They came to the hospital because they wanted to beg their son-in-law to let their daughter go.

As long as the son-in-law was willing to issue a letter of understanding, the daughter could be given a lighter sentence.

The Yates family's parents approached Hank to ask him to issue a letter of understanding, and they would definitely be stopped and abused by the Brown family's parents. Liberty didn't know about these things and didn't want to care about them. It had nothing to do with her.

The only connection she had with the Brown family was Sonny.

Clive, who was away from the Stone Family, came back.

When the car passed by the gate of Remy's villa, he took a look and found that his younger sister was in Remy's villa. He wanted to stop the car, but finally drove back to his home.

His younger sister and Remy were affectionate, and the younger sister is interested. Although Remy's family was in Annenburg, Remy also had two villas in Wiltspoon. The villa that was being renovated was also a neighbor of their business.

In fact, Clive also agreed with Remy.

FC & Co. was also discussing cooperation with Stone Group now.

Of course Remy was in charge of this matter.

This was Ben creating an opportunity for his younger brother to please the future Johnson family.

Even if there was no chance of cooperation, Clive still appreciated Remy.

The main reason was that Remy also liked his younger sister, but, as his mother was so reluctant to let his sister marry away, Clive was also a little bit reluctant, so he didn't speak for Remy, but he didn't stop him either, let nature take its course.

Some time ago, when the young master of the Bucham family began to pursue his younger sister, Clive found that his parents' attitude towards Remy was much better.

At this moment, both parents were at home, and Elisa was still in Remy's villa, helping to look after the decoration, which showed that it was the parents' acquiescence.

After parking the car, Clive got out of the car and asked the butler who came out:
"Madam hasn't had her lunch break yet?"

"No, Madam is still watching TV at home, accompanied by Mr. and Miss went to Young master Johnson's house next door. Only the young mistress went upstairs to take a lunch break."

When Alice was first pregnant, she was lethargic, and she got used to it, and now she had to take a lunch break at noon every day.

"Master, have you eaten yet?" the butler asked.

After Clive got out of the car, he turned around and took a file bag from the car, and said to the butler, "I ate outside."

Clive: "You go to the next door and ask Miss and Young Master Johnson to come back."

The butler: "Okay."

Clive took the file bag and entered the room.
