

Married by Accident (English) Chapter 41 - Make him regret

Chapter 41: Make him regret

Leonard, who now feels very ashamed and regrets his actions, now slaps himself in the face to prove that he really feels very ashamed and hopes that the woman standing in front of him still wearing the wardrobe will forgive his mistakes.

"I'm sorry, Ayumi. I will never repeat what I did. I promise you," cried Leonard who had now made a gesture to hold his ears, as if to show that he was really serious about what he said.

Meanwhile, Ayumi, who actually feels very angry and annoyed at Leonard, now has no other choice but to forgive. Even though she didn't really want to forgive her friend who was considered rude.

"Okay, I'll forgive you, Leo. You know, I've never been around guys for this reason!"

"I don't like a man who is impudent. Even if it's a lover, but I don't like it if you go beyond the limits like what you did earlier. Sex always starts from small things like that and I don't want to do it before it's really legal to be a wife."

Ayumi deliberately explained in detail so that the man who seemed very sorry for her actions would understand and not do things to her. She also wanted to use it as a shield so Leonard wouldn't do anything to her.

To be honest, the reason she had never looked at Leonard in the first place was who actually had a handsome face as a man and made many women go crazy. However, she feels disgusted at men who like making out with women.

She prefers cold men who are far from playboy because according to her it always makes her feel very curious and proud to be close to men who have never had sex with women. All obtained from the lover who is indeed a cold and authoritative man.

Even Ayumi is very infatuated with her lover and only wants to marry that man, so she does this. She was forced to take advantage of Leonard who she considered a friend as well as her own brother. Hope the man will understand and will forgive her after speaking nicely.

Now, Leonard has pointed his little finger to promise and hopes to get a response from Ayumi. "I promise you, Ayumi. I'm really very lucky to marry a perfect woman like you. I'm sorry again."

Leonard, who was now wearing a pitiful face, hoped that the woman in front of him would believe everything that was said. "I will turn into a responsible and loyal man who only loves you, honey."

Ayumi is now feeling very relieved because for a while she will really be safe from the impudent act of a playboy like Leonard. Even now she felt like amused close to the man who would marry her.

"Well, I really trust you, Leo. That you are a man who respects and respects me as a dignified woman. Oh yeah, why did you go into the ladies' room? That's so disrespectful, Leo!" Ayumi rebuked who was trying to wake Leo up so she wouldn't repeat her actions.

Then she returned to continue her advice as a shield and shield for her. "Even though Arabella is your cousin, but it can cause unwanted things. For example like this. Next time, don't go into the ladies' room, okay!"

Leonard's reflex chuckled and scratched the back of his neck. "Yeah, I get it, honey. Actually I wanted to talk to Arabella about the matter she's applying for a job. By the way, where is she?"

"Earlier, he said he had a stomach ache. He must be in the bathroom. Wait outside! I want to change!" sarcasm Ayumi who is now waving her hand at Leonard.

Not wanting to make Ayumi angry and annoyed with him again, now Leonard chose to walk outside and raised his thumb.

"Okay, I also want to take a shower first. Later, tell Arabella to meet me because I have important things to tell her. Just tell me to wait in front of my room," said Leonard, who had now walked out and didn't want Ayumi to misunderstand again.

'Damn it! If Arabella hadn't provoked my emotions, maybe this terrible thing would never have happened. You cheap woman! I'll really make him feel sorry!' cursed Keenan who was now controlled by emotions.

To be continued...