

Married At First Sight Chapter 3117

Married At First Sight Chapter 3117-Matriarch Farrell said, "When I come back, I will persuade Marco to divorce you and won't let you fight. However, during the period when I'm not at home, I still hope that you will think about it carefully."

Erika nodded in agreement. She stood up and said, "Mom, I'll go out first and won't disturb you."

Matriarch Farrell hummed.

After Erika went out, Matriarch Farrell called Marco. After Marco answered the phone, she asked him, "Marco, where are you now?"

"Mom, I'm at the company. Mom, what's wrong?" Marco asked cautiously.

He was afraid of receiving a call from his mother. Especially after he had done something wrong, he was most afraid of receiving a call from his mother, who would always scold him bloody.

Matriarch Farrell said, "Your wife came back just now. She talked a lot with me."

Marco's scalp tightened, and he said with a smile, "She's back. Just come back. Just come back."

Matriarch Farrell said, "She told me that she wanted to divorce you. This time, your wife was heartbroken by you. I think she is determined to divorce. There is no room for maneuvering. She has faced everything calmly and will no longer be excited, won't be angry anymore, and won't make any noise with you. The real departure is to leave quietly."

Marco: "Mom, I don't want a divorce."

Matriarch Farrell said, "You don't want a divorce, yet you still do so many things that are sorry for your wife?"

Marco hesitated. "Mom, I..."

“I’m going out soon. During the period when I’m not at home, you should apologize properly and try to see if you can win your wife back. If you can, win her back. If you can’t, don’t make a fuss or tear her up. Okay. Let’s get together and part ways. You must save some face for the children. When you go through a divorce, it’s important to prioritize others. After all, I have been married to you for more than ten years and have children with you. You are the one at fault, so don’t treat them badly.”

Marco’s heart tightened, and he asked cautiously, “Mom, do you agree with me divorcing her?”

“I don’t approve or disapprove; I just see that she has made up her mind to go. You have acted in a manner that has caused regret for others. For the sake of the child, I hope that you and your wife can resolve this matter peacefully. I don’t want to cause trouble between the in-laws. Look, if we can’t be in-laws, we can still be friends.”

Matriarch Farrell also felt uncomfortable.

She felt that her old age was getting worse and worse.

Her husband cheated on her, and so did her three sons.

Now the eldest daughter-in-law is getting divorced, and she still has two daughters-in-law, and she doesn’t know how long she can hold on. The eventual divorce of all three sons could lead to the dissolution of the large family.

The only daughter, because she grew up without her, the relationship between mother and daughter was never deep enough.

She didn’t even dare to trust her daughter 100%.

Kathryn had a conscience and a bottom line. Although she was like her in many aspects, she was not like her in many ways.

If Kathryn knew that Matriarch Farrell really caused the deaths of her sisters and came to power, with Kathryn’s character, she would definitely give up on the Farrell family and be unwilling to take over the family. It was really possible that the position of head of the Farrell family would return to the descendants of the eldest sister.
