

Married by Accident (English) Chapter 44 - slippage

Chapter 44: slippage

A few moments ago, Leonard looked very neat after preparing to go with the figure of a woman who became his first love and best friend and made him feel very happy because he was going to marry Ayumi. He who had just descended the stairs, now met his mother near the living room.

"Where's Ayumi, Mom? I knocked on the door of the poor woman's room, but there was absolutely no answer. So, I immediately went downstairs to look for Ayumi," Leonard asked the figure of a woman he loved very much.

Meanwhile, Nayla Sari, who met Ayumi earlier, said goodbye to go to the car in front of the house because she was going to take a bag containing cosmetic tools. She who knows that Arabella didn't bring any make-up equipment, makes her understand that Ayumi is currently doing her makeup in the car.

"Ayumi is making up to make herself look more beautiful in front of you, my son. She is in the car. You can meet her in front. Oh yeah, you better go take Ayumi's car and take a taxi back later."

"Aren't you going to take Ayumi back to the apartment after you are done with all today's plans to go to the boutique and also the jewelry store?"

Leonard didn't agree with what his mother had just said because he wanted to bring his own car so he could be alone with Ayumi.

Of course what he has in mind is for Ayumi to return to his house because he will tell her to leave the car here, so he thinks there will be many opportunities to meet his future wife because he will always miss Ayumi.

He who has always been very infatuated with Ayumi is now very happy because his dream will be achieved and has a wife who is very beautiful like an angel.

Just leave Ayumi's car alone, Mom because I want her to come here often the way I always pick her up and go. Later I will reason to ask the driver to take the car to the apartment. Oh yeah, was the poor woman gone?"

Leonard looked around the house for the whereabouts of Arabella. He thought that the woman was still around the house because she had told Ayumi to talk to Arabella.

That he was waiting for the woman he always called a slut to meet him, but did not obey orders.

Nayla Sari just shrugged and shook her head because she had been in the living room, but didn't see Arabella at all because Ayumi had left without the woman she hated so much.

"I don't know Leonard at all because she's not seen out of the house. If she had left this house to look for a job like she said, she would have said goodbye to your mother and father."

"Mother is right. Maybe she is in front. I will see her in front or already gone. If she has left without saying goodbye to everyone in this house, I will punish her for not knowing herself," said Leonard, who is currently felt very annoyed thinking about the woman who always tested her patience.

"Okay, you just check her out front. Maybe she's with Ayumi. Even though mom didn't see her when she came out. You can do anything to your useless sirim's wife because you are her husband and have the right to do anything to Arabella."

"She even has to ask your permission when she leaves the house because that is the main obligation as a wife," said Nayla Sari, who now patted her son's firm shoulder before leaving.

Leonard, who immediately nodded his head, now stepped away from the woman who had given birth to him and walked towards the main door.

Sure enough, what was thinking because Arabella was currently sitting on a park bench looking at the servants who were working.

If he had wanted to talk to Arabella just a moment ago, seeing the woman talking to the maid made him change his mind.

He thinks that his mood will turn bad if he talks to his wife and will provoke anger, thus ruining his time with Ayumi.

In the end, he chose to walk towards the car and get inside after cursing at Arabella. However, when he was about to start the car engine, he saw Ayumi walking towards his car and knocking on the window.

"Leonard, we'll just go using my car. Later I will take you home after going to boutiques and jewelry stores to look for rings. I invited Arabella because I wanted to ask her opinion when trying on a wedding dress," said Ayumi, who is currently staring at Leonard behind the wheel.

Leonard actually wanted to refuse Ayumi's wishes, but for some reason he didn't dare to express his refusal because he thought that the woman might feel annoyed and disgusted with him. In the end, he chose to eliminate all desires of the woman with this beautiful face.

Leonard nodded his head and smiled wryly. Although actually in his heart, he really wanted to curse because Arabella went with him when he went with Ayumi.

'This is really very annoying and also ridiculous because the woman I married serially gave an opinion on the wedding dress that Ayumi will wear that I will officially marry.'

'It's a good thing that Arabella can keep this secret and won't say anything to Ayumi because if she ever leaks this big secret, my life will fall apart because of the loss of the woman I really wanted to marry.'

Leonard opened the front door of the car for Ayumi to get inside and sit next to him. "Alright, we'll go now with Arabella."

He pressed the car horn so that Arabella who was still sitting in the chair immediately got up and approached him. "Didn't Arabella say that she would go alone to find a job, Ayumi?"

Ayumi was currently sitting next to Leonard, nodding slowly and smiling at Arabella who was walking over.

"I asked her to look for a job after accompanying us out. For women, asking other women for their opinion would be a lot more fun than asking a guy who always says yes, good, okay and that makes me feel really bad."

Ayumi's words made Leonard squint and frown because he felt a little strange. "Who said I would comment like that? Who is that guy who says so flatly like that, Ayumi?"

Getting a question that she thinks is very trapping and realizing the stupidity that has just been shown by her, makes Ayumi curse the mistake for slipping away when looking for an excuse. At this moment, she cursed herself in her heart.

'Shit, I missed it. Don't let Leonard find out that I have a cold boyfriend in New York.'

To be continued...