Chapter 771 - Have you ever had a Galaxy thrown at you?

After he changed the suffix of the Ruination Core, he actually didn't send commands to his pets or begin casting any transformation abilities.

He simply waved his hands as on his palm...there appeared a Galaxy!

Such a barely discernible object was only given a glance by the Aileron Royals as Prince Kirigan waved his hands forward, sending two Low Tier GALAXY experts towards them.

These winged beings came toward them with glee as they didn't put Noah nor his pets into their eyes, being very confident in their Dao as their bodies already began to fill up with its essence just in case.

Noah merely had a bright smile as he thought about the miniaturized Galaxy that he could freely control!

One must remember that among the features of the Infinite Galaxy, there was an entire category under [Offensive Maneuvers]! It was something that Noah had rarely utilized in the past, for the sole reason that the last time he cast it, the results weren't too favorable.

He could still recall the Spiritual Land that was split in half by the Devilish Time Unveiler of the World of Cultivation, this image being imprinted on his mind whenever he thought about the offensive features of this unique treasure!

Yet now as it reached the level of a Galaxy, he brought it out once more as he communicated clearly with the core of the Infinite Galaxy and confirmed a shocking fact- the integrity of the Galaxy would not be affected one bit when he cast the ability of [Falling Meteor] that was provided in the Offensive Maneuvers of the Infinite Galaxy against experts of this level!

From the thoughts of the Infinite Galaxy, it wouldn't be able to seriously harm those at the Peak Tier, while it might be able to injure those in the Middle Tier, but when it came to beings in the Low Tier GALAXY Realm...Noah got the message that they would be utterly obliterated.

THRUM!

He thought of this unique feature as he looked at the oncoming Low Tier GALAXY Aileron Royals, these perfect practice targets coming to be as essence rumbled forth from him in insane amounts with the cast of [Falling Meteor].

Of course, it wasn't a falling meteor, but a Galaxy!

SHIING!

A resonant sound that seemed extremely uncomfortable rang out in the surrounding space, the miniaturized Galaxy within his palm glimmering with a brilliant blue light as it began to shoot towards one of the Low Tier GALAXY Aileron Royals.

To him, it only seemed like a small blinking light that was rushing in his direction, his expression arrogant as he harrumphed and threw out a fist palpating with the essence of the Dao of Withering.

This being actually threw out a fist to meet the entire force of a Galaxy!

A Galaxy that was already multiple times larger than a normal one as multiple other galaxies had already been fused into it, a unique treasure with fantastical abilities that made the scene about to occur possible! We are very far off from the scientific spectrum, but if we were to look at this with even a tinge of logic, one would still be shocked. To put it in somewhat understandable terms, a normal Galaxy weighs 1.5 Trillion Solar Masses.

A Solar Mass is a standard unit of mass in astronomy that is equal to approximately 2×10^{30} kg, and is more often than not used to indicate the mass of nebulae, black holes, and Galaxies. In more common terms, 1 Solar Mass is equal to the mass of the Sun.

So a single normal Galaxy had the mass of 1.5 Trillion Solar Masses- that was 1.5 trillion suns!

This Aileron Royal actually threw a fist to stop a moving Galaxy that weighed much more than this, the result could only be a tragedy!

For the other Aileron Royal coming towards them, Noah didn't do anything too outrageous as he merely cast his first ever obtained skill.

[Fireball] was cast merely once as this ability with extremely rapid casting and attack speed threw out over 20 fireballs in an instant, Noah choosing not to make them the size of suns but merely condensed balls of flames about an inch in diameter.

BRRRR!

These 20 miniaturized suns rumbled towards the other Aileron Royals as he shook his head with an amused smile on his face, merely throwing out a palm to meet them as this winged being truly had no sense of death!

With just two attacks sent out, Noah stopped moving entirely as he brought his arms behind his back, ready to watch a spectacular show as his body glowed luminously with the image of a manifested GALAXY while on top of the Colossal Helios Leviathan. Beside him, Anna was on top of her Four Winged Unicorn as she looked forward with a calm gaze, but her eyes gradually opened up wider and wider as her mouth opened in an agape expression as the scene in front of them finally played itself out.

The first ability to reach the enemy was [Falling Meteor] as the singular thrust out fist of an Aileron Royal met the mass of a horrendous Galaxy, all of those watching in the surroundings having their eyes constrict in shock as they observed the fist that met the glimmering blue mass...begin to rupture from skin to muscle to bone with such extreme ease at it left their scalps tingling in fear!

THRUUUM!

It felt like time had slowed down as they watched the tendons and bones on the fist of the Aileron Royal completely disappear first, the expression of fear descending onto this being palpable as the miniaturized galaxy was unhindered as it blew apart the connected hand, and then it went further forward and hit the body of this being as in the next instant, 80% of his body exploded into a mass of meat and shattered bones as the Galaxy passed through the right side of his body!

POOOF!

The rest of his body was pulverized a second later from the sheer weight of the attack that was being received, this single attack completely wiping out a Low Tier GALAXY Expert as Noah's own only shone with greater brilliance!

Chapter 772 - Merely 20 GALAXY Experts! I

We're all familiar with instances where a being is walking down the road and out of nowhere, a red truck appears as it smashes into this unsuspecting being and very quickly reaps their life.

At this moment, this was a very close analogy to what had occurred to the Low Tier GALAXY Realm expert!

As if this being was hit by an oversized truck, his body directly splattered on impact as his origin and soul were pulverized by the sheer physical force alone.

Alarm rose in the eyes of the Aileron Royals as their gazes turned towards the other being that was also receiving an attack from Noah.

The miniaturized suns numbering 20 reached the palm of the Aileron Royal at this moment, his mind trying to move fast as he saw the instantaneous death of his friend near him as his body was still slow to react!

Even though he added more force behind the attack, he still could not move fast enough as the miniaturized fireballs very quickly smashed into him.

BRRRRR!

20 fireballs, 20 attacks that smashed onto his palm that was filled with Dao essence.

BOOOM!

There were continuous explosions of light as the Aileron Royals observed the situation closely, the being attacked by the fireballs finding that his palm was slightly burnt, but no great damage had passed to him!

He sighed with relief as his aura turned to the side to stare at the pulverized mass of blood and bones that was his friend, his eyes then turning to Noah with immense hatred and bloodlust as he exploded with power.

Both him and the other Aileron Royals with Prince Kirigan thought the second attack that was 20 small fireballs was over with just that as they prepared to react fast and with great power to quickly take down this sudden enemy that had somehow killed one of them with a single strike, but it was in the next instant that a horrendous sound erupted out, a sound as if the very sky itself was breaking!

CRAAACK...RIIIP!

Above them in the mystical multicolored skies, magisterial rifts releasing oppressive auras erupted out, their number totaling 5.

From these enormous rifts, their eyes watched in slow motion as tendrils of dark red lightning flew out at speeds that even Middle Tier GALAXY experts would not be able to fully follow, these 5 tendrils of dark red lightning all going towards the Aileron Royal that had taken the attacks of 20 fireballs!

This was the affix of [10% chance to Smite enemies for 10,000% Ruination Damage when you hit them], an affix that has the probability of a powerful Smite to hit an enemy once out of every 10 attacks.

But that was only the probability, it didn't mean that the 10% would not activate multiple times as it was still due to chance, and the being casting it had something as ridiculous as increased Luck from his Protagonist Trait!

So the Smites that would deal 10,000% Ruination Damage...hit 5 times out of the 20 strikes of miniaturized suns!

THRUUUUM

The Aileron Royals could only watch in horror as these oppressively powerful tendrils of light reached the head of Noah's target instantly, the first one tearing off the entire layer of skin and rupturing the wings, the second strike tearing apart the muscles and bones while the third strike caused the being to explode in a shower of blood!

The fourth and fifth strike still descended down as they coiled around the chunks of meat and bones, utterly pulverized them as well as in the area where this being used to be...only a burnt smell remained as not even a strand of hair was left...

"..."

Anna stood by Noah's side with her mouth agape, staring at the position where two Low Tier GALAXY Realm experts used to be just a second ago.

"..."

Prince Kirigan was in the skies with a cloudy expression as a hint of hesitation and fear appeared on his face, his face looking at the other Aileron Royals as he saw the same things in their eyes!

Just these two attacks...had scared them shitless as they did not want to continue!

Noah saw this scene as he could foresee that he had shown too much power with these two attacks, these multi-winged beings possibly thinking of running as he voiced out calmly.

"No you don't."

RUMBLE!

His voice was followed by the cast of a single skill, a skill that was from one of the newly advanced skill trees- a new ability from the skill tree associated with the Law of Life!

[Life Realm].

THRUUM!

From Noah, a multitude of roots erupted out in a circular fashion as they moved at speeds faster than light, covering him and all the beings in the nearby 10-mile region instantly as they formed into a thick shaped dome with tout wriggling roots!

It looked like a cocoon of thick roots as a hazy green shield of light began to cover all the surroundings, those inside of it feeling their connection to the outside world absolutely cut off as they couldn't send any messages or much less teleport out of this place called [Life Realm].

Outside of its 10 mile range, this enormous cocoon could actually not be seen as a cocoon, and instead an enormous green door was the only thing present that anyone could come across in the skies!

Such was the ability that Noah got from taking the Law of LifeSkill Tree into the QUASAR Realm from Nebula!

[Life Realm] :: Breaking past the common abilities used by a Life Law Master, this skill allows the user to create a temporary life realm that traps in both the user and their enemies for as long as mana is provided into the skill. The ability calls upon the essence of not just the Law of Life, but any other laws that the user has mastered to create an isolated space that an enemy cannot break out of unless the user dies or faces mana depletion.

A skill of ridiculous proportions that came from the QUASAR stage skill tree termed [Primeval Life Usurper], a skill tree that came with 3 other powerful abilities Noah had yet to utilize!

It allowed him to effectively lock up him and his enemies in a hidden space for as long as he wished and it was essentially an upgraded Blood World of immense proportions.

If enemies wanted to break out, they had to take his life!

Within this Realm, Noah looked at the remaining Aileron Royals with cold eyes as he voiced out.

"Now, why don't we continue?"

RUMBLE!

Chapter 773 - Merely 20 GALAXY Experts! II

The [Life Realm] ability that Noah had just utilized came from the Primeval Life Usurper skill tree. It was just one of the 8 abilities that he received after he advanced the Primeval Tree of Old into [Propitious Life Master] and then into the [Primeval Life Usurper]!

At this stage, the skill tree shone with brilliance in the stat panel.

QUASAR [Primeval Tree of Old- Yggdrasil] :: A skill tree that includes a set of techniques meant only for a being that holds a growing Primeval Tree within their Origin. Abilities include Life, Yggdrasil, Primeval Propitious Physique Forging, Ashes to Ashes. >>> [Propitious Life Master] :: [Tree of Life Support] (5/5), Forging Master, [Summon Treant] (5/5), Chlorokinesis. >>> [Primeval Life Usurper] :: Life Realm, Galactic Tree, Life Seed, Usurper.

There were a few support abilities that further enhanced the previous skills of the skill trees as well as attack and defensive abilities that Noah would have to explore slowly over time.

But at this moment, he just wanted to utilize [Life Realm] in order to hold the experts of the Primal Winged Expanse in a cage they could not leave.

RUMBLE!

Essence erupted forth from Noah as his first action after locking everyone up was to actually change the affix of the ruination core once more.

This time, he switched from [10% chance to Smite enemies for 10,000% Ruination Damage when you hit them] to [Slain enemies have a 10% chance to drop Dao Crystals based on the Dao they cultivate]

This time, he was planning on truly being a farmer as he collected not just cores and skill books from the enemies he was about to defeat, but also utilize the Ruination Core to bring about the fantastical effect of his enemies dropping Dao Crystals that contained their comprehension of a Dao, Crystals that could be absorbed to very quickly comprehend and advance through even if one knew nothing about the Dao in question!

After he switched the affix, the three PRISMATIC Pets around him began to shine with a brilliant light as from Noah, the swirl of Dao essence was erupting out and going into his three pets in a stellar fashion.

He finally comprehended enough of the Dao of Summoning to utilize its mystical Dao essence to reinforce his pets, the mere 31% comprehension he had right now being able to boost his pets more than when he merged with them and used the support skills like [Incandescent Emperor] and [Yggdrasil]!

Even without utilizing support and transformation skills at this moment, he could confidently say he wasn't afraid of anyone at the Low Tier GALAXY Realm, and he felt confident even with his own strength to withstand those in the Middle Tier.

When he brought his terrifying pets that had powerful bloodlines and manifested realms...the less than 20 experts in front of him did not even need to be a worry in his eyes!

To him, he could say with confidence that it was merely 20 GALAXY Realm that would very soon be meeting their deaths!

It mattered not whether they were the princes or Royals of an Ancient Power, they would be dying today nonetheless.

THRUUM!

While the swirling Dao essence was being packed into the Animus Summons, Noah was also directing the ability of [Animus Growth Empowerment] to the Void Serpent in order to pump its level from QUASAR to Low Tier GALAXY as soon as possible.

Such grand actions of him utilizing multiple skills and immense mana only made the eyes of the Aileron Royals graver, Prince Kirigan giving out commands with a strong voice.

"Spread out and attack all at once. Nifin, Zachary, you two see if we can break out of this isolated Realm. Everyone else, with me!"

RUMBLE!

The auras of multiple experts proficient in a Lesser Dao erupted out as these beings that had lived for hundreds of years finally turned careful.

After seeing one of them be hit with a glimmering blue object and be pulverized into nothingness with another one struck down by terrifying swirls of lightning that contained a horrendous form of energy...they were finally utilizing their brains as they knew their lives were on the line!

No insults or ridicule were thrown out as the 18 remaining Aileron Royals spread out to surround the enormous Colossal Helios Leviathan that Noah and his pets stood on, Anna remaining beside Noah this entire time as not a trace of worry could be seen on her face.

Noah paid them no heed as he knew they were locked in and could not go anywhere, his attention fully on watching the effects of inputting Dao essence into his pets as they currently looked like roided out beasts.

The Obsidian Panther's muscles were constantly vibrating as its body seemed ready to erupt out at any second, while the aura of the Colossal Helios Leviathan grew ever larger as its hardened skin glinted with a blue purple light!

As for the Void Serpent, its QUASAR already showed signs of erupting into a GALAXY as it would very soon break into another Realm!

During this tense situation where the 18 Aileron Royals got into position, the voice of Prince Kirigan rang out again.

"We didn't know you were an expert in your own right. We do not have to fight a battle that will result in allow us facing death!"

RUMBLE

The arrogant Prince Kirigan actually began to speak with reason for the first time, he mind constantly replaying how two of his people at the Low Tier GALAXY Realm had died with such ease from the hands of this being as he wasn't confident to be able to withstand the same attacks if they were thrown his way.

"I am the Primal Prince of an Ancient Power, with my grandfather being extremely doting on me as you can see. Even if you really caused our deaths in here, he would not let you off!"

"He is the Ruler of an Ancient Power, a being with multiple Entities under his beck and call! If you do not wish to start a war between our two Ancient Powers, I can apologize for my mistake this time and we can even forget about the 2 prior deaths."

THRUUM!

A shocking call for peace was heard from the Aileron Prince as it contained warnings within!

Faced with these words, the being surrounded by 3 glimmering Animus that were vibrating with power only smiled lightly.

His smile looked extremely innocent, but when Prince Kirigan saw it...his gaze hardened as he saw Noah's answer right away!

This was because he had seen this smile before.

It was the smile of someone that simply did not care, of someone that believed they had everything under their control!

Chapter 774 - Explode into Loot!

"You will truly start a war between Ancient Powers if you do this!"

The voice of Prince Kirigan was relentless as his hand rose up, ready to give the signal to attack at any time as he first tried to salvage the situation.

But the being that had made him change his entire demeanor only smiled calmly as he twirled his fingers, where one would be able to notice a Galaxy flowing fluidly as his body still released immense Dao essence that pumped into his pets.

RUMBLE!

A brilliant light shot out as on the side, the Void Serpent entered into the Low Tier GALAXY Realm as its body grew even larger, more pronounced draconic features appearing on its head as its red eyes shone with even more l.u.s.ter!

ROAAAR!

A loud bellow released from it as when it calmed, Noah's voice rang out clearly.

"I never looked highly at Ancient Powers before, and I won't suddenly look highly at them now. We don't need to talk so much, birdman. Are you ready?"

The question came out in a domineering tone as Prince Kirigan's face turned sour, his eyes glancing at the two Aileron Royals he had tasked with checking if they could break out of this isolated realm as they looked towards him while shaking their heads.

His eyes then went back towards Noah as his expression became hard and livid, putting his hand down as all 18 Aileron Royals swarmed towards Noah, Anna, and his Three Animus Summons!

OOOOOH!

The bellow from the Colossal Helios Leviathan shook the very space itself as the enormous body of the Void Serpent Coiled out, the figure of the Mercurial Obsidian Panther erupting in a flash as it appeared in front of a Low Tier GALAXY Aileron Royal instantly.

As for Noah himself, he didn't do much but cast an ability that he had cast once before- an ability that was able to heavily damage Low Tier GALAXY beings as only an Entity was able to stop its advance!

||Ashes to Ashes, Dust to Dust||

THRUUUM...CRACK!

The skies quaked and rumbled as the verdant green hue released by the isolated Life Realm changed to a tinge of grey, deadly essence from the combination of the Ultimate Laws of Life and Death coming together as they neared the oppressive aura of a Dao!

This essence locked on to the 18 Aileron Royals as their expression heavily changed, their senses feeling their very surroundings aging as their bodies would soon follow if they could not defend.

They shockingly faced an ability that was very similar to the Dao they cultivated, an ability that caused the decay of its target!

Although what Noah cast could allow the progression or regression of the targeted beings...

RUMBLE!

The bodies of the Aileron Royals erupted out with the essence of the Dao of Withering as they covered their bodies fully, but their expressions remained solemn as they observed the ancient essence that could age them and their origins combat the defense of Dao essence, seeing that if they lost their focus even a little- this ability would deal great damage to them!

Yet...how could they keep their focus when three PRISMATIC Summons were rushing towards them?

SHAA!

The Mercurial Obsidian Panther was the first one to make a move as the Aileron Royal it appeared in front of and was defending against Noah attack only saw the phantom image of dark claws swipe past his head, a second later his face developing huge gashes where one could even see the white bones!

SHAA! SHAA! SHAA!

Yet before he could even react to the horrendous pain, the figure of the Obsidian Panther flashed tens of times around his body as wings were torn and shredded while his skull became fractured, his limbs shockingly seen detached a second later as even he could not follow the progression of attacks.

It was too fast!

POOF!

The moment this horrendous damage was dealt, the Aileron Royal could not defend against the eroding essence brought forth by ||Ashes to Ashes, Dust to Dust|| as his messy blood and bones quickly withered, his entire body exploding thereafter as shockingly from the explosion of this body...glimmering crystals erupted out.

Noah watched this singular scene as his eyes shone with intense splendor, observing the effects of the Affix that stated [Slain enemies have a 10% chance to drop Dao Crystals based on the Dao they cultivate] first hand!

With his increased Luck from the Protagonist trait, he expected the chance of his enemies literally exploding into loot to happen much more frequently than the stated probability.

As for the sight of the glimmering red Dao Crystals? They were truly beautiful to look at!

Do you recall looking into a screen after defeating droves of monsters and seeing tons of dropped loot that signified their rarity based on beams of gorgeous colors that shot to the skies? This was the scene that Noah was watching right now, his eyes seeing the Dao Crystals shooting out a bright red cylindrical light to the skies as it screamed out it was a prime loot!

OOOM!

He didn't even have to wave his hands as the Dao Crystals that had exploded from this Aileron Royal rushed towards him along with the glistening GALAXY cores that came out thereafter!

In the middle of this terrifying battle where 17 Aileron Royals remained after just a second had passed, Noah even coolly glanced at the description of the Dao Crystals.

[Crystal of the Dao of Withering] :: A unique Dao Crystal that contains comprehensions in the Dao of Withering. When absorbed, one gains .5% Comprehension in the Dao of Withering.

"..."

His thoughts moved rapidly as he read over the details of the Dao Crystals, a single one providing half a percentage as he obtained 10 Dao Crystals from the exploding Aileron Royal just now. This meant 5% comprehension in a Lesser Dao could be gained by him if he wished from just slaying one enemy!

This was the same amount as using 10 seconds of the Protagonist's Bookmark on an Entity, and yet it was made possible by a single Affix from the Ruination Core.

If he got lucky enough and obtained tens of Dao Crystals from the remaining 17 enemies...

THRUUUM

His origin called out hungrily as his essence moved, his eyes shining golden beams of light as he sent numerous commands to his summons!

He seemed like an archaic being commanding a battlefield as the Colossal Helios Leviathan below him moved, its wide jaws already shooting out horrendous plasma beams as the Void Serpent nearby opened its jaws to release an oppressive devouring force.

OOOH!

Seeing this stupendous show of power as yet another Aileron Royal died in just a second after the battle began, Prince Kirigan bellowed out as his body shone with a grand light, cutting through the skies as he made way directly towards Noah!

Chapter 775 - Not Even a Challenge!

The battle was one that moved at such a rapid pace that grand changes would occur after just a single second!

The moment that yet another Aileron Royal fell in less than a second, Prince Kirigan made a decision as he thundered forth towards Noah, the remaining experts spread out taking the attention of the Colossal Helios Leviathan and Void Serpent as the Obsidian Panther was already flashing in another direction.

OOOOH!

Prince Kirigan bellowed out as his four pairs of wings shone with immense l.u.s.ter, large reserves of mana exploding from him as it made the swirling Dao essence even more pronounced.

His figure looked like an archaic bird swooping down to rip apart his enemy as his two hands were outstretched and forming into the shape of two claws, the Dao essence around him manifesting into two phantom claws that threatened to pulverize any enemy they touched!

Anna stood beside Noah as her eyes slightly shook, but she observed him to not even bat an eye as she calmed down, watching as his reply to this terrifying enemy at the Middle Tier GALAXY Realm...was to simply throw the glimmering blue miniaturized Galaxy towards the terrifying phantom Dao claws.

THRUUM!

The eyes of Prince Kirigan constricted when it came to this blue glimmering treasure, the moment it touched his manifested Dao claws causing an intense clash as it seemed to be held in place!

BZZZ!

Space quaked as the Dao essence was actually able to bring the thrown Galaxy to a halt, Prince Kirigan feeling a horrendous as he felt his essence drained rapidly, knowing he could not even hold on for long.

Yet Noah did not even give this Prince time to think as from his body, the light of the Sin of Pride and Envy shone as his essence was boosted by a large amount while the attributes of Prince Kirigan suddenly came down a level, his essence reducing out of nowhere!

This wasn't all as on top of this, the essence of the Dao of Summoning erupted out from Noah to clash with the Dao of Withering essence that Kirigan was pushing out majestically before but it had now waned, instantly dispelling it as the Galaxy continued unhindered and smashed into his outstretched palm!

BOOM!

A disastrous impact resounded out as the body of the Middle Tier GALAXY expert was much more sturdier and powerful, a treasured light also shining out from the body of the Prince as a protective armament was ruptured, the impact not directly pulverizing him as his figure was shot back like a cannon ball.

BOOM!

He knocked onto the periphery of the wriggling roots of the Life Realm as he spurt out blood, the moment pushing him out again like a rag doll as Noah finally began putting in some more effort and flashed towards the trajectory of his body, his hands having already reclaimed the Infinite Galaxy as he simply pushed this out again towards the body Prince Kirigan!

PAH!

For the second time, the Galaxy smashed onto his body as even more treasured armaments shattered, his figure flung backward again as Noah followed.

"Prince...!"

"You cannot kill!"

"You will start a war!"

The Aileron Royals not being pinned down by the three Animus Pets tried to make way as they shockingly saw their prince targeted to the point where his body nearly burst, but their cries fell on deaf ears.

Noah was lazily not using any more overpowered skills or even merging with his pets, simply throwing out a Galaxy that was reinforced with swirling Dao essence like a battering ram as once more, he flung it to the battered body of the Aileron Prince that had nearly all of his body ruptured and bloody!

BOOM...POOF!

The third time the body of this Prince came in contact with the weight of the Infinite Galaxy...was also the time it could hold on no longer as it utterly broke down and was pulverized into a mass of flesh and bones, his origin and soul utterly destroyed from the sheer horrendous force.

Noah shook his head disappointedly as he saw the body of the prince did not explode into a shower of treasured loot, not mattering to him the order that he killed his enemies!

If the Prince came to him to die, he wouldn't tell him to wait as he killed all of his lackeys first before he made his way to the big boss.

This meant that the Aileron Prince that has looking at everything with an arrogant and domineering gaze...died even before all of his goons were wiped out!

"No...!"

"Prince Kirigan!"

Wails rang out at this moment as Noah paid them no heed, waving his hands to collect the resplendent Middle Tier GALAXY Cores as well as the belongings of this Prince, his expression changing as his aura caught on to an aura of something familiar in an isolated space treasure on the body of the Prince.

His eyes then shone with golden l.u.s.ter as he affirmed the outline of a red black page, a page from the Book of Ruination!

RUMBLE!

He waved his hand to collect everything as he would give them a thorough look later, turning his gaze towards the remaining Aileron Royals as there were even fewer of them remaining now.

The moment they saw the pulverization of their prince from a specific being merely spamming the throw of his Galaxy, some were too shaken as the Obsidian Panther used this time to split apart the skull of another being, the Colossal Helios Leviathan and the Void Serpent doing something similar as they released horrendous attacks that caused the downfall of another 3 Low Tier GALAXY experts just seconds after Prince Kirigan fell!

OOOOH!

The remaining Middle Tier GALAXY Realm experts bellowed out as they tried to gang up on the Animus Summons, each of them staying away from the figure of Noah in the skies as some even went back to trying attacking the thick roots of Life Realm to see if they could get out!

As Noah glanced at this scene of GALAXY Rank experts panicking while he floated towards them while waving a shimmering galaxy, he shook his head lightly as he had a domineering thought.

'This...isn't even a challenge anymore!'

THRUM!

Chapter 776 - A Dream of Creating Multiple Entities

As Noah was butchering GALAXY Realm experts on one side, one of his clones within the same Infinite Galaxy he was flinging around as a weapon was carrying out a mass teleportation with multiple beings.

The teleportation this time included all of the Harbingers of Sin along with other important personages and Chosen Extras, all of these major powerhouses being brought into a Galaxy Noah had laid siege to weeks ago- the Burning Domains Galaxy!

THRUUUM

The figures of multiple beings disappeared from the Infinite Galaxy and reappeared in a Domain of the Burning Domains Galaxy, the line up being something that would make one rub their eyes in shock.

This was because it was the same beings we were familiar with, but each of them was in the grand Realm of QUASAR!

This was the requirement from Noah for all of those that wanted to participate- that's their realms had to be power leveled to QUASAR before they would be allowed to delve outside of the Infinite Galaxy.

This meant that aside from the Emperor Penguin, all the others had also forgone achieving Grand Completion of their Realms as they used the abundant Cores and resources of the Infinite Galaxy to break through Nebula and Black Hole, ultimately achieving Quasar as it was within this realm that they truly began to shine.

They truly shone because in this realm...each of them could have 3 Animus Summons that they trained to Grand Completion!

To understand this shocking phenomenon, one must recall the resources and features of the Infinite Galaxy, as well as putting Noah himself and his [Chosen Extras] ability into account.

The foremost feature that made such a rapid rise in strength in the past weeks since Noah first fused with the Novus Galaxy was of course...the Time Space!

Since the fusion, the Feature of Time Space had stopped its ratio at 1:100.

Yes. 1:100!

This meant that a day in the outside world was 100 days in the Time Space of the Infinite Galaxy! When you accounted for the fact that an entire month had passed since Noah's siege of the Burning Domains Galaxy and the fruition of the Infinite Galaxy, it meant that any of his subordinates who remained constantly in the Time Space would have experiences 100 months.

That was 8 years!

8 years...was truly a great number of days when one looked at how Noah had risen from nothing to the stage he was at in less than a year.

Of course, if you looked at it from the perspective of Ancient Powers that had lived for tens of thousands of years, you could say 8 years was nothing.

But when it came to beings who only had to absorb cores to advance...it was just the perfect amount of time they needed to very quickly rise in strength!

In this period of time, the Realm of QUASAR was long achieved by each of them as they utilized the skills that Noah created to embark on the Dao of Summoning and bring forth their own Animus Summons.

This was where the crux of their strength lay- the fact that they were able to summon multiple contracted pets and train them to Grand Completion as the years passed in the Time Space of the Infinite Galaxy!

Those who had were selected as Chosen Extras when they Summoned their pets were lucky enough to get a higher rarity of pets, with a few of Noah's subordinates getting multiple Ultra Rare Animus Summons as uniquely...Barbatos and the Emperor Penguin were the only ones to obtain a PRISMATIC summon!

The beak of the sleek penguin had risen ever higher when this scene occurred, with Barbatos merely looking at her summon with shining eyes as a dangerous light appeared.

The Emperor Penguin was lucky enough to obtain a Mythical Frostbourne Mammoth while Barbatos contracted with a Holy Millennium Phoenix!

RUMBLE!

Such creatures were the ones summoned the moment that Noah's clone teleported them into the Burning Domains Galaxy.

The stellar image of a pristine white feathered Holy Millennium Phoenix that had white flames dancing on its body stood grandly next to Barbatos as she also summoned her Skeleton King and a Winged Onyx, her hand waving behind her to also summon the Arch Lich Ra-Zan as Abyssal Undead would soon stand behind her only to be boosted by the Holy Light of the Millennium Phoenix!

The arrogant Emperor Penguin stood on the tusks of his Mythical Frostbourne Mammoth as he also summoned his other two pets, his image looking extremely grand as the Sin of Pride made an ever-present golden l.u.s.ter hang behind him.

Such was the stage of Noah's subordinates at this moment! The most powerful ones already had 2 PRISMATIC Pets at Grand Completion of the QUASAR Realm as they could easily match weak Low Tier GALAXY beings!

You still had the Kraken, Kazuhiko, Athena, Elena...and many others that each had their own three Animus Summons at the Grand Completion of the QUASAR Realm. Even if their pets weren't at the PRISMATIC stage, they still had horrendous over as the moment these beings stepped into the stage of GALAXY...no normal beings on the same stage as them would be able to stand against them...

Such was the force that Noah was raising!

So aside from the Time Space, the other thing that made it possible for Noah's subordinates to rise to such levels of power was the Dao of Summoning that granted them terribly powerful Animus Pets that could be brought up to Grand Completion within their Realms.

As his clone glanced at the line up of his subordinates currently ready to go against the remaining 2 GALAXY ranked Elder Fiends in the Burning Domains Galaxy, he could already imagine each of them standing in the Realm of Peak Tier GALAXY with multiple pets in the same realm...his heart trembling with excitement as he thought of commanding such beings!

If he could command such a force where each of them would hold the power of an Entity, what were Ancient Powers in front of him then?

As many Ancient Powers were scrambling to bring more Entities into their organizations, he was in the process of creating his own at this very moment!

"Go! Target only the Fiends at QUASAR and above!"

He gave the command as his force descended onto a Galaxy in a shocking fashion.

RAA! RAA! RAA!

The fearsome cry of an Emperor Penguin could be heard as he stood atop a Mythical Frostbourne Mammoth majestically, yet another battle erupting out at this time!

Back in the Secret Realm of Great Sage Aoin, there was a single door that represented Noah's [Life Realm], an isolated space that he had locked himself in with 20 GALAXY Realm experts from the Primal Winged Expanse.

These experts were beings from an Ancient Power, Aileron Royals that had comprehended the Dao of Withering! Some were even Princes from the direct lineage of the Primal Emperor that ruled the Primal Winged Expanse.

At this moment, a devastating scene lay inside of this isolated realm as these 20 GALAXY Realm Aileron Royals...were no more!

Chapter 777 - Nothing better than counting loot!

It was a shocking scene to come across in the isolated Life Realm as only 4 beings floated in the skies, all around them bloody chunks of beings and scintillating lights of loot being the only things one could see.

Anna was mounting her Four Winged Unicorn as she stared at the scene around her in a stupor, where even after she watched it play out in real time she still could not help but be shocked at it!

The three PRISMATIC Summons were just now reducing in size as Noah stopped pumping them with Dao essence, their bodies having terrifying looks as they seemed to be bathed in blood.

This was especially so for the Obsidian Panther that actually had the highest kill count, this speedy cat taking down 7 GALAXY rank experts itself as it was simply too fast and deadly!

Even Noah had only taken down 3 more Aileron Royals after reaping the life of Prince Kirigan, his Animus Summons doing the rest as the Colossal Helios Leviathan and the Void Serpent acted in a brutal fashion to crush or devour their enemies.

The end result was the entire party from the Primal Winged Expanse being wiped out, where only Noah remained in the skies with his body bathed in the blood of enemies he pulverized by throwing around a Galaxy!

He stared at the surroundings as his eyes shone while looking at all the loot around him. After the death of Kirigan, he let the loot of the defeated or exploding enemies remain in the skies as a magical scene very few would come across was playing itself in front of his eyes at this moment.

It was the scene of numerous loot items shining with immense luster all around him, ranging from cores to skill books and even Dao Crystals!

The Dao Crystals were even more eye catching as they seemed to be releasing a wondrous red pillar of treasure light, seemingly screaming it was high tiered loot as it could be distinguished clearly from the blue glimmering GALAXY Cores.

As his gaze passed over them, he sighed with emotion as he waved his hands to count and collect everything he had obtained.

The boon this time was simply enormous, with the targets delivering themselves to him being 20 beings in the GALAXY Realm, with one third of them being in the Middle Tier!

This meant that he had obtained a great deal of Low and Middle Tier GALAXY Cores, and his mind was already working overtime on how to best use these cores.

For him to go from QUASAR into the Low Tier GALAXY Realm, he had to absorb the cores of all the Elder Fiends he took down as well as cores from multiple Low Tier GALAXY Realm Wild Animus in this Secret Realm! So when he thought of advancing to the Middle Tier, he truly wasn't sure if even the cores of the 20 GALAXY Realm experts would be enough to do so.

But he was still in the Secret Realm, and there were a great deal of Wild Animus he could still farm for cores to be used by him and his subordinates, so he didn't stay on this thought too much!

Aside from the many skill books that he would go through later for anything unique, it was the Dao Crystals that occasionally erupted from the dying enemies that made him even more excited.

From the 18 experts he had killed after he changed the Affix to [Slain enemies have a 10% chance to drop Dao Crystals based on the Dao they cultivate], only 5 had triggered the affix!

Even this was extremely lucky as it was a 1 in 10 chance of it ever occurring, where if it happened twice it would be considered great.

But the glimmering Dao Crystals that he collected made him truly smile as from his calculations, he saw that if one were to absorb all of them...they would be able to gain over 30% in the Lesser Dao of Withering!

That was the same gain from a Protagonist's Bookmark, the capability to learn one third of a Dao in an instant...

And this time, it wasn't just limited to Noah as he could actually choose to have others absorb the Dao Crystals and gain the comprehension instead.

And if he were to let's say...come in conflict with the Primal Winged Expanse after killing their 20 Aileron Royals, would he not get a chance to take down more of them as he farmed even more Dao Crystals?

Didn't this mean he could quickly farm a type of loot that would allow him to gain 100% Comprehension of a Dao in a relatively short period of time? Loot that also wasn't just restricted to him?!

Many thoughts crossed his mind at this moment as he simply waved his hands and put everything away.

He then turned to Anna on the side as he spoke with a light smile.

"So, we just killed your future husband and the entire delegation of the Primal Winged Expanse. It's going to be wild when we get out of the secret realm."

"..."

Anna looked towards him as her eyes shone with a sharp light, seemingly thinking about a lot as she replied with a strong voice.

"Grandfather will have to make a choice. And...I feel like you would enjoy the outcome of conflict anyways..."

Her words were inquisitive at the end as she seemed to figure out Noah little by little as he only nodded lightly at her words while he waved his hands to dispel the Life Realm around them.

THRUUUM!

The space gradually shifted as the wriggling vines pulled back, returning to the multicolored skies of the secret realm as the door floating in the skies disappeared!

"Let's deal with that when we go out. For now, we still have this secret realm to finish exploring...and seeing for ourselves if there truly is a Sage's Legacy."

Noah's strong voice rang out as he patted the bloody Obsidian Panther happily, the Void Serpent and Colossal Helios Leviathan around him roaring powerfully as they were still in top shape.

Anna looked at this scene as she smiled with disbelief, seeing this being treating the action of wiping out 20 GALAXY Realm experts like nothing as he simply continued with his exploration with immense ease!

She was greatly thankful for his help as she could only follow his pace and go along with his eccentricity, her bright voice ringing out.

"Then let's go deeper!"

RUMBLE!

Essence pulsed out as the two humans went back atop a Colossal Helios Leviathan to explore more of the secret realm that was the Primal Holy Land, getting back to the same task of absorbing cores as Anna neared her breakthrough into QUASAR while Noah began the process of perfecting his new realm!

Chapter 778 - The Sealed Tower of a Great Sage!

The secret realm that was the Primal Holy Land was wide and filled with many lush mountains.

The recent battle against 20 GALAXY Realm experts had taken place in one portion of this secret realm, where the young experts from the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter had no idea of its happenings!

Currently, they were still exploring the secret realm carefully as they battled Wild Animus as they were none the wiser about the shocking battle or what its effects would be when they left the Primal Holy Land.

But even this news would take the sideline as something even more wondrous was about to appear in the mystical secret realm!

Noah and Anna were piercing deeper and deeper into this Primal Holy Land, the Colossal Helios Leviathan going in unhindered as they farmed more and more loot.

After they passed through the outer periphery where they would occasionally meet QUASAR and Low Tier GALAXY Wild Animus, the depths of the Secret Realm contained divided regions where Middle Tier GALAXY Wild Animus Kings ruled!

Noah came across beasts such as Wyrms, Elemental Golems, and a variety of other creatures as in a few hours, he was able to collect loot equivalent to the 20 GALAXY Realm experts of the Primal Winged Expanse that had thrown themselves at him before as he passed through the different regions and took down multiple Middle Tier GALAXY Wild Animus Kings.

Atop the Colossal Helios Leviathan, Anna had already broken through into QUASAR as ridiculously, Low Tier GALAXY wasn't too far away for her. She had multiple cores of such a level to absorb, and as someone who wasn't bothering with achieving Grand Completion- what stopped her from just piercing through realms?

"Hmm?"

On their way deeper into the secret realm, they had entered into another region where a Wild Animus King resided as Noah felt some unique changes, his senses honing in on the area where the powerful aura of a top Middle Tier GALAXY Wild Animus could be felt.

In this area, he didn't just see the Wild Animus, but his gaze was honing in on a rectangular shaped object about 20 meters wide that this Animus was standing in front of!

Noah could feel a unique aura erupting out from this object that was unlike all of the things he had come across in the secret realm, turning the Colossal Helios Leviathan towards it as his curiosity intensified.

ROAAAR

The wild Animus at the Middle Tier GALAXY Realm guarding this object bellowed out as they neared, with Noah only gazing towards it languid eyes as at this stage of his strength, he didn't even see beings of this level as a life threatening calamity anymore!

He had his three PRISMATIC Pets released as within his Origin, he was already casting the [Animus Growth Empowerment] skill multiple times to bring his other three pets to the Low Tier GALAXY Realm as well.

"Gang up on it."

THRUUUM!

He gave a command as the Obsidian Panther flashed forward with a devilish smile, the Void Serpent descending down with its jaws open in an apocalyptic manner as the Colossal Helios Leviathan began to shoot off beams of horrendous plasma!

Against this single Animus Summon a level higher than them, they were fearless as their Realms at Grand Completion allowed them to have a similar level of essence, and their rarity and bloodlines made it so that they could have much greater battle power.

BOOM!

The Wild Animus that looked like a Komodo Dragon received attacks on all sides as Noah sent his aura out to observe the unique triangular structure better, seeing that the very top of it- it didn't have a pointed shape as instead, a tear drop depression could be seen!

ROAR!

The Middle Tier GALAXY beast bellowed out again amidst all this as Noah looked towards it with annoyance, waving his hands as the Infinite Galaxy descended down rapidly to smash atop the hard scales of this beast.

The ground beneath it quaked as it released a pained roar, its sturdy body putting all of its power towards defending against the weight of a Galaxy as the pets used their horrendous skills at this moment to deal deadly strikes!

RIIIP!

The moment these strike were dealt, the pressure of the Infinite Galaxy could not be withstood anymore as it pulverized and split apart the Wild Animus in half, Noah finally recalling it to him as the area regained its quietness. He then flew towards the 20 meter structure as he used Eyes of Truth, his body beginning to tremble thereafter as the identity of the object revealed itself to him!

Tip of the Great Sage Aoin Tower :: A unique Inheritance Ground left behind by the Great Sage Aoin. The Great Sage used his complete assimilation of the Dao of Summoning to call forth Animus Summons ranging from Low Tier to Peak Tier GALAXY within, while also utilizing the Dao of Voidspace to create a unique spatial environment that incubated and sealed these Animus Summons that would only be released after specific requirements were met. The succeeding inheritors of the Great Sage will be told of the conditions once the Aoin Tower becomes unsealed. To unseal it, the blood of a PRISMATIC Summon is a required condition set beforehand by the Great Sage...

The stupendous details of the singular thing many beings were looking for appeared in front of Noah grandly as his eyes nearly erupted out with golden beams of light.

"What is it?"

Anna came beside him curiously as her gorgeous crimson hair looked fiery in the light, Noah spreading his arms out wide as he laughed while explaining out.

"Treasure! A great deal of treasure! Jörmungandr, let me borrow some of your blood...!"

Noah called out to the future Jörmungandr as it nodded without any complaints, its scales splitting apart as an enormous drop of blood floated out.

Noah controlled it as he let it fall onto the triangular object that was the tip of the Great Sage Aoin Tower, the instant this large blob of blood fell causing a stupendous reaction as a terrifying beam of light shot to the skies, the very secret realm they were in beginning to tremble as the multicolored skies began to shine ever brighter!

On the ground where the triangular object was, the earth had begun to split apart as an enormous luminous structure began to rise, a terrifying aura spreading out as Noah pulled Anna back and watched this scene play out with blazing eyes.

At this moment, something wondrous was happening in the Primal Holy Land of the Expansive Dragon Cluster as an outsider that had just arrived activated the right conditions and brought forth the Legacy of a Great Sage!

Chapter 779 - A Legacy of a Great Sage! I

Outside of the widened crack that led to the secret Realm.

Even though some time had passed within the Primal Holy Land, only a few hours had gone by in the outside world due to the unique time and spatial environment of the secret realm.

Outside of the crack, the powerful personages were situated grandly as they enjoyed paradisiacal drinks and food, the Holy Emperor discussing something with the Primal Emperor as their faces were filled with seriousness!

"There are rumors of Entities that are nearing fully assimilating Daos...the pressure of the coming Cataclysm might just help with the birth of new Sages for the first time since that..."

Yes! The talk was about Sages! In the Dark Universe that used to be populated with Sages and Great Sages before a monumental event took place, it was extremely saddening to look at its state now as the possibility of Sages or Great Sages even existing in it was currently unknown!

After tens of thousands of years had passed since that event, many beings thought there was a high possibility that other Sages had arisen during that time, with rumors that some of the more powerful Ancient Powers were even backed by living Sages.

Yet nobody knew exactly what the truth was. To understand the concept of Sages and Great Sages though, we must talk about how one can obtain such a title to begin with!

This was because becoming a Sage did not mean advancing from the GALAXY Realm, and instead it all had to do with the type of Dao a being studied and whether they had assimilated it.

When it came to the level of Great Sage, this one involved both an advancement of a Realm and the inclusion of assimilated Daos!

In the Dark Universe, the level of GALAXY could be considered to be the peak, with individuals only becoming Entities after they had fully comprehended a Dao, and for those chasing the title of Sages...they had to have both comprehended and assimilated not just one Dao, but multiple!

When it came to the level of Great Sages, very little information about this existed as it involved the secret of advancing past the level of GALAXY, with individuals capable of doing this only termed Great Sages if in addition to their Realm, they comprehend and assimilated a single Grand Dao. There were also the slightly less powerful Great Sages who aside from exceeding the level of GALAXY, they had also assimilated multiple Daos.

Great Sage Aoin was one such being, who had exceeded the level of GALAXY while assimilating the Lesser Daos of Summoning and Voidspace!

Such was the being that used to stand at the top of the Ancient Power that was known as the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter to this day.

There were many wisps and rumors when it came to this Great Sage, with talks of him caring for his Ancient Power so much so that before his death, he was already working on or had already completed a Legacy that he planned to leave behind. Yet...even the Royalty of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter themselves knew nothing about this or its truthfulness as all the Sages and Great Sages had passed so suddenly.

Before the crack where they had sent 20 of their most powerful young experts, the Holy Emperor and the Primal Emperor were talking about such a topic.

"I doubt any new Sages have arisen in the past tens of thousands of years, much less Great Sages. It is simply too hard..."

The gaze of the Primal Emperor shone with light as he spoke, the Holy Emperor about to reply on this topic of possible Sages within the Dark Universe when suddenly, his face rapidly changed as he turned towards the direction of the widened spatial crack!

THRUUUM!

At this moment, the crack widened even further as a l.u.s.trous light erupted from it, a grand light filled with an awe inspiring aura that made even the Entities that stood as Rulers of Ancient Powers tremble.

"This...!"

The Holy Emperor stood up with an ecstatic face as Anastasia came close to him, worry filling her face as she watched the overbearing aura and light wash out from the widening crack in space.

The crack stopped widening after a certain point as it gradually transformed into a mystical golden door that was 20 meters wide, this golden door having a pulsating inscription that read out a single word-
AOIN!

RUMBLE!

The existence of this word caused the minds of many to pale and tremble as the forces of the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter looked towards it with euphoria.

The Primal Emperor had a sharp light pass through his eyes as he looked over in shock, the reality setting in as the resonant voice of the Holy Emperor resounded out again.

"They've actually found the Legacy...!"

THRUUM!

A phenomenon so grand it was even seen in the outside world! Inside the Secret Realm itself...a majestic scene was all that could be observed as great changes occurred to the verdant mountains and fields while the multicolored skies coagulated with dense essence.

At the center of this Secret Realm, an enormous tower was rising after a certain someone had splashed the blood of his PRISMATIC Pet atop its triangular tip, this archaic looking tower shimmering with colors of red, gold, and black as its appearance was the cause of everything!

OOOOM!

Noah and Anna stood below this tower as their shining eyes glanced up towards it, the rumblings all around them coming to a stop as a circular blast of vibrant essence erupted from the tower to fully announce its arrival.

Thereafter, this vibrant essence began coalescing together as it began forming into a shape, a shape of something humanoid and at the same time not!

Noah watched with bright eyes as the illusory form of a golden robed Dragonoid came to be, a sharp horn rising from the center of the forehead as the eyes swirled with the shocking light of galaxies.

RUMBLE!

Essence gathered as this figure became more and more corporeal, its mouth opening soon after as a resonant voice reverberated out!

"Children of all Tribes and Clans. From this point onward, My Legacy shall be open to those destined!"

WAAA!

The words came with a magisterial air as the illusory form of a Great Sage manifested in the skies of the Secret Realm!

Chapter 780 - A Legacy of a Great Sage! II

Appearing grandly, the Great Sage Aoin Tower came with the illusory figure of the Great Sage himself- a being that was actually of the Dragonoid race!

His piercing horn split apart the clouds as his illusory face glanced around the realm, the expression on the face gradually seeing some changes as one could see a sense of sadness within them.

The illusory body then shone splendidly after announcing the opening on the Legacy to those destined, disappearing into particles of light that washed into the Tower!

Noah watched this scene with a slight smile as his head soon turned, his eyes catching the figures of 20 Holy Descendants from the Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter appearing in this location.

Their gazes were ecstatic as they looked towards Noah and Anna.

"Holy Princess, you were actually able to bring forth the Legacy of our Forefather!"

The voice of a Dragonoid Holy Descendant came out as each of the geniuses looked towards the tower with shining eyes.

Anna only smiled as she didn't bother correcting them, simply staying behind Noah as the 20 GALAXY experts looked towards the Tower with expectant gazes. The leading Middle Tier GALAXY Realm Holy Descendant stepped forward with respect while speaking.

"Holy Princess, please be the first..."

The expression on his face was fawning as Noah laughed inside when looking at this, observing the ridiculous acts people would do when facing those above them in status.

He didn't pay the experts any more heed as his legs were the first to move, Anna following him close behind as the Holy Descendant were left in a stupor before they followed. His three Animus Pets were taken back into his Origin as he made his way towards the Tower.

Their steps were light, but each one felt extremely heavy as they neared the Tower, which had a grand golden door of light they had to pass through at the very lowest floor!

Noah and Anna were the first to step through as they felt the changes right away, feeling like they had stepped into a brand new spatial area as the surroundings around them...was a blank room the size of 10 football fields!

THRUUM!

Their entrance wasn't without a show of essence as the moment they stepped in, a golden light flashed as Noah observed a necklace to appear around his neck and Anna's. The one on him was labeled 1 while Anna's had the number 2! All that behind them also had a similar phenomenon as they each got a numbered necklace.

On top of this, streaks of light shot into each of their bodies the moment they entered as they were given a dense amount of information on exactly what the Great Sage Aoin Tower was and everything to do with the Legacy!

Noah focused on the necklace that appeared around each of them first as he organized the dense information coming in.

[Luminous Star Pendant] :: A unique storage artifact formed by the Great Sage Aoin. Capable of containing a myriad of things from the established Great Sage Aoin Tower...

A unique storage artifact that was tied to the Tower they were in, its uses becoming clear as the information flowing into their minds showed the wondrous dream that the Great Sage Aoin had for this Tower!

This Inheritance Ground was created by him a long time ago before the perishing of the Sages and Great Sages, something that Aoin had planned to leave behind to his people! The Tower was the core of this, where he wanted talented Dragonoids and Humans who were proficient in the Dao that he first mastered to try their destiny at obtaining the treasures he left behind.

As for the treasures he left behind...

RUMBLE!

Even before Noah could finish going through the information that explained the rules of the tower, the expanding white room they were in lit up with lights as in the air above them, huge blocks of illusory screens appeared as they listed a number of things going from 1 and all the way to 10,000!

The 10,000 listed things...were all treasures that the Great Sage left behind!

"Ah...!"

Some of the Low Tier GALAXY Holy Descendants plopped to the ground as their gazes landed on the names of the treasures listed on the illusory screens in front of them.

The range was truly vast as from 5000-1000, every single item was a weapon or armor of the highest quality as well as accessories, items that were elevated to great degrees as they were termed Half Dao Weapons!

These were weapons that were drenched in a specific Dao as they were being created, obtaining a hint of the Dao within them as each strike carried out by these weapons was extremely deadly.

They were still termed Half Dao Weapons though because they weren't True Dao Weapons- weapons of such caliber being very hard to create and find!

The numbers of 2000-4999 on the illusory screens were even more colorful, each of them listing unique and rare materials that one could find if they traveled the Dark Universe for tens of thousands of years. Many of the materials had their own unique uses, but the one defining feature for the ones listed on the screens was the fact that they were pristine materials to raise the strength of Animus Summons faster!

As for the slots listed 1-1999, they all had the small images and names of...Animus Summons.

Animus Summons along with their Rarity and Realm!

It wasn't just the Holy Descendants that were falling on the floor in shock, even Noah nearly felt his legs buckle as he looked at the list of nearly 2000 Animus Summons that actually did not have a single creature lower than the level of GALAXY.

1500 of them were in the Low Tier GALAXY Realm!

479 were in the Middle Tier GALAXY Realm, while the remaining 20...were Animus Summons at the Peak Tier GALAXY Realm!

This Legacy that the Great Sage left behind...actually had Animus Summons up to the Peak Tier GALAXY as the prizes one could obtain...

Ah!
