

The Mans Decree Chapter 3126

“Fuse with this egg?” Kai was taken aback. “If what’s inside is a monster, won’t I become one too?”

Kai had no desire to transform into a monster. If that were to occur, he feared his women would flee from him.

“What’s on your mind? Regardless of what’s contained within, it’s merely an embryonic form yet to reach its full potential. I’m suggesting you merge with it to harness its power, not to become a monster! I’m just a lingering soul remnant, so this is beyond my reach. Besides, those who are still living here are divine soul spirits as well. They can’t merge with the egg. If they could, this opportunity would never have come your way.”

Kai grew flustered when he heard that. “Sorry, Sir. I have too many women. If I were to become a monster, they’d all leave me. I’ll fuse with it now...”

With that, a few drops of blood essence condensed on his forehead, and he dripped them on the giant egg.

Those drops of blood essence were one with Kai’s life force energy. Once those drops of blood essence came close to the giant egg, a powerful suction force quickly absorbed them.

Buzz!

Immediately, Kai felt a stabbing pain in his head, but he clenched his teeth and endured it. He focused his divine soul on the drops of blood essence as they entered the giant egg.

There was immense pressure within the egg, and Kai’s body began shaking. Merging with such an incredibly potent egg was no easy task. If Kai’s divine soul was not sturdy enough, he would suffer a backlash. However, the middle-aged man seemed unworried.

“Hang on a little longer. As the Golden Dragon’s True Form, you can’t possibly be this fragile. So what if the egg is a manifestation of nature’s power? It can never defeat the Golden Dragon’s True Form,” the middle-aged man encouraged.

Roar! All of a sudden, a thunderous roar echoed in Kai's mind. It was so loud it could destroy universes. Faiyar, who was within Kai's consciousness field, could only lie on the ground in misery and endure the moment.

Kai was suffering at the same time. His eyes had turned red, and he appeared rather frightening. The roar went on, seemingly intending to: shatter Kai's divine soul and destroy him. The giant egg seemed to have realized that someone was trying to merge with it and was resisting.

Kai was stunned to his core. This was just an egg, and yet, it already possessed such power and nearly crushed his divine soul. If the creature within were to hatch, he could not imagine what manner of creature it would be.

Perhaps the entire Ethereal Realm would be annihilated. Gritting his teeth, Kai continued to attach his divine soul to the drops of blood essence as he absorbed the power inside the egg.

At that moment, as though there was an energy chain linking his divine soul and body, the energy within the egg was getting transported outward.

As Kai struggled with the challenging process of merging with the enormous egg, extending his hand to make contact with it, a shockwave erupted in all directions.

Out of nowhere, an immense wave surged forth, sweeping away all the cultivators who were drawing in spiritual energy from the spirit spring. What followed were torrents of spiritual energy surging wildly in all directions.

"What's going on?" the people cried out as they stared at the spirit spring, which had been peaceful up until a second ago. Accompanying the massive wave was a deafening explosion..

A mass of black fog was quickly spreading and enshrouding everyone in it. It was at that moment the people panicked, thinking that the evil spirits in the area had come down to kill them.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3127

Many people started to flee, but there was no way to escape from such a place.

“Hmph! They’re just evil spirits! There’s no need to be scared,” Fayzon said disdainfully. What can these evil spirits do even if they follow us around, anyway? They’re lacking in strength and can’t possibly do us any harm.

However, Fayzon quickly realized that something was not right because there seemed to be a glimmer of light amid the black fog. Immediately after that, he saw an oddly-shaped beast that emitted a dazzling light from the top of its head.

“These are not evil spirits! These aren’t-”

When Zordey realized this, he began to shout. Montane Daemon and the others stared wide-eyed at this strange beast. They were clearly in shock as well.

“What kind of strange beast is this? It looks horrifying,” said Cloud, still reeling from the shock. He could see the light shining from the beast’s head. It had a long mouth like an eagle’s beak, as well as a pair of wings that flapped endlessly, creating waves of howling gales. The beast was also covered in silver feathers.

“This is an ancient silverfeather hawk. What is it doing here? Do such ancient beasts still exist?” exclaimed Montane Daemon after getting a proper look at the creature.

He had seen an entry about this beast in some ancient records. This beast was very ferocious and lived on the top of Revenant Mountain. It never descended from the peaks. However, many cultivators had captured and tamed the silverfeather hawk and turned these beasts into pets or mounts.

Revenant Mountain was located in the Celestial Realm. So why did this beast suddenly appear in the Ethereal Realm?

Typically, a silverfeather hawk had to be accompanied by its master. As Montane Daemon was mulling over this, the silverfeather hawk had already launched an attack on Fayzon, Zordey, as well as the others.

“D*mn it! There are so many people around! Why did it have to target us?” cursed Zordey as he started to run for dear life.

Fayzon appeared visibly worried as well, but he did not run away. Instead, as the silverfeather hawk swooped down at him, he quickly evaded the attack.

When the silverfeather hawk realized that Fayzon had dodged the attack, it merely glanced at Fayzon before setting its sight on Zordey once more.

Zordey began to flee for his life again. The silverfeather hawk let out a strange cry, and soon, the cultivators began to scream and fall to their knees. Immediately after that, they were gobbled up by the silverfeather hawk with no traces left behind..

“Hurry! Stop it!”

When Zordey saw this, he hurriedly issued a command to the Zupakie family’s subordinates, telling them to stop the silverfeather hawk.

Yet, who was going to care in this situation? The subordinates of the Zupakie family were trembling in fear.

“Mr. Leaveden! Save me! Help!”

Zordey had no choice but to ask Fayzon, but the latter pretended not to hear him. Fayzon was not going to put himself in danger for Zordey’s sake.

Zordey was now dumbfounded. He had assumed that if he were willing to serve as Fayzon’s lackey, Fayzon would be able to help him.

Unfortunately, he had gotten ahead of himself. Seeing that he had no way to escape, Zordey chose to stop running. He glared at the silverfeather hawk in an icy rage.

“Why are you only pursuing me, you foul beast? Are you just picking on me? Well, I’m going to teach you a lesson today!”

The Top Level Body Fusion Realm aura started to flow out of Zordey’s body. Following the explosion of Zordey’s aura, the traces of blood in his body were forced out before condensing into a blood orb.

Zordey’s body began to wither quickly as if it were being completely drained of its blood. There was a bloody mist around him that continued to condense into multiple blood orbs.

“What is Zordey trying to do?” asked Cloud when he saw what was happening. He seemed completely bewildered. “He’s saving his own skin,” said Montane Daemon with a faint smile.

They watched as the countless blood orbs began to gain human forms that looked remarkably like Zordey.

The auras they exuded were also exactly the same. Zordey's body resembled a shriveled balloon, and he collapsed to the ground.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3128

Sure enough, this technique had successfully deceived the silverfeather hawk as it charged straight at the blood figure.

With a loud noise, the blood figure exploded. A bloody mist floated above its head, spreading to the surrounding area. The silverfeather hawk was thrust straight into the mist, which turned its silver feathers a blood red.

The now-bloodied silverfeather hawk looked even more terrifying than before. Many cultivators began to tremble in fear when they smelled the metallic scent of blood and saw how horrifying that creature looked.

However, the silverfeather hawk did not attack anyone else. Its sole target seemed to be Zordey. After getting itself drenched in blood, the silverfeather hawk then swept into a faintly red blood pool before disappearing in an instant.

“Why is this demon beast only attacking Zordey?”

Cloud could not understand what he was seeing. Montane Daemon seemed to realize something and gave Cloud a faint smile in return. “I think this creature has sniffed out Zordey's life-preserving techniques. That's why it only targeted Zordey. Haven't you noticed how it deliberately flew into the blood mist? After getting drenched in blood, it then went straight for the spirit spring. I think there's something in that spirit spring.”

Cloud smiled when he heard this. The Zupakie family's life-preservation technique is strange indeed. Now, it has turned into an open target for the demon beast. I reckon Zordey isn't happy about this at all.

After the demon beast plunged headlong into the spirit spring, the once-shriveled body of Zordey then slowly stood up. He seemed much older, and his breathing was weak, but his life had been preserved nonetheless.

“Darn it! Why did it attack me alone?” hissed Zordey through gritted teeth. He was enraged by this. Many of the onlookers could not help but laugh in secret when they saw this, but more people had started to worry as well.

If there were more than one of these demon beasts here, then they were effectively trapped and could only await their deaths. They had come to seek treasure but found nothing. Instead, they only ended up risking their lives.

Right now, Kai was absorbing all the energy from the giant egg. Yet, he seemed unaware that his body appeared translucent as if it could disappear at any time.

The shell of the giant egg had started to turn transparent until Kai could finally see that the dome itself seemed to be a chaotic world that was slowly becoming more visible. Kai could also see that the albumen and the yolk had a clear distinction.

In the egg yolk area, a blurry, shadowy figure was floating inside. Eight looming energy chains surrounded the figure, effectively binding it, yet they were also continuously siphoning energy from the giant egg toward the figure.

Soon, the figure became clearer and clearer until Kai was surprised to see that the figure in the giant egg was none other than himself.

Kai was absolutely horrified. He instinctively wanted to look at the middle-aged man to ask him what was going on. However, as soon as he turned his head, he felt everything go dark. When he opened his eyes, he found himself inside the giant egg.

He seemed to be imprisoned as if he was being trapped inside a cage. Kai panicked and began to struggle. Don't move. The fusion will be complete soon. If you struggle, this process will fail!

The middle-aged man's voice sounded in Kai's mind. When Kai heard this, he immediately stopped moving and stayed very still, feeling the constant influx of energy into his body. Just then, Kai's Golem Body activated itself, covering him with golden scales.

The liquid in the giant egg wrapped itself around Kai's body, causing Kai to undergo changes. His Golem Body had become even more resplendent as a result.

Right now, Kai felt extremely at ease, like a baby lying in his mother's arms.

However, Kai then realized that he needed to break out of the giant egg eventually, and he found the thought of it quite outrageous.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3129

Hum! All of a sudden, the giant egg began to tremor, a phenomenon that triggered an anxious look in the middle-aged man's eyes..

At the same time, Kai could see massive waves outside the egg. It was clear that someone was approaching them rapidly after breaking through the spatial dimension.

"Someone's coming. No matter what, don't move," the middle-aged man instructed Kai. Nodding in acknowledgment, Kai had no choice but to quietly look outside through the eggshell.

Soon, a giant demon beast emerged, its body drenched in blood. It was one that Kai had never seen before. The sharp beak it possessed was similar to that of an eagle.

However, the sight of the demon beast brought a sense of relief to the middle-aged man, whose tensed brow gradually eased. Upon arriving in front of the middle-aged man, the demon beast morphed into the shape of a man!

"You, silverfeather hawk, you're nothing but a mount. Now that your master is dead, how dare you covet this giant egg?" the middle-aged man asked in disdain.

"Even a soul remnant like you is coveting it, so why can't I?" the silverfeather hawk sneered.

"Bullsh*t. Who do you think you are to dare compare yourself to the Draconians? Don't think that the human blood coursing through you can hide your inferior bloodline. Your species is only worthy of serving as a mount. The giant egg is a product nurtured by the heavens and the earth. It isn't something lowly beings like you can lay your fingers upon. Besides, you're already too late. This egg is now in the possession of the Draconians. If you don't believe me, you can see for yourself," the middle-aged man asserted with a smirk.

The middle-aged man's disparagement infuriated the silverfeather hawk. However, the sight of Kai in the giant egg astounded it.

"Someone is trying to amalgamate with the egg? I won't let him succeed!" While speaking, the silverfeather hawk transformed back into a giant hawk that let out a thundering screech.

Nevertheless, the middle-aged man remained unfazed despite the fact that the silverfeather hawk was about to attack him.

All of a sudden, the silverfeather hawk swung its wing forward and smacked the middle-aged man, sending him flying.

Subsequently, the middle-aged man's body gradually dissipated in midair. Meanwhile, Kai, who was inside the egg, was instantly outraged by the turn of events.

"Don't move. As a soul remnant, I don't have much time left. Even if the silverfeather hawk hadn't struck me, I'm due to disappear soon. Calm down and take your time to fuse with the egg. I'm afraid the fate of the Draconians lies in your hands now," the middle-aged man's voice echoed in Kai's ear.

As for his body, it grew fainter by the second before disappearing completely. After smacking the middle-aged man out of the way, the silverfeather hawk attempted to grab the egg with its talons.

It wanted to capture Kai by crushing the egg. Even though Kai had absorbed most of the power within the giant egg, the silverfeather hawk figured that it could still obtain that power by swallowing Kai.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The silverfeather hawk brought its talons down upon the eggshell relentlessly. Despite looking fragile, the eggshell didn't show any damage from the silverfeather hawk's attacks.

The silverfeather hawk's inability to penetrate the shell brought Kai a sense of relief as he continued fusing himself with the egg. Nevertheless, the raging silverfeather hawk intensified its efforts but quickly exerted all its strength.

By then, all it could do was stare intently at Kai through the egg's translucent shell. While it did so, the piercing glint in its eyes was unmistakable.

It was waiting for the moment when Kai would emerge from the egg, allowing it the opportunity to swallow the latter.

Crack...

A crisp sound abruptly heralded the appearance of a hairline crack on the previously hardy eggshell.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3130

In response, the silverfeather hawk's eyes widened swiftly as two blistering rays shot out from its eyes.

Crack... Crack... Crack...

When the rays contacted the eggshell, they hastened the speed at which it was breaking. In the meantime, Kai was holding Dragonslayer Sword inside, waiting to charge. out and engage the silverfeather hawk in battle.

Crash...

Finally, when the egg collapsed into pieces, Kai flew out at the first opportunity. As Golem Body covered his body with a jarring golden light, he brought Dragonslayer Sword down upon the silverfeather hawk.

Whoosh!

Being in the water didn't hinder Kai's speed at all. However, when the silverfeather hawk noticed that Kai was no more than a weak Fifth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, its eyes brimmed with scorn.

Even though its actual body had long disappeared and its strength weakened significantly, it was still strong enough to easily overpower someone of that level.

Even Zordey, a Top Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, could only flee in its presence.

Consequently, the silverfeather hawk didn't care to dodge the attack. Instead, it attempted to intercept Dragonslayer Sword with its beak.

When he saw the silverfeather hawk's arrogance, Kai couldn't help but feel elated. Hence, he unleashed the Power of Dragons the moment Dragonslayer Sword made contact, causing the draconic essence in front of his chest to emit a blinding glow.

Boom! The draconic energy stored within the draconic essence abruptly exploded, elevating Kai's Power of Dragons manifold as Dragonslayer Sword struck the silverfeather hawk's beak. The tremendous power released threw the silverfeather hawk back instantaneously.

Due to its assumption that Kai was a weak Fifth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, the silverfeather hawk had let its guard down, giving Kai an opening to deal it a powerful blow.

After the silverfeather hawk was beaten back, Kai leaped upward and attempted to speed out of the spirit spring.

He was cognizant that the silverfeather hawk was a formidable opponent despite it suffering an injury from its carelessness.

Moreover, if he were to battle it in the water, he would be put at a disadvantage. That was the reason why he knew he had to first exit the water.

Just like an arrow, Kai's body shot through the surface of the water, yet he continued his trajectory into the sky.

Only then did he realize that the restrictions there were now ineffective against him, allowing him to fly at will. Nonetheless, when Kai emerged from the water, the enraged silverfeather hawk pursued him accordingly.

While in flight, Kai had the silverfeather hawk hot on his tail. Meanwhile, the other cultivators who were still looking for a way out were shocked by the sudden turn of events.

"Mr. Chance! That's Mr. Chance!" Cloud yelled the moment he spotted Kai emerging from the water. However, the sight of the silverfeather hawk behind the latter caused his face to turn pale.

Realizing the same, Montane Daemon leaped into the air, hoping to lend Kai a hand. Unfortunately, the restriction in the area quickly pulled him back to the ground. Without the ability to fly, there was little he could do to assist.

Right then, the panicking Montane Daemon could only look up at the sky and shout, "Mr. Chance, come down here. We'll defeat the demon beast together!"

Despite his words, Kai was out of earshot as he soared higher into the sky. In contrast to Montane Daemon, Fayzon and Zordey broke into smug smiles. "Hahaha! That beast was chasing me earlier, but now, it's chasing that b*stard..."

A sense of schadenfreude elicited hearty laughter from Zordey. However, no sooner had he spoken than he suddenly felt a chill.

Zordey quickly realized that Cloud and Montane Daemon were both staring daggers at him. Terrified by the look in their eyes, Zordey shut his mouth at once.

He didn't dare get into another fight due to his diminished strength. On top of that, the presence of Montane Daemon couldn't be ignored. Even with him, his men, and Fayzon combined, they were still no match for Cloud, Renault, and Montane Daemon.
