

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3371

The Mans Decree Chapter 3371

Prev

Next

As soon as Kai did that, a muffled grunt rang out. A deep pit appeared in the ground, and a Demonic Cultivator jumped up from the ground with the mystical herb in his arms.

Obviously, the mystical herb didn't just burrow underground on its own. Instead, that Demonic Cultivator had tried to snatch it away.

Kai narrowed his eyes and glared at that Demonic Cultivator. "Give the mystical herb back to me!"

Not taking Kai seriously, the Demonic Cultivator scoffed, "You've just become a Tribulator cultivator. You're not worthy of this mystical herb! I'll be merciful and allow you to leave. Otherwise, I'll make you suffer!"

Kai frowned in response. Without another word, he swung the Demon Flogger at the Demonic Cultivator.

The moment he did that, the Demonic Cultivator turned into a cloud of white smoke. Indeed, that was the Demonic Cultivator's shadow clone.

Kai had known from the beginning that the Demonic Cultivator was using his shadow clone to buy time. The Demonic Cultivator's true form had long since disappeared and fled.

Kai's Demon Flogger started to burn with flames as he swung it around. The flames shot straight into the ground, and bursts of thick smoke came out from the ground.

“Flaming Cage!” Kai shouted. Endless flames emerged from underground and quickly connected to form a large net, covering miles.

A muffled grunt rang out from a distance, and Kai leaped into the air and swung the Demon Flogger in the direction of the sound. “How dare a puny Demonic Cultivator try to snatch my stuff?”

Kai whipped his flogger, and accompanied by endless flames, a figure suddenly rushed out from underground. It was the Demonic Cultivator who had tried to flee. The Demonic Cultivator took out a sharp magic sword to block Kai’s Demon Flogger.

“Ugh!”

Although the Demonic Cultivator managed to block the Demon Flogger, he was hit by the demonic fire on it. The Demonic Cultivator spewed out a mouthful of blood and was sent flying away.

Needless to say, the Demonic Cultivator was flabbergasted. I’m a Fourth Level Tribulator cultivator! How is a rookie Tribulator cultivator defeating me? In fact, I couldn’t even block his attack!

Kai’s Flaming Cage had formed a cage underground, rendering the Demonic Cultivator’s Earth Escape Technique useless. The flames forced the Demonic Cultivator out of the ground.

That Earth Escape Technique was the Demonic Cultivator’s ultimate skill, but it was useless against Kai.

“I’ll give you the mystical herb. Please let me go...” The Demonic Cultivator knew he had underestimated Kai, so he decided to give the mystical herb up, hoping that Kai would spare his life.

Kai nodded at the injured Demonic Cultivator. “All right. If you give me the mystical herb, I’ll spare your life.”

The Demonic Cultivator unhesitatingly tossed the human-sized mystical herb at Kai, and the latter kept the mystical herb in his Storage Ring. After that, he waved his arm and Flaming Cage disappeared.

However, right when the Demonic Cultivator was about to leave, he saw four figures appearing from not far away. One of the figures was Dimas from Bloodroot Peak. Those four were all Demonic Cultivators, and they were approaching quickly.

Kai furrowed his brows when he saw Dimas and the others, and he quickly turned around to leave. He was on his own, and he wasn't sure if he could defeat Dimas and the other three Demonic Cultivators.

Moreover, he didn't want to waste his time. He entered the Celestial Battlefield to find magical items instead of fighting others.

However, he couldn't leave because Dimas and the others had surrounded him.

Dimas looked at the injured Demonic Cultivator and smiled faintly.

•

The Mans Decree Chapter 3372

Prev

Next

“My friend, that fellow is too arrogant. He's merely a human cultivator, yet he dares to fight with the Demonic Cultivators on the Celestial Battlefield on Demonica Mountain. He deserves to die! We're on the Celestial Battlefield and rules no longer apply. Let's join forces and kill him, lest he compete for treasures with us,” declared Dimas, sparking excitement within the Demonic Cultivator.

He had been forced to surrender his belongings to save his life, and the prospect of assistance rejuvenated his confidence.

“All right. Let’s team up and eliminate this human cultivator.”

The Demonic Cultivator nodded.

Dimas gazed at Kai gleefully. “Young man, you’ve been quite arrogant. I know you possess formidable strength, but facing the likes of us, you’re doomed. I’ll show you the consequences of opposing me.”

Kai stared at Dimas, his gaze carrying a hint of gravity. Winning against five Demonic Cultivators would be challenging, but it was also impossible to escape.

Having a few allies by Kai’s side would increase the chances of victory, but that was not the case now. Dimas noticed Kai’s grim expression, and his smile grew wider. He relished the thrill of the hunt.

Kai was his prey with no conceivable means of escape. As he now had the upper hand, he wasn’t in a rush to kill him. The Demon Flogger in Kai’s hand vibrated, seemingly eager for action. It wanted to fight the Demonic Cultivators.

Kai clutched the Demon Flogger tightly, acknowledging the challenging odds he faced.

“Mr. Chance, you need not fear. Have you forgotten about your magical item?” Faiyar’s voice echoed in Kai’s mind.

“Magical item?” Kai paused, momentarily forgetting what valuable possession he still held.

“You still have the parasitic silkworms. These parasitic silkworms are lethal weapons, Faiyar reminded him.

Only then did Kai remember about it. He delved into his consciousness field, discovering over a dozen parasitic silkworms before Faiyar.

They were plump and wriggly. The king parasitic worm, especially, had grown considerably larger.

“They’re growing too fast, aren’t they?” Kai exclaimed in surprise.

When he obtained these parasitic silkworms, they had been mere larvae. Now, they had undergone significant growth.

“Mr. Chance, it’s because your blood essence is unlike ordinary people. These parasitic silkworms absorb your blood and grow especially fast,” Faiyar replied.

Observing the parasitic silkworms, Kai felt a surge of joy. An idea popped up in his mind. When these creatures detached from his body, they could conceal themselves in the void, rendering them virtually undetectable.

That way, he could kill people without a trace. These thoughts invigorated Kai’s confidence. Coupled with the Demon Flogger in his hand, he was ready to face the Demonic Cultivators.

Seeing Kai’s initially distressed expression transform into a confident smile, Dimas became puzzled.

“Why are you smiling?”

“I’m laughing at all of you. You’re about to die soon, yet you’re unaware of it,” Kai said calmly.

“Hey, have you gone mad? In this situation, isn’t it obvious who is about to die? And this is the Celestial Battlefield. No one can come in to save you!” Dimas sneered.

“Save your words. He’s just a newly advanced Tribulator cultivator, so hurry up and kill him. We need to quickly search for more magical items,” an impatient Demonic Cultivator said.

Dimas nodded. Soon, five auras enveloped Kai.

Kai remained calm. The two parasitic silkworms had silently left Kai's body, heading toward the impatient Demonic Cultivator.

The parasitic silkworms concealed themselves in the void, so none of the Demonic Cultivators noticed their presence.

•

The Mans Decree Chapter 3373

Prev

Next

“Since you're impatient, let me end your life first,” Kai said, looking at the impatient Demonic Cultivator.

“F*ck! You sure know how to brag. I-”

The impatient Demonic Cultivator didn't believe that Kai could kill him. However, he suddenly stopped before he could finish his sentence. Following that, a painful grimace appeared on his face as he clutched his head tightly.

“Ow! My head hurts so much. It feels like my spiritual sense is being devoured...” he howled in anguish before collapsing to the ground.

The other four Demonic Cultivators were startled, staring at their fallen comrade in disbelief. Soon, the Demonic Cultivator stopped struggling, and his eyes became vacant as he turned into a walking corpse.

His spiritual sense in his consciousness field had been completely consumed by the parasitic silkworm.

“W-What?”

The remaining Demonic Cultivators were dumbfounded. They stared at Kai and retreated in fear. They couldn't figure out how Kai had taken action. After all, they had him surrounded and didn't see him move an inch.

"How could you poison him? That's despicable of you!"

Observing the fallen Demonic Cultivator, Dimas knew that Kai had silently poisoned the other party, causing their spiritual sense to be unknowingly affected.

Upon hearing the mention of poison, the three Demonic Cultivators hastily took a few steps back.

"I have nothing to do with this. I've given you what you wanted, so we have nothing to do with each other anymore," the first Demonic Cultivator whom Kai had injured said hastily before turning to flee.

Having no grudge against Kai, he saw no reason to fight to his death. Seeing that, the remaining two Demonic Cultivators exchanged a look and escaped as well.

Now, Dimas was left alone.

He was astounded by the turn of events.

He had had the upper hand, but the rest had escaped, leaving him alone.

"F*ck! They betrayed me!" Dimas cursed aloud, but it was of no use.

Kai shot Dimas an icy smirk. Dimas felt a deep sense of frustration. He had hoped that reaching out to the Demonic Cultivators urgently would ensure Kai's demise.

Unfortunately, things didn't unfold as he had anticipated. If he had known it would come to this, he would have willingly set off to find Pablo.

Upon entering the Celestial Battlefield, they had found themselves scattered in different locations. Dimas, growing impatient, had reached out to several Demonic Cultivators along his path. Now, they were preoccupied with their own escape and paid little attention to him.

Observing Kai's gaze, Dimas mustered a forced smile and spoke. "Kai, we don't have anything against each other. There's no need for us to battle to our deaths. Moreover, Bloodroot Peak and Blood Spirit Valley share a common lineage. Given your connection with Blood Spirit Valley, you can't take my life!"

He was admitting defeat.

"There is no grudge between us, and I don't hold any prejudice against Demonic Cultivators like you. I never wanted to kill you, but you tried to take my life just now," Kai responded with a calm smile.

This statement made Dimas' face turn red. He was unsure how to retort. Kai wielded the Demon Flogger, creating a resounding crack in the air.

The sound alone left Dimas disoriented. Realizing that Kai was determined to kill him, Dimas turned and fled without begging for mercy.

Kai swiftly swung the Demon Flogger.

Whack, whack, whack!

The cracking sounds echoed as the lashes struck Dimas' back, causing him to cough up blood and stagger forward.

"F*ck it. He's just a mere First Level Tribulator cultivator but possesses such formidable strength and a divine weapon. This is truly unbelievable," Dimas cursed under his breath as he escaped desperately.

However, Kai pursued relentlessly, leaving Dimas in a state of anxious desperation.

•

The Mans Decree Chapter 3374

Prev

Next

A cold gleam flashed across Dimas' eyes. He knew that if he didn't unleash his ultimate move, he would meet his doom today.

During his escape, Dimas suddenly stopped. Without warning, he spun around and spat out a mouthful of blood in Kai's direction. The blood transformed into a mist, shaping into a ferocious blood-colored monster that lunged at Kai.

As a Demonic Cultivator of the blood demon lineage, Dimas had his uses and understanding of blood.

Kai let out a cold snort. "Ha! What an insolent fool. Given that your strength is inferior to mine, any magecraft you employ, no matter how extensive, will prove futile."

He swung his Demon Flogger, set aflame with demonic fire, in the direction of the creature. The flames were blazing, and in the blink of an eye, the blood-colored creature disappeared beneath the intense fire. Dimas frowned, his expression turning extremely unpleasant.

After slaying the blood-colored creature, Kai didn't cease his assault with the Demon Flogger. Instead, he continued to direct its lashes toward Dimas.

However, this time, Dimas didn't dodge and was directly struck by the Demon Flogger.

Boom!

Dimas' body burst into a blood mist that scattered into the air. Kai was momentarily stunned as he did not expect Dimas to stay still and get struck by the Demon Flogger.

While Kai was still in shock, the blood mist unexpectedly condensed into a human form and swiftly fled the scene.

Seeing this, Kai realized he had been deceived. Dimas had managed to escape. He wanted to go after Dimas, but the latter was already gone.

"F*ck! Did he seriously manage to get away?" Kai huffed angrily. However, he couldn't help but get curious. Dimas' body exploded, so how did he get away?

"Mr. Chance, this individual hails from the blood demon lineage. That was the Blood Escape Technique. He utilized his blood to make his getaway. It's a survival skill within the blood demon lineage, but it comes with several drawbacks. These include a reduction in cultivation and heightened challenges in further progression," Faiyar revealed.

Kai finally understood how Dimas had made his escape. Despite its drawbacks, the Blood Escape Technique proved to be a lifesaver in dangerous situations.

Instantly, regret washed over Kai. If he had known about this life-saving technique, he would have learned a few moves from Baal.

However, Baal had returned to the Ethereal Realm. Kai had a feeling he would encounter him sooner or later. Kai decided to learn a few moves from Baal when they reunited in the future.

"Shit!"

Suddenly, Kai remembered that he had left Rosetta far behind.

Having been caught up in chasing Dimas, he had completely forgotten about Rosetta. Now, given the distance between them, Kai feared that if Rosetta faced any danger, he wouldn't be able to reach her in time.

Just as Kai turned back, he heard Rosetta urgently calling for help. "Mr. Chance, help!"

Her anxious voice came through the communication device. The plea sent a surge of anxiety through Kai. He immediately rushed in Rosetta's direction.

At the same time, Rosetta was desperately running for her life as she held a huge stone. Behind her were hundreds of ferocious demon beasts, roaring as they chased after her relentlessly.

"Why am I getting chased?" Rosetta cried. She was almost in tears, not knowing why the demon beasts were after her. There were hundreds of Tribulator demon beasts, so she had no choice but to run for her life.

Despite using the communication device, Rosetta still hadn't seen Kai. Fear filled her heart. Among the demon beasts, its leader stood out, towering at fifteen to sixteen meters with massive feet leaving deep imprints with every step.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3375

Prev

Next

With their long tails etching deep furrows into the earth, these creatures bore a striking resemblance to the ancient tyrannosaurs.

Luckily, due to their massive size, their movements were somewhat sluggish, allowing Rosetta to stay ahead. The demon beast in the lead emitted loud roars. Following that, glass-like shields appeared in front of Rosetta, obstructing her path.

Worry etched across Rosetta's face as she vigorously swung her sword, unleashing thousands of radiant sword lights aimed at the demon beasts.

Simultaneously, she forcefully struck the barriers in her path. When she hit the shields, ripples formed upon impact, but they remained unbroken.

Rosetta had no choice but to take a detour. Fortunately, the shields weren't that wide, allowing her to bypass them easily. However, that had slowed down her pace.

Behind her, the gigantic mouth of the demon beast opened wide, swallowing all the thousands of sword lights unleashed by Rosetta.

Fortunately, Rosetta was spared from witnessing this, as the shocking sight would have undoubtedly left her stunned, immobilized in her place.

After devouring the lights, the demon beast chewed twice before forcefully spitting them out. This action sent the thousands of sword lights hurtling back toward Rosetta. Feeling a sudden chill behind her, Rosetta felt her heart sink.

She swiftly turned around only to be met with the sight of thousands of sword lights hurtling toward her.

She let out a startled cry. With the stone in her hand, she tried to shield herself. This was an instinctive move by Rosetta, driven by the urgency of the moment.

As she raised the stone, it emitted a radiant glow, and various intricate patterns appeared on its surface.

A peculiar force emanated from the stone, causing the sword lights to disperse and vanish. Saved from the imminent danger, Rosetta barely had time to examine the stone. Instead, she focused all her energy on sprinting for her life.

Meanwhile, when the demon beasts saw how the stone dispersed the lights, they became even more frantic. They roared, pursuing Rosetta with increased vigor.

Kai was also running toward Rosetta. He could see her figure from afar. Seeing the horde of demon beasts chasing after Rosetta, he couldn't help but feel overwhelmed.

Dealing with hundreds of crazed demon beasts at once presented a formidable challenge.

It was impossible for Kai to stop these crazed demon beasts alone. The demon beasts let out a chorus of roars. In front of Rosetta, a dense and nearly invisible shield appeared.

It wasn't until Rosetta bumped into one that she realized that the path ahead was blocked again. Employing her usual approach, Rosetta tried to maneuver around it, but this time, it didn't work.

The shields appeared in abundance, extending far and wide.

Rosetta grew even more anxious.

She swung the sword in her hand, attempting to shatter the shield. Yet, when her sword cleaved through the shield, it felt as if she had merely sliced through the void. The shields, in an instant, regenerated themselves as if untouched.

Stunned, Rosetta swung her sword again, but the same result persisted. The shields seemed indestructible.

This revelation left Rosetta in shock. She stared at the demon beasts behind her, feeling a sense of desperation

“Why? Why are you beasts chasing me? Am I destined to die here, in the jaws of these demon beasts?”

Regret began to fill Rosetta as she questioned her decision to enter the Celestial Battlefield.

If she hadn't come, she wouldn't be facing this predicament. There were abundant opportunities in the Celestial Battlefield, but the dangers were equally significant.

She had barely arrived but was about to die here.

“Ms. Lothian, don't be afraid.”

Rosetta was on the brink of despair when Kai's voice rang out.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3376

Prev

Next

Kai's voice sounded heavenly when Rosetta heard it. When she saw Kai, she shouted in excitement,

“Help me, Mr. Chance!”

Kai kept the Demon Flogger aside and whipped out his Dragonslayer Sword. He then swung the sword forcefully at the shield, thinking he could break it.

Boom!

Those transparent barriers were surprisingly still there. Kai's Dragonslayer Sword had cut through the shield, but the shield didn't suffer any damage.

“Huh? That’s weird…” Kai’s curiosity was piqued. How did the demon beasts come up with such a thing?

Seeing that sheer power couldn’t break the shield, Kai ignited a ball of flame in his palm and tried to use demonic fire to break the shield. Since I can’t break it with sheer power, let me try burning it down!

To his disappointment, not even demonic fire could damage the shield. Kai panicked when he couldn’t break the shield because the demon beasts were closing in on them.

He felt helpless, and in the next second, the draconic essence on his chest started to glimmer.

Afterward, rays of golden light spread out all over the place.

A torrent of the Power of Dragons shot toward the shield.

The moment the Power of Dragons reached the shield, the shield vanished.

At the same time, the fast-approaching demon beasts, with terror in their eyes, gradually halted in their tracks.

Rosetta heaved a sigh of relief when she saw that. While relying on the Power of Dragons to suppress the demon beasts, Kai slowly led Rosetta backward to pull away from the demon beasts.

However, the demon beasts would take a step toward them every time they took a step backward.

When Kai stopped, the demon beasts would also do the same.

This was repeated many times, and Kai was utterly baffled.

“Have these demon beasts gone mad? Why won’t they let us go?” Rosetta grumbled.

“This is indeed very odd. Why are these demon beasts after us? Did you provoke them?” Kai asked in confusion.

“I didn’t! I simply picked up a rock, and they just started chasing after me,” Rosetta replied.

“A rock?” Only then did Kai notice a rock in Rosetta’s arms.

Kai took the rock from Rosetta and saw the weird ripples on it. When he injected a thread of his spiritual sense into it, he was stunned. This isn’t a rock! This is an egg! No wonder those demon beasts chased after Rosetta. This must be their egg! It’s only natural for them to protect their egg.

“This isn’t a rock. This is an egg,” Kai uttered in a helpless tone.

Rosetta felt embarrassed when she heard that. “I saw the ripples on it and thought it had to be a magical item. That was why I took it. I had no idea...”

Holding the egg in his hand, Kai looked at the leader of the demon beasts and said, “We’re so sorry. We didn’t mean to steal your beast egg. This is just a misunderstanding. I’m giving it back to you now.”

Those demon beasts possessed spiritual intelligence, so they understood Kai’s words.

Most importantly, they also feared him because of the Power of Dragons he possessed.

If not for the Power of Dragons, the demon beasts would have ignored Kai’s words, howled at him, and attacked him.

The demon beasts nodded in response. Kai placed the beast egg on the ground and pulled Rosetta backward.

Seeing that, the leader of the demon beasts opened its mouth and kept the beast egg in its mouth.

After that, it looked at Kai and Rosetta. "You guys came in to look for treasures, right? Follow me..."

With that, the leader of the demon beasts turned around and left. The rest of the demon beasts followed suit.

Intrigued, Kai and Rosetta exchanged glances before they followed the demon beasts from behind.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3376

Prev

Next

Kai's voice sounded heavenly when Rosetta heard it. When she saw Kai, she shouted in excitement,

"Help me, Mr. Chance!"

Kai kept the Demon Flogger aside and whipped out his Dragonslayer Sword. He then swung the sword forcefully at the shield, thinking he could break it.

Boom!

Those transparent barriers were surprisingly still there. Kai's Dragonslayer Sword had cut through the shield, but the shield didn't suffer any damage.

"Huh? That's weird..." Kai's curiosity was piqued. How did the demon beasts come up with such a thing?

Seeing that sheer power couldn't break the shield, Kai ignited a ball of flame in his palm and tried to use demonic fire to break the shield. Since I can't break it with sheer power, let me try burning it down!

To his disappointment, not even demonic fire could damage the shield. Kai panicked when he couldn't break the shield because the demon beasts were closing in on them.

He felt helpless, and in the next second, the draconic essence on his chest started to glimmer.

Afterward, rays of golden light spread out all over the place.

A torrent of the Power of Dragons shot toward the shield.

The moment the Power of Dragons reached the shield, the shield vanished.

At the same time, the fast-approaching demon beasts, with terror in their eyes, gradually halted in their tracks.

Rosetta heaved a sigh of relief when she saw that. While relying on the Power of Dragons to suppress the demon beasts, Kai slowly led Rosetta backward to pull away from the demon beasts.

However, the demon beasts would take a step toward them every time they took a step backward.

When Kai stopped, the demon beasts would also do the same.

This was repeated many times, and Kai was utterly baffled.

“Have these demon beasts gone mad? Why won’t they let us go?” Rosetta grumbled.

“This is indeed very odd. Why are these demon beasts after us? Did you provoke them?” Kai asked in confusion.

“I didn’t! I simply picked up a rock, and they just started chasing after me,” Rosetta replied.

“A rock?” Only then did Kai notice a rock in Rosetta’s arms.

Kai took the rock from Rosetta and saw the weird ripples on it. When he injected a thread of his spiritual sense into it, he was stunned. This isn’t a rock! This is an egg! No wonder those demon beasts chased after Rosetta. This must be their egg! It’s only natural for them to protect their egg.

“This isn’t a rock. This is an egg,” Kai uttered in a helpless tone.

Rosetta felt embarrassed when she heard that. “I saw the ripples on it and thought it had to be a magical item. That was why I took it. I had no idea...”

Holding the egg in his hand, Kai looked at the leader of the demon beasts and said, “We’re so sorry. We didn’t mean to steal your beast egg. This is just a misunderstanding. I’m giving it back to you now.”

Those demon beasts possessed spiritual intelligence, so they understood Kai’s words.

Most importantly, they also feared him because of the Power of Dragons he possessed.

If not for the Power of Dragons, the demon beasts would have ignored Kai’s words, howled at him, and attacked him.

The demon beasts nodded in response. Kai placed the beast egg on the ground and pulled Rosetta backward.

Seeing that, the leader of the demon beasts opened its mouth and kept the beast egg in its mouth.

After that, it looked at Kai and Rosetta. “You guys came in to look for treasures, right? Follow me...”

With that, the leader of the demon beasts turned around and left. The rest of the demon beasts followed suit.

Intrigued, Kai and Rosetta exchanged glances before they followed the demon beasts from behind.

•

Next

Kai and Rosetta ran behind the demon beasts, and soon, they ran a long distance. The two of them followed the demon beasts from the boundless wilderness to the hills.

Scared, Rosetta asked, "Mr. Chance, where are these demon beasts bringing us? I didn't pick up the rock from here."

"I don't know, but these demon beasts have lived on the Celestial Battlefield for ages. They surely know where the magical items are. We just need to follow them. I don't think these demon beasts mean harm. We should be fine." Kai was just as clueless, but he was determined to keep following the demon beasts.

After they crossed a hill with the demon beasts, a field filled with shiny items soon appeared in front of them.

At a closer look, Kai saw that the field was filled with weapons. However, the weapons were damaged. Well, it was a fierce battle. When the immortals fought the demonic immortals, their weapons were bound to get damaged. Nevertheless, it's weird how big a pile of weapons is gathered here! It doesn't seem like the weapons were dropped here. Instead, it looks as if someone has purposely collected and piled up all these weapons!

Right then, the leader of the demon beasts said,

"I picked up these weapons."

Kai was baffled when he heard that. Oh! So this demon beast collected all these weapons. No wonder after we entered the Celestial Battlefield, all we saw were piles of bones without weapons lying around. But why did this demon beast pick up all the damaged weapons? Is this its hobby?

Kai asked curiously, "Why did you collect these weapons?"

“These weapons all have celestial energy left in them. I need the celestial energy...” the leader of the demon beasts answered.

“Celestial energy?” Kai froze momentarily. I’m not sensing any celestial energy!

Without saying a word, the leader of the demon beasts walked toward the pile of weapons.

Seeing that, Kai followed behind. Soon, the two seemed to have passed through a transparent shield, and Kai even saw ripples in the void as they passed through. The moment Kai passed through the shield, a burst of celestial energy greeted him.

Kai was dumbstruck. So these weapons still have celestial energy in them, and there’s a force blocking the celestial energy! That’s why I didn’t sense anything just now! Now that I’ve passed through the shield, I can sense the intense celestial energy everywhere!

“The celestial energy is very intense. Did you collect these weapons to cultivate by using the celestial energy they hold?” Kai asked the leader of the demon beasts.

The leader of the demon beasts shook its head. “I don’t need the damaged weapons’ celestial energy to cultivate. Mystical herbs are abundant on the Celestial Battlefield, and they’re all exceptionally lush.”

“Then why did you gather these weapons here?” Kai cast the leader of the demon beasts a confused look.

The leader of the demon beasts didn’t answer Kai. Instead, it kept walking forward, and Kai and Rosetta followed it from behind.

Stepping on the weapons under their feet, they just kept walking forward. When they arrived before a big pile of weapons, the leader of the demon beasts used its thick and robust tail to scatter the weapons aside.

After the weapons were shoved aside, Kai and Rosetta saw a colorful beast egg covered with various patterns.

As it turned out, the weapons were used to bury the beast egg. Kai looked at the beast egg and noticed it looked different from the one Rosetta had picked up earlier.

“Is this beast egg yours?” Kai asked tentatively.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3378

Prev

Next

The leader of the demon beasts shook its head. “No. If it were mine, I wouldn’t have buried it underneath these weapons. I don’t know what’s in this beast egg either. Nonetheless, I know it has been absorbing celestial energy all along. To incubate it, I gathered these weapons for the celestial energy within to assist the process. Regretfully, this beast egg still doesn’t show any signs of hatching after thousands of years have passed. But from the look of it, the creature within might be a spirit beast. If it were ordinary demon beasts like us, it would have hatched long ago with such rich celestial energy enveloping it.”

“A spirit beast egg?” Kai was surprised. Not only were spirit beasts exceedingly rare, but their capabilities were multiple times greater than those of ordinary demon beasts.

In the celestial realm, only immortals of sufficient strength were worthy of owning spirit beasts as mounts.

“So, why did you bring me here?” Kai asked.

“You have the aura of the beast race and the power of the Draconians, so I’d like you to hatch this spirit beast egg. If you succeed in doing so, this spirit beast will be of greater value than all magical items on the Celestial Battlefield,” the leader of the demon beasts answered.

Kai studied the leader of the demon beasts quietly before he questioned with a slight frown, “Why are you helping me? Is it because of the Power of Dragons within me?”

“No. I’m not helping you but myself.” The demon beast paused briefly before continuing, “The Celestial Battlefield has opened, and our clan’s life will soon be disrupted. At that time, we are sure to be massacred and our beast cores will be taken away. I only hope you can seal off the entrance when the Celestial Battlefield closes. All we want is to have a peaceful life. We don’t want to cultivate to attain immortality, merely wishing to be left alone. Actually, it’s been pretty nice in the thousands of years we’ve lived here.”

His voice carried a great deal of helplessness. At present, few had entered the Celestial Battlefield, yet one of their beast eggs had been stolen by Rosetta. If the number of people increased, their entire clan might be wiped out.

The demon beasts living in the Celestial Battlefield had no way of ascending to immortality as that place was created by men.

If they wanted to ascend to immortality, they had to destroy the Celestial Battlefield. Alternatively, another immortal had to come and wreck that place before freeing them.

However, judging from the current situation, it seemed they did not want to leave or ascend to immortality to live forever.

All they wanted was a peaceful life.

“Okay, I give you my word. But I’m afraid that my capabilities won’t suffice to seal off the entrance to the Celestial Battlefield,” Kai agreed to the request of the leader of demon beasts, but he had just broken through to Tribulator, so it would not be easy for him to seal off the entrance to the Celestial Battlefield forever.

“So long as you promise me that, I trust you can do it. You have the Power of Dragons within you. You are undoubtedly capable of achieving it.”

The leader of the demon beasts had great faith in Kai because he believed in the Power of Dragons within the man.

As part of the beast race, he knew of the might of the Power of Dragons.

“I’ll do my best!” Kai nodded.

“If this is a spirit beast egg, please treat it well.”

With that said, the leader of the demon beast spun on his heel and left. It would appear that the demon beasts did not live there. They had merely led Kai and Rosetta over.

“Is this really a spirit beast egg, Mr. Chance?”

Rosetta did not quite believe it since she had never seen a spirit beast.

“It’s possible. There must have been spirit beasts joining the battle on the Celestial Battlefield.

Leaving a spirit beast egg behind is within the realm of possibility.”

After saying that, Kai slowly walked toward the spirit beast egg. Then, he reached out and stroked it.

To his surprise, the spirit beast egg felt warm and was incredibly comfortable to the touch.

Prev
Next

Kai could distinctly sense movement within the spirit beast egg, but when he used his spiritual sense to probe it, it could not penetrate the beast egg at all. Besides, when he did that, the spirit beast egg seemingly reacted.

The peculiar patterns on it abruptly emitted colorful lights.

The lights shot into the sky and exploded like fireworks. Immense fright struck Kai, upon which he hastily retracted his hand and gaped at the spirit beast egg that emitted colorful lights.

The colorful lights appeared particularly eye-catching in the dark and gloomy Celestial Battlefield. All those who had entered the Celestial Battlefield saw the colorful lights.

“What kind of magical item has been unearthed?”

Pablo was suspended in mid-air right then. Beneath his feet was the dead body of a demon beast, and a bloody beast core was in his hand.

The instant he caught sight of the colorful lights, murderous intent blazed in his eyes. No matter the person who obtained that magical item, he was determined to fight for it without hesitation. Mercy did not exist in the Celestial Battlefield, much less emotions.

Everyone’s sole goal was to get their hands on the magical items they wanted. People started heading in the direction of the lights. By then, Kai had already taken his hand off the spirit beast egg, so the lights were slowly fading.

Nonetheless, his brows were creased deeply, for he knew the lights earlier must have attracted others' attention.

He did not want to attract any attention since he was only there to hunt for magical items and had no plans to fight. Presently, however, there was nothing he could do about it.

"Mr. Chance, I think we should leave this place as soon as possible with this spirit beast egg. Someone is bound to come in a while," Rosetta urged after glancing around.

I can leave with this spirit beast egg, but isn't it too great a pity not to absorb and put the rich celestial energy here to good use?

Following a brief contemplation, Kai lowered his head and picked out four magic swords from the pile of weapons. Then, he drove them into the ground in the four respective corners.

All four magic swords had defects, but he could not be bothered about that right then. Subsequently, he began drawing arcane arrays under the four swords. Mysterious arcane arrays took shape, one after another.

On the heels of that, he connected all of them together. In no time, a massive arcane array was completed through his effort alone.

Rosetta stared at Kai in shock, never having expected the man to be capable of drawing such an enormous arcane array. Kai was already drenched in sweat at that moment. Still, he did not give up but continued drawing.

When the last stroke of the arcane array was completed, bursts of white mist promptly materialized from all around and enshrouded Kai and Rosetta.

From the air, the area would appear entirely white, the situation within obscured.

On top of that, the arcane array could block spiritual sense. Even if someone wanted to use spiritual sense to probe into it, they would never succeed in discerning anything.

“Please keep guard over me for the time being, Ms. Lothian. I’m going to absorb the celestial energy here. Once I’m done, we shall leave this place,” Kai said to Rosetta.

“Don’t worry, Mr. Chance. I’ll keep guard over you to the death.”

Rosetta gave a dip of her head.

Kai swiftly sat cross-legged and closed his eyes lightly. His body started absorbing the celestial energy around him rapidly.

Focus Technique circulated at lightning speed, and he unleashed all of his potential.

He had no other choice either since he simply could not bear to give up the rich celestial energy there.

While he was cultivating, a middle-aged man appeared a near distance away.

Glancing around, the middle-aged man frowned. “This should be the right direction. I couldn’t have made a mistake. Why can’t I see them anymore?”

It was all too clear that he was searching for the colorful light beams earlier to see the exact kind of magical item that had emitted such dazzling lights.

•

The middle-aged man leaped up to hover in mid-air before casting his gaze into the distance. Soon, he discovered a vast expanse of white mist a stone's throw away. It remained dense and only enveloped a few radii.

Seeing that, he quickly flew over. While doing so, he released a sliver of spiritual sense. He found no one around, but when his spiritual sense entered the white mist, it suddenly disappeared without any response.

"Could this be an arcane array someone set up that even spiritual sense can't penetrate it?"

His brows furrowed. He then took two black balls out of his pocket and threw them on the ground.

They exploded, and two starving wolves charged out of the black mist.

Under the middle-aged man's command, they rushed into the white mist. But no sooner had they done so than two agonizing howls rang out. After that, nothing else was heard from the two starving wolves.

The middle-aged man's expression turned solemn. At just that moment, however, there was a sudden fluctuation in the white mist.

Immediately after, a sword flew out.

The middle-aged man's eyes went cold, and he shot his palm out at the sword.

Boom!

Following that strike, the sword shattered into pieces.

While at a loss, the middle-aged man abruptly realized that a figure had streaked to his front. On the heels of that, a flash of white light glinted before him.

He frowned. In the blink of an eye, a black shield materialized outside him and blocked off that flash of white light.

On a closer look, he realized that a girl with a sword in hand was glaring at him.

The girl was none other than Rosetta. Upon learning that someone had come, she had chosen to charge out of the arcane array to prevent the person from disrupting Kai when he was cultivating.

Looking at her, the middle-aged man laughed. "How daring of you to sneak an attack on me with such paltry capabilities, girl. You must be sick of living. In view that we're both demons, I'll spare you. But what kind of magical item emitted those colorful lights earlier? Hand it over at once."

Seeing that Rosetta was also a Demonic Cultivator, he planned to spare her, only demanding that she hand the magical item to him.

"In your dreams! That belongs to Mr. Chance. How can I possibly hand it to you?" Rosetta snarled with fury written all over her face and her eyes wide.

"How daring to insist on doing this the hard way, girl. Then, I shall kill you first and lay here in ambush for the magical item."

The middle-aged man shot his hands out without warning. A monstrous black mist erupted from his body and quickly transformed into a black python before attacking Rosetta.

Rosetta's expression changed slightly. She hastily swung the sword in her hand, upon which glints of light shot into the sky.

"Quick, come back, Ms. Lothian!"

Just then, Kai's voice drifted into her ears.

The middle-aged man was a Sixth Level Tribulator cultivator, while Rosetta was only a Second Level Tribulator cultivator. The gap was vast, so she could not possibly be his match.

Hearing Kai's voice, Rosetta wanted to retreat to the arcane array. Alas, it was already too late. The black python had already reached her. Panic swamped her. As she was at a loss, three flashes of light suddenly shot out.

They instantly pierced the black python. Under the attack, the solid black python promptly turned into a cloud of black mist and slowly dissipated.

Looking closely, Rosetta found that the three flashes of light were three swords. All of them were the magic swords Kai had used to set up the arcane array at the beginning.

She seized the opportunity to retreat into the arcane array. By then, Kai had already opened his eyes and was currently staring at the middle-aged man outside.

"It looks like this place will be increasingly dangerous, Mr. Chance. Soon, many people will be here," Rosetta said to Kai, fear lingering within her.

Naturally, Kai knew that staying would be beyond dangerous. However, celestial energy was bountiful there, and he truly could not bear to give it up.

Slowly, the white mist from the arcane array dissipated, baring Kai's and Rosetta's figures before the middle-aged man.