

Married At First Sight Chapter 3407-Half an hour later, Audrey took Serenity out to the agreed-upon place to meet Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. Lewis and her husband were here.

They arrived first, and after waiting for a few minutes, Audrey and Serenity also arrived.

“Mrs. Stone.”

Seeing Audrey bring serenity over, Mrs. Lewis stood up and walked forward to greet them with a smile on her face.

Audrey: “Mrs. Lewis, I’m sorry to have kept you waiting.”

Serenity called Mrs. Lewis “Auntie”.

Mrs. Lewis smiled and said, “We just arrived too. We sat down and hadn’t even had a glass of water when you guys came. We didn’t have to wait long.”

Mrs. Lewis held Serenity’s hand affectionately, asked about her recent situation with concern, looked at her belly, and smiled. “Wearing an outer coat, it is hard to tell that you are pregnant.”

Serenity touched her belly, she said. “Well, it’s not obvious that I’m pregnant.”

Then she put down her hand, took Mrs. Lewis’s arm, and walked towards Mr. Lewis with Audrey.

Mr. Lewis stood up and was greeted with a smile.

After everyone sat down, Mrs. Lewis ordered some food and drinks for everyone, and then she praised Audrey for taking good care of herself and looking younger and more beautiful.

Audrey was in a good mood and said, “I don’t have to worry about anything now. I can enjoy my old age, play with my grandchildren, and be in a good mood. I can get a beauty treatment from time to time to maintain my appearance and stay in good shape. But my age is there. I am old. I can’t deny it.”

Mrs. Lewis said, “No, I don’t even admit I’m old. Mrs. Stone, you’re younger than me, so how can you be old? Serenity, tell me, compared to your aunt, do I look like two generations apart?”

Mrs. Lewis used to take good care of herself. Later, when Duncan got into an accident, Mrs. Lewis regretted it, blamed herself, and was worried about her son. She had no time or mood to take care of herself, and she looked a dozen years older.

Even if Duncan and Liberty's relationship is stable now, Mrs. Lewis cannot restore herself to her previous state.

She was old. She was a dozen years older than Audrey.

Serenity smiled and said, "Auntie, you are not old. As long as your mindset is young, you will always be eighteen."

Mrs. Lewis praised, "Seren is right. As long as we keep a young mentality, we will be eighteen years old every year."

After chatting and laughing for a while, the two ladies got down to business.

It was Audrey who said it first. She said to Mrs. Lewis, "I asked you out today because I wanted to talk to you about the future of Duncan and Liberty."

Mrs. Lewis knew the purpose of Liberty's going to Jensburg, but there was no evidence to prove that the current head of the Farrell family killed her sister to take the position. Even if Liberty was the descendant of the previous head of the family, the person who is now in charge of the Farrell family is Clarissa.

How could Clarissa easily give up the chair she had sat on for decades to others? Besides, she also had a daughter. If she wants to train a successor, she must train her daughter first.

Liberty may not be able to take over the Farrell family. Of course, Liberty opened a company in Jensburg, and Duncan also invested a lot of money. Liberty also worked hard to develop the company, and Mrs. Lewis supported her.

Liberty was becoming more and more outstanding, and she was a perfect match for Duncan. When they get married, when others mention the fourth young master of the Lewis family and his wife, they will say that the couple is a strong combination and a perfect match, and they will no longer say that Liberty is marrying above her station.
