A Man Like None Other Chapter 2056

A Man Like None Other Novel

Excited to receive news of Kai's return, Lizbeth, Cecilia, and the others dolled themselves up before arriving at Jadeborough Airport to receive him.

As they waited at the airport, the girls drew plenty of attention. Jessica was amongst them. She had taken extra care to look nice for Flaxseed. Not long after, Kai and Flaxseed appeared at the arrival gate and exited it slowly.

The girls hurried forward at the first glimpse of Kai but froze when they saw the young, pretty girl behind him. "What a nice surprise for all of you to come pick me up!"

Kai smiled when he saw the girls. The girls ignored him. Instead, they stared at Yuri who was standing behind him. "Oh, by the way, Yuri. Take a cab to school for I won't be sending you," Kai said upon noticing Lizbeth and the others staring at her.

"Yes, Master. Can we hang out when I have the time?" Yuri asked with a sweet smile. "Eh? You may, I suppose." Kai seemed at a loss on how to answer Yuri. "See you later, Master, Mr. Flaxseed!"

Yuri waved, then departed in a taxi. Lizbeth and Lyanna were staring daggers at Kai after Yuri left. "You are becoming brazen, Kai. No wonder you wanted to go to Jetroina. You got yourself a servant girl, I see!" Lyanna fumed. "What are you talking about? It's a misunderstanding. Let me explain."

Kai knew they have misunderstood. "There is no misunderstanding!" Cecilia snapped. "Explain yourself when we get home." At their leader's order, the other girls surrounded Kai and forced him into the car.

Flaxseed burst out laughing at Kai. Jessica gave his ear a violent wrench. "Did you do anything you're not supposed to in Jetroina? I know how lecherous Jetroinian women are." "No, I didn't. I promise I did not."

Flaxseed chuckled before leaving with his arm around Jessica's waist. Kai paid Flaxseed a visit that evening. He wanted to ask Jessica about how the search for Evil Heart Sect had been going.

However, he heard something that made him blush upon arriving at Flaxseed's room. At a loss for words, Kai lit a cigarette and waited. Half an hour later, the noise coming from Flaxseed's room finally subsided.

Flaxseed opened the door and was taken aback to find Kai standing there. "What are you doing here, Kai? When did you arrive?" Kai rolled his eyes at him. "I've been here for half an hour."

Flaxseed giggled and ushered Kai into the room. Jessica had gotten dressed by that point. Blushing furiously, she greeted Kai. "How is the progress of the matter with Evil Heart Sect, Jessica?" Kai asked abruptly.

"I found a secret realm of Evil Heart Sect, Mr. Chance, but I don't know if that's where they're holding your girlfriend. Besides, I dared not open it in your absence," Jessica reported. "Where is it?" Kai asked excitedly.

"At the backyard of Warriors Alliance. That's where the entrance to the secret realm is. I told Godrick to have his men keep a close eye on it," Jessica said. "However, nobody emerged from the entrance over the past few days, so I can't tell if the secret realm has been abandoned or if there's another exit."

"Come. Show me. Kai leaped to his feet as he was really eager to take a look. "It's the middle of the night, Kai. We'll go tomorrow. Besides, the secret realm is not going anywhere. If it really is Evil Heart Sect, we should make careful plans instead of proceeding hastily."

Flaxseed knew Kai was anxious to rescue the hostage but there was they could act recklessly! Kai nodded. He also realized he was being rash. After speaking with Jessica a little longer, Kai left. After their time apart, I guess Flaxseed will not be sleeping the whole night.

Upon leaving Flaxseed's place, Kai was planning to return to Deragon Sect when he bumped into Xavier just after taking a few steps. "Captain Jennings, how's your injury?" Kai asked when he saw it was Xavier.

"I've recovered for a while now and even become stronger than before," Xavier replied, waving his fists. "What brings you here this late?" Kai inquired.

"I'm here to look for you, of course. Mr. Sanders found out you're back and has specially prepared a banquet to treat you to a meal. Let me tell you. You're the first person to ever receive a private dinner invitation from Mr. Sanders. He's overjoyed this time. You have no idea how worried he was when he heard you secretly went to Jetroina to seek revenge. After that, he even deployed the secret agent he planted there for many years to assist you," Xavier whispered to Kai.

"Mr. Sanders deployed a secret agent? Who is that?" Kai fell into a momentary daze before furrowing his brows the next second. I don't remember receiving any help from anyone when I was in Jetroina. At that moment, he suddenly thought of one person. Fandor!

Although Fandor was Flaxseed's close friend, Kai had always felt that Fandor was particularly attentive toward him from the very beginning, including the time Fandor first introduced the situation in Jetroina to him and the subsequent action of forcing Ryosuke to hand over the snow lotus.

Afterward, Fandor even gave the snow lotus to Kai. It was worth noting that Kai's encounter with Fandor was purely coincidental. While Fandor claimed to be repaying Kai for buying alcohol, no one would offer something so valuable in return.

Kai managed to achieve a breakthrough thanks to that snow lotus. Furthermore, when Kai fought Kawasaki, Fandor managed to obtain information about Kawasaki too.

Kawasaki wasn't just an average Joe, so how could his confidential information be so easily acquired? In addition, when Flaxseed invited Fandor to return to the country, the latter declined and was unwilling to come back.

Judging by those signs, Kai suddenly felt that Fandor might very well be the secret agent Arthur had deployed. Otherwise, based solely on the relationship between Fandor and Flaxseed, there wasn't a need for Fandor to help Kai to that extent.

"I don't know the identity of these secret agents. If you wish to know, you should ask Mr. Sanders in person." With that, Xavier turned around and walked ahead. Kai followed closely behind him..

At the same time, Jadeborough's Department of Justice was brightly lit. A lavish dinner was laid out in the main hall. Arthur, giving off a gentlemanly vibe, sat quietly at the head of the table.

After Kai entered the hall, Arthur flashed a faint smile. "Have a seat." Kai nodded and sat opposite Arthur. Arthur riveted his eyes on Kai, making the latter feel somewhat uneasy.

"Your talent and courage have truly exceeded my expectations. The recent drastic growth of your capabilities has been swift beyond my imagination. Not to mention, you were sufficiently audacious to venture into Jetroina alone, becoming the entire nation's Deity and barging into the Imperial Palace at night. I find it increasingly difficult to understand and keep up with you now," Arthur uttered slowly.

"I didn't plan for all that to happen initially. However, after getting my revenge, those people at Jetroina were unwilling to let me go, so I had no choice but to entertain them for a few more days," Kai replied with a wry smile.

"Hahaha! Look at you trying to act innocent after receiving all the perks. All right. Let's have our meal now. I've prepared some fine wine for you today."

Arthur gently waved his hand as he spoke, sending the wine glass before him flying toward Kai. Kai stretched out his hand and caught the glass. The next instant, he felt numbness spread in his arm, almost causing him to drop the wine glass.

Kai stared at Arthur in shock. I'm now a Fifth Level Martial Arts Saint with actual strength comparable to a Top Level Martial Arts Saint. I certainly didn't expect catching a wine glass casually tossed by Mr. Sanders would cause my arm to go numb!

"Pour yourself some wine," Arthur said. Snapping out of his shock, Kai poured himself a glass of wine. Then, the two began to drink and chat. "Does it feel exhilarating to have destroyed Jetroina's shrines and become the Deity their citizens worship?" Arthur asked. Kai merely nodded in silence.

In fact, he did feel elated, and his confidence was soaring at that moment. He felt that he could annihilate the entire Evil Heart Sect with his current abilities.

Taking in Kai's demeanor, Arthur smiled faintly. "However, I must tell you this. Even if you can dominate the entire martial arts world now, this is not an impressive feat at all because members of the martial arts world have never been taken seriously. There are countless experts in the secret realms. Even the force backing Warriors Alliance is not as weak as you think. You still have a very long journey ahead of you."

Arthur's expression grew more solemn as he spoke. Kai gazed at Arthur. He couldn't shake off the feeling that he had never really known Arthur, even after they'd become acquainted for so long.

Kai was also clueless about Arthur's true strength. "Mr. Sanders, do you know about Ethereal Realm?" Kai suddenly recalled Ethereal Realm that Baal had mentioned to him. He didn't have the slightest idea what Ethereal Realm was.

"Who told you about Ethereal Realm?" Arthur asked with a frown. Kai recounted everything that happened on Encanta Island to Arthur. The latter's expression visibly relaxed after he learned it was Baal who had spoken to Kai about Ethereal Realm.

"Since you want to know, I'll tell you. In the vast expanse of space and time, there are countless worlds. However, they cannot be perceived because they exist in different dimensions. Just like the secret realms you've discovered, although they exist in the same space-time, not many people are aware of their existence. Ethereal Realm is also a world, just not in the same dimension as the current world we live in. When your capabilities are enhanced to accomplish space-time travel, you'll be able to visit the other worlds freely," Arthur explained.

Kai gazed at Arthur in bewilderment. He couldn't understand how the latter knew all that. After the meal, Kai left the Department of Justice with complicated emotions churning within him.

Initially, having absorbed the abilities of so many Martial Arts Saints at Jetroina and reaching the level of a Fifth Level Martial Arts Saint made Kai somewhat full of himself since he had become an invincible being in the entire martial arts world. Hence, the first thing he wanted to do upon returning to the country was to obliterate Evil Heart Sect.

However, after listening to Arthur's words and experiencing the numbness in his arm from Arthur's casual flick of the wine glass, Kai realized that his skills were far from enough to render him peerless.

That night, Kai thought a lot and found Arthur's identity increasingly mysterious. The next day, Flaxseed and Jessica came looking for Kai.

The trio went to the former site of Jadeborough's Warriors Alliance, which had now become Deragon Sect's territory. There were even Deragon Sect's martial trainees guarding the entrance. Seeing Kai's advent, the martial trainees stood straight and shouted, "Greetings, Mr. Chance!"

Kai bobbed his head slightly in acknowledgment before walking in. "Kai," Godrick hurriedly greeted Kai when he saw the latter had arrived. "How has it been? Has there been any trouble here lately?" Kai asked.

"No. After Ms. Zimmerman instructed me to increase the manpower, I've been personally keeping an eye on things and didn't discover anything unusual," Godrick answered. "Okay. Take us there to have a look," Kai uttered.

Godrick led Kai and the others to the backyard, where the Warriors Alliance's dungeon once stood. However, after the destruction of the Warriors Alliance by Kai, the dungeon was no more.

Kai glanced at Jessica, who slowly raised her arms as if sensing something. Soon, her hands stopped mid-air, and a glow began emanating from them.

"Ms. Zimmerman, is this the entrance to the secret realm?" Kai asked when he noticed that she had stopped moving. Jessica nodded. "Yes, the entrance is here, and I'm certain it belongs to the Evil Heart Sect because the aura at the entrance is very similar to our Demon Sect!"

Kai's excitement was palpable as he said, "Then let's open it quickly." The light in Jessica's hands grew brighter, and she began to mumble what seemed to be an incantation.

A black hole manifested out of the void and gradually expanded in size. Unable to contain his excitement, Kai leaped toward the black hole. Buzz...

However, just as he was about to pass through it, a massive force struck his body, and he bounced back. Kai looked at Jessica in bewilderment, and she frowned as she explained, "Although the Evil Heart Sect's secret realm is similar to ours, they've added an extra spell, like an extra lock on a door. I can unlock one lock, but I can't open the additional one."

Kai furrowed his brows in response. Evidently, the Evil Heart Sect had prepared for their arrival, anticipating Kai's attempt to access their secret realm using his connection to Demon Sect. They had added an extra spell to the entrance as a precaution.

With the secret realm tantalizingly close and the fact that Josephine was right inside, Kai could no longer contain his rage. His aura surged, and his fists shone with a golden light.

"Kai," Flaxseed called out worriedly. However, Kai's eyes had already turned blood-red. "Break!" he roared, striking the entrance of the secret realm with a powerful blow.

The punch shattered the void, creating a thunderous rumble that echoed throughout Jadeborough. His strike could have leveled a mountain, but strangely, it left no trace on the black hole. The mighty force of his punch vanished instantly as if swallowed by the black hole.

Unfazed, Kai launched another more potent attack. After a dozen more punches, he was already covered in sweat, but the entrance of the secret realm remained unchanged. Gasping for breath, Kai stared helplessly at the entrance of the secret realm.

"Mr. Chance, it's no use. No matter how much force you use, you can't break the entrance of the secret realm. It's not a physical object but a space-time rift. Your power can't do any damage at all," Jessica advised.

"What should I do, then? What can I do? Am I to stand idly by while Josephine suffers inside?" Kai despaired. Even with his newfound strength as a Fifth Level Martial Arts Saint, he was powerless against the entrance of the secret realm.

The devastating realization had shattered his confidence. "Mr. Chance, there is a way to open the secret realm, but..." Jessica trailed off mid-sentence.

“What should we do? Just tell me. It doesn’t matter what it takes as long as I can enter the secret realm and save Josephine,” Kai said anxiously.

“I know there is a clan known as Crafting Clan on Baylor Mountain, and within it, there is a Divine Scroll. It’s said that this Divine Scroll can open the entrance to any secret realm, but this Divine Scroll is the treasure of the clan, and they won’t lend it to others easily. However, the head of the clan enjoys collecting various magical items. If one happens to possess something he likes, he may lend the Divine Scroll!” Jessica said. “Crafting Clan? Divine Scroll?” Kai frowned slightly. “How come I’ve never heard of them?”

Although Kai had not been in the martial arts world for long, as his strength and fame increased, he became more knowledgeable about many sects and clans in the martial arts world. He was now aware of some families representing the secret realms, but he had never heard of the clan known as Crafting Clan.

“Mr. Chance, you may not know that although Crafting Clan is in the mundane world, it rarely interacts with the martial arts families in the mundane world. Instead, the families they deal with are all from various secret realms! Since Crafting Clan can refine magical items and possesses the Divine Scroll, many families from secret realms have dealt with the clan,” Jessica said to Kai.

Kai finally understood and asked, “Where on Baylor Mountain is this Crafting Clan? I’ll go find it now.” Jessica shook her head and replied, “I’m not sure about the exact location. I only heard about it when I was in Demon Sect.”

Kai was acquainted with Baylor Mountain, but its vast expanse stretched hundreds of miles. Where, among such a landscape, should he search for the enigmatic Crafting Clan?

Furthermore, the clan’s scarce connection to martial arts families in the mundane world meant that he might not glean any useful information even if he inquired elsewhere.

On the other hand, venturing to Demon Sect to seek answers would consume far too much precious time. As Kai found himself lost in indecision, an epiphany struck him like a bolt of lightning- Arthur Sanders!

Surely, if Arthur was knowledgeable about. Ethereal Realm, he might hold the key to the mysteries of Crafting Clan. With this revelation, Kai pivoted on his heel and strode purposefully outward, his mind set on consulting Arthur.

“ Kai, where are you going?” Flaxseed, witnessing the scene, couldn’t help but ask. However, Kai had already vanished into the distance, his intentions unknown, leaving only his faint voice uttering, "Guard this entrance to the secret realm with vigilance. I must pursue him..."

Flaxseed knew that rage was burning within Kai like a roaring inferno, and he feared that his friend might succumb to recklessness, so he hastened after him. When Flaxseed trailed Kai to the Department of Justice, he was dumbstruck.

He couldn't fathom Kai's reason for coming here. "Kai, what brings you to this place? Do you truly expect the authorities to assist you in finding this so-called Crafting Clan?"

Flaxseed went forward and stopped Kai. "Yes, I must consult Mr. Sanders." Kai nodded resolutely. Flaxseed's eyes widened in alarm. "Kai, have you lost your mind? You know that one must be summoned in order to see Mr. Sanders. Who dares to disturb him without such an invitation? I advise you not to provoke the man. Although he has been kind to you, you must know your limits!"

Flaxseed's expression darkened as he learned of Kai's intentions. "Rest assured there will be no trouble. Mr. Sanders would never treat me unkindly," Kai declared confidently.

However, Flaxseed's grip on Kai tightened, preventing him from proceeding further. At that moment, Xavier emerged from within, his gaze falling upon Kai and Flaxseed. He was slightly taken aback. "Kai, you are indeed here at the entrance. Mr. Sanders instructed me just now to come out and invite you in..."

Xavier's words left Kai momentarily stunned as well, for it clearly indicated that Arthur was already aware of his arrival.
