

The Mans Decree Chapter 2333 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2333

A Man Like None Other Novel

Kai initially thought that the two men earlier had caught up to him. But when he had scrambled up to his feet and swung his gaze over, he saw a ferocious giant lion eyeing him predatorily.

Fangs were visible in its mouth that reeked of the coppery stench of blood, and it kept roaring lowly. "Haha... Serves you right for running your mouth! Now, you're in trouble!"

At the sight of the giant lion, Ranzoph guffawed. Conversely, Kai wore a look of utter desolation. Good Lord! I merely griped for a bit. How could the person who created the secret realm be so petty to send a demon beast to teach me a lesson?

Helplessness swamped him as he stared at the demon beast before him. This time, it's probably impossible for me to make a break for it! Keeping its eyes fixed on the man, the giant lion made no move to attack. Instead, it circled him relentlessly.

Despite its lack of aggression, Kai could not afford to wait and tarry. Otherwise, the two men would gain on him. At that time, death would be the only fate awaiting him if he had to face the demon beast in front of him and the duo.

No sooner had he geared up to make a move against the giant lion than the two men caught up with him. The instant the duo noticed that his path was blocked by a demon beast, they both dissolved into laughter..

"We're downright lucky today, Grant! Not only do we get to kill Kai to obtain the promised resources, but we'll also be gaining a beast core!" Ronan exclaimed excitedly as he regarded the giant lion..

"Indeed, we're lucky today. But shall we kill the demon beast first or Kai?" Grant mused. Ronan had a severed arm right then, so his capabilities were diminished significantly. If they were to deal with the giant lion and Kai simultaneously, it would likely be difficult for them to emerge victorious quickly. Therefore, they needed to team up and deal with either of the two first.

“Let’s kill Kai first. He cut off my arm. I’m going to make him suffer in return!” Ronan declared, eyeballing Kai icily.

“Sure.” In response, Grant gave a dip of his head. Without an ounce of hesitation, he leaped up. In a flash, the sword in his hand glinted sharply in the light, heading straight for Kai.

When that happened, the Dragonslayer Sword in Kai’s hand flew out. Alongside its incessant buzzing, streams of sword energy blasted forth and blocked the man’s blade.

Following that sight, Ronan swung his sword one-handed and charged at Kai. He was wholly confident that he could kill the latter with just an arm since the man no longer had the protection offered by the Dragonslayer Sword.

Kai stared at the man rushing at him, plunging into helplessness for a moment. His capabilities were suppressed, and he could not fight Ronan..

Just as Ronan was about to reach him, he abruptly caught sight of the giant lion still eyeing him predatorily. An idea instantly popped into his mind. Without warning, he shot his hand out at the giant lion. He wanted to devise a way to pit Ronan and the giant lion against each other. Then, he would have a chance of survival.

For that reason, he planned to provoke the giant lion. Consequently, things would be chaotic,. and he would be able to find an opportunity to take flight.

When he swung his hand out at the giant lion, he reckoned that it would be infuriated and lunge at him. Unexpectedly, it darted to the side and dodged the attack. Having done so, it rolled its eyes and threw Kai a disdainful look. Kai was utterly stunned by that look, never having expected a demon beast to discern his motive. That was the reason it dodged. It had absolutely no intention of making a move.

“Die!” While he was distracted, Ronan reached him and brought the sword in his hand down on Kai’s back mercilessly.

Clang! A crisp bang rang out, upon which Kai flew backward. Blood gushed out of a bone-deep wound on his back incessantly. Severely injured, Kai spurted a mouthful of blood, and his vision grew increasingly blurry. In the end, he passed out.

Ronan glanced at his sword, cursing, "D*mn it! How exactly did he train his physical body that it's so tough?" He strutted toward Kai with his sword in hand. The latter was already out cold, so he had let his guard down entirely.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2334 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2334

A Man Like None Other Novel

Just when Ronan was about to finish Kai off, a strong gust of wind rushed at him out of the blue. Roar! It turned out that the demon beast had launched itself at Ronan.

With a furious roar, the giant lion struck such terror into the man with its powerful aura that he stumbled several steps away. When he had done so, the giant lion ambled over to Kai. It licked the latter with its tongue before opening its cavernous mouth..

Seeing that, Ronan knew that it wanted to devour Kai. Nonetheless, he made no move to stop it, for all he needed was the man's head. He could still prove the accomplishment of the mission to Wrey with that item alone..

Putting his sword away, he merely watched as it sunk its teeth into Kai since the latter was destined to die. He did not want to deal with the giant lion alone because he was not its match when his arm had been severed then.

Roar! In the next second, the giant lion swiped its claw across Kai's body. Yet, its sharp claws could not penetrate the man's skin.

Then, it started tearing at him with its teeth. But still, it could not break through his skin. At that very moment, Kai was just like a rock. The giant lion wanted to make a meal of him, yet it could not bite into him at all..

At the end of its rope, it glared down at the unconscious man before swinging its paw at his head. When its paw was mere inches away from Kai's head, a bright light suddenly manifested at the man's chest.

On the heels of that, a ball of golden light emerged from within his body. The instant the ball of golden light appeared, a mighty aura started permeating the air. The giant lion was so petrified that it swiftly backed away.

The ball of golden light gradually expanded. Eventually, it slowly began to unfurl and transformed into a phoenix that flew circles around Kai.

The sight of the phoenix that appeared out of nowhere had horror brim in the giant lion's eyes. It let loose a terrified roar and dropped to its knees on the ground.

On top of that, it kept its head hung low as though worshipping the phoenix. As Ronan witnessed that scene, shock showed on his face. He could not fathom why a phoenix suddenly emerged from Kai's body.

The phoenix let out a cry before diving into Kai's forehead. A phoenix mark manifested on the man's forehead. But in the next heartbeat, it disappeared into thin air.

Even after the phoenix had vanished, the giant lion remained cowering on the ground, the look in its eyes as docile as a house cat. Upon seeing that the giant lion no longer dared to devour Kai, Ronan drew his sword to eliminate Kai himself.

But the moment he stepped forward, the giant lion that was initially lying motionless on the ground lunged at him with murder radiating from its eyes.

At that, Ronan hurriedly flipped backward and dodged. Alas, it refused to let him go, aggressively attacking him repeatedly. Thus, the giant lion went up against Ronan while the Dragonslayer Sword battled Grant. Kai, on the other hand, remained unconscious on the ground, utterly motionless.

Roar! Following a great roar from the giant lion, Ronan could no longer hold out. His remaining arm was bitten by the demon beast and ripped right off.

"Ahh!" The excruciating pain that inundated him forced an ear-splitting wail of agony out of his mouth. Hearing the cry of pain, Grant was inexorably distracted for a moment. In that split second of inattention, his head was severed by the Dragonslayer Sword.

At the same time, the giant lion sunk its teeth into Ronan's head and bit it off, swallowing it whole. With the duo dead, Kai was safe for the time being.

The Dragonslayer Sword returned to his body. Meanwhile, the giant lion licked the man before picking him up with its teeth and leaving at lightning speed. Shortly after it had left with Kai, a group of people rushed over, having heard the deafening roar earlier.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2335 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2335

A Man Like None Other Novel

The person in the lead was the overlord of Scorching Heaven Sect, Yona. They rushed over because they heard a demon beast's roar and the sounds of a battle.

A demon beast's beast core was a top-notch cultivation resource, but those in the secret realm would undoubtedly be much stronger than those in the hidden realm. Unfortunately, by the time Yona arrived with his men, there were only two dead bodies on the ground.

He scrutinized the dead bodies on the ground before gently placing a hand on one of them. In a flash, the scene of the battle earlier materialized before his eyes.

"What a powerful giant lion..." Narrowing his gaze a fraction, he touched the other dead body lightly. On the heels of that, his eyes glinted. "The spiritual sword is actually sentient. It looks like Kai has a number of incredible items. Give chase!"

He engaged in a pursuit with his men in the direction where the giant lion had escaped. Almost everyone in the entire secret realm was hunting Kai.

Some people wanted to kill the man in exchange for Flying Star Sect's resources, while others coveted the magical items he possessed. Naturally, there were also those who were searching for him to lend him a hand.

In that instant, there were people tracking Kai down everywhere in the secret realm. Fortunately, the place was massive. Hence, searching for someone was akin to looking for a needle in a haystack.

"D*mn it! Where on earth did that kid go?" Wrey could not help feeling anxious when there was still no news of Kai after such a long time had passed.

"Considering the vastness of this secret realm, it's not that easy to locate someone, Wrey. If you want to know where Kai is, simply ask Great Diviner to divine it for you," Hugh proposed.

In a trice, Wrey's eyes lit up. "That's right! How could I have forgotten about him? I'll have someone find him right away!" he exclaimed. He sent some men out to look for Great Diviner. In no time, an elderly man with a goatee was escorted over.

That was the top diviner in the hidden realm, Great Diviner. With just three copper coins, he could perceive everything. For that reason, his Divination Sect enjoyed much prominence in the hidden realm. “You want me to locate Kai, Mr. Lindt?” Great Diviner asked bluntly upon seeing Wrey.

“Sure enough, you live up to your reputation, Master Diviner. Indeed, I invited you over to divine his location. I’d really appreciate the help,” Wrey answered politely.

“That’s a piece of cake. But you should know my rules, yes?” Great Diviner asserted haughtily. “Of course, I do. As long as you locate him, I’ll definitely gift you a ton of resources,” Wrey hastily promised. In response, Great Diviner nodded. “Okay.”

After saying that, he took out three copper coins before tossing them high into the air. They started glowing and spinning continuously while suspended in mid-air.

Wrey and Hugh lifted their heads and stared at the copper coins, beyond curious as to how Great Diviner could divine everything with just three copper coins.

“Are these three copper coins ancient divine items?” Hugh could not resist asking. “They’re just three ordinary copper coins. There’s nothing divine about them,” Great Diviner replied with a faint smile.

“If so, why can they divine everything when they’re in your hands, Master Diviner?” Hugh continued venturing..

“Divine secrets are confidential. My apologies, but I can’t answer that.” Having said that, Great Diviner gestured with both hands, and the three copper coins kept changing directions in mid- air. More than ten minutes passed, but there was still no response. Instead, he was still gesturing with his hands. Impatience flooded Wrey.

It’s been over ten minutes now, but there’s nothing! He was not sure whether Great Diviner was a swindler since he had never asked the latter for help, having only heard of his reputation.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2336 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2336

A Man Like None Other Novel

“Is it not working, Master Diviner?” Wrey demanded impatiently. “I’m done.” Right after Great Diviner had said that, the copper coins in the air abruptly fused together.

Following that, rays of light burst out from the copper coin and formed a projection. The scene was none other than that of Kai battling the two men.

Great Diviner suddenly waved a hand, and the space seemingly cracked immediately. A series of auras surged out of the fissures. “You can both sense whether this is Kai’s aura, Great Diviner stated, shifting his gaze to Wrey and Hugh.

“Indeed, it’s his aura. I once fought with him, so I know his aura,” Wrey affirmed. “Since you can sense the presence of the aura, Mr. Lindt, search for him by following it. You’ll certainly find him!” Great Diviner concluded.

“Okay. Thank you, Master Diviner! I’ll deliver the promised resources to your residence when I go back!” When Wrey had finished saying that, he led some men in rapid pursuit of the aura.

Great Diviner and Hugh tagged along. In the meantime, the giant lion held Kai in its mouth and sprinted at top speed. No one knew where it was taking him..

Kai was still unconscious. Ranzoph, who was in his body, frantically called out at him, not wanting the man to continue being carried away by the giant lion.

By then, they had long since deviated from their route, going the polar opposite of the place marked with the treasure. Soon, the aura divined by Great Diviner faded. Consequently, Wrey lost the direction in which Kai disappeared.

“What exactly is going on here, Master Diviner?” Wrey put that question forth to Great Diviner. “ Kai is fleeing too fast and far. My divination has a time and distance limit, so it can’t serve you perpetually,” Great Diviner explained.

“Fleeing too fast? He has obviously sustained internal injuries, yet he can still travel at such breakneck speed? I’m duly impressed,” Wrey remarked with a flabbergasted expression on his face.

“I can sense that he’s going increasingly faster now.” Great Diviner closed his eyes lightly, seemingly having sensed something. “Do you know where he is, Master Diviner?”

Please help me once more,” Wrey quickly implored. “Mr. Lindt, the price of my divination is set for a single request. If you want to another divination, it would cost you...”

Great Diviner made the money gesture. “Sure, that’s fine. I’ll arrange for someone to find it for you right away!” Wrey readily agreed. Hearing that, Great Diviner tossed the three copper coins in his hand into the air again.

Shortly after, Kai’s aura leaked out, and he turned out to be a near distance away from them. “Haha... We’ve got Kai’s whereabouts now. He’s not far from us. Let’s go and give chase!”

Unbidden, Wrey hooted with laughter. They all started giving chase in Kai’s direction once more. However, Kai had absolutely no idea that Wrey was already hot on his heels. He was still unconscious, carried by the giant lion everywhere.

“Huh? How strange. Where exactly is Kai heading? Why is he traveling haphazardly?” Great Diviner sensed Kai’s aura and noticed that he was running everywhere without a fixed direction.

“He must be doing this to evade pursuit. No wonder no one can find him.” Having said that, Wrey unleashed his spiritual sense to ascertain Kai’s tracks in real time.

But after a while, Great Diviner’s three copper coins abruptly lost their efficacy and fell to the ground from mid-air. “What’s happening here, Master Diviner?” Wrey questioned upon seeing that the man’s copper coins had dropped down.