

The Mans Decree Chapter 1497 -

Chapter 1497 Traitor

On the top of a mountain near Medicine God Sect, Ryker started, "Who would have thought that you would dare to meet me after so many years, Rayleigh?"

"Why wouldn't I?" Rayleigh scoffed as he faced Ryker and Edgar fearlessly.

"You traitor, if not for us, the Deragon family, you would have died in the wild!" Ryker bellowed.

"Ms. Beatrice was the one who saved me. What does that have to do with you Deragons?" Rayleigh retorted. "You inhumane scoundrel, you killed your own father and imprisoned your sister for over two decades. Aren't you afraid of karma?"

"Karma? I never believed in those things. Since you're here with a death wish, I'll gladly fulfill it..."

Without another word, Ryker raised his palm and brought it down on Rayleigh.

As Rayleigh felt a gust of wind, he closed his eyes instead of dodging, awaiting his death!

After all, he was now an ordinary man who could not strike back.

Rayleigh was mentally prepared to die. His last wish was for The Villainous Four to rescue Renee successfully and bring her to safety. That way, his death wouldn't be in vain.

Just as Rayleigh felt the gust of wind in front of him, four shadows suddenly appeared and shielded him. It was none other than The Villainous Four.

The Villainous Four formed a shield with their glowing hands, blocking Ryker's gust of wind.

"The Villainous Four?"

Ryker frowned at the sight of The Villainous Four, who appeared out of nowhere.

When Rayleigh saw that The Villainous Four were back so soon, he became worried. "Did you manage to save Renee?" Rayleigh asked nervously.

"Don't worry. Someone else has gone to Ms. Renee's rescue. The four of us are here to protect you," Oakley said to Rayleigh.

"The four of you are no match for Ryker and Edgar. Rather than sacrificing your lives, you might as well let me die alone..."
Rayleigh didn't want The Villainous Four to risk their lives together with him.

"Our mission is to protect you. We'll never leave you unless we die!" Oakley declared firmly. Then, turning around to Quad, he ordered, "Quad, bring Mr. Rayleigh out of here and protect him. We'll catch up with you in a while."

Quad nodded his head and proceeded to bring Rayleigh out. However, an indescribable feeling bubbled up in Rayleigh's heart.

They were once like brothers. However, The Villainous Four were now being respectful toward him instead of how they had used to treat him.

"Please be careful..."

Rayleigh knew he would only be a burden to them if he stayed because he was now an ordinary man.

Just as Quad prepared to leave with Rayleigh, a chilly wind blew past them, and the next moment, Edgar blocked their exit.

"Since you've decided to come here, you can't leave that easily. Prepare to die..." Edgar taunted scornfully.

"Go, Quad!"

With a loud cry, Oakley threw a punch at Edgar.

The outburst of martial energy from Oakley created ripples of energy in the air. The moment he threw his punch, a puff of white air sliced through the air and headed for Edgar.

At the same time, Travis and Brody charged toward Ryker when Oakley attacked Edgar. They had to keep Ryker and Edgar busy for Rayleigh to escape.

With a cold snort, Edgar waved his hand casually. Instantly, his hand was surrounded by black mist, which engulfed Oakley's white martial energy.

As Oakley's martial energy disappeared in the blink of an eye, the black mist penetrated his body and sent him flying backward.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1498 -

Chapter 1498 What Right Do You Have

When Rayleigh saw the scene, he quickly rushed over to help Oakley up. "Oakley, are you okay?"

"Brat, I'm going to kill you!"

All of a sudden, a sharp serrated blade emanating cold air appeared in Quad's hand.

In the next second, he shot forward toward Edgar like a bolt of lightning, then stabbed the icy blade at Edgar's chest.

Clang!

Quad had stabbed his knife at Edgar's chest, but the blade had broken off and did not harm Edgar at all.

"What a clown!" Edgar burst out laughing before shooting out his palm to send Quad flying.

Oakley and Quad stared at Edgar in disbelief.

They had never thought that Edgar would grow so strong so soon. They were no longer a match for him.

At that moment, Travis and Brody were fighting Ryker, who was slightly weaker than Edgar.

Yet, Ryker did not look as though he was about to lose in the fight against Brody and Travis.

"Father, allow me."

Edgar dashed toward Ryker as if he was teleporting.

He shot out two palms and sent Brody and Travis soaring in the air.

Ryker was delighted to witness Edgar's current combat prowess.

"Edgar, you're getting stronger and stronger. The duty of bringing glory to the Deragon family will fall onto your shoulders, my son," Ryker praised.

Edgar did not speak. He was studying The Villainous Four, who were all on the ground. Then he sneered. "Four Martial Arts Marquises, huh? The resources have come to my doorstep to sacrifice themselves. Once I absorb your powers, I may become even mightier."

Edgar had yet to kill The Villainous Four because he wanted to absorb their powers.

"Edgar, the one you want to kill is me. Let them go. I'll let you do anything you want with me," Rayleigh said as he shielded The Villainous Four.

"Hahaha! Are you trying to pull my leg? What right do you have to negotiate with me? It's not as if you can escape alive if I don't let them go. Don't worry. The five of you are going to die. I can't believe a loser like you is trying to negotiate with me!" Edgar ridiculed before laughing boisterously again.

Rayleigh paled. Edgar was right. What right did he have to negotiate with the other man?

Right as Edgar started walking toward The Villainous Four, the sounds of footsteps made him halt in his tracks.

He saw seven to eight people rushing in his direction, and he could sense that they were all Martial Arts Marquises.

Edgar frowned, wondering why so many Martial Arts Marquises had appeared.

Could they be from Medicine God Sect?

While Edgar was gripped by confusion, those people reached him. It was then he realized that they were all from the Deragon family.

When Ryker realized that the Deragon family's fighters had all come to them, he frowned and questioned, "Why are you all here? Didn't I order you to keep watch at home?"

"Bad news, Mr. Deragon! Bad news!" said one of the fighters, panting from exertion. "The black-robed man has broken into the Deragon residence!"

"What?" Ryker's heart lurched. "Why did you all come here, then? Why didn't you stop him?"

"Mr. Deragon, the black-robed man is too skillful! He killed Mr. Quiroz with just one move. We're no match for him at all," the fighter said in a quavering voice.

"Damn it. How dare he barge into the Deragon residence? I won't let him go so easily!"

Fury was burning bright in Ryker's eyes. The Deragon family was considered a prominent family in Jadeborough. If the news of the black-robed man slaughtering them this easily spread, they would suffer a massive hit to their reputation.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1499 -

Chapter 1499 Someone Appeared

"Father, let's go back."

Edgar was interested in meeting the black-robed man. He wanted to know if he was Gilbert Feigenbaum.

"Take them. We'll hurry back right away," Edgar said to the fighters as he pointed at Rayleigh and The Villainous Four.

Rayleigh and The Villainous Four were soon restrained and taken to the Deragon residence.

However, not long after they started their trip back to the residence, someone appeared and stopped them from going any further.

Edgar narrowed his eyes as a somber look crept onto his face.

At the same time, the fighters turned ashen when they registered the person standing in front of them.

The man in front of them was clad in a black robe and a hat. It was none other than the black-robed man who had barged into the Deragon residence.

"It's him! He was the one who forced his way in!" one of the fighters yelled as he jabbed a finger at Kai.

Ryker immediately tensed up. It would be troublesome if the person in front of him was Gilbert Feigenbaum.

"Buddy, can you tell us your name and why you're standing in our way?" Ryker asked Kai politely as he took a step forward.

Kai glared at the Ryker and Edgar as wrath overwhelmed his senses.

"Let them go," he snarled.

Ryker froze. He did not know what Kai was talking about. "These are the Deragons' enemies. Do you know them?"

This time, Kai did not say anything. He abruptly disappeared before reappearing in front of Rayleigh and the others.

The two fighters who had been restraining Rayleigh and The Villainous Four felt a cold feeling wrapping around their necks. Right after that, their heads were thrown into the air. They could even see their bodies move when their heads were chopped off.

Ryker and Edgar were stupefied by the sudden turn of events, while Rayleigh widened his eyes at the black-robed man in front of him.

The two slaughtered fighters were Martial Arts Marquises. Although they had just reached that rank, they were not any weaker than other Martial Arts Marquises. Yet, they had both been dealt with in mere seconds.

The Villainous Four knew that the man in front of them was Kai, and they were stunned by the prowess Kai had displayed.

"You asked for it..."

Edgar was filled with rage when he saw the black-robed man murdering two of his family's fighters without hesitation, and he moved to fight him.

However, Ryker stopped him and gave him a look. As he suppressed the rising fury in him, he stepped forward and asked, "Who are you, and what grudge do you bear against the Deragons? Why did you kill my family's fighters?"

Ryker had to tamp down his anger and make sure not to do anything rash before figuring out the other man's identity.

Kai slowly turned around to look at Ryker icily. "This world ain't big enough for the Deragon family and me. Either one of us must perish."

As he said that, he took off his hat.

" Kai Chance!"

"It's Kai..."

Ryker and Edgar cried out Kai's name in unison the moment they saw his face.

They could not bring themselves to believe that Kai was the black-robed man who had decimated dozens of sects and families in the martial arts world of Jadeborough.

Shouldn't he be dead? Why is he alive in front of us right now? Didn't he die in Bliss City?

The questions echoed in Ryker's and Edgar's minds.

Meanwhile, Rayleigh was so thrilled that tears escaped his eyes when he realized Kai was still alive.

"Kai, y-you're still alive. Thank goodness! Thank goodness!"

He stepped forward to hug Kai tightly.

"Yes, Mr. Deragon. I'm alive and well," Kai consoled, feeling touched by Rayleigh's reaction.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1500 -

Chapter 1500 The Best

"Kai! Chance!"

A moment after, Edgar roared as anger churned through him.

With his fists clenched, he unleashed the energy in him in a maniacal manner.

The thought of Kai being alive drove Edgar mad.

A second later, Edgar's energy shot toward Kai like a blade.

Kai remained calm as he gently waved his hand and dispelled Edgar's energy.

Edgar snapped his brows together. He had been testing Kai out with that move earlier, and he found out that, like him, Kai had vastly improved.

"Mr. Chance, have you rescued Ms. Renee?" Oakley asked.

Kai shook his head. "Renee was not imprisoned in the Deragon residence."

"Kai, you went to the Deragon residence?" Rayleigh asked excitedly. "Then, Ms. Beatrice, she..."

If Kai has gone to the Deragon residence, he can save Beatrice too!

A look of guilt crossed Kai's face. "The Deragon residence's dungeon has an arcane array protecting it, and I couldn't break through it..."

“As long as you’re alive, we’ll have the chance to save Ms. Beatrice.”

” Kai, since we’re here, I might as well be honest with you. You will never have the chance to rescue your mother. But if you prostrate before me and address me as your uncle, I’ll be kind enough to let you meet your mother,” Ryker said with a sneer.

Kai’s expression turned frigid when he heard that.

A murderous aura burst out of his body, and that pressure made the fighters quake in their boots. Some even went down on their knees, unable to withstand it.

“Who do you think you are to call yourself my uncle? I’m going to wipe out every single member of the Deragon family from this world,” Kai snarled, his tone so vicious chills ran down the listeners’ spines.

To Ryker’s surprise, he found himself stunned by the aura Kai was emanating to the point he could not open his mouth.

Edgar frowned as he fixed his gaze on Kai.

What a powerful aura. It looks like this guy has been improving as quickly as you did during this period of time.

The spirit in Edgar spoke.

Hearing that made Edgar even more furious. He thought that he was the best and the most unparalleled, but now Kai had turned up alive and even more powerful than before. Edgar felt challenged.

“You’re too prideful, Kai! Don’t assume that you’re the only one who has improved. There are dozens of us here. We’re more than enough to kill you,” Ryker said once he recovered from the shock.

“Dozens of people, huh?” Kai swept his gaze across the fighters. “I’ll give you one more chance to get lost right now. If you do, I’ll spare your life.”

None of them dared to lift their head, nor did they dare to escape, for Ryker was there with them. Escaping meant betrayal.

“If you don’t want to leave, then die!”

With that, a ray of golden light pulsed from Kai’s body before the pressure in the air abruptly increased.

The fighters went down on their knees and vomited blood.

Both Rayleigh and The Villainous Four were startled by the scene.

After all, they were all Martial Arts Marquises, and yet, they could not resist the aura released by Kai.

How powerful is Kai now?

“Have you forgotten about me?” Edgar scoffed. Instantly after that, he unleashed a dark aura to resist Kai’s power.

Edgar, who was already a Fifth Level Martial Arts Marquis, could release a mighty aura. The gap in power for each level for Martial Arts Marquis was huge.

Kai narrowed his eyes. Then he waved his hand in the air, and immediately, a golden hand slammed down toward Edgar and the others.