

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1907

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1907 -Hayden's face was dark.

She stared at Kevin, and said coldly: "Mr. York, what do you mean?"

The gift carefully prepared for her was a bouquet of roses?

It's not that she didn't like bouquets...What did Kevin send her flowers for?

If she was sick and hospitalized now, Kevin would send her a bouquet of flowers, which made sense.

Hayden behaved well, and Kevin sent flowers, giving the impression that Kevin was confessing his love to her.

But, She's still a man now.

How could Kevin confess his love to her?

"It's nothing interesting, but when I passed by the flower shop, I saw the beautiful roses they just came back from, so I bought a bouquet, but I didn't know who to give it to. I knew Mr. Queen the most in Jensburg, so I had to give it to Mr. Queen. The bouquet is for Mr. Queen."

Kevin was stared into a hornet's nest by Hayden, he was not afraid, maintained a good demeanor, and explained a few words with a smile.

It's just his explanation, but Hayden didn't believe it, so she made up with this excuse, but she rejected the bouquet of flowers.

"Thank you Mr. York for the bouquet. I don't like bouquets. If you can't find someone to give it to, and whoever looks good in my company, you can give her the bouquet." Hayden said that he was about to pass Kevin and left.

She was really caught off guard by Kevin's sudden bouquet of flowers. If she hadn't been steady, she would have exposed her flaws long ago.

Kevin followed her with a bouquet, and smiled as he walked: "Mr. Queen, I think you're the most pleasing to the eye in Jensburg, so this bouquet of flowers is still for you. You need some flowers in your office to breathe, Mr. Queen."

Haydeb: "As long as I am alive, there will be breath in my office, and I don't need a bouquet of flowers to add some breath, and it's not spring."

Put a bunch of flowers in her office in spring to add some spring to her office. The breath is justified.

Kevin laughed, "Mr. Queen, you're so humorous."

Hayden returned to her office.

The cheeky Kevin naturally followed into her office. Hayden wanted to stop him, and instinctively wanted to close the office door, but Kevin moved faster than her. When she wanted to close the door, Kevin's foot has stepped in.

Hayden had no choice but to give up.

After Kevin came in, he closed the door of the office to cut off the prying eyes of the outside world, so as not to prevent Hayden from getting thin-skinned and blushing.

A group of senior managers still standing at the door of the meeting room. They looked at each other.

They didn't know who took the lead, so everyone left, but when they left, they all took their steps lightly, and they stopped discussing the topics they were discussing, and they all left the top floor quickly.

They discussed it after they left the top floor.

Hayden knew that Kevin's bouquet of flowers made her a hot topic in the company.

Everyone was really talking about it.

"Our Mr. Queen is so good-looking. Sometimes when I look at him for a long time, I will have thoughts that I shouldn't have, which scares me to death, so I don't dare to stare at Mr. Queen now, for fear of being caught by him. That handsome face fascinated me."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-