

Chapter 2

Killian's POV

I was in a room and it wasn't my room and I heard some noise coming from the bathroom. I got up with a screeching headache and got dressed. I didn't know who was in the bathroom and I was a little afraid. Then this girl came out of the bathroom and looked at me.

"I was just leaving." I say to her.

"Okay." She says.

I walked out and I was a little proud of the woman I had gotten last night. I didn't know her name.

"Dude! I can't believe you did that!" David says hitting my arm when I see him.

"OW! Did what? Last night was a blur." I say.

"Oh my god classic Vegas." Robin says.

"What?" I ask.

"Umm Brother you got married." Liam says.

"I WHAT!" I yell.

Emma's POV

There was a knock at my door just as I finished getting ready. I opened the door and my friends walked in.

"Hey guys." I say.

"Where's the guy?" Neal asks.

"What guy?" I ask.

"You know what guy." Graham says.

"Really I don't." I say.

"The guy you married Emma." August says.

"THE GUY I WHAT!" I yell.

Killian's POV

Married? I'm married? I need to find that girl from last night.

"So your married now and we don't even know this woman." Liam says.

"I don't even know this woman. I need to at least find her." I say.

"Okay go and find her. We will see you later." David says.

Okay stranger where are you?

Emma's POV

"You don't even know this guy? He could be crazy." Graham says.

"He could be a man who treats women as objects." August says.

"Or he could be a stalker who has been watching you from a distance for years and now he has you so he can kill you." Neal says.

"Guys I need to figure this all out myself. I'll see you later." I say.

I walked down the hall and saw that guy from last night. When he saw me he walked over to me.

"I need to talk to you." He says to me.

"Yeah I need to talk to you too." I say.

"Can we go somewhere else?" He asks.

"Yeah. Just come back to my room." I say to him.

"Yeah okay." He says and follows me back to my room.

I just really hope that this guy isn't a crazy man.
