more these roots spread out while the tree grew ever larger, its leaves becoming abundant!

When he reached 384 leaves on this resplendent tree, he felt the waves of green essence released from the budding tree more than double as the green light he released became even more intense, this green light essence that stemmed from the source of the Law of Life actually undergoing a form of positive feedback loop with the 6 Law Origins within his body as there was a cycling of energy that just caused a larger and larger reaction .

When the leaves came to be 1536 the party of Imperial Princess and her 2 maids had gaping mouths as from their point of view, they could observe the faint illusory image of an ancient primeval tree present on Alexander's chest, this tree vibrantly shining with his every heart beat as it released an even grander luminescent light to the surroundings!

In Noah's very own Nebula, he could also see the appearance of this mystical tree that was fully taking root in the middle of the swirling Nebula, vibrant green leaves that released lush essence which changed his body from inside out continuing to release nonsensically .

This essence of life itself was being drunk by his body so much that he even unconsciously released it outward, the three women standing a distance away breathing in deep breaths as the smell of something wondrous touched their noses!

THUMP!

The primeval tree beat in conjunction with his heart as he felt himself getting stronger with every beat, where he knew that purely from his physical strength alone, he was over 5 times stronger than just a few minutes ago .

But the more shocking thing was the essence of life itself that was so pleasurable that it made him want to scream out!

This was an Ultimate Law! This was the Law of Life! Ah!

"Small Success in an Ultimate Law..."

Raya couldn't help but mutter the shocking words, these three girls being witness to a being that embarked on an Ultimate Law and achieved a 'Small Success' in it in a matter of minutes .

In the Nexus Galaxy and in the grander Dark Universe, the comprehension of laws was referred to in stages, where one would go from having nonexistent comprehension in a law to the stage of Small Success, and then step into Large Success before finally achieving Completion .

At this point as Raya mentioned Small Success, it was actually Noah hitting the 3% mark of the Ultimate Law of Life in a matter of minutes!

He would be considered at the stage of Small Success until he reached 49%, where stepping above half of a law's comprehension and gaining an Authority meant that one was at the Large Success stage of this law!

THUMP!

With every beat of his heart, they saw the illusory tree on Alexander's chest pulse out with energy, the disturbance in the Imperial Library only continuing as Maya reeled in her shock while glancing around them .

"Princess, this . . . is causing too much of a commotion..."

The shock and awe gradually calmed as they fully grasped what was happening, the Imperial Princess shaking her head in wonder as she observed the being that should have been seated on the floor begin to be raised up by the green essence in a show of grandeur, one last blast of green light erupting out grandiosely before his body was returned to the floor, the illusory green tree present on his chest also fading away slowly at this time .

OOOM

It was then that Alexander opened his eyes that shone with a bright hue, capturing the three girls' eyes as they locked on to him with disbelief .

He looked around the fading green light around him as he actually shook his head in disappointment, his eyes staring at an invisible panel that showed his progression in the Law of Life had hit 5% before the initial burst of comprehension that came with all laws died down .

He shook his head in disappointment as he knew it would be arduous to raise this percentage from now on, but the three girls only looked at this scene with even more shock as his next words nearly made them want to strangle him!

"Ah, it seems my talent in cultivating this Ultimate Law is only so-so, Your Highness . "

RUMBLE!

"You..."

Maya had to reel in her words as in the figures of the three women, power nearly erupted out to strangle this arrogant being in front of them as numerous thoughts swirled through their minds .

'Your talent is so-so?'

'If your talent is so-so, then every one else's talent is trash!'

"Haha!"

Clear and languid laughter broke out of the Imperial Princess as her gaze focused even more around Alexander, an unknown light coursing through her eyes as they looked up around them and tore through the layers of walls around the Imperial Library, her eyes coming to observe the figures of multiple beings that floated around the Imperial Library with careful expressions and bodies that shone with star shattering power .

"You've brought me trouble, Alexander King . "

Her sonorous voice rang out as Noah got to his feet and also felt the auras surrounding them, noticing the appearance of numerous experts at the realm of Black Hole carefully surrounding the Imperial

Library, each of them releasing a pressure that made their very surroundings quake as all their eyes were focused on the isolated space located on the third floor they were in!

"Now, what are we to do about this?"

Chapter 647: 647

From the Imperial Library, a rumbling essence came out as Librarian Shaun- the one who had granted access to Alexander and watched as he went up to the third floor with the Imperial Princess, came out to meet the auras of multiple Black Hole Realm experts who were stationed in the Imperial Citadels .

"Generals, it's nothing major . Just the Imperial Princess and her people exploring universal laws . " Librarian Shaun's expression was awkward as he rubbed his temples while speaking out to them, his words making all of them having a change of expressions as one laughed jovially while coming closer .

"The Princess is playing around again? And what do you mean exploring universal laws- that was someone gaining Small Success in an Ultimate Law!"

A brute man with a ferocious scar running down diagonally across his face came forward with wild essence as he spoke .

"General Zadan, I'm just as surprised as you are..." Librarian Shaun had begun speaking with a light smile, but he had to stop half way as behind them, they sensed three powerful auras they were familiar with, as well as an extra aura that pulsed with extreme vibrancy and life!

Still fresh from the first cultivation session of {The Doctrine of Life}, Noah came out of the Imperial Library with the party of the Princess as he stared with shining eyes at the multiple experts in the Realm of Black Hole floating in the skies .

At their appearance though, these shockingly powerful beings had wide smiles on their faces as they bowed, each of them calling out respectfully to the Imperial Princess in front of them!

"Princess..."

"Your Highness..."

"Little Anna!" One particularly boisterous shout rang out from the expert with a huge scar running down his face, General Zadan floating closer to them as he looked at the veiled Princess up and down, and then gave a dangerous glare to Noah's figure which still shone with a green luster .

"Uncle Zadan . . . I'm not so little anymore..." Noah nearly did a double take as he heard the voice of a shy girl come out of the terrifying veiled figure of the Imperial Princess, causing laughter to ring out among the groups of experts as many beings around the Imperial Library shockingly looked to the skies .

"Haha, you will always be the little girl who gave a beating to a Nebula Realm expert when she was just 15 to me . Now, who is this being that is causing such a commotion, and what is he doing near my Anna . "

RUMBLE!

The sharp aura of an expert at the Realm of Black Hole bubbled forth as Noah unconsciously felt the primeval tree stabilizing within his Nebula pulse, green energy bouncing off of him as he repelled nearly all of this pressure!

"Uncle Zadan, stop it . . . he's a friend of mine who is slightly good in comprehending laws, so I let him test himself with an Ultimate Law . " The sonorous voice of the Imperial Princess rang out as the many experts around them shook their heads with disbelieving smiles .

'Slightly good in comprehending laws?'

'You let him try an Ultimate Law first?'

"Hmm . . . still! He does not have an identity as an Imperial Lord! Little Anna, do you know how hard I worked to achieve that? Your father might ground you again for breaking more of his rules . " General Zadan pulled back his aura as he said this to Anna, waving his hands towards the other 6 experts at the Realm of Black Hole as they each bowed towards the Princess as they began to fade away, but not before giving one last look at Noah as they burned his image into their memories!

"Don't worry Uncle, I'll talk to daddy and explain everything . " Anna seemed to have a mischievous smile behind her veil as the powerful scarred General Zadan nodded while shaking his head, turning his attention towards Noah as he spoke seriously .

"You have great talent in the laws to be able to gain Small Success in the Law of Life on your first cultivation session . Life Law Masters are extremely rare, and you will be heavily sought after for your ability to [Endow] areas after you obtain your Authority . Come to the Sanctuary of the Watchers whenever you break into the Realm of Black Hole or gain more achievements in this law in order for you to take on the test to become an Imperial Lord . "

The voice of the General was filled with power as Noah seriously nodded while voicing out .

"I'll be sure to do so when I am ready, General Zadan!"

The General nodded at Noah's words as he turned to Princess and completely changed his demeanor, patting her head as his body also began to fade away .

"Try not to cause any more commotions, Little Anna . " The voice was filled with love and care as he faded away .

"Un . " The veiled Imperial Princess nodded as she watched the expert disappear, still keeping her shy demeanor until the General left .

Noah breathed out silently as he saw the figures of powerful experts of the Realm of Black Hole come and go, but his breath had to come to a stop as he heard a telepathic message from the same disappearing General that was extremely cold and domineering!

"No matter what genius you are, I better not hear about you touching a single hair on Little Anna's body . "

RUMBLE!

The voice was perceptible only to him as the auras of powerful experts all but disappeared, the sighs of the two maids being heard behind them as the Princess turned towards Noah and spoke with none of the shyness she showed to the powerful General she called Uncle .

"Haaa, you've benefited a lot while nearly getting me in trouble, Alexander . "

Noah heard this sonorous voice filled with power as he smiled and replied . "I told you that I would owe you a favor, and I'll be sure to honor it . "

"Mmm . I know you're anxious to continue looking at the techniques you received from the Inheritance so I won't keep you for long . I'll be returning to the castle to make sure my old man doesn't rescind my freedom again . " The veiled Anna looked towards Maya and Raya as they each nodded while giving careful looks to Noah, the two of them having been surprised by him too many times in the past few days!

Anna placed her hands on the two maids as Noah could feel her mischievous eyes lock with his behind the veil, the area they were in beginning to vibrate rapidly as this Princess was about to take off along with her maids .

"I'll be sure to put such an interesting genius like you to use soon enough to reclaim that favor . Hold on to this and wait for my call~"

BOOM!

Noah only heard a sonic boom as the three figures in front of him disappeared, his hand grabbing onto a glimmering green-gold medallion the princess had left behind before she streaked away .

Like this, the commotion that played out in the Imperial Library which caused multiple experts at the Realm of Black Hole to come check out resolved itself, leaving Noah some time to himself as he expectantly looked towards the abilities contained in the Inheritance of the Law of Life, as well as he himself checking out the Primeval tree that was taking root within his Nebula!

Chapter 648: 648

On top of {The Doctrine of Life}, the Inheritance he received from the third floor of Imperial Library included numerous other skills that were being classified into a skill tree and an Absolute Skill in his stat panel.

His eyes shone with ever-increasing brilliance as he teleported away from the skies near the Imperial Library and appeared in the mountains where Master Zeke had led them through to go towards the Devouring Hells Rift, hiding his aura and body as he went down towards the thick trees abundant with greenery all around them.

"Ahh..." He couldn't help but release a comfortable breath as he came in contact with the abundant vegetation of the mountain he went down in, his newly gained essence of Life brimming as the grasses around him became greener and flowers bloomed not too far away!

He felt the vibrant life force around him as his eyes glanced at the other skills that came with the techniques of the Law of Life, starting with the Absolute Skill.

<<Life's Apostle>> :: An absolute skill utilized by a being proficient in the Ultimate Law of Life. Abilities include [Life Essence Endowment], [Law Resonance and Enhancement] [Ultra Speed Regeneration],[Life Link], and [Origin Repair].

A set of gorgeous abilities contained in an Absolute Skill laid out in front of his eyes as he went through their details with much enthusiasm. [Ultra Speed Regeneration] was fairly straight forward, granting the user the capability to rapidly heal and regenerate at the expense of Life Essence, with the effect only becoming more monstrous the more of the Law of Life one comprehended.

[Law Resonance and Enhancement] was another unique one that explained why the primeval tree within his Origin caused a reaction with the Origins of other laws, this ability actually showing the supremacy of an Ultimate Law!

[Law Resonance and Enhancement] :: An Ultimate Law stands above all those underneath it, where the being who cultivates it becomes able to traverse through all lesser laws with great speed. +500% to Universal Law Comprehension and Assimilation, +500% to the abilities and effectiveness of all lesser laws. (The skill is currently being enhanced by the [Life] ability under the [Primeval Tree of Old-Yggdrasil].)

A great boost, and one that simply made Noah even more terrifying as he saw the rate at which his Fire and Water spun increased even more, with the other Origins of Laws also increasing at a more rapid rate.

There was also the sentence in parenthesis that explained how the enormous boosts of the ability were coming from the Skill Tree that Noah had not viewed fully yet, but had simply dumped all the required skill points into as whatever effects it had were being fully given out even at this moment. But he would fully go over this new skill tree with the shocking name of [Primeval Tree of Old- Yggdrasil] later, as he would first focus on the abilities under the Absolute Skill.

Next up was the ability of [Origin Repair] that was even more straightforward as it gave a being comprehending the Law of Life the capability to repair Origins!

Such a thing was extremely rare, and Life Law Masters were a rare class that was much wanted in all factions. Noah thought about a certain Old Man in the Novus Galaxy as he looked at the descriptions of [Origin Repair], but his eyes moved to the last two abilities that just seemed to shine more than any others.

[Life Essence Endowment] :: The user can utilize their comprehension in the Law of Life to release endowment over a certain area, being able to cause the Revitalization and Enhancement of this area as all beings within it experience the vibrant essence of life. The ability can only be utilized over areas that the user has control of. An Endowed Area gains the boosts of +1000% Increased Atmospheric Essence, +500% Increased Universal Law Essence, +500% Increased Universal Laws Comprehension, and +100% Increased Life Force for all creatures residing in this area after a certain amount of time. (The skill is currently being enhanced by the [Life] ability under the [Primeval Tree of Old- Yggdrasil] Skill Tree.)

[Life Link] :: The user can connect their life essence with another being of a similar existence. Once linked, they are able to expand their individual strengths and draw them together in a union, allowing them to achieve untold power. (The skill is currently being enhanced by the [Life] ability under the [Primeval Tree of Old- Yggdrasil] Skill Tree.)

Life Link was something unique that might have a use in the future, but [Life Essence Endowment] was the thing that made Noah's eyes tremble with power as he thought of the possibilities!

The Atmospheric Essence boost...the Universal Law Essence boost and comprehension...the increase in Life Force! It all showed boundless possibilities with far-reaching effects depending on how it was used...

But whatever possibilities he thought of in the Nexus Galaxy, he could not carry them out here as from the details of [Life Essence Endowment] that granted enormous boosts to an Endowed Area, he could only use this skill on an area that was considered under his control!

So he could not do anything in the Nexus Galaxy, but his other body in the Novus Galaxy...

In the Novus Galaxy, a star shaking green light just recently died down as his body in the Infinite Realm just finished cultivating using {The Doctrine of Life} and establishing his own Primeval Tree within his origin, feeling the abundant strength as he teleported above the Infinite Realm while thinking about the newly gained [Life Essence Endowment].

He could utilize this skill on a World or Realm he was connected to, but why stop there?!

His eyes were shining with a gold-green l.u.s.ter as an idea took root in his mind, sending a shocking message to the core of the Novus Galaxy thereafter.

"With my connection to the Infinite Realm and the Realm's connection to you, can the Novus Galaxy be considered something under my control?"

[In a sense. You want to try...?]

The core of the Novus Galaxy already knew of the abilities Noah had received from the <<Life's Apostle>> Absolute Skill, and saw the grandness and craziness in Noah wanting to try on something that was simply too massive!

Any other being that learned the techniques of the Law of Life and could utilize [Life Essence Endowment] would most likely be able to use this technique over a small specified area the size of a room, or at most a house as such a skill used enormous amounts of essence to put in practice.

Even General Zadan, the Black Hole expert who came when Noah caused the commotion in the Imperial Library- told him that he would be sought after for the ability to [Endow] area after he reached Authority in the law of Life, which meant that the span of an area that Life Law masters could endow must have been extremely minuscule, and was only at a decent level after they passed the 50% mark in the Law of Life that they could utilize the skill proficiently.

It was a skill that granted ridiculous boosts to the Endowed Area, and thus its cost was also naturally just as high! Yet Noah did not want to try out this skill over an area the size of a house or even a football field, or even a World or a Realm at that...

He wanted to cast [Life Essence Endowment] over an entire Galaxy!

[It would normally be an impossible thing, but with Infinite Mana...what is to stop you?]

RUMBLE!

Raging waves of fate and chaos erupted out just from the daring thought of this, Noah's figure disappearing from the Infinite Realm as he teleported to the area in the Letalis Expanse that Aldrich had shattered some time ago.

His eyes couldn't hold in his excitement as golden-green lights vibrantly shone from them, his body being enveloped in the essence of a Grand Controller as he stepped into the boundary of the Novus Galaxy and went outside of it!

WAA!

His body felt the pervading darkness and terrifying might of the Chaotic Void for the first time as he stepped out, the essence of a Grand Controller protecting him with ease as he turned around to observe a barely discernible barrier of an entire Galaxy.

His hands lay on this barrier of the Novus Galaxy as he was about to do something wild, something that nobody else in the Dark Universe ever thought of doing, something that even the most powerful beings who delved into the law of Life could not do!

This was because multiple strict conditions were required to do it, and Noah met all of them! To be in control of the area he wanted to apply the shocking skill to? Check. To have the mana required to carry it out? Check. To cast a skill capable of affecting an entire Galaxy? Big f.u.c.k.i.n.g check!

He could do it, and so he did.

With his hands placed on the Boundary of the Novus Galaxy, he called out simply as a smile erupted on his face, a shockingly luminous light beginning to shine out in the Chaotic Void.

[Life Essence Endowment].

A single skill.

A burst of glimmering green light.

The rest...is history.

RUUUUUUUUUUMBLEEEEE!!!

Chapter 649: 649

RUUUUUUUUUUMBLEEEEE!!!

In the Chaotic Void where the Novus Galaxy lay, intense vibrations were quaking out as an aura of immensity came to fruition .

It wasn't an aura of a powerful being or an attack, but the pure aura of Mana that was just being used in obscene amounts!

With the successful activation of the [Life Essence Endowment] ability as all its conditions were met, a pure and blinding green light had begun to permeate from the boundary where Noah laid his hands as it began to spread out rapidly .

Inside his very Origin where a Primeval Tree had taken root, his Nebulae was trembling as the immense amount of mana coursed through it and into the Tree, and this Tree was shooting off the enormous amounts of Life Essence required to bring the [Life Essence Endowment] ability to full fruition over its target that was an entire Galaxy!

To make this possible, a ridiculous amount of Life Essence was required, and the Primeval Tree budding in Noah's Nebula was only at the stage of 5% comprehension in the Law of Life, and had not grown to a stage where it could freely release such vast amounts of Life Essence in such a short period of time .

Yet it was being forced to do so as the Primeval Tree took the endless Mana from Noah's Nebula and did something it normally would not do- it directly converted his mana into Life Essence as the ancient tree simply acted like a funnel, taking in one form of energy and converting it another!

Normally, one would have to absorb the essence of their surroundings, which was the essence of the universe, in order for this to be converted into the essence of a law as one gained more and more comprehension . One could even progress faster in a law if they were in a location dense with that law's particles, similar to the Law Spaces present in Noah's Infinite Realm .

This was why Noah could not simply use his endless mana and pump it into a particular law until it reached 100% comprehension, as that was not how one could traverse through the laws- the essence of the surrounding universe was required, and this was why they were called 'universal laws'!

Yet at this moment, the amount of essence required to carry out the [Life Essence Endowment] could simply not be absorbed enough from the surrounding space, and as the ancient tree simply had not grown enough to have the reserves of Life Essence to carry out the skill at this moment, it had to take the next available source of energy- which was Noah's own mana as it endlessly pumped out Life Essence to bring to fruition the skill that met all of its requirements .

This caused for a shocking scene that should not have been possible, where as the ancient tree pulsed and released more and more essence, its branches became even thicker and more numerous as resplendent leaves grew, each one only making the release of Life Essence faster as in Noah's stat panel- one could shockingly observe the percentage of mastery in the Law of Life rising at a visible rate every second!

5 . 5% . . . 6% . . . 6 . 5% . . .

The surrounding Chaotic Void quaked as the essence nearby rushed towards Noah and into the Primeval Tree, but it made a very low percentage as his mana went to provide more than 95% of what was required .

WAAA!

A magisterial occurrence was happening at this moment as the ecstatic light of Life fully erupted out with wild abandon, being fueled by endless mana as it went on to cover an entire Galaxy!

In a region unknown Light Years away, an Entity was floating near an extremely dangerous area in the Chaotic Void that held horrendous gravitational forces which would easily tear apart the defense of being multiple levels above the Nebula Rank .

This Entity was actually floating next to an enormous Black Hole as his gigantic figure seemed smaller than a grain of sand, a Black Hole so large that it was a few thousand Light Years in size!

To understand the sheer grandness of this, one must recall that 1 Light Year was 6 Trillion Miles . A small Galaxy could range at about a radius of a few thousand Light Years to tens of thousands of Light Years or even more, and there were actually numerous Black Holes within any Galaxy you came across .

This could be a lesson to some, but there were varying numbers and sizes of Black Holes in every galaxy, with many stellar black holes being very difficult to even detect . Yet this Black Hole that covered the sight of this entity neared the size of a few thousand light years! That was a few thousand light years times 6 Trillion just to understand this in terms of miles!

Such a sizable Black Hole would have been enough to release a shocking gravitational force that would have sucked in anything entering its fringes, yet a unique power seemed to exist that caused the terrifying effects of this Black Hole to only reach a few million miles away, its fearsome force actually not expanding thereafter! Only when one entered its peripheries would they feel its terrifying force . . .

Even this Entity with his extremely large stature was extremely minuscule in front of this Black Hole, yet his body and soul were not ruptured or destroyed by the terrifying forces being released from it as he entered its range .

He was ever so slowly using his essence to get closer into the Black Hole while also trying not to be completely absorbed and turned to dust by it, his gaze actually locked on to a glistening red page that seemed to be ignoring the horrendous forces of the Black Hole and was floating peacefully in its periphery .

The entity was risking his life as his face seemed extremely annoyed at the location that this shocking page, this page from the Book of Ruination- chose to hide at!

He had already been trying to go towards it for the past days, the current page he held leading him to this location as he got ready to obtain two pages from the Book of Ruination . Yet at this point, this shocking Entity had to come to a stop as he looked towards a certain region, his head turning back as he seemed to barely glimpse the instantaneous shine of a brilliant green light .

"Hmm?"

His interest was piqued as he had lived for many years in the Chaotic Void, and he knew what a light such as that blinking from such vast distances in the Chaotic Void meant .

"Which fool is using such a large amount of mana right now?"

The shocking question was more to himself as he wondered, the flash of light he observed being something that would only come about from a powerful entity utilizing a terrible skill which could be a final attack to release a force strong enough to obliterate a Galaxy without even going inside it to search for its vulnerable core!

"Did one of those puny Galactic Rulers overstep their boundaries and anger an Entity capable of freely releasing their essence like this? Hmmm..."

The Entity was curious about this light as he saw it fading away, where he knew that if he chose to follow it at this moment, he would be able to observe the shocking scene of its origin . But he was so close to another page from the Book of Ruination as he shook his head and spoke in a somber tone .

"Oh well, no matter . Whatever galaxy rises and falls is of no consequence, being something that has happened countless times over the eons . What truly matters is strength, and the Tools of Ruination . . . that is strength!"

RUMBLE!

His body shone with a unique luster as he proceeded forward, his eyes focused once more on the glimmering page floating innocently not too far from him .

The light that this Entity had observed was clear in his eyes because he was actually not too many Light Years away, where he was actually in a unique position of being able to follow the source of the light to its Origin .

It just so happened that other Entities like it also observed this light, but it was even more brief for them as they were a countless number of light years away, and even if they wanted to follow it to its source, they couldn't!

But each of the Entities reacted in their own ways as they wondered- just which entity was so freely using such large amounts of mana that would cause for the light of whatever ability they used to flash countless Light Years away?

This would forever remain a question to them and in the future, some would even greatly regret that they had not done all they could to check the source of this light on this fateful day!

Chapter 650: 650

Throughout the Novus Galaxy, waves of immense essence were spreading out wildly as they permeated through every planet and Realm, through every crevice and hole!

Waves of immense green light would wash over the expansive areas, as what followed thereafter was an abundant emergence of essence as the Atmospheric Essence, Universal Law Essence, Universal Laws Comprehension, and the Life Force for all creatures residing in the Novus Galaxy were all increased heavily .

In the Central Realm, the first Infernal Lord was overlooking the vast numbers of Infernals now freely moving around the Realm without any restriction, their essence of destruction having been reduced as they now tried to forge their own path .

Yet she felt the immense green wave wash over her as the surroundings erupted with essence of all different colors, feeling her Origin thrum with excitement as she felt abundant life force course through her!

Even though she was a vessel that the Novus Galaxy could use to more easily express her will, she still wasn't aware that Noah had begun doing something crazy which would cause this- so she was just as surprised as every other being in the Novus Galaxy .

Her eyes shook as she looked towards the vast Central Realm and saw this pervading green light filled with the aura of life washing over everything, the already abundant essence in the Central Realm bursting out melodiously as it approached dangerous levels where the particles nearly became solidified to be visible to the naked eye!

In the Infinite Realm, Barbatos was looking at her army of Undead she was raising as she now saw their bodies thrumming with the essence of Life, their bones becoming tougher than the strongest metals as they glanced towards her with glee .

She felt the abundant life force erupt within her as well as she observed the changes in the surroundings, receiving messages from numerous other Harbingers of Sin that this was occurring nearly everywhere!

Barbatos and all the other beings under Noah felt this enormous change as their minds only had a single culprit that could cause all of this, but it still did not prevent them from being overly shocked as the phenomenon this time was simply too enormous and large scale .

+1000% Increased Atmospheric Essence, +500% Increased Universal Law Essence, +500% Increased Universal Laws Comprehension, and +100% Increased Life Force for all creatures residing in the Novus Galaxy!

Such were the crazy boosts being applied throughout the Novus Galaxy, and the being conducting this skill in question was undergoing enormous changes himself as around him, abundant lines of fate wanted to rush towards him even though he had already met the 10 million max capacity, so the even wilder Chaos particles rushed towards him in hundreds of thousand as what he was currently doing at this moment was too significant and affected too many things .

THUMP!

As Noah felt the Primeval Tree within his Nebula pulse with even more strength and grow ever larger while budding even more branches and leaves, he saw that his comprehension in the Law of Chaos was shooting up faster with every second as he shockingly saw it would soon reach 100% in just a matter of seconds...

He had nearly 7 million Chaos Particles just a few minutes ago, yet he was now already past 9 million as he neared the complete comprehension of 100% of a Supreme Law, gaining more than 3 million Chaos Particles in just a few seconds as the effects of the [Life Essence Endowment] continued to permeate throughout the Novus Galaxy!

It was a maddening sight that would make all geniuses go green with envy as this was not all, the even more shocking thing was his progression in the Ultimate Law of Life that was even harder than a Supreme Law to traverse .

Within his vibrant Nebula, the roots of the Primeval Tree were stably spreading throughout the forged stars, its branches growing in numbers and size as the trunk only became thicker, its leaves shining with all sorts of colors as it was absorbing the essence in the surrounding, the essence of laws, and even more of Noah's own mana .

As it cycled all of this essence to provide the Life Essence required to carry out the [Life Essence Endowment] skill over the span of an entire Galaxy, the percentage of the Law of Life was showing a rapid increase in Noah's stat panel as it had already risen to 25%!

Let's take a step back here and breathe a bit . . .

One might not realize it after watching Noah's feats so many times, but comprehending laws was actually very hard!

It took a great deal of effort and time! This was especially so for an Ultimate Law, where powerful entities spent their entire lifetimes without being able to master it .

Yet Noah had comprehended 5% the first time he initiated its cultivation, and on the same day as he cast a skill that affected something as grand as an entire galaxy, the comprehension on his stat panel rose by 20%! He had ridiculously garnered over 25% in an Ultimate Law just a few hours after he began cultivating in it!

Where were those that called themselves geniuses? Where were those who thought they were talented?

They would pale in comparison to Noah as he stood in a realm of Genius that could not even be classified!

But this wasn't all! The Ultimate Law of Life still had another ability contained in the Absolute Skill that dealt with other laws .

[Law Resonance and Enhancement] :: An Ultimate Law stands above all those underneath it, where the being who cultivates it becomes able to traverse through all lesser laws with great speed . +500% to Universal Law Comprehension and Assimilation, +500% to the abilities and effectiveness of all lesser laws . (The skill is currently being enhanced by the [Life] ability under the [Primeval Tree of Old-Yggdrasil] .)

This singular skill meant that as he neared 100% comprehension in the Law of Chaos because of the vast amounts of chaos his action of Endowing an entire Galaxy would bring, his other Laws were shooting up at extreme speeds as well!

Nothing as fast as the Law of Chaos, but as the Primeval Tree within Noah's Nebula pulsed and drank more essence, the Nebulae of the Laws of Fire and Water forged even more stars within them as the Origin cores of Light, Dark, Earth, and Air spun and grew ever larger .

Aether particles rampantly entered as the layers of Space and the fabric of Time shook . . . every single law he cultivated being enhanced rapidly on this day as the [Life Essence Endowment] skill completed its effect!

As the luminous green light covering an entire Galaxy died down, the man responsible was shining with resplendent arrays of light in the Chaotic Void as he somehow managed to come out with the biggest boon than everyone else . . .
