

Married at First Sight Chapter 4420

“You love Zhan Yiyang, and he loves you too. Last year, he said he couldn’t fall in love with you, but that was only because you entered his heart under a different identity. In truth, the person he loved all along was you.”

“You did play a trick on him. But honestly, he never wronged you. After realizing he couldn’t fall in love with you at the time, he returned to Wancheng—not to run away, I think, but to clear his head.”

“Once he calmed down, he intended to explain everything clearly and wouldn’t have let your youth go to waste. You simply went to him too soon, and later he told you the truth.”

“Mengmeng, you and Yiyang have come such a long way, but from beginning to end, it was always just the two of you.”

“Our family isn’t angry with him, nor are we unable to accept him. Your father and I have already acknowledged him in our hearts. Stop putting on a show—just accept his pursuit and be his girlfriend.”

“Be careful, or another woman might take him from you. If that happens, it’ll be too late for regrets.”

Du Yumeng replied stubbornly, “Mom, if love can be taken away, then it wasn’t true love. If he really loves me, no one can steal him from me.”

“That’s true,” her mother agreed, “but having too many romantic rivals is always risky. People can be cunning. If someone sets a trap for him, and he falls into it, his sense of responsibility might lead him to marry her out of guilt.”

“Mengmeng, when you meet an excellent man you truly like, you must hold on to him. If you don’t and let him return to the open market, he could be snatched up in no time.”

“This is why wealthy families prefer arranged marriages. When a family has a promising child, other families with daughters take notice early. The children grow up together, fostering a childhood sweetheart bond.”

“The best men and women in our circle never really reach the open market.”

Du Yumeng said, “Don’t we already look like a couple?”

“Tonight, he invited me to dinner, and I went. He gave me flowers and jewelry—I accepted them. We even went to the movies together. Isn’t that what dating looks like?”

“Anyone with eyes can see that Zhan Yiyang and I are already lovers.”

“This is a relationship between the two of us. As long as we understand each other in our hearts, there’s no need to announce it to the world.”

“When we get married and have our wedding, everyone will know then.”

If they do hold a wedding, the media will surely cover it, and all of Haicheng will hear about it.

“Mom, Zhan Yiyang will never fall for Huang Li. He hasn’t even looked her way. She’s inferior to me in every possible way. With a beautiful girl like me beside him, it would be absurd for him to fall for someone like her.”

“Huang Li has always lost to me. Now she thinks she can steal Zhan Yiyang from me? She’s dreaming!”

Du Yumeng was full of confidence in herself.

When it came to Zhan Yiyang, she was equally confident and completely at ease.

She wasn’t at all concerned about Huang Li stealing him away.

Would Huang Li even dare to try and manipulate Zhan Yiyang?

How could someone like him be so easily outwitted?

Don’t be fooled by how he acts foolish or simple in front of her—as if his IQ and EQ are low. That’s just a disguise.

He appears gentle and refined, the picture of a graceful gentleman.

But in truth, he has a ruthless side.

As Grandma Zhan’s grandson, even the gentlest version of him is still a smiling tiger.
