A Man Like None Other Chapter 1981

A Man Like None Other Novel

“Her soul was incomplete. She’s fine now,” Baal uttered calmly. Evangeline stood up, looking somewhat bewildered at Kai and the others. At that moment, she had some vague impressions of Kai but, at the same time, also felt as if she knew nothing about him.

Seeing that, Fernando and Astrid hurriedly took Evangeline away. Evangeline still remembered Fernando, as they were both from the Gunderson family, after all.

“Young man, have you decided? Do you want me to pass on my cultivation method to you, teach you martial arts, or provide you with an exceptional weapon?” Baal asked Kai. Unexpectedly, Kai shook his head.

When it came to cultivation methods, his Focus Technique was a superior divine martial art. As for weapons, his Dragonslayer Sword was a top-grade spiritual sword. Seeing Kai shake his head, Baal frowned slightly, “What exactly do you want?”

“We don’t want any of those things. I just want to know who my father is. Can you help me with that? Kai asked while looking at Baal. “That’s easy. Just squeeze out a drop of your blood essence!” Baal replied casually.

Kai furrowed his brows, and a drop of essence blood slowly seeped from his forehead and eventually floated in midair. Baal extended a finger and gently touched the drop of blood essence.

Then, the droplet of blood essence was instantly absorbed into Baal’s body. Immediately afterward, Kai witnessed Baal’s facial expression changing dramatically from surprise to shock and finally to fear.

Even Baal’s breathing became much more rapid at that point. That observation left Kai somewhat at a loss, as he didn’t understand why Baal would react in that manner.

After a long while, Baal finally let out a long sigh, his forehead already covered in a cold sweat. “Mr. Baal, do you know who my father is now?” Kai asked anxiously.

The blood demon nodded. Kai was overjoyed. He had always wanted to know who his father was and the truth behind his identity. Why did so many people refer to me as the son of a dragon? Could my father really be a member of the Draconians?

However, just as Kai waited for Baal to answer him, the latter slowly said, “Now I understand why that old devil taught you Sacred Light Fist. That old guy must’ve noticed something too. I know who your father is, but I cannot say. Still, I can tell you this. Your father is someone even I admire deeply and cannot hope to match.”

Kai was dumbfounded after hearing that because Baal was already akin to an immortal, in his opinion. With Baal's capabilities, he could perhaps wipe out the existence of the mundane world with a wave of his hand. Yet, my father is someone even Baal reveres and cannot even match. Who exactly is my father?

Amidst Kai's consideration, Baal suddenly knitted his brows, appearing very unwell as a menacing expression flashed across his face. "Mr. Baal, what's wrong?" Kai hurriedly asked. "The power of the laws of nature is too overbearing, making breathing difficult for me," Baal answered with a frown.

Now that the altar was destroyed and the recovery of spiritual energy had vanished, the laws of nature would suppress beings like Baal with more formidable abilities to a greater extent. If Baal stayed in the mundane world for an extended period, his cultivation might be ruined.

"I am also a cultivator of the divine martial art, so why can't I sense the power of the laws of nature?" Kai found it very strange. Why didn't he, a spiritual energy cultivator, feel the suppression from the laws of nature?

"Are you kidding? With your bloodline, the laws of nature are nothing. It wouldn't dare-" Realizing he was about to slip up, Baal immediately caught himself. Then, he uttered, "I'm leaving this place now. If fate allows, I hope to see you in Ethereal Realm."

With that, Baal reached out and slashed at the air, tearing up the space and revealing a black hole. "You should come with me. You won't be able to survive here, and if there's a chance, I'll help you restore your physical body." Baal said, taking the soul of Lunarius Palace's holy maiden with him and jumping directly into the black hole.

"Mr. Baal, what is Ethereal Realm?" Kai wanted to inquire further regarding the details and location of Ethereal Realm. However, Baal was gone, and the black hole had already disappeared without a trace.

Dead silence ensued following Baal's departure. Everyone had just witnessed powers they'd never seen before. Greater Martial Arts Marquis or Martial Arts Saints were as insignificant as ants in the face of such absolute power. "Mr. Chance..."

At that moment, Verner stepped forward, wanting to ask Kai what they should do next. The altar was destroyed, and the spiritual energy recovery had ceased. They didn't have the slightest idea when the subsequent spiritual energy recovery area would appear either.

“Let’s go.” Now that the restoration of spiritual energy had stopped, Kai saw no reason to stay on Encanta Island any longer. Kai and the others turned to leave. Jose and the rest stared at Kai in a daze. No one spoke or tried to stop them, especially Marcelo, who now looked at Kai with nothing but fear, his previous arrogance gone.

Claus gazed at Kai, the former’s eyes brimming with hints of eagerness and fighting spirit. He yearned to face Kai in a match. However, as he couldn’t unleash his full strength in the mundane world, he could only hope Kai would have a chance to enter the secret realm..

Kai, who had already left, came to an abrupt halt. Seemingly having sensed Claus’ stare, Kai turned to look at him. “You’re from the Gate of Thunder’s secret realm?”

Claus nodded. He wasn’t surprised that Kai knew about the secret realm. After all, all those who went to that place were representatives of prestigious families from various secret realms.

“If I have the chance, I will definitely visit your secret realm.” With that, Kai spun on his heel and left without saying anything more.

Violet Cloud Palace was located in the Gate of Thunder’s secret realm. If Kai wanted to rescue his mother, he would have to find a way to enter that place.

However, his current priority was to track down the secret realm where Josephine was imprisoned. Fortunately, with Jessica accompanying them, she could handle the responsibilities of searching for Evil Heart Sect’s secret realm and opening it.

After all, Demon Sect and Evil Heart Sect were of the same lineage, so even the methods to unlock their secret realms were similar. Leaving Encanta Island, Kai, and his party headed straight for Jadeborough. He figured those women at home must’ve missed him since he’d been away for so long. Meanwhile, inside Evil Heart Sect’s secret realm.

at Jadeborough, Tanner scowled at the sight of Malphas, who had been reduced to a pile of mud. Skylar and the four Black Gold Robe warriors knelt on the floor. Feeling Tanner’s imposing aura, none of them dared to raise their heads.

“You’re saying that Baal beat him into this state?” Tanner asked coldly. “Technically, Baal didn’t hit Malphas. He became like this after Baal glanced at him,” Skylar answered honestly. Indeed, at that time, Baal merely glared at Malphas, and the latter immediately turned into. a pile of mud..

Tanner fell silent afterward. Nonetheless, his heavy breathing was clearly filled with tension. Just one look from Baal was sufficient to turn my subordinate, Malphas, into this state. There’s not even a need to mention how terrifying that power is. Even if I were to face Baal in person, I probably wouldn't be able to withstand a single slap from him.

"Why would Baal, a fellow demon spirit, help that Kai?" Tanner was baffled. What was that blood demon thinking? "Lord Tanner, Baal said that we aren't worthy of being members of the demon spirit. He even exterminated the spirits within the four Black Gold Robe warriors," Skylar hastily added.

"What?" Tanner was taken aback. The next second, he gently waved his hand, enveloping the four Black Gold Robe warriors with his aura. "The spirits are indeed gone!"

He furrowed his brows, feeling a sense of crisis for the first time. If a powerful demon like Baal sides with Kai, we can forget about laying a finger on him.

Suddenly, Tanner waved both hands and five spirits materialized instantly. Then, the five spirits entered Skylar and the four Black Gold Robe warriors' bodies.

"I have summoned five new souls for you. Don't worry about Kai for the time being. During this period, practice and cultivate more frequently with your respective spirits. Malphas can also take this opportunity to recuperate," Tanner said coldly.

"Understood!" Skylar and the others nodded. "By the way, how's the girl?" Tanner asked. "Josephine is being detained in a secret realm's dungeon. That place is very secure," Skylar replied.

"All right. All of you may leave now." Tanner waved his hand. Tanner's body gradually disappeared after Skylar and the others left.

Meanwhile, at Jadeborough's Crimson Palace, Cecilia, Lizbeth, Melanie, and Lyanna eagerly waited for Kai at the palace's entrance after learning he was returning to the city.

They knew he would definitely visit them at Crimson Palace when he came back. Ever since Kai found a place for Cecilia at Jadeborough and moved Crimson Palace over, Lizbeth and the other girls had been living there.

After all, Crimson Palace only consisted of girls, so it was more convenient for them to live there together. They could even chat with each other every day.

While the girls were waiting, Kai and his companions got off the plane. As soon as they stepped out of the airport, Kai was stopped by two uniformed officers from the Law Enforcement Department.

“Mr. Chance, Mr. Sanders would like to see you. Please come with us,” the two officers said to Kai politely. Kai frowned slightly. I’ve just returned and was planning to visit Lizbeth and the girls, yet Mr. Sanders instructed his men to intercept me at the airport.

Nonetheless, since it was Arthur requesting his presence, Kai couldn’t refuse. Hence, Kai asked Flaxseed and the others to head back first. Kai followed the two officers into the car. Then, he asked curiously, “Where’s Captain Jennings?”

Usually, Xavier personally attended to Arthur’s requests whenever the latter wanted to meet with Kai. This time, Arthur merely sent two officers over, which puzzled Kai a little.

Kai’s question caused a sad expression to spread across the two officers’ countenances. Still, neither of them said anything. However, taking in their facial expressions, a sense of foreboding surged within Kai’s chest.

When the car reached the Department of Justice, Kai got out of the vehicle and saw Theodore, General of the Department of Justice, standing at the door, awaiting his arrival. Noticing Kai, Theodore hastily approached and greeted, “Mr. Chance.”

“General Jackson, did something happen to Captain Jennings?” Kai asked Theodore. Theodore glanced around before nodding. “Mr. Sanders is also furious about this. Captain Jennings has been beaten into a cripple. His life is still hanging by a thread now.” Hearing that, Kai immediately furrowed his brows. “Who’s the culprit?”

Kai couldn’t fathom who would dare to target a member of the Law Enforcement Department. Mr. Sanders personally leads the Law Enforcement Department, so who’s the daredevil who has the audacity to provoke Mr. Sanders?

“You should hear about this from Mr. Sanders. He’s waiting for you inside.” Theodore brought Kai to the corridor outside a room. Then, he left.

Some things weren’t meant to be known by him, the General of the Department of Justice. Kai entered the room and saw Arthur smoking, looking extremely unhappy.

“Sit,” Arthur said indifferently when he saw Kai. Kai sat courteously in front of Arthur. Inexplicably, Kai found himself constantly feeling nervous when around Arthur. “Mr. Sanders, Captain Jennings...” Kai didn’t know how to ask about that matter.

“He’ll survive.” Arthur took a deep drag on his cigarette before stomping the cigarette butt forcefully with his foot. “Do you know how Captain Jennings got hurt?”

Kai shook his head. "He was injured by Kazuo. The Watanabe family is now openly opposing us to seek revenge," Arthur explained. When Kai heard that, a look of intense anger flashed across his face.

The Watanabe family had never given up on trying to hunt Kai down. Still, because of Arthur's impediment, the Watanabe family couldn't get past the border, even if they wanted to assassinate Kai.

However, Kazuo had unbelievably caused harm to Xavier, which meant that the gloves were off. The Watanabe family was no longer acting covertly and was brazenly seeking to kill Kai. "Dmn those bstards!" Kai gritted his teeth.

Rage burned within him as his aura continued. to rise. Arthur was slightly taken aback as he sensed. Kai's aura. "You're an Eighth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis now?"

Kai nodded. Then, he recounted the story of finding the ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower at Norham to Arthur.

Arthur couldn't help but sigh after listening to Kai's story. "A ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower only allowed you to advance to an Eighth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis. I really don't know how you'll cultivate in the future. I'm afraid that even if all the resources were given to you, it would still be difficult for you to break through to the Martial Arts Saint level. It seems like you should start exploring secret realms now. That's the only way you can further enhance your capabilities."

Kai was slightly taken aback. "Mr. Sanders, you know about secret realms too?" Taking in Kai's expression, Arthur chuckled. "I know more than what I've let on."

"In that case, do you know where the secret realms located nearby Jadeborough are?" Kai asked urgently. As Josephine was being held captive in a secret realm, Kai needed to find Evil Heart Sect's secret realm and rescue her.

"Countless secret realms exist in this world. There are over a hundred secret realms nearby Jadeborough alone. How would I know where. they all are?" Arthur replied.

Hearing this, Kai was quite astonished. "Mr. Sanders, aren't there only the Eight Major Secret Realms and some minor ones? Are there really that many secret realms just around Jadeborough alone?" Kai had never imagined that so many secret realms would suddenly appear.

"What you know are just some of the larger secret realms and those inhabited by people. Some secret realms have become without occupants, as the people within have died, turning them into ownerless secret realms. Nevertheless, even though the people have died, the resources in the secret realms remain. As a result, some large families have been fighting over many ownerless secret realms. The only problem is that these secret realms are difficult to find," Arthur clarified.

"Ownerless secret realms? Does that mean they belong to whoever finds them?" Kai asked with passion burning in his eyes. If that's the case, I can locate an ownerless secret realm and move Deragon Sect and even Crimson Palace there. Then, that place will become my domain, and I'll become the true master of that world.

Unfortunately, while Kai was imagining the wonderful scenario, Arthur dampened his spirits with the subsequent speech. "In theory, the secret realms belong to whoever finds them, but ownerless secret realms are extremely difficult to locate. After all, no one has entered or left them for many years, so there's no trace to follow.

To the best of my knowledge, the chance of discovering an ownerless secret realm is only one in a thousand! Moreover, even if you do stumble upon an ownerless secret realm and become its master, can you defend your territory? If other large families find out, they will drive you away. When you lack sufficient capabilities, even if you were given a secret realm, you won't be able to keep hold of it," Arthur said.

After listening to Arthur, Kai fell into deep thought. No wonder Demon Sect rarely allowed people to enter and exit their secret realm, only sending people out of the realm when absolutely necessary. That is a measure taken to protect themselves and avoid revealing the entrance of their secret realm to others. If the Eight Major Secret Realms' families knew where Demon Sect's secret realm was, they probably would've attacked the latter. Secret realms are territories, and which prestigious families wouldn't want to expand their turf?

Still, Kai's desire for a secret realm had already become extremely strong. If he were inside a secret realm, he could cultivate normally.

Besides, he also wouldn't have to worry about those around him facing any danger. After all, the threats from the mundane world would be virtually non-existent within a secret realm.

At that moment, Kai was still unaware that the Thousands of Miles Away in his possession could've allowed him to explore the Eight Major Secret Realms freely. He didn't need to search for an ownerless secret realm.

"Mr. Sanders, let's discuss this matter relating to the secret realms another day. What do you plan to do now that Captain Jennings was hurt by those people from Jetroina?" Kai asked.

"What else can I do? Of course we'll kill them. Unfortunately, Kazuo got away. However, he will undoubtedly come looking for you, so I should warn you to be careful. Moreover, this guy is a Top Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis and is close to becoming a Martial Arts Saint,” Arthur reminded Kai.

Kai nodded. “I got it. I’ll stay vigilant. Also, I’ll contact Medicine God Sect’s Mr. Knox to come in person and treat Captain Jennings. I won’t let him lose his abilities and become a disabled person.”

Arthur waved his hand and said, “Okay. This is the second thing I wanted to talk to you about for asking you over. Take care of it right away.”

Kai got up and walked right out of the Department of Justice. He then contacted Axton from Medicine God Sect and had him bring the best pills over to treat Xavier.

When Kai returned to Crimson Palace, however, no one welcomed him at the door. He also noticed a strange atmosphere in the air after entering Crimson Palace. The disciples from Crimson Palace were snickering when they saw him.

“Millie, where are your sister and the others?” Kai asked when he saw her. “I don’t know. They said they were going to pick you up at the airport. Did you not see them?” Millie replied.

“Huh? They were going to pick me up? I didn’t see them there, though,” Kai exclaimed in confusion. Curious as to what was going on, Kai turned around and was about to leave when he saw that Crimson Palace’s front door was closed.

Lizbeth, Cecilia, and the others then came, rushing out and surrounded him on all sides. “We’ve been waiting for you all day! Where have you been?”

They bombarded Kai with a series of questions regarding his whereabouts. While most people would kill to be surrounded by such beautiful women, all Kai wanted was to run away. It wasn’t until he explained everything that they let him off.

While Kai was having fun messing around with Lizbeth and the others, a middle-aged man in gray clothes and a hat was rushing toward Jadeborough from the outskirts..

Because he was filthy from head to toe and shabbily dressed, everyone assumed he was some kind of refugee and avoided him upon sight. Despite his disgusting appearance, the man had an icy-cold glint in his eyes.

That man was none other than Kazuo Kawaguchi himself. As Kai had destroyed Jetroina’s secret base in Chanaea, Kazuo received harsh criticism when he returned to Jetroina.

They had him return to Chanaea with members of the Watanabe family to kill Kai in retaliation. However, Xavier and his men stopped them the moment they arrived at the border.

Usually, they would flee to avoid direct confrontation with the authorities and try their luck some other time. However, the members of the Watanabe family attacked the guys from the Law Enforcement Department and even killed one of its men.

That led to an all-out fight breaking out between the two sides. Because those from the Law Enforcement Department were significantly weaker, they were all killed in the resulting battle, and Xavier was severely injured as well. Naturally, that did not sit well with Arthur in the slightest. He was so furious that he ordered to have Kazuo and the others killed.

The members of the Watanabe family that Kazuo brought over ended up being slaughtered in retaliation. It was a miracle that Kazuo managed to escape with his life, but he didn't dare return to Jetroina without first killing Kai.

After all, there would be harsh punishments awaiting him back there. "It's your fault I'm in this terrible state right now, Kai! I'll tear you into a million pieces!" Kazuo muttered angrily under his breath.

His eyes were filled with rage as he glared at Jadeborough, which was right in front of him. As the sky slowly turned dark, the nightlife in Jadeborough was about to begin. Neon lights illuminated the city's streets as people came out dressed in fancy clothes. Kazuo, on the other hand, was dressed shabbily as he sat in a corner near Deragon Sect and glared daggers at its entrance..

It wasn't long before one of its members came out through the door and made his way into a nearby alley. Seizing the golden opportunity, Kazuo ran after that man as quickly as his legs could carry him.

A loud scream of pain echoed throughout the alley, and Kazuo emerged with a confused frown moments later. "Kai isn't inside Deragon Sect?" he muttered under his breath.

Little did Kazuo know, Kai was spending that night in Crimson Palace surrounded by a bunch of girls. Kai's face had lots of notes stuck to it as he played cards with the girls..

"No cheating, Kai! Take your card back right now!" Lyanna exclaimed with a pout. The other girls chimed in to help each other gang up on Kai, Right as Kai was on the verge of having a mental breakdown, he received a phone call from Godrick.

"There's trouble at Deragon Sect, Kai! One of our members was just killed!" Godrick shouted anxiously the moment the call got through. "What?" Kai leaped to his feet instantly. The girls fell completely silent and didn't dare say a word when they saw the grim look on Kai's face.
