

The Mans Decree Chapter 2572 -

Chapter 2572 Compiled A Book

In the library, rays of golden light materialized outside of Kai's body as dozens of acupoints of the beast race opened up within him. In that instant, he was seemingly enlightened and sensed his transformation from a human to a part of the beast race.

"I can now change the aura within me at will. Consequently, I can also cultivate beast race techniques!"

Delight was written all over his face. He then started flipping through the beast race's technique books.

Deciding on the most straightforward beast race technique, he started cultivating it after his spiritual sense had slipped into his body.

In the blink of an eye, cracking sounds resounded within his body. Every single bone seemingly shattered, followed by the swelling of the muscles. He grew increasingly taller, even as the strength within him multiplied by leaps and bounds.

However, his appearance at that moment was very much peculiar, ghastly to the point of horrifying.

When he exhaled a long breath, his body slowly reverted to its initial form.

Although the technique was exceedingly simple and could only boost one's strength for a moment without much use, it proved that he could learn beast race techniques henceforth.

Keeping his beast race acupoints open, Kai started circulating alchemy according to the memories in his consciousness field.

It was only as he did so that he realized the alchemy techniques were meant for humans. For that reason, cultivating it with the beast race's anatomy was beyond challenging.

But that was nothing to him. He began to improve the cultivation techniques of alchemy according to the beast race's anatomy and acupoints.

He experimented incessantly before making records. Soon, he had a whole book on alchemy that included a lot of pharmacological knowledge.

"This is enough to study for quite some time."

Gazing at the thick masterpiece in his hands, Kai grinned in gratification.

Subsequently, he stepped out of the library with the book he compiled in his hand. When he found Tigerus keeping watch with some men, surprise flooded him.

Nonetheless, he paid the man no mind but walked right past instead.

“Stop right there!” Tigerus cried out.

Halting in his tracks, Kai swung his gaze at the man. “What is it? I have King Yuven’s permission to visit the library this time. Are you planning on arresting me again?”

“King Yuven gave you permission to read the books in the library but not to take the books with you. Return the book in your hand to us. The books in the library are not allowed to be taken out.”

Tigerus only stopped Kai from leaving because he spotted the book in the latter’s hand.

“This isn’t a book from the library. I wrote this myself,” Kai explained.

Hearing that, Tigerus sneered, “You wrote it? How are you going to prove that? Hand the book over immediately! Otherwise, I’ll escort you to see King Yuven.”

He was extremely hostile toward Kai, for he disliked humans, more so when the person was on close terms with Ivasha.

“Go and get King Yuven, then.”

Kai could no longer be bothered to waste his breath with Tigerus.

“Do you think you can meet King Yuven anytime you want? His Majesty is kind enough to allow you to read in the library, and that’s already magnanimous. Yet, you even want to take a book out. Hand it over now and follow me to confess your crimes to His Majesty. Otherwise, don’t blame me for showing you no mercy.”

Tigerus whipped out his weapon, prepared to make a move if Kai dared to decline.

At that precise moment, Ivasha hurried over. When she saw Tigerus with his sword drawn against Kai, she barked sharply, “What are you doing, Tigerus? Are you revolting? King Yuven ordered you to protect Kai, not attack him.”

“Never mind if he merely read in the library, but he even wanted to take a book out!” Tigerus groused aggrievedly.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2573 -

Chapter 2573 Rushed Back

Ivasha cast a glance at the book in Kai’s hand. Following that, Kai explained, “This is a book on alchemy I wrote for the beast race. It contains a lot of alchemy techniques and pharmacological knowledge the beast race can use to cultivate.”

“You wrote it?” Ivasha took the book with a surprised expression on her face. Flipping through it, she found that it indeed contained alchemy techniques.

Such a book had never existed in the library.

When she shifted her eyes back to him, her gaze carried much intrigue and admiration. She slowly returned the book to him.

Meanwhile, Tigerus was livid upon glimpsing the look in her eyes as she regarded Kai.

“This book doesn’t belong to the library, so he’s free to take it out,” Ivasha said to Tigerus.

“As the general guarding over Imperial Beast City, Princess Ivasha, I can’t ever allow—”

Slap!

Before Tigerus had finished speaking, Ivasha stepped forward and smacked him across the face.

“Remember this—my word is the law. How dare you go against my orders?”

Her temper spiked.

Seeing that, Tigerus lowered his head and said nothing further.

“Let’s go!”

Ivasha then left with Kai.

As Tigerus stared at the duo’s retreating backs, the malice in his eyes intensified.

“Were you looking for me for a reason, Princess Ivasha?” Kai queried.

After all, Ivasha must have gone to the library to seek him out since she could not possibly be there to look for Tigerus.

“Leifr came to Imperial Beast City in search of me. He said a friend of yours was looking for you while littered with injuries, seemingly claiming that disaster had befallen Rock Village,” Ivasha answered.

As soon as Kai heard that, he stood stock-still. A terrifying murderous intent emanated from him.

Even Ivasha was a touch petrified by his sudden change.

“Where’s that friend of mine?” Kai demanded, with murder radiating off him.

“He’s under Leifr’s protection, so he’ll be fine. Leifr is waiting at the city gates right now,” Ivasha replied timidly, eyeing the man warily.

The instant Kai heard that, he passed the book in his hand to her. “Give this book to your father and tell him to select some talented individuals to cultivate,” he instructed.

Having said that, he sprinted toward the city gates at breakneck speed.
“Hey! Wait for me!”

Ivasha chased after him.

When Kai caught sight of Leifr at the gates, he swiftly rushed over. “Where’s my friend? Where is he?”

“Your friend is injured. He’s still in the forest in the mountains, but I’ve assigned a dozen Demon Wolves to guard over him, so he’s in no danger,” Leifr divulged.

“Lead me there! Bring me to him right this instant!” Kai urged, stepping forward and clutching the man’s shoulders forcefully.

Leifr glanced at Ivasha, upon which the latter gave a dip of her head. “Bring him there and obey his commands henceforth.”

Despite Leifr’s puzzlement, he could only obey since she had said as much.

“Come with me.”

With Kai in tow, he left in a flash.

As Ivasha studied Kai’s retreating back, the look in her eyes changed once more, for she sensed a man’s masculinity in him.

Leifr led Kai to Ali. Right then, Ali was passed out on the ground with injuries littering his body.

Kai hastily stepped forward. He infused a wave of spiritual energy into the man. A moment later, Ali slowly opened his eyes.

“Kai... Kai...” The moment he saw Kai, he grabbed the man’s arm emotionally. “Quick, save Rock Village! Save Rock Village, quick!”

“Calm down, Ali. What exactly happened?” Kai questioned.

At that, Ali narrated everything Brutus and Francois did at Rock Village.

Kai’s face went as black as thunder, and his eyes brimmed with murder.

It looks like I was right. Sure enough, Brutus and Francois went looking for Rock Village, unwilling to sit idly by and do nothing when I had taken Grus Divina away!

“Help me take care of Ali, Leifr.”

After entrusting Ali to Leifr, he rushed back toward Rock Village as fast as possible.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2574 -

Chapter 2574 Report Back

At Rock Village, another villager was killed by Brutus at the square. Although all the villagers of Rock Village were infuriated, there was nothing they could do. Before Brutus and Francois, they were lambs waiting to be slaughtered, powerless to put up even a hint of resistance.

On top of that, they did not dare go against Emerald Cauldron Sect. If they did, the consequence would be the obliteration of the whole village. At that exact moment, the token at Francois' waist flashed. When Francois glanced at it, his expression turned tense and grin.

"What's wrong, Francois?" Brutus asked.

"Master is summoning me back," Francois answered nervously, a frown marring his countenance.

Right now, I haven't obtained Grus Divina yet. If I were to return empty-handed, I'm sure to be punished. But then, I can't ignore Master's summons! "Go and report back to Master first, Francois. I'll keep guard here. If Kai returns, I'll seize him and bring him to Emerald Cauldron Sect!" Brutus declared.

He did not want to go back and be punished.

Francois shifted his gaze to him and commented, "Kai's capabilities are pretty impressive. If you're here alone, I'm afraid—"

"Don't worry, Francois! I'll definitely teach that kid a lesson. If I can't even handle a lowly villager, the Emerald Cauldron Sect's reputation would be ruined. Go and report back to Master. Just tell him that we'll be able to obtain Grus Divina in another two days!" Brutus asserted confidently.

Unbeknownst to them, their master had long since learned about Grus Divina's whereabouts and had even gone to his knees before Kai.

"All right, then. Don't be soft-hearted here. If you don't see Kai tomorrow, kill two people without hesitation. These lowly peasants must be punished before they'd be afraid and work for you for real!" Francois stated.

"Don't worry, Francois. If I don't see Kai in three days, I'll slaughter the entire village."

Despite his title as a Miracle Doctor, Brutus lacked medical ethics. Instead, he was a monster who killed without batting an eye.

Francois nodded. Subsequently, he left Rock Village and went back to report to his master.

Brutus had Antonio prepare a feast for him. At that moment, he had no idea that his death was imminent.

Meanwhile, Kai rushed toward Rock Village with all his strength at the fastest speed possible.

His capabilities had recovered by seventy percent then, and there were many methods he could use. Thus, he was no longer afraid of Brutus and Francois.

Furthermore, the villagers of Rock Village were currently in great peril, and he was the one who brought the danger to their doorstep.

When Kai arrived at Rock Village, the villagers' expressions grew emotional after they saw him returning.

The instant Percy and Emily laid eyes on him, they both burst into tears.

"You're finally back, Kai! Those b*stards are killing people every day! You've got to avenge us, Kai! Please avenge us!"

They wept bitterly.

Witnessing their fellow villagers being killed daily, they had long since harbored great rage within them.

Out of the corner of his eye, Kai glanced at the square a near distance away, only to see a few dead bodies scattered around. They were people Brutus killed in the past few days, and their bodies were prohibited from being taken away for no other reason than intimidate the villagers of Rock Village.

"Rest assured that I'll rip them into pieces!"

He gritted his teeth and balled his hands into fists, giving off boundless waves of murderous intent.

Antonio seemingly sensed something, for he also hurriedly ran out as well.

When he caught sight of Kai, his expression remained unchanged. He merely strode forward briskly and started, "Ali went to look for you, Kai. Did you see him?"

He was worried about Ali's safety as the latter was the backbone of the younger generation in Rock Village.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2575 -

Chapter 2575 Back At Long Last

"Don't worry, Mr. Antonio. Ali is fine. Someone is watching over him. Are those two b*stards still in the village? I'll go and kill them right away!" Kai snarled furiously.

"Calm down, Kai. Francois has already left, leaving Brutus in the village alone. Can you defeat him with your current capabilities?"

Antonio was worried that the man would not be Brutus' match even if he had returned.

When Kai heard that Francois had left and Brutus was the only one there, he grew all the more confident.

"Don't worry, Mr. Antonio. I'll put Brutus through hell in front of everyone. Where is he now? Bring me to him!" he declared confidently.

At his confidence, Antonio gave a bob of his head and led Kai over. Right then, Brutus was eating, drinking, and shaking his head leisurely.

"There's no more wine, old coot! Hurry up and get me more!" Brutus hollered for Antonio to bring him wine.

No sooner had his words rang out than a figure darted in and shot a palm out at him.

Sobering up immediately, Brutus went ballistic. "D*mn it! How dare you sneak up on me, you lowly peasant!"

He whipped out his sword. In a trice, light flashed, permeating the entire room.

As countless rays of light rent the room to shreds, Brutus leaped up before landing lightly at the side.

The moment he made out the person who sneaked up on him, he was wholly stunned.

"Ah, it's you, kid! You're back at long last!"

Glee showed on his face when he learned that it was Kai who had returned. However, Kai said nary a word. The violence emanating from him pervaded the entire stretch of the sky above Rock Village.

Following that, the glee on Brutus' face faded. Frowning, he asked, "What kind of capabilities do you have, kid? How did they develop so fast in just a few days? Or were you keeping them under wraps previously?"

From the man's aura alone, Brutus could tell that his capabilities had improved significantly.

It's only been a couple of days. How could a person's capabilities skyrocket so rapidly? If the surge did not happen in the past few days, he must have kept his capabilities under wraps in the past!

"I'm going to avenge the villagers of Rock Village today and tear you into a million pieces!" Kai enunciated.

“Hmph! You? Even if you had concealed your capabilities, you’re still a lowly peasant. Could you possibly go up against me, an official disciple of the Emerald Cauldron Sect? Today, I’ll show you the gulf between you, a nobody and a disciple of a renowned sect!”

After Brutus had finished saying that, the sword in his hand shimmered with a dazzling brilliance as he charged toward the man.

He moved as fast as lightning, the messy sword energy shooting straight at Kai’s throat.

Kai swiftly retreated. Without warning, he stopped and flew backward out of Rock Village to land in the forest outside.

“Since you’ve come, I’ll never allow you to get away!”

Mistakenly assuming that the man wanted to take off, Brutus gave chase with a sneer.

Unfortunately, Kai was not trying to flee. Nor did he have any plans to do so. He merely did not want to battle in Rock Village since the entire place would be ruined when people of their cultivation level dueled.

Everyone in Rock Village watched nervously, feeling apprehensive on Kai’s behalf.

In the face of Brutus, who chased after him, Kai struck a tree beside him.

The tree shook, and thousands of leaves fluttered off its branches. With a forward push of his palms, the leaves whizzed toward Brutus like sharp weapons.

“Hmph! How amateurish!”

Brutus snorted before swinging the sword in his hand and striking down the leaves, one after another.