

The Mans Decree Chapter 1475 -

Chapter 1475 Break Through Again

Within Bliss City, Kai was still cultivating fervently. At that instant, there were not many beast cores left on the ground anymore.

If anyone saw the number of beast cores Kai had absorbed in such a short amount of time, the person would be astounded.

Due to New Year's, the Dunn family and Medicine God Sect had a chance to catch their breath. Otherwise, the Warriors Alliance would have made their move.

Under such intense cultivation, Kai's power had attained further improvement. At that moment, he had already reached the second realm of Nascent Soul. A little more, and it would not be a problem for him to break through to the third realm.

Unfortunately, there were not many beast cores left in Bliss City to support Kai's breakthrough.

"Just a bit more. What a shame," Kai lamented with a soft sigh.

The moment he attained the third realm of Nascent Soul, he could go directly to Warriors Alliance to save his loved ones. Kai would have nothing to fear even if he encountered a Fifth Level Martial Arts Marquis.

All of a sudden, Kai recalled the merman core that he found in the beginning and took it out. When he sensed the spiritual energy within the merman core, a smile appeared on his face.

Without any hesitation, he swallowed it. After that, he shut his eyes and prepared for his breakthrough.

Meanwhile, at the Department of Justice in Jadeborough, Xavier was reporting to Mr. Sanders with a grim expression.

There had been a number of incidents in the martial arts world in Jadeborough recently. Although Mr. Sanders did not interfere, he was fully aware of what was going on.

"Mr. Sanders, more than ninety-five percent of the martial arts world in Jadeborough have joined the Warriors Alliance. Right now, the Warriors Alliance has become more influential. Furthermore, it has been busy grooming and churning out several Martial Arts Marquis like a production line. Edgar from the Deragons has been achieving one breakthrough after another in recent times as his power increased rapidly. At the moment, the Dunn family and Medicine God Sect are still safe since the Warriors Alliance has yet to make a move against them!"

As Xavier was reporting, Mr. Sanders listened on with a calm expression, his eyes closed.

“According to my calculations, those beast cores that were given during the previous Trial at the Deragon residence must be depleted by now. Am I right?” said Mr. Sanders.

“That’s right. The resources received by the various sects have all been used up. But, the resources have also allowed their powers to increase by many folds!” replied Xavier as he nodded.

“Yes, looks like the current peaceful situation is about to come to an end. Without resources and benefits, the Warriors Alliance will not be able to control these people from the martial arts world of Jadeborough... Just keep a close watch on all of them. Regardless of what happens in the martial arts world during this period, do not intervene,” instructed Mr. Sanders.

“Yes, sir!” Xavier then nodded before turning around to leave.

However, just as he reached the door, Xavier stopped in his tracks and turned to look at Mr. Sanders. Xavier looked like he wanted to say something but was hesitant.

“Get straight to the point...” said Mr. Sanders with his eyes still shut.

“Mr. Sanders, is Kai really dead? It has been such a long time, and New Year’s is already over. Yet, there is still no sign of him. I doubt he made it.”

The suspicion that Kai was still alive had once crossed Xavier’s mind. However, it had been a long time, and the former did not even show up for New Year’s. It was highly possible that Kai was really dead this time.

“Only time will tell whether Kai is dead or not. However, it isn’t that time yet,” Mr. Sanders responded casually.

When Xavier heard that, he let out a sigh and left.

It was only then Mr. Sanders opened his eyes slowly, revealing a bright gleam in them.

“Kai, you better show up soon. Otherwise, the martial arts world of Jadeborough is about to be taken over by the Warriors Alliance. When that happens, you may have to pay a heftier price to rescue your girlfriend,” Mr. Sanders murmured to himself with a smile.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1476 -

Chapter 1476 Immortality

Meanwhile, in the Deragon residence at Jadeborough, Edgar had just finished absorbing the last beast core. There was an immediate change in his aura.

In a month's time, Edgar had managed to achieve one breakthrough after another and attained the powers of a Fifth Level Martial Arts Marquis.

Even Ryker was nothing compared to him!

However, that was not because Edgar was talented. It was the combination of his spirit and ample resources that led to the sudden improvement in Edgar's powers.

"Edgar, this is unbelievable! Your power has increased so quickly. You're a genius. I have never seen anyone who cultivates this fast!" said Ryker excitedly.

From the time Ryker came into contact with Edgar's spirit, he was filled with envy.

Ryker wished that he had a spirit attached to him too. That would certainly make cultivation a lot easier.

"Dad, it's a pity that we don't have enough resources. If not, I could become even more powerful," said Edgar arrogantly.

Ryker frowned. Edgar had used up all the beast cores they had gotten this time for himself. Ryker had searched everywhere for the resources and gave everything he had found to his son. However, it was still not enough to fulfill Edgar's cultivation needs. That put Ryker in a difficult position.

Just then, Godrick came over and felt the aura on Edgar's body. He was envious. At that moment, there was a world of difference between Edgar and him.

"Congratulations, Mr. Deragon. Your power has increased tremendously," said Godrick respectfully.

"Godrick, what do you want?"

When Ryker saw Godrick, he knew the latter must be looking for him.

"Old Mr. Deragon..." Godrick called out, but after a glance at Edgar, his voice trailed off. When Ryker saw that, he knew what Godrick wanted to say. It must have something to do with his sister, Beatrice. All the while, they had kept Edgar in the dark about her. Therefore, Godrick dared not mention her in front of Edgar.

Edgar seemed to sense something amiss. "Dad, are the two of you hiding something from me?"

"Edgar, there are some things I don't wish for you to find out. But, now that you are older and capable enough, I think it's time for you to know."

After Ryker finished talking, he started telling Edgar the truth and even took him to the Deragon residence's dungeon.

Looking at the creepy dungeon and his locked-up aunt, Edgar found it hard to believe.

As for Beatrice, she was shocked to see Edgar.

After all those years, Beatrice had only seen Ryker and a few others. Ryker had never brought any stranger there before.

At the sight of Edgar, Beatrice appeared to be in shock.

“Edgar, this is your aunt. She has been locked up here for over twenty years,” said Ryker as he pointed at Beatrice.

When Beatrice heard his introduction, she immediately knew that Edgar was Ryker’s son.

“Dad, you said you wanted a secret from her. What is it?” asked Edgar with curiosity.

Despite locking her up for more than twenty years, they had yet to obtain the secret from her. That made Edgar very curious.

“It’s a cultivation method. One that will make a person immortal,” replied Ryker slowly.

“Immortality?”

Edgar was taken aback to hear that.

Even though he might be a Fifth Level Martial Arts Marquis right now, there was no way he could stop his body from aging. It was only a matter of time.

It will be wonderful to be immortal!

“Are you telling me that after twenty years, my aunt still refuses to divulge the secret?” asked Edgar.

Ryker nodded. “That’s right. For the past two decades, I have tried every method, but she refuses to say anything. I have even threatened her with her son, but it’s useless.”

“Her son?” Edgar was stunned.

“Yes. If my guess is correct, Kai should be your aunt’s son, which makes the two of you cousins...”

Edgar’s mind went blank when he heard what Ryker had said.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1477 -

Chapter 1477 Righteous Energy

Edgar never could have imagined he would be related to Kai that way.

However, Kai was now dead, so everything was a moot point.

“The cultivation method for immortality is a good thing. I have a way to make her talk,” the spirit in Edgar’s body said.

“Dad, I have a way to make my aunt talk,” Edgar told Ryker.

“Really?” Ryker grew excited after hearing his son’s words.

After all, he had confined Beatrice for over twenty years to get the cultivation method but to no avail.

He couldn’t believe that Edgar had a way to get it.

“Of course I do. Did you forget the technique I’m learning now?” Edgar replied with a smile.

“Okay then. Hurry, take action!” Ryker urged impatiently.

Edgar nodded and turned to Godrick. “Leave. Don’t come in without my permission.”

“Got it.” Godrick gave a bow and did as told. The moment he bent down, a vicious glint flashed across his eyes.

Even though his strength was leagues behind Edgar’s, he was still resentful over how unfair the Deragon family was to him.

Edgar got most of the resources, whereas Godrick got nothing despite his efforts.

He refused to lead the rest of his life this way.

After Godrick left, Edgar cast Beatrice a glance. Something glinted across his eyes.

A black fog seeped out of him before a figure left his body.

Knowing that it was the spirit inside Edgar’s body, Ryker remained unfazed.

That was the first time Beatrice had ever seen this, so she could barely hide her surprise and alarm.

After leaving Edgar’s body, the spirit headed straight toward Beatrice, intending to enter her mind.

Right when it was about to make its way into Beatrice’s mind, a golden glow appeared from the middle of her forehead.

The glow was so bright that both Edgar and Ryker shut their eyes instinctively.

However, the spirit let out a yell as though it was frightened. It quickly returned to Edgar's body.

At once, Edgar spat out a mouthful of blood and turned deathly pale. "Edgar!" Ryker rushed over to check on his son's condition worriedly.

"What happened?" Edgar asked in confusion with his brows knitted together.

"The woman has righteous energy within her. I can't enter her body," the spirit replied weakly.

Edgar was speechless. I don't know the extent of the spirit's power, but why is it so unreliable? Back in Bliss City, it hid in fear from the armor's light and dared not show itself. Now, it was attacked by a burst of righteous energy. To be honest, it's pretty useless.

However, Edgar dared not voice his grumbles out loud as he still needed its help to cultivate.

They were bound together, for good and for bad.

Ryker gazed at Edgar. "What happened?"

"Dad, the woman possesses righteous energy. I cannot enter her body. I think we have to come up with a different way to check her memory," Edgar explained.

"Hmph! This brat is annoying. Her son was the reason you lost one arm. I must take revenge on your behalf today!" Ryker declared.

He grabbed a specially designed leather whip and began lashing Beatrice viciously.

Beatrice didn't make a sound, as though the whip didn't land on her body. After getting tired from whipping her, Ryker tossed the whip aside and stormed out angrily.

Right after Ryker and Edgar stepped out of the dungeon, a member of the Deragon family came over to report that Zion from the Warriors Alliance wanted Ryker to head over.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1478 -

Chapter 1478 Getting The Beast Cores

"Edgar, I believe Zion wants to meet me to talk about cultivation resources. I will figure out a way to get some for you. You should go back home and rest for now."

Ryker knew that the sects and families were exhausting their resources quickly and that most of them had joined the Warriors Alliance, so they would definitely ask the Warriors Alliance for resources.

Hence, the Warriors Alliance had to keep their promise or risk displeasing many sects and families.

After Ryker left, the spirit in Edgar's body said, "Find the girl named Renee and get her for me. The armor she has is a holy relic. Besides, her body is different from others. I believe your strength will increase if you can absorb hers."

"All right. I shall send someone to find her whereabouts," Edgar responded eagerly as he licked his lips, a wicked glint in his eyes.

Meanwhile, Ryker arrived at the Warriors Alliance where Zion was waiting for him anxiously.

He greeted Zion, "President Zeigler, I heard you wanted to talk to me."

"Mr. Deragon, recently, many sects and families have been demanding resources from the Warriors Alliance. About that..." Zion trailed off as he stared at Ryker. He was trying to gauge Ryker's reaction.

"President Zeigler, the Deragons have limited resources. Even the Dragon Spring is starting to dry up. We don't have any resources left to offer," Ryker hurriedly explained as he thought Zion wanted more resources from the Deragon family.

"You've got me wrong, Mr. Deragon. I'm not asking for resources from your family." Zion quickly waved his hands and revealed, "I was thinking about the thousands of beast cores in Bliss City. Can we head there again to take more beast cores? That way, we can solve the problem of the lack of resources."

Widening his eyes in surprise, Ryker asked, "President Zeigler, Dragon Island has sunk, and Bliss City has collapsed. How will we get the beast cores?"

"In my opinion, even though Bliss City has collapsed, the beast cores will still be there. It might be a little dangerous retrieving them, that's all. There is still a possibility for us to get them. I've prepared some water-avoiding beads. If we have enough time, I believe we can get the beast cores," Zion told him.

Ryker fell silent. Looks like Zion has come up with a plan and made up his mind. He merely summoned me here to inform me about it. Bliss City might've collapsed, but it still belongs to the Deragons. That is why he had to inform me.

"President Zeigler, since you've prepared everything, just carry out your plan. For now, however, the Deragons are unable to dispatch our men," Ryker said.

Ryker knew that it was a dangerous mission to get the beast cores from deep in the sea. The water-avoiding beads might help, but there was no way one could stay underwater for a long time. He wouldn't allow his family elites to join such a hazardous mission.

No matter what, the Deragons would get most of the beast cores as the place belonged to them anyway.

"Mr. Deragon, I've already prepared the men. The Deragons only have to wait to be assigned the resources," Zion assured him.

"Good. I shall wait for your good news."

Ryker then left the Warriors Alliance.

Following his departure, Zion summoned Salvador and the other three. He then gave them the water-avoiding beads and told them to get the beast cores.

The four knew that it was a dangerous mission. It was already pretty hard to get the beast cores from the city, which had collapsed and was submerged underwater. Besides that, they were no match for the beasts in the sea and could only escape whenever they bumped into one.

The demon beasts called the shots underwater. The quartet might be Martial Arts Marquises, but they were still no match for the Martial Arts Grandmaster beasts in their element.