

Chapter 204

"I love you, Mrs. Crown," I said to her.

"I love you, Alpha," she said, with a wink.

"Congratulations!" A voice said from nearby. I turned to see Silver's friends coming to hug her. Cara, Alison, Emma, and Rebecca. Rebecca switched her allegiance to the Crown pack and now she works in my packhouse as a financial advisor and the Beta's personal assistant.

They don't get along all that well, but even Leo can't deny that Rebecca makes his life way easier. She's good at what she does and she's very professional.

"Thanks, girls," Silver said, hugging each of them.

"We should celebrate," Alison suggested.

Silver looked at me and gave me a small smile.

"I kind of just want to go home with my husband," she said softly. "But maybe tomorrow?"

"Sure thing," Alison replied. "You are the Luna after all. You can do whatever you want."

"I need to go anyway. Leo gave me a last-minute assignment that he wants on his desk before midnight," Rebecca said, rolling her eyes. "He's ridiculous."

"He has a thing for you," Silver chuckled; this wasn't the first time Silver had said this to me. She can read people very well and now that she can control her powers and see scents, she notices that Leo's changes based on his emotions when Rebecca is around. She rolled her eyes and shook her head.

"As if..." she murmured. "He's an asshole. But he's my boss and I need to keep him happy."

We waved goodbye as she left.

I wrapped my arms around my wife and pulled her close to me.

"Let's go home," I murmured against her ear.

She nodded.

I took her hand, and we went back to the palace. When we reached the bedroom, I couldn't keep my hands off her. I wrapped her in my arms and lifted her up off the ground; she wrapped her legs around my waist and kissed me with a hungry passion. We both kissed one another with equal desires. I nibbled her bottom lip, making her chuckle as I threw her onto the bed. I quickly undid my tie and shirt, throwing it to the ground. I watched as her eyes darkened, and I knew her wolf was at the surface, wanting to come out and play. I ran with her wolf in the forest a few times during the last 6 months and she was a glorious beast. Now that she had her full powers and inherited her brother's powers, she no longer suffers from that pain on the full moon. She's able to shift at will and she's a fantastic wolf.

I kissed her deeply as I climbed on top of her. She shimmied out of her dress, leaving her in only her bra and undies. She moaned as my tongue slid between her lips, tasting everything she had to offer.

"Elliot..." she whispered between kisses; I answered her with a hum. "I want you to mark me..."

Since I died, her mark had faded. I hadn't marked her back because I wanted to wait for the perfect moment. So, as of now, she wasn't wearing my mark. I smiled against her skin before looking into her eyes.

"Are you sure?" I asked her, my tone breathy.

She nodded and reached up to touch my face.

"I have never been surer about anything in my life," she told me.

I smiled at her and kissed her passionately. Then, I let my lips trail down the nape of her neck. As I sucked on her sweet spot before called my wolf forward and plunged my canines into her. She gasped at first but then let out a content sigh as our bond sealed.

Then I heard her soft voice.

"Mine..." she whispered and then I felt her canines plunge into my neck as well.

We stayed like that for a long moment before our canines retracted. We licked each other's wounds until they sealed and then we smiled at one another. Our bond was sealed; we were connected in more ways than we could count.

"I want you to make love to me now," she whispered, touching my cheek with her warm and soft fingertips.

"But first, I have to tell you something."

I furrowed my brows.

"Are you okay?"

She nodded, tears filling her eyes and a smile forming on her lips.

"More than okay..." she whispered. "I'm pregnant."

My heart skipped a beat.

"You're what?" I asked, not sure I heard her correctly.

She touched my face again and looked me deep in the eyes.

"We are having a baby, Elliot. I found out this morning," she told me. "I hadn't been feeling well so I went to the doctor and-"

Before she could finish her sentence, I pressed my lips against hers and kissed her deeply.

"We are having a baby," I repeated.

She nodded. I let out a howl of delight! I was having a baby with the woman I loved, with my mate. My life couldn't get any better than this.

"Are you happy?" She asked, laughing.

"Happy? I'm over the moon!" I cheered, wrapping her in my arms. "Now make love to me, my mate."

She smiled and she did just that. I made love to the woman of my dreams and now we were able to finally begin our lives.
