

The Mans Decree Chapter 2631 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2631-“You’re all worthless, yet you want to fight me? Save it. When Kai returns, tell him I want to have a duel with him at the sect’s arena. If he doesn’t turn up, I’ll come and beat the lot of you up once a day!” Bilius spat at Zebediah and the others before he whirled around and strutted off.

At that moment, Kai was treating Viola in the secret room in the cave. Although the latter was not wearing a stitch in front of him, he remained entirely indifferent.

Her skin was fair and smooth, so much so that the average man would undoubtedly lose control at the sight of her. However, Kai was no longer the hot-blooded lad he was in the past. He had already been with countless women. Cecilia, Evangeline, and the others were all devastating beauties.

On top of that, they were all shapelier and had smoother skin than the last. For that reason, his thoughts did not stray despite seeing Viola in the nude before him.

If it were in the past, he would certainly be restless and randy in the face of an unclothed beauty.

The smoke from the burning of the herbs enveloped Viola’s body ceaselessly, gradually penetrating her body through her skin.

Ghaylen, on the other hand, waited anxiously outside the secret room. It had been three days and nights, but he did not sleep a wink all this time.

He fervently hoped that Kai could help Viola to regain consciousness. While he knew the young man might do something inappropriate in the face of a naked woman, he could only turn a blind eye to it for the sake of Viola’s recovery.

If Viola were to regain consciousness, then anything Kai might have done to her would be considered her repayment to him.

Never had it crossed his mind that Kai actually harbored no malicious intent toward Viola, nor would he force himself on her as Ghaylen had imagined.

Slowly, the herbs in the Divine Cauldron burned to ashes, and the smoke gradually dispersed. Nonetheless, Viola's eyes remained closed. She showed no signs of regaining consciousness.

Seeing that, Kai frowned slightly. Ultimately, he could only carry her to the bed before gently draping a blanket over her.

Ghaylen heard the sounds of movement in the secret room and rushed in expectantly.

"How's Ms. Viola, Mr. Chance?" he asked.

In response, Kai shook his head. "She's still unconscious. It looks like we've got to determine the poison Hosen gave her."

When Ghaylen heard that, disappointment showed on his face. Still, he knew the man had tried his best, so he gushed gratefully, "Thank you, Mr. Chance. Perhaps this is Ms. Viola's fate."

"Don't be so pessimistic, Mr. Samoll. Let's go back first. I'll figure out some other way. Perhaps I might have a solution to help her regain consciousness when the medicinal pool opens," Kai consoled.

He knew his cultivation level would improve once the medicinal pool was opened. At that time, he might be able to think of an idea to help Viola regain consciousness.

"Okay." Ghaylen nodded. He took one last look at Viola before leaving the cave with Kai.

When the two men stepped out, the stone wall slowly closed. From the outside, it was impossible to tell that there was a cave there.

On the way back, Ghaylen kept stealing glances at Kai, seemingly having something to say yet hesitant to speak.

"Is something the matter, Mr. Samoll? If so, just say it," Kai prompted.

"It's actually nothing major, Mr. Chance. I'm merely curious to know whether you did anything to Ms. Viola while you were treating her in the past few days since she was naked. But even if you did, it's okay. After all, you're young and virile. She's still unconscious now and knows nothing. When she regains consciousness, she won't know anything if we both keep our mouths zipped," Ghaylen ventured.

Hearing that, Kai countered in exasperation, "What kind of person are you taking me for, Mr. Samoll? I didn't do anything to her. Nor would I take advantage of a woman."

At the man's denial, Ghaylen realized that he had overthought things and quickly apologized profusely.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2632 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2632-When Kai and Ghaylen returned, they were greeted by a scene of utter chaos at the base. Many houses had collapsed, and Zebediah was leading a cleanup effort. The two of them were left dumbfounded by the sight.

"You're back, Mr. Chance, Master!"

As soon as Zebediah saw that the two men had returned, he immediately rushed up to them.

Ghaylen noticed that Zebediah's face was littered with bruises, making it clear that the latter had suffered a beating. He questioned sharply, "What happened here, Zebediah? You're the eldest disciple. As such, I entrusted you with keeping guard over the place. Yet, everything is in shambles when it's only been a few days?"

At that, tears of grievance escaped Zebediah's eyes. "This is Bilius' doing, Master. He came in search of Mr. Chance, saying he wanted to recoup his pride. With both of you gone, he destroyed our houses and beat us up! His capabilities were too powerful, so we weren't his match. This is all my fault for failing to guard this place. Please punish me as you see fit, Master."

While saying that, he dropped to his knees before his master.

Having heard everything, Ghaylen was so livid that he flushed bright red with fury, and his entire body trembled.

"Bilius has gone too far, not bothering to show me any respect! If I don't teach him a lesson, I'd never have a foothold in the Emerald Cauldron Sect henceforth!"

In a towering rage, he thundered about seeking Bilius out to settle the score.

However, Kai stopped him, saying, "This happened because of me, and I'll settle it myself."

After saying that, he shifted his gaze to Zebediah and asked, "Did Bilius say anything before he left?"

"He told you to go and look for him at the inner court when you return because he wants to have a duel with you at the arena. He also said... He also said..."

"What else did he say?" Kai pressed.

"He also said that if you don't dare go, he'd come and beat us up once a day until you do," Zebediah murmured.

Following the man's words, Kai narrowed his eyes a fraction. Invisible waves of anger radiated off him. So, Bilius even went as far as making a move against his fellow disciples to force me into making an appearance. How utterly despicable!

Sensing the fury emanating from him, Ghaylen and Zebediah were very much surprised.

"Clean this place up. I'll go and deal with Bilius."

With that, Kai turned around to go in search of Bilius.

"I'll go with you, Mr. Chance. He would never have dared to do such a thing without Ebenezer's orders. I want to know whether they plan to rip off all pretenses of civility with me!"

Ghaylen wanted to go with Kai, but the latter dissuaded him from doing so.

"This is a matter between the two of us, Mr. Samoll. As an elder, if you were to get yourself involved, it'd inevitably lead to an even greater conflict. Bilius merely wants to have a duel with me at the arena to recoup his pride, no? I'll grant him his wish, then."

He was only discouraging Ghaylen from tagging along because he was afraid that the latter would make the matter worse and affect the opening of the medicinal pool. If that happened, things would be troublesome.

After all, his purpose in visiting Emerald Cauldron Sect was to await the opening of the medicinal pool.

At that precise moment, Sigurd arrived in a mad dash. He heard that Bilius went to pick trouble with Kai and even destroyed Ghaylen and his disciples' houses, so he hurried over.

Ever since Kai became Ghaylen's disciple, he had also gotten on close terms with Ghaylen's other disciples.

"Where are you going, Mr. Chance?" Sigurd inquired upon catching sight of Kai.

"Mr. Chance is going to look for Bilius," Zebediah interjected.

"Bilius has broken through to the Body Fusion Realm, Mr. Chance. Besides, Mr. Erdell must have instructed him to do this. I think you'd best put up with it for the time being. If the matter were to get out of hand, it might affect the opening of the medicinal pool."

Sigurd advised Kai not to retaliate, aware that the latter came to Emerald Cauldron Sect for the medicinal pool.

"Don't worry. I know what I'm doing. So what if Bilius has broken through to the Body Fusion Realm?" Kai sneered.

I'm not scared of Bilius when he has just advanced to the Body Fusion Realm. I wouldn't even be afraid of someone in the Third Level of Body Fusion Realm, much less a newbie!

The Mans Decree Chapter 2633 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2633-The sight of Kai exuding such confidence left Ghaylen utterly speechless. After all, Kai was merely a cultivator of the Manifestation Level. Although he possessed considerable skill in alchemy, that did not necessarily translate to the same level of overall prowess.

Yet, he was underestimating a warrior of the Body Fusion Realm. Ghaylen couldn't comprehend just who Kai really was, to possess such unwavering confidence.

Conversely, Sigurd merely eyed Kai without saying anything further. Of everyone there, he was the one who understood the man's capabilities best.

Although Ghaylen was unaware of the full extent of Kai's abilities, he was confident that Kai could handle Bilius, considering that Kai himself had affirmed as much.

"I'll go with you, Mr. Chance. If anything happens, I might be of help."

He decided to go with Kai to seek Bilius out.

Nothing could be allowed to happen to the man. Otherwise, it would also be the end of him.

"Bring some men with you and go with Mr. Chance, Zebediah. This is not a battle between Mr. Chance and Bilius but one that would decide whether we can hold our heads up in the Emerald Cauldron Sect!" Ghaylen said to Zebediah.

At present, everyone knew that Kai had acknowledged Ghaylen as his master and was the latter's disciple. Thus, the duel between him and Bilius was akin to a battle between Ghaylen's and Ebenezer's ranks.

If Kai won, all those under Ghaylen's command could hold their heads up and enjoy an elevation of status in the Emerald Cauldron Sect.

"Understood!" Zebediah gave a dip of his head.

Before long, they embarked on their journey to the inner court of Emerald Cauldron Sect. With Sigurd in their company, they encountered no obstructions as they traversed the outer court.

However, many people followed behind them as though anticipating a show, gossiping among themselves.

"I heard that Mr. Samoll's home has been demolished by Bilius. It looks like his disciples are here to seek revenge."

"In their dreams! Didn't you hear that Bilius has broken through to the Body Fusion Realm? I reckon he'd be the principal disciple of the Emerald Cauldron Sect in the future, and Sigurd would be forced to step down."

“Mr. Erdell’s and Mr. Samoll’s disciples are certain to go up against each other this time. But rumor has it that it’s because of a new disciple named Kai. It’s going to be an interesting show.”

Numerous disciples trailed behind, hoping to watch the show.

When Kai and the others arrived at Bilius’ residence, Sigurd whispered to Kai, “Bilius probably only attained a breakthrough because he consumed an Elementum Totum Pill, Mr. Chance. Such a pill is a high-level pill in Emerald Cauldron Sect. As such, he likely took it secretly. I’ll go and check the warehouse now while you’re here to seek him out. If my guess is true, he can be punished by the sect’s rules. Then, you don’t need to duel with him.”

After saying that, he surreptitiously headed toward the warehouse.

Meanwhile, Zebediah stepped forward to knock on the door and call Bilius out, but Kai commanded sharply, “Kick the door down.”

Zebediah was taken aback. Glancing back over his shoulder at the latter, he ultimately nodded and shot his leg out at the door before him.

Following that kick, the door fell to the ground with a deafening crash.

Right then, Bilius was leisurely sipping wine. He initially thought that he would only be able to break through to the Body Fusion Realm after the medicinal pool was opened. Unexpectedly, he gained a surprise windfall before that even happened.

Considering the fact that I’ve already broken through to the Body Fusion Realm, my capabilities would improve significantly following a dip in the medicinal pool after it’s opened. Then, I’d be the sect leader of Emerald Cauldron Sect in the future!

As he was fantasizing about the future, a resounding bang from outside jolted him out of his thoughts. He hastily cast his eyes out the door.

By then, two of Ebenezer’s disciples had already sprinted to the door to see what had happened.

However, no sooner had they reached the door than they were knocked to the ground with a slap from Kai.

Since Bilius could beat Ghaylen's disciples up as he pleased, Kai had no qualms about doing the same to Ebenezer's disciples.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2634 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2634-At the sight of their seniors being struck, Ebenezer's disciples rushed over from all directions. Seeing that, Zebediah felt a touch terrified.

Considering it was the inner court, Ebenezer's disciples greatly outnumbered them.

Their numbers amounted to only a dozen in total. If a fight were to erupt, they wouldn't stand a chance against the other party.

However, Kai was not at all afraid. He merely swept a cold gaze over Ebenezer's disciples and paid them no mind as he confidently stepped into Bilius' residence.

At that, Ebenezer's disciples backed away. No one dared to stop him, all intimidated by his aura.

"Get out here, Bilius! Weren't you looking for me? I'm here!" Kai bellowed.

By then, Bilius had already dashed out of his room. When he saw that his juniors had been beaten up, he trained his icy eyes on Kai. "How dare you destroy my door and even injure the inner court disciples, Kai? You're simply courting death!"

"Right back at you!" Kai snorted, the Dragonslayer Sword promptly appearing in his hand. "I'm not going to stop at destroying your door. I'm also going to demolish your entire residence."

Having said that, he abruptly leaped up. On the heels of that, light shimmered from the Dragonslayer Sword in his hand.

"Hmph! You want to demolish my residence?"

With a sneer, Bilius likewise jumped into the air. A jet-black ruler inlaid with eight emerald green gemstones manifested in his hand.

“It’s the Octo Ruler. Be careful, Mr. Chance!” Zebediah instantly hollered upon glimpsing the weapon Bilius whipped out.

Bilius swung his arm. In a flash, the Octo Ruler was enveloped by a black mist. A constant stream of negative energy emanated from it, chilling the surrounding air with its ominous presence.

Following that, he flicked his wrist, and the Octo Ruler emitted a dense ray of black light, forcefully colliding with the light emanating from Kai’s sword.

Bang!

A resounding bang split the air.

Kai swiftly blocked the blow but swayed slightly himself before he managed to regain his balance.

Witnessing that scene, Bilius smirked imperceptibly. “I’ve already broken through to the Body Fusion Realm now, kid. It’s no longer possible for you to defeat me with brute strength, nor would I fall for it again!”

Kai eyed the man nonchalantly and stated frostily, “Even if you had attained the Body Fusion Realm, it’d be as easy as squashing a bug if I want to kill you. Fortunately, that isn’t my current wish. Instead, I want to demolish your residence, and no one can stop me from doing so.”

After saying that, he swung the Dragonslayer Sword in his hand and created a sword flower.

“Nine Shadows!”

Alongside Kai’s roar, several shadow clones that looked exactly like him slowly materialized behind him.

At the multiple figures of Kai, many of those present were stunned.

On the contrary, Bilius scoffed with a sneer, “It’s just an insignificant illusion spell. Don’t tell me you want to win me by using this? How delusional!”

Right when he had finished speaking, Bilius shot forward, unleashing a windstorm with the Octo Ruler in his hand and aiming it straight at Kai.

He knew that shadow clones from an illusion spell were practically harmless and could be shattered with a bit of aura.

In the face of his attack, Kai had no plans of engaging in battle.

He only left a few of his shadow clones before the man while he himself had already gone above Bilius' head.

Boom!

In a trice, the windstorm of Bilius' doing shattered Kai's shadow clones, leaving none in its wake.

Seeing that, Bilius roared with laughter. "You relied on mere tricks, yet you dared to act so foolishly!"

No sooner had his words rang out than he sensed a terrifying aura flaring overhead.

Everyone then looked up, their eyes brimming with disbelief.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2635 -

Chapter 2635 Seize Him

Similarly, Bilius hastily looked up. To his surprise, Kai was already above his head at some point in time.

Kai held the Dragonslayer Sword in his hand and unleashed Colossal Sword Energy. Countless rays of light shot out from the sword, but instead of aiming at Bilius directly, they targeted his residence.

Rumble! Boom!

Under the slashes of innumerable rays of light, Bilius' residence started crumbling as many pillars snapped. The clouds of dust from the collapse of the house promptly smothered the crowd.

"Quick, run!" someone shouted.

Everyone rushed out at once, none wishing to be trapped under the ruins. With a swing of his sword, Kai demolished Bilius' residence completely, yet he was seemingly dissatisfied and let out another loud cry. A golden ray of light shot into the sky and transformed into a golden dragon alongside the roar of a dragon.

Roaring, the golden dragon instantly destroyed all the houses connected to Bilius' residence. Ebenezer's disciples lived there, so Kai wanted to ruin them all.

As it so happened, it was good manners to reciprocate. Since Bilius wrecked many houses belonging to Ghaylen's disciples, it would be unfair if Kai merely laid waste to Bilius' residence.

The crowd was wholly dumbfounded as they gaped at the sight before their eyes. As far as they remembered, such a thing had never happened in Emerald Cauldron Sect.

When Zebediah saw that Kai had lost control and destroyed all of Ebenezer's disciples' houses, he knew that the matter had turned tricky.

He hurriedly sent someone to get Ghaylen, for the latter's interference in the matter was then necessary.

After all, Ebenezer would never let things slide when Kai had destroyed so many houses in the inner court.

Realizing that Kai wouldn't stand a chance against the elder's power, Zebediah sent someone to bring Ghaylen to their aid.

In less than a minute, not only was Bilius' residence completely demolished, but the houses of Ebenezer's other disciples were also left in ruins.

Finally, the golden dragon slowly disappeared.

Staring at the mess in front of him, Bilius almost burst a blood vessel.

"I'm going to kill you, Kai! I'm going to rip you into pieces!" he screeched, his fury blazing increasingly hotter.

"Bring it on." Kai had already destroyed the man's residence, so his subsequent plan was to teach Bilius a lesson.

Bilius gritted his teeth. The Octo Ruler in his hand grew incessantly until it reached a foot long, and the eight emerald green gemstones on it started shimmering.

"Cut it out! Are you trying to destroy the entire inner court?"

Mere seconds before Bilius was going to make his move, a sudden shout rang out. On the heels of that, a figure approached.

Soon, Ebenezer's figure came into view. Rage radiated off him as the sight of the ruins came into view, and he unleashed the full force of the Third Level Body Fusion Realm.

"Master, this kid here demolished our residence and even injured our disciples!" Bilius snarled, pointing at Kai.

Slap!

Just as he had said that, Ebenezer struck him hard across the face.

"Couldn't you stop him, you piece of trash? On top of that, you even wanted to make a move here. Were you trying to destroy all the buildings in the inner court?" Ebenezer lambasted.

Hanging his head, Bilius went silent.

If he and Kai had really battled there, none of the buildings in the inner court would have escaped ruination.

After lecturing Bilius, Ebenezer swung his eyes at Kai coldly. "As a disciple of Emerald Cauldron Sect, how dare you beat up your fellow disciples openly in the inner court and destroy the residences here? You have no regard for the rules of Emerald Cauldron Sect! Today, I'll punish you on behalf of Ghaylen and have you know the rules of Emerald Cauldron Sect!"

Then, he commanded, "Men, seize him and lock him in the water dungeon! No one is allowed to release him without my orders!"

The Mans Decree Chapter 2636 -

Chapter 2636 This Is Mutiny

Following Ebenezer's command, his disciples swarmed forward to seize Kai. Upon seeing that, Zebediah quickly led Ghaylen's disciples to shield Kai behind them.

"What right do the lot of you have to seize him? Even if he's to be punished, it should be on the orders of Mr. Holt. Mr. Erdell has no right to do so!" Zebediah declared loudly.

He was right in that all rewards and punishments in the sect had to be ordered by the sect leader. Ebenezer was not in charge of that, merely given the responsibility to distribute resources and evaluate the sect members.

He had no right to punish other elders' disciples in Emerald Cauldron Sect, and that was why Zebediah made that statement.

Unbeknownst to Zebediah, his remark hit Ebenezer where it hurt. Ebenezer was the second elder, yet he had no right to reward or punish Emerald Cauldron Sect's disciples. If Hosen were away, his power was even beneath that of Sigurd, the principal disciple.

"How dare you speak to me in such a manner when you're nothing more than an insignificant disciple! You're simply asking for it!"

Zebediah's words seemed to trigger something within Ebenezer, causing him to frown. With a swift motion of his hand, he lightly waved at the man, sending him flying in the blink of an eye.

Zebediah hit the ground hard. His expression contorted into a mask of pain, making it evident that he was severely injured.

"Seize Kai immediately!" Ebenezer instructed in a booming voice after sending Zebediah flying with a single slap.

At that moment, Kai's eyes were narrowed a fraction and stained with murderous intent. When Ebenezer's disciples rushed forward, a terrifying aura burst forth from his body.

Like a tornado, it swiftly swept over Ebenezer's disciples. The dozen of them were immediately sent flying. They all landed heavily amidst the ruins, and it was uncertain if they were still alive or dead.

When Ebenezer saw that Kai even dared to make a move against his disciples right in front of him, he saw red.

“Great, just great, kid! This is mutiny!”

Having said that, he shot his hand out to grab the man. An enormous palm suddenly manifested in mid-air and engulfed Kai.

Seeing that, Kai tightened his grip on the Dragonslayer Sword in his right hand, his gaze turning razor-sharp.

In his current condition, dealing with Ebenezer alone posed no problems for him. However, if Ebenezer were to team up with Bilius, it would prove more challenging. The situation would be taxing on him since his Dragonslayer Sword could only unleash half its capabilities, as the sword spirit, Zelda, had not fully recovered yet.

Worse still, he had also lost Divine Bow, so Dragon Bell was his only ace in the hole. Nonetheless, he did not dare use it at will either, for many people were bound to set their sights on him if he were to give too much away.

While Kai was racking his brain for a solution to resolve the situation, Sigurd appeared out of the blue.

With the sect leader token in hand, Sigurd shouted at Ebenezer, “Are you attempting to destroy the whole sect, Mr. Erdell?”

Hearing that, Ebenezer retracted his hand.

“Sigurd, this kid right here not only beat up his fellow disciples but also destroyed their residences. Do you have any objections if I want to apprehend him?” he asked, fixing his gaze on Sigurd.

“Since the Master is away, Mr. Erdell, all rewards and punishments in the sect fall under my authority. By taking matters into your own hands, are you coveting the position of sect leader?” Sigurd questioned firmly.

Ebenezer never expected Sigurd to dare speak to him in such a manner.

However, given that Sigurd held the sect leader token and was addressing him before numerous disciples, Ebenezer found himself in no position to argue. Reluctantly, he relented, saying, “Fine, then. If that’s the case, you can issue the orders. Hurry up and give the command to have Kai detained.”

“How could I simply give such a command before getting to the bottom of the matter, Mr. Erdell?” Sigurd countered.

“In my thinking, Sigurd, you’re just favoring this kid! The truth is right before your eyes. Are you blind?” Bilius cursed.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2637 -

Chapter 2637 A Fight To The Death

“What is there to investigate, Sigurd? If you favor Kai and refuse to have him detained, I’ll make a move myself. I’ll personally speak to Hosen when he returns.”

As Ebenezer spoke, his aura burst forth once again.

At that, a slight frown marred Sigurd’s countenance. He hastily uttered, “Mr. Erdell, I checked the warehouse earlier and found an Elementum Totum Pill missing. I assume it was consumed by your eldest disciple? The warehouse is guarded by your men. Now that such an important high-level pill is gone, does this count as embezzlement?”

He wanted to change the subject and turn everyone’s attention to Ebenezer taking a pill without authorization.

“Indeed, I was the one who took the Elementum Totum Pill. What’s the big deal about it? I’ll inform your master about it when he returns. But for now, we’re discussing Kai’s actions of beating his fellow disciples and destroying residences. Let’s not change the topic. Give the order to detain him immediately, or I’ll take matters into my own hands!” Ebenezer asserted firmly. The fact that Ebenezer brazenly admitted to the matter was beyond Sigurd’s expectations.

“It was your eldest disciple who initiated the violence against Mr. Samoll’s disciples and destroyed their houses, Mr. Erdell. If we’re discussing violations of the rules, your eldest disciple shouldn’t be exempt from scrutiny either, right?” Sigurd drawled.

“Fine! Detain him first!” Ebenezer responded, and then he turned to Bilius and questioned, “Have you realized your mistake now?”

“Yes, Master. I’m willing to accept the sect’s punishment.” Bilius gave a dip of his head.

“So, will you seize Kai now?” Ebenezer demanded, swinging his gaze to Sigurd. Following that, Sigurd was wholly stumped. Unsure of what else to do, he could only look at Kai helplessly.

All of them are aware that Ebenezer would free Bilius shortly after the latter had been imprisoned in the water dungeon. But when it came to Kai, no one would release him. Ghaylen had no power in the inner court. Thus, nobody would care about Kai.

Anyhow, Kai himself would never allow himself to be taken captive. If that truly happened, Hosen would definitely take revenge on him madly upon returning.

“It’s just a fight between kids, Ebenezer. Why are you mad for real? Wouldn’t others then take you for a petty man?”

At that precise moment, Ghaylen had finally rushed over after being informed of the matter.

He happened to see Ebenezer making an attempt to seize Kai, so he hurriedly spoke up.

“This disciple of yours is a bit too arrogant, Ghaylen. He beat my disciples up and destroyed my residence. Shouldn’t he be taught a lesson?” Ebenezer enunciated with a chilly expression on his face.

“If so, Ebenezer, should I teach your eldest disciple a lesson since he first went to my residence and did those very same things? I reckon all this must be your eldest disciple’s own actions, and he was not acting on your orders?”

Ghaylen retorted, regarding the man calmly.

Ebenezer’s lips parted, but he did not quite know what to say for a moment.

Ultimately, they were in the wrong as they were the ones who made the first move.

At that turn of events, Bilius suggested at the side, “Since the matter has come to this, Master, why don’t I have a duel with Kai at the arena? Whoever loses shall go on his knees to apologize and prostrate himself before the winner. Then, this matter is considered over.”

“I have no objections.” Ebenezer nodded before shifting his gaze to Ghaylen and asking, “What do you think, Ghaylen?”

Ghaylen turned to Kai, unsure of how to respond to that when Bilius’ current capabilities were that of the Body Fusion Realm, significantly higher than Kai’s cultivation level.

Meanwhile, Kai declared with a sneer, “I agree to a duel at the arena, but I want it to be a fight to the death. The loser doesn’t have to go on his knees and apologize. Isn’t it better for him to forfeit his life?”

The instant his words rang out, shock inundated the crowd. Everyone swung their gazes at him in surprise.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2638 -

Chapter 2638 Ten Minutes

Even Ghaylen looked astonished, his disbelief evident on his face.

Kai’s current cultivation was far weaker than Bilius’, making him the weaker party. Yet, he unexpectedly proposed a life-and-death duel.

Ebenezer and Bilius were at a loss for words, caught off guard by his unexpected suggestion.

Kai noticed Bilius’ silence and pressed on. “What’s the matter? Are you afraid of me? Worried you might meet a miserable end?”

Kai deliberately provoked him.

All eyes turned to Bilius. Kai’s cultivation level was much lower than his, so rejecting the challenge would bring Bilius great embarrassment.

“Ghaylen, Bilius is a disciple of Emerald Cauldron Sect. It wouldn’t be appropriate for him to engage in a life-and-death battle. Our master might punish us if he finds out about it. Let’s put an end to this. Whoever loses should simply apologize,” Ebenezer said to Ghaylen.

After all, Kai was only an Eighth-Level Manifestor. The fact that he dared to propose a duel like that left Ebenezer and Bilius wondering what tricks he might have up his sleeve.

Ebenezer was particularly worried that accepting the duel might give Kai an advantage. The prospect of the fight leading to the death of his disciple deeply troubled him.

"I insist on the life-and-death duel. If you don't dare to accept, I won't force you. Just kneel and apologize to me, and I'll spare your life!" Kai rejected Ebenezer's proposition outright before Ghaylen could speak, determined to proceed with his proposal.

Ebenezer was stumped by Kai's response, and his face turned ashen with anger. They were now caught between a rock and a hard place, unable to either agree or turn down the proposal.

Upon noticing how hesitant Ebenezer and Bilius were, many disciples of Emerald Cauldron Sect began whispering among themselves. In their eyes, Bilius' strength was considerably superior to Kai's, yet Kai had boldly proposed the challenge, while the former seemed reluctant to accept it.

As Kai was frustrated by Bilius' ongoing hesitation, his patience wore thin. Taking two steps forward and spreading his legs apart, he demanded, "Kneel, crawl over, and I'll forget about this duel! Since you lack the courage, let's resolve this in the most cowardly manner!"

Bilius' anger flared up even more at Kai's smirking and mocking tone.

"Fine. I'll take you on. Only the winner will walk out of the stage alive! There's no way you, an Eighth-Level Manifestor, can take me down!" A cold glint flashed across Bilius' eyes.

"Let's get onto the stage now and stop wasting time. I'll concede defeat if I can't beat you in ten minutes!" Kai said with an air of arrogance.

Hearing that, the crowd gasped in surprise again. Not only was Kai daring enough to challenge Bilius to fight to the death, but he also boasted about defeating him within ten minutes. The idea that he could defeat Bilius in under ten minutes is simply unbelievable! What arrogance!

Upon hearing his bold words, Bilius could not help but burst out laughing.

"Young man, you're too full of yourself. Let's see how you'd defeat me within ten minutes!"

Even if Kai had some hidden tricks, Bilius firmly believed that defeating him within ten minutes was an impossible feat.

Even Ebenezer could not help but let his guard down, a smile forming on his lips. "Young man, you better not go back on your words. I'll take that as the rule of the battle. If you can't defeat Bilius in ten minutes, you must take your own life."

"Mr. Chance..." Sigurd, Zebediah, and the others cast worried glances at Kai, expressing their concern for him.

Although Sigurd was aware of Kai's abilities, the idea of defeating Bilius within ten minutes seemed somewhat implausible. Kai waved his hand confidently. "Don't worry. I can deal with that piece of trash in less than ten minutes."

The Mans Decree Chapter 2639 -

Chapter 2639 No Chance To Retaliate

News of Kai and Bilius' duel quickly spread throughout the entire Emerald Cauldron Sect, attracting even the disciples from the outer circle to come and witness the event.

The duel stage was situated between the borders of the inner and outer courts, allowing the disciples from the outer circle to observe and learn from the battle.

As they arrived at the arena, Ghaylen and Ebenezer took their seats on the high platform on one side, giving them a clear view of the duel below.

Both elders remained silent, but they harbored their secret thoughts and plans.

Ghaylen had resolved not to allow Kai to perish in the hands of Bilius. He was ready to step in and rescue Kai if he lost the battle, as he still required Kai's assistance to heal Viola, who remained unconscious.

Even without considering Viola, Ghaylen was determined to lend Kai a hand. After all, Kai had once saved his life.

Likewise, Ebenezer was also contemplating his options. If Bilius were to lose in the duel, he would not allow Kai to kill him either.

"Master, do you think Mr. Chance can really take on Bilius? This whole situation feels so surreal..." Zebediah asked, his tone laced with concern.

"I'm not sure..." Ghaylen shook his head, as he was not completely familiar with Kai's abilities.

"I think he can!" Suddenly, Sigurd voiced his thoughts. After all, he was the only person who had witnessed Kai in action.

Observing the confident expression on Kai's face, Sigurd felt reassured that Kai knew what he was getting into.

Upon noticing how much faith Sigurd had in Kai, Ebenezer could not help but cast a scornful glance at him and sarcastically said, "Sigurd, since when did you become Ghaylen's lapdog?"

Sigurd remained silent. After all, Ebenezer was his senior, so he was not in any position to refute him even if he took offense at his remark.

Meanwhile, Kai and Bilius had stepped onto the stage, facing each other.

The stage was surrounded by disciples of the Emerald Cauldron Sect, their faces filled with excitement. The outer circle disciples, in particular, were eager to witness the showdown, as it had been a long time since they had seen a duel between two high-ranked cultivators.

“I heard Bilius has recently achieved the Breakthrough and reached the Body Fusion Realm. Who is his challenger? I don’t think I’ve seen him before!” someone asked.

“He’s a new disciple recruited by Mr. Samoll. It seems like he has never been defeated before, and that’s why he dares to challenge Bilius right after joining Emerald Cauldron Sect. That guy is quite impressive. Not only did he dare to fight against Mr. Erdell’s disciple, but he even destroyed a mansion. How audacious!” Whispers and murmurs circulated among the crowd, discussing Kai’s background and daring demeanor.

None of them believed Kai could defeat Bilius, given the significant gap in their strength.

The difference between their cultivation levels was not something that could be overcome through combat skills or weapons.

“How bold of you to challenge me like this. I want to see if you, a mere Eighth-Level Manifestor, have what it takes to engage in a life-and-death duel with me, a Body Fusion Realm warrior!” Bilius uttered while looking at Kai with a scowl.

“You’ll find that out soon. Stop wasting time, and make your move now,” Kai replied with a cold smirk.

“You want me to make the first move? If I initiate an attack on you in front of so many people, they might think I’m taking advantage of you. I’ll give you a chance to strike first,” Bilius retorted, not wanting to be ridiculed for attacking first in such a situation.

“If I were to make the first move, you won’t even get a chance to retaliate. I’m giving you one last opportunity,” Kai said confidently, as if he was unfazed by a duel that could potentially kill him.

Bilius fell silent for a moment before bringing out his Octo Ruler, which emanated thick dark mists.

“You have only ten minutes. Let’s see how you can defeat me within these ten minutes,” Bilius declared as he swung the ruler, creating numerous afterimages that flew toward Kai.

With a flourish of his hand, Kai summoned the Dragonslayer Sword, and the gleaming blade materialized in his grasp. A subtle flick of his wrist sent dazzling sword arcs soaring into the sky, where two opposing auras met with a resounding clash!

The Mans Decree Chapter 2640 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2640-Deafening explosions reverberated in the arena.

Bilius persisted in brandishing his Octo Ruler, enveloping the entire arena in a dense shroud of darkness. The spectators could no longer discern the unfolding spectacle clearly, as the thick fog obscured their view.

On the other hand, Ebenezer and Ghaylen, sitting on the higher platform beside the arena, could still witness the intense battle between Kai and Bilius.

Kai's figure nimbly weaved and danced through the dark mist, effortlessly evading Bilius' attacks. Surprisingly, he did not even need to wield his Dragonslayer Sword to defend himself at all.

In the blink of an eye, Bilius launched hundreds of strikes, yet not a single one managed to hit Kai.

Bilius himself started to pant from exhaustion, his brows furrowing in frustration.

He had not expected Kai to possess such remarkable agility in addition to his impressive physical prowess.

"If you surrender now, I might spare your life. Just crawl between my legs, and you'll be free to go," Kai sneered, shooting daggers at Bilius. "But once I lose interest in playing this game, walking out of this arena alive won't be an option for you anymore."

"Don't you dare act arrogant before me!" Bilius roared angrily, swinging his Octo Ruler at Kai once more.

However, Kai was still able to dodge all his attacks effortlessly.

"Mr. Chance truly has some skills. Bilius can't even get close to him," Zebediah exclaimed in amazement upon witnessing their exchange in the arena.

Ghaylen hummed in response, nodding in acknowledgment. "It looks like we've underestimated him."

Ebenezer, sitting beside him, snorted in contempt. "He's just banking on his agility. Claiming he could defeat Bilius within ten minutes, yet with all this dodging, he won't even manage it in an hour. Ghaylen, when the ten minutes are up, it'll be your duty to announce the results."

Upon hearing Ebenezer's words, Zebediah and Ghaylen fell silent. They could not help but agree with his assessment.

Indeed, Kai's evasive skills were remarkable, but they worked against him, especially considering he had boasted about defeating Bilius within ten minutes.

"Since you gave up the chance to get out of here alive, then don't blame me for not holding back," Kai declared.

Finally, he stopped dodging and began to swing his Dragonslayer Sword with full force.

The two combatants clashed and intertwined on the stage, causing the entire arena to tremble.

Bilius frowned. Suddenly, a gem on his Octo Ruler lit up. Soon after, a black python emerged slowly from the ruler.

The python opened its mouth, revealing its sharp fangs as it lunged toward Kai.

Upon witnessing this scene, Ghaylen, Zebediah, and others were stunned for a moment.

Bilius' Octo Ruler was truly a divine weapon, adorned with eight emerald gemstones that imprisoned incredibly ferocious demon beasts within them.

Each gemstone, when activated, would summon a ferocious creature, and when all eight gemstones glowed simultaneously, no one knew what monstrous entity would emerge.

Until that incident at Bilius' mansion, no one had dared to activate all eight gemstones simultaneously. However, when Kai wreaked havoc and provoked Bilius, the latter's anger drove him to unleash the power of all eight gemstones at once.

Fortunately, Ebenezer intervened and stopped the disaster by slapping Bilius in the face. Otherwise, the entire Emerald Cauldron Sect's headquarters would have been reduced to ruins by the unleashed monsters.

Ebenezer laughed haughtily. "With just this Octo Ruler, Kai won't be able to finish this duel in ten minutes, let alone defeat Bilius within that time frame. It's nothing but wishful thinking on his part!"

Ghaylen and the others became extremely tense, their gaze firmly fixed on the stage, eager to see how Kai would handle the situation.

Meanwhile, a smirk crept across Kai's lips as he observed the python emerging from the Octo Ruler.
