

Read Married At First Sight Chapter 2440

Married at First Sight Chapter 2440-Fortunately, Josh was married, and Jasmine was pregnant. Julian didn't have to worry about anything. Besides, Kiera only admired powerful people. Josh was that kind of powerful person in everyone's eyes.

It's normal for Kiera to appreciate and praise Josh.

Seeing that the caller ID was from Kiera, Julian felt his headache a little less.

He quickly answered Kiera's call.

Julian: "Ms. Caron."

Kiera: "Mr. Bucham, are you awake? Or was it woken up by my phone call? I see that you have been asleep for a long time. It is almost ten o'clock now, so I called you to see if you are awake."

Kiera didn't drink, she woke up very early.

She was away from home, and after waking up, she couldn't go to the practice room to practice martial arts, so she went to the street outside and ran for a long way, then ran back to the hotel, took a shower, and went to the self-service room on the first floor of the hotel for breakfast.

Julian fell asleep drunk, so she didn't bother Julian, and went to the restaurant to have breakfast by herself.

The cafeteria on the first floor of Wiltspoon Hotel was the best among all hotels in Wiltspoon. There were a wide variety of food and drink in it. People from the southeast and northwest could enjoy the taste of their hometown when they came here.

Kiera especially liked to have three meals a day in the cafeteria on the first floor.

She brought her children to Wiltspoon for a competition and stayed at the Wiltspoon Hotel. After eating for a few days, the next day she returned to Yonsburg, she began to miss the food in the Wiltspoon Hotel's cafeteria.

“Ms. Caron, I just woke up. When I woke up and found myself in the hotel, I received a call from you.” Julian said gratefully: “Ms. Caron, were you the one who took me home last night? Sorry to trouble you, thank you, I was supposed to take care of you, but I asked you to take care of me.”

Kiera said: “Mr. Bucham, I don’t know where your home is, so I have to bring you to the hotel. Mr. Bucham, you don’t need to say those kind words. You took me to Young Master York’s wedding banquet and allowed me to eat the most delicious food in the world, and I also met people I really want to see and know.

Young Mistress York was not only very gentle to me, but also gave me her contact number. She said that I would call her and chat with her when I have time in the future. She is also a martial arts practitioner, and we will have the same topics.”

Kiera had a very good impression of Serenity.

She felt that Serenity didn’t put on airs at all, and was approachable, so she chatted with her a few times, and they got along very well.

And the wife of President Bucham’s special assistant was also very good.

By the way, President Bucham’s special assistant and Julian have the same surname Bucham.

Kiera hadn’t asked Julian and his special assistant if they were a family, but there were many people with the same name and surname in the world, and the same surname Bucham may not necessarily be a family.

Julian smiled, and said, “Young Mistress York is approachable. She doesn’t put on airs of Mistress York, if you can chat with her, you can have more contacts, don’t be afraid of Young Master York.”

Yesterday, Julian noticed Kiera’s face. When fighting old fritters like Zachary, who had been in the mall for a long time, they dared not speak, probably because Zachary and these old fritters had accumulated power for a long time.

Kiera: “I’m not afraid, it’s because I feel that Young Master York is difficult to get along with, but I have no defense. I’m dealing with the young lady, not Young Master York. No matter how difficult Young Master York is, I don't want to step on his tail or pluck his tiger whiskers. He probably won't bite."

Julian chuckled and said, "That's right, as long as you don't step on Young Master York's tail or pull out his tiger whiskers, for the sake of friendship with me, he won't do anything to you. As long as you can get along with Young Mistress York and the others, you can almost walk sideways in Wiltspoon in the future."

Even if she couldn't get along with Serenity, she would become the young lady of Bucham family. She could also walk sideways.

Kiera thought of Jasmine, Elisa and others introduced to her by Serenity. They were all well-known daughters and young mistresses in Wiltspoon. The daughter of the martial arts director.

Then Julian laughed and said, "They are all easy to get along with, and Ms. Stone's personality is especially to my liking."

Kiera didn't know about Elisa before, but only heard about Zachary and Serenity.

This time, she met Elisa when she followed Julian over for the wedding banquet.

Julian said: "Our personalities are very similar, straightforward, Miss Stone is such a character, you can come and go often when you are free in the future."

Kiera was by Julian's side all day; everyone in the upper class in Wiltspoon knew Kiera was the dish on his plate.

Kiera would also be the young wife of his Bucham family in the future, and she had enough qualifications to make friends with anyone.