

THE MAN'S DECREE

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3571-The Holy Pond's water began to boil, and beams of light sliced through the water, accompanied by thunderous roars.

Jared winced in pain and quickly retreated, but he was still hit by several beams of light.

Jared's Golem Body shed its scales and dissolved into nothingness.

With a stifled grunt, Jared felt a surge of energy coursing through his body.

"Mr. Chance, are you okay?" Faiyar asked with concern.

"I'm fine. This guy was just too strong..." Jared said, furrowing his brow.

"Hmph, even if I were weaker, you, a mere First Level Tribulator cultivator, would still not be able to handle me. However, your body is remarkably resilient. You were unscathed even after being attacked," the man admired Jared's physique.

Jared remained silent, his gaze fixed on the Savior Stone not far away. Despite his strong desire to possess it, he knew deep down that he was no match for the man.

"Mr. Chance, since you couldn't obtain the Savior Stone, you could simply cultivate at the bottom of this Holy Pond. Wouldn't it be sufficient to absorb the essence within the Savior Stone? Once the essence of the Savior Stone is fully absorbed, this stone will become nothing more than a useless rock," Faiyar suggested to Jared.

"It seems like the only option, even though it will significantly slow things down.

However, it's the only solution we have when there's no other choice... Jared finished speaking and surprisingly sat cross-legged in front of the man.

He activated the Focus Technique, and the peculiar aura emanating from the Savior Stone was completely absorbed by Jared.

The man was astonished to see Jared absorbing the essence within the Savior Stone.

“How is this possible? You’re just a Tribulator cultivator! How can you absorb and refine the aura within the Savior Stone?” the man asked in astonishment.

“My cultivation technique can refine everything. What significance does the aura of your Savior Stone hold?” Jared gave a cold laugh.

The man glared furiously at Jared, but he was powerless. Jared also realized that as long as he didn’t cross that light curtain, the man posed no threat to him.

Jared confidently and boldly absorbed the aura within the Savior Stone.

Meanwhile, above the Holy Pond, Ilias continued to guard it, ready to strike if Jared dared to emerge.

“Mr. Henningsen, the count has been completed. This time, our Henningsen family lost forty-three cultivators in battle, with seventeen seriously injured.

of them survived,” Russell reported to Ilias, his expression heavy.

Ilias narrowed his eyes. “Those audacious fools from the Summers family... After I kill the intruder who dared to enter the Holy Pond, I’ll immediately annihilate the Summers family.” “Mr. Henningsen, the three Demonic Cultivators are dead, but they left this behind,” Russell said, extending his hand to reveal three crimson inner cores.

The three inner cores emitted intense heat.

“Inner cores? Did those three deceased demonic cultivators leave these behind?” Ilias asked in shock.

“Yes, I found them within the Demonic Cultivators after their deaths,” Russell confirmed.

Upon hearing this, Ilias burst into hearty laughter. He understood Russell’s intentions.

Since the Demonic Cultivators were already dead, it was acceptable to scavenge a bit.

“With these three inner cores, let’s see how that lad could possibly escape.” Ilias quickly grabbed the three inner cores and swallowed them without hesitation.

After swallowing the inner cores, waves of heat radiated from Ilias’ body.

After feeling the intense heat surging through his body, Ilias dived into the Holy Pond with a resounding splash!

With the absence of the frost energy he had to combat in the Holy Pond, Ilias’ diving speed increased significantly!

Rage consumed Ilias as he vowed to mercilessly kill Jared if he ever laid eyes on him!

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3572-At the bottom of the Holy Pond, Jared continued to utilize the Focus Technique, constantly absorbing and refining the energy within the Savior Stone.

The man wore a serious expression, but he was simply helpless against Jared, who was beyond the light curtain.

Just as Jared let his guard down, indulging in his cultivation, the sound of flowing water overhead jolted him back to reality in an instant.

Jared looked up to find Ilias, his face twisted in ferocity, advancing toward him.

Ilias’ eyes turned red, as if he was possessed by a demon.

Jared knew Ilias’ spiritual sense had been affected.

Ilias possessed three inner cores from the Inferno Devil lineage, which could resist the frost energy of the Holy Pond. However, as he ventured deeper, it was no longer the frost energy that emerged from the Holy Pond, but an immense pressure.

Ilias, with the strength of Ninth Level Tribulator, had no problem resisting the pressure. However, he overlooked the influence of the Holy Pond on his spiritual sense.

Hence, at that moment, Ilias seemed to have gone mad, charging toward Jared.

Ilias unleashed all his strength as a Ninth Level Tribulator, holding nothing back.

Moreover, he didn't care whether the Holy Pond would be destroyed or not. His spiritual sense was damaged, and all he could think of was killing Jared. He didn't consider anything else.

Upon seeing the frenzied Ilias, Jared furrowed his brows, hastily channeling all the strength within his body.

Facing a Ninth Level Tribulator cultivator, Jared dared not show the slightest negligence or carelessness.

Jared knew that relying solely on himself to kill Ilias was utterly impossible.

Thus, Jared turned his gaze toward the light curtain.

At that time, Ilias was still unaware of what the light curtain represented, nor did he know about the Savior Stone. Therefore, as long as Jared used his tactics to pique Ilias' interest in the Savior Stone, that would be enough.

"Brat, return my fire sacred bead..." Ilias roared in fury, his fists raining down on Jared.

Jared was exerting all his strength to resist, his body continuously retreating under the relentless punches from Ilias.

In the end, Jared was defenseless, continuously spewing fresh blood from his mouth. Ilias glared menacingly at Jared, his eyes filled with disdain.

"Slice open your belly and give me the fire sacred bead..." Ilias spoke to Jared.

"All right, I will give you the fire sacred bead.... Jared really did spit out the fire sacred bead.

At that moment, there was no longer frost energy at the bottom of the pond, so it didn't matter whether there was a fire sacred bead or not.

Seeing Jared obediently spit out the fire sacred bead, Ilias was somewhat taken aback.

Jared tossed out the fire sacred bead, but astonishingly, it rolled all the way to the other side of the light curtain.

Upon seeing the situation, Ilias didn't hesitate at all and immediately went to pick up the fire sacred bead.

Just as he reached the light curtain, a flash of light streaked across, and the man's figure appeared once again.

"Those who intrude without permission will die... A single sentence from the man left. Ilias slightly taken aback.

Subsequently, the radiance emitted by the Savior Stone also caught the attention of Ilias.

"That was the Savior Stone. The reason this Holy Pond could restore one's bloodline was all due to that Savior Stone. You can take the Savior Stone, so your son won't need to be in the Holy Pond to restore his bloodline," Jared said to Ilias.

Ilias stood there, dazed, no longer exhibiting the madness from before. It seemed as if his spiritual sense was slowly returning.

Ilias glanced at Jared, a hint of slyness flashing in his eyes.

"Are you trying to trick me?" Ilias' mind was back in action:

Jared wore an expression of frailty, feigning ignorance as he asked, "How so?" "You've been at the bottom of this pond for quite some time. Why haven't you retrieved the Savior Stone yet? The Savior Stone is well- guarded. Are you trying to delegate your dirty work to someone else?" Ilias saw through Jared's intentions!

Jared gave a faint smile. "I didn't attempt to seize it because I simply couldn't defeat that soul remnant. My strength is only at the First Level of Tribulator.

Even if the opponent is just a soul remnant, it's still beyond my capabilities. You, a dignified cultivator at the Ninth Level of Tribulator cultivation stage, surely aren't afraid of a mere soul remnant, are you?"

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3573-Jared's words had directly provoked Ilias!

"Hmph, how could I possibly fear a mere remnant of a soul? However, don't delude yourself into thinking you're clever. Once I obtain the Savior Stone and the fire sacred bead, I'll come back to finish you off... After Ilias finished speaking, he walked directly toward the light.

He paid no heed to the man's warning.

After all, the other party was merely a remnant of a soul, not even worthy of being called that, but just a wisp of lingering regret guarding the Savior Stone.

Ilias was quite confident. As a cultivator at the Ninth Level of Tribulation, how could he fear a mere remnant of a soul?

When Jared saw Ilias heading toward the light curtain, a glint of surprise and delight flashed in his eyes. The Dragonslayer Sword suddenly appeared in his hand as he prepared to strike at any moment.

"Those who trespass shall be shown no mercy.... The man once again threatened Ilias.

However, Ilias hardly cared about the threat from a remnant of a soul.

Ilias, brimming with confidence, stepped into the curtain of light and bent down to pick up the fire sacred bead.

Upon seeing Ilias step into the light curtain, Jared immediately gripped the Dragonslayer Sword tightly.

However, after waiting for quite a while, there was absolutely no movement from Ilias, and the man did not launch any attack on Ilias either.

At that moment, Jared was dumbfounded. Hadn't it been agreed that anyone who entered the light screen would be killed without mercy?

"Hahaha, even a mere remnant of a soul dares to talk big. Considering you were trying to protect the Savior Stone, I won't destroy you. You should leave on your own accord!" Ilias laughed heartily, waving his hand at the man.

The man remained still, his icy gaze fixed on Ilias.

Ilias smirked and walked directly through the man. That man was nothing more than a remnant of a soul without a physical body. Ilias passed through him effortlessly, casually picking up the Savior Stone.

Ilias secured the Savior Stone, yet the man still did not attack. That left Jared utterly dumbfounded! What's going on? Why was I attacked while he wasn't?

Was I bullied because I was only a cultivator at the First Level of Tribulation?

Jared was in a panic! If this man doesn't intervene, Ilias, armed with the Savior Stone, will definitely kill me. I'm no match for Ilias right now!

"Do you even consider yourself a man? A real man's word is his bond, as unchangeable as a galloping horse. Yet, your words are as worthless as a fart.

Given that you possess the celestial gem known as the Savior Stone, you must certainly be an immortal. Yet, I've never seen an immortal as timid as you. I really don't understand. How did you become immortal? Did you pull some strings and sneak in through the back door? A cultivator at the Ninth Level of Tribulation managed to scare you? From what I see, you don't seem to have much strength. In the future, you'd better stop bragging so much." Jared hurled insults at the man.

Jared did that to stir up the man's fighting spirit. He couldn't just stand by and watch Ilias walk out of the light curtain. If Ilias were to come out, everything would be over!

Jared's angry rebuke caused the man's brows to furrow "You impudent brat. You're the first one who dares to curse me. Today, I'll show you if I am a real man or not. A radiance emanated from the man's body Immediately after, his hands transformed into swords, slashing toward Ilias!

"Slash!" The man's gaze was as cold as ice A divine ray of light streaked across!

Ilias' eyes widened. He didn't even have time to react!

Pft!

A divine light swept across Ilias' body, cleaving him directly in two!

Ilias' bodily spirit attempted to escape, but it too was severed by that divine light!

Ilias died!

Despite his cultivation level at the Ninth Level Tribulator, he was effortlessly slain just like that!

Jared found it difficult to believe. After all, it was only a soul remnant. How could it possess such power?

Even until his death, Ilias couldn't comprehend it. How could a soul remnant, which he had no respect for, possess such strength?

"Boy, remember my words. Once you achieve immortality, I will definitely prove to you, without a doubt, whether I am a man or not." The man gave Jared a cold stare, then his figure gradually blurred, and finally, he disappeared!

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3574-The entire light curtain had vanished, leaving only the fire sacred bead and the Savior Stone emitting a glow at that moment!

All the pressure within the Holy Pond had disappeared, and the pool's bottom had become incredibly calm!

"Mr. Chance, it seems you have offended an immortal. If you were to ascend to immortality and enter the realm of the immortals, would you face retribution?" Faiyar spoke to Jared.

"Forget about it. Given the situation just now, if I hadn't cursed him and let Ilias walk out of the light curtain, we would have been done for," Jared said as he picked up the fire sacred bead.

When Jared held the Savior Stone in his hand, the Focus Technique within him surprisingly began to revolve on its own, continuously absorbing the essence within the Savior Stone!

Jared looked surprised, but he quickly regained his composure. He sat cross legged and began to refine the energy within him.

Perhaps with the Savior Stone, Jared's cultivation level could be elevated to the next level!

At that time, Jared could finally practice in peace, as time slipped away minute by minute.

Meanwhile, above the Holy Pond, Russell and other members of the Henningsen family were all in a state of urgency.

Ilias had been underwater for such a long time, yet there was no sign of movement. This left everyone in the Henningsen family feeling deeply unsettled.

Moreover, after a period of turmoil, the Holy Pond immediately regained its tranquility, and since then, there had been no disturbance.

Russell, along with his men, had been intently watching the Holy Pond for quite a long time.

"Mr. Floyd, Mr. Henningsen has been silent for such a long time. Could it be that..." Someone anxiously asked Russell.

"Stop talking nonsense. Mr. Henningsen is a Ninth Level Tribulator cultivator.

There's absolutely no way he could be in trouble. Let's just wait a bit longer," Russell scolded.

Since Ilias was no longer present, Russell was the one calling the shots.

Rueben had returned to that small, dark room.

Not only were the Henningsen family anxious, but also Montane Daemon and others were equally worried.

"Mr. Chance has been in the Henningsen residence for quite some time now, hasn't he? Could something have happened?" Montane Daemon furrowed his brow.

"How about we check out the Henningsen residence? Logically speaking, after such a long time, no matter what Mr. Chance's situation might be, there should have been some news by now,” Igor also expressed concern about Jared’s safety.

“Isn’t it suicide if the few of us charge into the Henningsen residence?” Catina cast a glance at Montane Daemon.

At that moment, there were only four of them left. The entire Summers family had already evacuated. After all, the Summers family was large and they dared not hide in Henningsen City.

Regarding the four individuals, Montane Daemon, Igor, Catina, and Cloud, if they were to intrude into the Henningsen residence, how could they possibly be a match for the Henningsen family members?

Moreover, the head of the Henningsen family was a Ninth Level Tribulator cultivator. Even Montane Daemon was no match for him.

“Sigh, are we just going to keep waiting like this?” Montane Daemon sighed.

Everyone fell silent, finding themselves in a dilemma at that moment.

Just then, Tyler suddenly appeared before their eyes. “Together, we will storm into the Henningsen residence in search of Mr. Chance’s whereabouts...” Upon seeing Tyler, Catina curiously asked, “Mr. Summers, haven’t you already returned to the Summers family?” “I returned to the Summers residence, made some simple preparations, and then brought people back with me. Mr. Chance became trapped at the Henningsen residence because he was trying to save me. How could I just stand by and do nothing? It has been such a long time, and we still haven’t received any news from Mr. Chance. We must go into the Henningsen residence to investigate. Even if it means risking our lives in a confrontation with the Henningsen family, so be it!” Tyler’s eyes flickered with determination.

For Jared’s sake, he didn’t mind taking the risk of facing the Henningsen family once again.

Members of the Summers family might lose their lives, but they would never fail to repay the kindness that had been shown to them!

Upon hearing Tyler’s words, Montane Daemon and the others were filled with determination!

“Without wasting any more time, let’s storm into the Henningsen residence to find Mr. Chance. If anything bad has happened to him, even if it costs me my life, I will make sure the Henningsen family pays the price,” Montane Daemon said with a menacing expression.

“Let’s go. We need to find Mr. Chance...” Igor also exclaimed loudly!

A group of people, without attempting to conceal themselves, boldly marched towards the Henningsen residence

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3575-As Tyler and his group headed towards the Henningsen family, someone quickly reported the situation to Russell. “Mr. Floyd, the Summers family has returned with reinforcements...” Upon seeing this, Russell of the Henningsen family swiftly gathered everyone and instructed them to guard the front courtyard.

Tyler and Montane Daemon, both unmatched in their abilities, wasted no time and immediately engaged in combat.

Having previously fought fiercely, anger fueled their determination.

Thus, as soon as the two sides clashed, a fierce battle ensued.

“Fox Queen, accompany Cloud to the Holy Pond to find Mr. Chance,” Montane Daemon instructed Catina loudly.

Catina nodded and led Cloud towards the Henningsen family’s backyard.

“Stop them! They must not reach the Holy Pond,” Russell of the Henningsen family roared furiously.

The Henningsen family members obstructed Catina and Cloud, while Montane Daemon and Igor cleared the path for them.

The battle shifted from the front yard to the backyard, eventually reaching the location of the Holy Pond.

The entire Henningsen City could hear the fluctuations of spiritual energy, the cries of battle, and the shouts and groans.

Cultivators from both the Henningsen family and the Summers family fell in the midst of the chaos.

Although Ilias was absent, Russell and a few other elders managed to hold their own.

Russell of the Henningsen family focused his attention on Montane Daemon, recognizing him as the most powerful opponent.

Igor, with his Eighth Level Tribulator cultivation level, was also a formidable force.

If it weren't for these two individuals, the Summers family would have likely been defeated quickly.

Russell of the Henningsen family found himself losing ground against Montane Daemon. In desperation, he shouted, "Issue the Defense Command, quickly..." With Ilias absent and Rueben confined, Russell was the only one who could make decisions. A dazzling firework shot into the sky, bursting into a spectacle.

Half of the sky turned red in an instant. The people of Henningsen City looked up at the sky and rushed towards the Henningsen family, armed and ready.

The Henningsen family held a position of absolute power and prestige in Henningsen City, which was why the city was named after them.

The order to defend the city had been given, calling upon everyone in Henningsen City to rise and protect their home.

From all directions, a dense crowd surged towards the Henningsen family.

Although the abilities of these individuals varied greatly, their sheer numbers were overwhelming, an immeasurable sea of people.

Tyler's expression turned grim.

Igor and Montane Daemon furrowed their brows as well. None of them had expected the Henningsen family to mobilize the entire population of Henningsen City.

It was beyond belief.

“All members of the Summers family, listen to my command and set up arcane arrays. We must not let these people breach the Henningsen residence,” Tyler commanded with a mighty roar. He pulled out a talisman and threw it high into the air.

The rest of the Summers family followed suit, setting up their arcane arrays one after another.

They had to isolate the entire Henningsen residence using this method.

If the people from Henningsen City managed to break in, there would be no escape for any of them.

Originally, they had no advantage in their fight against the Henningsen family.

However, with the arrival of people from Henningsen City, their defeat became inevitable.

Without delay, beams of light enveloped the entire Henningsen family.

Some cultivators bravely rushed to the forefront of the arcane array, attempting to forcefully break through. But they were immediately repelled by a powerful force.

Tyler’s unprecedented move placed the Summers family at a sudden disadvantage within the arcane array.

For such a vast arcane array, it was crucial to have someone maintain it and perform constant repairs.

With numerous attackers outside, even if they were not targeting the core of the arcane array, it would soon be destroyed.

To preserve the arcane array, it was essential for a portion of the family members to dedicate themselves to its maintenance and prevent its destruction.

During this critical moment, Igor, Montane Daemon, and Catina were the ones holding the entire situation together.
