

Mana 861

Chapter 861 - A Slime Aspires to be a Sage!

The mystical Realm that the Sword Emperor used to be in shook with instability.

Its beautiful scenery was utterly destroyed as Noah and his pets were the only ones remaining, all of their eyes on the position of the Blue Slime that had its wiggly body trembling in the skies!

RUUMBLE!

Spatial essence washed over all of them in the mystical realm as they were warped away, their figures forever disappearing from the Immemorial Sword Dungeon as they appeared in the starry space of the Consummate Sword Holy Land- the galaxy that was the core of the Ancient Power.

Not too far from them, over 100 Sword Kings were staring towards the figures of Noah and his pets with shining eyes, Brightsword and another Sword King hoisting up an extremely weakened Sage between them!

The eyes of the Sword Emperor were dim as they had lost their mystical light, his origin and soul heavily injured as he thought he had severely underestimated the unique ability of the Tyrannical Entity to devour the strength of his enemies.

Compared to his Sword Kings, he had lost over half of his strength as his body that was purified by Primordial Essence by more than 6%...it had somehow lost its purification as he barely held on to 1%!

He didn't just lose half of his power like others defeated in the Immemorial Sword Dungeon, but nearly 90% of it as unlike what the Sage thought- it wasn't Noah who was the most terrifying when it came to devouring enemies, but the blue slime!

Its Absolute Skill was extremely terrifying even in a dungeon that prevented the true deaths of those connected to it, it nearly swallowed all of them up. Such was the attack that devoured the Sword Emperor, his eyes ever so slowly regaining their lights as they locked on to the vibrating figure of the blue slime.

The eyes of Noah and his pets along with the Sword Kings and the Sage...they all looked towards the singular Blue Slime as at this moment, three shocking auras of completely assimilated Daos began to emulate from it!

Sword, Voidspace, and Alacrity!

The starry space above this slime cracked and sundered in the next moment as the bellowing of space being ripped apart rapidly to allow the spread of a wondrous type of essence took place!

The Sword Emperor watched in shock as a hole larger than a meter opened above the small slime- a whole numerous times larger than what he was always able to create to pull Primordial Essence to purify his body! Yet the slime had a hole over 1 meter open as shockingly, a dense amount of Primordial Essence rushed towards it and threatened to swallow its body.

Its Absolute Skill still wasn't done with granting it 90% of the power of a Sage it was able to devour as the 90% of the purification the Sage had rushed towards him in the form of rivers of Primordial Essence.

This was over 5% purification occurring all at once!

It defied the rules and norms as even Noah was only able to purify only .1% when he first came in contact with Ruination Essence, but the Absolute Skill of the Blue Slime allowed it to be washed over by Primordial Essence as it forged towards 5% Purification.

AAAAAA!

A piercing scream erupted out from the wiggling body of the slime as the pain it went through was unlike anything that others would experience, no one having to ever withstand the essence that birthed the Primordial Cosmos in such large amounts all at once.

Noah felt this soul screeching scream even pass through the connection he had with the slime as it pleaded for him to share some of it!

The Blue Slime was truly pitiful as Noah bared his teeth while sharing the pain. He knew that once the Slime passed this ordeal, he would have genuine Sage battle power as the Blue Slime would gain over +50,000% boost to All Parameters from the purification it was currently undergoing, and such a number was something that was truly too fantastical to even think about!

A heart rending 5 minutes passed like this as the Slime withstood a tremendous amount of pain- pain that scorched one's very body and soul...

When the hole in space closed and the Primordial Essence stopped flowing into its body, the Blue Slimer glimmered with light as it released a terrifying aura.

RUMBLE!

The fully assimilated Dao of the Sword, Voidspace, and Alacrity cradled its body up as to top it all, an intense pressure that came off from a being that had begun undergoing purification through Primordial Essence- the aura of a Sage glimmered off of the Blue Slime!

WAA!

It released a majestic air as its small body wiggled, Noah raising his thumping head that had bore the soul rending pain with the slime as he smiled.

He himself had power that could be considered barely as a beginner Sage, while his Animus Pet was a full fledged one!

What a grand reality!

The eyes of the Sword Emperor and his Sword Kings shook as they were still staring at the Slime in a stupor, and this was especially so for the Sword Emperor who knew what the previous events fully represented.

Yet before any of these beings could digest these new developments, a tear of space could be heard far off in the distance, a powerful sound of something approaching reaching them!

Sound and light barriers were broken as the speeding thing revealed itself in front of their eyes, its eyes filled with wrath.

The figure of a small woman with vibrant dark hair and blue eyes could be seen, her exceedingly blessed c.h.e.s.t heaving up and down as she honed in where the most powerful beings were cl.u.s.tered in the Consummate Sword Holy Land!

The powerful being known as Big Sis Morgana had arrived!

Chapter 862 - Big Sis is Here!

"..."

The stellar space was eerily silent with the appearance of the small girl, the Sword Kings' beside the Sword Emperor looking towards her with shaking eyes as a glimmer of fear could be seen beneath!

The expression of the Sword Emperor also changed slightly as he saw this being, his weak body rising up towards her.

The one that had arrived, Big Sis Morgana- looked towards the Sword Emperor with angry eyes as she saw his state, her c.h.e.s.t heaving up and down even more ferociously as she then turned her eyes towards Noah!

She glanced at this figure that now had a slime bobbing up and down his head happily as her resonant voice reverberated out.

"You!"

RUMBLE!

It was only a single word, but it was followed by space bursting again as Morgana appeared in front of Noah instantly, her fist already outstretched as it palpated with the aura of the Grand Dao of Destruction!

A fully assimilated Grand Dao of Destruction that contained hints of multiple other Daos...

Yet another Sage had arrived as her entrance was explosive, striking towards Noah the most she saw the state of the Sword Emperor!

She moved with such intense speed that Noah only saw her fist when it was already a few inches from smashing his head in, but he didn't have to worry as before the fist could smash into him...the wiggly figure of a slime appeared.

BZZZT!

A horrendous impact was felt as destructive energies were dispelled and countered, the face of Morgana getting even angrier as her other hand already arrived to grab on to the body of the Slime, trying to yank it away from Noah while her small legs struck towards the point between his legs!

It was such a shocking and brutal form of battle as this Sage used her b.a.r.e body that was wrapped with the essence of the Grand Dao of Destruction mostly, her feet that were deadlier than the force of an entire Galaxy trying to smash Noah's precious gems!

"You...!"

Intense anger filled Noah's eyes while the body of the Blue Slime glimmered, an intense light of the Dao of the Sword erupting forth as Morgana was pushed back, her deadly legs smashing into the stellar space and causing it to shatter.

OOOOM!

The slime had become one with the Sword as it took a splendid form, rotating around Noah protectively as its blade was pointed towards the wrathful Sage in the distance!

Noah didn't give the command for the Blue Slime or for any of his other pets to strike as he knew this Sage was an ally, and an ally that had with her something he was actually looking for!

[Morgana Wight] :: A Sage that has assimilated the Daos of Destruction, Fortification, and Alacrity. She has spent countless years exploring the Dark Universe as she maintains immense disdain over it and all the creatures within it that she considered exceedingly foolish. The only being capable of reining her in is the Sage who was the disciple under the same Master as her...

A glorious set of words to introduce the newly entering Sage, Noah going over as the strong voice of the Sword Emperor reverberated out.

"Morgana! Why would you fight with our ally? This is the being our Master talked out!"

"Shut up! Do you see yourself? You have less than 10% of your power remaining, barely a husk of what you used to be!"

The resonant voice of the girl rang out as she talked down to a Sage as if she stood at a higher position.

"I know you've always been slightly foolish after that Old Geezer brainwashed you, so I can't blame you too much. But your Big Sis will at least beat up the one that did this to you! This is that so-called Master of Ruination right? He'll answer for this!"

BOOM!

The slime didn't budge one bit as aside from having obtained the power of a Sage and having 5% of its body and soul purified, an action that granted it a shocking +50,000% to All Parameters by the way- it truly had too many Daos that it had comprehended as all of their essence danced with every strike the slime made!

BOOM!

Morgana smashed her little fists that contained a force strong enough to easily shatter stars and planets as the Blue Slime was there to counter it, her cute expression of anger increasing as she wasn't getting her way.

The Sword Emperor stopped not too far away as he stared in wonder at the fact that Noah's summon could now match Morgana, but this Sage did not know about the true quality of this Universal Emperor Slime!

It was after all a being that in the near future would awaken its own Cosmic Dao!

"You...you're gonna let this little thing do everything for you?!"

When Morgana saw her relentless attacks not passing through the Blue Slime in Sword form as space around her was the only thing that continued to shatter, she taunted the calm Noah that was observing everything as her eyes rose up arrogantly.

Noah had been learning all he could about this being as he perused through the information he could find through Eyes of Truth, his gaze placid as after obtaining a power nearly equaling a Sage and having his Slime be a genuine one- his worries had truly decreased by a large amount!

As he knew the girl was a disciple of the same Great Sage as the Sword Emperor, she was placed in the camp of allies- her just being a difficult one to deal with.

"I don't plan to fight with a kid, so I can only let my pet fight with you if you want to continue."

"..."

The Sword Emperor who had thought the situation would calm down with the passing seconds as everyone would get to talk looked towards Noah in a stupor the moment he finished saying the shocking words!

Why did he say those words? Why not anything but those words?!

RUMBLE

"A kid? A KID?!"

BOOOM!

Space quaked and tumbled as a dense aura of destruction circled around Morgana, her eyes utterly enraged while looking towards a calm Noah.

A hectic introduction of allies was underway as the force of beings that would be the ones to band together in order to save a Universe from an Apocalypse was gradually being formed!

Chapter 863 - More Ruination Cores, Shocking News! I

It took another half hour of Morgana running rampant across the stellar space as numerous barren stars and planets were shattered as she chased Noah trying to land hits on him unsuccessfully.

Her blessed c.h.e.s.t heaved up and down as she looked dangerously towards him while she spat out words.

"If you ever call me that name again...there'll be hell to pay!"

She spoke as if she had won and was now threatening Noah, the being that merely nodded towards her as the Sword he held turned into a blue slime that went to rest on his head.

His body wasn't blazing with the aura of Ruination anymore as his hair returned to its normal dark gold, but his eyes now contained a hint of red as they shone like starry stars!

He donned a regal white robe as he ignored the Sage cutely glaring at him, going towards the other Sage that was nearly 4 times her size.

"Sword Emperor, you have my deepest thanks...even though I still have to bother you with even more things!"

Noah said with earnest words towards the Sage with a weak complexion.

The Sword Emperor had truly given much, with his Sword Kings losing nearly half of their strength while he lost so much more!

But the result...was the Master of Ruination climbing from an Entity and having the power of a Sage in just a single day after he entered his Ancient Power.

Arriving at this shocking truth, the Sword Emperor also knew what Noah was talking about when he mentioned he would have to bother him with even more things!

Essence freely flowed out as the weakened Sage waved his hands, causing for the appearance of a cube shaped red black object that caused the eyes of every being here to shine.

"You're really..."

Morgana was about to start cursing again when the Sword Emperor interrupted her, giving the Ruination Core he had held after so long.

"This is something I scoured the Dark Universe to find for tens of thousands of years, only being able to locate this single one as the other is in Big Sis Morgana's hands."

Noah's eyes glimmered as he nodded at this, the function of locating Ruination Cores having long told him it was on the body of the small voluptuous figure of Morgana!

RUMBLE

An intense red light shot out when his hands touched the Ruination Core, the tool coming active as his essence of Ruination nearly burst out wildly. But it dove into his body and Origin with ease as it found a third Universal Origin Core to reside in, this Core also forming a link with the other 2 in Noah's body as he glimmered in an intense red aura.

WAAA!

A space shaking aura erupted out of his as the tinge of red threatened to cover his whole body, the light only dying down a second later as everyone looked towards him in amazement!

Yet a mocking voice came out a second later that poured cold water into everyone's thoughts.

"This guy is really showy huh? Shines red every damn second he gets!"

Morgana had her hands crossed as she held up her blessed c.h.e.s.t, portraying an unimpressed expression even though her eyes were tinged with shock!

This was because she had felt the Ruination Core she had hidden away vibrating the moment Noah took in the one Kaiser gave away, affirming who the being that had caused all the prior reactions was truly the one in front of her.

Yet even then, she was relentless as the Sword Emperor had to sigh while raising his voice towards her.

"Big Sis...if you ever valued our Master, you would also release the Ruination Core on you so we can start preparing and planning for the future to come!"

The weakened Sage's voice was resonant as it rang out in Morgana's ears, but she became even more pompous as she replied with a sneer.

"Why should I give this guy something I searched for for 23,837 years? That's a lot of years, you know? I could have been relaxing at the edge of the Universe or some shit during that time. Why should all my hard work just be handed away!"

RUMBLE

The Sword Emperor had begun to get angry as Noah's eyes also squinted dangerously, when they came to a stop as they felt yet another aura barrel towards them rapidly from far away.

This one was nowhere near as powerful as Morgana, but it was rushing here at such great speeds that it felt like their lives depended on it!

RUMBLE!

Spatial fluctuations erupted out as the figure of a disheveled Sword King appeared.

His hair was messy as his eyes were tinged with immense fear, looking towards the Sword Emperor as he hurriedly spat out shocking words!

"It's gone...the Desolate Galaxies...they're gone!"

...!

"What?!"

RUMBLE!

"They're inescapable! If you get caught in one, it doesn't matter your rank as they draw you in and grind you to dust! I washed an Entity try to outrun one Fracture...only for them to fully be devoured in a second!"

...!

The Entity continued to release shocking words as the expressions of everyone turned grim.

Noah felt his heart palpating as his expression turned sour.

He truly thought he would have more time!

The Universe had been chugging along just fine for tens of thousands of years before he was even alive, why could it not give him ten thousand years as well to become overly OP as he thrashed down all the enemies in it and obtained all the Ruination Cores?

Why the hell did the Apocalypse come just when he neared the Peak ranks of power within this Universe?!

RUMBLE!

Chapter 864 - More Ruination Cores, Shocking News! II

"That's not all, the Fractures that tore apart galaxies...they actually seem to be expanding over time, and their rate of progression is not slow!"

...!

The Sword King delivering the news seemed to be vying for the top position of how many apocalyptic things one could say to get his points across, the Sword Emperor looking towards him as his expression was more grim than anybody else.

Why now?

Why now?!

He had only just located and began helping the Master of Ruination. The being was powerful, but not fully there to stand against the Spirit Race and obtain the other 2 Ruination Cores!

His tired eyes were filled with melancholy as he turned towards Morgana.

"Morgana, we truly have no time. Please give the Master of Ruination the Core..."

"Shut up!"

Morgana's face was scrunched up as she waved her hands unwillingly, another stellar Ruination Core appearing in her hands as the moment it appeared in space, it shot forth towards Noah with fervor as the eyes of Morgana trembled.

She had searched for this treasure as it stayed with her for so many years, and it now left her like an ungrateful child without so much as a thought!

THRUM!

It smashed into and melded with Noah's body as a scene similar to a prior one appeared, Noah's body glimmering with an intense red light soon as amazingly in the span of a day since entering the Consummate Sword Expanse...he had obtained 2 Ruination Cores!

"Well, Master of Ruination, do you feel overflowing power surging through you? You can finally appear out of the blue and save everyone?"

Morgana's voice rang out as Noah's feeling of reveling in the obtainment of Ruination Cores was cut short. He looked towards Morgana and the Sword Emperor as he spoke out calmly.

"We need to gather the rest of the Ruination Cores soon. What needs to be done to stop what is coming...it can only be done when all of the Cores are combined to become one Treasure!"

RUMBLE!

Noah's words pacified some of the fear of the apocalypse that many had begun to feel with the news the Entity came with.

"We also need to visit the Desolate Galaxies to see exactly what we're dealing with."

...!

"...we shall do just that. For the Ruination Cores, we have to pry them off the hands of the Spirit Race...as it seems they have ulterior motives that we cannot understand!"

The voice of the Sword Emperor rang out as Noah's eyes squinted, his voice coming out questioningly.

"Do you know anything about this?"

It wasn't the Sword Emperor that answered, the voluptuous Morgana feeling that the attention had shifted for her as she spoke to have all eyes turn toward her.

"Those fools at least want to welcome death, I can commend them for that! They do not want to work with anyone about anything, simply locking themselves up in their Spirit Realms as the years waste away!"

The Spirit Race of the Dark Universe. Beings with unique physiologies that had enormous power in their hands. Yet...they weren't the ones moving earnestly to save their Universe!

It was such an unbelievable reality that many did not know what to make of it...

---

The homes of these beings boasting an enormous amount of power were eerily silent even though they were filled with trillions of beings. This was due to the fact that each of them could mentally connect with each other, their Realms filled with a sense of silence that one would normally not come across in other places!

At this moment, deep in the Spirit Domain.

In an area where powerful auras resided, two cubed red black Cores shone with a gorgeous light twice before dying down not too long later each time.

The shining of these cubes represented a great deal of things to those that held them, with their reaction this time being particularly important as it represented a shocking reality!

"This is somewhat unexpected."

A voice rang out, but it wasn't ringing out in the outside world- it was in the mental world of the Spirit Race!

It traveled amongst the minds of a group of powerful beings as the eyes of many of them were focused on one.

"What did you find out from utilizing the Dao? You were always the keenest among us."

A Sage of the Spirit Race was put on the spot as his incorporeal body was masked in the darkness, his voice ringing out.

"The Master of Ruination has unexpectedly collected 4 Ruination Cores, with the two in our hands being his next aim. I didn't expect for the two childish creatures in the Sword Expanse to give them to him so easily."

His voice was inquisitive as a shockingly powerful Dao Essence swirled around him, the essence golden in color as it represented Destiny!

His incorporeal hands seemed to be reaching into a cloud of gold as he plucked out fruits of knowledge, his expression constantly changing as an innumerable amount of information entered his mind.

His expression hardened somewhat in the next second as something seemed to have occurred.

"I can't grasp any more information on the Master of Ruination, which brings some uncertainties on what is to come."

A shocking message was passed from him as something perplexing to the Spirit Race occurred!

"As the one capable of wielding Ruination Cores, our sight might have been masked by the fact that he owns more of them."

"Possibly..."

The Sage in question had a piercing expression as possibilities were brought forward. But neither of the powerful beings of the Spirit Race brought forward the true reason why the Grand Dao of Destiny could not be used to get information on the Tyrannical Entity!

This phenomenon began the moment that Noah gained the Cosmic Dao of Ruination, the Sage of the Spirit Race only finding out about it now!

"The plans do not change nonetheless. The two Sages from the Sword Expanse can be handled, the allies he will bring forth only being able to stand against the soldiers in our ranks...the only thing we need to account for is his ability to be invulnerable for an hour and the capability to escape death by leaving our Time..."

RUMBLE!

Shocking plans and schemes were in play for the Tyrannical Entity as the powerful Spirit Race accounted for many scenarios!

"It has already begun in the Desolate Galaxies, we could simply tether his soul to the destructive energies of Ruination that have begun spreading out there..."

"Possibly..."

"Ruination..."

The voices spoke in different tones yet sounded alike at the same time. It was an eerie environment to be in as the Sages of the Spirit Race were trying to think one and two steps ahead of a being they knew would be hard to kill!

Chapter 865 - Give Me a Second to Become a Sage!

As the incorporeal Sages from the Spirit Domain pondered on the Dao of Destiny to find the correct path for their goals, the Tyrannical Entity was still in the Consummate Sword Expanse communicating with two Sages!

The Sword Kings and the left out Traverser were by the side as Morgana was even more actively talking after the news about the destruction of the Desolate Galaxies.

"The Spirit Domain has multiple Sages, those bastards having always seemed sneaky as hell to me as I don't doubt they're hiding some shocking secret."

Her words made the expressions of many harden as her eyes focused on a singular being.

"We must prepare, and have someone actually strong enough to stand against the suicidal Spirit Race!"

Morgana tauntingly looked towards Noah as she spoke, sensing how this being had not even assimilated a single Dao.

Even though he might have battle power nearing a Sage, he wasn't one himself!

"The one to lead us is someone who hasn't even assimilated a single Dao? A being that barely qualifies as a Sage in terms of strength?"

Her voice was extremely piercing in the starry space as it was filled with mischief, Noah looking at Morgana as he waved his hands to return his pets but the Blue Slime into his origin, sending his now unmerged clones back into a Time Space of the Infinite Galaxy as he planned to do something stupendous!

Morgana and the others looked at this scene quizzically as Noah let out dominating words.

"Assimilating daos...huh? Give me a few seconds to assimilate some Daos and become a Sage."

...!!!

Shock and incredulousness filled the eyes of those that heard the words, the Sword Emperor's face being the most shocked one as he had heard words similar to this not too long ago!

This being had told him to give him a minute as he came out having somehow comprehended a Cosmic Dao thereafter, and now he was saying to be given seconds before he assimilated Daos and entered the ranks of Sages...

Ah!

Amidst the stupor and shock of others, Noah's clones had entered the Time Space of the Infinite Galaxy as they each held and had already started actively absorbing Dao Assimilation Crystals!

Noah now knew he couldn't use them on his Cosmic Dao, so he went ahead to assimilate his fully comprehended Daos as he planned to step into the folds of a Sage in a matter of seconds in the outside world!

The Affix of [+15,000% Increased Comprehension and Assimilation of All Daos] that would have normally been just a mere 7,500% with the addition of two more Ruination Cores as it used to be 2,500% when he obtained the second Ruination Core was also set, a tremendous amount of boosts becoming available for this session of assimilation as one must not forget the +10,000% from the boost of merely having the Cosmic Dao of Ruination itself!

It meant that for the Assimilation Crystals...Noah would not have to absorb many to have his percentage shoot up by a large amount!

RUMBLE!

The absorption session of Dao Assimilation Crystals began for the first time ever, Noah making his way across the fully comprehended Daos of the Sword and Withering as the Grand and Lesser Dao began to skyrocket up at the same rate.

His clones worked in conjunction to absorb multiple Crystals as it didn't take him too long to observe the percentage of assimilation on both Daos shoot from 0% towards 100% after absorbing just 5 rounds of Assimilation Crystals on all his clones!

OOOOM!

A unique air began to surround the clones as Noah's body in the outside world was even more vibrant.

Morgana, The Sword Emperor, and many of the watching Entities observed the essence around Noah to shoot up the moment he said to be given a few seconds to become a Sage, watching in shock as this being erupted forth with the essence of the Sword and Withering in large amounts as seconds later, they receded onto his body calmly as if they were all reigned in- as if they were all subservient!

A second later...the aura of a being that assimilated Daos erupted as the eyes of watching Entities and Sages nearly bulged out of their sockets!

"You...you...!"

Morgana was pointing towards Noah in a stupor as her bountiful c.h.e.s.t shook, the Sword Emperor looking form in blatant amazement as next, she saw the space trembling above Noah's head as a phenomenon similar to what the Blue Slime had undergone took place once more.

This time, the hole that tore open the space was barely an inch in size, nowhere near as monstrous as the Blue Slime!

Wondrous and regal looking blue Primordial Essence came from this tiny hole in the sky as it dr.a.p.ed over Noah, piercing into his origin and soul as he underwent another round of purification.

This time it was from an entirely different essence, and something unique that Noah had not expected occurred when the Primordial Essence entered his Origin!

It seemed to sense the Ruination Essence that had already purified him as it swirled around seemingly in confusion for a few seconds, but the essence had to purify nonetheless as it did its job a second later!

Noah found to his shock that unlike the piercing soul rending pain he had gone through when he underwent his first purification under Ruination Essence, the Primordial Essence felt extremely warm and cool as he felt no pain.

Only the sensation of him becoming stronger as he received another +1,000% to All Parameters!

RUMBLE

His body shook with majestic power as the genuine aura of a Sage leaked from him, those watching by the side having their jaws nearly detaching from their bodies as they stared at him with utter disbelief.

"Well, it took longer than a few seconds, but a Sage is a Sage."

...!

Domineering words left his mouth as the Entities were roused up, Traverser looking towards Noah with increased shock as he met this being not even a few days ago when he was just an Entity!

What the genuine f.u.c.k was going on here?!

Morgana finally had no words to spare as in the starry space, only the joyful laughter of the Sword Emperor had begun to resound as this old Sage felt his heart rest easier and easier with this show of power.

On this day, Noah Osmont had become a Sage!

Chapter 866 - The Fractures That Tore Apart Galaxies

You know, I've seen some shit in my years of life, but I haven't seen any load of bullshit like what I just saw right now.

This f.u.c.k.i.n.g guy really went ahead and assimilated 2 daos in seconds to become a Sage, and even went further on to act cool while his origin and soul should have been getting painfully purified for the first time!

It was such bull that I nearly questioned whoever set up rules and common sense of advancing through the Realms of power.

Even if he was the so called Master of Ruination, how the hell do you explain this shit?!

Ah...I digress.

I can't show my shock to this being or anyone else.

I am, after all, the Big Sis.

"So you've entered the ranks of Sages. I hope the Spirit Race gives you a few years to purify your body and soul, oh, and the apocalypse that's already started also gives you that same time."

I looked towards the ridiculous being that had just become a Sage as I test him out.

Surely he won't have any more ridiculous surprises?

I thought Kaiser had turned into a true imbecile to have so much of his strength s.u.c.k.e.d dry by him, but this guy sure was convincing with the way he did things.

But this f.u.c.k.i.n.g guy actually didn't reply to me as he looked over with those unimpressed eyes, turning towards Kaiser instead as he spoke.

"We have much planning and preparation to do, but I need to go see these Fractures that tore apart the Desolate Galaxies...I need to know exactly what apocalypse we'll be facing!"

His annoying voice that was always filled with confidence as if nothing could go wrong for him rang out.

How long had this guy even lived for him to be talking like he has everything in the palm of his hands?

I've lived long enough to have witnessed the deaths of the stupid Sages of this Universe and watched the birth and destruction of Galaxies, yet this kid...

He was truly someone that made you angry just by looking at him!

Kaiser nodded towards him as if he was already a damn follower, his eyes turning towards me as he spoke.

"You and Morgana should go to Desolate Galaxies with Fastsword, I will get things started over here as me and the Sword Kings recuperate and try to regain some of our strength!"

Kaiser went ahead and did something I've always hated- deciding what to do without caring what others thought.

"Hmph."

I didn't even bother with words as I saw the starry eyes of this so called Master of Ruination nod and turn towards me and the stupid Entity that had run from the Desolate Galaxies while screaming about the end of everything.

"Let's go!"

I grabbed the neck of that Entity and began shooting off towards the direction of the Desolate Galaxies, my body tearing apart through the space of the Galaxy as I entered the chaotic void in seconds!

I turned around to see how far I had left the anger inducing Sage behind, only to find him a meter away from me as he tore apart through space with his hands clasped behind his back while he tried to look all cool, a bouncing blue slime on his head to add on to the ridiculous sight.

---

The journey from the Consummate Sword Expanse and towards the Desolate Galaxies did not take longer than an hour- Noah, Morgana, and the Entity that was unwillingly being pulled by his neck like a cat arrived there in no time.

Noah's eyes constricted as when they neared, he could already begin to see the heart shaking Fractures that were larger than even Galaxies, each of them menacingly shining with power as they slowly pulsed and stretched out!

They seemed terrifying...but he was getting another sensation from them at the same time.

BZZZT!

The chaotic void was constantly being consumed by the fractures as it felt like an extremely hard structure was being cut up and destroyed.

"No matter your Realm- whether an Entity or a lowly ant, anyone that gets consumed by these Fractures perishes!"

The Entity that had reported this phenomenon spoke with a tinge of fear as the three of them watched the horrendous ruptures in space.

They were a few miles away, but Noah and Morgana spread their senses out to cover the Fractures as shockingly, each of them returned with different feelings towards it!

"My aura gets consumed entirely the moment it touches them. Even a Sage would not be able to escape these fractures if they get caught in them!"

Morgana had a serious and solemn look for the first time as she looked forward with seriousness. Yet Noah...he had an incredulous expression on his face as when he spread his aura out to cover the terrifying fractures, he found an odd feeling- something he could only describe as a calling!

It was an extremely disconcerting feeling as at the same time, the ruptures in the chaotic void seemed extremely dangerous as they threatened to even tear apart Sages.

Unlike Morgana, his aura was not consumed to nothingness as he could observe the outer edges of the fractures and its features, yet he could only see darkness in all other areas as from within...he could sense the aura of Ruination!

Ruination!

THUMP!

His heart thumped as he affirmed this, many thoughts crossing his mind as he ran across a myriad of scenarios. The thoughts of the Cosmic Treasure Ruination and its subsequent Cosmic Dao, the definition of Ruination Cores themselves that said those using them will more than likely bring upon themselves Ruination.

As the one comprehending the Cosmic Dao of Ruination, would he be an exception?!

His body naturally began to flow towards it as the Morgana and the Entity looked towards him incredulously.

He commanded the Blue Slime to stay behind as it moved from his and floated to the side.

"Hey big guy, the hell are you doing?"

Morgana's sharp voice rang out as Noah's expression became firm, his thoughts being confirmed the more his aura spread out to cover the large Fracture near them!

His voice that caused the 2 beings near him to nearly detach their jaws rang out as he advanced towards the Fracture even faster.

"I'll be right back!"

RUMBLE!

A glimmering red essence erupted to cover his body as he crossed the few miles difference between them and then...disappeared into the frightening Fracture that swallowed even the chaotic void itself!

"..."

The Entity incredulously looked towards where Noah had disappeared as he didn't even know how to react!

"Well, there goes the supposed savior of the Universe."

Morgana's voice was the only thing that could be heard in the chaotic void as the figure of Noah disappeared into the Fracture!

Chapter 867 - Swallow it all!

Darkness.

This was all that Noah felt the moment he entered into the shocking Fracture that swallowed everything!

No sound, no sight, no smell...nothing!

Even the limbs attached to his body...he wouldn't be able to know he had them if they weren't attached to him.

It was an extremely terrifying feeling that would make one suffocate in fear as they had a mental breakdown in seconds!

The moment he entered, an extremely terrifying energy had threatened to consume him- and it would have done so in seconds if he didn't have the essence of the Cosmic Dao of Ruination!

In this utter darkness where nothing could be felt, Noah waited calmly as the only thing he felt was his beating heart. It only took a few seconds before the darkness began to recede, and the source of light...was Noah himself as a red aura spread forth from him to illuminate the surroundings.

THUMP

Within his body, the Ruination Cores had become active as they pulsed with his heart, releasing a unique aura that allowed the light released from Noah to spread out even faster.

Ruination Essence!

Something akin to the Primordial Essence that birthed the Primordial Cosmos, a unique type of essence that as someone traversing the Cosmic Dao of Ruination- he could only obtain small slivers of it to purify his body every now and then.

Yet in this place...there were rivers of it floating freely!

RUMBLE!

He had wondered how he could raise his strength in terms of purification of his body, the Sword Emperor having told him that geniuses could call slivers of Primordial Essence in varying frequencies that went from days to months and even years.

He...didn't have months and years to spend while calling small, small slivers of both Primordial and Ruination Essence, and the answer was surprisingly in the ruptures that had begun destroying the Dark Universe!

He wanted to explore the mysteries of this place he was in as it felt completely different than being in the Dark Universe, but this would be put aside as he fully focused on the current finding of this unique essence.

There were rivers of this essence in this location, Noah's body beginning to shine ever brighter as his hands reached out to a flowing river of Ruination Essence and brought it to his mouth, swallowing it and gulping it down whole!

RUMBLE

The painful process of purification that others would go through in small amounts...Noah began it en masse as a large amount of Ruination Essence burned and purified his origin and soul, the percentage of Ruination Essence Purification Effects began to rise rapidly!

Noah had to undergo immense pain and wracked apart his very soul, but he was coming out of it stronger as every .1% he saw gave him +1000% in All Parameters.

THRUM!

The river of Ruination Essence he had swallowed was quickly used up as the full percentage of purification rose to .7%.

An unexpected boon!

A wondrous surprise to find from the deadly Fractures that swallowed entire Galaxies!

Noah felt his body that had become significantly stronger as his eyes let out beams of light, his hands going forward to grab onto and swallow even more rivers of Ruination Essence.

It would be a painful procedure, but he would undergo all of it as he knew how hard it was for Sages to purify their bodies through Primordial Essence.

Nobody had the opportunity like him where he could absorb up to the Peak of what he was allowed to, and that was 15% for him due to his Cosmic Dao!

Rivers and rivers of Ruination Essence were taken in by him one after, Noah turning numb to the soul rending pain as he focused on the benefits.

When the percentage of Ruination Essence Purification Effect reached 3%, Noah stopped feeling the pain entirely as his eyes were focused on what these numbers meant.

A mere 3% was +30,000% increase to All Parameters!

This knowledge made him move with even more vigor as he went towards the ultimate goal of 15%, of +150,000% in all boosts!

When he got to that point, would the Spirit Race he had to face still be able to stand against him?

---

Back in the Dark Universe, Morgana's figure was staring closely towards the nonchalant Blue Slime after its master was s.u.c.k.e.d into the Fracture.

It didn't seem phased at all as the Sage sighed, thinking that the Tyrannical Entity had somehow survived diving into such a place that even she would not dare to!

'Just what is he...'

But with the assumption he was still alive from looking at this Summon, Morgana and the shaken Sword King by the side waited as Noah underwent an enormous boost of power in an entirely different location than any of them could expect.

A few hours passed.

In the area Noah had found himself in, his body had tendrils of red essence traveling over his skin as a shocking sensation of strength erupted from him!

It was the sort of strength one would rarely come across, the type of strength that only beings that had lived for tens of thousands of years could possibly obtain!

The strength of an extremely powerful Sage emanated from him as on the stat panel, a wondrous scene could be observed.

[Ruination Essence Purification Effects](Currently 15%) :: +150,000% to all Parameters.

"..."

A purification of 15%.

Its boosts were so high that one could barely believe it.

This abundant strength...freely flowed throughout his body as he couldn't help but let out a bellow in the unique environment he was in!

"OOOOOH!"

Chapter 868 - Prepare for the Final War! I

After Noah released his joy of gaining such a tremendous boost of power so very quickly, his eyes turned to the mysterious area he was in as the rivers of Ruination Essence flowed serenely around him.

He utilized this very essence as he began to move around the area carefully.

He was the only point of illumination everywhere he went, everything else seemingly just blank darkness!

He found no answers as to what this area exactly was or even where either was.

Eyes of Truth told him nothing when he stared around as he had a few terrifying conjectures based on what he already knew about Ruination, and the fact that it stemmed outside of the Primordial Cosmos!

But he was given no affirmation as he roamed around an entire hour and found nothing.

It seemed endless as he moved, and he didn't even know what he was looking for as all he saw were expanding rivers of Ruination Essence all around.

After searching for so long and finding nothing and nobody, he decided it was time for him to try returning back into the Dark Universe.

Maybe his comprehension in the Dao of Ruination was too low, or he had not met other factors. But the reality remained that he wasn't able to find out anything about this unique area he was in that was filled with Ruination Essence!

He would come back when he fully comprehended the Dao of Ruination or even when he assimilated it as he tried to understand more About what this place truly was.

As for the method of leaving this place, of course, he utilized the absolute skill that allowed him to move from any location, <<Astral Connector>>!

RUMBLE!

Silently, just as he had arrived, Noah left and returned near the Desolate Galaxies of the Dark Universe.

He warped a few miles away from the fracture that he had dived into as the figures of Morgana and the Entity that was still shaken looked toward him with incredulousness!

The Blue Slime happily bounced as it came towards him and landed on his head, the voice of Morgana ringing out.

"You are truly something else....what now?"

Before warping back to this location, Noah had reigned in his terrifying strength of someone that had undergone 15% purification, thus Morgana had not been able to see through this or she would have been in even more of a stupor!

His expression is grim as he looked at the shattered Desolate Galaxies where trillions of lives were lost, his voice ringing out.

"We need to gather and strengthen all of our forces...we need to prepare and head down to the Spirit Domains right away."

"The Ruination Cores in the hands of the Spirit Race...we will have to pry them from their hands if we have to. Otherwise, it will not just be the Desolate Galaxies that are affected!"

RUMBLE!

Morgana had a sharp light cross her eyes at these words, the figures of the two Sages and one Entity rushing back towards the Consummate Sword Expanse where they found the Sword Emperor and the Sword Kings to be located in the e Consummate Holy Land where they were recovering.

The Sword Emperor asked what they had found out as Noah gave him a summary breakdown, Morgana simply shaking her head as she didn't even mention the fact that this guy could enter the fractures that swallowed anyone and come out of them alive whenever he wished.

As Noah stared at the beings that had given up more than half of their powers to strengthen him, he was filled with the light of sympathy as he spoke towards the Sword Emperor.

"I have a place I can bring you guys into, a place where time moves differently- where 100 days there is simply a day passing in the outside world."

The eyes of the Sword Emperor and Sword Kings shone at this as a light nod was seen from the weakened Sage.

---

In the vibrant Infinite Galaxy, a shocking number of scenes were taking place in an expansive Time Space where the condensation of atmospheric essence was as abundant as it could be.

The scenes of multiple Subordinates of Noah absorbing crystals and Cores crazily could be seen, the loot from the Sword Kings having been abundant!

Noah had only utilized a few of the Dao Comprehension and Assimilation crystals as the cores and skill books were all free to subordinates.

As his main body moved and the outside world, some of his clones had continued to distribute loot and guidance to the powerful Entities within the Infinite Galaxy as at this moment the goal was to create multiple entities that completely comprehended the Daos of the Sword and Withering!

There was also the shocking reality where because Noah had such an abundant amount of boosts in terms of comprehending and assimilating, he had more than enough Dao assimilation crystals to possibly cause the complete assimilation of two Daos on a single subordinate and be able to make another Sage!

Yes! Amidst all of this, Noah could ridiculously make another sage!

As for who would take that spot?

The piercing cry of the Emperor Penguin rang out to announce itself as its body released an aura at the Peak Tier GALAXY Realm after being power levelled and absorbing cores for the past days in this time space.

Apart from its Realm in the peak GALAXY, the distinct essence of the Dao of Withering and the Dao the Sword could be felt from its body as the Emperor Penguin had stupidly also achieved their complete comprehension by absorbing the numerous amount of Dao crystals that Noah obtained from the Immemorial Sword Dungeon.

The penguins' golden beak shone with extreme lustre as it looked at Barbatos, Steel Mikhail, Kazuhiko, and many other Harbingers of Sin as well as the subordinates that didn't have any of the sin abilities.

The figure of the Emperor Penguin rose above all of them as it seemed to announce itself to be the strongest of the initial inhabitants of the Infinite Galaxy.

This penguin announced grandly that it would be the one to receive the ultimate loot from their master...and be the next one to achieve Sagehood!

RUMBLE!

Chapter 869 - Prepare for the Final War! II

The Sword Emperor along with Morgana and the Entities of the Consummate Sword Expanse appeared in the wondrous Infinite Galaxy as their hearts that were already worn out with shock were put to the test again.

"This...seems like a never ending Galaxy..."

The Sword Emperor spread his aura out as he covered trillions of stars, and yet he couldn't find the boundary of this Galaxy they had been teleported into as it seemed endless!

Noah gave a light smile at this as he moved across the starry space and towards the entrance of a Realm that was established to be a Time Space with all the universal law essences freely flowing about.

"It's because there are over a thousand Galaxies fused into it. Naturally, even a Sage would not be able to cover the distances with their aura."

...!

The eyes of the powerful beings flashed with shock as they entered the Realm.

This particular Realm was designated by Noah as the place for a majority of the powerful beings within this Galaxy to meet and train, and it was the location where the Emperor Penguin and others were currently training!

"The levels of atmospheric essence seem to be more than 10 times higher than even the Consummate Holy Land..."

The voices of the Entities rang out here and there as they observed the vibrant realm filled with essence as they also picked up on the aura of...multiple Entities!

RAA!

The fearsome cry of an Emperor Penguin gloriously rang out as its sleek figure appeared while Noah and the party behind him were descending.

The Penguin wasn't the only one as Noah had passed the word for everyone to gather, the powerful figures within his Galaxy all congregating towards this Realm they were currently in as the auras of multiple Entities appeared!

SHAA!

The figures of the Imperial Adjudicator, Anna, Anastasia, the Holy Emperor...many beings began to appear in the small realm as their auras alone caused the very skies to shake.

The Sword Emperor glanced at all the appearing beings as he looked towards the Holy Emperor- the being that was a Ruler of an Ancient Power not too long ago, and yet was at this moment in the Galaxy of the Master of Ruination!

"Brother Windsor."

The Sword Emperor spoke with a light smile even though the two Rulers were in different Realms, not belittling a fellow being that looked over an Ancient Power within their Dark Universe.

"Sword Emperor!"

Meanwhile, the Holy Emperor was shocked to find the figure that this Ancient Power had only gathered information about but were unsure of whether they truly had a Sage within it- and he had met this Sage personally!

Noah looked at this scene of many different beings meeting each other as the Harbingers of Sin also all appeared, the vivacious figure of Barbatos appearing in the skies with a smile that was very quickly wiped away when she noticed the voluptuous Morgana that was floating beside Noah and the Sword Emperor.

"...who the f.u.c.k is this now?"

Her resonant voice rang out as it ignored the fact that genuine Sages had appeared in the Infinite Galaxy, nor that the person she was looking towards was also a Sage herself!

"Oh?"

Morgana and Barbatos stared at each other as the two looked at the opposite being's figure up and down.

They saw the distinct similarities that very few others had as Morgana's voice rang back while everyone was frozen.

"Who's this little kid talking so pompously? It's almost as if she considers herself on the same stage as me!"

RUMBLE

Domineering words rang out as essence erupted from the small body of Barbatos, Morgana only looking forward with a smile as Noah's eyes turned sharp.

The dense essence of the Dao of the Sword and Withering swirled around Barbatos as even though she wasn't a Sage, she looked towards Morgana threateningly as she shot back!

"You dare talk towards me like that? Some random bitch that just appeared?!"

BZZZT!

The Sword Emperor and many others were shocked as they saw Barbatos talk back against a Sage fearlessly, Morgana's face gaining a trace of anger as her aura also began to shoot up.

"What will you do about it, little girl?" This wizened Sage that had lived many years long knew that the figure of Barbatos was simply acting out because she had seen Noah be accompanied by her, long figuring out that there was some sort of relationship between these two!

She couldn't help but tease and act out herself in return as the resemblance between her and Barbatos was too striking...and she didn't appreciate that!

Barbatos heard the words of Morgana as her eyes shone dangerously, her expression becoming extremely dignified as she uttered words that could end all battles.

"Little Fish."

RUUUUMBLE!

A heart shaking aura erupted from all around as the skies of the realm quaked and shuddered!

WAA!

From Noah, a horrendous aura of power much higher than the Sword Emperor at his prime or even Morgana erupted out, every being in the surrounding feeling their origins shaking fearfully as they turned to see tendrils of terrifying red essence erupt over Noah's body!

His eyes shot out beams of red light as his hair began to shine crimson, his gaze staring down everyone as he uttered words that were akin to an Emperor talking to his subjects.

"We have no time to bicker amongst each other, as we must now prepare for the Final War of the Dark Universe!"

RUMBLE!

"The enemies are mysterious and powerful, beings that actually wish for the destruction of their own home. Against them...we cannot lose!"

His words carried immense power as those who heard them could only nod, but The Sword Emperor and Morgana were looking towards him with utter disbelief as this being in the span of a few hours had somehow achieved more than each of them had obtained in thousands of years! In thousands of years!!!

Barbatos was looking at each of them domineeringly as she came to stand beside Noah, her eyes lingering on the body of the voluptuous Morgana as they seemed to utter a message only for her.

"Now...let us plan!"

Noah's booming voice resounded again as the most powerful beings in the Infinite Galaxy were dominated into silence, all of them staring towards Noah with awe as the planning for Final War for the Dark Universe went underway!

Chapter 870 - Making a Sage With Ease!

The two Sages of the Consummate Sword Expanse were still in disbelief as the powerhouses of the Infinite Galaxy were introduced to each other.

Kazuhiko was the welcoming Entity from Noah's people as he was the most friendly, going towards the weakened Sword Kings as his eyes glimmered excitedly when he saw the beings that lived all their lives attached to the Sword.

Since he was a Rank A Hunter, he had used a Katana as he was a fanatic of Swords from a young age, so when Noah's clones passed the Dao Crystals he obtained from the Immemorial Sword Dungeon to them...his excitement had risen through the roof!

Now that he got a chance to communicate with the Sword Kings themselves, he felt as if he had found his long lost brothers.

The entire Realm that they were on was built to be a Time Space, so Noah told the Sword Emperor and Kings that they could begin recuperating here as with just a day passing in the outside world, 100 days would pass in this location.

After seeing his show of power where the aura he released was even more oppressive than even the past Sword Emperor, they could only agree with disbelief as Noah also used the farming feature of the Infinite Galaxy to provide them with treasured Herbs that event Entities would have a hard time collecting.

Fruits and herbs that were filled with large amounts of essence, as well as Potions that Noah's clones had formed from the Alchemy Feature of the Infinite Galaxy were handed out as the weakened Entities and Sages sought to heal themselves somewhat before the battle began!

While the Sword Emperor and others were healing, Morgana angrily followed behind Noah as he floated in the skies looking at the Harbingers of Sin.

"You're all deserving of the ultimate loot as you worked hard...but a promise is a promise!"

RUMBLE

"The one to forge the path ahead the fastest would be the one to receive the most prized rewards, and that was the Emperor Penguin."

RAA!

The prideful cry of the Penguin was heard as he floated in front of everyone to bask in the glory!

Even Barbatos had an angry look on her expression as she nearly pouted at the fact that she wouldn't get to be the first Sage aside from Noah, but she reigned herself in as she didn't cause a scene.

Noah waved his hands as the glimmering Assimilation Crystals appeared in the skies, surrounding the Emperor Penguin that began to absorb them right then and there.

Nobody else even dared to go close as they only watched enviously as the power of the Emperor Penguin began to rise.

Off to the side, Morgana looked at this with shining eyes as her resonant voice rang out.

"So this is how you so quickly became a Sage? These Crystals just go ahead and increase the assimilation of Daos just from you absorbing them? This is just blatant cheating..."

The Sage had her eyes opened today on the ways others went to increase her power, thinking back to the thousands of years she spent as her eyes shook from the memories!

Noah merely nodded while watching the progress of the Emperor Penguin.

"Just some treasures I can make that can produce Entities and Sages, it isn't much!"

...!

The Harbingers of Sin looked at each other with smiles while Noah blatantly showed off, a few minutes passing as the aura of the Emperor Penguin rose ever higher.

In half an hour, the aura of a completely assimilated Lesser Dao was released from the sleek body of the Penguin as its golden beak shone with prideful l.u.s.ter.

Another hour passed, and the aura of a completely assimilated Grand Dao exploded out, the aura of the Emperor Penguin becoming even more condensed as with the full assimilation of two Daos, the skies above them parted grandly to allow the opening of a small hole- this hole releasing the wondrous Primordial Essence that went on to purify and welcome a new Sage!

RAA! RAA!

The Emperor Penguin roared out prideful as it withstood the pain of Purification of body and soul, coming out of this immense pain a few minutes later as a new being- the aura of a Sage grandly emanating from the body of the first beast of the Spiritual Land.

RAA!

The body of the Emperor Penguin shone gold as the light of Pride radiated from it, basking in all its glory as Noah saw the details of the aura wrapping around it that he also had the same of when he advanced to become a Sage.

{Aura of the Assimilator of the Sword} :: A passive aura that only appears around those who have fully comprehended and assimilated the Grand Dao of the Sword. It grants +10,000% Extra Damage, +10,000% Attack and Cast Speed, +100% Increased Soul Defence, and boosts all abilities of the Sword by 2000%. The user can also become one with the Sword as they obtain Sword Form- a form that doubles the boosts of this aura.

{Aura of the Assimilator of Withering} :: A passive aura that only appears around those who have fully comprehended and assimilated the Lesser Dao of Withering. It grants +5000% Extra Damage and allows the attacks of the Controller of Withering to contain a unique corrosive essence that deconstructs and reduces the attacks, mana, and life force of the target until they become empty husks. The user can now even corrode time itself as they can briefly slow the progression time in a certain area.

The stellar descriptions of the unique auras that swirled around those who assimilated Daos were displayed!

The Grand Daos came with even larger percentage boosts as some Lesser Daos had their own uniqueness.

Noah waved his hands to collect the remaining Assimilation Crystals that would only be enough to get one of his subordinates to progress through half of a Dao, not sufficient to increase their strength majorly as he would keep them for when he fully comprehended a Dao and wanted to assimilate it quickly!

He glanced at the newly advancing Sage that shone with the l.u.s.ter of pride as he smiled, his domineering voice ringing out in the surroundings.

"So making a Sage is this easy..."

A statement that was extremely arrogant, but also one that nobody could refute as Morgana was among the few still looking at this scene in shock!