

Married by Accident (English) Chapter 40 - Forgive me

Chapter 40: Forgive me

Just a moment ago, Ayumi who heard Leonard's baritone voice, frowned and wondered why the man she was about to take advantage of was calling out for Arabella.

'What did he do? Is he currently having important business with Arabella?' whispered Ayumi who now chose to remain silent and thought that Leonard had spoken to Arabella because he knew that the woman had just come out of the walk in closet.

Feels very lazy to talk alone with Leonard because she is uncomfortable seeing the attitude of a good friend who she thinks is too lazy in her attitude and she has to act as cute as possible, so that her plan does not fail to get married in order to avoid an arranged marriage from her parents.

Then without wasting time, now Ayumi begins to open the Bathrobe which is a bathrobe and serves to dry the body after bathing. It even keeps her body warm after taking a long shower like Ayumi did a while ago.

However, when Ayumi felt a hand suddenly wrapped around her stomach and a touch of lips on her bare shoulder, she gave a startled grin and turned around to dodge while reflexively slapping Leonard's cheek with a firm jaw. Then she hastily tidied the wardrobe that was halfway down her hand.

"Leonard!" shouted Ayumi who rolled her eyes because she never thought that Leonard would dare enter the dressing room and think it was rude.

"Good grief!" Leonard's reflex was feeling the heat on his cheeks when he was hit by a hard slap from the woman he loved and would marry. "Ayumi, why did you slap me?"

Still rubbing his hot cheeks and directing an annoyed look because he never expected Ayumi to slap him.

Whereas earlier in his mind, he thought about kissing and making out in the dressing room because they both love each other and feel that it is very natural for lovers to get married.

Meanwhile, Ayumi who felt very confused to explain because she felt very disgusted if Leonard approached her. What's more, she had kissed her bare shoulder.

If the one who did it was the lover, she didn't mind at all because she loved so much. It's different if the one who does it is the man in front of her.

'Damn it, Leonard. He really is so insolent! I'm very disgusted with playboy men like him who like to play with women. How can I be honest by saying don't touch me. Looks like I have to seduce him to believe me,' Ayumi mumbled who was now scratching the back of her neck.

"I was really really surprised earlier, Leonard! That's why I reflexively slapped you as soon as I turned around. We're not married yet, so don't do things, okay! I really don't like it."

"Please respect the principles of my life! Before officially getting married, don't do things, Leonard!" said Ayumi who was still trying to make Leonard neither angry nor annoyed with her.

Her life principle is never to have sex with a man before marriage. Even though she loves her lover very much, she keeps her principles in life and the man she loves so much is also a very good man and respects her as a woman.

That's what makes her love her lover so much because he is able to maintain sexual desire and never demands sex like men today, always demands that women show love by having sex.

Of course the words that Ayumi had just said were a slap in the face to Leonard and he really felt very ashamed of his actions. However, he felt very proud when he found out that the woman he had loved so much was a woman who had high principles in life.

A woman with high self-esteem and dignity that makes her even more proud will marry her little friend. Now, Leonard looks very embarrassed and regrets his actions.

"Ayumi, I'm sorry. I really made a mistake," said Leonard, who was now bowing like the Japanese do.

Hope the white woman will forgive her mistake. 'You stupid man! You have humiliated yourself. Now you look really bad in front of Ayumi. Ayumi must be feeling very jealous of you, Leonard!'

'Aah... all because of that cheap woman. Where's Arabella? Is he hiding from me?' Leonard muttered who was currently struggling with his thoughts because he was very worried if Arabella said something bad to Ayumi.
