

The Man's Decree Chapter 185 (The Man like none Other chapter 185)

/ The Man's Decree

"All the security guards, gather in Zone A! Someone barged into the district and attacked me..." yelled Kevin into his walkie-talkie.

He was merely stalling for time by asking Kai to release him. With regards to whether Kai did have a property there, he did not even bother to find out.

Anyone could tell that he definitely was not!

"You jerk! My men will be here shortly. Just wait to be beaten up!" threatened Kevin as he glared at Kai viciously.

Mark, who had just heaved a sigh of relief, suddenly heard his brother-in-law yell in the walkie-talkie, saying that someone had barged into the district and beaten him up. Mark was immediately gripped with anxiety.

He was not worried about Kevin. Instead, he was afraid that his incompetent brother-in-law would cause unnecessary trouble. Initially, he only agreed to let Kevin work as the head of the security after he begged for the role profusely.

He had only joined for two days but was unwilling to do any work. Instead, he fooled around all day and acquainted himself with all the girls in the sales department.

When Mark and the other security guards arrived at Zone A, they saw Kai standing beside his car. Cold sweat immediately dripped down his forehead. My fear has come true! My brother-in-law has really caused some huge trouble.

Mark quickly hurried over. When Kevin saw that his brother-in-law had arrived with backup, he immediately rushed forward and whined, "Mark, this man barged into the district and attacked me! You must teach him a harsh lesson."

When Zayne saw Mark rushing over with the other security guards, he smirked coldly. "Kai, let's see where you can flee now. Although it's not illegal to boast, you still need to pay the price for exaggerating. How dare you claim to be a property owner here and that you live in the mansion at the top of the hill? Why don't you claim to be God?"

"I've lived for more than twenty years, but it's my first time seeing such a shameless boaster like you." Lydia hid a chuckle behind her hand.

The two of them stared at Kai teasingly, waiting for an exciting show to unfold.

However, Maria sighed. If Kai ended up getting beaten later, she would try to plead on his behalf and see if it would be useful. After all, she could not just stand idly by and watch him become crippled.

However, just when Zayne and Lydia were waiting for Mark and the rest to teach Kai a lesson, Mark slapped his brother-in-law. He was so forceful that Kevin almost collapsed onto the floor.

Stunned, Kevin stared at Mark with a look of disbelief.

"Why did you hit me? Are you crazy?" yelled Kevin unhappily.

"Yeah, I'm crazy. I shouldn't have let you work here as the head of the security team. You're now fired! Get lost and never come back!" ordered Mark as he snatched the baton away from Kevin's hands.

"You..." Kevin glared at Mark furiously. "How dare you treat me like this? I'll tell my sister!"

With that, he stomped away.

Zayne and the rest were dumbfounded when they saw Mark's actions. Even the sales associate had no idea what was going on. Only the security guards who had tagged along knew that Mark was saving his own brother-in-law.

If Kevin stayed there and angered Kai further, he would be killed on the spot.

After Kevin left, Mark snuck a look at Kai with sweat dotting his forehead. He was afraid that the latter would refuse to let Kevin leave. However, since Kai remained silent, he heaved a silent sigh of relief.

Mark walked toward Kai briskly and apologized appeasingly, "Mr. Chance, I'm really sorry about this. My brother-in-law has just started work, so he knows nothing. Please forgive him..."

When Zayne and the rest saw the manager apologizing to Kai so subserviently, they were dumbfounded.

"Are you mistaken? He barged into your district, crashed a car, and even beat your brother-in-law up! Why are you acting so subserviently? Do people who work in the maintenance department have such good service?" asked Zayne as he stared at Mark incredulously.

"Yeah! When we wanted to come in to look at which houses to buy, the security guards stopped us. Yet, you're being so courteous to an intruder. You're making me doubt the capabilities of the maintenance department. Isn't he just an ex-convict who had gone to jail? Do you have to stoop so low? Do you actually think that he's a property owner here?" scoffed Lydia.

"If he can afford a house here, he wouldn't be driving a run-down Ford around. He even claims that the mansion at the top of the hill is his! He's just boasting. Since we work for the same company, I know him well. I'm his direct superior. This guy knows nothing other than to boast!" Zayne protested to the manager.

Mark looked at Zayne and Lydia before glancing back at Kai. He did not know what their relationship was, but judging from how the two of them kept mocking Kai, it was clear that they were definitely not friends.

Noticing Kai's silence, Mark could not stand it any longer. He said to Zayne and Lydia, "It's true that Mr. Chance owns property here and that the mansion at the top of the hill is his."

When Mark spoke, Zayne, Lydia, and Maria were flabbergasted.

"But, Mr. Carlson, the last name of the mansion's owner is Sullivan. I was the one who handled the paperwork," said the sales associate with a doubtful look.

"Are you mistaken? The mansion at the top of the hill costs at least hundreds of millions. How can a salesman who drives a battered Ford be its owner? I will never believe that..."

"You're a horrible manager! How can you be confused about who owns the properties? Do you think that Kai looks like someone who has a mansion?" Zayne and Lydia interrogated Mark.

Faced with their questions, Mark scoffed coldly. "Looks like you know more than me, the manager of the maintenance team, huh? Let me tell you this. It's true that the previous owner's last name is Sullivan. However, the mansion is now Mr. Chance's. If there's nothing else, you can leave now. You're prohibited from entering the district in the future."

Zayne and the rest were taken aback by his words. No one would believe that Kai owned a mansion that cost hundreds of millions.

"Can I leave now, Mr. Carlson?"

Kai did not want to waste any time with Zayne and the rest as he needed to hurry up with his training.

"Of course! I'm really sorry for taking up your time, Mr. Chance."

Mark's attitude immediately became respectful as he opened the car door for Kai. Driving his severely damaged Ford, Kai drove straight toward the top of the hill. When he passed by Zayne and the rest, he rolled down the car windows and deliberately scoffed at Zayne.

"I don't believe it! I'll never believe it. It's impossible for him to own a mansion. I'm going to follow him and take a look for myself! He must be boasting!" roared Zayne like a madman.

Meanwhile, Maria watched as Kai's car zoomed away, feeling her cheeks burning. At this stage, she was certain that Kai was not boasting. After all, he could not possibly bribe such an important manager to play along with him.

When Maria thought about how the mansion cost billions, she could not help but remember how she had looked upon him with disdain because of his poor family. Her father had to force her before she helped him look for a job. Upon recalling all these, she blushed.

Meanwhile, Lydia stared at Kai's car until its headlights left her vision. Still, she fixed her gaze on the road toward the top of the hill unblinkingly. The shock was so great that she was paralyzed to the spot.

"Chase them all out for me! Don't let them enter the district in the future!" instructed Mark loudly.

The security guards quickly chased Zayne and the rest out. As Zayne was simply too shocked, he insisted on heading to the top of the hill to see whether Kai was boasting. However, after being struck a few times by the baton, he left obediently.

After Kai drove to the mansion and entered, he discovered that it was extremely clean and spotless. Josephine probably sent someone to clean the place. She had always hoped to convince her parents and invite them to stay there. However, Kai didn't want to discuss it yet as his parents were happily fussing over Kai and Hilda. If she told them now, they might not even believe her.

Sitting on the sofa, Kai took out the meat reishi mushroom and placed it on the table. Sensing the rich spiritual energy exuding from it, he was overcome with excitement.

It was exceedingly rare to find these meat reishi mushrooms. Ideally, he would reach another breakthrough after absorbing them.

Kai had already found the perfect training technique. If he wanted to increase his abilities, the only element lacking was spiritual energy. However, there was a lack of spiritual energy on Earth. It was only at the top of hills where the spiritual energy would be more concentrated. If Kai wanted to increase his abilities quickly, he needed to seek out other solutions.

After thinking about it for a while, Kai calmed himself down. He summoned the Focus Technique slowly and was soon enveloped by a faint mist.

As if it could feel something, the meat reishi mushroom in the glass bottle started twisting around frantically, looking like it wanted to escape the bottle. However, no matter how vigorously the meat reishi mushroom turned, its attempts proved futile. Soon, it stopped moving. At a spot that resembled its eyes, pink gas gushed out and floated toward Kai.

He opened his mouth slowly and inhaled forcefully. The pink gas suddenly accelerated and was absorbed into his body. Meanwhile, the meat reishi mushroom quickly shrunk. Its initially fair surface, which looked like a youthful girl's skin, started to become wrinkly and dry.

Soon, the meat reishi mushroom turned into a pile of powder which ended up being absorbed into Kai's body. Meanwhile, Kai sat on the couch with his eyes slightly closed.

Time passed gradually. After a long time, when the sky was about to darken, Kai finally opened his eyes slowly.

Delighted, he quickly checked his abdomen. However, other than having more spiritual energy, he did not manage to advance to the next level.

Kai sighed heavily. In the end, he got up and left the mansion.

Driving the damaged Ford, he left Dragon Bay and parked his car at a repair shop. He planned to hail a taxi home instead.

However, just when he was waiting beside the road, a red BMW suddenly stopped in front of him. The car window rolled down, and Maria stuck her head out.

"Where are you going, Kai? I'll give you a ride."

Kai was taken aback, unused to Maria's sudden change in attitude.

"I'm going home," said Kai calmly.
"Come in! I'm going in the same direction, so I can send you there."
While saying that, Maria pushed the car door open.

Furthermore, she pushed open the door of the front seat. In the past, she would never have allowed Kai to sit in her car. Even if she had to, he could only sit in the back seats.

Kai had no idea what Maria was up to again. It was as if she had become someone else!

"Come in!" urged Maria when she saw him standing there motionlessly.

Kai nodded and sat in the front seat.

Maria slammed her foot against the accelerator and drove toward Kai's house. Meanwhile, Kai sat silently without saying anything. The atmosphere in the car became slightly awkward.

"Kai, do you really own a mansion at the top of Dragon Bay?"
After a while, Maria broke the silence.

"Yeah." Kai nodded.

"Did you buy it yourself?" Maria shot a surprised look at him.

"Someone gave it to me," replied Kai calmly.

Noticing that Kai did not seem to like talking to her, Maria stopped speaking. After a while, Kai interrupted the silence. "Why aren't you at home to eat at this time? Where are you driving to?"

"Zayne made a reservation at a restaurant. I'm going to eat with him there and discuss our marriage," said Maria.

"You're marrying him?" Kai was taken aback.

"Yeah! We've been dating for a long time, and our parents have been hurrying us. Hence, we decided to just get married," explained Maria.

Kai was silent for a while before saying, "I'd advise you to think about it carefully. Zayne doesn't suit you..."

Kai said that not because he wanted to take revenge on Zayne for always bullying him. In reality, he had already instructed Tommy to investigate Zayne secretly. That man was a playboy. When he was still dating Maria, he had slept with multiple women.

Although Maria was also quite materialistic, she was still the daughter of his father's comrade. Kai did not want her to dig her own grave.

However, Maria was not surprised when she heard what Kai said. Smiling, she explained, "Actually, Zayne isn't as bad as you think he is. He might be quite mean to you, but I'll try to coax him out of it in the future..."

She had misunderstood Kai. She thought that he was saying all those because Zayne kept t argeting him, which made him develop a hatred for Zayne.

When Kai heard that, he had no choice but to smile and stop explaining further.

Soon, when the car was passing through a dim street, a car suddenly in front suddenly blocked them.

Shocked, Maria slammed her feet against the brake and stopped the car. Their cars were inches away from crashing into each other.

“How the hell are you driving? Are you blind?”

Maria rolled down the car windows, craned her neck, and cursed loudly. However, immediately after she yelled, she quickly withdrew her head fearfully. She had noticed that the car blocking her was a Porsche 911. If they could drive such a car, she would not dare to offend them. Her life would become difficult if she actually provoked them.

At that moment, a man and a woman got out of the Porsche. They were none other than Leyton and Sandy, who stared at Kai with a cold smirk. It did not look like they were planning to leave.

Looking at their intense stares, Maria could not help but feel fearful. She opened the car door, scrambled out of the car, and apologized, “I didn’t do it on purpose. Would you please move your car aside? Why don’t you drive away first?” Maria spoke in a subservient tone to Leyton.

When the latter glanced at Maria, he saw that she was wearing a pink dress with her hair up in a ponytail. Finding her quite cute, he shot her a few more glances. However, this made Sandy extremely jealous.

“Get lost! We’re here for Kai. If you don’t want to die, leave now!” Sandy roared at Maria.

The moment Sandy spoke, a few more vans appeared behind the Porsche, and dozens of men emerged. Holding knives in their hands, they walked over hostilely.

Maria’s cheeks turned pale as fear overwhelmed her. For a moment, she had no idea what to do.

“Maria, you should leave first,” suggested Kai to Maria as he got out of the car. She glanced at Kai, wanting to say something. However, when she saw the dozens of men all armed with knives, she was so scared that she rushed into the car and left.

“Kai, you’re quite good with girls, huh? Immediately after being dumped by Josephine, you found yourself another rich girl. She doesn’t seem young, but she’s driving a BMW. It looks like her family background is quite good, huh? Which family is she from?” Leyton asked Kai with a mocking smile playing on his lips.

“Why? Do you want to try something new?” Kai smiled. “You really should. It’s really quite inappropriate as the heir of the Scott family to keep taking someone else’s leftovers.”

Leyton’s expression contorted into a menacing one when he heard that.

Actually, he had always been hung up over it. Although Sandy tried her best to explain that she had never done anything or slept with Kai when they were dating, Leyton was still bothered by it.

If he did not genuinely like Sandy and was even considering marriage with her, he would have abandoned her a long time ago.

"Kai, why don't you f*cking look at yourself? Do you have any self-awareness? How can I possibly sleep with you? Stop thinking too highly of yourself. I feel disgusted whenever I see you..."

Sandy was so furious that she hurled insults at Kai. It was obvious that he was trying to sow discord in her relationship with Leyton.

"Kai, there's no need to sabotage our relationship by running your mouth like that. I trust that Sandy would have never slept with you. Besides, look at yourself. You probably can't even do what a man can, right? Otherwise, Sandy wouldn't have dumped you. If you were good in bed and could capture her heart, you wouldn't have fallen to such a miserable state..."

Leyton clenched his jaw. Although he claimed to be unbothered, he secretly was tormented by it.

"You don't know which one of us is good in bed? Haven't you discovered it recently?"

Kai smirked coldly.

When he left prison, he had already crippled Leyton. Now, the latter could not even be considered a complete man.

Leyton flushed right after Kai spoke.

He had been recuperating recently. Logically speaking, since Kai had only broken his arm, it should not affect anything else. However, during his intimate moments with Sandy, he would not have any reactions at all, even after taking off their clothes.

Initially, Leyton thought that his injury had affected it. However, his heart skipped a beat when he heard what Kai said.

"Ley, stop listening to Kai's nonsense. I know very well whether you're capable in bed or not! You're the best! Stop wasting any more time with him. Just kill him and toss him into the river," urged Sandy.

Leyton nodded and threatened Kai, "It'll be your death anniversary on this exact date next year. I'll let you know the consequences of offending me!"

With that, he waved his hands. "Attack! Just slash him to death and throw him into the river."

At his command, the dozens of men charged toward Kai with their knives raised.

"The Crimson Dragon Gang?" asked Kai with a cold smirk as he gazed at the attackers.
