

Married by Accident (English) Chapter 14 - Foreign number

Chapter 14: Foreign number

With a smirk, Leonard exhaled in front of the woman's deathly pale face. Then let out a voice to make Arabella realize who she was.

"A wife is like ready-to-eat food that can be enjoyed at any time, without having to be cooked. Because it only needs to be heated a little so that it feels more delicious when enjoyed. So, I don't have to wait too long when I want to enjoy my food when I feel hungry. really really want to enjoy you."

Arabella's body immediately trembled and her fear was now creeping into her soul when she heard the very vulgar figurative words from Leonard who had started to bring her face closer to her jaw area.

Of course she knew very well what Leonard would do, which was to aim for her neck to give her a kiss mark. Reflexively she pushed the man's chest that had slightly touched her neck.

"I'm not food and I won't let a man who doesn't love me touch or enjoy my body because I'm not a cheap woman!" shouted Arabella very loudly and her face was already red with anger.

Arabella's outright refusal made Leonard feel more challenged and curious to immediately conquer the woman he hated so much. He is a handsome man and has a proportional body that is the dream of women. After the rejection from the woman who intrigued him so much, it was none other than a young lady from an affluent family that he couldn't beat.

Now the woman who he considered only came from a lower caste also rejected him and it provoked more anger in him and the turmoil burned the soul.

"How dare an outcast and poor woman like you reject me!" shouted Leonard with his jaw clenched and there was the sound of his teeth grinding against each other. Not only that, he had now forced Arabella's clothes to tear them apart.

"You are just a cheap woman and completely worthless. So, don't act chaste in front of me! Because I will make you regret your words just now." With his mighty strength, Leonard had pulled Arabella's clothes.

Of course, without wasting time, he tried to strip the clothes that were attached to the thin body of the woman who was still trying to protect herself by holding onto the torn clothes. He, who had been pressing Arabella's body, kissed her forcibly. However, he found it difficult because Arabella kept trying to dodge.

Arabella, who felt her body ached when she had fallen twice on the bed, became even more frightened when Leonard, who was already on top of her, aimed for her lips. Her brain is now trying hard to come up with an idea to stop the madness of Leonard who looks very eager and passionate.

She could feel something hardening under there. By trying to dodge Leonard's thick lips, i.e. moving left and right, Arabella tried to push the burly body on top of her. However, her hand was held by the strong hand of the man who had managed to kiss her very roughly. However, she still tried to close her lips and let out a voice of rejection over and over again.

Feeling increasingly irritated, Leonard is now biting the lower lip of the woman who kept her mouth shut and what he wants has now been achieved, which is to make Arabella open her mouth so that she can further explore the inner cavity, to lull the woman who is his legal wife to fall asleep with his kisses.

He is a man who is very good at kissing and making women surrender when he is lulled by his touch, because that is why he wants to make the woman who dared to reject him fall in love with his actions.

Feeling the pain of being bitten, a reflex made Arabella open her mouth. Before he could neutralize the pain he was feeling, the thick lips of the man who still controlled his body had already pushed in and were busy sucking and sticking his tongue.

Arabella couldn't contain her sadness because she had never kissed before. However, her first kiss was from a man she hated so much and kissed her very roughly. It brought tears to her eyes, because she felt disgust for Leonard.

"Lord, protect me. I only believe in You. Because I have no other place to lean on but You. Why does my life always end in suffering? Is my chastity completely worthless and will be snatched away easily by a man I don't love at all? and don't love me either?" screamed Arabella's mind that was already flooded with tears.

Overwhelmed by lust, Arabella didn't care at all that the woman she was kissing was already in tears. He just wanted to channel his passion that was already in the crown. Even his fingers were already guerrilla under Arabella's clothes.

He deliberately did that to make the woman under him aroused and surrender to him, so there was no need to bother to calm the figure of the woman who was still trying to move against him.

At first, Arabella was still trying to move her body to avoid the touch of Leonard's strong fingers that landed on her chest. However, her strength is not comparable to the power that has been getting wilder to explore every corner of her body. Sensing that there was a greater danger, Arabella firmly held the hand that had slipped under her trousers.

She wanted to scream so that the man who was getting wilder didn't touch her most sensitive part. However, again and again she lost and her body rolled violently as Leonard's fingers managed to make her body stiffen. The touch that she felt for the first time seemed to make her body weak and lose strength.

Leonard, who was still busy licking Arabella's sensual lips, smirked when he managed to make the woman who had previously rejected him so much now seem to enjoy what he was doing.

"You hypocrite woman! Even now you really enjoy it, don't you? In a moment, you will give your life to me," Leonard mumbled who cradled Arabella even more by moving his fingers on the woman's most sensitive part.

Feeling that there was no longer any resistance from Arabella, Leonard was now softer as he took a sip of the chapped red lips that he had crushed so roughly. Even though there was no reply, he was still busy there and a few moments later, let go of his grip because he wanted to switch to giving a kiss mark on the neck of the woman who was below him.

However, he could tell that Arabella had reached a climax because of his actions when he heard the soft moaning voice of the woman who currently closed her eyes and still saw clear tears streaming down her face, so she freed Arabella and looked at the face that was still closed.

"Do you still want to reject me after successfully feeling the peak of pleasure to moan like that?"

Arabella reflex immediately opened her eyelids and stared into Leonard's dark eyes who were very intimate with her. She who felt very embarrassed and maybe her face had turned like a boiled crab, turned her face away.

"I've made you orgasm, now it's your turn to serve me!" said Leonard very firmly and his hands were already starting to force Arabella's clothes off. He also managed to make the woman under him half naked.

Seeing the sight of the smooth white skin that lay in front of him, made Leonard's desire even more burning, so that he wanted to trace that smooth body with his lips. However, just as he was about to leave a trace of ownership there, his cell phone rang.

Feeling very annoyed because his activities were interrupted, Leonard got up from above Arabella's body to take the cellphone in his pants pocket. His intention was to turn off the phone. However, when he saw a foreign number calling him, he was curious and immediately shifted the green button up.

His face immediately lit up when he heard a voice from the other side, he hastily grabbed his clothes and left the room without looking back.

Continued...