

The Mans Decree Chapter 3251

Chapter 3251 Left Without A Choice

Right then, a tense atmosphere descended upon the grand hall of the Seizon residence. Even if Kai was summoned, there was no way Lawrence would allow Behemoth Palace to take him away.

Saving Claudius' life aside, Kai had a cosmos as his nascence space. This capability alone made Lawrence certain that Kai would go on to become a great hero. When that happened, the Seizon family would be nothing to him.

As a result, he wanted to be on good terms with Kai before the latter became successful so that the Seizon family could bask in the latter's glory when the time came. About ten minutes later, Cade returned, but Kai was nowhere to be seen.

"What's going on?" Lawrence asked quickly.

"Father, Mr. Chance is not in his room. It seems that he has left," Cade replied candidly.

"You let him get away on purpose, didn't you?"

Jonah expressed his displeasure upon hearing the news. However, Cade merely shot him a glare and paid no heed to him.

Meanwhile, Lawrence fell into deep thought. He knew that Kai wouldn't leave the Seizon residence, and even if the latter did, he would definitely say goodbye.

All of a sudden, he remembered that Miya was also missing. Linking it together with Kai's disappearance, something dawned upon Lawrence. He figured that Miya must have led Kai into the ancestral land through the secret tunnel.

Few knew about the route, but Miya was one of them. Hence, Lawrence had no doubt that the two had gone ahead of everyone toward the ancestral land.

Although the ancestral land was considered forbidden grounds, Lawrence didn't mind Kai trespassing on it.

“Lawrence, now that Kai has fled, how are we going to explain to Behemoth Palace? He’s the one who started this. There’s no way Behemoth Palace would let the matter slide just like that,” Enrique questioned Lawrence. It was clear that he was taking Behemoth Palace’s side.

“Since Mr. Chance isn’t around, let’s have the members of Behemoth Palace go back first. When he returns, I’ll personally deliver him to them. I’m sure this is a satisfactory solution, isn’t it?” Lawrence replied.

“That’s not acceptable, Mr. Lawrence. I demand that justice be served today for my son’s broken arm. Otherwise, I’ll have no choice but to resort to force.”

The moment Gideon finished, members of Behemoth Palace broke into fighting stances. Moreover, a flurry of footsteps was suddenly heard outside before it grew so loud that the grand hall trembled as if there was an earthquake.

As the crowd looked out the window, they saw a huge group of Behemoth Palace members gathered outside, every single one of them tall and strong. It was evident that Behemoth Palace was prepared for conflict that day.

The sight brought a drastic change to Lawrence’s countenance. “Gideon, this is Yellow Blue City. It’s the Seizon family’s turf, not Behemoth Palace’s. Do you think we’re afraid of your intimidation?”

No sooner had Lawrence spoken than he unleashed his aura. Concurrently, Cade pulled out his sword while the other members of the Seizon family prepared for battle. Tension filled the air as a brutal war could break out at any time.

“Lawrence, why do you insist on fighting Behemoth Palace on such an occasion for Kai’s sake? How can you, as the head of the family, ignore everyone else’s interest? Given how long we’ve waited to explore the ancestral land, how can we cast our plans aside just like that?”

Enrique seized upon the opportunity to put Lawrence in a spot.

Upon hearing Enrique’s protest, members of the extended Seizon family began to pile pressure on Lawrence. After all, all of them would suffer if a fight were to break out. Moreover, they would miss the opportunity to explore the ancestral land.

At that moment, Lawrence had become the target of everyone's dissatisfaction. He knew that he was the victim of Enrique's plot the moment Behemoth Palace appeared.

Nevertheless, the circumstances seemed to have left him with no choice.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3252

Chapter 3252 Bargaining

Chip

"I already said that once Mr. Chance returns, I'll personally bring him before the members of Behemoth Palace. If you're still dissatisfied with that, what more can I do? Now that he's not here, can I conjure him out of thin air?" Lawrence snapped, fuming with anger.

"Even if Kai isn't here, it doesn't mean we can't negotiate with Mr. Gideon and make up for it in other ways. Why must we resort to violence?" Enrique remarked.

"Fine. I'll give them whatever they want. Do they want money or mystical herbs?"

Lawrence finally relented. Let's send these people from Behemoth Palace away first. Once the ancestral land closed, Lawrence would take action against Enrique without hesitation. He had initially held back due to their brotherhood, but now it seemed he was overthinking it.

"What compensation do you need for this, Mr. Gideon?" Enrique turned to Gideon and asked.

"We members of Behemoth Palace aren't beggars and don't lack money or resources. I don't need all that. However, I heard that the Seizon family's ancestral land is now open, with many independent nascences inside. I seek only to let my son enter your ancestral land and experience it," Gideon replied.

Enrique glanced at Jonah and said, "Mr. Gideon, your son appears to have not yet comprehended nascence. Even if he enters our ancestral land, he won't gain much, so why bother?"

Despite being a Third Level Tribulator cultivator, Jonah hasn't yet comprehended nascence. Even with the many independent nascences, they are all useless to him.

"You're probably unaware of this, Mr. Enrique, but I have more than one son."

After Gideon finished speaking, another tall, well-built young man entered from outside. There was a certain resemblance between the young man and Jonah, but the aura he exuded was visibly greater than the latter's.

"This is also my son, Jadiel Quattlebaum. He just activated his nascence space not long ago. I heard that there are many nascence beasts in the Seizon family's ancestral land, and killing them provides the opportunity to comprehend nascence. So, I want my son to give it a shot," Gideon explained.

"Who would've thought you had another son who has activated his nascence space? Such a promising young man!" Enrique exclaimed, staring at Jadiel in surprise.

Cade seethed with anger upon seeing Enrique's reaction. It's blatantly obvious that Enrique and Gideon are putting on an act! Enrique just went to Behemoth Palace some time ago. How could he be unaware that Gideon has two sons? Also, Gideon's condition today was most likely presented by Enrique. After all, considering that Behemoth Palace is located in the northern region, how could they be so well informed about the situation in the Seizon family's ancestral land?

The fact that Enrique was still putting on an act in front of everyone ignited Cade's rage. Lawrence regarded his younger brother with a cold expression, and murderous intent sparked in his eyes.

He never imagined Enrique would dare to compromise the Seizon family's ancestral land. Gideon's condition must be Enrique's idea. Enrique used this as a bargaining chip to get Behemoth Palace to collaborate with him!

"Lawrence, do you think the condition proposed by Mr. Gideon is acceptable?" Enrique asked his brother. "What do you think?" Lawrence retorted, his expression frigid. "Don't you know the rules of the Seizon family's ancestral land? Outsiders are prohibited from entering the ancestral land. The members of Behemoth Palace have no connections with our family, so how can they enter the family's ancestral land..."

“I’m aware of this rule, Lawrence, but I also know that as long as the head of the household takes out the family head token, outsiders can enter the ancestral land. When our ancestors made the rules, they specified that as long as the person was of great help to our family, they could enter even if they were outsiders!” said Enrique.

Upon hearing that, Lawrence slammed his hand on the table in fury. “What kind of help has Behemoth Palace given to us? Can my family head token be given to anyone at will?”

“Isn’t this a unique situation, Lawrence? You ought to be more broad-minded. Otherwise, none of us will be able to enter the ancestral land,” Enrique hurriedly said.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3253

Chapter 3253 Give In

“Even if everyone doesn’t get to enter the ancestral land, there’s no way I’ll let anyone from Behemoth Palace enter!” Lawrence bellowed, his face flushed with anger.

“Mr. Lawrence, since you don’t agree to this condition, save your breath and let our fists do the talking!”

The moment Gideon finished speaking, the auras of the members of Behemoth Palace surged once more.

“Mr. Lawrence, just let the young man enter. What difference would it make? It’s just one person. It’s not as if he can use up a lot of unclaimed nascence.”

“Exactly. We can’t just hinder ourselves from entering the ancestral land as well because of this matter.”

“The development of we from the branch families is slow in the first place. After so many years of waiting, if we still can’t enter the ancestral land, what will we, the descendants, rely on to enhance our abilities?”

Those from the branch families began to pressure Lawrence once more.

A hint of a smile tugged at Enrique’s lips. I will surely defeat Lawrence today! If Lawrence allows Gideon’s son to enter the ancestral land, I have fulfilled my promise to Gideon, and my collaboration with him is secured. On the other hand, if Lawrence is hell-bent on refusing Gideon's son entry to the ancestral land, he will offend the many members of the Seizon family's side branches.

Consequently, Enrique could win over those from the branch families, isolate Lawrence, and the next head of the family position would go to him. Hence, regardless of Lawrence's decision that day, Enrique was guaranteed victory.

Lawrence stared at those from the branch families before glancing at Enrique, who wore a faint smile. His face had turned beet red from anger, and he was trembling slightly.

Despite knowing very well that it was Enrique's trap, Lawrence had no choice but to enter it.

Upon seeing the extent of his father's fury, Cade snapped, "Enrique, what are your intentions in colluding with Behemoth Palace? Don't think no one knew about your visit to Behemoth Palace some time ago."

He had tailed Enrique the entire way to Behemoth Palace back then, so when he saw the latter putting on an act alongside Gideon earlier, he could not stand it any longer.

Now, I'm going to reveal Enrique's true colors. Enrique's expression turned icy. "I'm your uncle, Cade. How dare you be so disrespectful toward me. Did your dad not teach you manners?"

"Cade, how dare you address my dad by his first name and falsely accuse him of colluding with Behemoth Palace! Do you have any respect for your elders? You have disrespected your elder and must be punished!" Yorath stepped forward and shouted at Cade.

"Yorath, you are also disrespecting your elder by addressing my older brother in such a manner, so you must also be punished," Livya said, defending Cade.

Genya also spoke up. "You're but an immature kid, Livya. Do you have any right to speak here? You'd better go and look for Miya. Who knows? She may be sleeping with some uncivilized man."

“You...” Livya’s face turned red in anger. However, she had to admit that when it came to arguing, Miya was better than her. Lawrence frowned as he observed the chaos at the scene. “That’s enough. Shut up, all of you!”

Everyone fell silent at his words. “You’re right, Enrique. Regarding this matter, I’ll do as you say. I can take out the family head token and allow someone from Behemoth Palace to enter the ancestral land.”

Lawrence ultimately gave in and took out the family head token resignedly. Enrique broke into a smile when he saw that. “I must commend you for being wise and grasping the bigger picture, Lawrence. How else could you have become the family head...”

Enrique accepted the family head token and gave it to Jadiel. He then shared a smile with Gideon. Having settled this matter, everyone started heading toward the Seizon family’s ancestral land.

A group of a few dozen people ended up marching into the ancestral land. Jadiel stood out the most in the group as he was almost two heads taller than the others. Yorath and Genya walked on either side of him, chatting merrily.

Livya could only glare viciously at them, not daring to say anything. With Cade not qualified to enter and Miya gone who knew where, she was alone and helpless.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3254

Chapter 3254 Family

“Livya, don’t worry. I’m here for you,” Cloud whispered as he approached Livya amidst the crowd.

Livya glanced at Cloud, smiled, and nodded. Regardless of Cloud’s strength at the moment, having him by her side made her feel less alone. While Livya and Cloud spoke, Genya, not far away, spotted Cloud.

“Yorath, look, isn’t that the alchemist Cade brought in? How did he manage to get in?” Genya uttered, pointing at Cloud.

When Cade had brought Kai and the others here, he claimed that they were alchemists, so Genya and the others assumed that Cloud was also an alchemist.

Yorath glanced over and sneered. "It must be some trick by Cade to let this guy infiltrate the team into the ancestral land. Don't you see how he's even wearing the Seizon family clothes? But it doesn't matter. Even if he's in the Seizon family's attire, entering the ancestral land won't help. When Old Mr. Ozrell exposes him, let's see how they'll explain."

Yorath did not expose Cloud on the spot; he planned to wait until they entered the ancestral land. It would be more entertaining when Ozrell confronted him.

The group quickly entered the ancestral land and proceeded into the grand hall. The Seizon family's ancestor was still sitting in the center of the hall, eyes half-closed.

Seeing this, the people of the Seizon family went on their knees and bowed, loudly declaring, "Greetings, Old Mr. Ozrell."

Ozrell slowly opened his eyes and immediately focused his gaze on Jadel. Without needing to check his bloodline, Ozrell could tell Jadel was not of the Seizon family.

"What's going on? Why is there an outsider here?" Ozrell asked coldly.

"Old Mr. Ozrell, this is Mr. Jadel from Behemoth Palace. As our Seizon family owes Behemoth Palace a favor, the head of the family has allowed Mr. Jadel to enter the ancestral land. Here is the family head token."

Yorath hurriedly presented the family head token to Ozrell. Ozrell briefly glanced at it, not saying anything. Instead, he waved his hand, opening a portal behind him. With the portal open, everyone could enter the ancestral land. However, Yorath wore a puzzled expression.

"Old Mr. Ozrell, don't you need to verify our identities? What if someone has infiltrated us?" Yorath asked.

"No one has infiltrated you. I have already checked. These people all possess Seizon blood," Ozrell replied indifferently.

"Old Mr. Ozrell, a-are you sure? Shouldn't we double-check?"

Yorath could clearly see Cloud among them, but Ozrell did not seem to notice.

“Are you questioning me?”

Ozrell coldly looked at Yorath. With just that gaze, Yorath was frightened to the point he fell onto his knees to repeatedly bow. “Old Mr. Ozrell, forgive me. I dare not question you.”

Right then, Genya pulled Cloud out of the group and spoke up. “Old Mr. Ozrell, there is indeed an outsider in this group.”

“Genya, what are you doing?” Livya stepped forward to intervene.

“Livya, you’ve allowed an outsider to infiltrate our group into the ancestral land. This breaks the Seizon family’s rules. Prepare for Old Mr. Ozrell’s punishment,” Genya said with a sneer.

“Old Mr. Ozrell, this person is not from the Seizon family. He’s an alchemist brought in by Cade, yet he’s wearing our family’s clothes and snuck in with us. Clearly, he doesn’t respect you,” Yorath exclaimed, hastily pointing at Cloud.

Ozrell merely glanced at Cloud before saying, “No one can sneak into the ancestral land in my presence. This person has Seizon blood; he is not an outsider.”

“What?” Yorath and Genya were both stunned.

“Old Mr. Ozrell, how is that possible? He...”

Genya simply could not believe that Cloud could be a member of the Seizon family.

“You don’t believe me?” Ozrell glared at Genya, who instantly went weak in the knees and fell to her knees.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3255

Chapter 3255 Currying Favor

Upon realizing that his identity had been revealed, Cloud decided not to hide it any longer. He kneeled before Ozrell and greeted, “Greetings. I pay my respect to the great Old Mr. Ozrell.”

Livya also kneeled and said, "Old Mr. Ozrell, Cloud is Uncle Renault's only son and has just recently returned."

Yorath and Genya were shocked to learn that Cloud was the son of their uncle, Renault. They had been kept in the dark about this information.

"All right, enter now. Don't waste any more time. The ancestral land is only open for three days. Your harvest depends on your own luck."

Ozrell waved his hand, urging everyone to enter the ancestral land. As for the internal disputes within the Seizon family, Ozrell could not be bothered. His focus was on guarding the ancestral land.

Soon, everyone passed through the portal and entered the ancestral land. Many of them were entering for the first time, so they were feeling quite nervous. Cloud, too, clenched his fists and looked tense.

"Cloud, there's no need to be too nervous. The ancestral land isn't as frightening as you might think. As long as you don't venture too deep, there won't be any danger," Livya comforted Cloud.

After a flash of white light, a picturesque scene of lush greenery and mountains appeared before their eyes. Many were surprised; they had expected a terrifying atmosphere and a chaotic environment within the ancestral land.

Instead, they were greeted by this beautiful scenery. Moreover, the aura here was much more concentrated than the spiritual energy in the Ethereal Realm, and even the nascence aura was particularly rich.

However, many of them had not activated their nascence space, so they could not perceive the nascence.

"Yorath, Uncle Renault's son has returned, and Uncle Lawrence actually kept it from us. What could be his intention?" Genya commented, glancing at Cloud, who was not far away.

"Hmph! He definitely has some ulterior motives. Uncle Renault seems to be doing well outside. Don't be fooled by Cloud's seemingly weak strength; he has powerful friends, especially that Kai. Not only is he an alchemist, but he also managed to break Mr. Jonah's arm. It seems Uncle Lawrence wants to secretly collaborate with Uncle Renault, unite their forces, and drive our branch out,” Yorath carefully analyzed.

Lawrence’s concealment of Cloud’s identity undoubtedly served his own interests.

“Yorath, your analysis is spot on. It looks like we need to take action and try to win Cloud over. If Uncle Renault’s faction supports us, then the position of family head will surely be Father’s,” Genya whispered.

“Yeah, let’s go.” Yorath nodded.

Soon, Genya and Yorath approached Cloud.

“Cloud, we never thought you’d be Uncle Renault’s son. Why didn’t you tell me earlier? If you had, there wouldn’t have been any misunderstandings.” Genya said, trying to establish a rapport with Cloud.

“Exactly, Cloud. You treated us like outsiders. Now that we know your identity, we’ll definitely take care of you. Don’t be fooled by the beauty of this ancestral land; it harbors many dangers. Join us, and we can look out for each other. You’re following Livya, but she can hardly protect herself, let alone you!” Yorath chimed in, attempting to sway Cloud.

“Yorath, Genya, what are you up to? Cloud won’t join people like you. Are you trying to gain something from him?” Livya questioned as she glared at her cousins.

“Livya, don’t make baseless accusations. What could we possibly gain from Cloud? We’re just concerned about his safety. With just you here, can you ensure Cloud’s safety? What if we encounter danger in this ancestral land?” Genya disdainfully countered.