

The Mans Decree Chapter 1653 -

Chapter 1653 Leave Now

“Perhaps we should leave now. We’re totally unprepared. I’m afraid barging in like that isn’t the way to go,” Flaxseed said, trying to persuade Kai to leave.

“Let me try again. We’ll retreat if I fail to enter this time.”

Kai was not ready to give up as he slowly walked toward the brick gateway of Skywrath Sect.

This time, Kai took a very cautious approach. He activated his spiritual energy and pushed it to the extreme before taking each step.

Buzz!

Just when he was about to set foot into Skywrath Sect, the air trembled all of a sudden.

Kai was promptly startled, and he backed away almost immediately.

Following that, a white-haired elderly appeared in the air, as if his image had been projected by a screen projector.

“Who dares to trespass upon this place? Leave now!” the elderly roared with a stern expression, and his tone was downright glacial.

Stunned, Kai was at a loss as he stared at the elderly floating in mid-air.

As for Flaxseed, he fell to his knees with a loud thud and greeted the elderly politely, “Sincerest greetings from a humble disciple, Elder.”

“Who are you? Leave now!” the elderly reiterated. His voice was still icy cold.

“Sir! We have great admiration for the charm spells of Skywrath Sect! We are here to seek guidance!” Kai expounded as he gazed at the elderly.

“You imbecile! Skywrath Sect is not somewhere you can wander in and out freely. It’s best if you two leave the place now. Otherwise, don’t blame me for being ruthless!”

Having said that, the elderly abruptly disappeared.

Subsequently, another overwhelming wave of energy shot out from the depths of Skywrath Sect.

Nevertheless, Kai was well-prepared this time. He immediately swung a punch when the wave of energy shot out.

His golden fist shone brilliantly as it intercepted the wave of energy.

Boom!

The collision caused the ground to shake as if the whole world was trembling under the impact. A loud ringing noise reverberated incessantly at the same time.

At that moment, Kai could feel his chest tightening, and he was shoved backward uncontrollably.

“Let’s leave now, Kai! We shouldn’t be rash!”

Flaxseed rose to his feet and quickly grabbed hold of Kai’s hand. The duo then retreated from the ancient ruins at a shockingly fast pace.

“I never expected that there would still be people living in the ancient ruins that date back thousands of years!” Kai exclaimed.

He was utterly bewildered to meet an old man at such a place.

“That’s not a living person. It was just a hologram they retained by using charm spells. Yet, it’s surprising how they had predicted that people would come for their treasures. After all, that was thousands of years ago!” Flaxseed uttered with a frightened expression.

Noticing the look in Flaxseed’s eyes, Kai could tell that the former was incredibly afraid and nervous earlier.

“It looks like we’ve got to plan wisely before entering Skywrath Sect. Indeed, there was a reason why the ancient ruins of Skywrath Sect were written on the last few pages of that book...”

Kai let out a long sigh after saying that.

Alas, I can’t withstand the martial energy of the Skywrath Sect, even with my Golem Body and crazy physique... What lies ahead is beyond contemplation, I suppose.

Meanwhile, Augustus and his subordinates were still waiting for the duo outside the ancient ruins.

All of them were surprised to see Kai and Flaxseed get out alive. At that moment, all of their eyes gleamed with admiration.

Augustus, however, noticed that the duo’s expressions were dark, and their clothes were stained with dust and ashes.

With that, he suggested, “Mr. Chance, let’s return to the sect to get some rest, shall we?”

Kai merely nodded in response. He stole a glance at the entrance of the ancient ruins before leaving.

Despite being a Greater Martial Arts Marquis, Kai had encountered incident after incident of defeat. First, it was the unknown black-clad men chasing after Hailey. Then it was the men from Hailey's family. Now, he could not even enter an ancient ruin as he wanted for an investigation or a search.

All these incidents were a major blow to his pride. It certainly made him realize that he still had much room for improvement.

Since becoming a Martial Arts Saint was nearly unheard of, a Martial Arts Marquis was said to be the most powerful individual in the martial arts world. Yet, judging from recent happenings, it was clear that the martial arts world was truly incomparable to the heavenly realm.

If not for the exhaustion of spiritual energy in the mundane world, there would not have been any place for martial arts to flourish.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1654 -

Chapter 1654 Take Over

Kai instructed Augustus to guard the ancient ruins while he returned to Whitesea with Flaxseed.

Meanwhile, the Simmonses were busy preparing for Megan and Tristan's upcoming wedding.

Kai had previously agreed to attend their wedding. Hence, he would have to stay at the Simmons residence for a few days. Moreover, he was planning to observe whether Megan's uncle, Tony Huxley, had ill intentions.

It was finally the wedding day, and the respected businessmen from different industries in Whitesea attended their wedding as scheduled. There were about hundreds of attendees there.

Tony was busy helping on the wedding day. Seeing how hard he worked, Megan felt relieved somehow.

Among the guests, a table of people in the corner carried blank looks on their faces. It seemed strange that they were completely disinterested in the wedding.

"Kai, did you notice that table over there? They are the Martial Arts Grandmasters. I don't think they've come to give their blessings," Flaxseed told Kai.

In fact, Kai had discovered them much earlier when he utilized his spiritual sense a while ago. As such, he was able to notice everything that was happening there.

“Let’s wait for a while. We’ll see their true colors soon.”

Kai smiled faintly.

Soon, the wedding ceremony ended, and Tony went up the stage for a speech as Megan’s elder. He spoke through the microphone. “First of all, thank you for taking the time to attend my niece’s wedding. Now that Megan is married and pregnant, she should focus on taking care of her baby. As her uncle, I hope that she can live a happy and blessed life. Hence, I hereby announce that I will take over her position to manage the Simmonses’ business after this. As for Megan, she will be moving to Jadeborough and never return again.”

He continued, “I hope that all of you will still continue the existing collaboration with the Simmonses after my takeover!”

As soon as he finished his speech, murmurs arose from the crowd. The guests shared a startled expression and started to discuss among themselves.

Meanwhile, Megan was extremely furious upon hearing that. She roared, “Uncle Tony, what are you talking about? Who said that I’m going to Jadeborough and never returning again? Who gave you permission to take over our family?”

“Don’t be angry, Megan. I’m only doing this for you. You’re a woman, after all. Shouldn’t you be staying home and taking care of your family instead? I’ve been managing the Simmonses’ affairs for about a year, and my ability is evident to all. I’m the most suitable person to take over this from you. Otherwise, I’m worried that you might ruin the Simmonses soon.”

Hearing that, she continued, “You should know your position. You’re merely working for the Simmonses. I can kick you out anytime, and you’ll have nothing to do with our family!”

“Don’t be mad, Megan. It’s not good for the baby,” comforted Tristan at the side. He looked at Tony with an icy gaze and said, “Who do you think you are to take over the Simmonses?”

“I might be a nobody, but I think you should know those guys over there.”

As soon as Tony said that, the table of guests in the corner leaped and landed on the stage.

All of them exuded the aura of a Martial Arts Grandmaster, causing the atmosphere in the banquet hall to become increasingly tense. Their domineering aura was sufficient to cause one to shudder.

However, Tristan merely stared at the Martial Arts Grandmasters and did not seem frightened.

He was aware that he was no match for them. Nevertheless, knowing that he had Kai to back him up, he was not afraid of them.

“Are you relying on these people to snatch over the Simmonses’ properties?” Tristan questioned Tony.

“Yes, indeed. I wonder if anyone in Whitesea can defeat these guys? Not only do I want everything that belonged to the Simmonses, but I will also take a share of all the prestigious families in Whitesea!”

Tony swept a glance at the crowd as he voiced.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1655 -

Chapter 1655 Flaunt

The crowd was offended to hear that Tony wanted to interfere in other families’ businesses.

“Who do you think you are? How dare you have the audacity to get involved in other families’ businesses?”

A tall and slender middle-aged man was so displeased that he started reprimanding Tony.

As soon as he finished speaking, Tony leaped into the air abruptly and appeared right in front of that man.

Pfft!

Without the slightest hesitation, Tony pierced through the man’s chest and dug out his heart ruthlessly.

The unexpected bloody scene shocked everyone present, and no one dared to make a sound.

Meanwhile, Tony smirked maliciously upon witnessing the crowd’s reaction.

He raised the crimson heart and yelled at the crowd, “This is the consequence for anyone who tries to make further comments!”

At that moment, Megan’s expression turned grim. Beside her, Tristan held her in his arms tightly while staring at Tony indifferently.

“Tony, don’t even think about taking over the Simmonses. Over my dead body! Do you think you’re invincible with that ability of yours? If you’re in Jadeborough, you’re just a nobody!”

Anger flooded Megan's veins as she reprimanded him.

He let out a chuckle and responded, "You're right. I'm considered weak in Jadeborough. However, this is not Jadeborough. Who can stop me here?"

With that, Tony let out a bark of arrogant laughter.

"I can."

Suddenly, Kai stood up and walked to the stage slowly. Seeing Kai stand up, Tristan hurriedly stepped forward and yelled, "Mr. Chance..."

With Kai there, those people were nothing but clowns. "You?" Tony scrutinized Kai from head to toe before saying, "Are you trying to get in my way? Get lost if you don't wish to die!"

Kai gazed at him and said with a smile, "What if I want to die?"

"If that's the case, I'll fulfill your wish!"

As Tony said that, the aura around him began to rage, and he aimed a palm strike at Kai.

Kai remained still with his hands behind his back while his eyes were filled with pure disdain.

Seeing that, Tony instantly felt a flash of irritation.

Bang!

Tony raised his palm and aimed an attack right on Kai's chest.

Kai, however, was still fixated on his spot, and the expression on his face remained the same. On the other hand, Tony had his wrist broken from the impact.

"T-This..."

Shock and astonishment were written on Tony's face. The crowd all shifted their attention to Kai in disbelief.

Meanwhile, Kai stared at the aghast Tony and smirked slightly. "I want to die. How about you try again?"

Tony's face fell as he gritted his teeth.

“I want to die too. Come at me!”

At that precise moment, Flaxseed leaped to the stage and said to Kai, “That’s enough. You have shown them your skills. Let me flaunt mine this time! We rarely have a chance like this to show off...”

Inwardly, Flaxseed got all excited thinking about flaunting his skills in front of hundreds of people there.

Kai looked at Flaxseed, clearly rendered speechless by him. He then stepped aside, leaving space for Flaxseed to stand facing Tony.

Flaxseed put his hands behind his back and said to Tony, “Hey, I’m old enough to die, but I just couldn’t. Can you fulfill my wish? I promise not to fight back.”

Tony was so infuriated that his face turned purple. It was just a while ago that he boasted about his abilities in front of the crowd, and now, he felt like he had just shot himself in the foot.

Not only that, he was being challenged not once but twice.

The guests did not expect that to happen as they watched the scene excitedly below the stage.

“This is too much! You guys are going too far!”

Gritting his teeth, Tony released the increasingly intense aura in him.

Everyone could see a circle of light emitted from his palms as he concentrated all his martial energy on his palms.

Seeing that, Flaxseed could not help but frown. “D*mn. He didn’t do that when he was dealing with you just now. Is he targeting me?”

The Mans Decree Chapter 1656 -

Chapter 1656 You Stole The Show

Flaxseed was at Top Level of Golden Core, which was also equivalent to Top Level Martial Arts Grandmaster. He might still be able to give Tony a run for his money even if he did not use his charm, but it would be a tough battle.

That was why Flaxseed threw a fit at Tony. He then dragged Kai over and said, “You come here and teach this crook a lesson.”

Tony, too, exploded in rage. This isn’t child’s play. Every move we make kills! Kai chuckled as he casually walked over and stood in front of Tony.

The latter had gathered his power and was ready to unleash it on Kai!

“Go to h*ll, you little brat!” he exclaimed.

He then did a palm strike and released the light beam encircling his palm at Kai’s chest!

Kai stood still as he managed to withstand the attack, but the impact was so powerful that it threw Tony back a few feet away!

Tony fell heavily on the table, breaking it into pieces. Many guests immediately moved aside to dodge the attack.

Following that, Tony spat out a mouthful of blood. The aura he exuded had also weakened.

All the guests who had witnessed the fight started applauding Kai!

Upon noticing how everyone cheered and clapped for Kai, Flaxseed expressed his disappointment, “D*mn it, you stole the show again...”

Clearly, Flaxseed wished to be the focus of everyone’s interest.

Meanwhile, Tony gnashed his teeth in anger and clenched his jaw. He looked at Kai and said, “You’re dead, young man. I’m from Gutwrencher Sect, and my lord will kill you!”

Kai responded with a grin when he heard the mention of Gutwrencher Sect. “You’re from Gutwrencher Sect?”

A corner of Tony’s lips quirked up. “That’s right! You’re terrified now, aren’t you?”

He thought everyone in Whitesea would tremble in fear when they heard the name “Gutwrencher Sect.”

“I’m terrified?” Kai let out a cold snort before turning his attention to Flaxseed. “Mr. Flaxseed, it’s your showtime now!”

That instantly put a smile on Flaxseed’s face. He immediately walked up to Tony and stood before him.

“W-What do you want?” Tony asked anxiously while looking at the elderly man.

Flaxseed reached out his hand and slapped Tony on the cheek. “Contact your lord right now. Ask him to come and kill me.”

Tony was stunned for a moment. Who on earth are these people? How come they don't seem to be afraid of Gutwrencher Sect?

While he was still hesitating, Flaxseed smacked him again. "I told you to f*cking call your lord. Did you not hear me?"

Flaxseed yelled at Tony like a father reprimanding a child.

At that point, Tony was on the verge of breaking down as he did not know how to handle them anymore.

With that, he contacted Augustus and told him about Flaxseed and Kai. Upon receiving his call, Augustus immediately departed with a group of men.

"Just you wait. My lord will be arriving with his men shortly..." Tony shot them a vicious glare.

Many guests started panicking and wanted to leave. They did not want to be dragged into the mess, especially when Augustus and his men were involved.

Flaxseed grew anxious when he noticed the guests were about to go. Who's going to watch me perform if they're gone?

"Guys, guys. Don't go. Just sit and watch. Everything will be fine," Flaxseed assured loudly.

However, none of the guests believed his words, and they were all determined to leave.

Seeing that, Flaxseed fished a pair of charms out of his pocket and stuck them to the door frame.

As a result, all the guests could not walk through the door, even though it was not shut!

"I told you not to leave. I wouldn't have done this had all of you listened to me! Go back to your seats. Nothing bad will befall you, trust me!" Flaxseed reassured them confidently.

Left with no choice, the guests could only return to their seats while waiting for Augustus.