

A Man Like None Other

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3556-Outside the Henningsen residence, Jennifer had already led the Summers family members in a covert infiltration. Catina, Montane Daemon, and others were also present. They were waiting for Jared to send a signal, indicating the right moment to launch an attack. However, after waiting for a whole day, there was no message from Jared and Oscar, and they were nowhere to be seen.

Jennifer, concerned about Jared's safety, asked Todd, "Mr. Rowland, do you think Oscar betrayed Mr. Chance? He was so determined to join the Demon Seal Alliance. If he indeed betrayed Jared, it could be dangerous for him." "I don't think so. Mr. Chance has something on him. Would he throw his life away?" Todd replied, though he himself was uncertain about Oscar's intentions.

Cloud and others on the sidelines were also getting anxious. A whole day had passed with no sign of activity, which was abnormal.

"Mr. Chance should be fine. Although there's been no movement for a day, there's no indication of a fight within the Henningsen family. Even if they figure out Mr. Chance's identity, he wouldn't just surrender," Montane Daemon reassured Cloud and the others, trying to ease their worries.

"Then, let's wait a little longer. If there's still no news by tomorrow morning, we'll have to rush in, Catina said with concern. At this moment, she no longer regarded Jared as a business partner. With every union she had with Jared, Catina gave her heart and soul. It was no longer like it was at the beginning when her purpose was solely to merge their bloodlines. However, Jared was unaware that Catina had already developed feelings for him.

Time ticked away, and the arcane array that Jared and his team had cracked was also slowly disappearing. In reality, Tyler and Oscar were merely observing; it was Jared who was actively destroying the arcane array. After a day and a night, the arcane array was finally destroyed.

At the moment the arcane array dissipated, a mysterious aura enveloped the entire Henningsen family. The water in the Holy Pond began to boil, emitting bubbles. The color of the water changed from dark green to clear, but the view underwater remained obscured as though something was obstructing the view.

The Henningsen family members sensed something unusual and rushed out of their rooms. Ilias looked toward the direction of the Holy Pond, his face brimming with excitement.

“The arcane array is gone! It’s gone!” Ilias laughed heartily, his body leaping up and vanishing in an instant. When Ilias appeared at the Holy Pond and observed the changes within it, he nearly leaped up in excitement.

Oscar approached him and reported, “Mr. Henningsen, the arcane array has been destroyed.” “Great! The Summers family truly lives up to its reputation as the most proficient in magecraft across the southern region. I had no idea you could destroy the arcane array in such a short time!” Tyler praised Oscar.

“Mr. Henningsen, now that the arcane array has been destroyed, can you release my brother and nephew back to the Summers family?” Oscar anxiously inquired. As long as Tyler and Jacques return to the Summers family, Oscar would consider himself safe. Otherwise, he never knew when the poison might strike, which made him feel anxious.

“Take it easy, Mr. Oscar. I’ve said it before, once the arcane array is destroyed, not only will they be allowed to go back, but the Summers family will also receive generous gifts,” Ilias reassured Oscar. He then turned to Russell and said, “Mr. Russell, bring Rueben here now.” Russell turned and left. In a short while, he returned with someone whose features were completely concealed by a black cloth bag.

“Rueben, now that the arcane array around the Holy Pond has been destroyed, you can freely immerse yourself in the pond. Your bloodline will be reshaped, and you won’t have to live in darkness anymore,” Ilias exclaimed with Excitement.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3557-“Father, I will persevere. If I can refine myself, I will make the Henningsen family the most powerful in the entire southern region,” Rueben expressed with excitement, causing his body to tremble slightly.

It was clear that he had been eagerly awaiting this day for a long time.

"I have faith in you, son. Go ahead," Ilias nodded approvingly.

Draped in a black cloth bag, Rueben jumped into the Holy Pond.

As the churning pond gradually calmed, the black bag soon floated on the surface, with Rueben's body nowhere to be seen.

Observing this scene, Ilias smiled.

"Mr. Floyd, guard the Holy Pond. No one is allowed to enter until Rueben resurfaces. Anyone who violates this order will face severe consequences," Ilias commanded.

"Understood!" Russell nodded.

"Mr. Henningsen, let's..." Oscar began, intending to discuss Tyler's departure.

"Mr. Oscar, let's go to the hall to talk. This isn't the place for discussions," Ilias suggested, leading Oscar and Jared towards the hall.

Tyler followed behind them. Although he was not restrained by anyone, he had no intention of escaping as he knew his abilities were insufficient to escape from the Henningsen family.

Upon arriving in the hall, Oscar eagerly asked, "Mr. Henningsen, can I now take my elder brother and nephew home?" Ilias remained silent. Soon, someone brought Jacques forward.

Upon seeing Tyler, Jacques expressed concern, "Dad, are you okay?" "I'm fine," Tyler assured, his eyes filled with care for Jacques.

After all, Jacques was his son, and Tyler didn't want to see him suffer.

At this moment, upon seeing Oscar and Jared, who was masquerading as Vilhelm, Jacques couldn't help but angrily exclaim, "Oscar, you traitor of the Summers family! The ancestors of the Summers family will never forgive you!" Tyler remained unperturbed, not even glancing at Jacques.

"Mr. Oscar, aren't you even a bit upset being insulted this way?" Ilias asked, giving Oscar an amused look.

“Not at all. They’re just kids. As an elder, there’s no point in getting angry with them. Mr. Henningsen, I’ll take him back and properly disciple him at home,” Oscar replied with a smile, showing no resentment towards Jacques’ insult.

“Mr. Oscar, your foundation in the Summers family is not yet stable. If I send back your elder brother and nephew, they won’t listen to you. It might cause chaos in the Summers family again,” Ilias pointed out.

Oscar had a bad feeling, but he quickly responded, “Mr. Henningsen, the entire Summers family is now under my control. They can’t stir up any trouble.” “Oscar, your elder brother and nephew still pose a potential threat to the stability of the Summers family. I suggest keeping an eye on them until you establish firm control,” Ilias proposed.

Perplexed, Oscar frowned and responded, “Mr. Henningsen, you promised me that after breaking the formation, I could take them back.” “But now, I’ve changed my mind. What are you going to do about it? I advise you to return to the Summers family quickly and contribute to the Demon Seal Alliance. As for your elder brother and nephew, don’t worry about them for now,” Ilias retorted, reneging on his promise.

Oscar was furious. He glared at Ilias and demanded, “Ilias, what is the meaning of this? Are you kicking me when I’m down?” “I didn’t mean anything else. I simply want the Summers family to serve the Demon Seal Alliance faithfully. There will be benefits for you. But if you dare to betray the Demon Seal Alliance, your Summers family might become unnecessary,” Ilias replied, his face turning cold.

He had fallen out with them!

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3558-Ilias’s sudden betrayal caught Oscar completely off guard.

Ilias had been pushing for the Summers family to join the Demon Seal Alliance solely to gain their assistance in destroying the arcane array around the Holy Pond.

Now that the arcane array was gone, the Summers family seemed to lose its significance to Ilias.

There was no need for pretense anymore. Considering the Summers family's strength, they couldn't compete with the Henningsen family.

Furthermore, with the Summers family now part of the Demon Seal Alliance and having handed over their magecraft secret scrolls, Ilias was confident they wouldn't dare to go back on their word.

"You..." Oscar was visibly shaken by Ilias's sudden change of attitude.

"Ilias, don't push it too far. Our family can certainly reconsider our agreement and choose not to join the Demon Seal Alliance." "Do you dare?" Ilias sneered. "Your family's magecraft secret scrolls are in my possession, and I know the location of the Summers family's sanctuary. If you dare to reconsider, your family will be wiped out by tomorrow. I hope you don't act rashly. Go back and manage the Summers family properly. Serve the Dernon Seal Alliance. When I need you, don't disappoint me." Gritting his teeth, Oscar glared furiously at Ilias, but he was utterly helpless.

Physically confronting Ilias was out of the question.

"I understand," Oscar sighed reluctantly, then turned and walked away. He feared that if the stalemate continued, Ilias might suddenly detain them, making matters worse.

Following closely behind Oscar, Jared also left. However, as they exited, he exchanged a meaningful glance with Tyler.

Once they left the Henningsen residence, Oscar couldn't contain his frustration and let out a roar, "Ah!" He hadn't anticipated that all his efforts to join the Demon Seal Alliance and elevate the Summers family would end in such humiliation.

Looking at the infuriated Oscar, Jared commented coolly, "Do you think it's possible to climb higher by relying on someone else's strength before you have your own power? The Henningsen family merely used you. Now that they have no use for you, they can dispose of you anytime." Oscar wore an expression of utter embarrassment, remaining completely silent.

He finally realized how foolish he had been, seeking to advance the Summers family through the power of the Demon Seal Alliance.

As Jared and Oscar left the Henningsen residence, they encountered Jennifer leading a group, ready to charge into Henningsen City.

The delay in their return had raised concerns.

“Mr. Chance, you finally came out. We were planning to rush in and rescue everyone,” Jennifer said excitedly.

“Jared, what happened? Did you meet the head of the Henningsen family?” Catina asked eagerly.

“Yes.” Jared nodded.

“Mr. Chance, is my dad okay? What about my brother?” Jennifer anxiously inquired.

“They’re fine. However, Ilias has no intention of releasing Mr. Tyler. It seems we’ll have to force our way in,” Jared explained helplessly.

If they could manage to free Tyler and Jacques from the Henningsen family’s control first, everything would be easier.

However, attempting a direct assault with Tyler and Jacques still captive would be risky. When Jared left, he gave Tyler a meaningful look, hoping Tyler would understand the unspoken message.

The Summers family was weak. They were already at a disadvantage, even with Jared’s assistance.

If the Henningsen family decided to use Tyler and Jacques as hostages, things would become even more complicated.

“Mr. Chance, give the order. We, the Summers family, are ready to fight to the death. If we can’t rescue Mr. Tyler, there’s no point in us living. We’re not afraid to die. We’ll fight alongside the Henningsen family!” Todd declared with a determined expression.

“Let’s fight! Let’s fight!” The members of the Summers family raised their arms, determined. Despite the evident power imbalance, not a single member of the Summers family showed any signs of retreat.

