

Marriage Beyond Redemption by Lesley Harte Chapter 91

Chapter 91 Witnessing A Miracle

Although Colette had been good to her over the years, Helena never saw her as a mother.

Elbert and Ruby got engaged very early, but after they got married, he was very cold to Ruby. Ruby was always sad and eventually passed away when Helena was a few years old.

When Ruby died, it gave Elbert a chance to remarry. Helena blamed everything on Colette

Therefore, Helena often tormented Colette and even plotted to make her have an abortion. As a result, Colette became unable to have children.

On the surface, she got along peacefully with Colette, but only Helena knew how much she loathed Colette. Moreover, Colette was Peyton's mother.

Helena vented her anger towards Colette along with her anger towards Peyton.

If in the past, Helena had ignored Colette, today she actually placed her hand in Colette's palm and let her lead the way.

To outsiders, Helena and Colette looked like happy mother and daughter.

Colette felt a faint sense of happiness in her heart, after all these years Helena had blamed her for their mother's death. But she was also a mother herself and could fully understand Helena's feelings.

Colette placed all the missing maternal love for Peyton onto Helena.

No matter how Helena treated her, she believed that one day Helena would understand her.

Now Helena has started to accept herself, and Colette feels very happy.

Everyone quickly complimented Colette and Helena. When Helena saw that it was about time, she took the initiative to speak up, “Mom, where’s Peyton? She’s been on the ship for so long, why hasn’t she come over to say hello to us?”

“Peyton was stubborn since she was young. She was not as sensible as you. She preferred to be alone.”

Colette thought of Peyton’s cold and distant demeanor and didn’t want to spoil the good day by inviting her over.

“How could that work? If Peyton has any issues with you, I’ll talk to her. You’ve always been thinking about her. On this joyous day, it would be great for you to reunite with her.”

Colette couldn’t refuse Helena. If Helena and Peyton could make up, she wouldn’t have to be embarrassed.

“Okay. I didn’t know where Peyton was.”

“Over there, let’s go and find her in the past.”

Helena led a group of middle-aged ladies who were chatting and laughing as they walked by.

Grace rallied a group of friends and they all started their live streaming rooms.

When the magnificent and luxurious cruise ship appeared, the audience in the live broadcast room all exclaimed in admiration.

“Is this the world of the rich? It is indeed a happiness that we cannot imagine.”

No wonder celebrities want to marry rich people. The jewelry worn by the wealthy woman who just flashed by on the screen was particularly expensive.

Some people were born rich, unlike us commoners who always suffered.

The anchor smiled and looked at the comments, saying, "Next, I will take you all to visit the buffet restaurant, which has thousands of ingredients. Everyone should open their eyes and take a good look, as many of the ingredients cannot be found outside. The decoration of the restaurant is also very luxurious."

They deliberately found a gimmick, but they were actually very excited. They were looking forward to catching Peyton in bed with a man on the spot.

Helena smiled when she saw everything was ready. She didn't see Nolan in the crowd.

It didn't matter that Nolan didn't come, as things were about to get big anyway.

She signaled to a small anchor, and that person quickly stepped forward.

"Ladies and gentlemen, witness the miracle!"

The anchor pushed open the door with a complex and nervous feeling.

Chapter 92 | Loved Watching Scenes Like This

At the moment of opening the door, Helena was still holding Colette's hand and smiling happily, her voice gentle, "Mom, we are a family, we can have Peyton come to our house often in the future."

"Helena, I was relieved that you thought of me this way. I was afraid that you didn't like her."

Colette had no idea about Helena's plot and hoped that Helena could reconcile with Peyton.

No one knew how excited Helena was at the moment. On the way here, she had imagined countless times the embarrassed look of Peyton.

The door slowly opened and when the person inside appeared, everyone was stunned.

Helena's smile froze on her face.

On the sofa, two people were entangled.

Nolan took off his jacket and was only wearing a white shirt. Several buttons on his shirt were torn open, revealing a large area of skin.

Compared to Nolan's usual restraint, his current reckless appearance is very rare.

He held a woman in his arms, and in the moment of opening the door, he immediately pressed her face into his embrace.

Everyone only saw the slender waist of the woman and her bare arms that were very white.

No one knew she was Nolan's ex-wife, they just thought Nolan was cheating.

This was a common thing among the nobility, after all, many men appeared to be serious on the surface, but were actually promiscuous behind closed doors.

But he was Nolan!

Over the years, many women pursued Nolan, all ending with their hands and feet broken and thrown out.

Helena was Nolan's only publicly announced fiancée, and he treated her with great affection.

So the good husband in everyone's eyes was actually having an affair with other women at his son's first birthday party, this...

Grace

had already recognized that the person in Nolan's arms was Peyton, and her face turned very embarrassed on the spot.

After all, Helena had to rely on Nolan, but Grace interfered with Nolan's affairs

Grace felt that her family was going to be destroyed!

The most pitiful one was Helena. She specifically asked the internet celebrities to do a live broadcast, and originally there were only a few thousand people in the live room.

The audience was shocked now.

"Seafood feast? What's the story behind this? But I love watching it!"

"Isn't that Mr. Dalton? Everyone said he was very abstinent, but now he's so lewd!"

"Mr. Dalton was indeed handsome. But was the person he was holding in his arms not his wife? Unbelievable."

The popularity of the live broadcast room was getting higher and higher, and the internet celebrities were panicked. They dared not get involved in Nolan's affairs, so they quickly turned off the live broadcast.

Someone took a screenshot of this scene and uploaded it to the internet, instantly sparking a heated discussion!

The atmosphere in the scene was terrifyingly eerie. Helena never dreamed that her carefully planned scheme would end up harming herself.

Helena looked at the woman he was holding in his arms without showing any expression on her face.

Nolan, did you love her so much?

Did you love her so much that you ignored our reputation and still wanted to protect her?

Colette also recognized that it was Peyton and was a little confused for a moment.

She had just returned and didn't know anything about the conflict between Peyton and Nolan. She only knew that Peyton was Nolan's ex-wife and everyone avoided talking about it.

She thought Nolan disliked Peyton, but it seems that was not the case.

Those who wanted to watch the show had different expressions in their eyes at that moment.

I felt sympathy, ridicule, and pity towards Helena.

Chapter 93 She Felt Ashamed.

Helena was originally very excited, but now she is shocked to the extreme, even forgetting to flow her blood.

She found her body uncontrollably trembling and her heart aching faintly.

After a while, she finally said, "What are you, what are you doing?"

Familiar words. Helena's trembling voice revealed her inner anxiety.

Peyton intended to lift his head and see if Helena's face was as pale as it used to be.

It doesn't feel good to be lifted up high by someone and then brutally dropped down.

Soon, news of Nolan's infidelity at his son's first birthday party spread on the internet. Peyton wanted to ruin Nolan and Helena's reputation!

The hand placed on the back of Peyton's head prevented her from moving at all, which made Peyton very unhappy.

Nolan held Peyton and everyone was waiting for him to explain to Helena.

Nolan's first reaction was to grab the suit jacket lying nearby and cover Peyton's exposed skin.

Then Nolan picked up Peyton. He looked down at Helena with cold eyes.

“You paid the price for your foolishness.”

Then Nolan left immediately without explanation, not even comforting Helena.

Nolan only showed arrogance.

Helena was shamefully left there.

Nolan didn't explain to Helena, nor did he need to explain to anyone else.

The anticipated drama plot did not unfold. Nolan left with arrogance, which made Helena embarrassed.

The dispersing crowd let out one or two sneers, “She really thought Mr. Dalton loved her.”

“That would be shameful. If my boyfriend dared to cheat, I would give him and his lover a slap.”

“If Mr. Dalton were your husband, would you be willing to hit him? Infidelity among men in this social class is normal, would you really make a scene because of your husband's affair? It's useless in front of Mr. Dalton. He may abandon you. Too many people want to be his wife. Then you can only cry.”

“You're right. Ms. Chase obviously wanted to see other people make a fool of themselves by inviting her friends over, but she didn't expect to become the main character herself. It's so unfortunate.”

One minute ago, Helena was envied by everyone.

One minute later, everyone felt sorry for her.

How did it become like this?

Grace knew she had made a big mistake. She had no idea that the person she had been cursing for a long time was Nolan!

She wanted to comfort Helena, “Helena, I’m sorry, I also…”

“Snap!”

Helena suddenly slapped Grace with a sense of grievance and anger.

Grace’s face was swollen and she didn’t dare say a word.

“Get out!”

Grace covered her face and ran away, and only then did Colette come to her senses and prepare to comfort her.

“Helena, you…”

Helena glared at her fiercely and said, “Who allowed you to speak? Do you really think my dad likes you and you can become my mom? You are not worthy!”

“Helena, how could you speak to me like that?”

“I always spoke to you like this. If you don’t want to get hit by me, leave quickly!”

This incident sparked a heated discussion on the internet. The editors worked overnight, and within ten minutes, the news quickly spread on the internet.

Chapter 94 Your Loss Was More Severe

Helena went crazy and destroyed the room, while now Peyton is in Nolan’s arms.

In the absence of anyone, Peyton only poked her head out of Nolan’s arms.

On the deck where snowflakes were flying, Nolan said coldly, “Are you happy doing this?”

Nolan wasn't foolish, he knew that Peyton couldn't have slept with him in a place like this.

He had already sensed something before it started, and he could have refused.

But he didn't want to refuse today.

He just didn't expect that Helena would foolishly embarrass herself.

Peyton

blinked at him and said, "Why aren't you happy? It was Helena who wanted to scheme against me. You're not feeling sorry for her, are you?"

Nolan was very dissatisfied and said with a gloomy face, "Peyton, you used your reputation to gamble for revenge on her. Did you win or lose in the end?"

Nolan was someone who didn't easily reveal his emotions, but Peyton's actions caused his proud restraint to crumble. He let out all of his emotions.

"Have you ever thought about doing this, making her lose face on the surface, can it change anything substantial? Everyone knows how dirty this class is, they will only laugh at her for a while. Her status is unshakable."

"But you were going to be treated as a mistress. If I hadn't covered your face in time, how would you live in the future? Your loss would be even greater."

In the face of his angry eyes, Peyton was laughing.

"Are you still in the mood to laugh? Do you know what kind of consequences it could cause?"

"What's the worst that could happen? I would just be insulted by everyone. What else? If I really became like that, shouldn't you be happy? Why are you so angry instead?"

Peyton seemed to have hit a nerve, her hand around his neck feeling icy cold. She laughed, "Don't you hate me? Why are you worried about me?"

Nolan dropped her from his arms and said angrily, "Torturing you is my business, what does it have to do with others?"

Facing the cold wind, Peyton suddenly smiled.

"Nolan, if one day you found out that my father was not the real culprit who hurt your sister, would you regret what you did to me?"

Dong.

It was like a stone hitting the water and splashing countless waves.

Nolan approached and asked in a cold tone, "What do you mean?"

The more Nolan tried to conceal, the more Peyton affirmed that there were doubts about Paula's death.

However, that person was able to hide from Nolan, and she cannot reveal the truth now.

Peyton didn't answer. She looked up at the sky and said, "Look, the snow tonight is so beautiful."

"Peyton, did you hear what I said?"

Nolan didn't like this kind of weather. He liked the sunshine and everything thriving.

He didn't like the north wind swallowing everything, leaving only one color in the world.

Peyton reached out and caught a cold snowflake. Although she was smiling, it made people feel cold.

She stood in front of him and asked seriously, "Nolan, today is the anniversary of my child's death. Have you thought about him for even a moment this year?"

Nolan tightened his grip on her shoulders and said, "Peyton, that was our child."

Chapter 95 The Logan Family Was About To Be Destroyed.

Peyton, however, smiled lightly and said, "I thought he was just using me as a pawn to get back at you."

"How could you think like that?" Nolan frowned, feeling that Peyton was acting strange tonight.

Nolan had intended to say a few more words, but now he had to go deal with the trouble caused by Helena.

Besides the weeping Helena, there were also Helena's difficult-to-deal-with family members waiting for Nolan.

He handed the room key to Peyton and said, "You go back to the room and change your clothes first."

As long as Peyton changed her clothes, no one would know that the woman just now was her. Nolan could easily handle the rumors online.

Nolan didn't know what Peyton was planning in her mind. To ease the previous awkwardness, he moved the fireworks that were originally scheduled for 10 o'clock two hours earlier.

Fireworks were set off into the sky in the extremely cold weather, attracting a large number of spectators.

The deck, covered with a thick layer of snow, was crowded with people and very lively.

The fireworks display made people temporarily forget the previous embarrassment and all enjoyed the beauty of this moment.

Even those in high positions could not refuse the fleeting moments of beauty.

Grace cried uncontrollably while covering her face. Bruce stood by her side and comforted her, "You've grown up, it's time to become smarter."

Grace is now very regretful. Being slapped by Helena is not important, Peyton is.

“I had no idea that the man who helped her was Mr. Dalton. If Mr. Dalton found out that I was behind this, my shares and family would disappear!”

“So I said you were stupid.”

“Bruce!” Grace naively thought that Peyton was Nolan’s kept mistress.

Even if she was a mistress, she was still Nolan’s woman.

Everyone knew that Nolan would protect his woman. Grace was so anxious that she stomped her feet. What would she do in the future? She was sure she couldn’t survive here anymore.

At that moment, she saw Peyton appear in the hallway and felt both hatred and fear towards her.

Grace was still mocking Peyton, “Don’t think Mr. Dalton will help you. You offended the White family, and you will be retaliated against.”

Grace didn’t know that Peyton was Nolan’s ex-wife.

Bruce thought Grace was too stupid. However, he couldn’t reveal Nolan’s secret. He quickly stood in front of Grace and said, “Peyton, she speaks too harshly, don’t mind her.”

Peyton nodded to Bruce and kept the secret.

She looked at Grace and spoke softly but coldly, “I couldn’t choose to be born, can’t I choose to die?”

Grace was intimidated by the coldness in Peyton’s eyes and didn’t know how to respond.

Grace whispered, “Bruce, why do I feel like she’s acting weird? What did she mean by that last sentence?”

“I don’t know, I had a bad feeling.”

“Bang!”

Fireworks continued to rise, illuminating the night as bright as day.

Chris didn't like the noisy place and started crying. Helena had someone carry him back to the room to sleep.

Mary was carrying Chris and getting ready to go back to the room, Chris pointed to a cake not far away and spoke.

"Chris, you couldn't eat sweets at night, otherwise you would get cavities."

but

Chris disagreed. The cake was the same as the one made by his mother. Couldn't he eat a few pieces of the cake made by his mother if he couldn't see her?

Mary had to compromise and put it on the ground, "Chris, I'll get you the cake, just wait for me."

Chris saw Peyton in the hallway as soon as Mary left, and his eyes lit up.

Mom came!
