

Mana 841

Chapter 841 - The Master Was Right!

In the depths of the Consummate Sword Holy Land, a mystical Realm existed where the core power of the Consummate Sword Expanse resided.

This Realm was full of fantastical herbs and vegetation that were packed to the brim with essence, mana flowing serenely around the verdant vegetation as a single being was sitting down meditating with a glistening sword on his l.a.p.

He would occasionally stroke the sword as it hummed in a dangerous tone, the essence of the Dao of the Sword swirling around this being in large amounts!

SHAA!

A second later, the figure of 4 meter tall Arch Human teleported into the mystical Realm, his head bowed to the meditating being as he spoke out with reverence.

"Sword Emperor, that...Tyrannical Emperor truly did come to our Expanse. Brother Brightsword is escorting him and Traverser into the Consummate Sword Holy Land at this moment."

The voice of the bowing Arch Human was filled with respect, which made this scene all the more shocking as from the body of this Arch Human...the aura of Entity was bursting off.

An Entity was bowing respectfully to the meditating being, giving him a shocking status!

THRUUM!

The meditating Sword Emperor opened his eyes as the surroundings resonated with his breathing, his voice that was filled with sharpness ringing out.

"Good. The Immemorial Sword Formation is ready to be initiated?"

"Yes, Emperor. With the Consummate Sword Holy Land as the conduit itself, many of our Entities have been stationed throughout the different levels of the formation ready to start at any time."

The Entity's eyes were filled with fervor as they glanced at the Sword Emperor, seeing this Ruler nod his head as the Entity warped away right after.

"Big Sis Morgana, the being I mentioned has entered my Ancient Power. What the Master told us so long ago is turning out to be true..."

A simple message, but one that would cause the minds of the beings that knew the status of this Sword Emperor to reel in shock. No sound came back from the other side of the medallion as the Sword Emperor waited calmly, seconds passing before a sharp voice could be heard.

"The so called Master of Ruination that the Old Fool talked about before he croaked? F.u.c.k if I care that he's come to you!"

The voice was sharp and filled with disdain, with the truly perceptive readers being able to link the vulgar way of speaking of this being to an 'Entity' that was mentioned some time back!

On the other side of the medallion that the Sword Emperor was speaking into, the small body of a girl that was floating in the chaotic void while twirling with a Ruination Core could be seen.

This was the exact same being that was the other holder of a Ruination Core, the one that Noah labeled to be a powerful Entity of even worse of a being that was actively moving throughout the Dark Universe!

Her petite figure brimmed with shocking power as she played with a Tool many beings were searching for, her voice ringing out again as it traveled to the Sword Emperor.

"I was wondering why this stupid tool would be vibrating after all this time, never did I expect the bullshit 'Master of Ruination' to have actually propped up! What the hell makes him worthy, huh? He's still barely an Entity from what you've told me!"

The expression of the Sword Emperor remained placid at the barrage of words from the being he called Big Sis Morgana as he replied.

"The Master has never been wrong. But of course, I still made my own preparations. To make sure that we have a chance of survival...to make sure we can withstand the maniacs of the Spirit Race...I will even sacrifice my power and Origin."

...!

The eyes of the petite figure countless light years away constricted as she began screaming loudly into her medallion.

"You little shit! What do you plan to do? Can you stop doing stupid things just for a second when I'm away? What do you mean sacrifice your Origin? You better have not believed all of the words of that Old Fool!"

Her voice was sharp to the ears as the Sword Emperor smiled while turning his face away. His face was melancholic as he repeated words he had heard tens of thousands of years ago.

"A being capable of freely wielding the Tools of Ruination. A being that rises from nothingness and into a peak powerhouse in a short period of time. A being that gets stronger from devouring the strength of others...everything that the Master said to us before fits with this being. I have collected all the information about him that dates back to when he appeared in the Expansive Dragon Cluster just weeks ago. Do you know what his realm was then?"

"..."

"Merely at the QUASAR Realm."

...!

"And now, he stands as an Entity just a month later, with enough power that even when he came in contact with the Spirit Race...it was actually them that pulled back!"

RUMBLE!

"What?!" The petite figure known as Big Sis Morgana shouted out at these unbelievable words, the Sword Emperor continuing as his eyes swirled with powerful light.

"The Spirit Race not moving against him after meeting gives us a chance, a chance that I will use to the fullest to achieve the dream of Master. I know you can feel that the Cataclysm is nearing as well...this might be the last chance that we have to move against the Spirit Race and take the remaining 2 Ruination Cores from them...the last chance to give the Master of Ruination a chance to undo what Master and the others did a long time ago!

RUMBLE!

Morgana felt her heart tremble as she had a foreboding feeling, essence beginning to swirl around her as she voiced out angrily.

"You dumbass! Wait for me and dont do anything stupid. I'll come back and peel the origin of this useless Master of Ruination to find out his secrets as I use the tools of Ruination myself. Do not do anything before then!"

THRUUUUM!

The chaotic void shattered as the petite figure of a terrifying being shot out at high speed, her blazing with anger as she made way towards the Consummate Sword Expanse!

Back in the verdant mystical realm where the Sword Emperor resided, his eyes shot out innumerable lights as he put the medallion away and looked to the skies while speaking mysteriously.

"Master...I shall help to undo what you and the others did all those years ago..."

His gaze seemed to hold a myriad of secrets as he stared into nothingness, his body brimming with power that was way past an Entity!

It was the power of a Sage!

Chapter 842 - The Immemorial Sword Formation Activates

Noah was able to enter the grand Galaxy that was the Consummate Sword Holy Land with relative ease as the Arch Human Entities guided him in.

It was filled with a myriad of stars like any galaxies, but it held a mysterious air that made it seem extremely old and archaic!

Traverser was the only one who seemed to have his guard up as Noah and the Arch Human Entities floated towards an enormous golden door with smiles.

"This is the Sword Realm that is more than worthy of receiving respected guests such as yourselves."

The lead Entity introduced the Realm they were entering through the golden door as they appeared in a fantastical environment.

Noah was in the skies as he watched an expansive fantasy city filled with buildings and structures built to the likeness of swords, vast grasslands present throughout as it seemed like a land that past Sages would stroll through!

The essence was vibrantly dancing in the surroundings as the party of Entities descended down an open area that held majestic outdoor dining tables and chairs, Noah and Traverser being welcomed to sit down as a variety of glistening food and drinks appeared on it.

"Now, let us talk over a hearty meal."

The lead Entity had an indiscernible smile as he smiled at them, Noah not caring as he sat down and comfortably began helping himself to the golden drinks and meat that vibrated with essence.

"I am the Sword Emperor's right hand man, Brightsword. May I know why the Emperorslayer has made his way over to our Ancient Power?"

Brightsword glanced at Noah with a smile as he asked.

It was an extremely weird environment as all the Entities were watching Noah, him being the only figure that was digging into the food and enjoying himself as even Traverser seemed to be carefully looking back at the watching Entities.

"I came for the Ruination Core that is somewhere in this Ancient Power."

"..."

Silence descended onto the majestic outdoor dining area as even the wind stalled, Traverser's eyes opening wide as they locked towards Noah...watching as this being merely continued enjoying his meal with a savory look after saying shocking words!

What was even more surprising was...the fact that the Arch Human Entities didn't react in a shocked manner or erupt out in anger, remaining still as Brightsword only kept smiling.

"I see. Then we must follow the will of the Sword Emperor!"

THRUM!

Brightsword said these words powerfully as his eyes shone with immense l.u.s.ter, Noah merely glancing towards this Entity and those around him with squinting eyes as he spoke nonchalantly once more.

"And what is the will of your Sword Emperor?"

There was a period of silence as Brightsword waved his hands while smiling, seemingly giving a signal as he smiled.

"The will of the Sword Emperor is something even we cannot deny...so I shall wish you good luck in obtaining what you want. If fate permits, I might even stand in front of you again!"

RUMBLE!

The gaze of Brightstar and other Entities seemed to hold innumerable mysteries as the moment these words finished, the figures of the Entities in front of Noah began to disappear one after another as Noah and Traverser also felt themselves swept away by a spatial storm!

"Hmmm?!"

Noah's eyes shone with bright light as he sensed his surroundings, his eyes glancing around to find himself in an entirely new area that held a much different environment than the one he was in. He finished the golden drink he had in his hand nonchalantly as he began to focus.

Spreading his senses out, he saw that he had been teleported to a planet that had no life on it, the only figures on this planet being him...and a single Arch Human Entity that was stroking his sword with a melancholic expression!

This Entity was standing in front of an enormous magic circle that shone with an intense light, Noah's Eyes of Truth locking onto it as his eyes nearly bulged out when he somewhat ascertained what was going on.

THRUUM!

Yet he didn't have to put the pieces together as a moment later, the Illusory image of a devilishly handsome Arch Human formed in the skies of this planet! This one held a head full of dark hair that moved with the wind, a sharp jawline and an air of a being that carried themselves with immense majesty!

His eyes seemed to hold a myriad of mysteries as he glanced down towards Noah and spoke grandly.

"I am glad you could make your way down to my Consummate Sword Expanse...as it gives me a unique opportunity to do something I had long given up on and thought of as mere stories!"

RUMBLE!

Filled with the light of majesty and power, the Sword Emperor had appeared in front of Noah in an Illusory form.

With the simple appearance of this figure, Noah's senses also caught the usage of enormous amounts of mana in his surroundings, knowing a unique phenomenon was occurring at this moment as he stared at the floating figure in the skies.

"Tens of thousands of years ago, my Master told the tale of a being that would be capable of holding immense power, of a being that could utilize the Tools of Ruination!"

RUMBLE!

"It has been so long that I nearly forgot about this tale...that I nearly gave up! Yet, a being matching the descriptions Master mentioned has stepped onto my home, but this being...is not up to par with the ill.u.s.trious one that my Master painted."

The resounding voice of the Sword Emperor was filled with melancholy as he looked at Noah.

"The Master said that the one capable of using the Tools of Ruination would be able to very quickly rise in strength as they could devour the origins of others and assimilate them into their own power."

"I am inclined to believe in the Master, and it is the reason why I have made so much effort. But...I must be sure that I am making the right choice, so I shall give you a chance!"

The barren planet Noah was on quaked as enormous amounts of essence flooded in, something shocking that had been underway finally being completed.

"This chance lies on the Immemorial Sword Formation that has been activated. A formation that spans across 50 planets and stars- each of them connected together to create a unique Spatial Realm that uses the Origins of the Sword Kings of my Consummate Sword Expanse at their core."

"Within this Immemorial Sword Formation, you will stand against my Sword Kings as you make your way to the top. If you are capable enough and are the true Master of Ruination, you should be able to defeat them as you assimilate their power to increase your own. It is a huge sacrifice that my forces are making as they will lose a significant portion of their power with their defeat...but I must do this if I want to realize the dream of my Master!"

RUMBLE!

Noah's eyes shone brightly as he stared at the illusory figure, his mind rumbling with many thoughts as a singular one came to the very forefront when he looked at the situation before him.

'So...you've created a Dungeon where Entities are the mini bosses?!'

...!

Chapter 843 - The Immemorial Sword Dungeon!

Noah's mind was filled with a myriad of thoughts as he gradually understood the situation around him, putting together the many pieces of information that the Sword Emperor was throwing out as he created a larger picture.

It seemed like he wasn't alone in trying to prevent the apocalypse, beings like Traverser and this Sword Emperor existing who also had the same goal!

To further this goal, Traverser had joined him and pledged to help in any way he could, while this Sword Emperor was an old monster that had a supposed prophecy passed down by a being he called his Master...this being somehow foretelling that someone like Noah would appear in the future.

This alone made Noah's mind buzz as he wondered what type of Dao or unique power that being cultivated to be able to see something like that, and what truly happened with the Sages and Great Sages that caused the separation of the Dark Universe from the Primordial Cosmos.

He couldn't help but ask.

"Who exactly is this master you keep on referring to?"

The Illusory figure glanced at Noah as their starry eyes moved, their dominant voice ringing out once more.

"My Master was the Great Sage that stood at the forefront of the battle against the nearby powers from the Primordial Cosmos that aimed for our Cosmic Treasure, the one that also knew what would happen when they cut off our Dark Universe from its home. But he did this because he saw that it was the only way to grant us time...where he even sacrificed his life and the life of all living Sages to cut us off and give us a few tens of thousands of years where we were waiting for a single being to rise."

RUMBLE!

"Even the maniacs of the Spirit Race do not know this secret, Master being the only one that knew and passed it down to his disciples. Otherwise...they would have not so recklessly let you go in the Primal Winged Expanse. This is because you are the bane of what they stand for...you are the supposed being that would connect us back to the Primordial Cosmos and stand to protect this Universe."

"Whether that being truly is you, we have to test and affirm with full certainty. Your power at the rank of Entity is not enough to stand against the Spirit Race and obtain the other 2 Ruination Cores as their strength is unfathomable! Let us see if you are truly the being we have been waiting for...climb through my Immemorial Sword Formation and defeat my Sword Kings. If you can truly assimilate their strength and rise in strength to approach Sage...I have no problem handing you the Ruination Core in my hands!"

Noah felt his heart beat faster as this truly wasn't a situation he expected.

He didn't have to slaughter his way through an Ancient Power as this time around, he was mingling with beings that knew of the apocalypse to come and actually wanted to prevent it.

But they had to have assurances that they weren't giving away their supreme treasures to some weakling as this Sword Emperor had chosen a unique way to go about it...by creating a dungeon!

What was a dungeon?

In Noah's Homeworld and the Beast World, dungeons were widespread as the Origins of beasts were used to serve as the mobs within, everytime they were defeated leaving behind a portion of their origin to the victor as they gradually lost their power and sense of being.

Their origins could be replenished with the input of essence as overtime, they lost all of their identity and simply became mindless origin machines that acted as puppets within a dungeon. In the past, the Spiritual Land of the Beast World had also created a dungeon for the test Noah took before he became its master- where the Emperor Penguin, Polar Bear, and other Spiritual Land beasts were used as the mini bosses in the dungeon.

The dungeons were unique spatial realms where those connected to the dungeons did not truly die...only losing a portion of their origin as their souls also received immense damage from the pseudo-death!

This was exactly what the Sword Emperor had done. The so called formation he had set up...was a dungeon that had 50 Planets interconnected, each one acting as its own level as it held a varying amount of Entities as mini bosses!

"..."

Noah was breathless as he affirmed this by glancing at the planet he was on with eyes of truth.

[First Floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon] :: The first floor of a dungeon created for a unique purpose. A single Entity has to be defeated on this floor before the challenger can step on the runic magic circle and be teleported into the 2nd floor...

The fantastical reality really was so as Noah shook his head incredulously, looking towards the illusory figure of the Sword Emperor with a difficult expression.

He had expected an enemy when he came, but unexpectedly found something entirely different!

RUMBLE!

He expressed his thanks in the only way that would reach the magnanimous Sword Emperor, his body beginning to bubble with power as he would take this pie that was falling out of the sky and take huge bites out of it.

He gave a nod of respect to the Sword Emperor.

"I will thank you in advance for this opportunity!"

The figure of the Sword Emperor nodded with melancholy as he began to disappear.

"Traverser has no role to play in this Formation, and he will simply be watching the scenes playing out like many others. Prove to us that you truly are the being we are waiting for."

WAP!

The illusory figure disappeared as on the barren planet- on the first floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, only Noah and a single Entity was left.

The hairs on Noah's head began to dance wildly as they focused on the Arch Human stroking his sword with a sad expression.

The sword in his hands seemed to be humming a tune, where with every passing second the shocking aura it released only became more and more powerful. The Entities, or as the Sword Emperor referred to them, the Sword Kings- would not lay down their lives easily as they knew with their defeat, their origin and soul would be heavily injured as their battle power would be greatly reduced!

So Noah would have to put in some work if he wanted to defeat these Entities that were fanatics of a Grand Dao of the Sword as he advanced through a one of a kind dungeon.

A dungeon made just for him.

Filled with Entities proficient in the Grand Dao of the Sword that he could defeat for Dao and Assimilation Crystals, Skill Points, and a myriad of other loot.

It was something out of his wildest dreams as he couldn't help but let out a bellow of happiness!

"OOOOOH!"

RUMBLE!

Chapter 844 - Picking Up a Grand Dao is Easy I

In the mystical realm filled with lush greenery, the Sword Emperor was still situated among the verdant grass as he peacefully breathed in and out.

A few meters away from him, an illusory screen could be seen that showed the scene of Noah looking towards one of his Sword Kings, the body of the Emperorslayer beginning to bubble with power as things were about to begin!

Many thoughts crossed the Sword Emperor's mind as he looked at this scene, his essence constantly making sure the Immemorial Sword Formation that was set up was working perfectly.

He had no regrets from his actions, the possibility of the identity of this Master of Ruination simply being too important as he had to act! His senses told him that the Cataclysm was truly near, and if they wanted to stand against the suicidal Spirit Race...they had to move.

THRUM!

Essence was now erupting freely on the First Floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon as his starry eyes locked in to pay attention.

In another location, Traverser was left behind as the voice of the Sword Emperor had reached him to explain the ongoing situation, an illusory screen also present on the outdoor dining area they were in that showed the scene of Noah and the Sword King.

All the other floors of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon also had similar illusory screens as Noah's battles would be analyzed by the very same beings he would face, his mission becoming increasingly harder as he climbed up.

The pieces were set.

The board was made.

Now, it was time to play.

On the first floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, Noah directly activated [Automatic Cast of All Support Skills] as his hair danced wildly, his body being wrapped by the multicolored essence of all Universal Laws as glorious wings erupted behind him while he was adorned in a magisterial armament.

Vibrant golden hammers swirled on his back as two sharp swords appeared in his hands, the Sword King in the distance glancing at the Swords with a light smile as he wielded his own.

"You really do dare raise a Sword against someone that has wielded it their entire life."

His voice was soft and placid, Noah sensing many emotions in it as the moment the being finished talking, he began walking towards him.

THRUM!

Each step he took, his aura became even wilder as the Sword he held hummed, Noah feeling the power of the Grand Dao of the Sword as he moved himself.

He was truly curious what exactly this Grand Dao has that created fanatics.

"The Will of the Sword Emperor must be followed...and he told us to go all out as if death in here was truly final!"

BOOOM!

This object was naturally the Sword of the Arch Human Entity, Noah's colorful eyes watching things as if in slow motion as he saw the swirling coagulation of the essence of the Sword Dao on the descending weapon.

This essence was truly unique as it was filled with immense power, this single strike making it seem like it would bring down the weight of an entire star when it met its target!

The Dao of Withering had essence with a destructive nature that deconstructed and eroded the enemy, the Dao of Vastness has expanding essence that granted the user unique properties...every single dao had its own unique essence.

The essence of the Dao of the Sword...gave its Entities extremely sharp and destructive attacks that carried the force equivalent to or even greater than the weight of stars or the even heavier stellar bodies, causing for the Sword Kings to be capable of shattering planets with a single swing of their sword!

RUMBLE!

Such was the strike that was coming towards Noah, his arms rising up to bring his two Swords that palpated with the essence of Aether and Death to stop the advancement of the Sword King's strike that was smashing towards his face.

....BOOOM!

The impact was horrendous, the sheer weight the strike carried smashing into Noah's Swords as it passed through them and descended onto his body, smashing him backwards as his body was thrown a few miles back!

WAA!

So this was the power of the Sword Dao!

"Good!"

THRUM!

His body exploded back towards the Sword King miles away, the pressure he released becoming even wilder as the Ruination Cores' Affixes were activated.

[+10,000 to All Damage] and [+10,000 to Attack and Cast Speed] were activated as his figure turned into a streak of light, the swords he wielded moving at speeds that the watching Entities who were lax on the other floor failed to catch!

...!

They rose up from their nonchalant gazes as they focused on the illusory screen, only then being able to see the path of Noah that had truly become too fast out of nowhere!

BOOM!

It was Noah's turn to strike back as the Sword King he faced barely raised his sword in time, the clash this time causing space to shatter as neither side was moved back!

Horrendous sounds were rusting out as the eyes of the Sword King focused feeling the force that Noah released now to be on par with the enormous strength that his Dao provided him.

"...!"

It was a chilling truth that only came by due to [+10,000 to All Damage] and [+10,000 to Attack and Cast Speed], the effects of the Ruination Core Affixes being the same if not more than what boosts the fully comprehended Daos provided to Entities!

"Haha!"

It was a shocking reality as Noah moved to strike again, enjoying the feeling of his body moved at shocking speeds and releasing tremendous power as he had yet to even call forth his summons.

As for the affixes, he would be replacing the Attack and Cast Speed affix the moment his foes were about to be defeated and replace it with the [Slain enemies have a 10% chance to drop Dao Crystals based on the Dao they cultivate] Affix in order to collect the Dao Crystals of this resplendent Sword Dao himself!

His strikes gaining the force equivalent to the weight of stars? He wanted it!

RUMBLE

The clash against the two Entities continued wildly as the eyes of the Sword King turned bright, his mouth moving in a barely discernible whisper.

...

The skies turned quiet as an ability was cast.

Hundreds of Swords began materializing above Noah, each of them carrying the weight of stellar bodies as they tore through space and thundered down.

"Ah..."

Towards such a shocking ability, Noah had a bright smile as around his body, innumerable miniaturized stars, suns, black holes, and quasars began to form.

The abilities of the Void Terror and the Terror of Aether- Cthulhu skill trees that were brought up had many abilities that conjured up stellar bodies as the method of attacking.

They eventually reached the stage of being able to throw out even black holes and Quasars as attacks, the only thing Noah could not do at this moment being the fact that he couldn't conjure up a miniaturized Galaxy to throw at someone...but he had a real Galaxy to do that with if he wished!

But with his body brimming with power as stellar bodies coalesced around him, he faced the onslaught of hundreds of swords!

BOOOM!

Chapter 845 - Picking Up a Grand Dao is Easy II

BOOM!

...THRUM!

Minutes passed on the first floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon as two streaking figures of light could be seen.

One had a tinge of blue that represented his sword essence wrapping around his body, while the other had too many damn colors coalescing all around him as he was being aided by all laws and a few daos!

When one observed closely, they would be able to see that the figure of the Sword King was disheveled as the pressure he released was gradually waning, while the figure of Noah was just as vibrant as ever.

This was the difference between beings that had limited energy...and one that had an infinite amount of it!

BOOM!

Noah attacks were only becoming more and more smooth as his aura rose ever higher, the +10,000% support in Damage, Attack, and Cast Speed provided by the Ruination Core on top of his other support skills and the percentage boost that his completely comprehend Dao of Withering provided making him overpower an Entity that studied a Grand Dao over time!

BOOM!

The figure of the Sword King began to be pushed back as he could only defend, his sword humming sadly by his aide as it felt like it failed to protect its master.

The eyes of the Sword King were bright as he remained relentless even when things turned disadvantageous.

He fought until his hand was cut off and the trusted Sword was lost from his grasp.

SHAA!

An Affix was switched.

SHAA!

A head rolled to the ground of a barren planet.

"..."

Those watching the scene had many complicated thoughts as at this moment, the first floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon was cleared.

The body of the dead Sword King exploded out as it disappeared, leaving behind a cluster of Cores and a skill book...along with a few Dao Crystals that could drop with a higher chance than Assimilation Crystals.

Noah's body remained vibrant and colorful as he reached out, putting the Cores in his Expansive Space while his hands had already begun absorbing the [Grand Dao of the Sword Crystals] after changing to the affix that would allow him to obtain an even larger percentage of this Dao.

GALAXY [Sword of Revelation] :: An area of attack ability that calls forth hundreds of swords that are as dense as black holes. Each of them points towards the enemy as their tips will pierce through them to reveal the secrets lying within.

He learned the GALAXY Rank skill book right away, not doubting that it would be one of the few skills that would form into a skill tree that could utilize the essence of the Dao of the Sword into an ability.

He could create some powerful offensive skills for the Dao of the Sword too if he wished as he had over 32 million skill points at this moment...but his thoughts were on creating a singular powerful one sometime soon in the future that could be utilized and enhanced by all laws and daos!

The scene on the barren planet turned silent as many beings watched the Tyrannical Entity sit down while he absorbed gloriously shining Dao Crystals.

In front of him, the runic magic circle shone brightly as it was asking him to step into it and arrive into the second floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon where even more powerful foes waited for him!

In the mystical realm filled with verdant greenery, the Sword Emperor was staring with shining eyes as he observed what occurred the moment one of his Sword Kings was defeated.

He saw the appearance of a book and Cores as his eyes actually focused on the brilliantly shining Dao Crystals that shot a blue loot light into the skies.

He observed as Noah began absorbing the crystals...his eyes opening in shock as he felt the aura of the Sword Dao begin to erupt from Noah soon after!

"Truly capable of devouring the strength of others to advance...but to do it this fast? On a Grand Dao as well..?!"

The firm heart of the Sword Emperor was shaken as right after, a slight smile appeared on his lips.

"This affirms his identity even more, which means...!"

The eyes of the Sword Emperor were filled with many mysteries as he glanced back at the illusory screen.

RUMBLE!

He was watching the progress of Noah absorbing the Dao Crystals when not too far from him, spatial fluctuations erupted out and a Sword King with an ashen expression appeared!

It was the very same Entity that had just battled and been defeated by Noah.

His eyes seemed to have dimmed as he let out a light cough, the Sword Emperor glancing towards him with careful eyes as he spoke.

"How do you feel?"

"...my cultivation is destabilized as I nearly fell to Middle Tier GALAXY...and my comprehensions into the Dao of the Sword are murky!"

"It's as if I did not fully comprehend the Dao all these years, the only saving grace being my progress in the assimilation of the Dao lighting up the way again after I came to."

The Entity spoke with a firm expression as he didn't seem to hold even the slightest regret!

The Sword Emperor kept his firm expression as he nodded.

"We were right! He can devour the Realms and comprehensions of others as he grows at a rapid rate...the Master has never been wrong with his words!"

RUMBLE!

The Sword King nodded deeply at these words as his figure disappeared, his report having finished as he now needed to recuperate for who knew how many years to recover his Peak strength and straighten his Dao once more.

He didn't ask the most pressing question as he was too afraid to ask or even think of it.

It was the purpose of the Immemorial Sword Formation, and the fact that the being at the very top level of it was the Sword Emperor himself.

If that Tyrannical Entity really managed to get past the groups of Sword Kings at the higher levels of the formation, what would happen if he reached the Sword Emperor?

It was a shocking thought that was better left unsaid as on the first floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, Noah finished absorbing the Dao Crystals and stood up.

A light smile could be seen on his face as the Sword made from Death and Aether trembled within his hands.

The Sword Kings on the upper levels of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon stood up with grim looks as they really confirmed it.

The Tyrannical Entity now had the essence of the Dao of the Sword swirling around him, his edge having become even sharper as he stepped on the runic magic circle leading to the next floor!

Chapter 846 - The Tyrannical Entity Decimates Sword Kings! I

On the second floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, there were two Sword Kings waiting for Noah.

Neither of them spoke a single word as their faces were extremely serious, knowing the power of this being as they had just seen it first hand!

THRUUM!

Their swords cried out as they moved faster than what the eyes could see.

Noah gave a light smile as he ironically cast a single skill.

[Sword of Revelation].

WAA!

The skies became filled with hundreds of Swords that carried with them the essence of the Grand Dao of the Sword...and also all universal laws along with the deteriorating essence of the Dao of Withering!

It was multiple times more deadly than when it was first cast against Noah on the first floor, as it was also supported by the switched Ruination Core Affixes of [+10,000 to All Damage] and [+10,000 to Attack and Cast Speed].

BOOOM!

The figures of the two Sword Kings rushing towards him were blown back as their bodies glimmered with the essence of the Sword, their eyes shining brightly as they were attacked with their own skill!

"OOOOH!"

One of the Sword Kings released a vibrant bellow as he threw the sword he held into the skies, Noah watching with shining eyes as this Sword split from one to two, from two to four...

It continued splitting more and more as the Sword King valiantly called out.

[Starry Flow of the Sword]!

RUMBLE!

His sword that had split apart numerous times formed into a mass that looked like a rushing body of water.

The cast of this ability was followed by the shocking formation of an enormous starry river, this river being made of an innumerable number of Swords as it thundered towards the rain of Swords that Noah released from the skies!

The clash was grand as space quaked, the starry River of swords moving with purpose as they sn.a.k.e.d towards Noah.

He only smiled calmly as he did something that only he could do.

[Sword of Revelation].[Sword of Revelation].[Sword of Revelation]...

He began spamming...

THRUUM!

The rain of hundreds of swords ripped apart the starry River as even more of them thundered towards the two Entities, their faces filled with frustration as they faced a being that truly did not play fair!

In the next second, they found that fairness truly wasn't in this being's vocabulary as while they faced the rain of swords palpating with the reinforcement of all laws and multiple Daos, a blob of a blue had silently appeared behind them.

Nobody knew when, but the terrifying Universal Emperor Slimes has been summoned silently as it came to the back of the unsuspecting Entities... its body expanding as it swallowed one of them whole.

...!

Alarm filled the faces of the two Sword King as the one that didn't have his body covered by the body of the slime watched in shock as his friend...disappeared entirely in the next second!

WAP!

<<Universal Devouring>> was utilized as the Blue Slime got a meal on the second floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon.

RUMBLE!

Its body began to tremble with happiness as its small eyes formed into a crescent, the aura of an Entity proficient in the Dao of the Sword erupting from it as this ridiculous Slime gained yet another Grand Dao to its list of fully comprehended Daos!

BOOOOM!

The body of the Blue Slime moved like a sledge hammer as while reinforced by the essence of numerous Grand Daos, it smashed into the shocked Arch Human Entity and flung him out towards Noah, the body of this Entity spurting out blood after its defenses were punctured from a hit that contained the essence of so many Daos.

He flew like a missile towards Noah's direction as what awaited him...

[Sword of Revelation].

THRUM!

"..."

Two Entities were cleared out in seconds as a Blue Slime cheerfully went towards Noah, its body bouncing up and down on his head excitedly as its small body released the shocking pressure of multiple Entities!

There was immense silence in the upper floors of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon as the many Sword Kings saw that somehow, the second level was passed even faster than the first as their Entities were taken down in less than a minute.

"This...!"

The eyes of the Sword Emperor in the far mystical realm shone brightly at this scene as he continued watching!

On the second floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, Noah went towards the area where the second Entity had just died, his hands grabbing onto the Cores as well as.... Law and Dao Assimilation Crystals!

This Entity didn't trigger the Affix of the Ruination Core and had instead triggered Noah's own skill as he gave out the even more wondrous Assimilation Crystals.

Along with this, a single Skill Book floated in the air as it turned into a streak of light and flew into Noah's mind.

Starry Flow of the Sword :: The ways to decimate an opponent with your sword are many, but none are as powerful as sacrificing your Sword to form into a starry stellar river of swords that decimated your enemy.

On the third floor, yet another pair of Sword Kings waited for them as the moment Noah and the Blue Slime were teleported in...they attacked with fervor as they saw the ridiculous strength of these two beings!

ZIIIIING!

The clouds in the skies of the barren planet the third level they were on parted as from above, two blue shimmering Swords that spanned multiple miles long thundered down.

[Wrath of the Sword King].

RUMBLE

The eyes of Noah and the Blue Slime turned towards the skies as the sharp tips of the two Swords were the only thing covering their sight, the eyes of the Sword Kings wrathful as they pointed down towards them!

They actually wanted to snipe them the moment they entered the 3rd level, horrendously powerful attacks smashing towards them the second they appeared.

THRUUUM!

Noah released a bright smile as he used the new GALAXY Rank skills he had obtained, while the body of the Blue Slime ballooned up excitedly while facing the mountain sized Sword descending towards them!

Chapter 847 - The Tyrannical Entity Decimates Sword Kings! II

Traverser was watching with blazing eyes as a shocking scene played out on the third level of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon.

Under the pressure of two mountainous Swords, the Tyrannical Entity pointed his Aether and Death Sword to the skies as he cast the very same skills of the Sword Kings!

[Starry Flow of the Sword]!

The Sword of Aether shattered as it formed into a stellar river of Swords, the Sword of Death doing the same as two raging rivers of Aether and Death appeared to stand against one of the mountainous swords.

RUMBLE!

The small figure of the Blue Slime also ballooned up greatly as its viscous body thrummed with the essence of many Daos, the second mountainous Sword smashing into it as...it could not go down any further!

BZZZZT!

Space was the only thing hurt as it quaked and cracked, the stellar rivers of Death and Aether swords shattering the enormous Sword that represented the [Wrath of the Sword King].

Traverser's scalp tingled as he stated at this shocking scene as in the next moment, a heart rending Roar could be heard as on the field of the third floor, the image of a glorious Queen Dowager appeared the moment that the two mountainous swords were repelled, its ten heads erupting out with scorching pillars of flames while the Blue Slime and Noah moved like streaks of light towards the two Sword Kings.

"They...they're decimating Entities that studied the Grand Dao for all their lives..."

That's right.

What was happening as Noah ascended through the floors of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon wasn't a fight anymore, it was simply the Decimation of Entities as he seemed to get more and more powerful after every passing floor, clearing them even quicker than the previous ones as the Entities within were destroyed in even more spectacular ways!

RUUMBLE!

On the third floor, Noah watched the two Sword Kings explode into loot as he stood on one of Tiamat's heads, waving his hands as multiple Galaxy Cores entered his Expansive Space while he also grasped onto the appearing Dao Crystals.

Only a single Entity dropped Dao Crystals this time as no assimilation crystals came out, with two more skill books appearing in front of him that he quickly learned while already absorbing the Dao Crystals!

Sword Intent :: A powerful intent blooms in your Origin as it can reinforce your will on the path of the Sword. +1000% Increased Damage on all abilities that utilize the Dao of the Sword. This percentage can be increased greatly depending on your comprehension in the Dao of the Sword.

Wrath of the Sword King :: A mountainous Sword is the only way a King can release his wrath. The angrier the caster is, the more powerful the damage will be as the percentage is capped at 1000%.

Noah digested the 2 skills as they were very quickly assembled into a skill tree on his stat panel, combined with the other 2 he had gained prior as the four of them were grouped under a single tree!

The Way of the Sword :: A skill tree containing the abilities capable of making one proficient in the way of the Sword. Contains the Abilities Sword of Revelation, Starry Flow of the Sword, Sword Intent, and Wrath of the Sword King.

Just a few other floors and some luck...and he would be able to fully comprehend an elusive Grand Dao while he collected Assimilation Crystals.

His eyes blazed with intense light as he knew...if he fully crossed the floors of this Immemorial Sword Dungeon, it truly might not be a problem for him to bring his Universal Laws Assimilation all the way to 100%!

THRUM!

His eyes blazed with power as before he proceeded into the next floor, two clones warped in as they turned into streaks of light to merge with the dreadful Blue Slime and Tiamat, the clones using [Automatic Cast of All Support Skills] as the immense power these two PRISMATIC+ pets released became even more fearsome.

The swirling essence of all Universal Laws around their bodies gave the watching Sword Kings goosebumps as they saw the Tyrannical Entity and his Summons descend unto the next floor, which was another barren planet with 2 Entities on it!

Their bodies were already glowing bright with the Dao of Sword, moving with a delay as they had seen what this Tyrannical Entity had done the floor prior.

It was truly an interesting scene as the Sword Emperor had spread out his Entities across the Immemorial Sword Dungeon in terms of power, putting 2 Entities every level after the first one until the 20th- with those on higher floors being the Sword Kings that had assimilated more of the Grand Dao of the Sword as their power was much more frightening!

It should have been a dungeon that caused its challenger to despair and lose their will after a few floors, yet they saw the scene of the challenger getting stronger after every floor as he went to the next one with vigor!

On the fourth floor, the 2 Sword Kings did not last a minute under Noah's onslaught of skills that their own people were using not too long ago, along with the ferocious strength of the two PRISMATIC+ Pets.

If this wasn't enough, [Wrath of the Sword King] was cast as Noah made sure to utilize the Sin of Wrath to boost the percentage boost of this skill near its maximum before he struck, causing the formation of an enormous sword miles long to pierce through the skies of the barren planet, a single one of these swords squashing an Entity that was struggling with a stellar river of Swords a second later.

It was truly a dominating show of power as he seemed unstoppable!

What was most frustrating of all for the watching Sword Kings was the fact that this Tyrannical Entity was defeating their people so overwhelmingly through skills they had known since before they even became Entities!

In the Ancient Power that held Entities that loved and studied the Sword Dao with fanaticism, Noah was actually utilizing this same Dao to thrash its most powerful Entities left and right.

The Sword Kings were breathless as they saw Noah enter floor after floor as the decimation only continued.

From his body, this could see the Illusory figure of a sword surrounding him as one of the 3 Entities on the 21st floor sighed with utter shock.

"He is already coalescing a Sword Will to naturally reinforce his origin and soul...!"

They could only watch it utter shock as the Tyrannical Entity breezed through the first few floors of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, the essence of the Dao of the Sword around him becoming even thicker as after defeating multiple Entities proficient in this Dao, he was collecting enough Crystals to very soon completely comprehend it!

Chapter 848 - 100% in a Grand Dao, a Disastrous Event! I

Amidst the devastating scene of Sword Kings being whipped left and right, the Sword Emperor was actually smiling in the mystical verdant Realm.

"Master has never been wrong..."

He was smiling because his assertions came to be true, the being in front of him truly being the Master of Ruination as no other being could do what he was doing!

This reality also caused him to pause as he became serious, thinking about the end result of the Immemorial Sword Formation that he had set up.

He would be the last being to face this Tyrannical Entity if he kept this pace and climbed all the way to the 50th level of the Formation.

The Sword Emperor thought of the one he called Big Sis Morgana who was furiously coming towards the Consummate Sword Expanse as his face lost its seriousness and adopted a light smile.

"It should be okay. She'll be there to pick up the slack..."

The eyes of the Sword Emperor were filled with innumerable mysteries as he continued watching the shocking scenes play out.

On the 6th Floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, the fearsome Jormungandr and the Golden Crow made their appearance grandly along with the Blue Slime and Tiamat, the pace that the Tyrannical Entity cleared each floor becoming even faster as the Entities proficient in the Grand Dao of the Sword were decimated within minutes from the overwhelming force of Entities that Noah brought with him!

A clone warped in for each summoned Pet as they all became adorned in the stellar Armament of all Universal Laws, this time also being aided by the Grand Dao of the Sword that Noah was on his way to fully comprehending as he collected more Dao Crystals.

On the 15th floor of the Immemorial Sword Dungeon after taking down over 18 more Entities, the Affix of Ruination had triggered enough times as Noah obtained the Dao Crystals he required to do something stupendous!

His eyes blazed with light as they saw the percentage rapidly jumping from 70% to 80%, and from then on as it raced towards 100%!

THRUUUM!

The watching Sword Kings were truly mystified as they also watched this scene on their illusory screens, Traverser joining them in their shock as these beings were ridiculously watching as an illusory Sword coagulated on Noah's body, his figure beginning to release an aura that only the Sword Kings had been releasing this entire time.

"...ridiculous!"

A reality many Sword Kings wanted to deny as they had spent blood and tears for thousands of years to fully comprehend the Grand Dao of the Sword, and this being in front of them...he really comprehended it in less than an hour.

...!

He had truly been moving through the Immemorial Sword Dungeon in less than an hour, and he had a shocking 100% next to the Grand Dao of the Sword as his body erupted with a brilliant blue light!

WAAA!

A space shaking aura began to emanate from Noah as at this moment...it wasn't just his pets that had a Grand Dao fully comprehended. And he had joined their ranks as well.

They landed on the stat panel as they observed the Dao of the Sword.

{Aura of the Grand Controller of the Sword} :: A passive aura that only appears around those who have fully comprehended the Grand Dao of the Sword. It grants +5000% Extra Damage, +5000% Attack and Cast Speed, +50% Increased Soul Defence, and boosts all abilities of the Sword by 1000%.

"..."

When it came to percentages, Noah was a big fan of them.

The percentages floating in front of his eyes...they only made his eyes shine brighter as he calculated the craziness of adding this on top of all the other percentages he had!

The Entities from the Consummate Sword Expanse had only been able to keep up with him and withstand the barrage of attacks from him and his pets for a minute or two because they had a boost like this on them.

Noah was able to decimate them without it as he brought boosts from Ruination Cores and his own support skills that called on all Universal Laws and their |Intents|.

Now on top of every other boost he had...he would also put on the support of the Grand Dao of the Sword as the results were about to be disastrous!

Purely disastrous!

While a Tyrannical Entity was ascending through a dungeon, a monumental event was about to occur in the Dark Universe.

Far from the Consummate Sword Expanse that Noah was now moving in, there were the Desolate Galaxies in the East that were ruled by the Ancient Power known as Desolate Expanse.

Compared to the past Expansive Dragon Cl.u.s.ter and Primal Winged Expanse, or even the Consummate Sword Expanse- the Desolate Expanse contained the most cl.u.s.ters of Galaxies by a large margin!

It was an Ancient Power that had the union of multiple races and beings, their power not being centralized as they were spread between factions of powerful Entities that oversaw portions of the vast cl.u.s.ters of Galaxies.

Purely in terms of number and power, it was considered the 3rd most powerful Ancient Power in the Dark Universe!

Yet on this day, a terrifying event occurred as after it, the Desolate Galaxies would never be the same.

It came out of nowhere, and when it occurred- it happened instantly.

What was most shocking was that it affected tens of thousands of light years in distance as multiple Galaxies were affected!

On this day in the Desolate Expanse, enormous fissures tens of thousands of light years long tore apart the chaotic void.

Chapter 849 - 100% in a Grand Dao, A Disastrous Event! II

It had been business as usual in the Desolate Galaxies as many beings moved about across multiple galaxies.

In the next few seconds, multiple shocking scenes played out instantly across the span of galaxies, but we will focus on a few!

One was of a being from the Treant Race that held the power at S Rank, living on an expansive green planet that resided on a small Galaxy.

Without any warning, this being from the Treant Race saw a flash of extremely dark light that seemed to consume everything spread out in front of him, this light expanding in an instant as it swallowed the entire planet this being was on!

RIIIP!

The planet and everything within it...gone in an instant!

The terrifying rupture didn't stop there as it expanded thousands of light years instantly, tearing the small Galaxy which that small planet was located on in half.

If one could observe the circular shape of that small Galaxy and all the twinkling stellar bodies within it, they would be able to notice a vibrating dark fissure that had devoured every single stellar body in the middle of this Galaxy as it turned dim without any colors!

...RIIIP!

The overwhelming dark Fissure erupted right in front of his eyes as well, spreading to devour him and nearly the entire Galaxy he resided in...in an instant.

In another location!

A curvaceous Entity was dressed in sagely green robes as she gave a lesson to Peak GALAXY Rank experts on the Daos she had fully comprehended.

Coincidentally, it was the Entity Nirnasha that was studying the Dao of Vitality that Noah had met weeks ago in the Burning Domains Galaxy!

She had traversed the chaotic void and received an attractive offer from one of the factions of the Desolate Expanse that always invited more Entities, accepting it as she was expounding on the Dao of Vitality to the GALAXY experts on a certain Galaxy.

In front of this Entity proficient in the Lesser Dao of Vitality and the Peak GALAXY experts...yet another Fissure erupted out to cover them in an instant.

Nirnasha's face had changed briefly as she seemed to sense something foreboding, her body beginning to light up with light as she tried to move, but before she could do anything...the fissure devoured her!

It ruptured the starry space within this galaxy and the chaotic void outside of it as it was larger than most other Fissures, swallowing the entire Galaxy and the trillions of beings within it instantly.

It was an interesting sight that nobody would get to see!

But! The point to be made here was that no matter if it was a being at Rank S, in the Low Tier GALAXY Realm, or even in the rank of Entities...against the instantly expanding and dreadful Fissures that came out of nowhere, nobody survived.

Nobody!

THRUUUM!

The chaotic void spanning tens of thousands of light years around the Desolate Galaxies trembled and wavered as from nowhere, fissures tore apart galaxies as everywhere they spread became lifeless.

The Fissures themselves were extremely dark, holding an enticing light that seemed to want to devour everything.

They seemed to lead to nowhere as the stellar bodies and galaxies they devoured were nowhere to be found.

Those that had lost their lives on this day? The trillions were too many to count.

From Entity to Rank F individuals, nobody escaped.

The all devouring Fissures were expanding!

It was the beginning of something that was known from tens of thousands of years ago, something that was a product of the actions of the Sages and Great Sages.

It didn't happen all at once as it would occur in stages, but the first stage had already begun.

An Apocalypse was coming!

Back in the Consummate Sword Expanse, a Tyrannical Entity was ascending through the Immemorial Sword Dungeon with ease as he and the other Entities as well as the Sage within this Ancient Power...knew nothing of what had just occurred in the Desolate Galaxies.

Noah had all of his Animus Pets summoned and merged as they each adorned stellar Armaments backed by the power of all Universal Laws.

Around their bodies, the swirling essence of multiple Daos could be seen as the pets themselves were studying their own Daos and at the same time receiving Noah's essence of the Dao of Summoning, Vitality, Withering, and the Dao of the Sword!

Their bodies hummed with power as the more shocking thing was the mystery of where the essence that continued to power them came from.

They had to get ready as this Tyrannical Entity had already crossed the halfway point- the 25th Floor.

Even though he now met three Sword Kings to hinder him, he was actually tearing through them even faster than when it was one Entity or 2 as he had summoned all of his pets to aid him!

The Sword Emperor says this scene as his eyes shone with intense light.

He saw that this Master of Ruination would most likely keep his dominant strength in battle on all the coming floors, being able to most likely even defeat his strong Sword Kings that nearly assimilated the Dao of the Sword fully as he would reach him in a matter of time!

"If that's the case..let's simplify things!"

THRUUM!

The Sage moved as his body shone with mystical lights, his mana as vast as the stellar space as it was activated on the Immemorial Sword Formation.

His vast essence wrapped around the remaining levels of the Dungeon aside from the one saved for him, the Entities within this level feeling a spatial wave overtake them once more as the voice of the Sword Emperor rang out clearly for all to hear.

"We shall not waste any more time in this case...as you shall simply face all the remaining Entities for the last level of this Formation before you can proceed towards me."

RUMBLE!

The hearts of the Sword Kings shook at these words as their eyes shone with immense light!

While Noah...his eyes were even brighter than theirs as he began to laugh out wildly!

This was because from the levels he cleared and the levels remaining...there were 73 Entities left for him to go through.

The Sword Emperor had then chosen to simply merge the remaining levels as he...would face all the remaining 73 Entities at once.

"...how Glorious!"

THRUUM!

Chapter 850 - With a Swing, A Sword King Falls! I

Noah and his pets were about to step on the magic runic circle leading into the next floor when suddenly, it disappeared in a flash of light as everything began to tremble!

His shining eyes tried to peer through the truth of what was happening as he gazed at his surroundings, but the voice of the Sword Emperor rang out soon enough as an incredulous reality was brought to light.

"We shall not waste any more time in this case...as you shall simply face all the remaining Entities for the last level of this Formation before you can proceed towards me."

THRUUUUM!

The words were accompanied by tremendous spatial fluctuations, the planet Noah was on warping through space as it disappeared, Noah and his pets remaining alone in the starry space.

A moment later, the spatial light reappeared as the figures of multiple Entities came to be.

Each of them shimmering with an intense blue luster that represented the pristine aura of the Dao of the Sword, 73 Entities warped in the starry space near Noah one after another.

Their eyes were filled with battle intent as they looked at the being that had decimated their people at every level, thinking that they might have a chance to do the same to him at this moment!

After all...there were 73 of them! That was 73 genuine Entities that fully comprehended the Grand Dao of the Sword.

Sure nothing crazy and unexpected would happen in such a battle, right?

Noah looked at the scene of Entities littering the starry space as towards this...he could only smile brightly while his body let off even more glorious power.

"...how glorious!"

He had been worried about the Sword Emperor cutting it short or taking the other Entities away from him as he moved rapidly through the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, and yet this man had instead grouped up and brought everyone to him!

He was truly too magnanimous!

THRUM!

The Sword Kings knew Noah's terrifying power as they moved the instant they appeared, their mana moving as numerous abilities were cast.

SHING! SHING!

The sounds of vibrating swords filled the starry sky as for the first time ever, Noah faced something that he had only ever done to other people.

It was the act of facing multiple of the same abilities at once, an act he achieved through spamming. But the Entities in front of him used their sheer numbers to their advantage as all 73 of them cast skills from the Way of the Sword Skill Tree!

[Starry Flow of the Sword]. [Wrath of the Sword King]. [Sword of Revelation]. [Starry Flow of the Sword]. [Wrath of the Sword King]. [Sword of Revelation]...

The sonorous voices of all 73 Entities rang out as they surrounded Noah on all sides, their voices moving in conjunction as the starry space lit up.

This beautiful and deadly sight of the attacks of 73 Entities rushed towards Noah and his pets as they threatened to wipe out everything in their path!

CAA!

The cry of a Golden Crow was heard.

ROAAR!

The roars of Tiamat, the Colossal Helios Leviathan, the ferocious Jörmungandr, and the flashing Obsidian Panther could be heard.

OOOOH!

The kingly Calamity Bear bellowed out as its authority was tested, the Oculothorax joining it as it released waves of spiritual pressure.

"..."

The Blue Slime blinked as an innocent smile appeared on its wiggly body, a gulp of a being that seemed to be too overwhelmed with the choices of meals being heard.

| |Ashes to Ashes, Dust to Dust| |.

His expression was extremely solemn as he uttered these words, his body that was wrapped in a myriad of boosts from Laws and Daos trembling the moment he finished.

The skill that scaled up to the level of the user, | |Ashes to Ashes, Dust to Dust| |, was cast.

RUUUUMBLE!

[Starry Flow of the Sword]. [Wrath of the Sword King]. [Sword of Revelation]...

GALAXY Rank skills were spammed in large numbers.

The innumerable number of Swords rushing towards Noah and his pets...trembled!

THRUM!

[Realm Depredation].

[Flames of Glory]. [Wrath of the Dragon Queen]. [Galaxy Devouring Serpent]. [Flash of Darkness].

The voices of the Golden Crow, Tiamat, Jörmungandr, and the Obsidian Panther reverberated!

THRUUUUM!

[Majesty of a King]. [Golden Eye of Truth].

The Calamity Bear waved its paws as they erupted with a magisterial light, the Oculothorax shimmering with golden l.u.s.ter as an uncountable number of golden rays erupted from it.

[Vastness].

The Blue Slime uttered a single word as its body began to balloon up crazily, numerous Dao Essence swirling around as it threatened to devour everything!

An impact occurred.

BOOOOOOM!

When the scene cleared, the shocking image of a Tyrannical Entity standing perfectly unharmed could be seen, his pets adorned in glorious Armament surrounding him as a fearsome Blue Slime could be seen continuously expanding!

The eyes of the Tyrannical Entity lifted as they locked on the 73 Entities around him as he uttered a dominating command.

"Rip them apart."

RUUMBLE!

His figure disappeared into a streak of light as he moved, his pets rushing out towards the shocked faces of 73 Entities that had all released attacks in conjunction against a few enemies...and found them all repelled with ease!
