

The Man's Decree Chapter 644 (The Man like none Othere chapter 644)

Chapter 644 A Decamillennium Ginseng

Recently, Herb Palace had been gathering all the herbs that were one hundred years old and above. Only a few managed to enter Yeringham. As Zeke's Goldenbirch Herbs had failed to source any herbs that were one hundred years old and above, he didn't deliver any to Kai.

However, Zeke would still transfer the profits of selling the revitalizing pills into Kai's account on time, for Kai was the only one who could provide him with the pills.

Kai hadn't been in touch with Zeke for some time, so he wondered why Zeke would contact him all of a sudden.

After the call connected, Zeke's voice rang out. "Kai, do you still remember me? You didn't forget about me, did you?"

"There's no way I'd forget you, Zeke. You're the one transferring money into my bank account every day," Kai responded cheerfully. "So, why did you call me all of a sudden?"

"Kai, I have good news. I believe you'll get excited upon hearing the news," Zeke said excitedly.

"Zeke, I'm busy. Cut to the chase," came Kai's answer.

He seemed upset by how Zeke was holding him in suspense.

Sensing his displeasure, Zeke immediately said, "I received news that a decamillennium ginseng was discovered in the northeast."

"What?" Kai sprang from the couch.

A decamillennium ginseng was extremely rare. If Kai could get it for himself, he could definitely increase his power.

Kai was worried about the lack of resources when the decamillennium ginseng appeared out of nowhere.

“Zeke, are you sure the information is reliable? Don’t lie to me.” Kai didn’t bother to hide his disbelief.

Zeke responded swiftly, “Of course not. I dare not lie to you, Kai. Remember Zyaire Rider from Goldenbirch Herbs?”

“Yes!” Kai nodded.

“It was Mr. Rider who shared the information with me. His hometown is in the northeast, and he came to Yeringham when he was young to start a business here. Now, his hometown discovered a decamillennium ginseng. Knowing that Mr. Rider is involved in the herbs business, they had asked for his help to spread the word so that they could get a suitable buyer,” Zeke said patiently.

Kai remembered Zeke telling him that Zyaire wasn’t a local of Yeringham. He didn’t expect Zyaire to be from the northeast.

“Zeke, wait up. I’ll head to Yeringham right away, and we’ll go meet Zyaire together,” Kai said.

He then hung up and changed his clothes, ready to leave.

“Kai, where are you going? Lunch’s almost ready!” Josephine hollered when she saw that Kai had changed and was about to leave.

“I won’t be joining you for lunch. I have something important to deal with. I’ll be back a few days later,” Kai informed as he made his way out.

“Where are you going? What about the challenge three days later?” Josephine asked, utterly puzzled.

Kai responded, “Don’t worry, I’ll be back in time for that.”

He was in a hurry so he could get back in time for the challenge three days later. If he could get the decamillennium ginseng and improved his strength, he wouldn’t need to fear Xander.

“Mr. Chance...” Both Tommy and Phoenix came up to him and greeted him.

“Tommy, get the car. We’re heading to Yeringham now,” Kai commanded.

As Kai seemed to be in a hurry, Tommy and Phoenix didn’t ask questions.

Very quickly, Tommy drove the car over, and the three of them headed to Yeringham.

Tommy floored the accelerator, and it only took them slightly over an hour to reach Yeringham.

After meeting Zeke, Kai said, “Zeke, let’s go meet Zyaire now.”

The Man’s Decree Chapter 645 (The Man like none Othere chapter 645)

Chapter 645 Your Slice Of The Pie

“Kai, is it that urgent? You haven’t had lunch yet, right? Should we have lunch first?”

Zeke had no idea that Kai would rush here without having lunch.

“I don’t have much time to spare. Let’s go now.”

Kai pulled Zeke up and dragged him to the door.

They had just stepped out of the door when they bumped into Yasmin and Frida. Both ladies froze in shock at the sight of Kai.

They hadn’t met Kai in a while. Now that Kai was back in Yeringham without warning, Yasmin felt a tumult of emotions brewing within her heart, which she thought had calmed down.

“Kai, when did you get here? Where’s Josephine?” Frida asked happily.

“She isn’t here. I’m here for Zeke,” Kai answered.

He then pulled Zeke away. There was no time for him to talk to the ladies.

Yasmin parted her lips as Kai walked past her, but nothing came out of her mouth.

“Yasmin, have lunch with Frida. Don’t wait for me. I’ll be back after we take care of our business,” Zeke told her.

Yasmin didn’t say anything as she watched Kai get into the car.

She remained rooted to the spot even after the car had disappeared from sight.

Back in the Whitaker residence in Summerbank, Yasmin had been frightened out of her wits and had assumed that she would die there.

Despair was coursing through her veins when Kai showed up to save her, and she’d never forget the sight.

“Yas, you and Kai aren’t meant to be. Stop thinking about him.

Besides, he’s Josephine’s boyfriend. You can’t possibly snatch him from Josephine, right?” Frida reminded.

Frida had seen through Yasmin. Ever since Kai had rescued Yasmin from the Whitaker residence in Summerbank, Yasmin had changed drastically. Yasmin and Zeke used to be a loving couple, but they had been fighting a lot more frequently after that incident. Yasmin would always compare Zeke with Kai. Gradually, her emotions for Kai faded, for they rarely got to meet, and she knew they weren’t meant to be.

But right when Yasmin was about to forget about Kai, he appeared in her life again. His appearance had caused emotions to stir within her heart.

Yasmin knew there was no telling when she and Kai would get to meet again after this encounter. Perhaps they wouldn’t see each other again for the rest of her life.

Kai had no idea what was going on in Yasmin’s mind. He was focused on getting to the decamillennium ginseng.

He would get the decamillennium ginseng no matter what, even if it meant that he had to snatch it from someone else's hands.

When they arrived at Goldenbirch Herbs, Zyaire had already received news from Zeke and was waiting at the door. After making a fortune from selling Kai's revitalizing pills, he had great respect for Kai.

"Mr. Chance..."

Zyaire stepped forward and opened the door respectfully.

Kai alighted from his vehicle and asked anxiously, "Zyaire, is the news about the decamillennium ginseng true?"

"It's true. The Sabine family from the northeast discovered it. They aren't involved in the herbs business. That's why they released the news to get a suitable buyer," Zyaire said with certainty.

Seeing that Zyaire was so confident, Kai finally calmed down. I'm glad it's true.

"Let's head to the northeast now to get the decamillennium ginseng. Once I get it, you'll get your slice of the pie," Kai said with great urgency.

"Sure. I'm just honored to be of help, Mr. Chance. I wouldn't dare to ask for anything in return!" Zyaire pulled out a few flight tickets from his pocket.

"I've reserved the flight tickets ahead before your arrival."

Kai beamed at the sight of the flight tickets. No wonder Zyaire can expand his business in Yeringham swiftly even though he isn't a local. He's a sly fox.

Kai led Zyaire, Tommy, and Phoenix to the airport. Zeke didn't tag along with them.

The Man's Decree Chapter 646 (The Man like none Othere chapter 646)

Chapter 646 Too Cheap

They arrived at Ironwick River in the northeast in the evening. Once Kai disembarked from the plane, he felt a chilly breeze. The temperature here was lower than that in Horington.

Fortunately, Kai was wearing thick clothes. Otherwise, he would be freezing by now.

Outside the airport, a Mercedes-Benz was waiting for them. Zyaire had made arrangements for someone to pick them up.

“Uncle Zyaire!” Beside the car, a young man waved at them when he spotted Zyaire.

Zyaire led them to the car and introduced them to the young man. “Mr. Chance, this is my youngest nephew. He’s my youngest brother’s son.” Kai shot the young man a nod as a form of greeting.

He knew a little about Zyaire’s family, for the latter had introduced his family to him on the plane.

The Rider family had four sons, and Zyaire was the eldest. He was brought up in a poor family.

As it was cold in the northeast, it was hard for them to grow any produce there. Thus, at the age of eighteen, Zyaire left his hometown to work elsewhere.

Later, he gained a firm foothold in Yeringham and became rich and powerful. However, he’d still head back to his hometown every year. Zyaire ran a herbs business, and since there were plenty of herbs in the forests in the northeast, he had gathered his brothers to help him get the herbs.

Years later, the Rider family became a wealthy family in the county under Zyaire's lead. They owned a Mercedes-Benz, which was rare to see in their hometown.

After they got into the car, the car sped off. They soon arrived at a three-story tall mansion—Zyaire's house. Zyaire's youngest brother lived here, and he would also stay here whenever he came back.

"Dad! Uncle Zyaire's back!" Entering the house, the young man yelled at a middle-aged man sitting on the couch.

The middle-aged man was Zyaire's youngest brother, Eduardo Rider. After their life got better, Eduardo started slacking at work. He would spend his days playing card games and drinking tea leisurely.

At the sight of Zyaire, Eduardo quickly got to his feet. "Zyaire, that's fast. Are you afraid someone else will get the decamillennium ginseng? I told the Sabine family to keep it for us. Everyone knows you sell herbs within the border, so no one except our family can afford to buy it," he stated smugly.

Everyone in the vicinity knew that the Rider family specialized in the herbs business.

"Eduardo, hurry up and get someone to prepare some food. We departed at noon and didn't get to eat lunch," Zyaire said.

Zyaire knew that Kai and the rest must be starving, as they didn't get to have lunch.

Kai had reached the Transcendence Phase, so he wouldn't feel hungry even if he didn't eat for ten days. However, he could not say the same for Tommy and Phoenix.

Eduardo nodded and gestured for his son to deal with it. He then took Zyaire's hand and led him to the couch. "Zyaire, the Sabines know nothing. When you state your price, make it as low as possible. We'll then sell it for a high price within the border and pocket the difference.”

“Did the Sabine family reveal how much they want to sell it for?” Zyaire asked.

“We sounded them out, and they wanted five billion. I think we can buy it for three billion. If we can buy it for that price, we can sell it for tens of billions...” Eduardo revealed his plan excitedly.

“Three billion?” Kai, Zyaire, and the rest gaped in disbelief.

The price was cheaper than they had expected. A thousand-year-old snow lotus cost billions, so a decamillennium ginseng would exceed ten billion. Hence, they were surprised to learn that they could buy it for three billion.

Sensing Zyaire's surprise, Eduardo gave a small smile. “Zyaire, I'll be honest with you. If you can get a miracle doctor within the border to treat Ewan Sabine's illness, they might lower the price.”

The Man's Decree Chapter 647 (The Man like none Othere chapter 647)

Chapter 647 Greedy

“What happened to Ewan?” Zyaire asked in astonishment.

Eduardo explained, “The Sabine family has always been in the lumber business. A while ago, Ewan brought his men to the Black Blind Forest to get lumber, but they went missing for three days and three nights.

Everyone went looking for them, but they only found Ewan. And he seemed to have lost his mind and had to rely on others to feed him food and water.”

“Black Blind Forest?” Zyaire couldn't hide his shock. “Has Ewan gone crazy? I can't believe he had the guts to chop wood in the Black Blind Forest. No one has been there for years!"

"It's all because of money. The trees in the Black Blind Forest are tall and thick, so the Sabines grew greedy.

Ewan brought his men there, but they all died save for him. He's now a loony, but at least they discovered the decamillennium ginseng in the Black Blind Forest."

Hearing that, Zyaire finally understood the situation. No wonder nobody discovered the decamillennium ginseng. There are many people who pick herbs and mushrooms in the northeast, so it's impossible that no one discovered the ginseng. Turns out it's in the Black Blind Forest.

Kai asked curiously, "What is this Black Blind Forest?"

"Mr. Chance, that's a forest in the northeast. No one can enter it and come out alive. Gradually, a rumor claiming that a blind man had eaten everyone who went into the black and dark forest started. That was how it got the name, and no one dared to step foot in it ever since," Zyaire explained patiently.

Eduardo was stunned to see his brother treat Kai politely and address the latter as "Mr. Chance."

He had assumed that Kai, Tommy, and Phoenix were Zyaire's subordinates who had followed Zyaire here. Clearly, he was wrong.

"Zyaire, who are they?" he asked.

"Oh, this is Mr. Chance. He came here for the decamillennium ginseng," Zyaire replied.

"Zyaire, we could've bought the decamillennium ginseng for ourselves. Why did you bring someone along?" Eduardo shot Zyaire a displeased look.

He had informed Zyaire about the decamillennium ginseng so that they could buy it themselves. He didn't know Zyaire would bring an outsider here.

“Shut up!” Zyaire glared at Eduardo. “Even if we bought the decamillennium ginseng, I would’ve gifted it to Mr. Chance.”

Eduardo looked Kai up and down. He realized that Kai was just an ordinary young man who looked completely unassuming. Clearly, Kai was not born into a rich family. He couldn’t understand why Zyaire would treat Kai with such respect.

Despite feeling indignant, he held his tongue.

“Mr. Chance, my little brother is greedy. Please don’t take it to heart,” Zyaire apologized with a smile.

“It’s fine,” came Kai’s answer as he flashed him a grin.

Soon, dinner was ready. Zyaire led Kai and the rest to the dining table before preparing their rooms for them to spend the night.

Kai rejected his offer, as he had no intention of staying at the Rider residence. He didn’t like sleeping at someone else’s house.

Instead, he ordered Tommy to reserve rooms at a hotel before heading over.

After unpacking their stuff, Kai brought Tommy and Phoenix out to stroll around the county. Despite being a quiet county, it boasted magnificent views and fresh air.

Right when they were strolling around the county leisurely, back in the Rider residence, Eduardo summoned his son, Arturo Rider.

“Dad, why did you summon me?” Arturo asked in confusion.

Eduardo glanced at Zyaire’s room before asking in a low voice,

“Remember the three people your Uncle Zyaire brought here? Do you know where they are staying?”

Chapter 648 What Are You Looking At

“I know. I was the one who told them the location of the inn.”

Arturo nodded.

“All right, then. Tell Raul to bring men to scare those three. It's best if he manages to scare them off,” Eduardo instructed.

“Why? Didn't Uncle Zyaire bring those people here?” Arturo asked, baffled.

“I don't know if he's been bewitched or what. I can't believe he brought outsiders to steal business from us. They're here for the decamillennium ginseng. If he gives it to them, he'll be giving him tens of billions. How can he possibly do that? Have Raul get rid of those three. Once we earn money with it, I'll buy you a Porsche,” Eduardo whispered to Arturo. At the mention of Porsche, Arturo nodded vigorously. “Don't worry, Dad. I'll definitely do the job well.”

With that, Arturo rushed out to look for Raul.

Raul was a well-known hoodlum in the area, and he had over a hundred underlings. Most of the time, he earned by getting protection fees. Ever since the Rider family had begun their pharmaceutical business, Raul had extorted protection fees from them as well. However, as the Rider family became more and more well-off, they simply decided to give hoodlums like Raul money to protect their shops.

Soon, the Rider family became close to Raul, and Raul became the Riders' private bodyguard. That way, no one would dare to cross the Rider family. However, there was one exception—the Sabine family. The Sabines had soared to great heights earlier, and their business was in the lumber industry.

As logging was laborious and dangerous work, not even Raul dared to cross the Sabine family. Just the woodcutters who worked for the Sabine family alone were more than enough to deal with the hoodlums.

After taking Tommy and Phoenix around, Kai returned to the inn. The county seat was a small place, and they soon finished the trip around the place.

However, just as Kai and the others reached the inn entrance, they were stopped by a group of ferocious-looking people with batons in their hands.

Scanning the crowd, Kai realized they were all ordinary people. Not even a single martial artist was among them. It was then he realized they were merely hoodlums.

Not wanting to waste his time on them, Kai took a step back as Tommy took a step forward to stand right in front of the crowd.

Having been the underground king for so many years, Tommy had developed a menacing way of carrying himself. Once he stepped forward, and the moment the hoodlums saw him, they instinctively took a step back.

Right then, a bald man with a large build in the crowd bellowed at Tommy, "What are you looking at?"

Advertisement

That man was Raul. When he saw that his subordinates were so frightened by Tommy to the point they were retreating, he was overwhelmed by embarrassment. That was why he had stepped forward. "What's wrong with that?" Tommy scoffed.

"Don't you know that this is my territory? Leave Ironwick River right away! You'd better not appear in my line of sight ever again, or else I'll break your legs!" Raul spat out.

“F*ck, who gave you the courage to play the ruler in front of the king? You were babies when I entered society!”

There was no way Tommy was going to take that silently. After cursing at them, he readied himself for a fight.

Right then, Kai abruptly spotted someone familiar—Zyaire’s nephew, Arturo. Arturo was hiding behind a tree, sneakily watching the scene unfold.

Although it was dark, and Arturo was not near them, Kai spotted Arturo right away. Ever since Kai entered the Transcendence Phase, his eyesight had become better than an average person’s.

Upon seeing Arturo, Kai realized what was going on. He then stopped Tommy and said to Raul, “Mister, we just came to this place, and I don’t think we’ve done anything to cross you. Why do you want us to leave?”

The Man’s Decree Chapter 649 (The Man like none Other chapter 649)

Chapter 649 Not Soundproof

Raul glanced at Kai. “You didn’t cross me, but you’ve crossed someone else you shouldn’t. That person has asked you to scram, get it?”

“I see.” Kai nodded. It seemed that his guess was right.

He walked past Raul and the others toward the inn.

When Raul realized that Kai had just ignored them, he quickly turned to walk into the building, wanting to stop Kai.

However, just as Raul stretched out his arm, Tommy made his move. He grabbed Raul’s arm and broke it easily.

Raul screamed as the intense pain traveled up his arm.

However, it was as if Kai did not hear him at all; he continued walking into the building. At the same time, Phoenix smiled. “Tommy, I’ll leave these people to you. I'm going to bed now."

"Hey, don't. Give me half a minute. Let's sleep together."

Tommy panicked when he realized Phoenix was leaving as well.

Tommy and Phoenix had long been sleeping with each other. They were already of that age, so sleeping together was nothing out of the norm.

Phoenix did not reply to that as she continued into the inn with a smile on her face. Meanwhile, Tommy turned even more anxious. He swung his hands, and immediately a gust of wind rushed toward the men Raul had brought with him. In seconds, they were blown to the ground, unable to rise again.

Tommy then hurried after Phoenix. When Arturo saw what had just happened, his eyes nearly popped out of their sockets as he fell to the ground.

Returning to his room, Kai stood by the windowsill and stared at the green scenery outside. He did not know how many more precious herbs would be in the forest. Kai did not have the time, or else he would have taken a trip around Black Blind Forest. After all, only a remote forest like that would have aged herbs.

After a while of staring, Kai lay on the bed and was about to sleep when Tommy's and Phoenix's voices came from the next room. An exasperated look crept onto Kai's face, and he sat back up. The soundproofing of this inn is horrible.

Instead of sleeping, he began sensing the spiritual energy around him.

The spiritual energy here was much stronger than that in Horington.

Although spiritual energy barely affected someone of Kai's level, since he was unable to sleep, he decided he might as well work on his cultivation.

He cultivated the entire night, but there were barely any changes to the spiritual energy in his elixir field. Evidently, the spiritual energy in the air was no longer of much use to him.

Right then, Tommy knocked on his door and asked him to go for breakfast with him. After that, they were going to go to the Riders and have Zyaire bring them to the Sabines to discuss the matter regarding the decamillennium ginseng.

When Kai opened the door, Tommy beamed at him and said, “Mr. Chance, how was the room?”

“Not bad, but the soundproofing needs a little more work...” Kai said with a half-smile.

Hearing that, Tommy froze. Beside him, Phoenix turned bright red and immediately rushed downstairs.

Realizing what Kai had meant, Tommy chuckled awkwardly.

The three of them then went downstairs for breakfast. To their surprise, Zyaire had sent Arturo to pick them up earlier than expected.

Arturo turned ashen at the sight of Kai and the other two. He did not dare to look them in the eye, especially Tommy. When Arturo was close to Tommy, he began shaking, for he was dumbstruck by what had happened the night before.

“Hey, I’m not a monster who’s about to gobble you up. Do you have to be so scared?” Tommy asked, amused by Arturo’s reaction.

Arturo did not have the courage to reply to him. He kept his eyes forward the entire drive to the Rider residence.

As Kai and company reached the Rider residence, they saw Zyaire and Eduardo outside. Eduardo was on his knees with his hands tied behind his back.

The Man's Decree Chapter 650 (The Man like none Othere chapter 650)

Chapter 650 Crossing The Wrong Person

Seeing that Kai had arrived, Zyaire quickly went forward and kneeled before Kai. However, Kai gently pulled him up.

“What’s the matter, Zyaire?” Kai asked.

“Mr. Chance, my brother was foolish. I can’t believe he tried to get someone to chase you away, Mr. Chance. He’s such an idiot. I’ve asked him to kneel before you and apologize. Please, Mr. Chance, please spare them.”

Having said that, Zyaire kicked Eduardo and hissed, “You b*stard, apologize to Mr. Chance right now!”

“Uncle Zyaire, what are you doing?” Arturo asked unhappily.

Zyaire swiftly slapped Arturo. “Get on your knees too! You and your father are really birds of a feather. If you can’t get Mr. Chance’s forgiveness today, then get out of the Rider family! From now on, you won’t inherit a single cent from the Rider family.”

Although Zyaire had already left the family, he was the only reason the Rider family was doing well. Hence, he had a certain amount of power in his family.

When Arturo heard that they would be kicked out of the family, he quickly fell to his knees.

“Prostrate yourself before Mr. Chance!” Zyaire yelled at Eduardo and Arturo.

He was livid.

What a bunch of ignorant fools! I can’t believe they hired a hoodlum to trouble Kai. Do they have a death wish? Even if they weren’t targeting Kai, the man beside Kai—Tommy—is the underground king. He’s someone with a reputation in Jazona. How can a minor hoodlum like Raul be compared to him?

Eduardo and Arturo could only keep prostrating and hitting their heads against the ground in apology. Soon, their foreheads became swollen. “That’s enough,” Kai said flatly.

Truthfully, Kai was not planning to hold them accountable for it. After all, that group of people had only been a group of hoodlums. He had dismissed them as easily as smacking a fly away, as he did not see them as a threat. All he wanted was the decamillennium ginseng. Everything else was not important.

“Thank you, Mr. Chance. Thank you!” Zyaire said hastily.

Advertisement

“Let’s not waste any more time and look at the decamillennium ginseng instead.”

As Kai still had to deal with the challenge, he was not planning to linger around for long. One day was all he had, for he had to fly back the next day.

“Okay, we’re going to the Sabines’ right away.”

Zyaire nodded, then drove Kai and the others to the Sabine residence.

As he watched the car disappear, Arturo, who was still kneeling, asked, “Dad, who are they?”

At that moment, Eduardo was pale and shaking. “Don’t ask. We nearly crossed a king...”

And he fell to the ground on his bottom.

As the county seat was not a big place, Kai and the others soon arrived at the Sabine residence. The Sabine residence seemed more luxurious than Zyaire's place. It was a manor house with dozens of rooms.

Kai followed Zyaire into the Sabine residence. Just as he stepped into the house, he sensed a gust of cold wind. Evidently, the temperature was much lower inside.

Zyaire, Tommy, and the others quickly pulled their clothes tighter to get warmer.

"What awful weather is this? It's summer, but it's so cold," Tommy commented, shuddering.

"This place is really cold," Phoenix agreed.

Advertisement

"That's how it is in the northeast. The seasons are confusing, and it won't be anything strange to see snow now," Zyaire explained.

Instead of commenting on the temperature, Kai frowned and scanned the area. "They've probably dug up someone's grave. That's why it's chilly in here."

Zyaire did not understand what Kai meant, but Tommy and Phoenix did.

The two of them followed Kai around, so they had witnessed certain things. Back then at Summerbank, the Jantz family had killed so many girls and buried them all on a hill. Kai was the one who had noticed how eerie the place was, and that was why he had ordered people to dig up the place.

Upon hearing Kai's words, both Tommy and Phoenix immediately figured out why they were feeling so cold.
