

Married At First Sight Chapter 3265

Married At First Sight Chapter 3265-The reason for not daring to offend Dr. Carden was that she used poison very well. Of course, Dr. Carden would not use the poison she developed to harm people. She said that some poisons could be used to cure diseases and save people in small amounts.

But that's how people's minds work. Even though they knew Dr. Carden had a conscience and was a good person, they were still afraid of accidentally being poisoned by her. So, even if Dr. Carden refused to treat someone, that person would still not be brave enough to go to her for help.

Evan asked her tentatively, "Are you a disciple of those masters outside the world? Do you know the wife of the current head of the Lafayette family in Meadspring?"

The Fox seemed to be smiling, but not smiling. "You are so interested in my origin; just go and check it out yourself. If you can find out, I will obey you."

Evan also smiled. "If I can find out your details, I will make a request to you, and you must agree to it unconditionally."

Fox said, "You can check it yourself. You cannot rely on the power of the Bucham family. If you can find it, I will agree with you even if it is a hundred requests, let alone one request."

Evan: "There is strength in numbers."

He couldn't say he could find it out on his own. Even if he could find out, he didn't know how long it would take to find out. By the time he found out, they would be old, and she might become someone else's woman.

The Fox chuckled, and these two chuckles made Evan blush.

It was so irritating.

But Evan really didn't have that much ability. Not even Julian personally. Julian had to use many connections to get the information he wanted.

Most of the time, when people like them do something, they don't need to do it themselves. They just need to know how to make good use of their talents.

“hehe.”

The Fox laughed twice again.

Evan’s face turned redder.

The Fox actually looked at his red face with interest and said jokingly, “Evan, your face is as red as rouge.”

Evan: “Do you want a midnight snack? I’ll cook you something delicious.”

The Fox smiled and said, “You can also cook food; that’s okay. I’m in a better mood now. You can cook me something delicious. However, you took my things and returned them to me quickly. I have high standards for choosing men. If you approach me in this way, I will look down on you.”

Evan stood up and walked away. As if he didn’t hear what she said.

Well, he was a bit shameless.

However, the Fox did something bad to him back then, so he took away her things, which was retaliation.

After that, all she knew was that she was chasing him for her things.

Why didn’t he think about what she did then?

He was generous and did not settle old scores with her.

Besides, she was the woman who had been entangled with him in his dream.

God gave him a warning in advance, warning him not to step on both sides of the boat, so let him be entangled with a strange woman in his dream.

Now it seemed that it was really entangled.

She chased him to get her things back, but he liked her and wanted to use this to increase the chance of an intersection. She would definitely fall in love with him after they got together for a long time.

When they met, it was easy for them to quarrel or even fight, but they also did good things together, and there was a sense of cooperation.

After Evan walked away, the Fox picked up the fork again and ate the fruit pulp.

Fortunately, she exercised a lot and consumed energy quickly, so she could eat the midnight snack he made later.

Fox said, "It's getting late, so you don't need to prepare something too rich. You can just make some porridge or a bowl of noodles. It's too late at night, so I don't want to eat too full, and I don't want to eat too good, so as not to gain weight."
