

THE MAN'S DECREE

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3558

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3558-Ilias's sudden betrayal caught Oscar completely off guard.

Ilias had been pushing for the Summers family to join the Demon Seal Alliance solely to gain their assistance in destroying the arcane array around the Holy Pond.

Now that the arcane array was gone, the Summers family seemed to lose its significance to Ilias.

There was no need for pretense anymore. Considering the Summers family's strength, they couldn't compete with the Henningsen family.

Furthermore, with the Summers family now part of the Demon Seal Alliance and having handed over their magecraft secret scrolls, Ilias was confident they wouldn't dare to go back on their word.

"You..." Oscar was visibly shaken by Ilias's sudden change of attitude.

"Ilias, don't push it too far. Our family can certainly reconsider our agreement and choose not to join the Demon Seal Alliance." "Do you dare?" Ilias sneered. "Your family's magecraft secret scrolls are in my possession, and I know the location of the Summers family's sanctuary. If you dare to reconsider, your family will be wiped out by tomorrow. I hope you don't act rashly. Go back and manage the Summers family properly. Serve the DERNON Seal Alliance. When I need you, don't disappoint me." Gritting his teeth, Oscar glared furiously at Ilias, but he was utterly helpless.

Physically confronting Ilias was out of the question.

"I understand," Oscar sighed reluctantly, then turned and walked away. He feared that if the stalemate continued, Ilias might suddenly detain them, making matters worse.

Following closely behind Oscar, Jared also left. However, as they exited, he exchanged a meaningful glance with Tyler.

Once they left the Henningsen residence, Oscar couldn't contain his frustration and let out a roar, "Ah!" He hadn't anticipated that all his efforts to join the Demon Seal Alliance and elevate the Summers family would end in such humiliation.

Looking at the infuriated Oscar, Jared commented coolly, "Do you think it's possible to climb higher by relying on someone else's strength before you have your own power? The Henningsen family merely used you. Now that they have no use for you, they can dispose of you anytime." Oscar wore an expression of utter embarrassment, remaining completely silent.

He finally realized how foolish he had been, seeking to advance the Summers family through the power of the Demon Seal Alliance.

As Jared and Oscar left the Henningsen residence, they encountered Jennifer leading a group, ready to charge into Henningsen City.

The delay in their return had raised concerns.

"Mr. Chance, you finally came out. We were planning to rush in and rescue everyone," Jennifer said excitedly.

"Jared, what happened? Did you meet the head of the Henningsen family?" Catina asked eagerly.

"Yes." Jared nodded.

"Mr. Chance, is my dad okay? What about my brother?" Jennifer anxiously inquired.

"They're fine. However, Ilias has no intention of releasing Mr. Tyler. It seems we'll have to force our way in," Jared explained helplessly.

If they could manage to free Tyler and Jacques from the Henningsen family's control first, everything would be easier.

However, attempting a direct assault with Tyler and Jacques still captive would be risky. When Jared left, he gave Tyler a meaningful look, hoping Tyler would understand the unspoken message.

The Summers family was weak. They were already at a disadvantage, even with Jared's assistance.

If the Henningsen family decided to use Tyler and Jacques as hostages, things would become even more complicated.

“Mr. Chance, give the order. We, the Summers family, are ready to fight to the death. If we can’t rescue Mr. Tyler, there’s no point in us living. We’re not afraid to die. We’ll fight alongside the Henningsen family!” Todd declared with a determined expression.

“Let’s fight! Let’s fight!” The members of the Summers family raised their arms, determined. Despite the evident power imbalance, not a single member of the Summers family showed any signs of retreat.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3559-Jared witnessed the exuberance of the Summers family members and was deeply moved.

It demonstrated that Tyler had earned the trust and respect of the Summers family.

“Even though you have a strong determination to fight, do you plan to fight with just your fists without any mystical weapons?” Catina asked.

As practitioners of magecraft and charms, the Summers family members rarely possessed mystical or divine weapons.

However, as the attacking party this time, relying solely on arcane arrays or charms might not be the best strategy.

“Even if we have to fight with our bare fists, we’ll fight against the Henningsen family until the end,” Todd declared, clenching his fists.

“I have some divine weapons here. Choose ones that suit you,” Jared said, taking out numerous divine weapons from his Storage Ring.

Many of these had been acquired from the Celestial Battlefield. Looking at the divine weapons, the Summers family members were amazed.

“Mr. Chance, you have so many precious treasures. They’re invaluable!” Jennifer exclaimed enviously.

“While these divine weapons are decent, they’re of no use to me. You should choose what suits you, Jared smiled faintly.

Soon, the Summers family members began selecting weapons.

Jared watched them from aside. He was already equipped with the Dragonslayer Sword, Dragon Bell, and Demon Flogger, so he didn't need additional divine weapons.

These divine weapons had endured thousands of years of erosion, losing some of their original power. Nonetheless, having such weapons in hand would significantly enhance the Summers family's strength.

Once the Summers family selected their weapons, Jared also provided some life-saving pills. Since Jared couldn't be available at all times to heal any injured Summers family members, having some pills on hand would be beneficial.

With everything prepared, the Summers family members gained more confidence.

"Today, we'll go all out against the Henningsen family. Even if it means death, I'll make sure to take someone down with me." "If we fail to rescue Mr. Tyler, we won't survive. We'll give it our all!" "Even if we must self-destruct and never be reborn, we won't compromise." They shouted in unison, expressing their determination.

"Jared, I... I also want to contribute to the Summers family. Can you neutralize the poison inside me?" Oscar, caught up in the fervor of the Summers family members, asked Jared excitedly.

"Mr. Chance, absolutely not. The poison must not be neutralized." Jennifer no longer trusted her uncle.

"Mr. Chance, Oscar has betrayed our ancestors and betrayed the family. His words can't be trusted," Todd added, trying to dissuade Jared.

Now that Oscar was poisoned, he dared not make any reckless moves. If the poison was neutralized, who knew what he might do?

Oscar's face turned red with shame, but his gaze remained firm as he looked at Jared. "I will never do anything that betrays the Summers family. If the Henningsen family dares to play tricks on me, I'll confront them head-on!" "Trust me, I would never betray my own family." Jared looked at Oscar and casually handed him a pill. "This is an antidote. Once you take it, the poison will be automatically neutralized. No one will control you anymore. You're on your own now." Oscar swallowed the antidote in one gulp, his eyes filled with fury. "I'm going to the Henningsen family to fight for my honor. They treated me like a dog, and I absolutely cannot tolerate that insult." After saying this, Oscar actually took the lead and charged toward the Henningsen family!

Seeing this, Jared and the others hurriedly followed, rushing toward the Henningsen family's residence.

Jared knew that many people might die in this confrontation.

However, there was absolutely no trace of fear or cowardice on the faces of those from the Summers family!

Even when facing the formidable Henningsen family, the Summers family members showed no signs of retreat.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3560-Dozens of shadow clones hurriedly made their way towards the Henningsen residence.

The Henningsen family members had also noticed the intrusion and rushed out one after another, wielding various divine weapons to confront the intruders.

Jared, wearing his Golem Body, held the Dragonslayer Sword in his hand, emitting waves of golden light.

Occasionally, the sound of a dragon's roar resonated from behind Jared.

Upon seeing the Henningsen family members rushing out to block his path, Jared unsheathed his sword and struck.

The others also unleashed their spiritual energy, directing it towards the members of the Henningsen family.

Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh!

Jared's Dragonslayer Sword struck out several times in succession.

Successive sword energies astonishingly transformed into roaring golden dragons, charging towards the crowd from the Henningsen family.

Jared was desperate. He knew that seizing the initiative as soon as possible could perhaps still give the Summers family a fighting chance.

Many members of the Henningsen family didn't have time to react and were slain on the spot by Jared's sword energy. Seeing Jared's bravery, the others also showed no signs of weakness.

Particularly Catina, Montane Daemon, Igor, and others were high-level cultivators at the Seventh or Eighth Level Tribulator. For them, slaying ordinary disciples from the Henningsen family was a piece of cake.

And there was Oscar, seemingly seeking atonement. Wielding a snake-shaped sword, he launched into a frenzy of attacks against the Henningsen family.

It was as if it was done for the Summers family to see.

Due to the sudden attack from Jared and his group, the Henningsen family was caught off guard. The initial assault resulted in the death of over ten people.

However, the Henningsen family was indeed powerful. Russell hastily led people over and subsequently joined the battle group.

The Henningsen family had many members, and given that they were already battling within the Henningsen residence, they had gained a significant advantage. With the addition of Russell, Jared and his group gradually lost their advantage.

"Mr. Chance, we'll fight the Henningsen family with all our might. You should go save my father first!" Jennifer said to Jared.

"That's right. Save Tyler first!" Oscar also urged Jared.

Jared nodded and headed straight for the Henningsen family's backyard. Upon seeing the situation, Catina and Montane Daemon quickly followed suit. They were afraid that Jared might face danger in the Henningsen residence.

After all, Ilias had been collaborating with the Demon Seal Alliance for many years, and his strength had already reached the Ninth Level Tribulator.

Jared couldn't handle that alone.

Jennifer and Todd were desperately fighting the Henningsen family. Their goal was to hold these people back, giving Jared a chance to save Tyler.

Oscar was also risking his life, venting his inner rage towards those people from the Henningsen family. Originally, he planned to join the Demon Seal Alliance, which could have propelled the Summers family to great heights. However, the Henningsen family had never taken them seriously.

They were merely exploiting the Summers family. Once they were done using them, they treated them like dogs.

Catina turned to Jared and asked, "Jared, do you know where the head of the Summers family is?" "If Mr. Summers understood my meaning, then I would know where he is..." Jared released a wave of his spiritual sense, directing it towards the Henningsen residence's backyard to investigate.

At that moment, the look in Jared's eyes was intended to secretly prompt Tyler to set up a small Spiritual Energy Collection Array in the place where he was being held captive.

In such a way, others would hardly notice. However, Jared, using his spiritual sense to investigate, could discern where Tyler was confined based on the concentration of spiritual energy. As soon as Jared's spiritual sense dispersed, his face instantly changed.

That was because he sensed three terrifying figures rapidly approaching from the backyard of the Henningsen residence.

Accompanied by a tremor in the void, three individuals materialized before Jared and his companions.

The three individuals were all dressed in black robes, clearly identifiable as members of the Demonic Cultivators.

The Henningsen family was a branch of the Demon Seal Alliance, so it was not surprising to find Demonic Cultivators there.

After all, the Demon Seal Alliance had always been secretly collaborating with the Demonic Cultivators.

The three Demonic Cultivators emitted a dangerous aura.

At that moment, Faiyar began to say in his mind, “Mr. Chance, these three individuals belong to the Inferno Devil lineage. I am familiar with the aura they emit!” Upon hearing this, Jared couldn’t help but furrow his brow. He hadn’t expected the Inferno Devil lineage to actually appear in the southern region.

Back then, they were in the far north when they encountered the Demonic Cultivators from the Inferno Devil lineage.
