

The Mans Decree Chapter 2351 -

Meanwhile, at the Department of Justice in Jadeborough, Arthur was writing something. down when his hand trembled all of a sudden, and he ended up smudging the paper as a result.

Since he had ruined his perfectly neat handwriting, Arthur put the calligraphy brush down and slowly walked out of the room. "The inevitable is finally here. Are you ready, Kai?" he mumbled to himself while staring at the night sky.

He dashed through the sky at lightning speed.. Moments later, he landed inside a courtyard, which was brightly lit despite it being very late at night.

A few girls could be seen sweating profusely as they cultivated in the courtyard. They quickly got into a straight line and greeted Arthur respectfully when they saw him arrive. Arthur flashed them a satisfied smile and nodded in response.

"Why are you up so late, Mr. Sanders?" asked one of the girls, who wore a white dress and had exquisite facial features. That girl was none other than Cecilia. The girls standing next to her were Lyanna, Millie, and Astrid.

Each of those girls had received Arthur's cultivation technique, which he had passed on to them. The cultivation technique differed for each of them as it was based on their unique characteristics.

"You girls don't have much time left. If you wish to remain by Kai's side, then you will have to work even harder. It's possible that Kai will soon leave this place and head toward a much better one. He has his own responsibilities to fulfill, so you girls must not get in his way. Is that understood?" Arthur said sternly.

"Don't worry, Mr. Sanders! We'll work hard! We're willing to sacrifice everything for Kai's sake!" Cecilia replied firmly. Arthur flashed her a smile before disappearing in an instant.

"Let's keep it up, girls! We need to strengthen ourselves if we are to stay with Kai!" Cecilia said, prompting the other girls to continue their training.

Meanwhile, within the secret realm, Matthew was finally able to cultivate after taking two days to calm himself down. Archer and Skyler remained by his side to guard him and ensure his safety while Kai set up arcane arrays around the cave.”

He also gathered herbs from the surroundings and synthesized pills to help speed up Matthew’s recovery. If Kai remained idle, the elderly man dwelling within his body would nag him non-stop all day.

While Kai was about to head out and gather some more herbs that day, a group of people were approaching the cave. The one leading the group was none other than Great Diviner of Divination Sect. The direction in which Great Diviner’s finger was pointing kept changing as they moved forward.

“Master, are you sure Matthew and the others are nearby? It’s been a few days. They’ve probably gotten far away by now,” asked one of the Divination Sect disciples.

“Shut up! How dare you question Master’s divination arts? Do you have a death wish or something?” another disciple snapped at him.

“They’re not far away. We’ll find them soon,” Great Diviner said. After Kai and the others had escaped, Great Diviner had been secretly pinpointing their location using his divination art.

Great Diviner was extremely curious about Kai’s identity after witnessing his ability to command all those demon beasts. Kai had displayed terrifying levels of strength despite his low cultivation level.

That only fueled Great Diviner’s curiosity toward him even further. When Wrey and the others were not pursuing Kai, Great Diviner quickly located Kai and led his disciples on a search for him..

Right as Great Diviner and his disciples. approached the cave, however, they were surrounded by a very bright light. The next thing they knew, spiritual energy chains had. appeared and tied them all up.

Great Diviner and his disciples were all shocked. None of them had expected to run. into an arcane array at a place like this. However, that also meant Great Diviner was right about Kai and the others being inside that cave.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2352 -

“Hmph! Does he really think a mere arcane array like this is enough to stop me? They must’ve forgotten what I specialize in!” Great Diviner said disdainfully while snapping his fingers.

The sky above them turned dark as thunderclouds covered it entirely. A few flashes of lightning then struck Kai’s arcane array, shattering it instantly. The spiritual energy chains that were binding them, too, disappeared after that..

“A puny arcane array like this can’t possibly stop Master, who has the ability to peek into the Heavenly Law and alter the course of fate!” “Exactly! It’s funny how these guys think they can get away from Master!”

“I doubt there’s a single person out there who can beat Master’s divination art!” Great Diviner’s disciples were quick to shower him with compliments.

“All right, that’s enough! I only know a few tricks. or two, so I’m not that powerful!” Despite what Great Diviner said, he actually felt. pleased after hearing those compliments.

It was human nature to enjoy being complimented, and Great Diviner was no exception. Kai was in the middle of gathering some herbs when his body tensed up all of a sudden.

“Oh, no! Someone has broken through the arcane array and made it to the cave! Mr. Campbell is in danger!” Kai mumbled to himself and ran back to the cave as quickly as his legs could carry him..

Unfortunately, he was far too late. Great Diviner and his disciples had already found the cave. “So, I was right! They really are hiding here!” Great Diviner said with a sneer. Archer’s and Skyler’s faces turned gloomy the moment they saw Great Diviner and his disciples.

This is bad... Mr. Campbell has yet to fully recover, and Mr. Chance isn’t here either. The two of us don’t even stand a chance if Great Diviner attacks us now!

Archer stepped forward and said as politely as possible, “Our sects have no grudge against each other, Master Diviner! My master has always been respectful toward you as well, so why must you do this to us?”

“That’s right, Master Diviner! You’re so powerful that you can peek into the Heavenly Law! Someone of your status should not follow in the footsteps of commoners like Wrey!” Skyler chimed in.

They knew how much Great Diviner enjoyed being complimented and how he often called himself a half-immortal. Since fighting was not a viable option, Archer and Skyler had no choice but to try and sweet-talk their way out of this situation instead.

Sure enough, Great Diviner broke into a wide grin when he heard what they said. “Rumor has it that Matthew’s two closest disciples are exceptionally polite and obedient. It seems the rumor is true, after all. Anyway, I didn’t come here to kill your master. I only want to meet that guy named Kai Chance. He has really piqued my interest, you see…”

Archer and Skyler breathed sighs of relief when they heard that. Phew! Thank goodness he’s not here to kill us! There was no way the two would be able to fend those guys off, so Matthew would surely die if Great Diviner decided to attack.

“You’re here to see Mr. Chance? Please come on in, Master Diviner!” Matthew’s voice rang out from inside the cave. Great Diviner was about to make his way into the cave when one of his disciples stopped him. and said, “Be careful, Master! This could be a trap!”

As Great Diviner paused in his tracks, Matthew spoke up once again. “Master Diviner is able to see the future, so he already knows if this is a trap. Isn’t that right, Master Diviner?”

Sure enough, Great Diviner’s huge ego got to him after he heard that. He shot his disciple a fierce glare and yelled, “F*ck off! I know if this is a trap!”

After scolding his disciple, Great Diviner turned around and continued making his way into the cave. “Have a seat, Master Diviner,” Matthew said politely when he saw Great Diviner.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2353 -

Chapter 2353 Big Secret

“Where’s Kai, Matthew?” Great Diviner asked when he glanced about and saw no sign of Kai anywhere.

“Come on, now. Surely a person of your capabilities would have already known where Mr. Chance is!” Matthew replied with a smile.

“Fair enough...” Great Diviner whipped out a copper coin, blew on it, and spun it in his hand a few times before putting it back into his pocket.

“ Kai is on his way back, so I’ll wait here for him.”

“You sure are amazing, Master Diviner! As expected of a half-immortal!” Matthew complimented him.

All those compliments made Great Diviner so happy that he was practically grinning from ear to ear at that point.

“Matthew, why would you get on the bad side of all the other sects in the hidden realm because of Kai? It’s not too late to change your mind about helping Kai out, you know? I could help you speak to Wrey and have him spare your life,” Great Diviner advised him.

“You don’t understand, Master Diviner. Wrey’s arrogance has consumed him entirely. All of our sects used to coexist with none being regarded as greater than the other. However, Wrey is now demanding that we all listen to him. Since Flying Star Sect and Stormwind Sect have teamed up, they will rule over everyone in the hidden realm. There’s no guarantee that Wrey will listen to you even if you speak to him in person.”

Matthew had deliberately said that to spite Great Diviner.

“Hmph! Wrey might look down on everyone else, but there’s no way he’d dare look down on me! Why do you insist on helping Kai, though? Does he have some kind of secret or something?”

Great Diviner had come by himself because he wanted to know if Kai had some kind of secret that no one else knew about.

He had tried to find out about Kai’s secret through the use of his divination art, but it was to no avail. That was why Kai had piqued his curiosity.

“If I am not mistaken, you must have tried your divination art on Mr. Chance, right, Master Diviner? Did it not work on him?” Matthew asked.

Great Diviner nodded. "That's right. This is the first time I have encountered something like this."

"I'll be honest with you here, Master Diviner. It is true that Mr. Chance has a big secret. I once tried to use my divination art on him as well. Not only was I unable to find anything, but it also nearly cost me my life," Matthew whispered.

Great Diviner's curiosity levels skyrocketed when he heard that, which was exactly what Matthew wanted.

"It's ridiculous how he was able to control that many demon beasts all by himself! When Kai gets back, I will use my divination art directly on him! We'll see what secret this guy is holding!" Great Diviner exclaimed excitedly.

Meanwhile, Kai had just returned to the cave. His eyes were instantly filled with murderous intent when he saw the disciples from Divination Sect standing outside the cave.

Realizing that Kai was about to attack them, Archer quickly ran up to him and said, "Welcome back, Mr. Chance! These men are from Divination Sect. Their master, Great Diviner, is waiting for you inside the cave!"

"They didn't attack you guys or anything, did they?" Kai asked.

Archer shook his head. "No. Just so you know, Master Diviner has a huge weakness. He really loves being complimented, so we used that to talk him out of attacking us. Master is currently doing the exact same thing to him inside the cave."

Kai burst out laughing when he heard that. Hahaha! How amusing! This is going to be a piece of cake!

The moment he entered, he saw Great Diviner sitting inside the cave.

"Mr. Chance, this is Master Diviner, the sect leader of Divination Sect," Matthew introduced.

Kai simply nodded in response and sat down at the side.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2354 -

Chapter 2354 The Identity Of Kai

Great Diviner sized Kai up, hoping to unravel the mysteries that revolved around him. However, he failed to glean any insight from Kai's demeanor.

"Mr. Chance, Master Diviner possesses the ability to unveil the past and the future. He wishes to find out who you truly are..." Matthew said while looking in Kai's direction.

"Great. I wish to know who I truly am too!" Kai responded with a faint smile.

He had long yearned to uncover the enigma of his father's identity, and if this purported Great Diviner could provide any answers, it would be truly remarkable. Yet, from the looks of it, Kai did not seem to have faith in him.

Even the formidable blood demon himself turned pale and fell into stunned silence upon discovering my true identity. I highly doubt this so-called Great Diviner can unravel anything of significance!

"Master Diviner, Mr. Chance has graciously given you the consent to proceed," Matthew said, shifting his gaze to Great Diviner.

Matthew was genuinely curious about Kai's identity. When the Generation Stone exploded, all Matthew could discern was that Kai was no ordinary individual, but he remained clueless about his true identity.

"Very well." Great Diviner nodded, then retrieved three copper coins.

Muttering an incantation under his breath, Great Diviner tossed the three coins into the air, and they instantly emitted a dazzling golden light.

The three coins floated above Kai's head, arranging themselves in a pyramid formation and emitting a luminous glow that enveloped him.

Kai remained seated calmly, a faint smile gracing his lips.

Great Diviner closed his eyes, his fingers moving swiftly as he murmured unintelligible words.

Soon, the three coins began to tremble, and Great Diviner's expression changed.

Perspiration dotted Great Diviner's forehead, and his body started shaking.

Boom!

Suddenly, there was an explosion. The three copper coins on Kai's exploded into powder.

Great Diviner spewed a mouthful of blood, and his aura became extremely weak.

With wide eyes, he looked at Kai in terror and slowly fell to his knees.

Matthew, observing Great Diviner's distressed state, was taken aback.

"Master Diviner, are you able to discern Kai's identity?"

Great Diviner shook his head. "I was forbidden from delving into Kai's identity. I only took a little peek, and the backlash was so severe that it nearly claimed my life... I'm sorry for my disrespect, Mr. Chance. Please forgive me," he humbly begged for forgiveness, still kneeling before Kai.

Matthew was equally astonished. Thankfully, he had only used the Generation Stone to investigate Kai's identity. He might have put his own life in jeopardy had he done it directly.

"Get up," Kai said in a calm voice.

Great Diviner rose to his feet tremblingly. In the presence of Kai, he felt like a rat facing a hunting cat.

"You managed to find your way here. How about the others?" asked Kai while looking at Great Diviner.

"They're completely unaware. I didn't divulge anything to them. I can no longer tolerate those individuals who have forsaken their principles to collaborate with Demonic Cultivators. That's why I covertly left, bringing my own trusted comrades. Henceforth, I pledge my unwavering loyalty to you, Mr. Chance. If anyone were to show you disrespect, I'd be the first to teach them a lesson." Great Diviner quickly distanced himself from Wrey and the others.

"If that's the case, we should stay here for a couple more days until Mr. Campbell has recovered," Kai said flatly.

"I'll follow your arrangements, Mr. Chance." Great Diviner nodded.

With Great Diviner on board, Kai had fewer concerns. Great Diviner and his team took care of herb gathering and daily necessities, lightening Kai's load significantly.

This allowed Kai to have more time for cultivation, and with abundant resources, his strength improved rapidly.

After approximately a week, when Matthew's body had fully healed, Kai took the lead and guided the group to resume their journey.

During this time, the elderly man residing within Kai's body had been nagging him incessantly day after day, growing more and more impatient with each passing moment.

Kai, too, was running out of patience.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2355 -

Chapter 2355 Traitor

Not long after Kai and his group left, Wrey and his followers arrived at the scene. Accompanying Wrey was a disciple from Divination Sect.

The disciple, who had once been a loyal follower of Great Diviner, was the one who revealed the whereabouts of Great Diviner to Wrey and his group. Upon learning that their master had chosen to align with Kai, the disciple and a few others decided to betray Great Diviner and side with Wrey.

"There's no one in the cave anymore, Mr. Lindt," reported a disciple from Flying Star Sect after taking a look inside.

"D*mn it! Did they find out we were coming?" Wrey entered the cave to investigate and discovered that Kai and his group had just left.

"They must have left not long ago. Chase after them! How f*cking dare he betray us?" Wrey waved his hand, and his followers set off in pursuit of Kai and his companions.

Kai and his group still had no idea their whereabouts had been exposed. They continued to move swiftly, following the locations marked on the treasure map.

"Where are we going, Mr. Chance?" Skyler asked curiously.

Kai remained silent about their destination and the tasks ahead, as he was focused on leading them on the journey.

“Skyler, let’s not inquire too much. We must simply obey whatever Mr. Chance says,” Matthew reprimanded her.

Skyler lowered her head and stuck her tongue out.

Kai smiled and said, “It’s all right. I made a promise to someone to take them to a specific location, so that’s where we’re going.”

Kai did not mention anything about the treasure map, and the others did not press for details either. The group had unwavering trust in Kai as they followed his lead wholeheartedly.

After a full day of traveling, as the sky darkened, Kai led the group to find a place to rest.

Just as they settled down for a moment of respite, a disciple from Divination Sect hurriedly approached Great Diviner and said, “Master, Chandler is missing.”

“Missing? Where did he go?” Great Diviner asked.

“Chandler said he had a stomachache and went to relieve himself, but he never returned after that,” the Divination Sect disciple replied.

“What?” Great Diviner exclaimed. “D*mn it. Why didn’t you tell me earlier?”

“I thought Chandler was walking in front the whole time...” the disciple explained, his voice trembling with fear.

“Master Diviner, maybe your disciple has fallen behind and is trying to catch up with us. Should we send someone to look for him?” Matthew suggested.

Great Diviner remained silent. He flicked a coin into the air, and it glimmered as it hung in mid-air.

Just as the shimmering light flickered into existence, another set of lights appeared in the near distance.

Seeing the glimmering lights, Great Diviner could not help but frown. “Dmn it! That bstard has betrayed me.” He then turned to Kai. “Mr. Chance, Wrey and his men are on their way. My eldest disciple has betrayed me and is leading them here.”

Kai, too, knitted his brows upon hearing that. He had thought they had successfully eluded their pursuers, but it appeared that those men were still relentless in their pursuit.

“What should we do now?” Matthew asked, directing his gaze at Kai.

Although Matthew had recovered and Great Diviner, along with his disciples from Divination Sect, stood by their side, Kai was still concerned. Dealing with the other sects, including Scorching Heaven Sect, would prove to be a formidable challenge for their small group.

Unless Kai summoned and unleashed the beasts once again, they would find it difficult to hold their ground against the opposing sects.

After a brief moment of contemplation, he said, “We’ll press on through the night. We’re nearing the location I’m searching for.”

“Mr. Chance, you and the rest should proceed ahead. I’ll stay behind to deal with this traitor,” Great Diviner said to Kai.

“We should continue the journey together. It’ll serve no purpose for you to stay behind,” Kai replied.