/ The Man's Decree

Tommy and the others couldn't help but chuckle upon hearing Glen's words. Benedict's face was flushed with embarrassment immediately. Although he was unhappy, he did not dare utter a single word.

"No, no, no!" Devin waved his hands in dismissal before pulling Simon toward him. "This is my son, Simon. Benedict is his father-in-law!" Glen calmed down after getting a grasp of the situation. However, his tone was still stern and cold when he asked, "Why did you bring so many people along, Mr. Moore? Don't you know I want to dine here discreetly?" "I'm so sorry, Mr. Lowe. I'll get rid of them at this instant!" Devin shuddered in fear before kicking Simon and roaring, "Get lost! What a bunch of dimwits!" Simon was so startled, and he left immediately. The same could be said for Benedict and his family as they left the room hastily. That was an utter embarrassment for him and his family.

"What was that, Simon? Why does it seem like Mr. Lowe had no idea we were showing up?" Gianna was furious upon getting out of the room. "I can't believe you have the audacity to ask me that! This is all you guys' fault! Why wouldn't he be upset? He just wanted to have a meal in peace before all of you barged in." Simon was in no mood to bow down to his wife after receiving that kick. According to Simon, he was blaming Stella as well. Hence, she felt embarrassed upon hearing his words.

"That's enough! Stop creating a scene! Are we not embarrassed enough?" Benedict glared at Simon and his wife before saying, "Let's go back and wait for a while. Who knows? Perhaps Mr. Lowe would change his mind after Mr. Moore put in a few good words!" "Yes, my dad will definitely try again. In the meantime, we should head back first." Simon nodded. With the wine glasses in their hands, everyone went back sullenly.

As soon as they got back to their own room, they saw Kai packing up all the food in takeaway boxes. Kai wasn't surprised to see Benedict and his family's return.

"What are you doing, Kai? Is this what you do when you're treating someone to a meal? Since we are still here and not done eating, how could you pack up the food? Are you trying to flee without paying the bill?" Stella fumed the moment she laid eyes on Kai. At the same time, she wanted to release her frustration after what had happened. "If I remember correctly, some of you said they were going to dine with the mayor. Furthermore, I heard none of you wanted to come back. Did I remember wrongly?" Kai shot Stella a cold look and chuckled. "Wait, did you guys get ignored and chased out?"

"Cut the crap! You're just jealous. We've already dined with the mayor, and we've even offered him a toast. What do you know? You're just a useless ex-convict. Besides, I thought you said you've been to Mr. Lowe's house to dine? We've asked him about that, and he denied it," Javier said with a look of contempt. The way he blatantly lied about his encounter with the mayor was deceptively convincing.

Although Benedict and his family were aware of Javier's lie, none of them stood out to contradict him.

Obviously, Kai knew right away Javier was lying. Also, their wine glasses were still full when they returned. Why would their glasses still be full after drinking with the mayor?

"Javier, perhaps you should sharpen your lying skills. Your wine glasses are still full! How could you've drunk with the mayor? Seeing how you could lie about such a thing, you're just as despicable as a useless ex-convict, if not worse!" Kai snickered.

The Man's Decree Chapter 262 (The Man like none Othere chapter 262)

/ The Man's Decree

Javier was stumped as he shifted his gaze toward his glass of wine. He immediately blushed after realizing his lies were exposed. Being the person he was, he couldn't bear to swallow his pride.

The reason they had their wine glasses full was that they assumed the wine was a limited edition Sauvignon Blanc. Hence, they wanted to savor it. To their dismay, that was the giveaway.

"W-Why do you care? Regardless of whether we had a drink with Mr. Lowe, we've still met him! On the other hand, I'd like to see how you plan to pay for the meal! How dare you try to have a free meal at Mr. Lewis' expense? Once he finds out about this, I bet he'd immediately wipe that smirk off your face!" With that, Javier took a seat and turned his head away from Kai.

"Who says I have to pay for the meal? Didn't all of you order the food as well? Well, I have no money to pay for anything. I'd like to see if any of you can leave this place!" Kai flashed a smile before sitting down.

Upon hearing that, Benedict and his family were stunned.

"What do you mean, Kai? Didn't you say you're treating us? Are you backing out now?" Benedict questioned with his brows furrowed.

"Yes, I'm backing out. I don't feel like treating any of you to a meal anymore. Since I'm not going to pay, I guess none of us can leave. By then, Tommy would hold it against you guys as well!" Kai uttered indifferently.

Since his parents weren't around, Kai didn't bother to show Benedict and his family an ounce of respect.

Although they were his relatives, Kai was never fond of them.

Benedict and his family were shaken to the core upon hearing his words. They never thought Kai would back out.

“Don’t you dare play your tricks on us, Kai! Pay the bill now!” Javier was getting anxious as he charged toward Kai.

Kai shot Javier a cold glare. Although I’m older than him, this b*stard doesn’t even respect me. Besides, he dared to call me useless? Kai had been waiting to put Javier in his place.

When Javier approached Kai, he was sent crashing to the ground upon receiving a tight slap.

if() { }

“Son, are you all right?”

“Javier!”

Benedict and his family rushed toward Javier in shock.

When they helped Javier up, he was staring furiously at Kai. However, he was more worried about Tommy at that moment. If Kai doesn’t pay, Tommy is going to come after all of us!

“Dad, what if Kai doesn’t pay? Do you think Mr. Lewis would come after us?” he asked nervously.

“Don’t worry about that. Since Simon knows Mr. Lewis, I’m sure he could put in a few words for us. Besides, Mr. Lewis had even gifted him two bottles of exquisite wine. I’m sure he wouldn’t mind about our meal!” After that, Benedict looked at Simon and said, “If Kai really ends up not paying, please inform Mr. Lewis. Let him have a go at Kai and leave the rest of us alone.”

“Huh?” With an awkward look on his face, Simon was at a loss for words.

How do I do that? I don’t even know Tommy! However, Simon could only keep those thoughts to himself.

“Oh, I almost forgot about that!” Javier suddenly regained his composure as he ran his hand over his reddened cheek. He had his ferocious glare fixated on Kai.

“Did you hear that, Kai? We’ll see who Tommy will look for after this!”

Without giving him a hoot, Kai casually poured himself a cup of tea and started sipping.

At that moment, Tommy and Glen were outside the room. A group of people Glen brought along was following close behind with puzzled looks on their faces.

They were wondering why such an influential individual would be having a meal in an ordinary room. Could this be a secret visit?

Tommy led Glen toward the room Kai was in and said, “Mr. Chance is inside, Mr. Lowe!”

if() { }

Glen nodded and was about to push open the door himself. Devin then hurried forward to open the door for him instead.

The Man's Decree Chapter 263 (The Man like none Other chapter 263)

/ The Man's Decree

As the door opened, Devin was shocked to see Simon, Benedict, and Benedict's family inside the room.

In fact, the people in the room were just as surprised when they saw Glen and Devin.

"What are you guys doing here?" Devin queried in astonishment.

"Dad, we're having a meal here. Why are you here?" Simon was puzzled.

"Mr. Lowe is here to offer Mr. Chance a toast!" Devin answered truthfully.

Upon hearing that, Benedict was stumped. Am I dreaming? Is this really happening? He was trembling slightly as he stood up. "Mr. Lowe, it'd be too big of an honor! I'm afraid I'm not worthy!" Benedict exclaimed excitedly.

With that, he held his glass of wine and walked toward Glen. Devin must've put in some good words for me! That's why Glen is here to offer me a toast!

"Get lost! Mr. Lowe is not here to offer you a toast. He's here to offer Mr. Chance a toast!" Devin shoved Benedict away because he knew Glen wasn't there to see him.

Benedict was bewildered. Which other Mr. Chance could he be referring to? Javier? Why would the mayor offer Javier a toast?

if() }

Benedict didn't spare Kai a thought considering he was an ex-convict. It'd be beyond illogical for a mayor to offer Kai a toast at that point.

"Mr. Moore, I think it could only be me. There isn't another Mr. Chance around," Benedict uttered warily.

Devin took a cursory glance around the room. Indeed, there's only Benedict and his family here. It can't be Kai since he's only an ordinary youngster. He can't be the person Mr. Lowe came to see!

"Mr. Lowe, did we come to the wrong room? There's no other Mr. Chance around!" Devin's tone was extremely respectful.

"Buzz off!" Tommy pushed Devin aside and walked toward Kai.

Glen was following suit. He approached Kai and said, "I heard you're here, Mr. Chance. Hence, I came to offer you a toast! I hope I'm not intruding."

That was it. Suddenly, there was a deafening silence as everyone gaped in bewilderment.

Not only were Benedict and his family stunned, but the group of people Glen brought along was equally shocked. Why is the mayor being so respectful toward the youngster? This is unbelievable!

Tommy couldn't help but giggle silently as he swept a glance at everyone in the room.

The entourage of officials following Glen quickly came back to their senses. There must be a reason why Mr. Lowe is so respectful toward the young man! Perhaps he's the son of someone important! With that thought in their minds, all of them held their glasses and offered Kai a toast.

Benedict's and his family's faces were still drained of all colors. At the same time, they were starting to feel a little intimidated by Kai as they wondered what was going on before their eyes. Needless to say, they were still in disbelief. Similarly, Devin was in utter shock. He then glared at Benedict, hoping that he could offer some sort of explanation. How could he not tell me he was having a meal with someone so important? Unfortunately for him, Benedict was in no state to give him an answer. By then, he couldn't possibly tell Devin that Kai was merely an ex-convict, and he wasn't anyone worth mentioning. "Mr. Chance, how's the wine? I'll get another bottle for you!" Tommy asked as he stared at Kai's empty glass.

"What wine?" Kai shot Tommy a look. "The Sauvignon Blanc that was specially delivered to you, of course! It seems like you've already finished both the bottles!" Tommy pointed his finger at the empty bottles. "I didn't even get a sip of it. Someone told me it was meant for them. Hence, I wasn't allowed to drink it!" Kai was staring sinisterly at Simon when he said that.

The Man's Decree Chapter 264 (The Man like none Other chapter 264)

/ The Man's Decree

"F*ck, who drank the liquor that I gave Mr. Chance? Step forward and identify yourself!" Tommy roared as he glared at Benedict and his family. His ferocious glare scared everyone out of their wits as the blood drained from their faces. Collectively, they looked toward Simon. "D-Don't look at me! I didn't do anything. It's just everyone's assumption. The theft has nothing to do with me at all!" Utterly terrified, Simon's legs nearly gave away. After all, Tommy was a man with a feared reputation. Provoking him was like poking the bear with a stick.

"So you were the one behind this! Who told you to drink the wine?" In two large steps, Tommy lunged at Simon and grabbed him by the collar. "Spit out the wine you drank right now!”

Bam!

Without warning, Tommy slammed his fist against Simon’s abdomen. The sudden impact caused the latter to shriek in agony.

“M-Mr. Lewis, please stop hitting him! He’s my son. For my sake, please stop!” In a haze of panic, Devin rushed forward and tried to stop Tommy.

“F*ck you! You should know your place! You are nothing more but a health minister. The audacity of you to try and stop me!” Tommy kicked Devin aside and continued to beat Simon up.

As Simon’s anguished wails filled the air, the Chance family cowered fearfully in the corner.

“Mr. Lewis, how much is the wine? I’ll pay for it,” Devin blurted out. He was afraid that his own son would be beaten to death.

if() { }

“The liquors were limited editions of Sauvignon Blanc. One bottle costs five hundred thousand. Altogether, both bottles cost one million!” Tommy snarled in reply.

“O-One million?” Devin was utterly dumbfounded.

Since Devin merely worked as a health minister, one million was not a small amount of money to him.

Although he managed to save quite a sum of money, Devin was reluctant to spend it.

“In that case, I’ll make your son spit out the wine he drank.” Seeing Devin’s hesitance, Tommy continued to rain a bunch of blows on Simon’s abdomen, causing him to cry out in pain.

“Mr. Lewis, please stop hitting him. I’ll send you the money right now.” Devin quickly fished his phone out and transferred one million.

When Tommy received the transaction, he finally released Simon from his grasp. He made his way over to Kai and said, “Mr. Chance, this incident happened due to my lack of preparation. I’ll send someone to get the liquor now.”

Promptly, Tommy ordered his men to retrieve the Sauvignon Blanc liquor. On the other hand, Kai shot a cold smile at Benedict and his family.

“Earlier, who was the one who claimed that Tommy would punish me if I didn’t pay up?” Kai rose to his feet and strolled toward them.

if() { }

Javier was so scared that he’d collapsed to the floor. Frantically, he curled into the corner and hid behind Benedict and Stella.

“Kai, it’s all my fault. Please don’t take your anger out on Javier. He’s just a child! I’ll pay for everything,” Benedict begged desperately.

“Tommy, count the bill,” Kai ordered.

Tommy nodded in response. “The final total amounts to two hundred thousand!”

When Stella heard that, she cried out in shock, "Two hundred thousand? What on earth did we eat to owe two hundred thousand?"
"Shut up!" Benedict snapped at her.

Tommy narrowed his eyes. "What's the matter? Are you implying that it's too much? Do you want me to count it out in detail for you?"

"Not at all; we'll pay for it right now." Benedict shook his head frantically. In haste, he pulled his phone out to pay the bill.

As Benedict sent the money, he felt a stab of regret. If I knew that such a thing would happen, I wouldn't have ordered so much food. I only wanted to humiliate Kai. Hence, I placed my orders without hesitation. I practically shot myself in the foot!

"Mr. Lowe, it seems like Horington has quite a high paycheck. Even a lowly health minister and office istrator like the two of them are capable of forking out a few hundred thousand without even batting an eye," Kai remarked as he whirled around to look at Glen.

/ The Man' s Decree

"Mr. Chance, I will look into this matter right away." Glen glared at Devin and Benedict. "Starting from today, the two of you are dismissed. An investigation will be launched. If I discover that both of you were involved in corrupt activities, you will be severely punished!"
Thud!

Hearing that, Devin and Benedict collapsed to the ground in utter shock. All of our dirty deeds will be exposed if he launches an investigation. We won't be able to escape the punishment.

"Mr. Lowe, Mr. Chance, let us continue our conversation somewhere else," Tommy suggested.

Earlier, he'd already ordered his men to prepare another room.

"All right." Glen nodded in response before addressing the people who'd accompanied him there, "Why don't you return home first? I'll be back soon." After they left, Glen and Kai left the room. Before Tommy made his way outside, he swept a scornful gaze toward Devin, Benedict, and his family. As the Chance family looked at Kai's back, retreating into the distance, they were filled with an overwhelming sense of regret. This horrible situation wouldn't have happened if we didn't treat Kai with such disrespect.

Nevertheless, it was too late to cry over spilled milk.

Kai did not linger at the restaurant for long. He merely exchanged a few words with Glen, who thanked him profusely. Glen also hoped that Kai would be merciful toward his son, Frederick.

Kai readily agreed to Glen's request. As long as Frederick leaves me alone, I will not go out of my way to bother him as well.

When Kai finally strolled out of the restaurant, he instantly caught sight of his parents hurrying over with panicked looks on their faces.

"Kai, are you all right?" Hannah asked worriedly.

if() }

"Mom, I'm perfectly fine. Why are the two of you in such a hurry?" Kai replied in confusion.

"We were afraid that something might happen to you. Look, your dad and I managed to scrape together some money. Though I'm not sure if it's enough..."

Hannah opened her bag to reveal its contents.

Inside, the bag was filled to the brim with stacks of money. These notes ranged from hundreds to spare change. Immediately, Kai could tell that there were almost twenty to thirty thousand in the bag.

When Kai saw the money, tears began to well up in his eyes. He hugged Hannah and said, "Mom, I don't need the money. Benedict has already paid for it."

Their concern toward him left Kai feeling incredibly touched. Initially, Kai had planned to ask his parents if he was adopted.

But after seeing how worried they were for his wellbeing, Kai changed his mind. Who cares if I'm adopted? No matter what, I still view them as my parents.

"Benedict paid the money? Has he lost his mind?" Hannah gaped at her son in disbelief.

"All right, we are glad that you're safe. Let's leave this place first. We shouldn't loiter around," Gary urged. He had an unsettling feeling about that place.

Kai then headed home. On the other hand, Hannah and Gary returned all the money they'd borrowed from their friends.

Once Kai reached home, he sat cross-legged on his bed and tried to begin his cultivation.

But despite Kai's best efforts to clear his mind, Benedict's voice continued to echo beside his ear.

"D*mn it!" Kai snarled in frustration.

if() }

In an attempt to rid himself of the voice, Kai shook his head violently. Yet, his efforts were to no avail.

The only way that I can get rid of this persistent feeling is to get to the bottom of things!

However, Kai couldn't bring himself to ask the question.

Ever since he was young, both Hannah and Gary had showered him with their love. Although Gary had a strict demeanor, he'd never laid a finger on Kai.

Not once had he doubted if they were his birth parents. But right now, Kai's thoughts had become so jumbled that he could barely think straight.

As a result of his dilemma, Kai spent almost the entire day tossing and turning. It wasn't until Hannah called him down for dinner that he finally exited his room.

When Hannah noticed Kai's pale face, she instantly asked, "Kai, are you not feeling well?"

The Man's Decree Chapter 266 (The Man like none Other chapter 266)

/ The Man's Decree

"Mom, I'm fine," Kai replied as he plastered a smile. Dinner was a silent and awkward affair. Throughout the entire meal, no one dared to break the silence. Afraid that his parents would sense that something was amiss, Kai quickly scarfed down his food and excused himself from the table. Once Kai left, Hannah and Gary exchanged a knowing glance. Unable to help themselves, the duo heaved out a heavy sigh. "Sooner or later, we'll have to tell him the truth," Gary said in a low voice.

"All these years, I have always seen Kai as my own son. In fact, I already forgot about the fact that we adopted him. Why did Benedict have to say such nonsense..." Hannah's eyes reddened with sorrow. "Judging from Kai's bad mood, he must have found out the truth. We can't hide it from him anymore." "Kai is not a child anymore. He has the right to know about it as well. We can't be too selfish." Gary took a seat next to Hannah and pulled her into his embrace. "But I'm afraid that Kai might abandon us when he realizes the truth. What if he plans to search for his birth parents? I can't live without him..." After so many years of being Kai's mother, she could not bear the thought of losing him.

"The decision to look for his birth parents is a choice for Kai to make. Even if Kai leaves, I will spend the rest of my life with you." In order to comfort Hannah, Gary blurted out a string of heartfelt words. In the midst of her sobs, Hannah leaned her head against Gary's shoulder as tears continued to roll down her cheeks.

After some time, Hannah brushed her tears away and rose to her feet. "Could you ask Kai to come out of his room?" she asked. Gary nodded his head in response. He quickly made his way to Kai's bedroom and rapped his knuckles against the door.

"Kai, please come out. Your mom and I have something to tell you." Without another word, Gary took his leave.

When Kai caught wind of Gary's words, his heart skipped a beat. He already had an inkling of what his parents were planning to inform him. Deep down, Kai felt extremely conflicted. Although he didn't want to admit that they weren't his birth parents, he was still dying to know about his birth parents.

After a brief moment of hesitation, Kai finally mustered the courage to emerge from his room.

When Kai reached the living room, Gary and Hannah were already waiting for him on the couch. The atmosphere in the air felt uncomfortably stifling. Upon closer inspection, Kai realized that there was an elaborate wooden box on the table in front of Hannah. It was barely as big as a palm.

"Dad, Mom..." Kai called out.

"Sit down." Gary waved his hand to beckon at Kai. Gary took two long drags of his cigarette before he said hesitantly, "Kai, you aren't a child anymore. There is something that we've been meaning to tell you."

All of a sudden, Gary snapped his mouth shut. Instead, he glanced at Hannah, who averted her eyes. She didn't want to be the bearer of bad news.

As they were both reluctant to spill the truth, a blanket of silence descended over the living room.

"Dad, Mom, no matter what, the both of you are still my parents."

if() { }

I will never abandon you. I'll take care of you when you're old, and I'll bless you with as many grandchildren as you want."

Suddenly, Kai knelt in front of Hannah and Gary.

The sight of her son on his knees caused Hannah to burst into tears again. In haste, she helped him to his feet and hugged him. "You will always be my son!" "Mom, please don't cry. Even if we aren't related by flesh and blood, you have always been my mom. Throughout all these years, you were the one who raised me to become the man I am now. I still remember how you carried me in the rain to visit the clinic when I was five," Kai softly said as he wiped Hannah's tears away.

Hearing that, Hannah finally managed to let go of her worries. "Kai, I must admit that I'm not your birth mother. Since an illness plagued my body, I became infertile and couldn't bear any children of my own. One winter day, your dad found you by the roadside when you were an infant. I can still recall how you were shivering in the frigid cold."

The Man's Decree Chapter 267 (The Man like none Other chapter 267)

/ The Man's Decree

Slowly, Hannah began to recount how they came to adopt Kai. Throughout the entire story, Kai kept his ears peeled. Because Kai had already braced himself for this, he wasn't particularly shocked.

"When we found you, you had nothing on but this jade pendant. All these years, I've kept it in this box." Hannah opened the small box to reveal a gleaming jade pendant. Upon closer inspections, Kai could see traces of crimson red swirled inside the pendant.

When Kai took the jade pendant into his hands, a surge of warmth enveloped his body. It was a feeling that was both comforting yet indescribable.

The jade pendant felt like an extension of his own body. To be more exact, Kai seemed to feel connected to the jade pendant.

It felt as if it was resonating with him.

"Son, this was the only thing your birth parents left for you. I'll be leaving it in your care now. We don't have any other information about them," Hannah said softly.

After revealing the truth, Hannah felt much more at ease. Things weren't as bad as I thought.

"Kai, we won't stop you if you want to look for your birth parents. After all, it is your own right to know about these things," Gary added.

"Dad, Mom, please rest assured that I won't be going anywhere. I am your son; this is a fact that will never change no matter what," Kai replied in earnest.

Upon witnessing his son's sincerity, Gary flashed a relieved smile.

"That's right. You are my son. I'll fight anyone who says otherwise!" Gary declared as he brandished his fists in the air.

If anyone dared to speak ill of Kai in front of Gary, he wouldn't hesitate to take action.

if() {}

After chatting for a little longer, Kai returned to his room.

Once he closed the door behind him, he eagerly took the jade pendant out of his pocket. Immediately, he began to insert a small amount of spiritual energy into the jade pendant.

When Kai first came into contact with the jade pendant, he'd already detected a hint of spiritual energy churning in the jade pendant. It felt like something was sealed inside it.

When Kai tried to inject a slight amount of spiritual energy into the pendant, the energy rebounded back. How strange. There seems to be something preventing my spiritual energy from entering the jade.

Once again, Kai channeled more spiritual energy into the jade pendant. But no matter how hard he tried, he could not break through the barrier.

He glared at the pendant with a deep frown etched across his forehead. He was at a loss.

I'm sure there's something in this pendant. But to reveal it, I'd have to use spiritual energy to force it open.

While Kai was deep in his thoughts, he was suddenly struck with a revelation. I've seen some television shows where an object can only be opened when it comes into contact with blood. If this is an object left behind by my birth parents, should I use my blood to try and open it?

Without hesitation, Kai bit his finger and dripped a drop of blood onto the jade pendant's surface.

When the blood sank through the jade, bright red light flashed across the room. Promptly, a low buzzing noise echoed around the room as the jade pendant in Kai's palm crumbled into dust.

At the same time, a feminine figure emerged from the red glow. She was dressed in ancient traditional clothing and had delicate features. The woman was so stunning that it felt like she had stepped right out of a painting.

A feeling of familiarity struck Kai's heart when he saw her. Something in him felt drawn to her as it felt like she was someone he recognized.

"My dear son, you are still alive. This is wonderful!" She beamed brightly.

if() { }

With a trembling voice, Kai asked her, "Who are you?"

"I'm sure you are both curious and scared. Don't worry. I would never hurt you.

Son, I am your birth mother! Although I regret abandoning you, I had no other choice. They were adamant about killing you."

"Who are you talking about?" Kai furrowed his brows.

The Man's Decree Chapter 268 (The Man like none Other chapter 268)

/ The Man's Decree

Instead of answering Kai, the woman continued, "My boy, there are a lot of things in this world that you're clueless about. You must not be curious, nor must you explore them. There are too many dangers hidden in the unknown terrains. Since my blood flows in your veins, you must be more exceptional than the rest.

However, there's no need to fear. Just continue living as an ordinary person. You must not set foot into the heavenly realm or Dragon Island. You must not go there! I'm glad that you're still living peacefully. Don't try to find me because it'll be futile. Remember my words... Don't go to Dragon Island! You must not go..."

Slowly, the woman's figure became blurry until she vanished into thin air.

"Who are you? What is going on?" shouted Kai, but no one responded.

The room returned to its quiet state. Only the powder on the floor indicated to him that everything that just happened was real.

"Dragon Island... Why is it Dragon Island again? What's going on?"

Kai was utterly puzzled. He did not understand why the woman, who claimed to be his biological mother, was dissuading him from entering the heavenly realm and Dragon Island.

Yet, Draco brought him to the heavenly realm. Not only did he tell Kai about Dragon Island, but he also said the latter had to go to Dragon Island once his powers increased significantly.

One told him to go, while the other kept forbidding him from doing so. Kai was utterly baffled.

After racking his brains over it for hours, he still could not figure it out. He was oblivious to many things, so it was impossible for him to understand anything.

"I should first increase my abilities and decide after going to Nameless Island on the fifteenth of July. Perhaps, I might figure out the things that have been puzzling me after going there," he mused, and a sigh escaped his lips. Deciding to stop thinking about it, he pulled the covers over his head and fell asleep.

It was already late at night.

However, multiple luxurious cars were parked at the entrance of Phoenix Bar. Handsome men and beautiful women were partying inside, having the time of their lives.

In the corner of the bar, there were dozens of empty alcohol bottles piled up in front of Leyton. He had been drinking there for a long time.

Although Kai would not seek trouble with the Scott family, Leyton had become the laughingstock in the upper-class society.

"Ley, I knew you'd definitely be here. Stop drinking! You've had too much."

At that moment, Sandy, who was decked out in revealing clothes, walked over and sat beside Leyton.

Knowing that no matter how she begged Kai, he would never forgive her, not to mention he had utterly humiliated her in the class reunion, she chose to rely on Leyton to land on her feet.

Other than him, she had no one else to rely on. Her reputation in the upper-class circle in Horington had been completely ruined as well.

"You... Why are you here? Get lost!"

When Leyton saw Sandy, he was so scared that he shoved her away.

"Ley, are you still afraid of Kai? You've already given him two companies, and he promised that he wouldn't seek any more trouble with you. Why are you still scared?" she demanded.

Upon hearing her words, many people in the bar turned to cast teasing looks at Leyton. They were gloating over the fact that Leyton, the haughty scion of the Scott family, had fallen from grace. In fact, he even gave away his companies.

Fury rose within Leyton when he perceived everyone's gaze on him. "Nonsense! Why am I scared of him? I'm not scared of anyone."

Intoxicated, he no longer knew what fear was.

"Ley, since you aren't scared, why don't we get back together? We've already sent out the wedding invitations. Aren't you afraid that you'll become a laughingstock if the wedding doesn't continue as planned?" Sandy asked as she threw her arms around his neck.

The Man's Decree Chapter 269 (The Man like none Other chapter 269)

/ The Man's Decree

Sandy did not know that Leyton had already become an object of ridicule in the upper-class society. Otherwise, he would not have been drowning his sorrows all by himself.

"A laughingstock? Who dares to laugh at me? Even if the Scott family has given two companies away, we're still considered an elite family. Who dares to mock me?" roared Leyton as he slammed the table forcefully.

Everyone shot him a look of disdain but did not bother to entertain his taunts. Clap! Clap! Clap!

At that moment, someone suddenly sauntered over while clapping. A cold smirk played on his lips as he stared at Leyton. "The scion of the Scott family ended up being so terrified of an ex-convict, yet you have the audacity to brag in the bar?" Livid, Leyton barked, "Who the f*ck dares to insult me? I..."

However, when he recognized the person, his voice faltered mid-sentence. In an instant, he sobered up a little and exclaimed fearfully, "M-Mr. Whitaker!" The person was none other than Tyrion from the Whitaker family in Summerbank. When the other scions saw that he had come to Horington, they rushed over and surrounded him.

They wanted to use this opportunity to get acquainted with Tyrion. In fact, some young women even gave him the eye.

One had to know that Horington could not even be compared to Summerbank. If the former were a cat, the latter would be a tiger. No matter how powerful a family was in Horington, it would be nothing to the wealthy families in Summerbank.

"Get lost!"

The two bodyguards beside Tyrion chased the scions away.

Those wealthy youngsters were usually stuck-ups, one more arrogant than the other. However, despite being rebuked by the Whitaker family's bodyguards, they did not dare to say anything and quickly left.

Looking at the scene in front of her, Sandy was extremely astounded. She always thought that she had reached the peak of her life by dating Leyton. However, what she had just witnessed showed her how ignorant she had been.

"Come out. I need to talk to you about something."

After saying that to Leyton, Tyrion spun around and walked out.

As he did so, he deliberately checked out Sandy, who was standing beside Leyton. Noticing his gaze, she quickly raised her head and puffed out her chest, trying her best to impress him.

A smirk touched his lips, and he left directly. Meanwhile, Leyton staggered out of the bar with Sandy supporting him.

Tyrion was waiting for them in a Rolls-Royce. When he rolled down the car windows, he instructed Leyton, "Get into the car."

Sandy helped Leyton onto the car, but he shoved her away. "Scram!"

Immediately, she feigned a pitiful look and glanced at Tyrion.

"Let her come."

Since Tyrion had spoken, Leyton dared not voice an objection. Delighted, Sandy hastened to enter the car.

The car drove for around half an hour before stopping on a road that was still under construction.

As there were no streetlights, it was terrifyingly dark.

"M-Mr. Whitaker, why did you look for me?"

Sweeping his gaze around the pitch-black surroundings, Leyton was so terrified that he was no longer inebriated.

"Everyone, leave."

Tyrion instructed his bodyguards to leave before throwing a look at Sandy, who opened the car door and alighted the vehicle reluctantly.

With that, Tyrion and Leyton were the only ones left in the car.

Cold sweat stood in pearls along Leyton's forehead. I've never offended the Whitaker family. Why did Tyrion look for me and bring me to such a place?

"Is that woman your girlfriend?" asked Tyrion.

"Yes... No! No, she isn't..." Leyton shook his head and clarified, "She's not anymore."

Tyrion harrumphed when he saw his reaction. "You coward! You only broke up with her because of Kai, right? She's his ex-girlfriend."

Leyton was stunned, not knowing how Tyrion found out about that.

"There's no need to look at me with such surprise. There's nothing in Jazona that can be kept a secret from me. As the descendant of the Scott family, are you willing to be oppressed by a mere ex-convict?" asked Tyrion as he stared at Leyton disdainfully.

Leyton sighed. "You might not know this. I don't know what's so impressive about Kai, but he managed to win the favor of people like Walter, Tommy, and William. Everyone treats him with so much respect! My family can't even compare to him." "Hahaha! Walter, Tommy, and William? How terrifyingly powerful!"

Tyrion burst out laughing as a look of contempt filled his eyes.

Leyton continued embarrassedly, "They might not be anything to you, Mr. Whitaker, but our family is nowhere on par with yours!"

"I'm giving you a chance now, Leyton. Are you willing to take it?" Tyrion queried as he narrowed his eyes.

Stunned, Leyton asked, "What chance are you talking about?"

"I can let you take revenge on Kai to your heart's content. The people you've just mentioned will not dare to help him," explained Tyrion with a half-smile.

"Really?" Leyton's eyes lit up, but the hope in them soon dimmed. "Why are you helping me, Mr. Whitaker? I doubt you're doing it as an entirely altruistic act." His statement caused Tyrion to guffaw. "Hahaha! Altruistic? I never do things for the sake of others. By helping you take down Kai, I'm helping myself too. Have you forgotten about my relationship with Josephine?"

After being in stunned silence for a while, Leyton exclaimed excitedly, "You like Josephine, but Kai and her seem really close. They even proclaimed that they're dating!"

"That's right. How can I let my woman be snatched away by an ex-convict? To be honest, Kai broke Frederick's wrist, so he hates Kai to the core now. With Frederick and I supporting you, do you think anyone will dare to help him?" asked Tyrion with a malicious look on his face.

"Frederick?" Leyton's eyes popped. "Are you talking about Mr. Lowe's son?"

"You're right. Frederick likes Josephine too. You've probably heard about how both of them got into a conflict because of this. However, it's difficult for Frederick to reveal himself due to his status. Furthermore, since I come from a different city, it's not appropriate for me to do anything here. Hence, you're the most suitable candidate," explained Tyrion frankly.

Unable to repress his excitement, Leyton burst into peals of laughter. "Kai must have a death wish! How dare he hit the mayor's son? He'd definitely be dead meat this time around. If I had known this would happen, I wouldn't have given him those two companies!"

"If you kill Kai, those companies will be returned to you." Tyrion grinned.

"Yeah!" Leyton nodded. "What should I do, Mr. Whitaker? Kai knows martial arts, and he's very strong. I'm scared that..."

"Don't worry. You can instruct my two bodyguards however you want. They're both experts. Furthermore, if you do this, I promise that Kai will give in..."

Then, Tyrion whispered something to Leyton's ears.

After listening to his words, Leyton felt a cold shiver run down his spine. "Mr. Whitaker, are... are you sure that this is fine? William will surely go mad and seek revenge."

"What are you afraid of? I'm not asking you to do anything to Josephine. She'll just be the bait! Besides, you'll be handing her to me. William can't lay a finger on me!" Tyrion threw him a look of contempt.

"You're right." Leyton nodded. "Since you're supporting me, I have nothing to fear."

"Go! I have faith in you. Once this matter is taken care of, both our families will join forces, and your family will definitely become the richest family in Horington!" Tyrion patted his shoulders.
