

The Mans Decree Chapter 2951

Boom! Finally, the eleventh lightning tribulation struck Kai. He gritted his teeth and used every ounce of strength left in his body to resist it.

He felt as though tens of thousands of lightning bolts were piercing through his body, and gradually, his body became invisible.

Mason was sent flying by the force of the lightning tribulation. The fact that even someone as powerful as Mason was knocked away by the shockwave spoke volumes of the power of the eleventh lightning tribulation. When Kai opened his eyes and scanned his surroundings, he noticed his environment was covered in gray.

“Did I die?” Kai forcefully slapped his body but didn’t feel anything. “Oh my god! I died! I think what I am now is just a soul remnant of my former self.” His heart sank. “How can I die like this? It’s not fair. I still don’t know who my father is. I haven’t found Josephine and there are many women waiting for me! I can’t die like this! I can’t!”

No matter how hard he tried to scream, he couldn’t produce any sound. All he could do was shout in his mind. After a long time, Kai surrendered.

He slowly lay down, floating within the gray space. Meanwhile, Mason was astonished by the sight in the air. The lightning tribulation clouds had vanished, and so did Kai.

“What’s going on?” That sudden turn of events caused Mason to furrow his brows. Is he dead or is he teleported away? Where is he?

Boom! Suddenly, Kai, who was lying in the gray and cloudy space, heard a long bang. Following that, the space around him began to tremble.

The Golden Tome was hovering before him. Upon seeing that, Kai became excited and shouted, “Am I not dead? Am I still alive?”

If he was only a soul remnant, then he shouldn’t possess spiritual sense. Since the Golden Tome was kept inside his consciousness field and had shown up in front of him at that moment, it proved that he was still alive.

Colorful beams of light shone out from the Golden Tome and shone on Kai's body. The beams of light then spread outward from below Kai's feet, erasing the gray space that they touched.

The Golden Tome gradually vanished while the colorful beams of light continued to stretch into the horizon.

"W-What's going on?" Even Kai was puzzled by what was happening. At that moment, Mason suddenly spotted Kai again. Kai was glowing in bright colors. Mason leaped up to Kai and shouted, "Mr. Chance, can you hear me? Mr. Chance!"

Kai didn't respond. His eyes were wide open but lifeless. Mason furrowed his brows and studied Kai's body. At that moment, he understood something and released his spiritual sense into Kai.

Kai was still perplexed by what was going on when he saw Mason appearing before him. "Mr. Mason? What's going on here?"

Kai was confused and did not understand what was happening.

In fact, Mason was similarly flabbergasted by that series of occurrences. After Kai vanished into thin air, his body reappeared and was enveloped in bright, colorful beams of light.

Mason had never seen anything like that in the past. He did not know what was going on either. He especially didn't know where Kai had gone when he suddenly disappeared.

"Mr. Chance, I have no idea what's going on either. Why did your consciousness field become like this? What happened?" Mason was utterly puzzled by the changes that took place in Kai's consciousness field.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2952

As the colorful beams of light continued to spread outward, an illusory world was born within Kai's body. Abruptly, Mason exclaimed, "I know what's going on now! This isn't your consciousness field. This is your nascence space!"

"Nascence space? Have I really attained the power to create nascence space?" Kai was still baffled because he didn't think he had comprehended the power of nascence space. Was it because of the last lightning tribulation and the Golden Tome?

“This is most definitely a nascence space. Congratulations, Mr. Chance. Once your nascence space is formed, you’ll be able to comprehend and obtain nascence. To think a Body Fusion Realm cultivator is capable of creating a nascence space... This is a miracle!” Joy and envy were written all over Mason’s countenance.

“What’s my nascence space going to look like? Will it also be a palace?” At that moment, Kai was equally delighted and curious about his new ability.

“Probably not. Based on the structure of your nascence space, I think it’ll be larger than a palace. It’s likely going to be an ocean or a giant mountain. Something like that,” Mason. said.

“Is it better to have bigger nascence space?” Kai asked.

“Of course. The larger the nascence space, the greater your potential for growth in the future. However, the size of the nascence space would also correlate with the difficulty of obtaining nascence. The bigger it is, the harder it’ll be. Also, because of how tough your physical body is, it’s very difficult for you to ascend to greater heights. You’ll need much more resources to accomplish it. However, it also means the benefit you receive will be much greater. It’s all relative.”

At that moment, the bright beams of light vanished. Taking their places were stars. However, those stars were gray and not twinkling.

Mason and Kai looked at the stars in their surroundings, feeling as though they were standing at the end of the galactic universe.

“W-What is this? Where’s my nascence space?” Kai looked around and saw nothing. There was no palace or ocean or gigantic mountain.

Mason was equally confounded by the absence of what became the nascence space.

“This is pretty strange. What’s going on? Did the creation of the nascence space fail?” Mason flew around in the space, hoping to find something, but he didn’t spot anything notable at all. Kai examined the stars around him. Each of the gray stars seemed to be waiting to be lit by him.

“Mr. Mason, do you think perhaps my nascence space is this galaxy? I feel like each of these dark stars is nascence waiting for me to light them up, Kai said in a small voice. The reason he sounded uncertain when he said that was because he wasn’t sure if his guess was correct.

“That doesn’t seem possible! I’ve never heard of a nascence space as big as a galaxy! If this is truly your nascence space, then your strength is immeasurable!” Mason replied.

“But there’s nothing other than this galaxy here. How can I ascertain if I’ve succeeded or not?” Kai asked.

“That’s easy. Once you grasp one type of nascence and obtain that nascence aura, you can use that aura to find your nascence space. What nascence can you comprehend right now? Such a feat isn’t something that can be forced. It’s honestly down to luck. And different people’s bodies are suitable for different types of nascence.”

“Let me try. Perhaps I can comprehend it right now.” Kai closed his eyes and felt the power of lightning coursing through his body.

He had consumed a heavenly thunder fruit and survived eleven lightning tribulations. It was most appropriate for him to comprehend lightning nascence now.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2953

Suddenly, Kai felt his body shaking, and his body was surrounded by crackling electricity. A formidable suction force emerged, drawing them both upward without affording them the opportunity to regain control.

Upon their arrival at a distant star, the relentless force ceased its suction, and the electricity enveloping Kai discharged, striking the star itself.

With the aid of the lightning surging through Kai’s body, the once-gray star began to radiate with a brilliant luminance.

In the end, it shone brightly, outshining the other dull stars in the vicinity. Mason was completely dumbfounded by the sight that greeted him.

“What? The nascent space turns out to encompass an entire galaxy? This is utterly absurd,” he muttered, his head buzzing with disbelief. The notion that one's nascent space could be as vast as a galaxy was entirely unfamiliar to him.

The enormity of Kai's nascent space implied that Kai had endless possibilities. Anything could happen to him. Kai's nascence space wouldn't have any restrictions, allowing him to gain insights and absorb the nascence aura incessantly.

Certain cultivators possessed the ability to forge nascent spaces, but due to the confined dimensions, there existed a restriction on the insights they could acquire and the nascent aura they could assimilate. Consequently, they needed to elevate their own capacities to expand the boundaries of their nascent spaces.

However, Kai would never encounter that problem. The insight he gained this time could last for a lifetime. There was no nascence space bigger than an entire galaxy.

Mason gazed at the monotonous stars scattered throughout the galaxy, pondering how much time and energy it would require for Kai to light up all of them.

If Kai was able to fill the entire nascence space with nascence aura, that would make him a formidable being.

"Mr. Mason?" Kai whispered when he noticed Mason's perplexed expression. Mason promptly regained his composure.

"It's truly astonishing! The eleventh lightning tribulation must have been the catalyst for creating your very own nascence space. Without it, your physical form wouldn't have endured the lightning's wrath. It's as if destiny itself has smiled upon you. You don't even have to cultivate anymore. Your body is the dream of many cultivators. Oh, such is fate," he said enviously.

Becoming a Tribulator cultivator allowed him to absorb nascence aura, which gave him a deep understanding of nascence space and made him a talented individual. Despite his abilities, he paled in comparison to Kai's brilliance.

"I believe I have gained a better understanding of the lightning nascence aura, Mr. Mason," Kai said. He spread his palms, revealing a crackle of electricity. The star that held the lightning nascence began to flash.

“Mr. Chance, comprehending nascence isn’t a walk in the park, let alone harnessing and perfecting its elusive aura. You’d be wise not to squander this rare essence, as your reservoir is rather limited. Save it for a more meaningful showcase,” advised Mason.

For Kai, grasping the nascence space’s intricacies and claiming the nascence aura came naturally, leaving him somewhat unaware of its true value. Obtaining this ethereal essence didn’t pose much of a challenge for him, exemplifying the old adage that says those who have plenty often struggle to empathize with those in need.

Kai retracted the nascence aura on his hand and asked, “Is there an alternative method to acquire the nascence aura, one that doesn’t involve a gradual understanding of it?”

Kai couldn’t help but sense that the gradual path to comprehension would demand a considerable amount of time. If only he could acquire the nascence aura with the same ease as absorbing spiritual energy through consuming spiritual fruits and beast cores, that would undoubtedly simplify matters immensely.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2954

“Absolutely. Certain objects contain latent nascence auras within them. Take, for instance, the heavenly thunder fruit you consumed. It has the heavenly thunder nascence. Without it, grasping the lightning nascence would be a formidable task. Similarly, creatures like the ice soul beast in the far north hold the potential for you to gain insight into the ice nascence.

By defeating such beasts and absorbing their beast cores or consuming their flesh and blood, there’s a chance you could comprehend the ice nascence. However, it’s not a guaranteed outcome, but it certainly beats attempting to fathom various nascence auras through sheer force of will alone. One’s innate talent and strength also play a crucial role in this endeavor,” Mason explained his sect’s comprehension of nascence aura to Kai. Kai asked, “Are there other ways to achieve that?”

“Indeed, there are alternative methods. One approach is to engage in combat with fellow cultivators who possess nascence auras. If you manage to obliterate their divine soul, their nascence aura becomes unclaimed and will be available for others to absorb and refine.

However, this is a perilous undertaking. Even if you succeed in destroying a cultivator's divine soul, their nascence aura dissipates rapidly unless you possess a magical item capable of temporarily halting its dispersion, which allows for swift absorption."

After a brief pause, he continued, "There's another method, and that is to venture into an ancient battlefield. During the Celestial Battle, there were countless such battlefields, resulting in the demise of numerous cultivators. In certain places, due to their unique environmental and geographical conditions, these cultivators' nascence auras gather instead of dissipating, and they remain ownerless.

However, locating such locations is exceedingly challenging. Even if one does manage to find them, the unclaimed nascence aura there is turbulent and inherently hostile. Without ample strength, not only is absorbing and refining the nascence aura a formidable task, but it may also lead to one's downfall. The nascence aura is exceptionally precious and not easily obtained."

Mason wanted Kai to know how rare nascence auras were so Kai would appreciate it.

"Ah, I understand. Acquiring those elusive nascence auras seems like quite the challenge. It appears that achieving immortality remains a formidable feat even for those who have attained the level of Tribulator."

Kai had thought that once becoming a Tribulator cultivator, one could incrementally elevate one's cultivation level and ultimately attain immortality.

Yet, reality painted a different picture. The path to his goal appeared to demand an extensive investment of time and unwavering effort. Kai and Mason shifted their focus, reemerging from Kai's nascence space and returning to the realm of reality.

At that point, the spiritual rain had ceased, yet the disciples of the Tall family had significantly augmented their power, all thanks to the fortuitous blessing of the spiritual rain. It represented a substantial boon for the Tall family.

Both Mason and Kai were suspended midair. Mason announced, "Everyone, get down on your knees and thank Mr. Chance for the fortuitous blessing that he has provided."

Without hesitation, every member of the Tall family knelt down, their expressions filled with gratitude as they wholeheartedly thanked Kai.

Even Kaison, who was typically carefree and light-hearted, got down to his knees, utterly awestruck by Kai's remarkable strength.

After all, they had all borne witness to Kai's astounding progression of ascending from the Third Level Body Fusion Realm to the Fourth Level.

This achievement left them all in sheer awe. While some among them boasted higher cultivation levels than Kai, their admiration for him knew no bounds, especially since he had endured eleven formidable lightning tribulations.

Surviving nine lightning tribulations alone was deemed an act of genius, and enduring eleven was nothing short of extraordinary.

"Mr. Mason, this..." Kai's sense of helplessness washed over him. He couldn't fathom what he had done for the Tall family to earn their profound respect.

"Mr. Chance, you've bestowed a fortuitous blessing upon the Tall family. It's only fitting for me to request that they show their gratitude by kneeling before you," Mason said as he guided Kai back to the ground.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2955

"Kaison, aren't you going to greet Mr. Chance?" Mason said. Kaison quickly rose to his feet and approached Kai, his countenance now radiating admiration and profound respect. He didn't seem arrogant anymore.

Observing this transformation in his brother, Mason discerned that Kaison held a deep reverence for Kai's remarkable feat of enduring eleven lightning tribulations.

"Mr. Chance, this is my incompetent brother," Mason introduced. Knowing that Kaison was the one who abducted the girls, Kai cast him a frigid, piercing gaze.

Sensing the icy glare, Kaison shuddered and promptly slapped himself twice. "Mr. Chance, I was a fool to harm your friends. Please forgive me!"

Kaison's swift admission of his wrongdoing brought satisfaction to Mason. After all, he was well aware of Kaison's typically arrogant demeanor. Seeing that, Kai said in a deliberate, measured tone, "Since it is in the past, let it remain there."

"Kaison, tell Mr. Chance how you stumbled upon a treasure just a few days ago," Mason said.

Kaison nodded and began recounting the tale of how he had discovered the entrance to the treasure and engaged in a fierce struggle to obtain the key from the Demon Seal Alliance. "Demon Seal Alliance?" Kai was taken aback as he had never heard about this alliance.

Upon noticing Kai's reaction, Mason swiftly provided an explanation. "The Demon Seal Alliance is composed of numerous cultivators, united by their mission to capture Demonic Cultivators and confiscate their resources and wealth as a means of sustenance. This alliance operates across the Ethereal Realm, and many cultivators have opted to align themselves with it.

However, there is an air of uncertainty surrounding the authenticity of their claims about capturing Demonic Cultivators. Those who bear grievances against the Demon Seal Alliance are often branded as Demonic Cultivators, which results in the confiscation of their resources and wealth before they are sealed away."

After listening to Mason's explanation, Kai gained a clearer understanding of the nature of the Demon Seal Alliance. It appeared to be an entity fraught with questionable practices.

"Where is the entrance leading to the treasure? Let's head there now," Kai asked Kaison. "Mr. Chance, it's been several days, so I believe those individuals have already entered the site," Kaison said.

Kai pulled out the key to the treasure and said, "The real key is in my possession. They won't be able to unlock the entrance to the treasure. If that treasure proves to be authentic, they'll never gain access to its location!"

Kaison grew excited upon hearing that. "This is great! Let me lead the way there, Mr. Chance."

Kai nodded and proceeded to summon Cloud, Sunny, and the others to accompany him on this expedition. Kaison also enlisted the presence of several elders from the Tall family to join them on this journey.

Despite Kai's notable progress, he remained at the Fourth Level Body Fusion Realm, necessitating the inclusion of additional individuals to bolster their forces. Furthermore, as Kaison had asserted, the Five Slayers were exceptionally formidable adversaries.

While Kai possessed Demon Flogger, its effectiveness was limited to use against Demonic Cultivators. Instead of employing it against ordinary cultivators, he preferred relying on his Dragonslayer Sword for such encounters.

On their journey toward the treasure trove, Kai continued to delve deeper into his understanding of the lightning nascence. It marked his first encounter with the concept, making it all the more intriguing.

Along the way, Kai would frequently draw out the nascence aura and marvel at the crackling electricity dancing on his palm. He found it rather exciting.

He also contemplated the possibility of integrating the lightning nascence aura into his Thunder Palm technique to enhance its offensive capabilities.

However, he was keenly aware that the nascence aura he had grasped was quite limited. With each experiment, he risked depleting this precious resource.

As Kai and his companions proceeded toward the location of the treasure, another group was also en route to the same destination.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2956

These individuals were clad in matching attire, and three formidable Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks soared gracefully above them.

If Kai were present to witness this sight, he would undoubtedly recognize them as members of the Nesser family. Cameron led the group, and by his side was his son, Chev. Cameron's form was enveloped in a continuous, dazzling display of lightning.

"Dad, that heavenly thunder fruit was truly extraordinary. Just one bite of it propelled you to the peak of the Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm, bringing you closer to achieving Tribulator. Moreover, you now possess the power of lightning and have successfully tamed three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. It's truly remarkable! However, Elder Nesser's health hasn't shown improvement although he has consumed the heavenly thunder fruit."

Chev kept flattering his father.

"Elder Nesser was a Tribulator cultivator. Unfortunately, he couldn't make it past Tribulator and eventually passed away. A single heavenly thunder fruit can't bring him back. Our hope lies in finding the treasure. It's rumored to contain an Ice Soul Pill capable of rebuilding one's body. Once we secure that pill, Elder Nesser may have a chance at recovery," Cameron shared with Chev, his voice filled with determination.

Back at Hawk King Cave, after he got two heavenly thunder fruits, he had planned on giving them to Eamon, but in the end, he couldn't resist the temptation and refined one in secret.

This extraordinary fruit facilitated his ascent from the Eighth Level to the pinnacle of the Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm, placing him just a step away from reaching the coveted Tribulator.

If Kai were to discover that Cameron had achieved such a significant advancement, going from the Eighth Level to the Ninth with just one heavenly thunder fruit, it would undoubtedly ignite his ire.

After all, Kai had absorbed the ice soul fragment and consumed a heavenly thunder fruit himself, yet he had only managed to progress from the Third Level Body Fusion Realm to the Fourth Level.

Furthermore, Cameron had used the newfound power of lightning bestowed by the heavenly thunder fruit to stealthily return to Hawk King Cave when Thunderhawk was absent and successfully tamed several Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks.

It was evident that without the lightning energy granted by the heavenly thunder fruit, such an endeavor would have been utterly impossible for him.

"Dad, look! An ice bear!" Chev got excited when he saw an ice bear. This marked Cameron's first trip to the far north, and it was also his first encounter with an ice bear.

As Chev prepared to lead the group in capturing and subduing the creature, Cameron intervened abruptly, emitting a piercing cry that halted their actions. Hearing that cry, the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks flew straight to the ice bear.

Cameron opted for a different approach. He instructed the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks to kill the ice bear, prioritizing the conservation of their own strength. He reasoned that they needed to be in peak condition for potential confrontations with others once they reached the location of the treasure.

Sensing danger, the ice bear roared out loud before fleeing the scene. The three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks flew after it relentlessly.

The ice bear was running toward Kai's direction. Kaison suddenly pointed at the sky and asked, "Mr. Chance, look. What are those things in the sky?"

In the bitterly cold expanses of the far north, the frigid weather deterred most birds from taking to the skies.

As Kai looked up, he soon discerned that the winged creatures soaring above them were none other than the formidable Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. He immediately scowled.

Right then, Cloud, Sunny, and the like also discovered the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. "Those are Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. Why are they here? Is Thunderhawk here? We're in trouble."

"If Thunderhawk is here, we should leave now!"

Their guess was that Thunderhawk was here. Kai suspected that Thunderhawk might be in the vicinity given his unique ability to command the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. However, he soon detected something unusual in the surroundings.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2957

"You see, there are only three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks here. If Thunderhawk is here, there will be a large group of them. How can there be only three?"

Kai knew that from the time he had spent at Hawk King Cave. Those Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks usually covered the sky in flocks and were rarely seen alone. "Yeah, these Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks like to act in groups. How come there are only three this time?"

Lofton was puzzled as well. Soon, as they got closer, everyone finally saw the ice bear running on the ground. It turned out that these three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks were hunting the ice bear.

Kaison wondered, "This ice bear is at least at Sixth Level Body Fusion Realm. From what I can tell, those three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks you mentioned are at most at Fourth Level Body Fusion Realm! Why is this ice bear so scared that it's running away? It's really embarrassing for a creature from the far north..."

Kaison didn't recognize the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, but he knew that despite the ice bear being clearly stronger, it was fleeing in a fluster. Upon hearing Kaison's doubt, Cloud and the others chuckled.

Kai explained, "Don't be deceived by the ice bear's high cultivation level. In a real fight, it doesn't have an advantage. Besides, these Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks have the high ground. I guess the ice bear is not capable of fighting them back. Just wait and see..."

Just as Kai finished speaking, the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks caught up with the ice bear.

Rumble! Immediately, one of the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks spewed lightning from its mouth and struck at the ice bear.

Fortunately, the ice bear was able to avoid being hit by the lightning because it quickly halted. However, after the ice bear stopped, the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks launched their attacks.

As bolts of lightning continuously struck the ice bear at top speed, the ice bear swung its claws vigorously to counter the lightning bolts while roaring in anger. The ice bear used its tough claws to crush the lightning bolts directly.

Upon seeing that, the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks immediately spewed out bolts of lightning. When those lightning bolts connected together, they formed a large net of lightning. Then, the lightning net descended and enveloped the ice bear.

In that instant the ice bear was covered by the lightning net, it had no way of counterattacking. As arcs of electricity struck its body, it fell to the ground instantly.

Kaison, who witnessed the scene, was momentarily stunned. Now he understood why the ice bear had to flee for its life despite its high cultivation level.

“Mr. Chance, the lightning from these Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks seems similar to the lightning energy you possess...” Kaison said.

After all, Kai had comprehended the lightning nascence aura through the heavenly thunder fruit. Naturally, his power resembled the power of the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks.

“The lightning energy in my body is indeed similar to that of these Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks,” Kai said.

“If you consume the beast core of these Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, won’t the lightning energy in your body become even stronger?” Kaison quickly reminded.

“You’re right!” Kai nodded. In fact, when Kai saw the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, he had already thought of that.

By consuming the beast core of the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, he could once again comprehend the lightning nascence aura, which would in turn increase the lightning nascence aura in his nascence space.

The reason Kai had not acted immediately was that he was looking out for Thunderhawk. If Thunderhawk had indeed arrived with the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, he would have prioritized escaping rather than bothering himself with the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks.

However, it appeared that Thunderhawk was absent. Otherwise, Kai would have sensed the Tribulator aura long ago.

After knocking down the ice bear, the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks began to screech as they swooped down straight for the ice bear.

At that moment, Kai took action. He swiftly grabbed the ice bear and tossed it effortlessly in Kaison’s and the others’ direction.

The beast core of the ice bear was also a valuable resource. Kai couldn’t let the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks devour it because that would be a waste.

When the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks saw Kai snatch their ice bear, they immediately emitted screeching cries and spewed bolts of lightning from their mouths at Kai.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2958

Kai remained completely composed when facing the bolts of lightning. When he extended his hands, the lightning bolts swiftly converged in his hands as if they were drawn to him.

Following that, the accumulated lightning bolts transformed into a thunderous spear, which crackled with arcs of electricity all along its length! Then, Kai hurled the spear at the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks.

Crackle! As the spear approached the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, it instantly exploded, turning into thousands of arcs of electricity that spread out in all directions.

The Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, already imbued with lightning energy, should not have been afraid of these arcs of electricity. However, when the arcs exploded, the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks shrieked and hastily retreated.

Fear filled the eyes of the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. They looked genuinely afraid of the lightning power that Kai had unleashed.

The three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks flapped their wings and cast terrified glances at Kai before suddenly turning and trying to escape because they knew they were no match for Kai at all..

“Trying to run?” A faint smile curved Kai’s lips. If he allowed the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks to escape, it would be a disgrace. A faint electric arc appeared on Kai’s right palm. As it gradually expanded, it emitted crackling sounds.

When Kai thrust his palm forward, several bursts of lightning bolts struck the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks before they could react, catching them completely off guard.

Before the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks could even shriek, they were already struck down by the lightning energy. “This lightning nascence aura is indeed remarkable...”

Kai had a pleasantly surprised expression on his face. After all, it was his first time using his nascence aura.

Everyone was utterly shocked when they saw Kai effortlessly slay the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks with a simple wave of his hand, not to mention that the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks were still in flight.

Kai walked over to the corpses of the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks and had Cloud retrieve the beast cores from them.

The beast cores from the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks were of great help to Kai because they could assist him to further comprehend the lightning nascence aura.

“Kai, your control over lightning is incredible...” Sunny exclaimed in astonishment. He had no idea that Kai already possessed nascence space and had comprehended the lightning nascence aura. Kai was quite satisfied with himself as well.

It seemed that his comprehension of the lightning nascence aura had reached a certain level. When he observed the lightning energy emanating from those Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, his nascence space reacted in a peculiar way.

With the help of the lightning nascence aura, Kai could actually control lightning. If someone tried to use ordinary lightning against him, they would not only fail but might also be manipulated by him.

“I wonder if I can control the lightning energy of Thunderhawk if I encounter it,” Kai said with a sense of anticipation. He wanted to see if he could control the lightning energy emitted by Thunderhawk.

At this moment, Kaison approached Kai and said with a face full of admiration, “Mr. Chance, you are truly remarkable...”

“I just got lucky. If those three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks had flown separately, I wouldn’t have been able to kill them in one strike,” Kai replied modestly.

If the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks had flown in three different directions, Kai wouldn’t have been able to slay all three with a single wave of his hand..

After all, the amount of lightning nascence aura he could control was still limited. He couldn't execute simultaneous attacks in multiple directions yet.

While they were busy gathering the corpses of the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, a group of people slowly approached them from not far away.

"Dad, the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks are gone. Why can't we see them anymore?" Chev looked up and scanned the area but couldn't spot any sign of the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks.

"Maybe they escaped?" an elder from the Nesser family speculated.

"Impossible. Once those Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks are tamed and acknowledge a master, they won't run away."

Cameron shook his head as he looked up at the sky. He then made a few strange sounds, but the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks still did not return.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2959

"Dad, look! Someone's there," Chev said while pointing at Kai and his party not far away. Upon noticing the group of people ahead, Cameron furrowed his brows as well, looking tense. After all, every cultivator who was there was after the treasure.

"Mr. Chance, look over there. There are people approaching." At that moment, Kaison also noticed members of the Nesser family. Kai lifted his gaze, unleashing a massive wave of spiritual sense at the group of newcomers.

Although it was considered rude for strangers to probe each other with their spiritual sense without cause, one had to practice constant vigilance in that vast snowy expanse.

Kai wanted to determine who those people were and assess their cultivation level. If the other party was highly formidable, they could seize the opportunity to flee before encountering one another.

However, as soon as Kai's spiritual sense enveloped members of the Nesser family, he immediately frowned. "It's them? Why are they here?"

Kai instantly sensed it was Cameron and the others. They had previously crossed paths, so Kai was familiar with Cameron's aura.

Cameron, too, detected that someone was checking him out with their spiritual sense. A hint of anger flashed across his countenance as he spoke. "Prepare for battle." After warning everyone to get ready, he swiftly dashed toward Kai's group. As they drew nearer, Chev quickly noticed the three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks' corpses on the ground.

"F*ck! It was you who killed our Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks? Are you seeking death?" Chev bellowed, then ordered members of the Nesser family to surround Kai's party.

Ever since Cameron consumed the heavenly thunder fruit and ascended to the peak of Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm, Chev became significantly more arrogant, thinking that his father was now invincible..

Cameron stared at Kai with animosity. His hostility didn't stem from the killing of his Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. Instead, it was because of the heavenly thunder fruits. Back then, Kai had taken three heavenly thunder fruits from the heavenly thunder tree in Hawk King Cave.

Looking at Kai, who was just a Fourth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, Cameron reckoned Kai had yet to consume the three heavenly thunder fruits. If the three heavenly thunder fruits are still in his possession, the prices they can fetch are no lesser than the Ice Soul Pill! If I can obtain three heavenly thunder fruits, it won't matter whether I locate the treasure or not!

Right then, Cloud stepped forward. "I didn't expect you, members of the Nesser family, to be here too!"

Chev sized up Cloud. "Who are you?"

"I'm the scion of Stellaris Sect, Cloud Seizon," Cloud introduced himself. "I see. You're the scion of Stellaris Sect. What are you doing with these people?" Cameron asked.

"They're my friends. Mr. Nesser, killing your Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks is a misunderstanding. If you require compensation, I'll ensure your family is handsomely reimbursed when I return to Stellaris Sect," Cloud said to Cameron.

With the immense wealth of Stellaris Sect backing him, Cloud was quite generous. "Whether this is a misunderstanding or not, I must settle the score today. Mr. Seizon, you might want to step back," Cameron said coldly.

Cloud frowned. “Mr. Nesser, could you do me at favor? I-”

“No! Get lost, or I’ll teach you a lesson too!” Chev interrupted rudely. The Nesser family now had an elevated status. With Cameron at the peak of Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm and the revival of their elder, Eamon, they were no longer the same old Nesser family.

Feeling utterly full of himself, Chev completely disregarded Stellaris Sect.

“You!” Cloud was livid, but there was nothing he could do about it. Stellaris Sect’s primary focus was in the logistics business, making them a semi-commercial family. Hence, combat capability wasn’t their forte.

Now that the Nesser family was unwilling to show him courtesy, Cloud was stumped.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2960

“Everyone, I’m Kaison Tall from the Tall family. I don’t care who you all are, but if you dare lay a finger on me here, I guarantee you won’t be able to leave the far north,” Kaison said to Cameron while taking two steps forward.

“The Tall family?” Cameron furrowed his brows. I’ve heard of the Tall family! The Tall family was, after all, considered the largest and most influential clan in the far north.

“Mr. Tall, even if you’re from the Tall family, you all have killed our Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks. Surely, we can’t just let this matter slide?” Cameron added.

“The Tall family will agree to whatever compensation you demand,” replied Kaison. Everyone could tell Cameron was at the peak of Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm, and no one among Kai’s party was his opponent.

Cameron’s cultivation level was the highest among all present.

“The reimbursement I require is simple. This brat, Kai, has three heavenly thunder fruits. As long as he hands over the fruits, I’ll leave right away, and we’ll overlook the killing of these three Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks!” Cameron said while pointing at Kai.

Seeing that Kai, a Fourth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, had the lowest cultivation level among the group, Cameron mistakenly thought Kai was just an insignificant follower.

Unbeknownst to Cameron, Kai was actually their leader, and all of them had to take orders from him. Upon hearing that, Kaison turned to look at Kai, not daring to make decisions for him.

Kai stared at Cameron. He knew Cameron must've consumed the heavenly thunder fruit. Otherwise, it was impossible for him to advance from the Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm to the peak of Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm within such a short period.

"You want my heavenly thunder fruits?" Kai flashed a faint smile.

"That's right!" Cameron nodded. "Unfortunately, I ate the heavenly thunder fruits. Even if I didn't, I wouldn't give them to you. What will you do about it?" Kai sneered.

"F*ck! Are you tired of living?" Chev, seeing Kai's audacity to speak to his father in such a disrespectful manner, instantly flew into a rage.

Cameron narrowed his eyes at Kai, then turned to speak to Kai's comrades. "Fellow cultivators, I have some personal grudges with this brat, so I hope you won't intervene. As long as you leave now, I promise I won't harm you."

Cameron intended to convince others to abandon Kai as it wasn't his wish to offend both Stellaris Sect and the Tall family.

Moreover, Kai's party consisted of a few Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators. If both sides truly engaged in a fight, even if the Nesser family could win, it would be a Pyrrhic victory. Cameron only wanted to deal with Kai and acquire his heavenly thunder fruits.

In his opinion, those people would never go against the Nesser family for the sake of a trifling cultivator like Kai.

Unexpectedly, right after Cameron finished his sentence, Sunny roared, "Quit spouting nonsense! Personal grudge, my foot! You're just a bunch of robbers! We won't leave. We'll fight alongside Kai!"

“Mr. Chance is the Tall family’s guest. No matter what grudges you have, we will always stand by him,” Mason added.

Cameron was stunned upon witnessing the surprising turn of events. He couldn’t fathom why those people regarded a minor Fourth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator with such reverence.

“You’re just a cultivator at the peak of Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm now, and your subordinates are mostly Seventh or Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators. Are you confident you could secure a win if we were to fight? I can’t believe you’re even thinking of taking away my heavenly thunder fruits. What a joke. Not only have I killed your Bloodthirsty Thunderhawks, but I’m also going to teach you a lesson. Otherwise, you’ll continue to live with the false impression that I’m a pushover!” Kai said coldly to Cameron.

Just as Kai finished his sentence, everyone in the Tall family, Sunny, Cloud, and the others, immediately got into their fighting stance, looking as if they were ready for a fierce battle.

All of a sudden, Kai had the upper hand over Cameron.