Married At First Sight Chapter 2981-“Good night.” Serenity said this to Zachary and closed the door.

Zachary stood at the door of the room. Although he suggested that he sleep in the study room, Serenity pushed him out, and he watched her close the door.

He had a feeling that Serenity had expelled him.

After touching his nose, Zachary had no choice but to turn around and go back to the study.

There was nothing more to say all night.

The next day, when Zachary got up, Serenity had gotten up early and prepared a glass of honey water for him.

Zachary said, “Honey, good morning.”

Serenity had already served Sonny breakfast. She carried Sonny’s small schoolbag, led him out of the dining hall, and saw Zachary, who had just come downstairs.

After greeting him sweetly, Serenity said, “Husband, I prepared a glass of honey water for you. Remember to drink it.”

Although he was not drunk last night, he said he drank strong alcohol. He worried that he would have a headache when he woke up this morning.

Serenity thoughtfully prepared honey water for him.

Zachary was lucky to have such a considerate wife.

Serenity boasted.

Zachary said, “Okay, I’ll drink it in a moment. Seren, you got up so early.”

Zachary used to get up first.

Zachary said, “Well, Sonny woke up early.”

“Uncle.” Sonny called Zachary crisply.

Zachary came over, touched his head, and said, “Be obedient in the kindergarten.”

Sonny replied, “I am very obedient. My teachers and classmates like me very much.”

“Yes, yes, everyone likes you.” Zachary smiled and pinched Sonny’s face again.

“That’s right, I am the most beautiful boy in Wiltspoon and everyone loves me,” Sonny asserted with narcissistic confidence.

Serenity smiled and nodded his nephew’s head. “I guess you learned it from your uncle Rowan.”

Rowan often talked about the most beautiful boy in Wiltspoon.

Sonny also liked playing with Rowan, so he learned from it.

Sonny chuckled, didn’t answer, and acknowledged.

Serenity said, “Dad, mom hasn’t gotten up yet. When they get up later, tell them that I won’t be back for lunch, so they don’t have to wait for me.”

Serenity had to send Sonny to kindergarten and was about to return to the company.

At noon, she would either accompany Zachary to the Wiltspoon hotel for dinner or treat clients.

She was also very busy.

“Um.”

Zachary looked at Serenity deeply and said gently, “Ask the driver to drive carefully.”

Serenity said, “I drive myself.”

Zachary: “Then you have to be more careful.”

Serenity smiled and said, "Don't worry, I will be very careful. My driving skills are very good. Husband, I will send Sonny to kindergarten first. Sonny, say goodbye to your uncle."

Sonny waved to Zachary, said goodbye, and followed Serenity out.

Serenity handed the small schoolbag to Sonny as he walked.

Sonny took it and carried it on his back naturally.

The schoolbag was very light and contained only a book, a set of clothes, and a sweat towel.

There was no pressure at all when carrying Sonny.

Zachary stood there, watching his beloved wife lead Sonny out.

Two bodyguards responsible for protecting Serenity were waiting outside.

"The eldest young lady."

The two bodyguards saw Serenity coming out and greeted her respectfully.
