

Married by Accident (English) Chapter 10 - Make you regret

Chapter 10: Make you regret

Zaydan who is currently widening his eyes, stares intently at the woman who seems to have a plan to set him up. In fact, he never thought that Arabella would make such crazy conditions.

Actually he really wanted to leave there, leaving the figure of a young woman whose status was far below him because Arabella was just a poor orphaned woman. While he is from a wealthy family. By observing the appearance of Arabella who was wearing long sleeves and knee-length bottoms and turned to a face that was actually quite cute.

However, it did not beat the beauty of his wife whom he loved so much. His prestige and pride were much higher, so he couldn't escape from there. In the end Zaydan decided to agree to the terms of the woman who wanted to cuddle him.

'You are digging your own hole when you challenge me, Arabella. It seems you forgot the most important thing. Leonard, the key to all this is him. I will put a chain around his neck, so as not to divorce you forever,' Zaydan whispered in his heart.

Stevan, who was getting more and more dizzy at Arabella's words, was still looking for a way out that was not burdensome to everyone.

"At a time like this, I realize that I really need my wife's arrogance. If only she had joined earlier," Stevan whispered in his heart.

Arabella smiled faintly as she felt the upper hand at having managed to confuse the two young masters.

"Never mind, I already know the answer. You two don't need to say it. I will leave here tonight and the citizens won't feel...."

Arabella couldn't continue her words when she was cut off by the man she secretly loved so much. In fact, she never thought that the young master agreed to a condition that was actually just a fad.

"Okay, I'll marry you if Leonard divorces you!" said Zaydan very casually while his left hand was tucked into his trouser pocket.

Unable to hold it in any longer, Stevan, who was very surprised by Zaydan's very bold and surprising decision, reflexively immediately took his brother-in-law away from Arabella and spoke one-on-one. Stevan glared at his brother-in-law to make him aware of such a very brave act.

"Brother, take those words away! Don't play with fire with a promise that is a debt and must be paid. I don't want your wife to be angry and maybe kill us both. Maybe even Arabella because in this world there is no woman who wants blended."

Zaydan just chuckled when he saw the worry that he thought was too much from his brother-in-law who looked very scared. He tapped Stevan's shoulder and moved closer to speak quietly, so that no one would hear what he was saying.

"That's why you have to help me too, Stevan."

"Help with what, Brother?" Stevan asked, raising his eyebrows.

"I want you to make Leonard never divorce Arabella. We must do whatever it takes for the two of them to remain husband and wife forever. I will use my power to threaten Leonard and his family. Meanwhile, you use the subtlest way as usual, namely every day advising your impudent Leonard."

"If that's the case, I'll always do it, Brother. However, we don't know God's destiny. What if your promise will destroy the household you've built?" Stevan still couldn't calm down and was very worried about the fate of his brother-in-law who was very calm in front of him.

Meanwhile, Zaydan just smirked and punched Stevan's muscular stomach. "It seems you underestimated me, brother-in-law. You seem to have forgotten who I am. Zaydan will never lose and always destroy anyone who tries to interfere. Don't worry, Leonard's life and death are in my hands."

Without waiting for an answer from Stevan, Zaydan turned around and walked away from him. Approaching the figure of a woman who even looks very restless in her place.

Arabella, who had never thought that Zaydan would agree to her terms, still feels very confused about deciding the answer between love and her future.

"Will Mr. Zaydan really marry me if that bastard divorces me? If it's true, I will do everything so that after I get married, Leonard divorces me. Well, I will sacrifice my life to get the man I love," Arabella whispered in her heart.

Arabella's daydream was instantly shattered when she heard the words from Zaydan who had just returned and looked at her with a gaze full of charm as if bewitching her.

"Hurry up and go inside and marry Leonard! Even though this is only a serial marriage, but after taking care of all the paperwork, you will be officially married. Because I have informed Leonard's extended family," said Zaydan with a smile rising from her face.

Arabella, who was increasingly fascinated by the man in front of her, was like a buffalo being poked by her nose. She knew that her weakness was the figure of a handsome man full of charm, so when Zaydan looked at her and smiled, it made her heart melt and feel weak. Only a nod of the head was the answer.

"Good, now we better get in!" Without wasting any time, Zaydan grabbed Arabella's left wrist and led her into the house. Where everyone was waiting to be a witness to the siri marriage which was very sudden and shocked the local residents.

Stevan, who was behind, could only shake his head at the interaction of his wife's brother. He who was walking behind could only speak to himself in a very low voice.

"If his wife knew what her husband is currently doing, maybe their marriage would fall apart tonight."

Arabella who was just silent and obedient, let her hands be held by the fingers with those strong books. Even the sound of her heart beating very fast at this moment because her skin was in contact with the man who was her first love.

Meanwhile, Leonard, who had been sitting leisurely in Arabella's rented living room chair, still looked very relaxed waiting with the residents. In fact, he is like a suspect in a crime case because there are two men currently standing behind him. As if worried that he would run away to escape.

"You two are just like officers," Leonard said, turning his head back to look at Billy and Vino who were none other than his half-brother's personal assistants as they stood frozen behind him.

"Shut up you bastard!" sarcasm Billy who had hit Leonard in the head because he was really feeling very angry at the actions of a man who harassed women. Moreover, he actually did not agree with Arabella marrying Leonard because he was very worried about the fate of the poor woman.

"Unlucky!" Leonard was so angry when Billy dared to hit him, that he reflexively got up from his chair and was about to throw his fist at the face of the man who made him furious.

However, Vino held his hand and stared at him very sharply. "If you want a power struggle, we can continue outside. I also want to teach you a lesson." Vino could not continue his words, because he saw the figure of the young master who was his employer had entered the house by holding Arabella's wrist.

For some reason Billy didn't like it when he saw Arabella's hand being held by another man even though he had only known her a few hours ago.

Leonard turned around to look at Zaydan who was currently holding Arabella's hand and his hatred grew even greater for the woman who was already in front of him.

"Arabella, you really are a cheap woman. See you later, I will make her regret ever being born on this earth," Leonard whispered, currently staring at the expression full of happiness on Arabella's face.

Continued...