Chapter 761 - The Primal Holy Land Shall Open! II

"Wow, the younguns are particularly feisty and full of energy!"

RUMBLE!

Before the essence from the Aileron Prince could build up any further, the strong voice of the Holy Emperor reverberated as he appeared in the ballroom with the Primal Emperor next to him, these two personages releasing extremely oppressive atmospheres as the attention of the entire room was demanded to go towards them.

The nearly bursting essence of the Aileron Prince died down as he received a look from the Primal Emperor, pulling back as the voice of the Holy Emperor resounded again.

"Gather around everyone. Before we jump into the festivities, I have a grand announcement to make that involves the joining of our two Ancient Powers, as well as...our Primal Holy Land!"

The words of the Holy Emperor took the attention of all the beings as the topics mentioned within were of high importance, many beings forgetting what just occurred as they focused on the figure of the Holy Emperor that moved to the very forefront.

The gaze of the Holy Emperor passed through many of the important figures in the ballroom before he continued.

"First is the news of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter and the Primal Winged Expanse coming together as allies, this alliance starting off by the engagement of my Granddaughter Anna...and Prince Kirigan of the Primal Winged Expanse!"

RUMBLE!

"What..!"

"The new Holy Princess...?"

Murmurs spread throughout with this announcement, a grand light coming to shine on the 4 meter tall Prince Kirigan as another light shone on Anna who was still behind Noah!

Even though these two figures were supposed to be on the spot light at this moment, many could not help but bring their eyes to notice the figure of Noah that was standing between the Prince of the Primal Winged Expanse and the Holy Princess.

Such were the effects of the Protagonist Trait!

Even the Holy Emperor looked at this in passing as he looked at the genius he needed to tie to him, and as she saw that he seemed close to his Granddaughter and Daughter, it shouldn't have been too much a problem. He only had a light smile as he continued, the next thing he would be saying being granted even more importance as his oppressive aura spread out even more.

"To commemorate the beginning of this new chapter...I shall be opening our Primal Holy Land once more as the younger generation can step in to test their luck with the Legacy left behind by the Great Sage!"

"This time, our genius Summoners will be accompanied by the young generation from the Primal Winged Expanse as we get closer together, the storms to come in the future being nothing to stand against us!"

This shocking announcement had many beings shocked as cheers erupted thereafter, sharp lights passing through the eyes of the powerful figures of the Aileron Race as their Primal Emperor laughed jovially while raising a toast.

"To the alliance of our Ancient Powers!"

"To the alliance!"

THRUUM!

Essence bubbled forth as these experts celebrated, many intricacies lying behind the decisions and happenings as on the surface, many beings just knew that two Ancient Powers were coming together.

"Let's feast!"

The celebration began in full swing as beings came to converse with each other, Prince Kirigan turning around to see his soon be bride only to notice her already walking away with the figure of Noah towards the delicacies on the many tables of this ballroom.

His cold gaze contained many thoughts as a few other beings of the delegation from the Primal Winged Expanse came around him, sending telepathic messages with each other as they enjoyed the delicacies around them!

"Haha Brother Kirigan, are you really jealous of that puny human? Although he is a genius by their standards, even the Holy Emperor has promised his daughter to you."

The one to speak was another magnificent winged Aileron Royalty, his eyes containing a hint of mischief as he wanted to stir things up.

Prince Kirigan only smiled as he replied.

"I just don't like flies hanging around my food, that's all."

These cold words were said as the eyes of the Aileron Royals saw the group of Noah, Anna, and Anastasia finally go towards the Holy Emperor. Yet the telepathic messages of the mischievous Aileron Royal continued.

"I know you prefer playing around with the humans, but are you sure the Princess can handle you? I don't know if her Physique can hold on like all the others!"

The Aileron Royalty voiced out telepathically as a light laugh escaped his lips, Prince Kirigan only smiling coldly as he replied.

"Let's wait to enter their Primal Holy Land first, in there, I can truly show any flies what it means to be king."

...

As new faces were introduced to each other, a grand feast was being enjoyed as delicacies of all types were served out!

Ranging from rare fruits that took tens of years to mature, all the way to glistening Mythical Void Turtle meat and barbecued Phoenix Wings...a truly rare selection was being enjoyed by the higher ups of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter and the Primal Winged Expanse.

In the midst of all of this, many beings were getting acquainted with the horrendous genius that appeared in the Holy Descendant Selection, the being known as Alexander!

The more shocking thing about this being was how he was being taken around by the Holy Princess Anastasia and her daughter, his demeanor around them seemingly as if he had the higher status between the three of them!

Even the Holy Emperor noticed this scene as when the three of them went towards him, he sent a telepathic message to his daughter to act proper- even though he was secretly glad that there seemed to be a strong bond between this genius who should have been a student of Anastasia. He then met the genius he wanted to rope into his power as in his eyes, he only saw the possible future of multiple Entities arising from this single being because of his PRISMATIC Summons.

When Noah faced this ruler of an Ancient Power, many thoughts crossed his mind as he observed Anastasia to give a slight bow. Anna remained standing straight as Noah merely nodded to show respect, neither servile nor overbearing as the Holy Emperor laughed at this scene and didn't take it to heart!

"The new genius Holy Descendant of my Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter! Come, let us know a bit more about you..."

The festivities continued as Noah mingled with truly powerful beings, a few of them being ridiculously powerful Entities that he couldn't hope to match at this moment.

Yet, he had successfully inserted himself into the Ancient Power in just a single day, where he was currently introduced with its Ruler and Royalty!

On top of this, there was the delegation of another Ancient Power that seemed to be saying different words than what they truly intended, his Eyes of Truth catching the intricacies of many things.

Even further, there was the opening of the Primal Holy Land that apparently contained the Legacy of a Great Sage...

There were a lot of moving pieces, but it was bound to be a fruitful adventure!

Chapter 762 - You think I need protection?!

The night was lively as esteemed personages enjoyed themselves, the event going through the entire night and spilling into the next day as to these experts, it didn't matter whether it was day or night!

Noah got the chance to truly open up his eyes to how those in Ancient Powers celebrated, much of the night being accompanied by Anna and Anastasia as the Holy Children of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter tried to get closer to him.

When the celebration neared its end, he received word from Anastasia that the Holy Emperor wished to meet him in private, his show of power having worked greatly as this Ruler of an Ancient Power truly wished to rope him in!

As Noah made his way towards a private meeting with the Holy Emperor while accompanied by the mother and daughter pair, the delegation of the Primal Winged Expanse was making their way out of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter with grand smiles on their faces.

The Primal Ruler was at the very forefront as his five pairs of wings shimmered with immense light. The wings of the Aileron Race represented status, and five pairs were the highest an Aileron could achieve! Even Prince Kirigan only held four pairs of wings at this moment as he had not reached his ultimate form.

The voice of this same Prince Kirigan rang out towards the Primal Emperor as they crossed the chaotic void.

"Grandfather, why would the Holy Emperor open up his Holy Land so easily?"

"He knows that the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter is gradually getting more and more cornered as 2 Ancient Powers are turning their eyes towards it. The rumors about them having an intact Sage's Legacy have truly brought them into peril..."

As the Primal Emperor mentioned the 'rumors', he had a mocking smile as this same being was one of the contributors of such things!

"I know he suspects me as well, but his hands are tied as with the move of inviting our young generation into the Primal Holy Land as well as announcing our alliance that begins by blood, he ties our two powers together while reducing the rumors to nothing as we will be able to see for ourselves that he doesn't have an intact Sage's Legacy- that old fool is as wise as ever!"

"As it will be known that our two powers have explored the Primal Holy Land together, any attacks that the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter faces will be shared by my Primal Winged Expanse as well. But what my dear Brother Windsor does not know is that I could give a shit about his Sage's Legacy...what I want is something that even at this time he thinks is a secret...I want the Ruination Core within his grasp!"

RUMBLE!

The 10 eyes on the five pairs of wings of the Primal Emperor shone with a golden l.u.s.ter as he released a horrendous pressure, the faces of the Aileron Royals behind him lighting up as they looked towards each other with great smiles.

"The coming cataclysm will not be survived by any stupid Legacies or the minor comprehensions in the Dao...the only solution is the Tools of Ruination that began everything in the first place."

The delegation from the Primal Winged Expanse left while discussing a great deal of things, another meeting taking place at the same time back in the draconic shaped Expansive Holy Land as Anastasia led Noah into yet another grand castle.

He seemed to be jumping from one majestic castle into another as this current one wasn't filled with servants all around, but seemed quiet and empty as he could only sense a single aura- an aura of a terrifying Entity more powerful than the many he had come across!

He was brought into this castle that had a garden at the middle of it, a single Holy Emperor standing within this garden as he turned towards them with a smile as he spoke to Anastasia and Anna.

"Leave us."

RUMBLE!

His word was an undeniable command as Anastasia turned around right away, only Anna remaining as her mother pulled her back with her a moment later while sending a telepathic message towards her.

'He's not in any danger. He's actually safest by the side of the man that wants to rope him in the most.'

As the mother and daughter pulled back, Noah glanced at this Holy Emperor that had already begun speaking as he looked at the vibrant garden around him.

"I haven't come across a being like you in my lifetime, where even now I don't know how you were able to summon three PRISMATIC Summons."

Noah remained quiet as he listened, walking into the garden with arms behind his back as he put on airs even while in front of this Holy Emperor!

This being looked towards him with a smile as he sensed this scene, continuing with the same tone thereafter.

"Such accomplishments have also made you very proud it seems, where even someone such as me isn't even placed in your eyes it seems. But I will tell you now that this attitude...will bring you countless troubles in the future!"

"Yes, you are a genius, but you are young and haven't grown! There are many enemies all around that can very easily take your life!"

THRUM!

With these words, the Holy Emperor released a terrifying air as dense swirls of the essence of the Dao of Summoning descended unto him, his figure metaphorically becoming bigger in front of Noah's eyes as he seemed as vast and stable as a holy mountain!

"I want to provide you with the protection you need as you grow, as well as all the resources you can think of. All I want from you is your allegiance once you reach the rank of an Entity, as this will strengthen our Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter even further."

Noah glanced towards this being that was vibrating with power. This was an Entity that stood at the top of an Ancient Power, a being that commanded multiple Galaxies and was greatly proficient in the Dao of Summoning as even his Pets were in the Peak Tier GALAXY Realm as they were Entities themselves.

Yet as he stood next to this being...Noah wasn't afraid!

This was more so because of all of his abilities from the Protagonist Trait, but also because of the many unique uses of the Ruination Core that he had with him. Aside from the great percentages when it came to laws and Daos, it also had great offensive and defensive abilities. He looked at these stupendous affixes as he calmly uttered shockingly domineering words in front of the Ruler of an Ancient Power.

"You think I need protection and resources from others to grow?"

RUUUMBLE!

Chapter 763 - Why can I not be arrogant!

"You think I need protection and resources from others to grow?"

BOOM!

The words were like a thunderclap in the ears of the Holy Emperor, his gaze on this being turning cold as he shook his head with a hint of disappointment, realizing that genius truly came at a price- and this being was too prideful!

Such pride was the downfall of many geniuses, and he thought this being that his daughter brought would be above that.

As the gaze of the Holy Emperor turned cold, Noah's eyes were glancing at the Miscellaneous Affixes of the Ruination Core he had equipped.

Ruination Core Affixes :: 10% chance to Smite enemies for 10,000% Ruination Damage when you hit them, Slain enemies explode into crystallized Blood Orbs that enhance physical constitution, +10,000 to All Damage, +10,000 to Defense, +10,000 to Attack and Cast Speed, Damage Dealt to enemies increases by 10% for every enemy near 50 meters of you, Slain enemies have a 10% chance to drop Dao Crystals based on the Dao they cultivate, Every attack deals an extra 100% Ruination Damage, 25%chance on killing an enemy to cause an explosion of Cores, Every successful attack increases Cast and Attack speed by 1% for 5 minutes-capable of stacking up to 10,000 times, The act of not taking damage for 10 seconds grants a Ruination Shield capable of withstanding a single strike from a Sage...

The Miscellaneous Affixes were many, and would fill up multiple pages if they were all to be listed. But Noah stopped after the Affix he was currently interested in the most, the one that stupidly granted him a Ruination Shield that could withstand the basic attack of a Sage as long as he did not take any damage for 10 seconds!

The only question that remained in Noah's mind was how many strikes from an Entity were equivalent to a single strike of a Sage?

This would be something he would learn in the future as at this time, he switched out the +10,000% increased comprehension and assimilation in the Dao of Summoning and added the affix that granted him a Ruination Shield as long as he didn't take damage for 10 seconds.

RUMBLE!

Essence silently thrummed within his origin as his eyes glanced at the cold faced Holy Emperor.

"Just a few months back, I embarked on the path of strength by awakening as the weakest hunter of my planet. Only weeks passed before I became the strongest on that planet, and a few more weeks passed before I began conquering nearby planets!"

Noah's gaze was calm as he seemed to be reminiscing, his words continuing grandly.

"A few more weeks passed...and I became the strongest in my Galaxy. Yet just this wasn't enough as in the past few weeks, I've embarked on a path outside of my Galaxy as I search for greater strength! During this entire time...I didn't require the protection or resources of anyone- I just took what I came across as I have now embarked on a Dao, and I have summoned three PRISMATIC Summons from my own efforts."

SHAA!

As soon as his words finished, 10 seconds had passed as around his body, a circular transparent shield that held a tinge of red began to form, Noah using his Unique Origin ability to make the forming Ruination Shield invisible to others as his eyes locked with the Holy Emperor.

"With my skills, I expect to rise to the rank of an Entity in just a matter of weeks as I will move unhindered in the Dark Universe. Why should I seek allegiance to your Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter? Why should I not hold my head high with pride? Why can I not be arrogant!"

RUMBLE!

His words caused an air of majesty to leak out of him, the Holy Emperor squinting his eyes as he saw the same aura of a Ruler appear on this being in front of him! An aura of someone that held a great deal of responsibility on his shoulders, someone meant for a great future out of their wildest dreams.

Yet...the Holy Emperor still saw him as only a young child. This was because this genius was only of the QUASAR Realm, and yet he was throwing airs in front of an Entity multiple stages above him!

He had to enter and then pass the Low Tier, Middle Tier, and then ascend into the Peak Tier of the GALAXY Realm before he could even claim to stand at the same stage as the Holy Emperor, and yet his gaze at this moment was like he was talking to someone else at the same stage as him.

"You do not believe me."

Noah's words rang out as he glanced at the Holy Emperor at the corner of his eyes, this being currently holding an utterly disappointed expression as he was debating on what to do about him. Noah gave a light nod as he closed his eyes, speaking out with a languid expression.

"Very well. Since you do not think I can protect myself, why don't you try to harm me?"

"..."

The Holy Emperor glanced towards Noah with blank eyes as he thought his ears had gotten too old, his dark hair beginning to dance wildly as his sharp face became even more oppressive! He looked towards this genius as he decided to teach him a small lesson on arrogance, that no matter how amazing he was, he truly had not had the time to rise to a level of strength where he could talk in the same manner he was at this moment!

"Very well!"

RUMBLE!

Dao essence swirled around the Holy Emperor as he pushed out a palm.

It was a single palm that contained power at the Low Tier GALAXY Realm, the Holy Emperor wanting to only teach this genius a lesson to reform his arrogant view!

If one looked at this scene, they would be shocked to find a powerful Entity throwing out a palm filled with the essence of a Dao, the target of this palm standing calmly with his head raised as he didn't even bother dodging or utilizing any skill!

Chapter 764 - Merely Strikes From an Entity!

As his shimmering palm went towards a certain genius, the Holy Emperor saw that this being did not even dodge as he looked towards him with his head raised high. The thought of stopping did not enter the Holy Emperor as he pushed the ferocious palm forward, knowing it would at most injure this genius as he would need a day or two to recuperate.

Yet when the palm was inches away from Noah...

THRUM!

A soft force of expulsion occurred from the point of contact of the palm and a transparent barrier that was the Ruination Shield!

PAH!

The Holy Emperor felt a light force push him back as his Dao essence was sucked into nothingness, his eyes opening wide as he looked over to see the genius still standing without even lifting a hand, and yet he was pushed away!

"..."

A strike from an Entity...was pushed away!

"You are truly full of surprises..."

The gaze of the Holy Emperor became even more heated as he glanced towards Noah, his figure disappearing at a speed Noah could not even follow as he only felt another palm near him from behind.

PAH!

The strike was bounced away as the figure of the Holy Emperor disappeared from Noah's sight once more, in the next millisecond another strike appearing to his left as the scene repeated once more!

PAH! PAH! PAH!

5 strikes were released as Noah did nothing but stand still, his heart becoming chilly as the latter strikes felt extremely powerful that he knew they could heavily injure his physical body and origin if they were to land on him.

SHAA!

The figure of the Holy Emperor reappeared in front of Noah with a shocked look as his gaze towards him became truly unique, Noah himself sighing with relief as he felt the Ruination Shield would have shattered after it absorbed another 5 attacks!

This meant that one single strike from a Sage was the same as 10 strikes from an Entity! This was a rough estimation from Noah as it would vary depending on how deadly the attacks were, as well as who was dealing them. Yet his bet had paid off as the Holy Emperor of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter looked towards him incredulously, his eyes seemingly shooting off golden lights as he felt like he was looking at a pristine treasure he had to have!

Yet his emotions were thrown down once more as the arrogant voice of this genius rang out again.

"Merely some strikes from an Entity, they aren't enough to harm me!"

RUMBLE!

A domineering atmosphere no lesser than the Holy Emperor rumbled out with these words, the white robe of the Ruler of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter calming down as it stopped waving wildly, his energy retracting as he looked at this being with a calm gaze.

Many things seemed to pass through his mind as an entire minute passed while these two beings stared at each other, the Holy Emperor opening his mouth as he spoke with a calm expression thereafter.

"What do you want?"

A Ruler of an entire Ancient Power uttered these words to a QUASAR ranked being!

The Holy Emperor locked his gaze unto this being as he prepared himself for whatever crazy request this genius would bring forth. He was slightly apprehensive as his aged mind calculated the aims this being could have, many possibilities forming in his mind as he saw the lips of the horrendous genius open.

"I want...your daughter!"

"..."

The Holy Emperor looked towards Noah incredulously as he wondered once more if he had heard correctly.

"Are you serious?"

"...why doesn't that seem serious?" Noah tilted his head as he answered back quizzically! Of course, he couldn't tell this Ruler at this moment that he wanted to obtain the Ruination Core hidden somewhere in this Ancient Power, so he could only play around with his aims first!

The Holy Emperor saw this scene as he shook his head with yet another tinge of disappointment while waving his hands.

"That cannot be done, I've just promised her to the Aileron Prince of the Primal Winged Expanse."

"So what? Unpromise it." Noah's gaze was uncompromising as he also waved his hands and said this!

A brief lull occurred between the discussion as they seemed to come to an impasse before the Holy Emperor spoke once more.

"How about Anastasia? Your teacher-student relationship can bloom into something else."

"...no." Noah was nearly speechless as he thought about the poor adjudicator, this Holy Emperor giving away his daughters and granddaughter as if they were nothing! His eyes squinted as he voiced out his thoughts clearly.

"Why did you promise Anastasia to the Aileron Race before and your granddaughter now? Even if I was mentally inept, even I could obviously see that those from the Primal Winged Expanse have ulterior motives. Why give your own blood to them?"

A common sense question was given out as the gaze of the Holy Emperor turned cold, his voice coming out coldly thereafter as he seemed very clear on this as well.

"At the end of the day, it matters not their true or false intentions. Tying ourselves together means any more attacks we face from other Ancient Powers will have to be shouldered by the both of us. It is the most effective means to protect the trillions of lives under me, the most effective means to escape the coming Cataclysm!"

"..."

Noah silently pondered this answer as he replied with great disappointment himself!

"You would sacrifice your family for this?"

"Each of us has to make sacrifices. Those of us that rule Ancient Powers have a responsibility to shoulder that nobody else can imagine!"

The gaze of the Holy Emperor remained the same as he said this, Noah making the disappointment in his eyes clear as he voiced out slowly.

"What if I told you that I was a better power to tie yourself with in order to escape the coming Cataclysm?"

THRUM!

The words were so arrogant and domineering that essence erupted out from the mere mention of them, the Holy Emperor looking Noah up and down as he made sure he didn't miss something.

"You...? Yes, you're a genius. Yes, you have unique means that even I cannot explain. But in the grand scale of the Dark Universe...what can you do?"

The reply of the Holy Emperor seemed more like a challenge as Noah smiled grandly, his eyes lighting up as essence rumbled within his body!

Chapter 765 - A Fantastical Holy Land! I

He was merely a single being, so what could he do when it came to the grand stage of the Dark Universe where multiple Ancient Powers were embroiled?

What could be done against powerful Entities who had mastered Daos with some even Assimilating them?!

What could a mere Noah Osmont do to those holding Legacies of Sages and Great Sages?

To such a challenge, Noah only smiled as his eyes locked with the Holy Emperor.

"Time will tell. You made the engagement a year away, yes? All I will need is a few weeks or months. You'll naturally see if my words are just boasting then!"

RUMBLE!

Even the surroundings seemed to hold Noah's words accountable as space trembled, the Holy Emperor squinting his eyes as he nodded.

"Alright, it is only but a small period of time. Until then, you are of my Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter, and you will be a part of the group descending into the Primal Holy Land that I will open in two days. With your genius, you might be able to find something good there...and your arrogant attitude might even be ground away!"

The two men looked at each other with the same gazes, this staring contest continuing for a whole minute as each of them had their own thoughts.

To the Holy Emperor, it mattered not whether Noah's words were true or false, just that he would have this genius tied to him! All he had to do was wipe away the pride that seemed to be dripping from every word this genius said.

As for Noah, he would be getting access to a Land that apparently had the Legacy of a Great Sage as he was given more time and even the resources he denounced for him to just grow. It was a win-win for everyone, thus they came to an understanding!

In the next days, a solemn atmosphere overtook the central regions of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter as multiple Holy Descendantants were chosen to enter the Primal Holy Land.

Among them, the new genius known as Alexander and even the Holy Princess Anna were included!

The party from the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter consisted of many genius summoners of the younger generation, with the levels ranging from Black Hole all the way to the Low Tier GALAXY Realm.

This party would be accompanied by the Aileron Royals of the Primal Winged Expanse, these Royals also holding similar levels of strength as the chosen ones already arrived at the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter a day before the Primal Holy Land would open.

When the day came for the Primal Holy Land to open, Noah was standing on a mystical garden of the castle designated to him as he stared out into the open world around him, his senses picking up the auras of Anastasia and Anna flying in as he knew it was time.

He flew up to meet them as he observed the stern face of Anastasia who spoke while stroking the vibrant crimson hair of Anna.

"Take care of her in there. I've only visited the Primal Holy Land once, and while there shouldn't be too much danger unless you delve deep into it, there are other sources of danger from those accompanying you."

She let out cautioning words as Noah smiled, nodding to let her know that he understood!

By the side, Anna shook her head in annoyance as this genius by her own right felt she could protect herself.

The two of them were led by Anastasia through multiple portals as they went deeper and deeper into the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter, gaining more knowledge about the Primal Holy Land on the way there.

This Primal Holy Land was said to be the Abode of the Great Sage that had fully comprehended and assimilated the Dao of Summoning, this Great Sage finding a unique realm where used his power of the fully assimilated Dao to summon forth numerous Animus Pets that could remain in the Realm without being contracted!

This Great Sage had been such a great genius that he recreated the environment of the Animus Universe within this small realm, setting up restrictions as all the Animus Pets he summoned within this Realm would remain there even if no being in the Dark Universe contracted them.

This was the Primal Holy Land! A land that a Great Sage made which held a great deal Animus Summons along with who knew how many secrets and treasures.

When the Great Sage perished, the Animus Summons within this Primal Holy Land turned wild and savage, attacking all those that entered indiscriminately.

The more that Noah heard about this land, the more his eyes lit up as in his mind, he just continued imagining piles and piles of loot just coming towards him!

He looked forward to finding out exactly what this land that had the Legacy of a Great Sage would bring as their figures arrived at the target location.

Noah saw that at this moment, they were actually in the belly region of the huge draconic shaped realm as his eyes caught the images of the two big bosses- the Primal Emperor and the Holy Emperor standing side by side.

Below them, the figures of Holy Descendants and Aileron Royals could be seen standing with vigor, their eyes shining as they looked towards a certain location where Noah's eyes saw...a crack in space!

Yet this crack in space held a shocking identity as his Eyes of Truth showed him its wonders.

[Secret Realm](Primal Holy Land) :: A unique Realm created by Great Sage Aoin. It holds within it a myriad of beings unique to animus summons, with the atmosphere of the Realm granting unique effects to such creatures. Within, Animus Summons gain the following effects: +100% Growth, +100% Bloodline Refinement, and +100% Battle Power.

A wondrous Realm and its amazing effects of Animus Summons appeared in front of Noah's eyes, the identity of the Great Sage that made this Realm also appearing in front of him!

Great Sage Aoin!

Noah hid his smile as he was ready to plunder whatever this supposed Great Sage left behind...

Chapter 766 - A Fantastical Holy Land! II

Within the belly of the draconic shaped Realm that was the core of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter, Noah was surrounded by powerful personages as he stared at a crack in space.

On one side, the Holy Emperor was standing behind 20 young experts from the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter. All of them were powerful and talented Animus Trainers that were all in the Low Tier GALAXY Realm, with five of them even being in the Middle Tier!

Looking at this scene, Noah couldn't help but send a telepathic message towards Anna.

"Surrounded by all these experts while at the Black Hole Realm- aren't you falling behind, princess?"

He couldn't help but tease her as her clear eyes turned towards him slightly, her voice ringing out in his mind soon after.

"Hmph, that old man has already given me a ton of treasures that will allow his dear granddaughter to breakthrough into the GALAXY Realm fast. I just haven't stooped down to use them!"

The Princess shot back as Noah's eyes shone at her words, sending her another message telling her that she shouldn't turn down free things that would raise her strength! He then continued to observe the surroundings of the crack that would lead into the Primal Holy Land as his eyes turned to the party of the Aileron Race.

They also had 20 beings, with the levels also all being in the Low Tier GALAXY, with 7 being in the Middle Tier. Within this party, the figure of Prince Kirigan could be seen standing majestically at the very center as the 4 meter tall stature shone with dominance.

"The Primal Holy Land is a grand opportunity to explore the home of the Esteemed Great Sage, a Realm who's time flow is 10 times faster than our own as a day out here is 10 days in there! Since the passing of the Great Sage, the Realm has developed restrictions to those in higher Realms, with Peak Tier GALAXY Realm beings not being able to remain inside for longer than a few minutes before they are ejected. Use this opportunity wisely as you raise your strength!"

The boisterous voice of the Holy Emperor rang out as his figure moved forward the moment that everyone arrived, his eyes grandly shining out beams of light as a single word was uttered while he stared at the crack in space.

"OPEN!"

THRUUM!

Space tumbled and quaked as a horrendous pressure descended, the forehead of the Holy Emperor splitting apart as a crack appeared on it, a blood red light shooting from this crack on his forehead as it went to connect to the crack in space!

The moment this occurred, the crack in space began expanding rapidly as it reflected back a red-gold light, this illumination getting brighter and brighter as in a matter of seconds, a gorgeous red gold portal began to form in front of everyone.

Noah's eyes shone as he stared at this portal that would lead into a Secret Realm, the Primal Holy Land of the Great Sage Aoin!

"You all can now enter!"

RUMBLE!

The grand voice of the Holy Emperor woke many up from their stupor as the Aileron Race Royals glanced towards their Primal Emperor as he gave a slight nod, the Holy Descendants from the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter already leading the way as Noah and Anna joined them.

The party of 40+ beings all in the Low and Middle stages of the GALAXY Realm all entered as only a few beings stayed behind to watch this scene!

Off to the side, Anastasia was watching all of this with worried eyes as she was not actually standing beside her father, but a woman that was veiled in the same manner as her- someone that was rarely seen even in the most prestigious events of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter.

"Mother, why don't you step in and talk to father? He might still listen to you."

Anastasia's voice was mild as she said this, the one beside her own mother who stayed enclosed in a castle the majority of the time. If one could see beneath her veil, they would notice that she had a sickly appearance even though her body released an aura at the GALAXY Realm! This veiled woman glanced at Anastasia with a light smile as she shook her head.

"You know him just as well as I do. After your father plans, all we can do is follow."

Words that Anastasia expected but didn't want to hear rang out, her head shaking in sadness as she glanced hopefully towards the disappearing figure of Noah that followed closely behind her daughter disappear into the wondrous red gold portal.

For those entering the red gold portal, they felt immense spatial disorientation as they were shuttled into an entirely different region, their sight only clearing up after a second as they appeared in colorful skies of a brand new realm.

Noah's eyes lit up as he gazed around him, noticing the skies to be tinged with an aurora of colors as a cloudy mist seemed to blanket above them with shimmering splendor!

Below them, an expansive mystical forest filled with lush greenery and vegetation lay, huge trees of all types with vibrant fruits being seen as the most fantastical thing of all...were the distant cries of beasts.

SHAAA!

Not too far from them in the skies, Noah observed a golden feathered bird streaking through, golden tongues of flames dancing behind it. Below, he could sense the movements of multiple beasts of the ground as the Realms of the nearest ones he could sense...ranged from Nebula and all the way to the Middle Tier GALAXY Realm!

"CAAA!"

A piercing screech resounded out at this instant as the golden feathered bird towering over 10 meters in height turned its fearsome gaze towards the newly appearing parties, its figure leaving behind only a flash of light as it thundered towards them.

Noah gazed at this creature that seemed to be in the Low Tier GALAXY as the Holy Descendants around him began summoning their pets, but a figure stepped out to meet this creature first as their body shimmered with a hazy grey l.u.s.ter, a swirl of dao essence rumbling from them as they threw out a fist to meet the coming golden ray of light!

BOOM!

In a magisterial fashion, the golden feathered bird was knocked back after a golden flash of light, everyone observing that half of its golden face was rapidly turning deathly as the fist that was thrown out to meet it contained the Dao of Withering!

WAA!

The 4 meter tall figure of Prince Kirigan floated grandly as he withdrew his fist, the light of the dao still swirling around him as he gazed towards this creature without any regard!

Chapter 767 - Wild Animus!

In the middle of the grand show of power, Noah turned his eyes of truth towards the golden feathered bird that was letting out resonant cries as the figure of Prince Kirigan descended onto it once more.

Golden Tailed Sparrow :: An Animus pet at the Low Tier GALAXY Realm. It is currently in a Disordered State as it has been restrained in the Secret Realm without being contracted. The Disordered State can only be dispelled when the restrictions of the Secret Realm that lock the Animus Summons in place are lifted and they return to the Animus Universe. This Golden Tailed Sparrow distinctly holds the bloodline of...

The details of the creature appeared easily in front of Noah's eyes as he figured out a few things. In the Secret Realm that the Great Sage Aoin created, there were a myriad of Animus Summons that were all in the Disordered State, attacking anything that wasn't of their species that they came across!

Great Sage Aoin had made this realm to be very similar to the environment of the Animus Universe when he was present, but with his passing the atmosphere of the realm just could not be kept the same as the Animus Summons within gradually became Wild Animus in a constantly Disordered State.

"CAAA!"

The Golden Tailed Sparrow let out a dying cry as after a few strikes from Prince Kirigan, its body that used to shimmer with golden light was gray and lifeless, falling from the skies and smashing into the ground soon after!

THRUM!

Prince Kirigan floated in the skies with a majestic presence thereafter as his Middle Tier GALAXY Realm aura spread out, turning his gaze towards everyone as he smiled brilliantly. His eyes turned towards Anna as he spoke out.

"Princess Anna, why don't we explore together? The dangerous beasts in here won't stand a chance as we can take this as a mere sightseeing experience to get to know each other."

His wings shone brilliantly with these words as the veiled Anna only craned her head to the side before she shook it.

"No thanks, I'll move with this little genius for now."

She replied calmly as she patted Noah's shoulder, his figure and hers beginning to part away from the group of 40 or so people as Noah only had a light smile on his face as he saw the worsening expression of Prince Kirigan!

Off to the side, the leading Holy Descendant in the Middle Tier GALAXY Realm had a troubled look as he voiced out before they could leave.

"Holy Princess, it might be better to stay in groups in case we ever get besieged by multiple beasts, especially when exploring deeper into the Realm." The words were of caution and care as the Holy Descendant looked around the fantastical realm that shone with mystical lights, while also containing powerful Wild Animus within- any of which might have embarked on a Dao if they were high leveled enough or held powerful bloodlines!

"It's fine, we'll see you guys in a bit." Anna's reply was impassive as she pulled Noah along, leaving behind the experts of both Ancient Powers who could only look at one another before they chose the directions to go towards.

Prince Kirigan remained in the air as dao essence swirled around him, the other Aileron Royals coming to float beside him as they spoke in cold tones.

"Truly not knowing what is good for them. Who in their right mind goes with a QUASAR Ranked child when compared to the Prince at the Middle Tier GALAXY Realm..."

The words only made the cold light in Prince Kirigan's eyes shine even more, voicing out calmly as he ushered them to move away.

"It seems I will be swatting away some flies in the near future..."

---

As the parties of the two Ancient Powers divided to move through the Primal Holy Land, Noah moved with Anna as he continued to observe the mystical sights of this secret realm he was in. He also felt a tinge of excitement as he could sense truly large amounts of Wild Animus within the GALAXY Realm, meaning he had found a place to farm for him to very quickly rise into the next Realm while keeping himself at Grand Completion.

His advancement meant even greater advancements for his pets, as well as the addition of 2 more slots when he advanced into the GALAXY Realm!

"Let's go down first." Noah spoke lightly as their figures went towards the dense greenery below them where he could sense even larger numbers of Wild Animus, his essence rumbling out as around them, three Animus Pets quickly made their appearance.

THRUM!

Appearing in a stellar fashion were the Mercurial Obsidian Panther, Colossal Helios Leviathan, and the fearsome Void Serpent as Noah only brought forth the PRISMATIC Pets and did not reveal the bear, chicken, and floating eye ball yet.

But just these pets would be more than enough to explore this Primal Holy Land as he slowly collected loot and explored its mysteries!

"Hmph, I've also contracted mine!"

WAA!

The Holy Princess Anna was not to be left behind as she released her first contracted pet, this one being a Rare Four Winged Unicorn that shone with a glimmering white l.u.s.ter. This powerful Black Hole rank princess holding the fearsome Vector Controller trait climbed atop this Four Winged Unicorn as her figure simply became even more aesthetically gorgeous.

"Wow, this place seems interesting. Master, I sense your strong battle intent, are we fighting? Who are we about to fight? Oh, these are similar to us but..." The rapid ramblings of the Mercurial Panther that was already flashing around wildly appeared as Noah nearly sighed, his eyes gazing below as he saw a group of QUASAR ranked Wild Animus called [Verdant Ox Bullion].

It was an entire herd of these creatures as Noah locked his gaze towards them, craning his neck side to side as he prepared to farm! He gave a command to the Colossal Helios Leviathan to make the first move as this enormous summon cast a single skill.

[Unremitting Fortress].

RUMBLE!

Its huge body unnaturally began to rush towards the ground as an enormous gravitational force appeared around it, the vast distance between the sky and the ground covered in just a second as the huge body smashed into the entirety of the area where the Verdant Ox Bullions were located!

BOOM!

A devastating scene occurred as the ground below was pulverized, the bodies of the Bullions smashed into meat paste as when the Leviathan rose, Noah only saw glittering cores and skill books below at the QUASAR Realm below him.

"You might not want to use your grandfather's resources, but how about mine?"

He smiled towards Anna while saying these words, the glimmering loot floating towards him as he divided most of it towards her. She accepted with shining eyes as her crimson hair shone in the multicolored skies.

"It's another favor from you that I will definitely repay. Don't forget that I'm also a powerful genius as well, and I'll climb to where you are soon enough!"

The gaze of this Holy Princess was valiant as Noah only nodded with a light smile, his gaze going further into the Primal Holy Land as he sensed the abundant beasts within it as well as the unknown treasures. He could not wait before he delved far into this Secret Realm as he obtained a tremendous amount of loot and rose his Realm!

Chapter 768 - GALAXY! I

Across the Dark Universe, a great deal of realms and Galaxies propagated as one could come across truly wondrous and dangerous locations that could take your breath away.

Secret Realms were among the top most wondrous places, as more often than not a great personage used to reside in such a realm or they even built it themselves!

The Secret Realm known as the Primal Holy Land was one such a Realm- a legacy left behind by the Great Sage Aoin as within it dwelled fantastical Animus of all types, its mystical environments not being any lesser to any other unique environments that one could stumble upon in the dark universe.

At this moment, multiple beings had entered this Realm as each of them had their own aims. The party of 20 Holy Descendants from the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter wished to train themselves as they battled terrifying Wild Animus and search for the legacy of the Great Sage, while the party from the Primal Winged Expanse had their own designs!

At this moment, the multi winged Aileron Royals were flying through the misty multicolored skies as in the very forefront, Prince Kirigan was leading with a sharp expression as within his hand, one could see a glimmering dark red page.

"Prince, still no reaction from the Page of Ruination?"

A voice from an Aileron Royal sounded out as the group moved forward, Prince Kirigan shaking his head as he replied.

"If the Ruination Core was freely located within this Secret Realm, this page should have sensed it. It seems that the Core is either on the Holy Emperor himself, or he hid it in a very special realm somewhere in the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter!"

Words tinged with coldness and frustration rang out as the others nodded, another Royal looking off in the distance as he chimed in.

"Then why don't we have some fun first? I want to see the face of that disrespectful human genius despair, and you could play with your soon to be wife a year early, Prince."

The Royal was full of malicious intention as he said this, the multi winged beings looking at each other as Prince Kirigan put away the page from the Book of Ruination and commanded out.

"Track them. Let's see how that fly can withstand even a single strike from me..."

RUMBLE!

---

As some beings made their way with malicious intent, Noah and Anna were moving through the Secret Realm of the Great Sage Aoin with way too much ease.

This was because in the outer perimeters, mostly QUASAR and Low Tier GALAXY Wild Animus could be found! When it came to such levels of beings and Noah's own Summons...well the fights were simply brutal, to say the least.

The figures of Noah and Anna remained atop the Colossal Helios Leviathan as it floated very close to the verdant green earth of the secret realm, its wide jaws occasionally opening as horrendous purple-blue beams of light erupted out.

OOOONG!

The purple-blue plasma beam was from an ability known as [Heliotic Energy Beam], a unique skill the Colossal Helios Leviathan could utilize as it could be shot out rapidly and at high speeds. The only issue was that it requires immense mana to utilize, and this became a nonissue as the trainer of this animus had infinite mana to reinforce it.

BOOM!

The plasma beams utterly eviscerated any QUASAR ranked Wild Animus as they injured those at the Low Tier GALAXY Realm, and this was where the other two summoned PRISMATIC Pets came into play.

First was the Mercurial Obsidian Panther that acted like an assassin in the dark as the Wild Animus who survived the plasma beams of the Colossal Helios Leviathan and prepared to retaliate were met with glistening dark claws that came from nowhere, their eyes only seeing a black flash swirl around them as their limbs separated from their bodies!

SHAA!

The Panther would then arrogantly look over their decimated bodies before it disappeared in a blink! This was an animus summon that already embarked on the Lesser Dao of Alacrity and had speed as its biggest tool, and such speed was utilized fully as a black flash of death was the only thing this summon represented on the battlefield.

Next up was the future Jormungandr, the Void Serpent that was still in the QUASAR Realm but could match other Wild Animus in the Low Tier Galaxy Realm because of its powerful Bloodline! Its serpentine body slithered below in the lush greenery as it erupted with the ability of [Annihilatory Death

Devouring] on any injured Wild Animus as their attention would be on defending against the horrendous plasma beams from the Colossal Helios Leviathan above them.

It was truly a horrendous team that only wreaked havoc and death as they mowed down any Wild Summons they came across!

Noah had no worries about wiping away these creatures in a Disordered State, as he could not wipe away this status effect at this moment and if he did not retaliate against them, they would just reap his life and make him waste a perfectly good Save Point or Plot Armor.

So he sat above the Colossal Helios Leviathan as his job...was to collect and absorb all the loot that dropped from the kills of his pets!

Anna was sitting beside him absorbing cores similarly as she shook her head with disbelief while she glanced at Noah's pets while comparing them with her very own Four Winged Unicorn. She could only sigh as she continued to elevate her strength, sensing that she would very soon step into QUASAR as she was absorbing cores at this level and even those at the Low Tier GALAXY Realm.

Meanwhile, Noah was fully taking in GALAXY Core after GALAXY Core without stopping as he sensed the unique feeling of Grand Completion, knowing that the moment this was achieved he could break through while maintaining such a state in the Low Tier GALAXY Realm!

He first finished the cores he had left over from the Elder Fiends of the Burning Domains Galaxy that his Harbingers would soon be besieging themselves, and he then ate up the cores of any defeated Wild Animus that fell under the teamwork of his three PRISMATIC Pets.

He hadn't brought out the Variant Oculothorax, Calamity Bear, or the future Golden Crow as they were still in the QUASAR Realm, and he wouldn't reveal them yet until he stepped into the Low Tier GALAXY Realm and he brought them up as well.

As for entering such a realm...well, it would only take minutes as he continued to absorb the glimmering GALAXY Cores while his pets ravaged the beautiful Secret Realm below him!

Chapter 769 - GALAXY! II

Going past the Realm of QUASAR was an enormous step for many beings, especially so because the active galactic nucleus of a QUASAR would be utilized to finally bloom into a genuine Galaxy.

This stage of GALAXY was a special one in the Dark Universe, as a majority of experts were within this stage!

These experts then fight tooth and nail for powerful treasures that can enhance them from the Lower Tier of this Realm until they enter the Peak. From Low, Middle, and finally to Peak- each had its own distinction as those at the peak could easily crush those below them, with a few creatures being the exceptions.

The Peak Tier GALAXY Realm was particularly unique as it was also the prerequisite for any being to be considered an Entity- they had to first be in this stage as they then had to be particularly proficient in dao or mastered it, with the most powerful Entities being ones already assimilating the Dao into their very origins and souls. In the Dark Universe, these were the beings that stood at the peak of power!

Others became rulers of their home Galaxies while others wandered the Dark Universe in search for unknown Secret Realms or Unique Galaxies as they sought for treasures, while others joined established Ancient Powers that offered such things and legacies of Sages so that they could seek even greater levels of strength!

At this moment, Noah would simply be stepping into the Low Tier GALAXY rank as he absorbed a great number of cores, and this action held its own significance as he would be doing it while maintaining his Manifested Realm.

RUMBLE!

The eruption of essence began as above the enormous body of the Colossal Helios Leviathan, Noah absorbed the last glimmering Galaxy Core as the vibrant Quasar within his Origin...shone in a grandiose light that nearly blinded the nearby Anna!

Such light was so damn bright as searing heat could be felt from Noah- such intense heat that Anna was pulled away protectively by her Four Winged Unicorn.

OOOONG!

The Colossal Helios Leviathan also let out a bellow as this Low Tier GALAXY Animus Summon actually felt the searing heat above its body, bearing with it as its role was to loyally act as its master's mount!

Noah felt all of these changes as he came out of the wondrous stage and gave a command, the Colossal Helios Leviathan flying even lower while his body shot to the skies, putting distance from the others as the light from his origin only became brighter.

The surrounding space that his body occupied shimmered and seemed to oscillate from the searing heat, making for a shocking image as if the very sky around him was melting!

This was the Forging of a Galaxy! Of a QUASAR having its active galactic nucleus used as it birthed billions of stars within the Origin of a being!

The phenomenon was even wilder than others as for this realm elevation, Noah even let himself fall into the sleeping state as he enjoyed the effects of the Sin of Sloth that allowed him even grander effects when advancing through stages.

THRUUUM...CRACK!

The moment his eyes closed, the essence around him became even wilder as space shattered, chaotic voids appearing around Noah as horrendous spatial storms erupted out.

Yet his body...remained still as it shone with magisterial splendor!

Yes! Magisterial splendor as his arms were widespread as if accepting a grand gift, the luminous bright searing light dying down as on Noah's body at this moment...one could see a vibrant GALAXY!

Much more vibrant and luminous than others.

Filled with multicolored stars that would entice beings to want to enter such a galaxy and live within it.

Yet such rights were only being enjoyed by his Animus Summons!

Within his shared Origin, the figures of the Three-Legged Fate Crow, Oraculothorax, and the Calamity Bear could be seen floating within happily.

THRUUM

At this moment, Noah opened his eyes as he sensed the profound strength dwelling within him, as well as his body having arrived at the top of the Low Tier GALAXY Realm simply after his elevation in rank!

From now on, he would need a great deal of Cores at the Middle and Peak Tiers of the GALAXY Realm in order to enter these distinct stages within the same Realm.

Since it was a new Realm, it meant he could summon an additional Animus Pet for each of his two main bodies. This also meant that even though the stages of Low, Middle, and Peak were distinct, as it was still within the same Realm- he wouldn't be getting the perk of being able to summon extra pets when he advanced to Middle and Peak of the same GALAXY Realm! He considered this a pain as for now...he would enjoy the immense feeling of power while understanding what this Realm truly represented.

"Genius doesn't even seem appropriate at this point. You're just a monster."

The voice of Anna rang out as she came back to his position on her Four Winged Unicorn, his Animus Pets also making their way back as the Obsidian Panther was the first one to flash towards Noah as it looked at his figure up and down.

"Wow wow wow! Master, how is yours so much bigger and brighter than mine? So many more stars too...Ah!" The Panther flashed all around Noah speedily as a second later, the serpentine tail of the Void Serpent timed its path and wrapped its body to quiet it down briefly.

Noah glanced at everyone around him as his eyes landed on the Void Serpent. This Animus Summon was still at the QUASAR Realm as it showed battle power at the Low Tier GALAXY, and it would be the first one that he would bring up in Realm before he worked on the chicken, bear, and the oculothorax!

His body rumbled with essence as his shimmering GALAXY shone, preparing to unleash a spam of abilities from the [Animus Summoner Trainer] skill tree when suddenly, his expression changed as he looked towards a certain direction.

RUMBLE!

Off in the distance, a sharp light appeared as the aura of over 20 beings could be felt, the multiple pairs of wings on their backs very quickly making their appearance clear as their voices reached them even before their figures fully materialized.

"My future wife and the fly that continues to be around her, we meet again."

The figure of Prince Kirigan appeared grandly as 19 other Aileron Royals appeared behind him, their gazes that of coldness and ridicule as they glanced towards the pair of humans domineeringly!

Chapter 770 - You want to be my loot this badly?!

The figures of the Aileron Royals shone with l.u.s.t.e.r as they floated in the skies, their image being extremely menacing when paired up with their mystical wings.

"Holy Princess Anna, come tour the scenery of this Secret Realm with your future husband. We have much to learn about each other."

The attention of Prince Kirigan remained on Anna as always, his eyes shining with light as he looked towards her like a prized possession he had to have!

His words only made Anna's expression cloudy as she answered back curtly.

"I'll say it again, I have no intention of being around you. Not now. Not in the future."

THRUM!

The words were as decisive as they could be, the intentions of Anna being blatantly clear as she spoke without caring about the face of this Aileron Prince! This Prince heard the biting words as his eyes began to gradually lose their calmness. He felt as if he could see the gazes of the other Aileron Royals digging into his back as to them, it seemed like he could not even handle his own woman.

"You're going to continue to act this way?" While speaking with a cold voice, his body began to erupt with power as the essence of the Dao of Withering rumbled around him.

"With even your grandfather giving you away, what gives you the confidence? Is it this mere human you call a genius who just now advanced into the GALAXY Realm? A being that has lived and accomplished barely a hundredth of what I've done in my lifetime?"

RUMBLE!

With every word, the swirling Dao around him became wilder and wilder as his eyes gained a trace of anger, seeing that even now Anna was still not moved as she just moved closer to Noah, making her stance clear!

Seeing this scene infuriated Prince Kirigan even more as he took a few seconds to think something through before his expression became cold and decisive.

"You are to be engaged and wed to me, you must be by my side and not some random fly. If you cannot see that, then as your future husband- I must discipline and show you, starting with the fly that shows no respect to those above him!"

RUMBLE!

Shocking words erupted from the mouth of the Aileron Prince as Anna's eyes now shone with anger, her mouth moving as fast as her thoughts.

"You little bird, what did you say? Discipline me? Haha!"

She laughed in her anger as she looked towards the 20 Aileron Royals as well as the prince. She then turned towards Noah as a single thought passed through her mind.

'He's always broken common sense before, so he should be fine, right?'

With this single thought, she also made her decision as she turned to the being that Prince Kirigan called a fly and spoke out coldly.

"Count this as another favor to add to my tab. I don't even want the possibility of this winged bastard being married to me. Wipe him out."

THRUM!

Cold and decisive words erupted out as Noah's three PRISMATIC Summons were kept close, the Aileron Royals surrounding them glancing at each other as they laughed in derision!

"Wipe the Primal Prince out? Haha!"

"Prince Kirigan, this girl might need a lot of discipline to get her right in the head, it seems she doesn't even know of the concepts of power!"

Insults and derision flew out from the mouths of the Aileron Royals as Noah adopted a wide smile.

The situation around them seemed extremely bad as 20 Aileron Royals surrounded them. Each of these beings was in the GALAXY Realm, with a significant portion being in the Middle Tier as they represented geniuses that were learned in the Dao!

The Aileron Race especially was proficient in the Dao of Withering, a Dao with high destructive capabilities as those proficient in it could release terrifying forces to desiccate, decay, and cause the decline of all life, with a rumor that those fully assimilating it might even be able to cause the decline of abstruse concepts such as time as they brought things to a halt, or cause the desiccation of entire Galaxies with based on mere whims and wishes.

It was a truly terrifying dao even though it was classified as lesser, and yet even while faced with this...Noah still had a wide smile!

He was actually a very calm and laid back guy, you know? He didn't go out of his way to kill others or start a conflict.

Yet...it seemed that some people just could not help but throw themselves at him!

Beings like these Aileron Royals glancing down towards him arrogantly as they talked of teaching them a lesson cropped up way too many times.

They seemed to be fighting very hard just to become his loot, so he could only give them what they wanted as he was also a truly kind guy!

What others wanted, he would give. And these Aileron Royals...they were chasing death!

As for the consequences?

He would merely anger and put himself against an Ancient Power. If one were to ask him what he thought about that, he would say-

So what!

RUMBLE!

Essence erupted from him as he did many actions in the next second.

First was the activation of the Ruination Core as he switched into another miscellaneous affix, this time an offensive one!

To add some information briefly- when it came to his Ruination Core within his origin, it naturally could not be sensed by others even if they held the pages from the book of ruination in their hands. This Ruination Core was completely equipped by him as everything about it was contained within Noah's origin, him being the only one to sense or do anything with it.

As he activated it, he chose the Miscellaneous Suffix of [10% chance to Smite enemies for 10,000% Ruination Damage when you hit them].

He was feeling a tad bit high as he had just achieved a huge advancement in a realm so he wanted to test out some of the more fun features of the abilities he held.

And what could be more fun than spamming skills with an extremely high cast and attack rate that would give a 1 in 10 chance to allow an enemy to be Smitten by 10,000% Ruination Damage?!

RUMBLE!
