

A Man Like None Other

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3546-“I will go meet this master of magecraft and charms as well,” Zayan agreed with a nod.

Just as Zayan was about to leave with Ilias, a member of the Henningsen family rushed in hurriedly and exclaimed, “Mr. Henningsen, a letter has arrived from Mr. Lefterov, requesting Mr. Cabeza to return to the Demon Seal Alliance headquarters immediately!” Upon hearing this, Zayan’s expression instantly turned unsightly, his brows furrowing tightly.

Ilias waved his hand, signaling the member of the Henningsen family to leave.

“I’m surprised Mr. Lefterov received the news so quickly,” Zayan sighed.

Ilias looked at Zayan and asked, “Mr. Cabeza, what do you plan to do?” “What else could I do? Mr. Lefterov already knows and has summoned me back. I have no choice but to return,” Zayan said helplessly.

“Mr. Cabeza, you could attribute the young master’s death to Soulless Hall. It is clear now that Soulless Hall has turned traitorous. If you shift the blame onto them, you might still have a chance to survive,” Ilias suggested to Zayan.

“That is the only way. Whether I survive or not is up to fate.” After Zayan finished speaking, he turned to Ilias and gave a respectful bow, saying, “Mr. Henningsen, I entrust you with these matters in the southern region.” Ilias thumped his chest and declared, “Mr. Cabeza, please rest assured. As long as Jared remains in the southern region, I am determined to tear him to pieces.

And as for Soulless Hall, I won’t let them escape the southern region.” “Thank you very much. I must take my leave now...” Zayan bid farewell to Ilias and hurried back to the headquarters of the Demon Seal Alliance overnight.

Ilias, along with a few of his subordinates, followed the directions on the map and found the place where Tyler was being held captive.

This was a small hill that, at first glance, appeared unremarkable.

However, after Ilias followed the method on the map and stomped on the ground three times, a secret door surprisingly appeared in the small hill.

A faint glow pulsed around the secret door, indicating the presence of an arcane array.

Following the method indicated on the map.

Ilias deactivated the arcane array and opened the secret door.

After Ilias and his companions stepped through the secret door, they found themselves in a surprisingly vast space.

The entire hill had been hollowed out, revealing numerous rooms.

There was even an incredibly spacious hall.

Ilias looked at the massive fortress and exclaimed in astonishment, "It seems that the Summers family had been prepared for this all along. Truly, forewarned is forearmed." A member of the Henningsen family asked, "Mr. Henningsen, there are so many rooms here. Do we have to search them one by one?" "No need; Oscar has already marked it for us," Ilias said and led his men into the deepest part of the fortress.

There was a room. Upon opening it, they found Tyler imprisoned within.

To prevent Tyler from escaping, his hands and feet were bound by thick, sturdy steel chains.

Tyler's face looked terrible, appearing extremely aged.

With his eyes slightly closed, not a hint of emotion could be discerned.

Upon hearing the sound of the door opening, Tyler did not open his eyes. He simply said slowly, "There's no need to pretend to persuade me anymore. The moment you laid your hands on me, our brotherhood ended. You may kill me if you want, but you can never persuade me to join the Demon Seal Alliance." Tyler initially thought it was his younger brother, Oscar, who had arrived, so he didn't bother to open his eyes.

He didn't want to see his younger brother.

Looking at Tyler, Ilias remarked, "Mr. Summers, even now, you persist in being obstinate..." Upon hearing Ilias's words, Tyler was startled, his eyes widening in surprise as he stared at Ilias.

“How did you discover this location?” Tyler asked, feeling puzzled about how Ilias had found out about it.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3547-With a cold smirk on his face, Ilias looked at Tyler, his voice tinged with amusement as he asked, “What do you think?” Tyler’s face showed utter surprise. No matter how hard he tried, he couldn’t have guessed it.

Tyler scoffed disdainfully. “Do you think I’m a child? Why are you asking me to guess?” Ilias laughed and replied, “Since you’re not guessing, I’ll tell you. The reason I found this place is because your brother Oscar told me.” “Nonsense! That’s impossible! This can’t be...” Tyler shook his head. “Even though Oscar has always wanted to join the Demon Seal Alliance, he would never reveal such a confidential location of the Summers family to you!” He simply couldn’t believe it.

This place is the Summers family’s sanctuary! How could Oscar possibly reveal it so casually to others? Even though Oscar held political views that clashed with mine, it was impossible for him to do anything that would harm the entire Summers family!

“You don’t believe me?” Ilias asked.

Tyler shook his head. “No, of course I don’t. It’s impossible for Oscar to do such a thing.” “Since you don’t believe me, then I’ll show you who your brother really is.” Ilias pulled out a map, clearly marking the location.

He even brought out the secret scrolls of the Summers family and laid them all out before Tyler.

Looking at everything before him, Tyler wanted to disbelieve, yet he had no choice but to believe.

“That monster!” Tyler yelled furiously.

He hadn’t expected that Oscar would actually betray the entire Summers family.

If it was merely a contest for the position of family head, for the sake of the family’s development, Tyler was willing to relinquish his position.

But now, Oscar had crossed a line by betraying the entire Summers family.

This is absolutely heinous and unforgivable.

Spurt!

Overwhelmed, Tyler spat out a mouthful of fresh blood, and in his fury, he passed out.

Ilias ordered his men to lift up Tyler and, along with Jacques, he directly brought the two back to the Henningsen residence.

A member of the Henningsen family asked in confusion, "Mr. Henningsen, why haven't we killed this guy yet? What are we keeping him for?" "He is still useful, so he can't die yet," Ilias replied.

He then glanced at the Henningsen family's backyard and asked, "How is Mr.

Rueben doing?" "Mr. Rueben has been falling ill less frequently lately. However, his meridians have been damaged. It might be quite difficult for him to cultivate in the future," said the member of the Henningsen family.

With a disappointed expression, Ilias nodded and said, "I understand. You must keep a close watch on Tyler. He absolutely cannot be allowed to escape, and most importantly, he must not be allowed to die." "Understood!" The member of the Henningsen family turned around and left.

After the Henningsen family members left, Ilias leaped forward, his body disappearing in an instant.

Quickly, Ilias appeared beside a pond. This massive pond was filled entirely with ink-green water.

A few men were seated hundreds of meters away from the pool.

Upon seeing Ilias arrive, several men promptly stood up.

A man walked up to Ilias and whispered, "Mr. Henningsen, we have already disabled a portion of the arcane array around the Holy Pond. We believe that in about a year and a half, we could have completely disabled it." "Starting from tomorrow, you won't need to disable the arcane array anymore.

I've found others to do it. You all should rest instead," Ilias said expressionlessly.

Ilias had invested a significant amount of money in hiring these experts who were knowledgeable in the art of arcane arrays. However, even after several months, they had only managed to partially disable a small portion of the arcane array.

The reason Ilias wanted to disable the arcane arrays was because this Holy Pond had the ability to reshape one's bones and restore their meridians. Ilias intended for his son to benefit from this Holy Pond.

The only problem was that the Holy Pond was protected by a complex arcane array. In order to soak in the Holy Pond, one would first need to break through this protective barrier.

It was unfortunate that there were very few individuals in the Ethereal Realm who possessed a deep understanding of arcane arrays. Furthermore, those who claimed to be experts were actually amateurs with no real skills.

The array masters that Ilias had invited were no exception. Although Ilias was dissatisfied, he did not dare to voice his complaints.

This was also the reason why Ilias had been trying hard to persuade the Summers family to join the Demon Seal Alliance.

By doing so, he could take advantage of the Summers family's assistance.

When it came to the art of magecraft and charms, the Summers family was truly impressive.

Now that Tyler had been captured, Ilias no longer had any use for these so-called masters of arcane arrays who lacked genuine skills.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3548-Meanwhile, in the Summers residence in Forlisle, Jennifer, guided by Todd, began arranging the magical arcane arrays around the entire Summers family estate, along with the other members of the Summers family. They repeated this process to ensure every corner was covered.

This was to protect against a sudden attack from the Henningsen family.

Jared was not idle either. He sent Cloud to inform Igor and Montane Daemon.

Now, the strength of the Montane Daemon was enough to assist Jared.

Suddenly, Jennifer rushed over and told Jared, "Mr. Chance, you should go check quickly. Uncle Oscar might not make it!" "What happened?" Jared asked.

"I'm not entirely sure either. The person watching over Uncle Oscar reported that he suddenly started foaming at the mouth, his expression filled with intense pain. If he were to die, then my father and brother's whereabouts would remain unknown!" Jennifer exclaimed anxiously.

Upon hearing this, Jared burst into laughter and said, "Don't worry, he won't die.

I simply gave him some medicine secretly to make him experience hardship.

Otherwise, he would never willingly reveal the whereabouts of the head of the Summers family." It turned out that when Jared was locking Oscar up, he had already drugged him. As soon as Oscar became frightened and couldn't bear it anymore, he would confess.

Jared followed Jennifer to the place where Oscar was being held.

At that moment, Oscar was screaming in agony, his forehead covered in cold sweat. He was in so much pain that he wished for death.

"Kill me, kill me, I beg you, please kill me quickly..." In agony, Oscar writhed, pleading for someone to end his life.

His legs were broken, and he was severely poisoned. He simply couldn't free himself.

"Do you want to die?" Jared walked in at that moment, looking at the agonized Oscar with a smirk on his lips. "I'm just giving you a taste of your own medicine.

When you poisoned us just now, did you ever consider the consequences for yourself?" "It was you? What kind of poison did you give me? Kill me, just kill me already..." Oscar glared furiously at Jared, wishing he could kill him with just a look.

"I won't let you die, not until you reveal where the head of the Summers family and the others are being held captive. I'll make you experience a fate worse than death every day until you obediently confess," Jared said playfully.

Oscar trembled all over. He was on the verge of collapse.

"Jennifer, I beg you, please, end my suffering... Help me, please..." Oscar certainly didn't want to be tormented like this forever.

Jennifer couldn't bear to look directly at Oscar. She didn't even glance at him.

Seeing the situation, Oscar could only respond resignedly. "Fine, I'll tell you. I'll take you to the place where Tyler is being held captive. Now, you must immediately alleviate my pain..." Oscar had agreed to compromise.

"No problem..." Jared took out a medicinal pill and had Oscar swallow it.

After swallowing it, Oscar immediately felt relief in his body.

Wiping the cold sweat from his forehead, Oscar slowly got up.

"I want you to know that this is only to alleviate your condition. Don't think about playing tricks. Only I can cure the poison inside you," Jared advised Oscar earnestly.

"I understand." At that moment, Oscar also realized Jared's prowess. Emerging from the place of confinement, Oscar, accompanied by Jared and Jennifer, headed towards the most secluded house in the Summers family estate.

"Uncle Oscar, isn't that the ancestral home of the Summers family? Could it be that you've confined my father and brother in the ancestral home?" Jennifer asked in surprise.

Oscar shook his head. "Of course not. That ancestral home is filled with the forefathers of my Summers family. How could I possibly enter casually?" As the trio neared the house, Oscar gently turned the stone lion that stood at its entrance. As the stone lion started to rotate, a soft glow gradually emanated from the ground.

“A Teleportation Array? Did the Summers family really install a Teleportation Array?” As the glowing halo appeared, Jared instantly identified it as a Teleportation Array.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3549-“Teleportation array? Does the Summers family really have a Teleportation Array?” Jennifer was also surprised. After all, the Teleportation Array was considered a high-level magical arcane array.

No one in the Summers family had the capability to set up a Teleportation Array, so she couldn't understand how there was one in the ancestral home of the Summers family.

Oscar remained silent and stepped directly into the Teleportation Array.

Jared followed suit after a quick glance.

Jennifer closely followed behind.

As the Teleportation Array activated, a flash of light streaked across, and to their surprise, Jared and his companions found themselves in a massive hall.

“This is a secret sanctuary of the Summers family, designed for us to seek refuge in times of peril,” Oscar explained.

After finishing his words, Oscar headed towards the house on one side. Jared gazed at the shelter before him, filled with admiration for the ancestors of the Summers family.

It seemed that they had long since planned for a secure future for their descendants. Just as Oscar led Jared and the others to a room, the sight of the open door instantly changed Oscar's expression.

Jennifer glanced around and asked in surprise, “Uncle Oscar, where's my dad?”

“Did he run away?” Oscar shook his head. “It must have been Ilias who came. Tyler was taken away by Ilias...” Jennifer wore a confused expression. “How did the Henningsen family find out about this place?” Jared glanced at Oscar.

“Did you tell Ilias?” Oscar didn’t say a word, but his expression made it clear that he was the one who had spoken.

Jennifer panicked. “I have to save my father! I have to rescue him!” Jennifer wasn’t particularly worried if Tyler was merely detained by Oscar. After all, she knew that Oscar couldn’t possibly harm Tyler.

However, if Tyler was with the Henningsen family, things became uncertain. The Henningsen family had repeatedly tried to persuade Tyler to join the Demon Seal Alliance, but Tyler had always refused.

Jared stopped Jennifer and said, “Ms. Summers, please don’t act impulsively.” “Don’t do anything rash, Jennifer. Even if you go to the Henningsen family, you won’t be able to save Tyler. You’ll only end up getting caught yourself. The Henningsen family is not like the Summers family. As a branch of the Demon Seal Alliance, the Henningsen family has numerous experts who have transcended tribulations. I heard that Ilias has become a Ninth Level Tribulator, and even achieved Top Level. Going there would be no different from courting death,” Oscar pleaded.

With anger in her eyes, Jennifer glared at Oscar, her teeth clenched tightly as she yelled, “I hate you! I hate you!” Feeling the anger in his niece’s eyes, Oscar couldn’t help but shudder slightly.

“Don’t worry, Jennifer. Tyler will be fine. The Henningsen family only wants us to join the Demon Seal Alliance. They won’t harm Tyler. Tomorrow, I can personally visit the Henningsen family and have Ilias release Tyler.” Back then, Oscar still had quite a bit of trust in the Henningsen family.

There was no animosity between the two families, The Henningsen family, being a branch of the Demon Seal Alliance, had urged the Summers family to join the Demon Seal Alliance as well. It was, after all, within the scope of their duties.

Even if Tyler disagreed with joining the Demon Seal Alliance, it wouldn’t have led to his demise.

“Let’s go back first, Ms. Summers. Then, we can make our plans...” Jared, holding onto Jennifer, returned to the Summers family home through the Teleportation Array.

Jennifer’s expression was extremely downcast, her face filled with worry.

At that moment, Todd hurriedly arrived and reported, “Ms. Jennifer, the people from the Henningsen family have arrived. Should we take action?” Upon hearing that the Henningsen family had arrived, Jennifer’s eyes filled with rage.

We’ve been preparing for half a day for the Henningsen family! Now is the perfect opportunity to apprehend them and exchange them for my father!

“Perfect timing. I plan to apprehend all the members of the Henningsen family.” Seething with anger, Jennifer clenched her teeth, ready to storm out.

“Ms. Summers, we absolutely cannot afford to take action against the Henningsen family at this moment,” Jared said as he hurriedly intervened to stop Jennifer.

Jennifer was taken aback. “Why not, Mr. Chance? Didn’t you initially encourage us to actively prepare for the confrontation?”

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3550-Jared explained to Jennifer, “If we were to act against the Henningsen family now, I’m afraid your father and brother would be in danger. Let’s not provoke conflicts with the Henningsen family for now. They are unaware of the current situation in the Summers family. As long as your Uncle Oscar cooperates with us, we have a chance to rescue your father and brother.” Surprised, Oscar exclaimed, “Cooperate with you? How could he possibly cooperate with Jared?” “You can choose not to cooperate, but the consequence of such a decision will be enduring extreme pain and gradually succumbing to death. Do you want to continue experiencing what you just went through?” Jared asked Oscar.

Recalling the recent agonizing experience, Oscar felt his body shiver slightly, then he shook his head. “What do you want me to do?” “You just need to divert the attention of the Henningsen family. Tomorrow morning, I will accompany you to the Henningsen family and find a way to rescue Mr. Summers,” said Jared.

Surprised, Oscar asked, “You’re coming with me? I can handle that myself. The Henningsen family only asked us to join the Demon Seal Alliance. They won’t give me trouble.” Seeing Oscar’s naivety, Jared flashed a cold smile. “You’re too naive. If the Demon Seal Alliance had no ulterior motives, why would they take away Mr.

Summers?” Oscar remained silent. He didn’t know why Ilias had taken away his older brother.

Oscar had disclosed the location of the Summers family sanctuary to express his determination to join the Demon Seal Alliance to Ilias.

By doing so, the Summers family and the Henningsen family would become one.

Jared said, “Trick the Henningsen family and get them out of the way. If a real fight breaks out, casualties are inevitable. Do you really want to see the Summers family suffering numerous injuries and deaths?” “I’ll go,” Oscar said and walked toward the front yard.

Jared followed closely, while Jennifer stayed in the courtyard.

At that moment, the exterior of the Summers residence had already been fortified as if facing a formidable enemy. Various arcane arrays were activated, and streams of light enveloped the Summers residence!

“Deactivate the arcane arrays!” After Oscar arrived, he hurriedly instructed the Summers family members to deactivate the arcane arrays.

However, no one paid him any heed. They knew Oscar had become a traitor and was no longer the second in command in the Summers family.

Seeing this, Todd spoke. “Deactivate the arcane arrays.” Hearing Todd’s words, the Summers family members finally deactivated the arcane arrays.

Soon, Oscar’s confidant, along with the elders of the Henningsen family, arrived at the entrance.

Oscar’s confidant was a bit surprised to see Oscar standing at the door with all members of the Summers family present, including Todd.

“Mr. Oscar, this...” The confidant walked up to Oscar, puzzled.

“Have you arranged everything as I instructed?” Oscar asked.

The confidant replied, “Yes. It was handed over to Mr. Henningsen, who sent the elders here.” Russell Floyd, the grand elder of the Henningsen family, approached Oscar and greeted, “Mr. Oscar.” “Mr. Floyd, it’s really trouble for you to make this trip. Initially, I was afraid of opposition from the Summers family, so I specially sent someone to seek help from the Henningsen family leader. Now, all members of the Summers family support me, and they all want to join the Demon Seal Alliance. So, Elder, this trip was unnecessary. I'm sorry about this. To express my apologies, I would like to invite you to rest at my residence tonight. Tomorrow, I will host you properly," Oscar said apologetically.

Upon hearing this, Russell smiled faintly and glanced at the members of the Summers family. "Mr. Oscar, there's no need to be overly polite. As there are no problems within the Summers family, I will return and inform Mr. Henningsen." "That's great. Please inform Mr. Henningsen that I will personally visit tomorrow to discuss the possibility of joining the Demon Seal Alliance," Oscar replied.

"Absolutely!" Russell nodded and departed with his group